At the meeting last evening the Park Club, of this city, the Westfield Club and the Roselle Casino were represented. The Cranford Casino team had not been formally authorized by its board of trustees to enter the league, but the bowling committee of that club sent assurances that they would surely be members this coming season.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was held and resulted as follows: President, S. C. Greves, of Roselle; secretary-treasurer, Charles B. Morse, of Plainfield. The Daily Press trophy, which was won by the Roselle Casino last year, will remain in possession of that club until some other team is victorious. The trophy becomes the permanent property of the club winning three times. It was decided to also offer a first team prize, valued at $20, and two individual prizes, one for the highest average, valued at $10, and one for the highest spare average, valued at $5. Seventy-five per cent. of the games must be rolled to qualify for the individual prizes but the average will be computed from the total number of games rolled.

A schedule was provisionally adopted, subject to the consideration of the Cranford Casino. It will begin Tuesday evening, December 4, when Roselle will go to Westfield. The schedule will be published at a later date.

New Proprietor.

Adolph Wolgong, after being employed in the tonsorial parlors, 213 West Front street, for the past six years, has now risen to the position of proprietor. He has purchased the interest of David Miodovink, and will continue to run the establishment in a first-class manner. He has decided not to keep open Sundays, as the former proprietor did, but to do business Saturdays and keep closed Sundays as do the other barbers in the city. He is an excellent workman and will no doubt make a success of his venture. Hot and cold baths are one of the features of his establishment.

We give no rewards. An offer of this kind is the meanest of deceptions. Test the curative powers of Ely's Cream Balm for the cure of Catarrh, Hay Fever and Cold in the Head and you are sure to continue the treatment. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying, does not produce sneezing. It soothes and heals the membrane. Price 50 cents at druggists or by mail. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

Accused of Abusing Wife.

Frank Meeker was arrested at his home on Elm place last evening on complaint of his wife. She declared that he had been beating and abusing her. He was locked up in the city jail over night. City Judge Runyon was not in town this morning so Meeker's hearing will not come up until later.

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 14. 1900. TWO CENTS A COPY—$5 A YEAR.

SALARY INCREASE DEPENDS ON VOTERS.

If Firemen Receive Better Pay It Will be After the People Have Expressed Their Will.

WHAT IT MEANS IN MONEY.

IN TWO YEARS IT WOULD MAKE AN INCREASE OF $4,500.

Pay of Firemen Would Depend on Length of Service — Unless Council Acts Quickly Proposition Will Not be Submitted to Voters.

Not much is known concerning the effort that is being made to increase the salaries of the paid men in the city fire department. A new law was enacted at Trenton last year making provisions for such a raise in cities of the second class, and as Plainfield is included in that class there is naturally an effort being made to secure such benefits as the law gives for the Plainfield firemen. It has been the contention of a great many persons that considering the number of hours, twenty-four, that the firemen work, they should be paid more. The policemen get more money and their clothing is furnished them. With the firemen they have to purchase their own cloths and they have less to do it with. Another contention is that Plainfield's firemen are paid the poorest of any in the State in cities of equal size.

The 1900 law was enacted for the benefit of Hoboken and Paterson, and in each case the salaries were raised even higher than the law provided. Other cities throughout the State have been taking advantage of the law and this has renewed the efforts of those interested in Plainfield's department to accomplish something more in this city.

By the provisions of the law under which the department is now working there are four grades. The first grade comprises all men who have served continuously for five years. They receive $60 a month. The second grade includes those who have served more than three years and less than five, and they get $55 a month. In the third class are those who have served more than six months and less than three years, and they get $50 a month, while in the fourth class are those who have served six months. Their salary is $40 a month. Chief Doane receives a salary of $750 a year, and Assistant Chief Jennings receives $600 a year.

Under the new law the changes are as follows: First class, three years or more, $80 a month; second class, between two and three years, $65; third class, two years, $50; fourth class, one year, $40. Chief Doane would receive $1,500 a year and Assistant Chief Jenning's $1,200 a year.

Now, the law provides that the governing body of the city shall give ten days' notice in the newspapers of a plan to apply the law to the city, and that the people must be given an opportunity at a charter or general election to say by vote whether they are willing that such a raise shall be made. If the matter was left to the Common Council some persons might say that undue influence was brought to bear in the action, providing it should be allowed, but where the whole people vote on the subject it gives everyone the chance to say whether the firemen shall be paid more money.

Plainfield is growing rapidly, as the census shows, and there is a constant need for increased fire protection, as recent events have proved. This means more men and more apparatus, for as time goes on it is plainly evident that the present number of men and apparatus cannot hope to meet the demands of the taxpayers. It is argued that there should be a fire house in the east end of the city, as well as one in the direction of the Park Avenue Baptist church. The firemen claim that there is now too much territory for the present number of apparatus to cover.

No one will deny that a laborer is worthy of his hire, and it is only a question of time when these matters will have to be adjusted on a more equitable basis. If the change should be made this year it would mean an increase to the city of $4 500 in the next two years. It is possible that the Council may take the matter up this year, but it is highly improbable, unless the Council meets soon and advertises the ordinance according to law for ten consecutive days previous to election.

Not to Take Examinations.

The scholars in the Whittier School are not obliged to take examinations this year, but the work will be reckoned from the daily work of the scholars.

RURAL FREE DELIVERY.

FOUR ROUTES TO BE ESTABLISHED IN MIDDLESEX.

Special Agent of the Departmet Here —Mail to be Delivered in the Country.

Free delivery of mail in the rural districts of Middlesex county is a prospect of the near future, and the farmers and other residents of the country section will have their mail brought to them, just as the city man.

Routes are now being mapped out, and it is expected that the inauguration of the new delivery systems will occur inside of a month.

Special Agent W. W. Sawyer, of the Post Office department, who has located such systems and routes in a number of States throughout the east, was in New Brunswick yesterday, conferring with Postmaster Russell as to the laying out of the routes and the other details incident to the installation of the system.

New Brunswick will be the headquarters, and four routes will be established, radiating in all directions, and covering all the rural districts within a radius of eight or ten miles of New Brunswick. Under the law the routes cannot be over twenty-five miles in length. The routes will be laid out so as not to trespass upon the territory covered by smaller post-offices, such as Metuchen, South River, Milltown, etc.

There will be one delivery a day, probably starting from New Brunswick between 10 and 11 o'clock, so as to include the weather bereau's reports.

It is not possible, of course, to arrange for every house on every back road to be visited, but the routes will be laid out so that no one will have to go more than half a mile for his mail, and deliveries will be direct to houses on all the important highways.

TROUBLESOME PASSENGERS

Refused to Pay Their Fare. Fought the Conductor and are Now in Jail in Somerville.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Nov 14—Monday night James Sieser and Patrick Hickey boarded a trolley car at Bound Brook to go their homes in Raritan. They refused to pay their fares and when the conductor attempted to put them off they sailed into him and gave him a terrible beating, winding up with jamming his head through a window. The conductor, Edward Clark, was terribly cut and bruised. He then allowed the two young men to remain in the car, and when it reached Somerville Officers Holmes, Henderson and Totten were called and arrested the fellows. They were taken before Squire Kitchen, who committed them to jail to await the action of the Grand Jury. They at first refused to go with the officers, who had quite some trouble with them

AS TO TROLLEY SEATS.

Passengers Can Either Stand up or Board "Next Car."

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Nov. 14—The Supreme Court yesterday set aside the verdict allowed in Essex Circuit Court in the case of Ida H. Herbich, infant, against the North Jersey Street Railway Company. The child was injured by being thrown from a trolley car while in its mother's arms. The court held that the starting of a car before a woman with a child in her arms had been seated was not in itself negligence.

The opinion said that thousands of people ride in trolley cars in safety without being seated, and that it is not part of the duty of trolley companies to refuse to carry more passengers than can be seated in the cars.

Property Held in Chancery Taxable.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Nov. 14.—The Supreme Court Monday, at Trenton, rendered an important decesion affecting this city. The Court declared that property held in the Ocurt of Chancery can no longer escape taxation, and that under a law passed in 1898, which the Supreme Court holds to be constitutional, the city can collect all taxes due on such property. In the years prior to 1898, the Court declared unconstitutional the laws providing for the collection of taxes on property held in Chancery. A large amount of unpaid taxes and assessments can now be collected here. There is $2,700 due the city of Elizabeth for taxes and assessments on one tract, which is known as the Massie estate.

To Build Bridge Across Hackensack.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Hackensack, Nov. 14—The Bergen county Freeholders has voted to join Hudson county in building a $250 000 bridge across the Hackensack, at Secaucus, each county paying half.

BRIDAL PARTY DINNERS.

Ante-Nuptial Affairs Given to Those Who Will Take Part in Ceremonies Today.

A dinner to the bridal party who will take part in the marriage of Miss Gertrude Walz, of this city, and John Forbes Innerarity, of New York, at the Crescent Avenue church this evening, was given at the club house of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club Monday evening. E. L. Walz, father of the bride, and Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, who is to perform the ceremony, were also present. Covers were laid for sixteen. The table decorations were very pretty.

A dinner was given to the members of the bridal party of the Schoonmaker-McGee wedding last evening by the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. McGee, at their home on Orchard avenue, Washington Park. Covers were laid for twenty. The table was handsomely decorated.

CHAS. DUPEE WILL PLAY

PRACTICALLY CERTAIN THAT YOUNG PLAINFIELDER WILL LINE UP

New York Sun Speaks Very Highly of His Work on the Old Eli's Football Eleven.

Every Plainfielder, who is at all interested in football, is glad to see Charles Dupee, of this city, coming to the front in the football circles at Yale University with an excellent chance of playing in the big games against Princeton and Harvard. The latest development is that Perry Hale, the Yale full back, has been forbidden to play by the faculty on account of his low standing in his studies, and that consequently Charlie Dupee is practically sure to be put in his place. All the newspaper correspondents speak very highly of Dupee's playing, the New York Sun's critic, in particular, giving him strong praise. Concerning him, The Sun yesterday morning said:

"The coaches lost no time in selecting Dupee to play full back and in the game against the Indians at New Haven last Saturday, he put up star football. In punting he showed superior ability to Hale and made so many brilliant runs that Hale was temporarily forgotten. Dupee's showing made a new arrangement of the backs necessary, it was thought, and several experts believed that with Fincke at quarter instead of Wear, with Dupee and Chadwick half backs and Hale full back, the back field would be pretty near invincible."

The Evening Sun, last evening, had more to say, as follows:

"Dupee's work at fullback has been the talk of the college and Hale will have to do some tall hustling. Dupee punts beautifully, getting in long, high drives that give the ends plenty of time to get down under them. He is fast on his feet and puts up a good defensive game, although Hale is his superior in this and line bucking as well. It will be quite a question for the coaches to decide which qualifications are most advantageous. In fact, Yale has two sets of backs of decidedly different types; Cook, Sharpe and Hale, splendid line breakers and good defensive men, but slow on end runs and only of fair punting ability; the other set, Fincke, Chadwick and Dupee, quick as a flash to start, good on end runs, something Yale has been weak in this year. Chadwick is a man who bucks the line beautifully; Dupee is a good punter, and all three are good on the defense. Apropose of punting, Billy Bull says that Dupee could be made into the best punter in the colleges."

QUARTERLY ANNIVERSARY.

An Auxiliary of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church.

Preparations are about completed for the celebration of the first quarterly anniversary of the Plainfield Beneficial and Benevolent Association of the Mt. Olive Baptist church, which will take place next week Thursday evening at the church. Dr. C. T. Walker, of New York, Dr. G. L. Taliferro, of Philadelphia, and Dr. A. G. Gordon, of Brooklyn, will be present and discuss plans to be adopted for the betterment of the colored race. The church choir will render special music.

The helping hand committee, under the leadership of Mrs. S. M. Fields, Mrs. Lulu Dempsey, Mrs. J. W. Reede and Mrs. M. Jackson, will give a supper and a nominal fee will be charged. The speakers of the evening are acknowledged to be the best orators of the colored race. The public is cordially invited.

Mrs. Edmund Pack, of Park avenue, attended the wedding of Miss Edna Terrill, daughter of Conductor Terrill, of the Central Railroad, at Somerville, this afternoon.

FISK WILL NOT BE NOMINEE FOR MAYOR

Those Intimate with the Former Mayor Say That He Will Not Accept It.

HE COULD HAVE THE HONOR

FOURTH WARD IS GOING TO FIGURE PROMINENTLY IN THE SELECTION.

Several Names Mentioned From Both First and Third Wards, But Those Most Prominent are Messrs. Buckle and Barrows.

Former Mayor Charles J. Fisk will not run for Mayor on the Republican ticket this fall. So say those who are close to the well known Republican leader and whose utterances may be regarded with credence. Mr. Fisk's physician and the members of his family are very much opposed to his participation in the municipal campaign as a candidate, and it is practically certain that he will regard their wishes in the matter. It is nevertheless a fact that if Mr. Fisk should, at any time before the Republican city convention, express a willingness to to accept the nomination, all other booms will collapse and the nomination will go to him unanimously.

With Mr. Fisk out of the question, the problem of selecting a nominee for the head of the ticket is by no means simplified. One thing is certain and that is that the man whom the Fourth ward supports will receive the nomination. Just at present the feeling among the leaders in that ward is in favor of the nomination of Councilman J. F. Buckle. The First ward is anxious to see one of its citizens nominated, and Mr. Buckle seems to find general favor there.

There is, however, some opposition to Mr. Buckle. Part of it is to be found in the Third ward. The latter ward seems to be divided against itself. Former Councilman E. T. Barrows, of that ward, has been mentioned, but his support seems to be more out of the Third ward than in it. The name of Robert Rushmore has also been mentioned as a candidate from the Third, but there is no overwhelming movement in his favor. Again it is rumored that the Third Ward Republicans would favor the nomination of Dr. O. L. Jenkins, of the First.

Both Councilman J. B. Dumont and Councilman George P. Mellick, of the Second ward, have been mentioned but both utterly refuse to allow their names to be used. Mr. Dumont, as President of the Council and oldest, in time of service, of any of the city officials, would be the logical candidate from the Second but Mr. Dumont does not want it under any circumstances and so the Second ward will go into the campaign without a candidate. Several of the prominent Republican workers of that ward have expressed themselves in favor of Mr. Barrows' nomination. Others are so far uncommittal.

The old talk of a "dark horse" is heard, of course, and there is a possibility that some candidate, not yet known, may bob up at the last moment and receive the vote of all factions as a compromise candidate.

Monday night, the ward primaries will be held and delegates to the Republican city convention elected. It is hardly possible that the mayoralty question will be settled before that time. The delegations will probably be elected without definite instructions for any one candidate. Judging from past experiences, however, it is probable that the candidate will be picked before the convention Thursday of next week so that there will be no fight in the convention itself. If there should be an attempt, however, to force the Fourth ward to give up its choice, a fight is quite certain. The Fourth warders realize their opportunity this year to take the leading part and they are going to do so.

A Daily Press reporter saw Former Mayor Charles J. Fisk this morning and Mr. Fisk consented to talk concerning the Mayoralty nomination.

"I am not a candidate," said Mr. Fisk very emphatically. "It would be impossible for me to accept the nomination if it was tendered to me. I have other things to do which would prevent me from devoting my time to the city's affairs. I appreciate the kindness of my friends who have suggested by name, but it will be impossible for me to accept."

Want to Get Dr. Spooner.

The people of Plainfield who heard Dr. Spooner, president of the State Christian Endeavor Society, at the State convention held recently in Jersey City, will be glad to hear that the Local Union of the Endeavorers are trying to secure him to give an address in the near future.

NEARLY LOST HIS HAND.

Narrow Escape of Alonzo Y. Weseman, Superintendent at Scott's, From Serious Injury.

Alonzo Y. Weseman, superintendent of Scott Press Works, had a narrow escape from losing one of his hands one day last week. The folding device on one of the large presses failed to operate just as it should and the machine was stopped to remedy the defect. Mr. Weseman had readily discovered the trouble and had his hand in between some of the gearing when the man at the lever started up the press, thinking Mr. Weseman was through. Fortunately the press was running on a slow pulley and did not move off rapidly, otherwise he would have lost his hand in the gear. As it was the flesh was badly torn in the palm of his hand, but no bones were broken. Mr. Weseman had his hand dressed by his famity physician and has been able to continue at his work as usual, with his hand in a sling.

RUN INTO TROLLEY CAR.

THE RESULT WAS THAT THE DRIVER WAS THROWN AND HURT.

Accident Happened on Somerset Street—Wagon was Loaded With Old Bar Fixtures.

Several men employed by Edward Klink, manufacturer of bar fixtures at Newark, were in Plainfield yesterday placing new fixtures in the cafe at McVey's Hotel. When the old fixtures were placed on the wagon last evening about 6 o'clock the men started for Newark A man named Greenfield, aged about 25 years, was driving the team. A route through Somerset street was taken, as it was evidently the purpose of taking the county road through Mountain avenue to Springfield avenue and so on to Newark When the wagon reached a point on Somerset street opposite the borough school, where there is a a switch in the car tracks, a trolley car coming toward the city was just passing into the switch. Those on the car say that Greenfield run into the car.

The car and wagon came together and Greenfield was thrown off the seat owing to the fact that he held fast to the reins. He was thrown to the ground between the horses and the wagon and the wheels of the latter passed over the lower part of his body. The only damage so the trolley car was a broken pane of glass and some scratches. Two women were in the car, but they were uninjured.

As quickly as possible Greenfield was picked up, placed in a wagon owned by George Hartfelder, stairbuilder, that happened to be near, and the man was brought back to McVey's Hotel. In the meantine Dr. Fritts, the physician for the trolley company, was sent for and he met the man at the hotel. An examination showed that the man's legs and back were bruised and sprained severely and he suffered great pain. No bones were broken, luckily. Greenfield is now detained at the hotel, but his friends hope to take him home in a day or so. He is unmarried and resides at Newark He is a strictly sober man, his friends say, and why he should have allowed his team to get so close to the trolley car is a mystery.

A DARING HOLD-UP.

Smith, the New Market Baker, Had an Encounter With Highwaymen Near the Eight Row.

Following closely on the heels of the burglaries at Dunellen Saturday night, a daring hold up took place early yesterday morning. The victim was W. B. Smith, the New Market baker, who was driving to this city about 4 o'clock for his supply of bread. When about midway between the trolley terminus and the Eight Row, two men sprang from the side of the road. One of them siezed the horse's bridle, while the other shoved the door of the wagon back and pointing a pistol at Smith ordered him to hand over what money he had in his possession.

Smith was taken completely by surprise and being unarmed was forced to comply with the demand. He had change in his pockets amounting to about eight dollars, all of which he handed over to the highwayman. The burglars then ordered him to drive on and disappeared in the darkness. As soon as Smith could collect his scattered senses he drove into town but the suprise was so complete he is unable to give any positive description of the men.

86 Fires So Far This Year.

The fires that occurred in this city last year numbered 86. Up to the present time there have been 86 fires for 1900. Last year the percentage was 20 in excess of any previous year, and the chances are that it will go much higher this year.

SCHOOL BOYS WON MATCH

DEFEATED PICKED TEAM FROM PARK GOLF CLUB YESTERDAY.

Match Was Played on the Park Club Links—The Leal's School Team Won 14 to 5.

A team of six golfers from Leal's School was entertained at the links of the Park Golf Club yesterday afternoon and defeated a picked team from that club by a score of 14 to 5. All the players were more or less out of practice so the scores were not remarkably low.

It was the first time that the Leal's School boys have attempted any team play. Robert F. Tilney acted as captain. Morgan T. Townsend, captain of the Park Golf Club team, selected six players of that club. Gus Faber was not up to his usual game and finished four down to Howard deP. Wright, who is a member of the team of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. Townsend won from J. C. Barcalow, the crack player of the Somerset County Country Club, three up. Edgar I. Serrell had a big lead on N. P. Rogers, Jr., but the latter reduced it to two. W. J. R Thiers was way off. Tilney was seven up when they finished the seventh hole on the second round and Thiers was compelled to forfeit the last two holes as he had to leave. The other two pairs were fairly well matched, but all four were out of practice.

The scores were as follows:

LEAL'S SCHOOL.		PARK GOLF CLUB.
H. deP. Wright	4	G. W. Faber	0
J. C. Barcalow	0	M. T. Townsend	3
N. P. Rogers, Jr.	0	E. I. Serrell	2

LAND OF THE PHARAOHS.

Scenes and Customs of the Country Described in an Interesting Manner by Dr. Richards.

Before an audience which completely filled the chapel of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards delivered his lecture last evening on "The Land of the Pharaohs." The lecture was illustrated which greatly assisted the audience in following the speaker.

Dr. Richard's knowledge of the far away land was gained by personal travel and the story of his experiences proved very interesting. The ancient city of Cairo, or the "City of the Dead" as the speaker called it, was pictured in a way which left no doubt as to its antiquity and quaintness. A lecture on Egypt without the obelisks, pyramids and Sphinx could hardly be called complete and these massive monuments to the ambitious of departed kings, were dwelt upon by the doctor in detail. Dr. Richards' description of the modern inhabitants and their method of fleecing the unsuspecting traveler created considerable amusement. From the Sheiks guarding the ancient ruins, down to the humble donkey boys, their one ambition is to extract all the "baksheesh" possible, and their ability to detect the unwary is marvellous.

Previous to the address a few remarks were made by Mrs. Isaac Miller in which she told of the Boys' Mission Band under whose auspices the lecture was given.

Think Summit Census is Wrong.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Summit, Nov. 14—A general belief prevails here that some error must have occurred in the census enumeration of Summit. It shows a total population of only 5,302, or an actual increase of about 483 in the past five years, whereas every indication upon which an estimate could be based tends to show an actual population of over 6,000. If this year's figures are correct, it means that Summit has increased only ten per cent. in the past five years, while in the five years prior to 1895 the increase was about forty per cent.

Water Mains to be Extended.

There is no doubt but what the Common Council will vote to extend the water mains through South Second street to Rock avenue, although it is not probable tha the work will be done immediately. The water company would like to defer the matter for a time on account of the cold weather.

Meeting in Newark.

The ninth convention of the Reformed Chapters of the Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip will be held in the Clinton Avenue Reformed church, Newark, today and tomorrow. Several members of the order from this city are in attendance.

To Import Belgian Hare.

Siegfreid Arens, of Park avenue, expects to import a number of Belgian hare to this city as soon as his folks take possession of their new home on the heights. They have twenty-two acres of ground, allowing plenty of room for the hare to run about.

REED AND FOOTE MAY BE THE LEADERS

The Plainfield Assemblyman Wants to be at the Head of the Republican Majority.

ESSEX MEN AGAINST HIM.

SENATOR REED WILL BE A POWER IN THE UPPER HOUSE.

Since He Announced That He Would Not be a Candidate for President, the Talk is to Make Him Leader.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Nov. 14.—For the first "Governor's Day" after a general election there was a fair gathering of statesmen, seasoned and embryonic, at the State House here yesterday, though the leaders who will figure more conspicuously in the weekly gatherings, as the time for the next legislative session draws near, were not very much in evidence. There were few Senators on hand, but the next House of Assembly was pretty well represented, and there was much wire-pulling. Assemblyman William J. Bradley came over from Camden with his speakership boom tucked safely under his arm, and Vivian M. Lewis, of Passaic, who has aspirations to wield the gavel, was taking care that no chances to land should get away from him.

Though it is early in the contest to make predictions, there seems to be a well-defined idea among the knowing ones that Bradley will land the prize. The Camden man is due to return for his fourth term, and it is argued in his behalf that he is entitled to the honor for various reasons, one of which is that he stepped aside a year ago for Benjamin F. Jones, of Essex.

It came out that Assemblyman Bacheller may be a factor in the race for the leadership of the majority. Bacheller is the only second-termer among the Essex eleven, and it was figured out that if he could get the undivided support of his county colleagues he would come pretty near making the place. Mr. Bacheller himself was non-committal when spoken to about his prospective candidacy. He has not yet openly declared himself, but his name seemed to meet with approval among most of the Assemblymen here yesterday.

Union county did not take kindly to the suggestion of Bacheller's aspirations for the leadership, as Union as a pet of its own in the person of Assemblyman Charles S. Foote. Mr. Foote did not hesitate to announce that he would make the running, and his claims were enthusiastically and impartially advanced by his colleague, Ellis B. Meeker and former Assemblyman George Squires.

As only five Senators were in attendance no attempt was made to "organize" the upper House yesterday. Senator McCarter, of Essex, had the certiorari proceedings in the case of the superintendent of buildings to attend to in the Supreme Court, and he stayed over to talk politics awhile. Senator Miller, of Salem; Senator Stokes, of Cumberland, and Senators-elect Wakelee, of Bergen, and McKee, of Passaic, both graduates of last year's lower House, made up the quintette. The gossip around the State House among the politicians other than Senators indicated that Senator Pitney, of Morris, would have no serious opposition for the presidency of the Senate. It will be the last year of the Morris man's term, and Senator Reed, of Somerset, who would ordinarily be Pitney's strongest opponent, has declared himself for the Morris county man. With Pitney in the chair the chances would be good, it is said, for Reed's selection as leader on the floor.

Palmer Leather Works New Home.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Nov. 14—The Palmer Leather Works plant of Newark is being removed to New Orange, Union county, where the firm has erected a new plant. The dimensions of the main building are 250x300 feet, and one and one half stories high, constructed of brick. The work of removal began last week, and most of the machinery is now being placed in position. The firm expects to employ at New Orange from eighty to 100 men.

Thinks Husband Burned House.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Nov. 14.—The house occupied by Mrs. Williams near Neshanic was burned Sunday. Mrs. Williams and a grandchild barely escaped with their lives. The woman was slightly burned. Mrs. Williams complained to the authorities that her husband from whom she was separated threatenad to burn the house.

—J. E. Martine's new house is now practically completed and the party for whom it was built will soon take possession.

—The contract case of Henry A. Voehl against Wm. Uhrhahn has been adjourned in Justice Mattison's court to next week Monday.

—Ward Stephens will give an organ recital in the Crescent Avenue church next Saturday evening. A silver offering will be received at the door.

—There is no pleasure in life if you dread going to the table to eat and can't rest at night on account of indigestion. Henry Williams, of Boonville, Ind., says he suffered that way for years, till he commenced the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, and adds, "Now I can eat anything I like and all I want and sleep soundly every night." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest what you eat. L. W. Randolph.

—An excellent entertainment will be given in the parish house of the Church of the Holy Cross tomorrow evening.

Spread Like Wild Fire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, rundown man or woman. Price 50 cents. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern which is not afraid to be generous. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles and have the satisfaction of knowing it has cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, LaGrippe and all Throat, Chest and Lung diseases are surely cured by it. Call on L. W. Randolph, Druggist, and get a free trail bottle. Regular size 50c and $1 00. Every bottle gauranteed.

—W. D. Murray delivered an interesting address last Monday afternoon before the members of the Primary and Junior Teachers' Union.

—Both makers and circulators of counterfeits commit fraud. Honest men will not deceive you into buying worthless counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The original is infallible for curing piles, sores, eczema and all skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

Miss Sebring, of Hunterdon county, has returned after a visit with Plainfield friends.

Fred R. Townsend, of East Front street, son of J. E. Townsend, has accepted a position in the gent's furnishing goods department at Woodhull & Martin's store and goes there on Saturday.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that an ordinance entitled "An ordinance to establish certain grades of streets and highways," a copy of which is subjoined to this notice, has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time, and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Common Council to adopt such ordinance at the regular meeting of the Common Council to be held in the Council Chamber, No. 100 Park avenue, in the City of Plainfield, N. J., at eight o'clock p. m., on Monday, the third day of December A. D., nineteen hundred, at which time and place, prior to the adoption of said ordinance, said ordinance will be considered by the Common Council, and all persons interested may be heard before the Common Council.

Dated, Nov. 13, 1900.

By order of the Common Council.

J. T. MACMURRAY, City Clerk.

AN ORDINANCE

TO ESTABLISH CERTAIN GRADES OF STREETS AND HIGHWAYS.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the curb grades marked and shown on the map entitled "Map of the City of Plainfield, N. J., showing curb grades, 1900," made by Andrew J. Gavett, City Surveyor, and filed in the office of the City Clerk on the eighth day of October, nineteen hundred, be and the same are hereby adopted and established as the official curb grades to which all curbs shall be maintained and in conformity with which all grades of sidewalks shall be maintained as provided by law and the ordinances of the City of Plainfield; and that all ordinances and parts of ordinances establishing other or different grades than those shown by said map and hereby established, be and the same are hereby repealed.

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

LATIN AMERICANS.

Congress at Madrid Hears Paris Treaty Violently Denounced.

MADRID, Nov. 14.—During the proceedings of the Spanish-American congress yesterday and while the report of the committee on arbitration was under discussion the Conde de Luque, professor of international law in the University of Madrid, delivered a violent speech against the Spanish-American treaty of Paris, declaring that "people ought to protest against the feudalism that exists now in questions of international order."

Senor Groizard, former minister of foreign affairs, qualified this doctrine as "dangerous."

Other committees proposed the establishment of a Spanish-American bank, with branches in all the large towns of Latin America, half the capital to be supplied by Spain and the rest by the Latin republics; advised the government of Spain to reduce railway and other tariffs and to reform the customs dues in order to facilitate the importation of Spanish-American produce and advocated the concession by the Spanish-American governments of navigation bounties, the reduction of harbor dues and the establishment of coaling stations and stations for stores.

Other recommendations were that the Spanish-American governments should negotiate commercial treaties with Spain, that permanent expositions for Spanish and Spanish-American produce should be established, that all sorts of facilities should be extended to commercial travelers and that an exportation and importation bank, with numerous branches, should be founded.

At noon the queen regent received in audience the members of the congress and their wives.

MAYOR FLOOD ARRESTED.

Elmira's Chief Magistrate Charged With Forgery.

ELMIRA, Nov. 14.—Dr. Frank H. Flood, mayor of this city, was placed under arrest yesterday afternoon by virtue of a warrant issued by Recorder Michael Danaher upon complaint sworn to by Alderman Francis McCann of the Fourth ward. The warrant charges forgery in the first degree.

The action was not surprising, as it had been rumored ever since the arrest of Miss Catherine Loonie that she had in an affidavit implicated the mayor in her crime, that of offering for record forged deeds of property belonging to Miss Margaret G. Kennedy of Binghamton, as told in these dispatches at the time of Miss Loonie's arrest.

Miss Loonie, who is under sentence of four years and nine months to Auburn prison, was taken before the recorder on Monday and reiterated the statement that she had previously made in the affidavit which is in possession of District Attorney F. F. Aldrich.

Upon waiving examination, the mayor was held to bail in the sum of $10,000 to await the action of the next grand jury. His bondsmen are his cousin, former Congressman Thomas S. Flood; Judson Clark, capitalist, and Fire Commissioner Everett La France. Flood is 49 years of age, has a wife and two daughters and is one of the most competent and successful physicians in the city.

He was at the last municipal election chosen over former City Chamberlain F. E. Bundy, now serving a sentence in Auburn prison for embezzling about $80,000 of the city's funds.

Ten Injured In a Railway Collision.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Nov. 14.—Ten persons were injured in a collision between a north bound Lake Shore passenger train and an extra freight train which met head on three miles south of this city late yesterday afternoon. The freight was ordered on to the siding at the Kalamazoo Paper mill, but failed to reach the point ahead of the passenger train. The engines met on a curve in a blinding snowstorm and were badly smashed, but not derailed. A flat car on which Brakeman Adams was standing was doubled up like a V. Otherwise the property loss was small.

Pugh Re-elected In Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 14.—The re-election of Congressman Sam K. Pugh of the Ninth district was made certain yesterday by a gain of 188 votes in Lewis county by the official count. In one precinct in that county the Goebel election officers had refused to count 188 ballots that were cast for Pugh. The ballots were soiled and a trifle damp, and this afforded a pretext for throwing them out. By process of court the ballots were counted. Williams, Hopkins and Moss, Republican candidates for congress, have decided to contest and begun taking evidence.

Notorious Prisoner Escapes.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 14.—William Schaeffer, a notorious young criminal, escaped from the custody of Deputy Sheriff Urlaoffsky yesterday afternoon. Schaeffer had just been sentenced to three years in the Eastern penitentiary for burglary and was being taken to the county jail in the prison van with a number of other prisoners.

ROSSLYN APOLOGIZES

Cowardice Charges Against British Soldiers Withdrawn.

ROBERTS REPORTS MORE FIGHTING

Holland Said to Be Willing to Buy Land in German Southwest Africa For Exiled Boers.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Lord Roberts, in response to an inquiry from the Prince of Wales, has telegraphed authorizing a denial of the charges of cowardice made in Lord Rosslyn's book against British officers in the Sauna's post affair.

Lord Rosslyn, in view of Lord Roberts' denial, has written to the Prince of Wales regretting that he was misinformed and tendering an apology in the following language:

"I owe to the regiments whose honor my publication of a groundless report has called in question the deepest apology and the fullest reparation. I offer it to you, sir, as colonel in chief. I offer it to the colonels of the various regiments. I offer it to every officer, noncommissioned officer and man, and I sincerely trust that this unqualified apology will be accepted in the spirit in which it is offered."

Lord Roberts telegraphs to the war office as follows:

"Rundle reports skirmishes with small parties of Boers in the Harrismith, Reitz and Vrede districts recently. The commandos appear to be acting independently and with no object except to give as much annoyance as possible to the British. Our casualties in these skirmishes were two killed and seven wounded.

"Douglas arrived at Ventersdorp Nov. 11 from Zeerust, capturing during the march 21 prisoners and a quantity of cattle and sheep. Ventersdorp, which has been a depot of supplies for the Boers, will now be cleared out."

"Holland has expressed a willingness," says the Berlin correspondent of The Daily Express, "to purchase on behalf of Mr. Kruger for the exiled Boers a portion of German Southwest Africa."

Fiendish Torture by Burglars.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 14.—Being under the impression that he had wealth hidden away in his lonely home, three unknown men horribly tortured John Kane, an aged man of Sugar Notch, in an effort to extort from him the hiding place of his supposed savings. Kane lived in a lonely spot of Sugar Notch and earned a small sum daily by picking coal from the culm banks and selling it to his neighbors. During the early morning the three burglars broke into his abode and demanded the old man's money. They were told he had none. They searched the house, thoroughly demolished the furniture and tore up the floor of the house, but could find nothing. Then the three men began torturing Kane. First they burned his legs, but the old man persisted he had no money. Finally the men threw Kane on the stove, but could get no admission from him that he had any wealth, and they departed, leaving him lying on the floor. Kane was found by neighbors and taken to a hospital in this city. There is a chance for his recovery.

Roosevelt Approves Wage Schedule.

ALBANY, Nov. 14.—Governor Roosevelt has approved of the schedule of salaries and wages in the state charitable and reformatory institutions. These schedules cover and regulate the salaries of upward of 1,000 officers and employees at state charitable and reformatory institutions, ranging from superintendents at $4,000 a year down to employees receiving but $12 a month, with maintenance. After carefully considering all the suggestions for changes that were made by the various boards of managers and accepting such as seemed desirable, the commission finally on Oct. 15 adopted the schedule as it now stands.

Marcus Daly's Will.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Marcus Daly's great fortune, amassed in the mines of Montana, is to go to his widow, to be held by her in trust for the four children, Margaret, Mary C., Harriet and Marcus, Jr., the 17-year-old son. Just how much the dead millionaire left has not been figured, but it is estimated by those familiar with his affairs to be not less than $40,000,000. The body of Copper King Daly rests in the grand reception room of his palatial home at 725 Fifth avenue, the home he dreamed of all his life and finally reared, never to occupy except as a piece of clay.

Broker's Firm Robbed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The firm of Grant Bros., brokers, at 45 Broadway, has failed. The assignment was brought about by the fact that the firm was robbed of large sums of money by two men in whose honesty there had always been absolute confidence. Members of the firm refused absolutely to talk of their troubles and would not even admit that they had been robbed. It is generally known, however, that they have been victimized, and the amount is said to be nearly $200,000.

Oil Struck In Erie County, N. Y.

BUFFALO, Nov. 14.—Erie county is experiencing the sensation that follows the discovery of oil. The Standard Oil company, it is reported, has struck an oil well near Springville, and the indications are that it is a gusher. Secrecy is observed regarding the strike. For some time it has been asserted that there is oil in this county because of the great number of gas wells that have been discovered. Already speculators are securing leases on land, and large tracts have been contracted for.

Clark Demands Retraction.

BUTTE, Mon., Nov. 14.—Eastern friends of Senator W. A. Clark have called his attention to an extended article which has had wide circulation to the effect that he is connected with the establishment of an American Monte Carlo at Chesapeake Beach, near Washington. Senator Clark brands this story as "infamously false and malicious." He has wired his eastern attorneys to demand an immediate retraction, instructing them to start proceedings unless an apology is promptly made.

British Cabinet Complete.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Mr. Robert William Hanbury has been appointed president of the board of agriculture, and the Marquis of Londonderry will retain the portfolio of the postmaster general. It is expected that both appointments will be officially announced today, thus completing the reorganization of the cabinet.

AJAR IN THE CONCERT

English Press Worried About Germany and America.

FORMER VINDICTIVE, LATTER FEEBLE

China, It Is Reported, Will Yield to All Terms of Conjoint Note Except Execution of Officials and the Princes.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The London morning papers are again agitated concerning the stability of the concert of the powers in China. The attitudes of Germany and the United States meet with disapproval, the former because Count von Waldersee has sent a column to destroy the Ming tombs, an act which is regarded as needlessly vindictive, and the latter because it threatens to break up the concert.

The Daily Chronicle comments strongly upon the American attitude as a "feeble compromise which it is impossible to accept." The Morning Post says:

"It would be unreasonable for the United States to break up the concert because they do not desire indemnity. The powers would probably be willing to consider America's objections. If, however, the United States has in view some new combination of powers, it would be necessary for Great Britain and Germany to agree upon a common policy to be pursued in the absence of a general agreement."

The Standard, which dismisses the subject with a mere reference, says:

"American opinion on the Chinese problem is too uncertain to be considered seriously."

Dr. Morrison, wiring to The Times on Sunday, expresses the opinion that China will "readily accede to all the terms of the conjoint note except the execution of the princes and officials, which it will be impossible to fulfill while the court is in the hands of these very officials."

"Considerable curiosity is felt at Tientsin," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Times, "as to the whereabouts of the Japanese forces, which, though not leaving the country, are disappearing from Peking and Tien-tsin, it is not known whither."

A dispatch from Shanghai asserts that the empress dowager has appointed Sir Robert Hart director of Chinese imperial maritime customs, to arrange the indemnity question with the powers. An imperial edict appoints Li Hung Chang to replace General Yung Lu as generalissimo of the northern army.

An Eleven Million Dollar Deal.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14.—It is announced that the Baltimore Trust and Guarantee company has practically completed arrangements for financiering a deal involving upward of $11,000,000 of stocks and bonds. A company has been formed, it is stated, which will shortly be incorporated under the name of the American Lead and Baryta company. This company will purchase 33,100 acres of land in Washington county, Mo., about 65 miles southwest of St. Louis, said to contain valuable mineral deposits, including baryta, zinc, lead and iron, besides extensive timber tracts. The most valuable mineral deposit on the property is probably baryta, which is largely used in the manufacture of paint.

Chicago Robbers Increase.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Since the beginning of cold weather, about election day, the number of "hold ups" and burglaries has increased greatly. Chicago has come to expect this as a matter of course, but this year the danger appears to be particularly great. The robberies have often been accompanied with shooting, the results being fatal in some cases. It is charged that the police force is demoralized and that Chief Kipley is not on speaking terms with the chief of detectives or with several of his own inspectors. Burke, the oil inspector and chief aid of Harrison, is charged with antagonizing Kipley and wishing to supplant Colleran, chief of detectives.

Hotel Keeper Responsible.

ALBANY, Nov. 14.—The court of appeals has affirmed the judgment of the lower court in the action of Sarah Lawson of Olean against William Eggleston, a hotel keeper in Dayton, Cattaraugus county. Mrs. Lawson recovered $1,000 damages for injuries sustained by a gunshot wound inflicted by her husband while he was intoxicated and for the loss of means of support by reason of her husband having shot and killed himself. She alleged that the damages were caused while her husband was in an intoxicated and delirious condition which was brought about through the use of liquor sold to her husband by the defendant.

Naval Movements.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—A bent piston rod caused the return of the monitor Monterey to Hongkong soon after she had started for Canton. The damage is slight, according to reports to the navy department. The colliers Nero and Iroquois arrived at Honolulu on Nov. 3. The Scorpion has arrived at Cape Haitien, the Monongahela at Hampton Roads, the Potomac at Norfolk, the Albany at Singapore and the Atlanta at St. Thomas. The latter is on her way south to join Admiral Schley's squadron. The Glacier has sailed from Sydney for Brisbane.

Not Royal Jewels.

CITY OF MEXICO, Nov. 14.—The report of the arrest in New York of Preza and Marchuchi, charged with having smuggled into the United States diamonds and other jewels belonging to Emperor Maximilian's crown and to Empress Carlotta, excited much interest here. It is not believed that the jewels were part of the regalia of the former sovereign of Mexico, and old imperialists consider it quite impossible that such valuable diamonds could have fallen into the hands of private parties.

Senator Davis Dangerously Ill.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 14.—The grave complications disclosed by the bulletin issued by the physicians in attendance upon Senator C. K. Davis have greatly depressed his family and friends, who had hitherto been hopeful of a favorable outcome of his prolonged illness. His wife, his aged parents and two sisters, who are in constant attendance upon him, now fully realize the probability of a fatal result and that at no distant time.

The First Cup Race.

MANCHESTER, Nov. 14.—The Guardian understands that the first race for the America's cup between Shamrock II and the American defender will be sailed on Aug. 20, 1901.

LIFE SAVING SERVICE.

Superintendent Kimball's Report Shows Very Efficient Work.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—S. I. Kimball, general superintendent of the life saving service, in his annual report to Secretary Gage says that at the close of the fiscal year the establishment embraced 269 stations, 194 being on the Atlantic, 58 on the lakes, 16 on the Pacific and one at the falls of the Ohio, at Louisville.

The number of disasters to documented vessels within the field of operations of the service during the year was 364. There were on board these vessels 2,658 persons, of whom 2,602 were saved and 48 lost. Six hundred and seventy-three shipwrecked persons received succor at the stations, to whom 1,447 days' relief in the aggregate was afforded. The estimated value of the vessels involved in disaster was $6,127,500 and of their cargoes $3,342,690, making a total value of property imperiled $9,470,190. Of this amount $7,234,690 was saved and $2,235,500 lost. The number of vessels totally lost was 61.

In addition to the foregoing there were during the year 329 casualties to small craft, such as small yachts, sailboats, rowboats, etc., on board of which were 781 persons, of whom five were lost. The property involved in these instances is estimated at $267,070, of which $256,770 was saved and $10,300 lost.

Besides the number of persons saved from vessels of all kinds there were 595 others rescued who had fallen from wharfs, piers and other positions of extreme peril, many of whom would have perished without the aid of life saving crews. Five hundred and fourteen of these were rescued from dwelling houses, outbuildings and other elevated places submerged wholly or in part by the terrible flood of the Brazos river in Texas.

The crews saved and assisted to save during the year 371 vessels, valued, with their cargoes, at $4,005,590, and rendered assistance of minor importance to 685 other vessels in distress, besides warning from danger 184 vessels.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Latest election returns from Newfoundland add to the Liberal victory.

Yale university funds were increased during the last fiscal year nearly $430,000.

A forest fire has destroyed Brooking's mill, in Fredalbra Park, Cal., with a loss of $400,000.

William Haywood, United States collector of internal revenue for Honolulu, has resigned.

A fierce gale swept over the English channel Monday night, causing a number of wrecks.

The main building of Cornell university veterinary college, at Ithaca, was partially burned, with a loss of $30,000.

The First National bank of Nashville was robbed of $44,000 by a business man with the aid of a bookkeeper in the bank.

The California dry wine product for 1900 will amount to from 13,500,000 to 15,000,000 gallons and the sweet product to 7,000,000.

The transport Thomas left Nagasaki for San Francisco Nov. 10, having on board the remains of Colonel Liscum, commander of the Ninth infantry, killed at Taku.

Choate on Lincoln.

EDINBURGH, Nov. 14.—Mr. Joseph H. Choate, the United States embassador to Great Britain, last evening delivered the inaugural lecture at the Philosophical Institution of Edinburgh, taking as his theme "The Career and Character of Abraham Lincoln." Lord Rosebery, who presided, introduced Mr. Choate as follows: "Mr. Choate is one of that choice succession of men whom the United States has sent to this country. He has endeared himself to us in a remarkable degree by his brilliant and genial qualities. For his discourse he has selected one of the most interesting subjects within the range of possibility, the great man whom he personally knew in the flesh, Abraham Lincoln." Many notable persons were in the audience, and Mr. Choate was frequently applauded.

Liberal Majority Grows.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Nov. 14.—The Trinity district is likely to elect Mr. Norwood, minister of justice, and Messrs. George Gushue and George Johnson, Liberals, over their three Tory opponents by 60 majority. The count there is now about two-thirds completed, and the Liberal trio are 450 ahead. The district went to the Tories by a majority of 1,200 at the previous election. Should the Trinity district go to the Liberals, Mr. Bond, the premier, would have 30 supporters in the new legislature, as against four supporters of Mr. Morine.

General Stryker's Successor.

TRENTON, Nov. 14.—Governor Voorhees has appointed Colonel Alexander C. Oliphant adjutant general of the state to succeed the late General Stryker. Colonel Oliphant is a personal friend of the governor and has been connected with the national guard for years. He was assistant adjutant general and thoroughly familiar with the duties of his new office. He is also a graduate of the United States Naval academy, but is now engaged in business in Trenton. He is a son of General Samuel D. Oliphant.

Canal Breakers Confess.

ALBANY, Nov. 14.—Superintendent of Public Works Partridge has received word from Rome to the effect that upon confession three more of the Forestport canal breakers have been convicted. One of these, Connolly, was sentenced to one year at Auburn, Charles Connors was fined $500 and Breen $300. This makes in all six convictions out of the 15 indictments found by the Oneida county grand jury in the Forestport cases. Other cases will be speedily tried.

To Get Power From the Sea.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The National Sea Power company was incorporated at Newark, N. J., yesterday to own wave motors and operate the same by ocean power, to build and operate all sorts of machinery and to gather from the sea power by which machinery, railroad cars, vehicles or any other apparatus can be moved or operated. The capital is $500,000 and the incorporators Cleveland W. Childs, James Mapletoft and H. N. Smith.

Secretary Root In Cuba.

REAPPORTIONMENT.

Returns of Twelfth Census Will Be Ready For Congress.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Director of the Census Merriam has called the attention of the president to the fact that the figures on the population of the United States, the total of which has already been announced, are in such shape that they will be at the disposal of congress when it meets for any action it may desire to take in the direction of a reapportionment bill. The reapportionment following the count of the twelfth census will become operative by law in 1903.

There probably will be a considerable increase both in the ratio and the total number of representatives under the new apportionment. Starting with a ratio of one to every 30,000 inhabitants, there were 65 representatives in the First congress. The eleventh census in 1890 gave a population of 62,622,250, or an increase of 12,500,000. The ratio was 173,901 persons to each representative, and the house numbered 356 members. The ratio under the new census probably will reach 200,000.

With an increase of 13,225,464 shown by the present census and letting majority fractions of the apportionment count for an additional member, as has been the custom, this would make an increase of 18 members in the next house. Reapportionment on this basis would cause only four states to lose representatives. They are Maine and Virginia in the east and Kansas and Nebraska in the west.

These states would lose one member each. Any ratio smaller than 200,000, which would save them their full representation, would cause a considerable addition to the membership of the house.

FORTUNE FOR KIND ACT.

Old Comrade Gives Two Friends $10,000 Each.

OMAHA, Nov. 14.—A rare example of human gratitude came to light in Omaha yesterday, when Major T. S. Clarkson and Harry M. Turner received each $10,000 in crisp treasury notes from an old army comrade whom they befriended a couple of years ago. Robert Majors of Huntsville, Ala., was the donor, and an interesting story is told, of which the chapter yesterday is the last.

Clarkson, Majors and Turner were comrades together during Sherman's march to the sea. Robert Majors drifted west and ten years ago, broken in health and finances, entered the government service in the capacity of assistant custodian of the Federal building at Omaha. His duties required him to pass through the postoffice after the day force had left.

Two years ago a small package of money was missed. It was seen as the clerks were leaving and as Majors was entering a certain room. It disappeared in the interval, and a zealous inspector suspected Majors. The old man was arrested and prosecuted. Major T. S. Clarkson used his influence, as did Turner, and Majors was saved the disgrace of a felon's cell, although he lost his position.

He went to live with relatives at Huntsville, Ala. A month ago a brother died and left the old veteran a fortune. He hastened to Omaha with the first cash paid in by the administrator to present a gift to his army comrades. The three had a jolly reunion in Omaha. Major Clarkson was in Buffalo, where he is connected with the exposition, but he came here in response to a telegram to get his money.

Increase of Unaddressed Letters.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The annual report of the superintendent of the dead letter office shows the large increase of total receipts of undelivered mail matter over the previous year of nearly 10 per cent. The number of pieces of matter received from all sources was 7,536,158 against 6,855,983 for the preceding year. Letters and parcels held for postage numbered 144,619 and the misdirected 422,739. Nearly 35,000 letters were received which bore no addresses whatever. The letters addressed to the guests of hotels and undelivered numbered 269,624. The total number of unclaimed parcels of all descriptions was 180,914. There were 50,553 letters containing an aggregate of $44,140 and letters containing drafts, notes, money orders, etc., of the face value of $1,136,645.

Free Education For Filipinos.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 14.—The regular autumn meeting of the Yale university corporation was held yesterday. The corporation voted to give free tuition to five Filipinos of exceptional fitness and high character to be chosen by Judge Taft of the Philippine commission. It is hoped that these students will be on hand at the beginning of the next college year. It is likely that the civil service commission in Washington will make an effort to secure the co-operation of many of the leading colleges in this country in a general plan to educate a few leaders for the Philippine people.

Bryan Unanimously Elected.

ATLANTA, Nov. 14.—The Georgia legislature, being unable to adjourn Nov. 6, unanimously elected Hon. William Jennings Bryan president of the United States. Mr. Bryan acknowledged the compliment, and a letter from him was read in the senate by order of President Howell. Mr. Bryan says: "While the returns show that the decision rendered in my favor in Georgia has been overruled in the higher court, which includes the entire nation, yet I beg to express my appreciation of the confidence and good will expressed by the members of the Georgia legislature."

A Place For the Boxers.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 14.—Twelve of Pittsburg's wealthy citizens, lovers of the boxing game, have formed themselves into a club under the name of the Rankin Athletic club and have erected a clubhouse at Rankin, just outside the city limits, for the purpose of pulling off all the big pugilistic events possible and also to give a good fistic show every two weeks. The clubhouse is up to date in every respect and has a seating capacity of 10,000.

Rumors of Big Mining Deal.

HAZLETON, Pa., Nov. 14.—A report is current here that negotiations are on for the sale of all the collieries and washeries of the region owned by individual operators and that the Lehigh Valley and Pennsylvania Railroad companies are the prospective purchasers. None of the operators hereabouts profess to know anything of the matter.

Firedamp Killed Thirteen.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—Thirteen persons were killed and 19 others injured seriously in a firedamp explosion in the Pluto coal mine at Wiosa, near Brux.

CABINET LOVE FEAST

President Desires No Change In Official Family.

SLATEMAKERS COMPLETELY SILENCED

Secretaries Praised For Their Past Faithful Services and Formally Asked to Remain For a Second Term.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—President McKinley has announced clearly and forcefully to the members of his cabinet his desire that they should all remain with him during the four years of his coming administration. His wishes were made known in an extended speech at the cabinet meeting in the White House yesterday. Responses were made by all of the members present, and while there were no definite pledges from any of them that they would accept the portfolios thus tendered there was, on the other hand, no definite declination.

The proceeding sets forth the wishes of the president in the matter and relieves the members of the cabinet of the customary obligation of tendering their resignations at the end of the term unless they have made an irrevocable decision that it will be impossible for them to continue in office. It also sets at rest all speculation and slatemaking of the country's political prophets, for it is understood generally that there is but one doubtful factor in the homogeneity of the present cabinet. That factor is Attorney General Griggs, as he holds his present position at a great financial sacrifice. Still, Mr. Griggs replied in terms of warm appreciation to the complimentary remarks of the president and voiced no intention of retiring from his present position.

This is not the first time that the president has expressed to the members of the cabinet his pleasure at the support they had given him. He said as much in a general way at the last cabinet meeting when the members, several of whom had been scattered by the political campaign, got together for the first time and congratulated him upon the outcome of the election. The president evidently had prepared for the occasion and in his address reviewed the work of the administration in the past four years—four of the most exciting years the country has known in three decades. It was rather a surprise even to the cabinet members themselves to note how accurately the president had fixed in his memory the sequence of events and how calmly he relinquished the personal credit for successful strokes of policy or prudence and attributed the honor to the member of his official family in whose immediate department the matter in question had arisen. He said that if the result of the recent election was an indorsement of his administration it was no less an indorsement of the men who had stood by him in the time of stress and necessity.

The credit for success, he said, lay with the heads of his various departments, and he should shrink from entering upon another four years of office unless he could be assured that he would have with him a majority at least of the men who form his present official household. He said he knew that in asking them to remain with him there was scarcely one who could do so without some sacrifice either of money, leisure or personal inclination. At the same time, he said, he should feel happier if all of them could gratify his wish.

Secretary Hay was the first to respond. He said that for his part he deeply appreciated the complimentary references made by his chief and that he thought there was not a member of the cabinet who would sever such pleasant official relations without regret, and even then only in case of the most urgent reasons for retirement.

Secretaries Gage, Long, Hitchcock, Wilson, Attorney General Griggs and Postmaster General Smith each spoke in turn and in much the same vein. Secretary Root was the only absent member from the meeting, having left to look over military affairs and to recuperate from his long and serious illness. The list of responses, therefore, was all but complete. It is known that Secretary Root is in much the same position as Attorney General Griggs, holding his position at considerable financial sacrifice, but willing at the same time to sacrifice a good deal to comply with the expressed wishes of the president.

The meeting, which had developed into a real love feast, then returned to the more commonplace affairs of routine business and the discussion of the salient features of the president's coming message to congress, after which the members left with renewed expressions of regard. The meeting stands as one of the most remarkable cabinet sessions on record.

Big Addition to Anchor Line Fleet.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The Anchor line, which maintains two steamship services from the port of New York, one to Glasgow via Moville, the other to Genoa, Naples and other Mediterranean ports, has now in course of construction an addition of five new steamers to its large fleet, which now consists of about 25 steamers. With these five new steamers and one recently completed an addition of 74,000 tons will be added to the line's tonnage.

Telegraphers Strike.

STOCKTON, Cal., Nov. 14.—O. H. Lehmer, local superintendent of the Valley division of the Santa Fe, states that the telegraph operators at intermediate points along the line struck at noon yesterday, though the operators at main stations are still working. Rumors of a threatened strike by the operators have been current several days because of the alleged disinclination of the officials to grant an increase in salaries.

Bridge Over Hackensack River.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—A contract has been awarded to construct a bridge over the Hackensack river. The bridge will cost $234,000 and will be erected over the river at Secaucus, close to the Paterson Plank road. The Hoboken and Paterson Traction company will pay $35,000 of the original cost of the bridge for permission to run its trolley cars over it. The rest of the expense will be borne by Bergen county.

Twelve Bodies Still Missing.

YARMOUTH, N. S., Nov. 14.—It now appears that there were 40 persons on the steamer City of Monticello on her last trip, including the four survivors and the bodies of the 12 who still are missing, 24 having been recovered up to yesterday afternoon.

Next Year's State Campaign.

The veteran Trenton correspondent of the Philadelphia Record, who keeps in close touch with the political activities of the State, discusses the Gubernatorial possibitities for next year in the following interesting manner:

"And now for the Gubernatorial candidates of next year. On the Republican side the most prominent names mentioned are those of Mahlon Pitney and Franklin Murphy, and on the Democratic side Johnston Cornish and James M. Seymour. It is very evident that Mr. Murphy will be an active candidate, because he has given notice of his intended retirement as chairman of the Republican State committee. Mr. Pitney's ambition for the office is said to be as great as ever, so that quite a contest is promised between these noted leaders. Both have rendered great service to their party in the recent campaign, Mr. Pitney on the stump and Mr. Murphy in charge of the State machine. Each has a powerful following in all sections of the State, and possesses the sinews of war in abundance. Mayor Seymour, of Newark, should he conclude to be a candidate, has the ability to make a most interesting campaign. He is very popular with the rank and file of his party all over the State, and more particularly so in his own city. Mr. Cornish is also very popular with the Democratic voters, and he has come into more prominence than ever owing to the conspicuous part he took in the campaign just closed. Of course, the candidate favored by "Bob" Davis will stand the best chance for the nomination. The friends of Mr. Davis say that he is now the real and only leader of the New Jersey Democracy. It is announced that E. F. C. Young will not be a candidate for Governor this time. If he were, of course, he would have Mr. Davis' support and be reasonably certain of the nomination."

For Big and Little.

Charles H. Fuller, the Chicago advertising agent, has published a list of big commercial successes which were largely due to newspaper advertising. The Oshkosh Times recently printed the statement of a milkman who had paid $10 for newspaper advertising and realized $736 as a result. There is no business, big or little, to which the judicious use of newspaper publicity will not bring an increase of trade worth many times the cost of the advertising, comments the Philadelphia Record.

It is being pointed out that there is a grave defect in the New Jersey election law. Secretary of State Wurts, referring to this matter yesterday, said: "The fact, of which there does not seem to be a serious doubt, that one of the official tickets printed and distributed in Passaic county by the County Clerk, under the provision of the law, was counterfeited both in the composition and in the official certificate to its genuineness on the back of the ticket, has revived a criticism of the law which has been made for several years. It is that the provision of the law under which official ballots can be purchased by any one several days in advance of the election is a grave defect and danger. This defect makes it easily possible for counterfeiting and deception to be practised. The law should be amended so that no one should be provided with official ballots except the sworn election officers, and they only in time to supply all the polls. There is no good reason why a county should be flooded with official tickets many of which can be skilfully pasted with names of candidates not of the party's nomination, several days in advance of an election."

Assemblyman Foote, of this city, is credited with the laudable ambition of being chosen to act as Republican majority leader on the floor of the Assembly in the next Legislative session. Mr. Foote undoubtedly has the talent for this position, and if he should be selected by his political colleagues it will be an act combining duty and honor to such a degree that he would be recognized as a powerful political factor in the State. However, there are several other Assemblymen who cherish the hope of being chosen majority leader, and the contest for the place promises to be warm.

According to his sworn statement, it cost John B. Stanchfield, defeated Democratic candidate for Governor in New York, $8,950 to pay the expenses incidental to his canvass for the office. That is within $150 of what Mr Stanchfield would have received in salary for the first year of the term if he had been on the successful side.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

Senator Chas. A. Reed, of Somerset, has been suggested as a candidate for president of the Senate, but with that loyalty and courtesy which is characteristic of the man, he writes, "While appreciating the compliment, I beg to say that I am in no sense a candidate for president of the Senate, but heartily favor Senator Pitney for that office." Senator Pitney would make an excellent presiding officer, but one of these days we expect to see Senator Cross in the president's chair.—Elizabeth Journal.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exacty News but Just as Interesting.

Colonel Morris R. Hamilton, former State Librarian, is not expected to live. Colonel Hamilton was born in 1820, and is one of the best known men in New Jersey. His father was General Samuel R. Hamilton, Quartermaster General of the State for twenty-five years. Colonel Hamilton was graduated from Princeton in 1839, studied law, and then went into journalism, having been connected in an editorial capacity with the New York National Democrat and numerous papers in this State and Philadelphia. He served on the staff of Governor Fort from 1851 to 1854, whence he derived his title as Colonel. Colonel Hamilton is the soul of geniality and wit, and is—as a friend who knows him well said this morning—"white clear through."

The American National Red Cross will hold mammouth watch meetings in New York city, December 31st next, at Madison Square Garden, and other great auditoriums, churches and armories, to see the old century out and the new century in. In novelty and impressiveness it will be an event unequalled by any similar occurence in the history of the world. Sousa's famous band of fifty pieces will furnish music; a grand chorus of one thousand voices will give a concert until midnight, interspersed with speeches and 'Greetings," after which there will be general festivities. The "Greetings" will be unique as well as a history-making feature. Not only the rulers of the prominent nations of the world but the leading celebrities of every land—Count Tolstoi, Joseph Chamberlain, Dreyfus, Zola, Kruger, Sir Edwin Arnold, Hall Caine, Anthony Hope, Lord Roberts and more than fifty others, making a total of about one hundred—have written as to the progress of the nineteenth century, and the promise of the twentieth century. Such a grouping of crystalized thought from the master minds of all the earth on a subject of such universal interest was never before made. It cannot occur again for one hundred years. So important and significant are these "Greetings" regarded that the originals are to be preserved for the nation in the Congressional Library at Washington. The object of these meetings is to raise funds for The American National Red Cross, and to signalize the dawning of the new century by giving world wide prominence to that fraternity between nations which tends to ameliorate the horrors of war.

The store is always an interesting place to visit and particularly so at this season of the year.

Our Furniture Department

is one of the busiest in the store, and there's good reason for it. Large and elegant stocks coupled with close selling prices is the magnet. You know we sell furniture the same as we sell dry goods and there's a heap of difference between dry goods prices and furniture store prices. We were never in a better position to cater to your furniture wants. We have a complete furniture store and can fit you up from the kitchen to the parlor. New beginners especially should be interested in our quotations this week.

Bedroom Furniture

In solid oak, plain and quartered, golden finish. Also in birch, golden and mahogany finish. Consisting of bed, dresser with bevel French mirror, and washstand Some with plain fronts and some with swell fronts, without doubt the best offering of bedroom suits in the city. The prices are 12.98, 14.98, 16.98, 19.48, 25.00, 29.50 and 37.50.

Parlor Furniture.

Few people are aware of the fact that we have an extensive line of parlor suits and odd fancy chairs, but they are here nevertheless and you can make a little money go a great ways in this department. For instance, 3 piece parlor suits in mahogany finished inlaid frames, suit consists of diavan, large arm chair and small chair, upholstered in blue, red and green damask, at 16.98 instead of 20.00; at 19.98 instead of 25.00; at 24.50 instead of 30.00.

Odd fancy upholstered chairs, mahogany finished frames, at 4.98, 5.98, 6.98.

Tables and Stands.

One whole section devoted to this interesting line of furniture. Are you thinking about a holiday or wedding present? What would be nicer than a fancy table or stand. We have them in beautiful golden quartered oak and mahogany finish, finely polished. Also a full line of the new rope twisted tables and stands in oak, mahogany and white enameled. Then there is an elegant line of bamboo tables and stands with fancy straw tops, some of them are round and some of them are octagon shape.

We are also showing a very pretty line of India seats in quartered oak, birdseye maple, mahogany and bamboo. We would like to quote you prices on the above but the styles are too numerous, so come in and look them over.

New Morris Chairs.

We invite your attention to our exhibition of new Morris chairs and after you've seen them you'll agree with us, that there has never been such a showing in this city before. The styles are entirely new and up to date, we don't sell any antique furniture, the character of the frames are entirely different this year, heavy massive looking with broad arms and claw feet, rubbed and polished, in quartered oak, golden and mahogany finish, the cushions are covered with the best grades of English velours, upholstered with hair and all have spring seats. We direct special attention to those at 9.48, 9.98, 10.98 and 12.98

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table.

DUNELLEN

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Nov. 14.—The announcement in yesterday's Press that the population of the borough was 1,236, an increase of only 21 in five years created no end of surprise. It has been the general opinion that the 1,300 mark would be passed and the failure to do so is a great disappointment. There are some who are inclined to doubt the figures but the fact that they are official should be enough to convince anyone. At no previous time has a more thorough canvass been made than was the present one. The theory has been advanced that the small increase is due to enlarged figures at the previous enumeration as there has been nearly fifty houses built since then, all of which are occupied. Later returns not mentioned yesterday give the total number of families in the borough as 299. There are 279 houses.

Miss Edna Vail was pleasantly surprised last evening by about twenty of her young friends who called at her home unexpectedly. The visitors proceeded to make themselves at home, and the young hostess regained her composure and joined in the fun. A pleasant evening was passed in playing games after which refreshments were served. The affair was arranged by the Misses Irene Ayers and Ethel Dorlan.

The regular meeting of the Board of Education was held last evening, but only routine business was transacted. Tomorrow evening the Borough Board and the Piscataway Board will meet and take some action in regard to the payments of tuition pupils from either district.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Smith Laing and listened to an address delivered by Miss McKelvey, a returned missionary.

An entertainment will be given in the Presbyterian chapel Friday evening. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the Sunday-school.

It is thought that a football game will be played on the Lincoln avenue grounds Saturday between the Scotch Plains and Roselle teams.

Isaac J. Stites has had a complete new roof placed on his shop to replace the one badly damaged by the high winds of last week.

Engineer Lewis Gordon and family, of Elizabethport, took possession of Theodore Kuldoshes' house yesterday.

Miss Louise Holmes, of Plainfield, has returned home after a visit with her sister, Mrs. A. F. Sampson.

There are letters remaining in the postoffice for Miss Annie Creery and E. E. Johnson.

R. Horton Batchelor, of West Dunellen, left today for a three weeks' trip to Arizona.

Rev. N. J. Sproull, of Englishtown, was the guest of borough friends yesterday.

Howard VanNest has gone to South River for a week's visit with relatives.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, November 14.—About twenty members of Lakeside Council, D. of L., will go by stage to New Brunswick tonight and assist the local council in several initiations. After the regular meeting a dance will be held followed by a supper.

The public sale of Joseph M. Adams' farm utensils and household goods will take place tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Landlord Casterline, of the Hotel Nelson, expects to hold his postponed pigeon shoot shortly before Thanksgiving.

The G. E. Club was pleasantly entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Foster Sofield Monday evening.

Miss Hannah Danz has returned home after a pleasant visit with Brooklyn relatives.

The regular meeting of the dancing class was held in Friendship Hall last evening.

The Township Committee met yesterday at the Hotel Nelson.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Nov. 14—Several of the members of the Baptist church visited the Baptist Home in Newark yesterday, it being the Home's annual reception Day.

Forest avenue, from Grand street to Mountain avenue, is receiving a much needed coat of crushed stone. The improvement when finished will make this avenue as good a piece of road as we have in town.

Mrs. Nellie C. Crane, of Brooklyn, has been spending a pleasant visit with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Parks.

The Board of Education met and transacted routine business in the school parlor last evening.

Onward Council, L. A. B. A., held their regular semi-monthly meeting in their rooms last evening.

Mrs. Brockway, of Brooklyn, is the guest for a week of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. A. Gere.

A number from the village enjoyed the performance of "M'Liss" at Music Hall last night.

Fanwood Council, R. A., held a large and interesting meeting in their rooms last evening.

WESTFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Westfield, Nov. 14—J. Alston Dennis, chairman of the police committee of the Township Committee, and therefore chief of the Westfield police, has adopted a unique system for calling the police together at night. A switchboard has been placed in the local telephone exchange whereby the night operator can show light red lights in several different parts of the town, seeing which the police officers are expected to report at the exchange at once. One of the lights is placed on the top of the fire tower, and can be seen from almost every part of the town.

The Sound Money Club, which took so prominent a part in Westfield during the past campaign, has called a public meeting to be held in the town ship rooms Saturday evening, for the purpose of changing the name of the club to the Westfield Good Government Club and making it a permanent organization. The officers are Henry C. Sergeant, president; W. G. Dela mater, vice president; George B. Dickerson, secretary; John H. Pecheon, financial secretary.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Nov. 14th—Quite a number from neighboring families attended the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dayton, of Piscataway.

Chrysanthemums have bloomed in abundance and make a very pretty showing in some of the yards around town.

Isaac Randolph, of Elizabeth, was in town yesterday.

Hunters are frequently seen around the village.

Supt. Cathers visited our schools yesterday.

RECEIVER FOR COMPANY.

Business of the Naylor Paint, Color and Varnish Concern is in a Bad Way.

On the application of Lawyer J. P. Powers, representing the stockholders and creditors, F. C. Jennings, of this city, was appointed receiver for the Naylor Paint, Color and Varnish Company by the Court of Chancery Monday. The company's plant is located on Rock avenue, near Front street. The business of the concern has been falling off lately and the creditors are demanding a settlement of their affairs. No schedule of assets and liabilities has yet been made.

Church Wedding Today.

One of the prettiest church weddings of the season will take place this afternoon in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church when Miss Gertrude Walz, daughter of Ernest L. Walz, of 302 LaGrande avenue, and John Forbes Innerarity, of New York, will be married. The ceremony will take place at 5 o'clock.

Here's Society News.

There is a persistant rumor current in society circles that the announcement is soon to be made of the engagement of one of Plainfield's fairest daughters to a titled nobleman from Europe.

—If the remedies you have tried fail to cure your headaches, they are probably caused by eye-strain, in which case scientifically fitted glasses will correct the trouble. Stiles & Co., eye specialist at 107 East Front street, tomorrow, Thursday; hours 10:30 to 4

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

Josephine Sabel, who will be seen at Music Hall tomorrow night in her new play "The Soldier's Queen," has a justly deserved title. This is substantiated by the statement of a well-known army officer. It has become a part of our States History that at the capture and occupation of Santiago, during the recent Spanish-American War, our brave troupe sang in unison the popular air "A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," made famous by Josephine Sabel. Immediately an enterprising manager, grasping the popularity of the title and the chic little actress which it qualified, produced a play entitled "The Soldier's Queen," with Miss Sabel in the title role. A vagrant private, Will U. Eat, in reality a Secret Service Detective, furnishes the comedy for the play, and Willie Wheeles, a Washington Society fop, has troubles of his own as the garrison try to make a real soldier of him. The story holds much pathos, and many dramatic situations, as well as being funny. The company includes Schilzonyi's famous Hungarian Boys Band, who have met with so much success in America.

Amy Stone's Little Tots, a new juvenile organization, appears at Music Hall Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee, in "Uncle Tom's Cabin." All the characters in this world renowned play will be impersonated by children between the ages of 4 and 12 years. These juvenile artists will appear as actors, actresses, dancers, vocalists, acrobats, comedians, cake walkers, specialists, recitationists and musicians. Being the first time on record of children sustaining all the requirements of this great drama. Mrs. Amy Stone, the instructrees of this combination of juvenile artists who has brought this entertainment to a marvelous degree of perfection, has received from the press of Newark where her dramatic school is located, and from many other cities, wonderful praise for the reading, punctuation and artistic development of these children, whose ages range from four to twelve years of age. It would be of interest to heads of families to witness this performance, as it would convince them to what extent children can be made public speakers.

Another all-star feature programme is being given at Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre this week. With the performances continuous from 12:30 to 11 p. m. and the prices so popular, 15, 25 and 50c., there is little wonder that Proctor's is the favorite vaudeville theatre of the great shopping district of New York city. John C. Rice and Sally Cohen, favorite comedy artists, will appear in "The Kleptomaniacs," a very funny farce. Chas. T. Aldrich, the tramp juggler, has a very laughable burlesque on Ching Ling Foo. Others are Bunth and Rudd Co., European grotesques; Jas. J. Morton, with his rag time monologue; Canfield and Carleton, in the farcical sketch, "The Hoodoo;" LaPetite Elsie, a miniature Cissie Loftus; Smith, Doty and Coe, musical artists; Belle Hathaway's baboons and monkeys, furiously funny; three Westons, musical comedy, and a dozen more.

A very gentlemanly salesman who travels in the interest of the celebrated Spenserian Pens says of Ripans Tabules that he has used them for two or three years and never leaves the town he travels in has started with them while on the road. He relates one experience that was of assistance rather than otherwise. An elderly lady in the train appeared to be suffering from some nervous disorder and was very uncomfortable, indeed so that she excited his sympathy. He thereupon offered his services and induced her to swallow a Ripans Tabule. The effect was so helpful and immediate and the lady was so grateful that they were led to converse upon the extraordinary merits of the Tabules, and from that conversation grew a friendship which has been a source of much pleasure to our salesman acquaintance. The lady has a summer home on Lake Geneva, in Wisconsin, and more than one of our friend's friends has been invited to spend a Sunday there, all of which came from his knowledge and appreciation of the merits of Ripans Tabules. "I would no sooner," he says, "think of going on the road without them than I would of leaving my sample case behind. I NEVER go without them."

THE UP TO DATE MARTYR.

Tortures Endured by the Fashionable Woman.

What's the use of talking about the tortures of the inquisition and speaking of the dark ages? To be sure we are supposed to live in enlightened and progressive times. But are tortures extinct? I for one say no.

Dame Fashion is the most cruel and exacting of tyrants. No Nero or Caligula could be more despotic. Fashion says that a certain thing must be, and it is, regardless of the suffering and agony of her subjects. They go through life with their strength and energies crippled and their bodies weighed down by her merciless devices, while she merely laughs and puts her mind to fresh inventions. And who are her victims—strong men? No—frail women and even little children, working women, too, with their worries and troubles, and she adds furrows to the cheeks of the fairest and lines of care around the eyes of the already overburdened.

A terrible picture, you say? And I am exaggerating? We shall see.

Let us suppose we are in the year 2000 and present at an exhibition of instruments of torture, like the Nuremberg collection, for instance. Step up, ladies and gentlemen, and inspect!

What is this ungainly band stitched and stiffened with many bones and extending at both ends in two high points?

That, my dear, madam, was actually intended to be worn around the neck, and those high and particularly cruel points were designed to rise just back of the ears, preventing any chance of the head's being thrown back. Day after day the victim choked in one of these until her neck was scraped raw and the back of her head was one ache. Iron collar? No, but it might have been. The material was the only difference. The suffering was even greater.

And this heavy load of velvet, weighing several pounds and fastened to the lower forehead of the wax figure?

That, my friends, was the tilted hat.

A hat—that monstrosity? Why, in what manner could it possibly have kept off the sun?

In the dark ages of 1900 hats were not expected to do anything of the sort. They were merely invented for torture. See, this was designed to prevent the victim's looking upward. Worn in conjunction with the choking collar it was most effective.

Your eyes fill with pity. Ah, well they may! But this is not all. Remove the hat and see this protruding wad of—hair? Alas, no! The women of 1900 were compelled to resort to all sorts of remedies to keep from getting bald. No, this was a rat— Calm yourself, madam; I don't mean the real article. This was simply a wad of mere rubbish and artificial hair, designed to give a bulging appearance to the front and sides of the head. Just the opposite from the flat head Indians, you say? Yes, but in the same order of barbarity.

Is this an instrument of warfare, this ornamented leather band, with a leather weight at each end?

It might have been, I admit, but it was not intended as such. It was a belt.

A belt? That tiny thing?

Take my word. It was a belt, and those leaden coins sewed into the lining were to keep it down in front.

But these weights must have dragged, and it is not natural for a belt to stay down in front.

That made no difference in 1900.

THE FASHIONABLE WOMAN.

What is this bag stuffed hard with hair and ornamented with two long strings?

That was called the bustle and was a torture designed especially to give the backache. It was never known to fail.

Ah! Ah!

No wonder you cry out as you gaze on this picture. It is a fashion plate of the time. In it you see the victim fully apparelled. Yards and yards of cloth wind themselves around her feet and conspire to trip her up, her shoes are made with high, narrow blocks, raising the heel and sending all the weight on her long suffering toes, which are incased in the tightest of coverings. It is a cold January day, snowing, as you perceive, and yet she wears a very short jacket reaching only to the waist line. This was considered ultra elegant in 1900. Her face, lest she should see too plainly, is shrouded by a transparent piece of cloth covered with large dots. Over this comes another arrangement of a material called chiffon. You will notice that her hands are struggling to hold a purse, a pocket handkerchief, a bunch of flowers, a box of candy and a book. Remember also that she has no pocket and that she is obliged to hold up the train of her skirt. As for her waist—

How could human beings get themselves into such a shape?

S-sh! Say no more! I will show you our most valued antiquity, the only one of its kind in existence—a corset. This, ladies and gentlemen, was the latest thing in 1900. The upper part was made of cloth, boned and steeled, but from the waist over the hips and in some cases reaching almost to the knees it was of the strongest elastic webbing, which fitted like a coat of mail. How one moved, lived, breathed, in such an apparatus is a mystery. See, the victim was tied in by means of these strings and tied in so tightly that, incredible as it may seem, these ends almost met!

What could have been the crime for which this awful contrivance was a punishment?

Ah, that is buried in the dark past! No one has ever told, but there is no doubt that it must have been horrible beyond degree. MAUD ROBINSON.

MAIDS OF HONOR.

Duties of the Damsels Who Wait on the Queen.

Few Americans know anything about the duties of a maid of honor—I mean a maid of honor to royalty—and the prevailing impression among these few is that the maids are content to wait upon the queen all their lives and bask in the sunshine of her royal presence without thought of man or marriage—in other words, that the maids are old maids. The foundation for this popular belief no doubt arises from the strict rules to which the maids are obliged to submit while on duty. Perhaps these restrictions are a remnant of the old bad days of the Stuarts or the vulgar times of the early Hanoverians, but there is no doubt that the maids are very sharply looked after. No male, not even a male relation, can obtain admission to the suit of apartments allotted to these young ladies. However, their month's term of service comes only three times a year, so the rest of the time they may be as gay as they please. Indeed a maid of honor has every chance of marrying well, and there are only one or two who have served more than ten years.

The salary is £300, and the duties are very light, consisting mainly in waiting on the queen and seeing to the comfort of royal visitors. No doubt in the early days of her majesty's married life the maids had a hard time of it, when, except by her command, they were not allowed to sit in the presence of the prince consort or address any remark to him. Chivalry had so far gone that the maids of honor were expected to open the door for him, which is sad to think of. But the hardest thing the queen ever had to do was to get people to recognize her husband's position.

There are eight maids of honor, and, although they are not all peers' daughters, they have either a peer for grandfather or a peeress or a daughter of a peer for grandmother. They are all entitled to be called "honorable." It is useless to say that the position is exalted and one eagerly sought after.

Dress Albums.

London women have a new fad which may be imitated in this country, the dress album. This consists of a large blank book in which are pasted pieces of every gown bought by the owner, the date of its purchase, the first time worn and whatever special incidents may be connected with it. It might add to the interest to paste on the opposite sheet the dressmaker's bills, which often show genius of such a high inventive order. Anything to kill time!

America Leads World in Railroad Building

An End of the Century Study in the Development of Transportation Facilities

WONDERFUL as the nineteenth century has been, in no other line has such progress been shown as in the employment of steam power to the transportation problem. The industry of railroad building in all lands is less than three-fourths of a century old. In this country even as late as 1830 the railroad mileage of America could almost be counted upon one's fingers, and that would include not only steam roads, but those on which the motive power was horses and mules as well. The first railway in this country was constructed in 1825, at one of the granit quarries at Quincy, Mass., and connected that town with Milton. It was only two or three miles long, and was operated by horse power. Some months later a similar road, about nine miles long, was operated from the coal mines of Mauch Chunk, Pa., to the Lehigh river.

It was not until the year 1829 that the country could boast of a railway locomotive. Up to that time all overland journeying was done by means of the stage coach, and was long and laborious.

Although we have far outdistanced all foreign countries in the manufacture of locomotives, to England must be given the credit for its invention. At New York city, three locomotives, shipped from England, were unloaded in May, 1829, but none of these were made by George Stephenson, whose locomotive, the Rocket, caused such a sensation in that country some months after. One of these was taken to Honesdale, Pa., where it ran between that city and Prompton, in the service of the canal company. This was the first locomotive used in the United States. The engineer was who died in 1890.

THE FIRST LOCOMOTIVE EXPLOSION IN AMERICA.

To the Baltimore & Ohio belongs the honor of building the first passenger railway in America, finished in 1830, which ran between Baltimore and the Point of Rock, and it was on this line that Peter Cooper's famous engine first ran. Before this time no other than horse power was thought of in the passenger service, but Cooper had finally persuaded the managers of the road to give his engine, called the Tom Thumb, a trial. It was constructed after his own plans, and pulled a carload of passengers at the rate of 15 to 18 miles an hour, marvelous speed at that time. That was the first American-built locomotive, and that was the first trip made by one.

A little later in the same year the South Carolina railroad was built, running between Charleston and Hamburg, a distance of 136 miles. This railroad was the first ever built with the design of using steam as its motive power, and also the first that ran regularly in the United States. It was also in this year (1830) that the first railway line in England was opened, the Liverpool & Manchester railway.

It was on the South Carolina railroad, in 1831, that the first locomotive explosion in the United States occurred, when a negro fireman, to save himself work, tied down the safety valve, with disastrous effects. The negro was killed and the engineer badly scalded.

There was practically a new era in railroad building opened when the Hudson River railroad, running from New York to Albany, was completed in 1851. No line of any length had been before attempted, and its success seemed to stimulate railroad building all over the country.

When we think of our lightning mail service of to-day, when a letter can travel from the Atlantic across the continent to the Pacific in about four days, and then consider the primitive pony express service of about 40 years ago, the advances made certainly seem marvelous. The first overland mail from San Francisco by this service reached St. Louis October 9, 1858, taking almost 25 days in the journey.

The completion of the Union Pacific, in 1869, marks the final epoch in railroad building, and on July 24, 1870, the first through car from the Pacific reached New York. A wonderful engineering feat is at present in course of construction. It is the Siberian railway, running from St. Petersburg through the steppes of Siberia, throught northern China to Vladivostock. When completed it will be more than 5,000 miles long, and the longest continuous line in existence.

In writing of the progress made in American railroading, a brief comparison with foreign countries, of mileage and other equipment at the present time may not be uninteresting.

The total mileage of the world in 1897, the latest year for which reliable figures are obtainable, amounted to 454,730 miles, over two-fifths of which was in the United States. The total mileage in 1899 amounted to 189,295 miles, over 60,000 miles more than the combined mileage of five of the leading railroading countries of the rest of the world, Germany, France, Russia (in Europe), Great Britain and British India.

From this it would seem that the United States far outclassed any other country in this industry, but other facts must be taken into consideration in figuring the relative importance of railways, such as amount of equipment, in way of engines and cars, number of trains run, number of passengers and amount of freight carried. When all these features are considered we have not such a commanding lead.

In the number of locomotives the United States is first, with 36,746, in 1899, to her credit. Great Britain is next, with 19,602, or a little over one-half. In this, though, the disparity is greater than it seems, the horse power of the American engine averaging much higher than the British. Then, too, England has few of the massive, high-power locomotives so much in evidence in this country in recent years.

The United States has an enormous lead in number of freight cars in use, but stands only third in the list in number of passenger, the figures of the former being: United States, 1,284,807; Great Britain, 656,735, or about one-half; France ranks third with Germany fourth. Besides leading in number, the capacity of the American car is much larger than the European, averaging three to four times that of the English "goods wagon." In number of coaches, Great Britain has 62,252; Germany, 34,590, to 33,893 of the United States. Although with little over half the number of English coaches, we are probably able to carry a larger number of passengers, as the capacity of the modern American article is from 30 to 50 per cent. more than the old-fashioned European coach. American methods in the carrying line have been introduced in England, and have proven very popular with the people.

In number of passengers carried yearly, England leads by a considerable margin, carrying about 1,062,911,000, to the United States' 698,342,000; Germany being a close third. After reading this we wonder how it is that such a small country, in point of area, will carry more passengers annually than we do. This may be partly explained away by the fact that a considerable portion of the British traffic is suburban, many workmen living far from the business districts of the large cities, and using the trains in going to and from their work. It is also known that Americans, as a whole, travel greater distances, and if the figures for the total number of miles traveled could be obtained we would no doubt lead. As the leading freight-carrying country we have no rival, carrying annually 913,000,000 tons to 437,000,000 of Great Britain, and 276,000,000 of Germany.

The foregoing facts will serve to briefly illustrate the wonderful advances made in railroading since the invention of the first locomotive, and we can hardly look for the same rate of progress in the future. The limit seems almost to have been reached.

HISTORIC OLD TOWN.

Plymouth, Mass., Occupies Unique Place in American Annals.

Pilgrim Fathers Landed on a Great Bowlder Near Its Site—Part of the Old Rock Still in Evidence.

[Special Plymouth (Mass.) Letter.]

TRAVELERS returning from abroad, with mossy old titles acquired by the outlay of good, new American dollars, receive more or less of the sympathy of all in their lamentations that these United States are not old enough to have produced and preserved the historical monuments of an ancient civilization.

For all the prestige which the past can confer upon us we are compelled to look to New England, which carries its almost 300 years with a quite proper dignity, equal in every respect to that of the mother country, for, however cosmopolitan the remainder of the nation has become the six little states down here in the northeast corner still remain undeniably British in most essentials. Here and in Virginia the beginnings of our history were made. Probably no national relic is more revered than Plymouth Rock, which treasure seekers bore away in small pieces, until, to preserve the remainder, it was thought necessary to unite the upper part, which had been removed, to the base and fence the whole away from its too ardent admirers. About the time of the beginning of the revolutionary war this migratory piece, which had become detached, was placed in the town square and served as a stage from which stirring revolutionary speeches were made. On July 4, 1834, it was taken to Pilgrim hall, in front of which it was set up. Here it remained until 1880, when it was restored to its original foundation and inclosed with a substantial protection from both weather and vandalism. Its present setting, in the town of Plymouth, with its 10,000 inhabitants, riding on electric railways and reading their daily news by the aid of electric lights; its banks, hotels, churches, schools, public library and crowds of summer visitors, when contrasted with its surroundings of 1620, proves that we have been making history at quite a rapid pace.

On December 21, 1620, when the feet of the Pilgrim fathers first tracked Plymouth rock (and tradition has it that a Pilgrim mother was the first one ashore) the landscape on all sides must have presented an appalling appearance. No hope of cheer and shelter until they were able to produce them amid the snows of winter. The unmarried were distributed among the several families, and it was found that but 19 buildings were needed. But the erection of houses in merciless weather on the short winter days was trying work, and who wonders that half the little band died before the winter was over, as truly martyrs to their convictions as many who are personally more renowned. They were buried on Cole's hill, and in the spring corn was planted on their leveled graves, that the Indians might not discover how the numbers of the colony had been decimated.

Everyone knows that religious opinion, united to the indomitable English spirit, was what brought the passengers of the Mayflower to America and sustained them in the course they had marked out. Near the close of Elizabeth's reign, in a northern county of England, a congregation of Separatists was formed under two respectable clergymen, Robinson and Brewster. They more closely resembled the Congregationalists of to-day than did the Puritans proper. King James saw fit to take such measures regarding them that an attempt to exercise their religion at home seemed vain. As toleration was first publicly sanctioned by law in Holland, with much difficulty and hardship the Separatists made their escape to that country, where they found protection and remained 11 years unmolested and even respected. But naturalization never sat well upon them. Their [illegible] agriculture was more congenial to their taste than the mechanical arts, by which alone they could earn a subsistence among the Dutch.

Hence they turned their eyes to this transatlantic region where they would not merely enjoy toleration, but might form a society founded on their favorite plan of church government. They sailed from Delfthaven on July 11, 1620, intending to establish a colony near the Hudson river, but their ship made land farther north—near Cape Cod, in 68 days. They coasted along inside the cape, sending ashore several exploring parties under Miles Standish. They neared Manomet headland, and, under snow and rain, sailed across the bay. In the darkness they made a landing on Clark's island, dried their stores on the next day, Saturday, and rested on Sunday. On Monday, with every eye scanning the shore, they sighted the steep, sandy cliff, Cole's hill, at whose foot they alighted on a great wave-washed bowlder. They advanced seven or eight miles without seeing any Indians, and were highly pleased with their surroundings—a commodious harbor, a land well watered and wooded, vines, berries and fine land for corn. On the 29th the vessel was brought around and their home christened "New Plymouth." The same number came ashore as had embarked, for one had died and one had been born on the voyage. On March 3 a south wind brought gladness to their hearts. The weather became mild, the woods were musical with bird songs, the invalids recovered, and many lived to a good old age. As one now travels the town square, with its noble old elms, the site of the first "meeting house," one reaches "Burial hill," where the bodies of those who survived the first winter lie beside those of their descendants. Here tablets of marble have been erected to mark the locations of the old fort and watch tower.

From the hill a most charming view may be obtained. The blue heights of Manomet hills shut in the horizon on the right, other hills are on the left, and, far out, Clark's island, Saquish and the two lighthouses of Gurnet. More beautiful scenery can scarcely be imagined than that of Plymouth and its vicinity in summer.

One of the chief places sought by visitors is the grave of Miles Standish, at Duxbury, near Plymouth. A literature that comes nearer to our hearts than history will never allow his name to be forgotten. Tradition informs us that he was in every way constituted to be a leader of men. Energetic, authoritative, domineering, tender hearted, well informed, he was the leading spirit in the most hazardous enterprises. His will and sword are among the most interesting relics to be seen in Pilgrim hall, which was erected in 1824, rebuilt in 1880, and contains the town's historical treasures, among which are several well-known paintings and the records of the colony. In the fall of 1621 a vessel arrived at New Plymouth with 35 settlers, destitute of provisions, and the crew had to be provided with food for the return voyage. Consequently, in the winter, the colonists were reduced to a half allowance of corn daily, then to five kernels apiece, afterwards to entire want.

Destitute of live stock, they depended wholly upon wild animals Until May, 1622, fowl abounded; afterwards there were merely fish, which the settlers, lacking nets, were unable to catch. They were preserved from actual starvation by feeding on shell fish collected among the rocks. They were surprised to find the Indians, on the whole, rather friendly in the early days of the colony. On May 12, 1621, Edward Winslow and Susanna White figured in the first wedding celebration at Plymouth. On June 1, of the same year, a patent issued in the name of John Pierce and his associates granted the territory of New Plymouth to the colonists. Others were afterwards granted. Later serious trouble arose with the Indians, the worst of which was known as the King Philip's war. In 1631 corn was legal tender, and in 1635 musket balls passed as farthings. The colonies of Plymouth and Massachusetts Bay were united in 1692 by a charter of William and Mary. The first governor was Sir William Phipps. From this time the administration of affairs became a national matter, but Plymouth as a town has grown slowly and steadily in a conservative sort of way. While formerly a fishing point, now seven or eight millions of dollars are made there yearly in manufactures.

MILES STANDISH MONUMENT.

But its chief attraction to us today, as it was to the Pilgrim fathers nearly 300 years ago, is the time-worn old bowlder, Plymouth Rock.

BABBITT WILL FIGHT.

Other Colored Men Pleaded Guilty to Gambling and Were Fined From $4 to $6 Each.

Special Officer "Jim" Babbitt was the only member of the Union Colored Republican Club who decided to fight the charge of the city of keeping a gambling den. The other six when arraigned before City Judge Runyon this morning entered pleas of guilty and were sentenced at once to fines of varying amounts.

It will be remembered that the police obtained evidence at the time of the arrest of Gilbert Thompson, who sliced Ellsworth Cuff's cheek, which they stated proved that a gambling den had been conducted at the rooms of the Union Club. As members of the club, Babbitt and six others were arrested on the charge of conducting a gambling house.

Their hearing was set for this morning. Babbitt pleaded not guilty and his trial was set down for next Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

Ellsworth Cuff, David Martin and Fred Taylor were given their choice between a fine of $6 or twenty days in jail. They will all probably pay. Oscar TenEyck, "Pop" Anderson and Wm. Davies were given their choice between a fine of $4 or fifteen days in jail. They also expect to settle.

JAPAN MISSIONARY WORK.

Misses Milliken and Thompson Say It is a Good Field to Work in.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Crescent Avenue church was held yesterday afternoon in the chapel, and was very largely attended. Mrs. Milliken, president of the society, was in charge. The members and their friends who were present had the pleasure of listening to two excellent addresses by returned missionaries.

Miss Elizabeth Milliken, of Tokio, Japan, related in an interesting story of the kindly feeling the Japanese have for the American missionaries. Miss Milliken spoke of some educational laws that had been enacted in Japan which do not work for the best interests of the missionary cause, but she expressed the hope that the laws would soon be changed. Miss Milliken represents the Presbyterian Board for Foreign Missions in Japan.

The next speaker was Miss Thompson, who represents the Board of Foreign Missions of the Dutch Reformed church, in Yokohama, Japan, and her remarks were filled with incidents regarding the affect that the Christian teaching is having upon the children of Japan. She reported that a wonderful work was being accomplished among the children and many are being won to Christ.

After the addresses a missionary tea was served. Mrs. George P. Mellick was in charge, assisted by a number of the young women of the society. An informal social time was enjoyed and all had an opportunity of meeting the missionaries.

Mrs. Gertrude L. Watts, of Washington, D. C., has been visiting her brother, H. J. Talford, of 45 Lincoln place.

Synopsis of Mrs. Hall's Report.

In Monday's issue of the New York Tribune is given the report on education made by Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, chairman of that department of the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Hall states that the main efforts of the department have been devoted to important changes in the school laws of New Jersey by a revision approved last spring and by interesting the women of the State in them. As a member of the legislative department of the Federation, Mrs. Hall with Mrs. Emily E. Williamson, president of the organization, attended the hearing accorded those interested in the new bill at the State Capitol in Trenton and made addresses advocating its passage. Mrs. Hall recommends that every club procure a copy of this new law by writing to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Disfigured a Man's Face.

Edward Bergen came up before City Judge Runyon this morning, charged with disfiguring the face of Charles Ramsberger. There was some trouble between the two men and Ramsberger went to the other's house Saturday evening to apologize. Before Ramsberger had a chance to say anything, Bergen began operations. They were concluded in the street. Bergen was fined $10.

Lecture by Rev. Mr. Appleton.

Rev. Floyd Appleton, curate of Grace P. E. church, will give an illustrated lecture in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church Monday evening, Nov. 19th, at 8 o'clock, on the Oberammergau Passion Play. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the Woman's Exchange.

Full of Interest.

The talk given by Thomas F. Graham, the Scotch evangelist, at the Y. M. C. A., last evening, was full of interest, and there was an encouraging increase in the attendance at the meeting. Mr. Graham will give a short address this evening at 9:15. All men are invited.

ROD AND GUN.

J. A. Smith and Dr. D. C. Adams have returned from a successful hunting trip on their preserve in Virginia.

James Babbitt, a famous hunter, shot two fine ducks in Green brook near the sewage beds yesterday afternoon. There was a third, a drake, but Jim was not quick enough to capture him. J. Hervey Doane, of Park avenue, purchased the game from Babbitt.

MISTAKE MADE IN REPORTING CENSUS FIGURES FOR BOROUGH.

District No. 86 Enumerated Only 2,751, Which Makes Population of the Borough 5,009.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, Nov. 14.—Census Superintendent corrects the figures for North Plainfield borough as follows: District No. 86, 2,751; district No. 87, 2,258; total for borough, 5 009. The figures as furnished The Daily Press yesterday were on his authority, but his clerk made a mistake in 1,000 in transcribing the figures for District No. 86. The population of North Plainfield township, outside of the borough, is 654.

W. Warren Rowley, of the borough, who enumerated District No. 86 in the census of North Plainfield, called at The Daily Press office this morning and stated that an error of 1 000 had been made in reporting the number of inhabitants in that district, as given by The Press yesterday.

The figures given by this paper were 3,751, and were obtained through Superintendent Tunis, of New Brunswick. Mr. Rowley says that his enumeration made 2,751. Such being the case, the population of the borough is 5,009, instead of 6,009 as announced yesterday. This change makes the population of Greater Plainfield 20,377.

This correction reduces the percentage of increase in North Plainfield for the past five years to eighteen per cent. According to the figures given in yesterday's Press the apparent increase was 41 5.

MARRIED FIFTY YEARS.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Dayton Last Night Celebrated Golden Anniversary of Their Wedding.

Just fifty years ago yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Dayton, of Piscataway, were married in the residence where they now reside by Rev. Mr. Jones, the then pastor of the Stelton church. In honor of the event about eighty of their friends and relatives assembled at their home last evening to assist them in celebrating the occasion in an appropriate way. The gathering was a most remarkable one, inasmuch as there were eight people present whose combined ages averaged 78 years, the oldest being Rev. Dr. Searles, who is 85. In spite of his age the Doctor delivered an excellent address, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

A second address was made by Rev. W. T. Dorwin, the present pastor of the Stelton Baptist church. Another remarkable fact in regard to the gathering was the presence of eleven witnesses of the wedding. They were William Drake, Mrs. Melvina Armstrong, Miss Sarah Dayton, Mr. and Mrs. George Drake, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Dayton, Mefford Runyon, Mrs. E. D Boice, Mrs. Peter Benward and S. R Dayton. The evening passed all too quickly and it was with many regrets that the assembled guests took leave of the venerable couple, wishing them many happy returns.

In honor of the occasion Mr. and Mrs. Dayton were presented with a substantial purse of gold contributed by all present.

Beside those already mentioned there were guests from Jersey City, Newark, Bound Brook, New Brunswick, Dunellen and this city. Some of those present were Mufford Runyon and family, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Benward, Mrs. Jesse Dayton, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Garretson, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Giddis, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Boice, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Hand, Mrs. Bittle, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Dayton, Charles F. Dayton, Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Dayton, Mr. and Mrs. Zeptha Runyon, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Drake, Miss Gertrude Runyon, Mr. and Mrs. George Drake, William F. Walker, John Morris, Mr. and Mrs. L. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morris, Mr. and Mrs Simeon Morris, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Boice, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Drake, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Drake, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lant, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. George Bunting, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Smalley, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Letson, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Compton, Benjamin Letson, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Dayton, Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Nelson, Mrs. Brantingham and the Misses Mattie Covert, Julia Drake, Jennie Morris, and Miss Fanny Clark who was the youngest in the company.

Census Returns.

The estimated census figures for Camden, Trenton, Elizabeth, Passaic, Bayonne and Atlantic City, sent out by the Census Bureau late Saturday, have been supplemented by the corrected returns, which are as follows:

Trenton	73,307
Elizabeth	52,130
Bayonne	32,722
Atlantic City	27,838
Passaic	27,777

To Address King's Daughters.

Mrs. Margaret Bottome, president of the United Council of The King's Daughters and Sons, will address the King's Daughters and their friends, Tuesday afternoon, November 20th, at 3 o'clock, in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church. All are cordially invited.

AIDING WORK OF TEACHERS.

Second of a Series of Sunday-school Institutes Held in Grace M. E. Church Last Night.

The Plainfield Sunday school Union held the second of a series of institutes in Grace M. E. church last evening, and there was a large attendance of workers. There were twelve Sunday-schools represented by their superintendents and teachers, and a highly interesting and helpful programme was presented. The song service which opened the meeting was in charge of Superintendent John Valiant, of Grace M. E. Sunday-school, and was conducted by the pastor, Rev. G. W. Gardner.

Mrs. Alonzo Pettit, of Elizabeth, then gave a talk on primary and junior work. She introduced many new ideas relating to this work, all of which proved helpful. The next part on the programme was devoted to a discussion of the home department, and experiences in this work were given by Miss Laura J. Runyon, of the First Baptist church; Mrs. F. C. Langhorne, of the Crescent Avenue church, and Miss Florence G. Hawkins, of the Park Avenue Baptist church. Mrs. Langhorne was not present, but her experiences were read as prepared by herself. All the experiences proved that the department is a good thing and is accomplishing much in interesting stay-at-homes in Sunday-school work.

The last part of the programme was devoted to pictorial teaching by Geo. O. Hall, superintendent of the primary department at Warren chapel. He made use of the blackboard and illustrated in an interesting manner the best way to instruct children and the older people. He related his experience in New York as a teacher among the Italians and other nationalities. This concluded the programme and an informal social time followed. It is quite likely that the third institute will be held at Hope Memorial chapel in the near future.

FEMININE EYES ON BALLOT.

Eminent Suffragists at New Jersey Society's Meeting.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Moorestown, Nov. 14—The tenth annual convention of the New Jersey Woman's Suffrage Association opened here yesterday. Women from all over this and other States are here and are giving this old, sleepy town such a talking as it never had before. They do not propose stopping at talk, but declare they are gaining in strength and expect soon to wield an influence at the polls. There are very much in earnest and withal sincere.

The speakers at yesterday's session were Miss S. W. Lippincott, president of the Morristown Association; Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, president of the State Association; Mrs. L. Lucretia Blankenburg, president of the Pennsylvania association; Mrs. L. Higbee Morris, Moorestown Woman's Christian Temperance Union; Mrs. Catherine B. Lippincott, Moorestown Grange; Mrs. W. J. Pullen, president of Camden Association; Dr. Calista V. Luther South Orange; Miss Mary Philbrook, Jersey City; president Legal Aid Society; Mrs. Mineola Graham Sexton, president of Orange Political Study Club.

Mrs. Carry Chapman Catt, president of the National Association, contributed to the closing resume of the sentiments expressed. She was the principal orator for the evening, when her subject was "The Ideal Republic." Mrs. Florence Howe Hall presided and introduced Mrs. Catt.

Enjoyable Surprise Party.

An enjoyable surprise party was given to Mrs. John R. Naylor, of East Third street, last evening, in honor of her fifty-sixth birthday anniversary. She and Mr. Naylor were out calling, when the guests including the relatives and friends took possession of the home, and then sent for the parents. Both were greatly surprised and it was some time before they realized what had happened. The affair was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Naylor's children and it was complete in every detail. The evening was passed in playing games, dancing, while a feature was the magic lantern views shown by Prof. Townley, of Westfield.

HANDSOME GOWNS WORN.

CEREMONY AT THE HOME OF THE BRIDE'S UNCLE.

She is a Favorite in Society and the Marriage Was Witnessed by Many Admiring Friends—Unique Service Was Used.

Miss Emma E. Schoonmaker and Clifford Whiting McGee were married last evening by Rev. Dr. Abbott E. Kittredge, pastor of the Madison Avenue Dutch Reformed church, New York, assisted by Rev. Herbert Welsh, of Middletown, Conn. The bride is the daughter of George Schoonmaker, of 1060 Central avenue, and is a young society favorite. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. McGee, of Orchard avenue, North Plainfield, and is a valued employe of the Standard Oil Company.

The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvanus L. Schoonmaker, 963 Central avenue, in the presence of the relatives and a host of friends of the contracting parties.

The bride, a pronounced brunette, wore a gown of heavy white peau de soie, en train, a duchesse lace yoke and a tulle veil. A diamond ornament fastened the veil. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. The maid of honor was Miss Gertrude Andrews, cousin of the bride. Her gown was of white Liberty satin, trimmed with cluny lace. She carried white chrysanthemums.

The bridemaids were Miss Louise Fisk, Miss Nancy Lawson, Miss Joanna Shepard and Miss Helen Bushnell, all of this city, and intimate friends of the bride. They were gowned alike in white Liberty silk over yellow, trimmed with cluny lace. Each carried bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums.

The arrangement of the ceremony was unique. It was performed on the staircase landing, which was profusely decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums. These were used to form an arbor, filling in the space overhead. The bow window at the head of the landing was also filled with chrysanthemums, adding to the general attractiveness. When the hour for the wedding arrived an orchestra, stationed in the rear of the lower hallway, announced the approach of the bridal party. The ushers led the procession. Then followed the bridemaids, maid-of-honor and the bride escorted by her father. They passed through the main hallway and ascending the staircase to the landing, met the groom and his brother, Harry McGee, the best man.

An improvised altar was arranged on the landing. It was here that the bride and groom stood while the service of the Episcopal church was performed. The bride was given away by her father, a ring being used in the ceremony. The responses by the bride and groom were given in clear tones and could be distinctly heard. After the ceremony the bridal party proceeded to the reception room, where Mr. and Mrs. McGee received the congratulation of the guests.

In the arrangement of the decorations chrysanthemums prevailed. A choice display of palms and potted plants were also conspicuous. The sun parlor was given up to the bridal party, and the wedding supper was served there. The room was decorated entirely in white, while a profusion of white chrysanthemums embellished the decorations. Throughout the house chrysanthemum, yellow and white, were used to good advantage, and added greatly to the scene of beauty.

While supper was being served to the bridal party in the sun parlor, individual courses were served at tables in the various rooms leading from the main hallway. The orchestra discoursed a programme of popular and classical selections, which gave added enjoyment and assisted in making this part of the affair a delightful one.

After supper the guests wended their way to the second floor where the wedding gifts were displayed. They consisted of bric a-brac, gold, silver, cut glass, oil paintings, furniture, and many other articles of great value and too numerous to mention.

Mr. and Mrs. McGee left the city later in the evening to enjoy an extended bridal trip. They were given a royal sendoff by the guests and they

DEMOCRATS WILL LOSE.

NEW CENSUS WILL MAKE ASSEMBLY STRONGER FOR REPUBLICANS.

Hunterdon and Warren Counties Will Each Lose One Assemblyman—Hudson and Passaic Will Gain Them.

It is figured out that as a result of the United States census the division of seats in the House of Assembly will not be as great as was expected. Hudson county will gain one and Passaic one. Hunterdon will lose one and so will Warren. The total population is 1,883,669. The number of Assemblymen is fixed at sixty. Each county must have at least one member.

An equal division would give one for each 31,394 inhabitants. Four counties—Cape May, Ocean, Salem and Sussex—have less than this number, so the fifty-six remaining seats are to be divided between the seventeen remaining counties. Essex fails to gain a new member, and Hudson thus exceeds Essex. For the last ten years each had eleven members.

Politically there is a gain of one for the Republicans. Warren and Hunterdon are Democratic counties. Thus two seats are lost to the Democrats, but one of them goes to Hudson, a Democratic county, while the other goes to Passaic, a Republican county, thus reducing the Democratic seats by one and increasing the probable Republican seats by one. Burlington county will retain two members, as it has 28 847 more than enough for one. Passaic gains its extra member by an excess of 29,626 over the four it now has. Hudson, Essex, Passaic and Bergen, the four counties nearest New York, will have just one-half of the total house, and, with Union, three more than the half. The Republicans are pretty sure to carry Essex, Passaic, Union, Camden, Mercer, Cape May, Ocean, Atlantic, Gloucester and Morris for some years to come, and thus retain possession of the lower House without Bergen, Salem and Somerset, which are almost sure Republican.

The census makes no change in the Senate, and each county has one member of that body whether its population is but 12,021, as in Cape May, or 368,048, as in Hudson, or 359,053, as in Essex.

BUSINESS MEN LUNCHED.

Eight Members of New York Produce Exchange Entertained by Messrs. Barrows and Andrews.

Eight members of the New York Produce Exchange were pleasantly entertained yesterday at the clubhouse of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club by Elliott T. Barrows, president of the Exchange, and Frederick H. Andrews vice-president. They arrived during the morning and after a round of the course were entertained at luncheon. In the afternoon another round was played. Mr. Wilson, champion of the Englewood Golf Club, was of the party and made his first round in 82. Mr. Daniels, of Montclair, Mr. Fetteroft, of the Crescent Club, and Mr. Moore, one of the crack golfers of the Knickerbocker Club, were in the party. The others were Messrs. Barber, Cott, Farrius and Englewood.

WAS A FAKE LANDLADY.

Man Duped by Woman Who Claimed to Own a House.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Nov. 15.—A new scheme for getting money under false pretences was successfully played here lately. Alexander F. May, a New York man, came here October 18th and rented half of a house at 255 First street, Elizabethport, in which to live with his family, he having secured a position in the Singer Sewing Machine Works. A woman who occupied the other part of the house informed him she was the owner and said the rent must be paid in advance. The man promptly paid and the woman gave him a receipt.

Last week two large moving vans drove from New York to Elizabethport with Mr. May's furniture. When they reached the house, to his astonishment he found another family occupying the apartments he had rented, while the alleged owner had disappeared. Then he learned that the property really belonged to Freeholder Owen Sullivan, of this city. There was nothing left for May to do but place his furniture in storage here until he could secure suitable rooms, and meanwhile he is boarding with his family at the Park Hotel, Elizabethport.

The woman who duped him has been traced to Richmond Hill, L. I., and steps will be taken to have her arrested.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS LOST TO COLLEGIANS.

Plainfield's Eleven Were Outplayed and Outweighed in Game With Rutgers.

GIRLS ON HAND TO CHEER.

BUT THEY COULDN'T SAVE THE DAY FOR THEIR FAVORITES.

High School Boys Went into the Game Considerably Weakened—Costly Errors Made—Score 35 to 0.

Outplayed and outweighed, the football eleven of the Plainfield High School lost to the team from the Rutgers Prep School yesterday afternoon by a score of 35 to 0. The game was played on Neilson Field, New Brunswick. A special trolley car carried the Plainfield team and four score enthusiasts of both sexes over to Brunswick and return.

Arrangements were made with the Brunswick Traction Company and one of that company's largest double-truck cars was at the North Avenue station at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. There were over fifty girls from the High School, chaperoned by two of the teachers, and a crowd of the boys. Everybody had a flag of the High School colors, red and blue, or a horn, and everybody was wildly enthusiastic. The car carried the party direct to Brunswick.

When Rutgers Prep and the High School met in this city several weeks ago, a tie game was played, the score being 6 to 6. The High School boys went into yesterday's game considerably weakened. The Prep School boys had been practicing hard for the game and made a far better showing than they did in Plainfield.

From the very start, it was evident that the Plainfield team was outclassed and the only question was as to the size of the score that the home team might roll up.

Rutgers Prep had the kick-off. Costly fumbles lost the ball for Plainfield and four minutes after the game started Kuehnle went over the line for the first touchdown. Pettit kicked the goal. Rutgers played much the stronger game although they fumbled several times. Luck ran in favor of the home team for a Prep School player got the ball on every fumble but one during the game.

Van Vechten and Green each scored touchdowns for the home team before the first half closed. Pettitt kicked both goals. The ball was in the hand of the winners most of the time and only twice were they held for downs.

In the second half, Ughetta was compelled to retire and Van Auken was put in at quarter. He lacked practice there and he did not show the best of judgment in running the team. He only gave Pond a chance to punt once but that punt was over fifty yards and way beyond the Rutgers backs.

After two minutes of play, Van Vechten ran from the centre of the field for a touchdown. The interference was excellent. Kuehnle and Hay scored touchdowns later in the half and Pettitt kicked two out of the three goals.

The teams lined up as follows:

PLAINFIELD HIGH.		RUTGERS PREP.
Monroe	right end	Cole
Meeker, Whitford	right tackle	Green
Seull	right guard	Woodruff
Cubberley	centre	Carleton
Denton	left guard	Hasbrouck
Van Auken, Meeker	left end	Nafey
Ughetta, VanAuken	quarterback	Pettitt
Hallock	right halfback	Kuehnle
Pond	fullback	Hay

Score—Rutgers Prep. 35; Plainfield High, 0. Touchdowns—Kuehnle, (2). VanVechten, (2), Green, Hay. Goals from touchdowns—Pettitt, (5). Referee—Hermnn Wrigh, of Amherst. Umpire—Harold Davis, of Plainfield. Timekeepers—A. B. Meredith, of Wesleyan, and J. E. Furguson, of Hamilton College.

A tired but still enthusiastic crowd reached this city shortly before 8 o'clock last evening after a lively trip humeward.

MISTAKE IN CENSUS FIGURES.

Hunterdon County Should Show a Gain Instead of a Loss.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, November 15.—The detailed schedule of the population of New Jersey, just given out by the census department at Washington, gives Hunterdon county a population of 34,507, as against 35,355 for 1890. Hunterdon county, according to this schedule, is the only county in New Jersey failing to show a gain over the census of 1890. There is reason to believe, however, that a mistake has been made in the footing up of the Hunterdon schedules, and that the county will really show a gain when the error has been corrected.

COUNTY'S POPULATION

ALL CITIES AND TOWNS GAINED SINCE 1890.

Total Increase in County Nearly 27,000—Interesting Comparisons With Census.

The Daily Press gives herewith the population in Union county by cities and towns, as shown by the recent United States census. These figures are not official, but it is believed are accurate.

The latest population of the county is 99,346, which is a gain of 26,986 over 1890, and of 13,942 over 1895.

The population by cities and towns for 1900, with interesting comparisons with figures of former years, is given in the following table:

	1900.	1890.	Gain.	Pop. 1885
Clark	374	367	7	384
Cranford	2854	1717	1137	2143
Elizabeth	52130	37764	14367	43834
Fanwood	1599	1305	294	1600
Linden	1022	....	....	....
Roselle	1612	2657*	657*	2428*
Westfield	4695	2739	1956	3813
New Providence	1034	839	195	934
Plainfield	13368	11267	4101	136.9
Rahway	7935	7105	830	7945
Springfield	1073	969	114	9 0
Summit	5295	3502	1693	4450
Union	4316	2849	1469	3412
Total	99346	62467	26379	85404

*Include Linden township and Roselle borough.

The township of Clark has gained 7 over the population of 1890, but it has lost 10 since the State census of 1895.

Rahway also shows 10 less than the population of 1895, but a gain of 830 since 1890. All the other places show very substantial growth since 1890 and also since 1895.

RICH BOY IS A RUNAWAY.

THOUGHT TO HAVE BEEN IN PLAINFIELD YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Called at the Home of Mrs. Henry Illisley and Asked for a Pair of Long Trousers.

Chief of Police Kiely notified the police of Philadelphia this morning that a boy supposed to be Amos Shallcross, aged thirteen years, son of Mrs. L. W. Shallcross, of 8704 Keystone avenue, Wissingmind, who has been missing from home since October 11th, was seen in this city yesterday afternoon.

A youngster bearing out the description of the missing lad called at the home of Mrs. Henry Illisley, of 1009 South Second street, at 4:30 yesterday afternoon, and asked her if she wouldn't give him a pair of long trousers. He gave as an excuse for the request that he was cold and without parents or home. When Mrs. Illisley tried to get him to come in the house he ran down the street. It is thought that he was in the company of a tramp. The boy's father died several years ago worth half a million dollars.

It is said that his son is worth over $100 000 in his own name, which he will secure when he becomes of age. Yesterday he wore a navy blue cheviot suit, knee trousers and light fedora hat. He has blue eyes and brown hair. The local police force have tried to get some additional trace of the missing boy, but have been unable to do so.

If any other Plainfielders have seen a boy of young Shallcross' description they are requested to notify Chief Kiely.

HYMEN IN SOMERVILLE.

Marriage of Miss L. Edna Terrill to Vincent A. Kreidler.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Somerville, Nov. 15—One of Somerville's popular belles, Miss L. Edna Terrill, and Vincent A. Kreidler, a leading photographer, of Easton, Pa., were united in marriage last night at 42 South street, Rev. Dr. Hodder, of New York, performing the ceremony. The bride wore a dress of white silk poplin, en train, trimmed with crepe de chene and pearls and carried a bouquet of white bridal roses. The maid-of-honor was Miss Laura M. Smith, of Elizabeth. The bridemaids were Miss Eva Terrill, of Rahway, and Grace M. Smith, of Elizabeth. The best man was Dr. J. R. Gibbs, Jr., of Somerville, and the ushers were Albert C. Nevins and Walter Crater, of Somerville.

After congratulations an elegant wedding supper was served, and soon after the happy couple departed on a wedding trip through the south. They will reside in Easton on their return. About 150 guests were present, a number being from Plainfield.

Medal for Labor Bureau.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Nov. 15—Chief Stainsby of the New Jersey Bureau of Labor and Vital Statistics, has been notified that the Bureau was awarded a silver medal at the Paris Exposition for a compilation of the history of labor legislation of this State, together with the official methods of presenting the data of the department.

MANY WOULD LIKE TO SEE DR. JENKINS MAYOR

Lusty Boom in Favor of the Popular Physician Has Developed.

MR. BARROWS MENTIONED.

COUNCILMAN BUCKLE STILL FAVORED IN FIRST AND FOURTH WARDS.

Rumored That There will be a Fight in the Republican Primary in the Second Ward Between Rival Factions.

As far as the choice of a Republican nominee for Mayor is concerned, the situation remains unchanged. Former Mayor C. J. Fisk absolutely refuses to stand and Councilman J. F. Buckle seems to be the favorite of the First and Fourth wards. The statement has been made that Former Councilman Elliot T. Barrows would not run, but some of his friends believe that he is the logical candidate and that he will accept should the nomination come to him unanimonsly. A boom of fair proportions in favor of Dr. O. L. Jenkins has appeared. It finds greater favor in the Third ward than does the candidacy of Mr. Buckle.

Unless an opposition ticket suddenly appears on the field the four ward Councilmen, Messrs. Tolles, Mellick, Coriell and Randolph, will be renominated by the Republicans in their respective wards. The bitter factional fights, which have so stirred things in the First ward for the past year, are not likely to be repeated at Monday evening's Republican primary. The only place where any fight appears in sight is in the Second ward, where, it is rumored, there will be more than one ticket in the field. The opposition in the Second has kept very quiet, and the only sign of a contest is the report that another ticket will be presented at the primary.

Monday evening's primaries will be conducted under the Roger Murray system, and will open at 5 o'clock and continue until 9. The business meetings will be held at 8. All candidates, to be voted for at the primaries, must have their names filed with the ward clerks by Saturday evening.

IN A TRUST.

Bloodgood Mills, Employing 300 Men, Will be Closed Down, it is Said.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, Nov. 15—It is rumored here today that the Bloodgood Mills at Picton, which employ about three hundred men and which has been working night and day for several months, has gone into the Felt Trust and that the mills will be closed down, the trust having decided to make all their goods in another State. A Press reporter tried to confirm the rumor at the mills but could find no one that would express himself.

Poorest Dressed Won a Prize.

Last night's attendance at the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church fair was the largest of any this week and the entertainment part of the programme was greatly enjoyed. It was in the form of a "Ragamuffin" party. Those who took part in it had to be dressed in rags and the ones looking the most dilapidated secured a prize. The winners and prizes were: Miss Coles, a handsome berry set; Mrs. Laine, a set of plates; Mrs. Hooper, a card receiver. This evening a concert and broom drill will be given by the children of the Sunday-school, under the direction Mrs. E. B. Maynard, assisted by Miss Ida Mitchell. It promises to be very entertaining. The affair will be concluded tomorrow night.

A Montclair Wedding.

A marriage of considerable interest will take place next Tuesday at the home of the bride in Montclair, when Miss Kate Schoonmaker will be married to Thomas Russell, of New York. Miss Schoonmaker is related to the family of that name that resides in this city. She and her finance were guests at the wedding of Miss Emma E. Schoonmaker and Clifford Whiting McGee last evening.

The Village Choir.

Jed Basset's village choir, of Punkin Ridge, will rehearse in the Monroe Avenue church tomorrow night. Those who heard the choir at a previous rehearsal have never forgotten the quaint characters and ancient songs, and the opportunity to again witness it is given by special request. The admission will be twenty five cents.

—The National W. C. T. U. convention is to be held at Washington next month, and several Plainfield members are planning to attend.

REASON TO BE THANKFUL

PROCLAMATION ISSUED FOR OBSERVANCE OF THANKSGIVING DAY.

Governor Voorhees Reviews the Blessings of the Year and Calls on the People to Give Thanks.

Governor Voorhees, yesterday, issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

"The century draws near to its close. We await the beginning of the era to come. As a people we have been blessed. We have been guided with safety through imminent peril. We have found strength in times of trial. We have averted dangers that threatened. Governments have come and gone since the dawn of the morning of its birth, yet our nation still lives. Its people have broadened in power and in influence. They have increased in knowledge and in happiness. They yield to none in comforts enjoyed. Their toil is rewarded. Opportunity is not withheld. They are better in thought and in deed. The claims of fellow man are respected. For the poor, the unfortunate and the dependent there is a deeper regard. The Christian spirit more abounds. All have been blessed in mind, in body and in store.

"The watchful care and guiding hand of the Wise Ruler of nations has attended us. His mercies and blessings have not been withheld in the year that ends the century. For those of the past, and for those which we now enjoy, we should give thanks and praise to the Giver of every good and perfect gift.

"Therefore, I, Foster M. Voorhees, Governor of the State of New Jersey, do hereby designate Thursday, the twenty-ninth day of November inst., for public thanksgiving and praise. I do recommend to the people of this State that they then abstain, so far as possible, from their usual labor, and assemble in their homes and places of religious worship, there to acknowlege and return thanks to Almighty God for His goodness and His mercy, and to invoke His continued favor in behalf of our nation, our State and its people."

MISSIONARY LEAGUE.

Organized at the Home of Mrs. Leggett to Stimulate Activity for Missions Among Trinity's Women.

A very enjoyable affair was the missionary rally and tea given at the home of Mrs. Anna E. Leggett, 822 Madison avenue, yesterday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock. Through the efforts of the missionary committee of the Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church, a lively interest has been awakened among its members and a Missionary League has been formed. The purpose of this league is to stimulate missionary activity, and it would seem that a very promising beginning was made yesterday afternoon.

For two hours the members and their friends were received by the hostess, Mrs. Leggett, assisted by Mrs. G. VanWinkle, Mrs. Cornelius Schenck, Mrs. W. A. Woodruff and Mrs. P. A. Emmons. Before passing into the dining room, which was very attractively decorated in pink and green, each guest partook of a leaf of a literary salad in charge of Mrs C. F. French and Mrs. F. E. Woodruff.

At the table presided Mrs. A. L. Force and Mrs. Robert Clark, Jr., and they were assisted in serving by Mrs. H. W. Marshall, Mrs. R. B. Rogers, Mrs. A. J. Moore, Mrs. Will F. Williams and Miss Mabel Woodruff. During the afternoon several violin solos were rendered by Mrs. George Saums, which delighted all present, as did also a piano duet by Miss Margaret Leggett and Miss Lillian A. Force.

Jersey's New Adjutant-General.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Nov. 15—Governor Voorhees yesterday appointed Colonel Alexander C. Oliphant Adjutant-General of the State, to succeed the late General Stryker. Colonel Oliphant is a personal friend of the Governor and has been connected with the National Guard for many years.

To be Illustrated.

The addresses of T. F. Graham, the Scotch evangelist, are heard with interest not only by the young men who gather at the Y. M. C. A. building, but also by the men in the machine shops at the noon hour. The address this evening will be illustrated as usual. All men are invited.

Miss Shepard to be a Bride.

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Miss Joanna Shepard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Downes Shepard, to Osborn Wickoff Bright, which will take place at the home of the bride's parents, "The Gables," Fanwood, Saturday, December 8th.

MISS WALZ THE BRIDE IN CHURCH WEDDING.

Plainfield Society Turned Out in Force to Witness the Brilliant Nuptials.

BEAUTIFUL GOWNS WORN.

A UNIQUE AND CHARMING FEATURE WAS THE WEARING OF HATS.

Ceremony Performed by Rev. W. R. Richards—Green and White Prevailed in the Decorations—The Bridal Party.

Plainfield society assembled in force at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock to attend one of the prettiest weddings of the season, at which Miss Gertrude Walz, daughter of Ernest L. Walz, of 302 LaGrande avenue, and John Forbes Innerarity, of New York, were joined in bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. William R. Richards, pastor of the church, of which the bride is a member. Green and white prevailed in the coloring of the decorations.

Every seat in the church was filled long before the hour and many were standing. Ward Stephens, organist of the church, played in the interval preceding the ceremony. Right at the hour of five the vestry doors on either side of the pulpit swung open and two processions, one of the five bridemaids and the other of the five ushers, started up the central aisles, the bridemaids on the right and the ushers on the left.

Beautiful gowns of white organdie over pink silk were worn by the bridemaids. Unlike other church weddings in this city they also wore hats, charming creations of pink silk trimmed with white feathers and pink roses. Each of the bridemaids carried a bouquet of large white chrysanthemums. They were Miss Ethel Genung, of Brooklyn, a cousin of the bride, Miss Minnie Wood, Miss Louise Bushnell, Miss Margaret Yates and Miss Pauline Humphrey, all of this city.

The ushers were Fred W. Walz and E. Louis Walz, Jr., brothers of the bride, William McKinley, Walter Koehn and George Howe, all of New York. They wore the conventional black frock coats, with white vests and black Ascot ties. A boutonniere of lilies of the valley adorned the lapel of each coat.

At the rear of the church the two processions met and were there joined by the bride, escorted by her father and the maid-of-honor, Miss May Evans, of this city, a cousin of the bride. The bride's gown was of white satin, entrain, with lace and pearl trimming. She wore a veil. Her bouquet was of lilies of the valley and lavender orchids. The maid-of-honor was gowned in white taffata and mousselin de soie and wore a white silk hat, with white feathers and pink roses on it. Her bouquet was of large white chrysanthemums.

With the ushers leading the bridal party advanced to the front of the sanctuary by the left centre aisle, while the groom, accompanied by the best man, Zelah VanLoan, of New York, and the clergyman, Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, entered from one of the vestry doors and met them before the pulpit. The garb of the groom and best man was similar to that of the ushers.

The Lohengrin wedding march was played during the entrance of the bridal party and after they were grouped about the pulpit, the organ played softly. The Presbyterian service was used. At the close of the ceremony, the newly wedded couple led the party, passing out the right central aisle to the strains of the Mendelssohn wedding march.

Palms, ferns and white chrysanthemums formed the decorations which covered the front of the church and were arranged with charming effect.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's father to which the relatives and intimate friends were invited. There were 125 present. A string orchestra rendered selections. The decorations at the house corresponded with those at the church. The wedding supper was served after which the couple departed amid a shower of green, pink and white confetti. They went south and will be absent several weeks after which they will take up their residence in New York for the winter.

Many gifts were received and displayed in an upper room at the home of the bride. There were many valuable ones. The groom presented the best man and each of the ushers with a pair of gold link cuff buttons. The

PARTICULAR MENTION

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Residents and Visitors who Go and Come in Society and Business.

Rev. E. E. Jackson, of Liberty street, has returned from a visit of a few days out of town.

Michael Connolly, of Barking Ridge, has returned home after a short visit with Plainfield friends.

W. M. Smith, of Elmwood place, has returned from Orange, where he has been visiting his sister.

Mrs. Wikoff, of Somerville, has returned home after a visit of a few days with relatives in Plainfield.

William G. Ilisley, of South Second street, left yesterday for Davenport, Ia., on an extended business trip.

Wm. Hepburn, of East Second street, has recovered entirely from a recent illness that detained him at home.

Henry S. Phillips and bride have returned from their honeymoon and have taken up their residence on Grove street.

Waldron Miller, of LaGrande avenue, a member of the Audubon Society, has gone to Cambridge, Mass., to attend a convention of Ornathologists.

Great Luck Of An Editor

"For two years all efforts to cure Eczema in the palms of my hands failed", writes Editor H. N. Lester, of Syracuse, Kan., "then I was wholly cured by Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's the world's best for Eruptions, Sores and all skin diseases. Only 25 cents at L. W. Randolph's.

—There will be an important meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., this evening.

—A large delegation from Minerva Temple, Rathbone Sisters, went to Elizabeth last evening to visit a sister lodge.

—The borough marshals are expecting to receive their new winter coats in a few days. They were ordered some time ago, and owing to the present cold weather they begin to feel the need of them.

—There is no pleasure in life if you dread going to the table to eat and can't rest at night on account of indigestion. Henry Williams, of Boonville, Ind., says he suffered that way for years, till he commenced the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, and adds, "Now I can eat anything I like and all I want and sleep soundly every night." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest what you eat. L. W. Randolph.

Mrs. Daniel Dodge, of New Brunswick, has been visiting Plainfield relatives for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Wersing's three children, of Watchung, who have been quite ill with diphtheria, are recovering rapidly.

Spread Like Wild Fire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, rundown man or woman. Price 50 cents. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Marsh, of Hartford, Conn., have been visiting Plainfield relatives.

O. B. Leonard and family, of Perth Amboy, are stopping in the city for a few days, having been called here on account of the death of a relative.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern which is not afraid to be generous. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles and have the satisfaction of knowing it has cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, LaGrippe and all Throat, Chest and Lung diseases are surely cured by it. Call on L. W. Randolph, Druggist, and get a free trail bottle. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle gauranteed.

—C. M. Meeker's steam roller is now being used to good advantage on West Front street to assist in the work of macadamizing.

—Both makers and circulators of counterfeits commit fraud. Honest men will not deceive you into buying worthless counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The original is infallible for curing piles, sores, eczema and all skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

James Davis and family, of Orchard place, have taken up their residence on West Fifth street, near Madison avenue.

Miss Grace Rowland, of East Second street, was a guest at the wedding of a friend at Somerville yesterday afternoon.

WATCH YOUR KIDNEYS!

Never for one moment forget that your constant duty to yourself, to your business, to your family, is a constant watch on your kidneys. As the careful engineer watches each pulsation of his faithfully tended engine, so should you give the closest scrutiny to your kidneys, for are they not the great engines of human life? The kidneys filter the blood, all its impurities are left in the kidneys, to be, in turn, passed to the bladder and so find escape from the human system. Can you not readily see how with improperly working kidneys the blood scatters its poison, and before you know it you are in the clutch of Bright's Disease and death is upon you.

Hundreds of the sudden deaths you hear and read about are due to neglect of the signals nature gives, such as weak back and pains across the small of the back. If you ever have backache, don't hesitate, but seek the best and surest and quickest acting remedy at once are made from the formula of a practicing physician and guaranteed to be the most efficacious in all diseases of the bladder and kidneys. They go at once to the weak spot and give quick strength; they are vegetable, easy to take and pleasant. Thousands owe life and health to them, and take them occasionally as a preventive, and thereby forestall the possibility of the inroad of disease.

Look out for substitutes and take only the genuine Dr. Holtin's Kidney Tablets. Price 25 and 50 cents per package.

THE STRONG FAILURE.

Sudden Death of Heads of Two Firms the Cause.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The cause of the Strong failure has been made public by Butler, Notman, Joline & Mynderse, counsel for the firm in the action for the receivership, which resulted in the appointment of Edward A. Treat.

Counsel said that the Strong firm had indorsed more than $500,000 in notes for the Stott Woolen mills, for which the firm was agent, and that the odd circumstances of the death of former Mayor Strong and of F. H. Stott, heads of the two concerns, within three days of each other had brought about a crisis by dissolving both firms at a moment when large sums were due. The Stott mills are located in Stottville, N. Y.

One note indorsed for the Stott company for $100,000 is due today. Other notes for nearly half a million are due soon. The Stott company, in which the Strong company is largely interested, counsel said, had indorsed notes of the Strong company in return, but for an insignificant amount, probably less than $100,000 in all.

"If either Mr. Strong or Mr. Stott had lived, the difficulty might have been settled without public embarrassment," said the representative of the counsel.

"Mr. Strong had been a sick man for years," he continued. "He was in bed seven months of the year. Besides, he devoted much time to public and banking affairs. The indorsing of the notes was done by his partners, but with his full knowledge and consent. There is no desire to shift responsibility for the condition of the business. We cannot say, of course, what action will be taken in regard to winding up the business of the Stott company, but it is the debts of that concern rather than those of Strong & Co. that have brought about the present condition. The Stott partnership is dissolved the same as that of Strong & Co."

Vicar General Barry Killed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Rev. Father John E. Barry, vicar general of the diocese of Manchester and Concord, N. H., and pastor of St. John's church, Concord, was instantly killed by a cable car on Broadway late yesterday afternoon. In company with Rev. E. M. Callahan of Portsmouth, N. H.; Rev. G. W. Murphy of Portland, Me., and Rev. W. J. O'Reilly of Manchester, N. H., he was crossing the street immediately in front of the Astor House for the purpose of mailing a letter at the postoffice. Two cars were passing at the time, and Father Barry, being in the lead, jumped across the track to avoid the first. Before he could be warned he was caught by the fender of the other car and thrown in front of the wheels. His body was dragged for some distance, the wheels of the first truck passing over and horribly mangling the body. He was almost instantly killed.

Ladies' College Burned.

ROANOKE, Va., Nov. 15.—Virginia college, an institution for young ladies situated just outside the city limits of Roanoke, was totally destroyed by fire at an early hour yesterday. A short time after the rising bell had been rung it was discovered that the hallways of the big building were filled with smoke. Word was quickly passed around, and the young ladies, 150 in number, made their way out, many of them thinly clad, hardly any with anything more than the simplest costumes of the bedroom. The fire started in the boiler room, exactly how is not known. It made quick work, and in less than two hours the buildings were entirely destroyed. The desks from the business office and a few articles of furniture were about all that was saved. The building was of brick and fitted with all modern conveniences. The loss is $75,000, with about $25,000 insurance.

Not Royal Jewels.

CITY OF MEXICO, Nov. 15.—The widow of the late Peter Gray, the proprietor of several establishments here, is the real owner of the diamonds seised by the United States customs officials in New York. She gave them into the hands of Senor Presa for sale in the United States and claims he never meditated fraud against the American customs regulations. The total value of the jewels is said to be not over $6,000, and they never belonged to Emperor Maximilian or Empress Carlotta. The case has excited much interest here.

American Troops Out of China.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Quartermaster Ludington is informed that the transport Sumner has sailed from Nagasaki for Manila with four troops of the Sixth cavalry and four batteries of the Third artillery. It also is reported that the four companies of the Fifteenth infantry left Taku bound for Manila. The troops mentioned comprise the last of the United States army in China withdrawn for service in the Philippines. The only troops of the United States now in China are the legation guards at Peking in command of General Chaffee.

Jeffries and Sharkey Matched.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—James J. Jeffries and Thomas Sharkey were matched yesterday to meet in a 25 round battle next May before the club that would offer the largest purse. While nearly every detail of the match was agreed upon the matter is not closed.

Serious Cycling Accident.

BERLIN, Nov. 15.—While cycling here Professor Charles John Rose of Hobart college, Geneva, N. Y., was knocked from his wheel and run over, one of his legs being broken.

THE COUNT IN ALASKA

Enumerator Dunham Completes His Work.

DEPLORABLE CONDITION OF NATIVES.

A Journey of Two Thousand Miles With a Dog Team to Count 3,013 Persons, All of Whom Were Indians.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The census bureau recently completed the enumeration of the district of Alaska. The schedules have been received at the office and are now in process of tabulation.

The director of the census gives out the following statement with reference to the work in that great territory:

"Mr. Samuel C. Dunham, who had charge of the work in the northern district, returned to Washington a few days ago and submitted his final report. He left Washington on this work May 4, 1899.

"The native and mixed population of the northern district of Alaska is 12,652. The most populous districts with respect to the native population is the country lying between the mouth of the Yukon and the Kuskoquin rivers and extending back from the coast 100 miles. Mr. Maurice Johnson, the agent for this district, traveled over 2,000 miles with a dog team during the winter and enumerated 3,013 persons, all of whom were Indians. The Indians in this region are probably the most destitute people in the North American continent. Mr. Johnson reports that from Dec. 1 to March 15 he visited 74 Indian villages and during that time saw but three fires burning in the shacks or dugouts. The poor creatures huddle together in their miserable dwellings during the long winter and subsist on frozen fish and a little seal oil which they secure on the coast during the summer. The fur bearing animals which formerly furnished them with natural clothing are nearly extinct, and they have been forced to adopt the white man's garb, and as their poverty prevents them from securing enough to cover their nakedness there is great suffering from the cold. The spiritual condition of these neglected natives is no better than the physical, as the missionaries devote their attention to the more attractive fields in the gold regions and along the rivers, where their good work may be seen.

"The Nome district is the most populous in northern Alaska. The enumeration showed a permanent white population on June 1 of 2,704. During the summer about 18,000 people landed at Nome, about 2,500 of these coming from Dawson. About 12,000 have returned to their homes in the states, leaving about 9,000 people in the region contiguous to Nome. It is probable that the population of the town of Nome during the winter will be between 4,000 and 5,000."

Grant Failure a Mystery.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The principal development in the failure of Grant Bros. is a statement by Frank Bergen of Elizabeth, N. J., attorney for John K. Van Sickle, one of the partners of the firm. Mr. Bergen's statement was: "It is very doubtful if any one can tell what caused the wreck of Grant Bros. I do not think, honestly, that even the members of the firm can tell what brought the crash, and it is doubtful if the cause will ever be known. The truth of the matter seems to be that Grant Bros. have been insolvent for several years without knowing it. As near as I could judge from examinations of the books before the assignee took charge of them the firm was insolvent when Mr. Van Sickle became a partner. The books are in frightful shape, the expert accountants say, and have not been kept properly for years back. Since my client became a member of the firm they have not been balanced, and they may have to be rewritten before head or tail can be made out of them—if, indeed, they can ever be cleared up."

Expensive Naval Equipment.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The report of Admiral Bradford, chief of the naval bureau of equipment, records unprecedentedly large expenditures by cruising ships during the last fiscal year and the disbursement of large amounts for freight involved in the transportation of stores. Admiral Bradford sets forth the desirability of a naval station at Guam, emphasizing the importance of the island as a naval base. He also recounts rapid improvements in equipment work at the Cavite naval station and the completion of a steel cold storage house at Pango Pango, on the island of Tutuila, Samoa. A new floating drydock for the naval station at Algiers, La., is to be completed by May, 1901. The amount of coal being consumed by the navy is increasing year by year, and its cost last year averaged nearly $2 a ton more than during the fiscal year of 1898. Admiral Bradford again renews his recommendations for new naval coal depots.

Shot on His Wedding Day.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 15.—Sergeant Major Edwards of the Royal artillery was found dead at the door of his quarters in the citadel when a carriage called to convey him to Trinity church, where he was to be married. Near the body a carbine was found, which, either by accident or with suicidal intent, had been discharged and a bullet from which had passed through the head of the dead soldier. The body was taken to the hospital. News of the death of Sergeant Major Edwards was carried to the church, where the bride, Miss Allen, and friends were waiting for the groom to arrive.

Typhoon Victims Found.

HONGKONG, Nov. 15.—The bodies of 22 persons who were killed by the collapse of houses on the shore in the typhoon which struck Hongkong last Friday night have been recovered. More than 50 bodies have been taken from the harbor, and the remains of many victims are still to be found. The damage to property and crops is enormous.

Heirs Awarded $5,000.

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 15.—In the supreme court at Morrisville in the case of Minor O. Anderson as administrator of Ann L. Anderson, deceased, against the Lehigh Valley Railroad company the plaintiff was awarded a verdict of $5,000. Miss Anderson rode on the track on a bicycle, and a train struck and killed her. Her heirs claimed $20,000 damages.

Fatal Railway Collision.

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 15.—In a railway collision yesterday near Gellivare a conductor was killed and six passengers severely wounded.

REBELS GAIN GROUND

Rising In Southern China Is Causing Alarm.

CANTON IN A STATE OF PANIC.

Attempt on the Emperor's Life—Korean Palace Partially Destroyed. Allied Forces Have Razed Several Boxer Villages.

YOKOHAMA, via Victoria, B. C., Nov. 15.—The rebellion in south China has grown to an alarming extent. The Triad party in Kwang-tung has been very active since the occupation of Wei-chow. The imperial troops are losing ground steadily, the rebels having renewed the siege of Wei-chow. They captured Same-how. All districts as far as Namahan, on the frontier of Kwang-tung and Kiang-si, have risen.

The commander of Kwang-tung, with 3,000 men, engaged 13,000 rebels at Tong-kang-sien on the 22d, but was defeated. Three thousand troops from Canton are under orders to re-enforce him. His position was desperate. The officials and public at Canton are in a state of panic. The British consul at Canton reports having received a round robin from the reformers asking him to use his influence to have foreigners leave the city, as they are desirous of capturing Canton and overthrowing the Mantchoo power.

On Oct. 13 the Chinese court arrived at Sig-nan. During the journey an individual tried to assassinate the emperor of China, but his majesty was not injured. The would be assassin was beheaded.

Fire destroyed a considerable portion of the Korean palace at Seoul Oct. 14.

Several members of the Tokyo city council, having been accused of accepting a bribe from the Mitsui lead pipe factory, all the members resigned en bloc, but were subsequently re-elected with the exception of the incriminated members, warrants for whose arrest have been issued.

The expedition to Pao-ting-fu and the presence of a large German force in Shang-tung province is having the effect of turning Governor Yuan Shi Ki from friendliness for foreigners. He has addressed a note to Li Hung Chang telling his distrust of Germany in Yan-tung.

The allied forces have razed several Boxer villages. The Germans took one at Yang-tsung and shot all the Boxers captured after a drumhead court martial.

Emperor to Return.

TIEN-TSIN, Nov. 15.—It is reported that an imperial edict has been issued announcing that Emperor Kwang Su and the dowager empress will return to Peking. A Russian column of 330 men, with four guns, which left here Nov. 4, returned Nov. 9, having engaged the Chinese. At Hsia-tsang the Russians fought 2,000 Chinese troops, dispersing them and killing 200. The Russians had no casualties. The population of the city of Tien-tsin now reaches 600,000 Chinese, and the allies are strengthening the garrison against a possible surprise. It is supposed that one-third of the inhabitants are Boxers.

Were Thought to Be Lost.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Alexander Cort, Philip Ketcham and Clarence Dour, prominent business men of Farmingdale, are at home, although for the last four or five days their relatives and friends had given them up for lost. On last Friday they started on a gunning trip and were blown out to sea, and then driven back to shore and stranded miles away from home on Saturday. It was not until yesterday that they were able to float their stranded catboat. They had a small supply of food, and driftwood enabled them to keep from freezing.

The Czar Has Typhoid Fever.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 15.—The attack of influenza from which the czar has been suffering has now developed symptoms of typhoid fever. Baron de Fredericks, the master of the imperial household, has issued the following bulletin: "His majesty passed a good night. His general condition is satisfactory. Temperature 101.6, pulse 92. His head is clear, and the strength of the patient is quite satisfactory. The diagnosis shows typhoid, which for the present is pursuing a thoroughly satisfactory course."

Big Main Bursts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—A dynamite blast burst a five foot water supply main and released a volume of water which flooded the site of the old Forty-second street reservoir yesterday. Within an hour the water had risen to within three feet of the street level, and later it got to a depth of seven feet, and there was danger that it would overflow the excavation for the new library building in course of construction there and flood the store buildings in the neighborhood of Fifth avenue and Forty-second street.

Vermont Lawmakers.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Nov. 15.—The weekly payment bill won an unexpected victory in the house of representatives, being passed after having been adversely reported upon by a committee. After debate the bill was killed which sought to provide that no grand jury should be summoned except in cases punishable by death or imprisonment for life. The bill to pay the expenses of Dewey day in the state was passed to a third reading by a vote of 80 to 84.

Ice Company Cuts the Price.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The American Ice company has reduced the price of ice for all except family trade to 17½ cents a hundred pounds, or $3.50 a ton. It is said that it makes a concession cut under this rate for trade. Estimates for the coming Hudson river ice season are that the crop will be a record breaker and that the average price of ice for 1901 will be $2.50 a ton.

Director of Cuban Posts.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The postmaster general has designated Postoffice Inspector John R. Harrison, now postmaster of Havana, as the acting director general of posts in Cuba, pending the absence of Director General Fosnes, who is convalescing in New York from yellow fever and pneumonia. Mr. Harrison is from the St. Louis division.

Claims to Be a Healer.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Nov. 15.—A man named Miller is claiming power as a divine healer, operating at Florida, this county. He is finding favor with many who claim he possesses supernatural power in curing disease. He uses no medicines and relies upon voluntary gifts from those he treats.

GRANGERS MEET.

National Patrons of Husbandry In Annual Session.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The thirty-fourth annual session of the National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, began here yesterday with a good attendance and will continue for a week or more. The chief feature of interest was the annual address of Worthy Master Aaron Jones of Indiana, who said that in most of the states the order had enjoyed great prosperity during the year. In a few states it had not succeeded so well. The members of the grange, while affiliating with each of the political parties in the last campaign, had emerged from its battles without disturbing the fraternal spirit actuating the order. Never had the conditions been more favorable for the extension of the order than now.

The report of the secretary, Dr. John Trimble of Washington, showed that 182 new granges had been chartered during the year, the order now numbering over half a million members. During the day addresses were delivered by O. H. Kelley, by Jubal Robinson, who pledged the co-operation of the Canadian grange in the work of the order; by Assistant Secretary J. H. Brigham of the agricultural department, Edward Wiggin and Mrs. Wiggin of Maine, Mrs. George A. Bowen of Connecticut, S. H. Ellis of Ohio and Mrs. Katharine M. Stahl of Illinois, chaplain of the grange of that state.

Coal Company to Take In Employees

PITTSBURG, Nov. 15.—The Pittsburg Coal company has inaugurated a plan whereby its 20,000 employees are not only to become stockholders in the company, but will have an accident and death fund, to be followed later on by a system for pensioning all those employed by the company in any capacity. A charter was applied for at Harrisburg by the Pittsburg Coal Company Employees' association, which is organized to act for the employees in all the transactions contemplated by the company's prospectus. J. E. McDonald will be general manager of the association. The object of the association as announcel in its prospectus is to encourage and assist any and all of their employees to invest their savings in the preferred stock of the Pittsburg Coal company on which they will make regular monthly payments of not less than $1 per share.

Army of the Tennessee.

DETROIT, Nov. 15.—Speaker Henderson of the house of representatives struck the keynote of the meeting of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee in Masonic temple last night when he said that it was a gathering of old soldiers and friends that was a veritable spiritual and patriotic uplifting. For over two hours after being formally welcomed by Mayor Maybury of this city the society listened to papers and patriotic speeches by members that were reminiscent of the war of 1861-5. General Russell A. Alger of this city, former secretary of war, presided and introduced the speakers. General Grenville M. Dodge of New York, president of the society, the first speaker, reviewed the achievements of some of the famous generals who are members of the society.

A Big Snowstorm.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Nov. 15.—The worst storm of the season began yesterday with a gentle snow and a mist. Reports from all surrounding towns and mining camps state that the storm is general. Telephone messages from Belle Fourche state that on the prairies north and west the wind is blowing fiercely, and the snow is blinding. The thermometer has fallen 30 degrees, and it is growing colder rapidly. The storm is most severe in the mountains west of this city, where the snow is already two feet deep. All street traffic in Lead and Deadwood is suspended. As yet the storm has not interfered with railroad traffic.

Trial Lasted Two Years.

VIENNA, Nov. 15.—A remarkable trial for murder has just been concluded at Pisck, Bohemia, after lasting two years and being the center of a bitter conflict between the anti-Semite party and the Jews. Leopold Hilsner, a Jew, who in 1898 was charged with murder immediately before the Jewish passover of a young peasant girl whom, it was alleged, he waylaid in a lonely forest on the road from Kuttenberg to Prague, was found guilty of being an accomplice in the crime and was condemned to death by hanging. The jury by the terms of the verdict declared that the killing was not ritual murder.

No Change at Moody Schools.

EAST NORTHFIELD, Mass., Nov. 15.—Regarding reports that Rev. G. Campbell Morgan of the New Court Congregational church of London had been invited to come to this country and take charge of the Moody schools and so far as possible take up on all lines the work of the late Rev. Dwight L. Moody, A. P. Fitt, who married Mr. Moody's daughter, said that erroneous reports had been circulated that there is to be no change whatever in the management of the schools, Will R. Moody remaining at the head of the Moody work in every particular.

Armour & Co.'s Side Line.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Armour & Co. have secured a contract to print internal revenue stamps on checks and sleeping car and parlor car tickets. The contract nets about $1,000 per month. Armour & Co. have a big printing office connected with their plant at the Union stockyards, where they do all their own printing, such as labels, soap wrappers, stationery, etc. In addition contracts are taken for other concerns. The printing establishment is complete and represents an investment of many thousands of dollars.

Colombia Earthquake Very Severe.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Mr. Russell, United States charge at Caracas, reports that the earthquake in Colombia last month was very much more severe than at first described. The people deserted their houses and slept in the streets, and between 12,000 and 15,000 buildings were destroyed or damaged.

Bathed Child's Eyes With Acid.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Nov. 15.—A nurse in the household of Dr. W. S. Teller bathed the eyes of the doctor's 5-day-old child with carbolic acid, mistaking it for a lotion. The child's face and neck were badly burned, and it will probably lose the sight of one of the eyes at least.

What It Cost Odell.

ALBANY, Nov. 15.—Benjamin B. Odell, Jr., governor elect, has filed his certificate of election expenses with the secretary of state. In all he expended $7,000, of which $6,500 was paid to the Republican state committee and $500 to the Newburg city committee.

MINING INCIDENT RECALLED.

Mine Owner Charged With Crime For Which Others Were Convicted.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Nov. 15.—Samuel Strong, a prominent Cripple Creek mining man, has arrived home from a European tour and announces his readiness to face the charges recently brought against him in connection with the destructive explosion which occurred at the Strong mine in Victor six years ago.

On May 25, 1894, the Strong shaft-house, orehouse and machinery were blown up. The explosion was one of the sensational incidents of the Bull Hill war when the miners of the Cripple Creek district were on strike, and hundreds of deputy sheriffs were enlisted and armed in Denver to oppose them.

Robert J. Lyons, Nicholas Kelly and several other miners were sentenced to long terms in the penitentiary for the affair. Their innocence has since been shown, and they were pardoned. They have brought suit for $150,000 damages each against Mr. Strong. It is alleged in the complaints that Mr. Strong himself caused the explosion. It is charged that he had agreed to sell the property to E. W. Giddings and William Lennox and that at the time of the explosion he had received $20,000 as part payment for the property and a balance of $40,000 was due him in a few days. It is claimed that he discovered the value of the property after he had sold it, and he expected that after the workings were destroyed by the explosion the purchasers would fail to pay the balance due and the property would revert to him.

Postal Estimates.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Postmaster General Emory Smith has framed his estimates to be submitted to congress and will ask an aggregate of about $121,000,000 as the appropriation for the entire service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1902. This includes an estimate of $3,500,000 for the rural free delivery service. By the close of this fiscal year 4,300 rural free delivery routes throughout the United States will have been established, and the general extension contemplated for next year will involve about 4,500 additional routes. The success of the service so far instituted has resulted in plans for a very general extension next year. The postmaster general, together with other officials, is investigating the feasibility of putting the service in operation at every point throughout the country not reached by the regular delivery services in operation in the cities.

Buried Forty Hours In a Well.

SULLIVAN, Ind., Nov. 15.—After 40 hours at the bottom of a well, buried under a heap of sand, Thomas McPheters was rescued little the worse for his long imprisonment. When the first cave in came and tons of sand filled the bottom of the well, the boards used for a wall were forced in and formed a roof which prevented the crushing of McPheters. A small opening at one side permitted the carrying on of conversation, and a two inch rubber hose was let down to convey water and food to the imprisoned man. McPheters finally extricated himself from the broken boards, but as he gained his feet and stood erect another fall of sand buried him to the neck. The end of the hose was placed in his mouth when the second cave in came. This gave him air, and water and food were poured in when he asked for them.

Newspaper Suspends.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 15.—The Call Publishing company, owner of The Evening Call newspaper, has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, and the paper ceased publication with yesterday's editions. John J. Ridgeway was appointed assignee. He said that the assets, which amount to about $25,000, would probably cover the liabilities. Robert S. Davis, who founded the paper in 1883, is the president and principal owner of the company.

Delaware's Official Returns.

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 15.—The complete official vote of Delaware for president is: McKinley, 22,457; Bryan, 18,856; McKinley's plurality, 3,601. Four years ago the plurality for McKinley was 3,716. The Prohibition ticket received 537 votes and the Social Democratic ticket 57. The total vote was 41,907.

Silver Service For the Illinois.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—The new battleship Illinois is soon to receive a splendid gift, and the state of Illinois is to be the donor. The gift is a silver tea service, with candelabra, server ladle, kettle, trays and the various other pieces which go toward the making up of a set of the kind.

Provincial Legislature Dissolved.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 15.—The Prince Edward Island provincial legislature has been dissolved and Dec. 12 appointed election day. The present local government is a Liberal administration under Premier Farquharson. The dissolution announcement was a surprise.

High Price For Exchange Seat.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—It was reported in Wall street that the highest price on record had been paid for a seat on the Stock Exchange at $1,500 above the previous record. The highest previous price is believed to be $45,000.

Blizzard In Wisconsin.

LA CROSSE, Wis., Nov. 15.—A genuine blizzard is raging in this city. A blinding snow, accompanied by a high wind, is falling, and the mercury is near the zero mark.

No More Bodies Found.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 15.—A number of funerals of the victims of the Monticello disaster took place yesterday. No more of the missing bodies have been found.

Weather Probabilities.

Fair; continued cold; winds mostly light northerly.

FIVE MONTHS IN ASIA

Exciting Experiences of Two American Travelers.

STONED BY A MOB IN TIEN-TSIN.

Saw Cossacks Burning Chinese Villages—Reached Siberia After Many Hindrances—A Wagon Ride of Fourteen Hundred Miles.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 15.—Professor G. Fred Wright of Oberlin college and his son, Mr. Fred Bennet Wright, have arrived here after a five months' journey in Siberia and central Asia. They sailed from San Francisco on the same steamer that carried Mrs. Conger, wife of the United States minister to China, and Mrs. Willard, spending a month in Japan and reaching Peking about the end of last April.

Mr. Conger procured for them a permit to travel in the interior of China. They spent a week on the Mongolian plateau and returned to Peking May 25.

When going to Mongolia, they observed Boxers drilling and practicing contortions outside of Peking with wooden swords and spears. Upon their return they heard Chinese gun practice 15 miles distant from the capital, which was ridiculed in Peking.

While in Tien-tsin they were stoned by the mob until they bribed the police to interfere. The Russian vice admiral, Alexieff, forwarded them June 4 by a construction train and wagon under Cossack guard to Harbin, the triangular crossing point of the Siberian railway, where American material is brought up by way of the Amur and the Sungari rivers.

Eighty miles below Blagovestchensk, capital of the Amur government, communications were obstructed, but they got within 30 miles by wagon. The Chinese were expected to attack the village, and the entire population, with the exception of Professor Wright's party and the Cossacks, fled.

Professor Wright observed Cossacks burning Chinese villages, and he passed through a burning city of 10,000 people. He counted 100 bodies in the Amur river within five minutes.

Ultimately he managed to secure a boat going up the river to the railway at Vretinsk and reached Omsk after a fortnight. At this point Professor Wright and his son left the railway, taking the Irtish river to Pavlodar. Thence they proceeded 1,400 miles by wagon to Tashkent, making 70 miles as a daily average and one day covering 132 miles.

They visited Samarcand, Baku, Tiflis, Vladikavkas and Moscow. The object of the journey was to study glacial phenomena in Asia for comparison with American phenomena.

Professor Wright and his son will call upon Professor Nitikin, the Russian geologist, who was able to facilitate greatly their work of exploration.

Miss Loonie Exonerates Flood.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Another sensation has been sprung in the Loonie case, which has been so prolific of sensations from start to finish. The announcement was made that Catherine Loonie, in the county jail under sentence to Auburn prison for four years and nine months, had made another statement. This time she has made an affidavit to the effect that the statement made by her in her confession and in her evidence to Recorder Danaher implicating Mayor Frank H. Flood was false and that she wished to take back these statements and exonerate completely the mayor from being implicated in any way in her forgeries.

Ice Case Today.

ALBANY, Nov. 15.—Relative to the charges preferred against Mayor Van Wyck to the effect that he is a stockholder in the American Ice company Governor Roosevelt says that he has gone carefully over the history of the case with Attorney General Davies and is perfectly prepared for the hearing which will be given today in the executive chamber. J. Nobles Hayes, counsel for The World, has notified the governor that he will be present, with his partner, Wheeler H. Peckham. The hearing is public.

Senator Davis Slightly Better.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 15.—The reports from the bedside of United States Senator C. K. Davis state that he is resting comfortably. The physicians admit the serious nature of his illness, but the fact that he has kept up his strength so remarkably makes them hopeful as to the outcome. The trouble with the foot is believed to have been disposed of, and the wound is healing nicely. But the development of kidney trouble causes the chief apprehension.

Miners Return to Work.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 15.—The 400 miners employed at the Maltby colliery of the Lehigh Valley Coal company, who went on strike last Saturday because nonunion men were employed, have returned to work. The company officials say they made no concessions, but the strikers gave it out that the new men had joined the miners' union, and they had no objections to their returning to work.

Botha Offers Terms.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Commandant General Botha, according to a dispatch to The Daily Mail from Pretoria, has sent to Lord Roberts a statement of the terms on which he will surrender. "The Portuguese government," says the Lisbon correspondent of The Daily Mail, "has cabled depriving Herr Potts, Transvaal consul at Lourenco Marques, of his exequatur."

Ohio's Population.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The population of the state of Ohio as officially announced is 4,157,545 against 3,672,316 in 1890. These figures show an increase since 1890 of 485,229, or 13.2 per cent. The population in 1880 was 3,198,062, showing an increase of 474,254, or 14.8 per cent, from 1880 to 1890.

Postoffice Changes.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The following postoffices have been advanced from the fourth to the third class, thus making them subject to presidential appointment: New York—Cherry Creek, Oriskany Falls, New York Mills. Pennsylvania—Waterford, Swissvale, Pitcairn and Souderton.

Population of Georgia.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The population of the state of Georgia, according to the official count of the twelfth census, is 2,216,331 against 1,837,353 in 1890. This shows an increase since 1890 of 378,978, or 20.6 per cent.

Gratz Out for Senator.

"Keeping everlastingly at it brings success" is undoubtedly an axiom that commends itself forcefully to Benjamin S. Gratz, of Jacksonville, Burlington county, New Jersey, and, as he states in a postal card to the editor, "formerly of Jobstown, Camden, Asbury Park and New York city." Mr. Gratz is one of the unique characters of South Jersey, a section that is prolific with politicians and cranberry bogs.

When John Kean was elected United States Senator by the Legislature two years ago, Mr. Gratz was also an aspirant for the distinguished honor. He wrote postal cards to the members of the Legislature, mingled among them at Trenton and proclaimed his superior attainments over the Sage of Ursino. But Gratz was fated not to receive a vote. Such ingratitude and defeat would send the ordinary mortal to political retirement for life, but not so Gratz.

Now that another Senator is to be elected by the next Legislature, Gratz bobs up serenely and again proclaims himself a candidate for the high office of representing the commonwealth in the greatest legislative body in the world. He terms himself "an Independent Reform Candidate," whatever that may mean and represent. But it is enough to know that Gratz is out for the plum. He believes in perseverance and hopes to knock the Senatorial aspirations of General Sewell sky-high.

Gratz may not get there this time, but never mind—he'll be on hand whenever the next Senatorial plum is ripe, and you can bet that in the meantime you will hear from the Jacksonville statesman.

Mrs. Hall and Woman's Suffrage.

In the retirement of Mrs. Florence Howe Hall as president of the New Jersey Woman's Suffrage Association, the women who long for the right to become factors in the casting of ballots lose the services, as an official, of one to whom is due much of the credit of keeping the question of equal suffrage before the New Jersey public in a forceful and intelligent manner for the last few years. Ever since the formation of the Association in Plainfield five years ago, Mrs. Hall has been the presiding genuis of the movement to gain the ballot for the fair sex in New Jersey. Though defeated at the polls by failing to carry the amendment to the State constitution providing for woman's suffrage, she has remained steadfast and vigorous in her advocacy of that which she believes to be right and just for her sex. The fact that Mrs. Hall has declined to continue as the executive officer of the State Association does not mean that she will retire from the work with which she has been prominently identified. On the contrary, she will strive harder than ever to have realized the ideals of citizenship which she holds to be necessary for the country.

Governor Voorhees is generally regarded as a pretty good sort of a partisan, but when it comes to judicial appointments he forgets the idea of "to the victor belongs the spoils" and strives to have the courts made up of judges representing both political parties. Speaking of the appointment of a successor to Judge Krueger, who has signified his intention of retiring from the Courts of Errors and Appeals, the Governor said that the new judge would be a Democrat. He added laughingly that he did not propose to make a canvass to find out whether the candidates were Bryan Democrats, but would name some representative man of that political faith, and probably from the northern end of the State.

A Trenton correspondent says that radical Republican partisans are getting ready to make a raid on the Legislature with the intention of having some of their pet schemes enacted into laws. Major Lentz and Colonel Dickinson will use every effort to have a law passed doing away with spring elections in Newark and Jersey City. In previous Legislatures they tried hard to have such legislation enacted, but they were always foiled in their attempt by the conservative leaders of the party, who believe that the abolition of spring elections would arouse popular indignation and result in a loss of Republican votes.

The slate for legislative officers in New Jersey appears to be as follows: For President of the Senate, Mahlon Pitney, of Morris; for Speaker of the House, Vivian M. Lewis, of Passaic; William J. Bradley, of Camden; for Secretary of the Senate, James S. Gibbons, present secretary of the Republican State committee; for Clerk of the House, in the event of Mr. Lewis's election to the Speakership, Col. Thomas B. Holmes, editor of the State Gazette, of Trenton. In the event of Mr. Bradley's selection for Speaker, Captain James Parker, will be Clerk.

The next Legislature will contain a Republican majority of forty-three on joint ballot, thus insuring the re-election of General Sewell to the United States Senate. He has no opposition at all in his own party. In the State Senate there will be seventeen Republicans and four Democrats, and in the House forty-five Republicans and fifteen Democrats. Only twice before in the history of the State has the Democratic representation in the Senate been lower than this—in 1893 and 1894, when there were but three in the minority party.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

Chief of the Fire Department Doane has always had trouble trying to convince some men that a fire might be started by the spontaneous combustion of hay. A recent issue of the Scientific America contained the following information about the matter that ought to prove conclusive: "The question of the spontaneous combustion of hay has recently been investigated by one of the officials of the Weather Bureau, who states that fermentation within moist hay may raise the temperature to 374 deg. F., at which temperature clover hay will ignite. The best preventive to spontaneous combustion is a rapid and complete ventilation by which the oxidization and fermenting substances are kept cooled down below the point of ignition."

William J. Lee, of Trenton, who was employed for twenty-three years as a bridge estimator for the New Jersey Steel and Iron Company, has been dismissed. He has placed an advertisement in the local newspaper to the effect that he is a victim of the "American Bridge Company Trust, with a capital of $70,000,000, combining twenty-eight separate plants." He says that since the combination of these plants there is no longer necessity for more than one estimator, and the other twenty-seven, including himself, have been dismissed. He offers to sell his house as a result of losing his position, saying it can be bought for $1,000 less than it cost, with the lot of 122 feet frontage thrown in, the purchaser to dictate his own terms.

Gentlemen:—Our family realize so much from the use of GRAIN-O that I feel I must say a word to induce others to use it. If people are interested in their health and the welfare of their children they will use no other beverage. I have used them all but GRAIN-O I have found superior to any, for the reason that it is solid grain.

is one of the busiest in the store, and there's good reason for it. Large and elegant stocks coupled with close selling prices is the magnet. You know we sell furniture the same as we sell dry goods and there's a heap of difference between dry goods prices and furniture store prices. We were never in a better position to cater to your furniture wants. We have a complete furniture store and can fit you up from the kitchen to the parlor. New beginners especially should be interested in our quotations this week.

Bedroom Furniture

In solid oak, plain and quartered, golden finish. Also in birch, golden and mahogany finish. Consisting of bed, dresser with bevel French mirror, and washstand Some with plain fronts and some with swell fronts, without doubt the best offering of bedroom suits in the city. The prices are 12.98, 14.98, 16.98, 19.48, 25.00, 29.50 and 37.50.

Parlor Furniture.

Few people are aware of the fact that we have an extensive line of parlor suits and odd fancy chairs, but they are here nevertheless and you can make a little money go a great ways in this department. For instance, 3 piece parlor suits in mahogany finished inlaid frames, suit consists of diavan, large arm chair and small chair, upholstered in blue, red and green damask, at 16.98 instead of 20.00; at 19.98 instead of 25.00; at 24.50 instead of 30.00.

Odd fancy upholstered chairs, mahogany finished frames, at 4.98, 5.98, 6.98.

Tables and Stands.

One whole section devoted to this interesting line of furniture. Are you thinking about a holiday or wedding present? What would be nicer than a fancy table or stand. We have them in beautiful golden quartered oak and mahogany finish, finely polished. Also a full line of the new rope twisted tables and stands in oak, mahogany and white enameled. Then there is an elegant line of bamboo tables and stands with fancy straw tops, some of them are round and some of them are octagon shape.

We are also showing a very pretty line of India seats in quartered oak, birdseye maple, mahogany and bamboo. We would like to quote you prices on the above but the styles are too numerous, so come in and look them over.

New Morris Chairs.

We invite your attention to our exhibition of new Morris chairs and after you've seen them you'll agree with us, that there has never been such a showing in this city before. The styles are entirely new and up to date, we don't sell any antique furniture, the character of the frames are entirely different this year, heavy massive looking with broad arms and claw feet, rubbed and polished, in quartered oak, golden and mahogany finish, the cushions are covered with the best grades of English velours, upholstered with hair and all have spring seats. We direct special attention to those at 9.48, 9.98, 10.98 and 12.98

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Nov. 15.—Goodwill Lodge, K. of P., will hold at important meeting in their rooms this evening. Business relating to the surrender of the lodge's charter will be brought before the meeting and a full attendance of the members is desired. Goodwill is the oldest secret order in the village and for a number of years held its own with the several other orders which have been organized, but of late the members have lost interest in the work and it is seldom that the regular lodge meeting is held owing to their not being a quorum present. For this reason many of the members think it would be better to disband and unite with the Plainfield K. of P., or any other that they may prefer. The friends of Goodwill hope that the members will get together and revive an interest in her, and then keep the old ship afloat, it is hoped for years.

Mrs. Margaret Happel, an old and highly respected resident of the village, died at her home on Westfield avenue on Tuesday night. Mrs. Happel's death was not unexpected as she has been failing for some time. Her advanced age, she being 73, together with a complication of diseases from which she had been unable to get but little relief, had prepared the family for the parting. Funeral services will be held from her late home tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. G. M. Shott officiating. Interment will be made in the family plot in the village cemetery. Two sons survive the deceased, Frederick W., who lives on the homestead, and August, who is engaged in business in Brooklyn.

The patrons of the trolley no sooner have one grievance against the company settled than another is brought up. A short time ago it was the open cars. Now we have the closed ones. The patrons are justly wondering when the ice boxes are to be heated. These troubles seem to go with the advantages of having modern improvements.

The annual State Sunday-school convention is being held today and tomorrow at New Brunswick. A number of those interested in the work in town are attending the services.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Parks have been enjoying a pleasant visit of several days from Mrs. Park's sister, Mrs. Everett N. Griswold, of Brooklyn.

An auction sale of the household goods of Mrs. Wm. McDonough will be held at her home on the Valley road tomorrow afternoon.

Ferdinand Meyers has accepted a position with an electrical manufacturing plant at Westfield.

John H. Thys was the guest of Westfield friends yesterday.

WIFE NOT LIABLE.

Judge Vail Decides That Mrs. Peterson is Not Responsible for Her Name on Check.

Judge Vail, of the Court of Sessions, has sustained Justice Mosher's decision in the case on appeal of Charles Peterson, of Dunellen, against Oscar and Carrie Pearson, of East Front street. Some time ago Mr. Pearson made some purchases at a sale in Dunellen of goods owned by Mr. Peterson. The latter would not accept Mr. Pearson's check unless his wife endorsed it. Mrs. Pearson appended her name to the check, but the collection failed.

Lawyer Newcorn then brought suit against the Pearsons in Justice Mosher's court. The decision then given released Mrs. Pearson from any liability, but held Mr. Pearson. The case was then appealed and Judge Vail concurred in the first decision yesterday. The amount was for $185. The defendant is represented by W. K. McClure.

SISTER-STATE JUDGMENT.

Jacob Littell's Claim Against J. H. McVey, Though Fourteen Years Old, is Still Good.

A decision has just been given by Judge Fort in the case of Jacob Littell against J. H. McVey. The plaintiff resides in New York state, and claimed that about fourteen years ago the defendant contracted a debt amounting to about $6,000. Judgment was obtained by the plaintiff. Mr. McVey resided in Plainfield during a period of twelve years afterward and it was claimed that the claim was a foreign one and was outlawed. According to Judge Fort's decision it is a sister state judgment and Mr. McVey is liable. The case will be taken up on a writ of error. W. K. McClure represents the defendant.

Sold for Unpaid Taxes.

Collector T. A. Crane, of Cranford, held a sale of parcels of lands for unpaid taxes and sewer assessments Tuesday afternoon. Eleven parcels were sold to Messrs. Ham, Hunter, Mendell and Gray, the only bidders present. The balance was bid in by Assessor E. S. Crane for the township. The taxes amount to $1,091.04, and sewer assessments to $461 66.

Arrested Stray Horse.

Patrolman Myers arrested a stray horse on Liberty street last evening and took the animal to Cole's stable for safe keeping. Noah Terry came to town later in the evening and explained that the horse had wandered from his farm near Fanwood. He took possession of his lost property.

Miss Mary Conroy, of Richmond, Va., has returned home after a visit with friends in town.

THEATRICAL.

The "King of the Opium Ring," in which the pagan struggles between right and wrong, when he has become enamored by the charms of the "Queen," and in which is proven that virtue of instilling into the heathen soul Christian teachings, will be the attraction at Music Hall Friday of next week.

* * * * * *

Miss Josephine Sabel, who has for a number of years been famous as a leading star in her particular line, is the heroine and is responsible for a three-act military comedy entitled "The Soldier's Queen." The comedy element is sustained by a character in the guise of a vagrant private by the name of Will U. Eat, who is in reality a Secret Service detective in the service of the U. S. Army. He is constantly making trouble for everybody. His very name is the bane of existence of the entire garrison. Willie Wheeles is the only civilian in this affair of trouble. He is a Washington society fop, and the soldiers at the garrison have their hands full trying to make a real live soldier out of him. The story is not only funny, but pathetic and dramatic as well, affording great scope for clever actors, and the management have spared no expense in surrounding their clever star with an excellent company of metropolitan favorites. Schilzonyi and his famous Hungarian Boy Band, who rank among the most famous musicians of Europe, are with the company, and the combination should prove a strong attraction.

MISS WALZ THE BRIDE IN CHURCH WEDDING

M'KINLEY'S INAUGURATION.

Union County Clubs May Arrange for a Notable Trip.

It is probable the Union county Republicans will be represented at the inauguration of President McKinley by the Rough Riders and some of the other organizations of the recent campaign. The Essex county organizations are already planning for the trip.

Accompanied by the Republican Indian League and the Northern Republican Club, the Frelinghuysen Lancers, of Newark, will go to Washington in a special train to attend the ceremonies attendant on the inauguration of President McKinley. The Lancers will be in full force, the other two organizations will turn out in large numbers, and all will take part in the inaugural parade.

Accommodations will be provided so that the Lancers and possibly some of the rest of the party can sleep in the train during their two days' stay in Washington.

A scheme is on foot to have all from Essex county who will attend the inauguration join in the trip with the Lancers' party. The plan may be extended to take in Union county clubs.

We give no rewards. An offer of this kind is the meanest of deceptions. Test the curative powers of Ely's Cream Balm for the cure of Catarrh, Hay Fever and Cold in the Head and you are sure to continue the treatment. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Luxemburg.

Luxemburg. Sehr verwickelte Geldverhältnisse herrschen zur Zeit in Luxemburg. Bei der Ausgabe neuer Noten ist die hiesige Bank von der Francs- zur Markwährung übergegangen. Die Beamtengehälter sind in Francs ausgerechnet, ebenso die Staatsrechnungen und die meisten Falturen der Privatgeschäfte. Bezahlt aber wird stets in Mark und Pfennigen, nur daß die Mark in der Vorstellung des Normalluxemburgers nicht 100 Pfennige, sondern 125 Centimes oder 25 Sous darstellt. Man kann sich denken, was da in den Köpfen, die viel mit Geldempfangen und Geldausgeben zu thun haben, beständig für eine Umrechnerei vorgehen muß.

Oesterreich.

Wien. Letzthin ist den Mädchen der Eintritt als ordentliche Schülerinnen in die allgemeine Abtheilung der Kunstgewerbeschule des Oesterreichischen Museums für Kunst und Industrie bewilligt worden.—Der Kaufmann Isidor Steiner, der sich im vorigen Jahre nach Amerika geflüchtet hatte und heuer zurückgekehrt war, wurde wegen Veruntreuung und betrügerischen Bankerotts zu drei Jahren schweren Kerkers verurtheilt.—Der Großindustrielle Sigmund Schosberger ist in Folge eines Schlaganfalles gestorben.

Baden. Das Eisenbahnministerium hat dem Feldmarschall-Lieutenant i. P. Rudolph Ritter Latterer v. Lintenburg die Bewilligung zur Vornahme technischer Vorarbeiten für eine als Drahtseilbahn herzustellende Bahn von einem zwischen der Cholerakapelle und der Krainerhütte gelegenen Punkte des Helenenthales auf den Hohen Lindkogel (Eisernes Thor) auf die Dauer von sechs Monaten ertheilt.

Brünn. Anhier ist Dr. Rudolph v. Sowa, Professor am ersten deutschen Staatsgymnasium, im Alter von 47 Jahren plötzlich gestorben. Dr. v. Sowa war einer der bedeutendsten Linguisten Oesterreichs.

Budapest. Die Gattin des Majors Sarenbach stürzte sich auf der Strecke Budapest-Wien in einem Anfall von Irrsinn vom fahrenden Eisenbahnzug und blieb zerschmettert auf dem Bahndamm liegen.

Innsbruck. Bei der Preisvertheilung in der Ausstellung für Sanitäts- und Rettungswesen, Kranken- und Gesundheitspflege in Breslau erhielt die Allgemeine Rettungsgesellschaft in Innsbruck die höchste Auszeichnung, nämlich das Ehrendiplom zur goldenen Medaille.

Karlsbad. In einer Sitzung des hiesigen Stadtverordneten-Kollegiums wurde beschlossen, die Mineralwasserversendung wieder zur Verpachtung auszuschreiben. Die bisherige Pächterin, die Firma Löbl Schottländer in Breslau, zahlte vor Jahr 175,000 Gulden; der Pacht läuft am 31. Dezember 1901 ab. Im abgelaufenen Jahre wurden 1,978,818 Flaschen Mineralwasser und 67,267 Kilo Sprudelsalz abgesetzt.

Oedenburg. Der Gastwirth Bauer fuhr nach dem nahegelegenen Ort Harkau und feuerte dort auf den Geliebten seiner Frau, einen Kutscher Namens Tremmel, vier Schüsse ab. Tremmel starb sofort. Mehrere Landleute, die Zeugen dieser Szene waren, prügelten Bauer derart, daß er tödtlich verletzt in's Krankenhaus verbracht wurde.

Schwaz. Neulich stürzte im Stallenthal Josef Mair, Sohn des Unterzöhrer-Bauern in Fiecht, beim Edelweißpflücken ab und blieb mit zerschmetterter Hirnschale in den Legföhren hängen.

Schweiz.

Bern. Die in der Schweiz im Herbst 1899 und im Frühjahr 1900 abgehaltenen gewerblichen Lehrlingsprüfungen wiesen eine Theilnehmerzahl von 1172 und somit gegenüber dem Vorjahr eine Vermehrung von 68 Theilnehmern auf. In dieser Vermehrung waren die Lehrtöchter mit ungefähr der Hälfte betheiligt.—In Ilfingen beging der etwa 40 Jahre alte Tagelöhner Florian Aufranc Selbstmord, indem er sich mit einem Rasirmesser den Hals durchschnitt. Ueber das Motiv der That ist nichts bekannt.

Zürich. In Humlikon wurde der 79 Jahre alte Jakob Knöpfli-Weilenmann, als er eine Kuh helen wollte, um den Traubenwagen heimzuführen, von derselben unversehens umgestoßen, daß ihm das Genick gebrochen wurde und er in wenigen Augenblicken verschied.

Freiburg. An die Bahn Murten-Ins hat die Gemeinde Salvagny eine Subvention von 12,000 Francs geleistet.

Basel. Der Große Rath von Basel hat an die Feier des Eintritts Basels in die Eidgenossenschaft im Jahre 1901 einen Beitrag von 100,000 Francs bewilligt und an die im gleichen Jahre stattfindende kantonale Gewerbeausstellung 30,000 Francs.

Aargau. Der kürzlich in Gipf verstorbene Dr. phil. Th. Mettauer hat der Bezirksschule Frick, deren Schüler er einst gewesen und an der er kurze Zeit als Lehrer gewirkt, 2000 Francs vermacht.

A janitor's wife in New York City, a Swedish woman, very much interested a lady who talked with her recently by the recital of woes caused by certain spells of ill health which had assailed her since she was a child, but which had been almost banished by the use of Ripans Tabules. While at her home in Sweden, when young, she had worked in the fields, as is the custom there. She sometimes had to leave her work in great distress with a misery at the pit of her stomach. Her mother often stirred up some Swedish drops for her that afforded a temporary relief. As she grew older other symptoms developed, among them shortness of breath. This, she said, occasioned intense suffering. One night while sweeping one of the offices she found a portion of a small packet of Ripans Tabules in a waste basket, and knowing what they were, because she had seen them advertised, she sampled them and found that "they carried off all her difficulties right away." It is only once in a great while now that she takes one, but if she gets over-tired when her work is extra hard, and feels the slightest twinge of bad feeling, she says a Ripans Tabule always cuts it short. She buys them at the drug store now, but does not use ten cents' worth in a month.

WANTED—A case of bad health that RIPANS will not benefit. They banish pain and prolong life. One gives relief. Note the word RIPANS on the package and accept no substitute. RIPANS, 10 cents may be had at any drug store. Ten samples and one thousand testimonials will be mailed to any address for 5 cents, forwarded to the Ripans Chemical Co., No. 10 Spruce St., New York.

KEEPING PROMISES

Plainfield Appreciates Always When Promises Are Kept.

Every time you read about Doan's Kidney Pills you are told they cure every kidney ill, from backache to urinary disorders. How are our promises kept? Ask any citizen who has tried the treatment. Ask the woman who makes the following statement.

Mrs. Valentine Uizinger of 75 Grandview avenue, says: "I suffered from kidney complaint for six years, I doctored and used various kinds of medicine with little or no result. I had almost a constant sharp darting pain across my back, and if I ever exerted myself or took cold I suffered severely. I always felt it most when the weather was damp. There was also a kidney weakness which was very distressing and inconvenient. While in this condition I saw Doan's Kidney Pills recommended and my son bought me a box from L. W. Randolph's drug store. I started to use them at once following directions closely. They helped the pain in my back, and relieved my other difficulty. I give all the credit for this relief to Doan's Kidney Pills for they are beyond a doubt a grand medicine for kidney trouble."

Movable Targets in Germany.

Movable targets of a new sort have been invented for the use of the German army. These targets are propelled toward the marksmen at full speed, to represent a cavalry charge, being run on rollers, the motive power being supplied by horses which are started at a gallop after being attached to the target ropes. The soldiers thus learn to gauge distance and its variations with great accuracy.—Chicago Chronicle.

One of the new women worth noting is the girl stenographer and telegrapher in a large city business office. One who has doubts of a woman's brain capacity would feel them vanish away into wreaths of nothingness as he watched such a girl at work in a stockbroker's office. Fenced off in a little square pen by herself, she can reach out and touch with her hand the four walls around her. Against these walls are the implements of her trade. At her right is the telegraph instrument going click-clack worse than any woman's tongue ever ran. In front of her is the typewriter. Her ear reads the message that comes over the wire, and her hands transmute the clicks into words and type. At her left is the telephone, which jingles every two or three minutes. She must answer that. A messenger comes and bids her telegraph some word. Her right hand transmits the message, while her left makes pencil notes upon a writing pad. I have seen her do that with my own eyes. To her left, a little below the other machines, is the district messenger call, perhaps put where she can touch it off with her foot when both her hands are engaged somewhere else. In the midst of a telegraph dispatch her employer comes and dictates a letter, which she must jot down in her stenographic notebook if she has not time at the moment to write it out upon the type machine as she receives it from his lips. Two things at once? The woman stenographer and telegrapher seems to do half a dozen things at once, and to keep them all straight at that. In the busiest part of the day there are scarcely five minutes in which she is not interrupted in her work by some order or message at the little window of her room. She sits like a train dispatcher at a station where a dozen roads cross, cool headed, alert and every sense electrically alive. Some of these capable young women receive $30 a week—enough to support a family on.

This question was lately asked me: "If you had the choice of being hanged or of naming five true friends, which would you do?" Can you answer?

At their recent meeting the New Jersey Women's Federated Clubs discussed this question: "Resolved that there is a lack of humor in the club life of a woman." There is an exquisite touch of humor in the suggestion itself. Some woman has evidently perceived the absurdity in the attitude of women who come together and read dull papers to one another and drone on year after year as peacefully as a snorer in his bed. But we have hope for them yet after this resolution.

A woman lately nearly killed a highwayman who tried to knock her down and rob her. Keep it up. Women are not half or quarter so weak as they have hitherto thought themselves. They are at last beginning to find that it is "real nice" to cultivate and use the strength the Creator gave them.

Only 1 per cent of the women of China can read. How truly womanly is the woman of China!

It appears that in the development of physical strength the women of both England and America are improving more rapidly than the men. Let the good work go on.

The season's record shows that women golf players in America have made greater progress than the men golfers.

In one respect the southern states are more progressive than the northern on the woman question. Many of them appoint ladies to be state librarians. Louisiana, Mississippi and Kentucky have or have had women librarians.

A St. Louis paper is endeavoring to do away with the term "old maid" as applied to the modern single woman. It would substitute the violent synonym of "femmolin." Please don't. What objection is there to the name "old maid?" Let us take it up and make it honorable. Single life for a woman is a thing not half so much to be ashamed of as the married lives many of her sister women lead.

When women's clubs, to two of which I myself belong, undertake to settle manners and morals, I observe that the fair readers who deliver papers to us invariably tell writers, politicians and society people what they ought not to do and what they should not do if the ladies had power to make the laws. Women's essays are like the Ten Commandments—made up of thou shalt nots. Why don't they take hold and tell us instead what we may do and can do and should do?

LIFE IN WASHINGTON

It Has Two Sides, Pronounced as Day and Night.

When Congress Is in Session the City Is a Metropolis, in Summer It Resembles a Sleepy Country Town.

[Special Washington Letter.]

MY elder brother John, lived in an Iowa town for upwards of 45 years, and his enjoyment of residence in the national capital is very keen. He says: "It is like being rich enough to own a city residence and a country residence. Everybody here has been living in a quiet country town all summer, and now we are just leaping into a metropolitan city of great proportions and great wealth. It is wonderful."

That has probably never been expressed before, but it is perfectly true. When the congress is absent from Washington we dwell in a quiet town, a respectable, unpretentious town like Nauvoo or Keokuk. Business lapses, hotels are vacated and some of them entirely closed; business houses close early and open late, and everybody simply tries to keep cool and live through the summer.

But now that the political campaign is over and the big guns are coming into our midst business is booming again. The hotels are open and guests are registering, business houses are opening early and closing late. The deserted theaters are beginning to feel the effects of the change and are crowded. Moreover, the churches are having good attendances, and even the preachers are feeling the effects of the good times. They seem to be more eloquent and more hopeful of successful effort during the winter.

So that is the condition which makes my elder brother point out so uniquely the fact that residents of this city are almost as favored as the rich and prosperous who can afford to have both city and country residences. It is very true.

Even the boarding houses are slicking up a bit; the landladies are attending auction sales and picking up here and there a rug, a carpet, a piece of bric-a-brac, a real picture or a chromo for the parlor, and a few plates which have been made recently, or some time since the flood. Moreover, the daughters of the landladies are gathering together bits of adornments which will make them look the more lovely in the eyes of the congressmen who may come to live with them, or in the eyes of their sons who have bright prospects. The coming of the congress always means the coming of temporary prosperity to this city.

Speaker Henderson has taken apartments at the same hotel where he has been domiciled during the past five sessions of this congress. He has only one additional room, where he does his work and receives his scores of callers. He is obliged to see each and every one of the 357 members of the house of representatives when they come to lay before him some of their schemes. He is also always willing to receive his own constituents who come for office, for promotion or protection from unkind superior officials. He is already harassed and hauled about, metaphorically, by hundreds of people. But he has always been a systematic worker and gives up not less than 14 hours every day to official duties, and manages to apportion his time with the nicety of a sensitive balance.

Since the death of Vice President Hobart Senator Frye, of Maine, has been vice president pro tempore, and is therefore the presiding officer of the senate. He has returned to the hotel which has been his abiding place here during the past eight sessions of the congress, and he finds it thoroughly remodeled and up to date. The proprietor spent something like $25,000 this season to make the hotel more attractive. It is a very old hostelry and needed all of the repairs which have been made.

Although business revives every year with the coming of the statesmen there is always an exceptional revival after a presidential election. The hotels and all other business enterprises are preparing to make money out of the inauguration week. Not less than 100,000 people come to see the inauguration, and they leave not less than $10 each. This is regarded as the average amount expended. This means that not less than $1,000,000 will be brought here during that one week, and people are eagerly preparing to capture their share. Moreover, there will be many millions expended in the meantime by those who have business before congress, and will be obliged to dwell here during the three months preceding the fourth day of March, when the inauguration will occur.

Some of the lobbyists who represent great interests are already here, buttonholing the particular senators and representatives who belong to the committees before whom they will appear and urge their claims for legislation. There is always a horde of self-seekers who would loot the treasury during the short sessions of the congress, if they could. It is but truth to say that the two committees on appropriations, of the senate and house, deserve general commendation for their successful efforts to protect the national treasury. Other committees are not so careful. Oftentimes the committees on appropriations step in and oppose the legislation which other committees propose. Only the committees charged with the duty of making general appropriations are careful, all of the time, because they alone study the aggregate output of money which various individuals and committees propose.

THE PERSUASIVE LANDLADY.

Senator Allison, of Iowa, and Congressmen Cannon, of Illinois, the chairmen of these important committees, annually save many millions of dollars to the general government by their painstaking supervision of all appropriations and proposed appropriations. This is not said in derogation of the other members of those committees, but to emphasize the fact that the chairmen feel the responsibility devolving upon them to a greater extent than others who are probably just as patriotic and of as high purpose, but who have not upon their shoulders such a weight of responsibility.

The committees on military affairs and naval affairs are always beseiged by lobbyists and claimants. They want big appropriations for armor plate, for additional ships, for army increases, and for restoration to the pay rolls. Not less than 500 army and navy officers, who have been discharged by court-martial proceedings, have cases to show that they were unjustly dealt with, and ask legislation for their restoration to their former ranks. Some of them deserve consideration, and those who are worthy usually receive justice. But there are so many unjust claims that the deserving often are obliged to wait for years before the committees have time to see the merits of their cases. Then there are many thousands of soldiers who were dishonorably discharged during the civil war who ask that the records in their cases be revoked by act of congress, in order that they may have a chance to get on the pension list. Some of these also are worthy; but the first impression of the committees always is that if they are deserving they should have made that fact plain before so many years passed by, and after so many witnesses have died. This class of claimants usually finds the committees callous to their appeals.

The committees on Indian affairs are also besieged with all sorts of claims, which are usually prepared for Indians by lobbyists in Washington who would secure half of the appropriation for their services in securing legislation. Everybody knows that the Indians have been ruthlessly wronged almost everywhere, and from the beginning of white ascendancy on this continent, and there is no lack of sympathy for them. But the committees usually find that the Indians have entered into contracts with lobbyists wherein it is stipulated that the lobbyists are to get the lion's share of the money, and hence the committees on Indian affairs have to be very careful in considering these claims. Nevertheless, there is merit in a majority of them.

But we are not to consider just now the merits of the work of the various committees, and not half of them have been mentioned. It is merely to illustrate that all of these and many other interests seeking appropriations cause hundreds outside of the congress to come to the national capital during its sessions; and that they spend money here for their sustenance and pleasure. It is because of these facts that when the congress is in session our city becomes a thriving, busy metropolis, whereas, without the presence of the national legislature, we live in a quiet town which bears no semblance of cityhood.

The congress will assemble on the first Monday in December, because it is so ordained in the national constitution. But every year we have the congressmen and lobbyists coming in advance of the formal opening. They are looking up hotels and boarding houses. They are getting ready for one of the hottest times we have ever had in winter time. We are going to have a very stormy session of the congress. Business interests and national interests will clash, and there will be many a debate worth hearing and worth reading about. The treasury will be assailed in all sorts of specious ways.

But it will be protected, because the men who are charged with the great and grave responsibilities of their positions are all honorable men. No small man, no self-seeking man, no man who can be corrupted ever gets a commanding committee assignment nor a commanding committee chairmanship. The chaff is always sifted from the wheat.

SPORTING.

ON THE GRIDIRON.

For the second time this season the Whittier School eleven defeated the Websters yesterday afternoon on Martine Common by a score of 18 to 0. The Whittier boys played good straight football. The touchdowns were made by Egan and Smith (2). Egan, Phillips and Martin kicked the goals. Saturday afternoon the Whittier team will go to Westfield on the 1:15 trolley car to play the Westfield second eleven.

The Plainfield Association football team will play the Garwood team next Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on Clinton avenue grounds. The following Saturday they will play the Carlton Hill team, and on Thanksgiving Day they will have for their opponents either the Brooklyn Wanderers or the Scottish Americans of Newark. The home team has been playing fine football and the above games should be of great interest to all lovers of the popular game.

With Princeton so comparatively near, there promises to be a large delegation from this city present at the annual encounter of the elevens of Yale and Princeton Universities at that little college town next Saturday. The Pennsylvania Railroad, which is the only railroad running into Princeton, has made elaborate arrangements to handle the thousands of people who will go to see the game. Special trains will be run every thirty minutes from New York and a specially reduced rate will be offered. Plainfielders who attend the game, will be able to take the special trains at Elizabeth or New York. The schedule will be published later.

Harold Davis, captain and full back of the Plainfield High School eleven, will be unable to play any more this season and has appointed Peter L Ughetta as field captain in his place. Davis sent in his resignation, but the team refused to accept it and so he has appointed Ughetta to fill his place. David S. Pond will play full back hereafter. The High School has been particularly unfortunate in loosing its backs this season. Mellick, Tweedy, Townsend and Fred Mason have all been compelled to give up the game during the season, just when they were playing good football. Hallock has now earned a permanent place behind the line. It is not yet surely decided who his companion back will be.

It is possible that Plainfield may be represented in the Yale-Princeton game at Princeton next Saturday afternoon, afterall. Charles Dupee, of Washington Park, has been a candidate for back on the Yale eleven this fall and would have undoubtedly gone in at full, but for his lightness. He played in that position Saturday against the Indians and did so well that there is a fair possibility of his going into the game against Princeton. The football critic of the New York Sun was strong in his praise of Dupee's work and said that the game he put up against the Indians Saturday was the equal of Perry Hale's. Dupee made two touchdown's for Yale and he was highly commended for his running and punting. He repeatedly outpunted the Indian full back.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

Arrangements have just been made by President Newman, of the Hope chapel Y. M. A., and C. E. A. Heywood, of the Y. M. C. A., for a bowling match between their respective teams, both leaders playing. It will take place at the end of the month. It is expected to be the first of a series of bowling matches between the home teams.

The Westfield Club members are much pleased over the fact that their bowling team has entered The Press Bowling League and the alleys are being put in first-class shape for the coming season. The Westfielders expect to carry off first honors and take the trophy this time. Chauncey D Smith, captain of the team last winter and the probable choice for the same position this year, is rolling a great game and put up scores over the two hundred mark on several occasions thus early in the season, while Walter S. Smith, the team's anchor, rolled two games last week, the first score being 234 and the second 233.

ROD AND GUN.

The first shoot of the season at Campbell's Clubhouse will be held next week Thursday, November 22d, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. At that time Edward Campbell will shoot against a North Plainfield man at 10 birds for $10 a side. Mr. Campbell has 500 live birds at his place. The grounds are in fine condition and everything will be in first-class shape for the shoot.

GOLF

Expert Brown at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club grounds has commenced work on the course to prepare it for the winter months. He expects to have it in fine condition for play next spring.

Men's foursome, handicap play, will be the attraction at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club grounds next Saturday. The last event for this season will be the play for the Gilbert cup, sheduled for Thanksgiving Day.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

The first of a series of athletic contests will take place at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday. The event will be the standing broad jump. Points will be given and saved until the end of the season. At that time the man having the highest number will receive a medal.

Pleaded Guilty.

May Daranzo, of this city, who was committed to the county jail on a charge of larceny preferred by Chas. Peet, of Putnam avenue, pleaded guilty when arraigned yesterday before Judge Vail. She will be sentenced next week Wednesday. "Tip" Thompson, charged with assault and battery, will be sentenced at the same time. W. K. McClure represents May Daranzo.

George C. Ludlow Not in Danger.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, Nov. 15—A report to the effect that former Governor George C. Ludlow is dying of heart trouble has caused great annoyance and distress in his family. The only ground for the rumor is that for three weeks he has been confined to his home with a severe cold.

Was Still Insane.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, November 15—Daniel Whipert, who has been in the Trenton Asylum for some time, returned to his home here last week apparently cured. Last night he became violently insane again and was locked up in jail. Yesterday Sheriff Schoonmaker and Officer Holmes took him back to the Trenton Asylum.

Willie Now the Complainant.

On the compiaint of William Sweeney, Justice Abbott has issued a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Frederick L. Lancaster on a technical charge of assault. Mr. Sweeney will cause another warrant to be issued today for the arrest of Mrs. Lancaster on a charge of perjury.

Application for Retrial.

Application will be made to the Supreme Court today for a retrial of the damage suit against Boice, Runyon & Co., in which a verdict was given for J. T. Spicer. Craig A. Marsh, of this city, went to Trenton to represent Mr. Spicer's interests in the case.

To Give a Cantata.

A meeting of the Christmas entertainment committee of East Third Street chapel was held last evening when it was decided to hold the entertainment on the evening of Wednesday, December 26. A cantata, entitled "All Hail to Santa Claus," will be given.

Satisfied With Bridge Work.

The bridge committee from the Union County Board of Freeholders met in this city this week and expressed themselves as being well satisfied with the work on the new Madison avenue-Duer street bridge.

GRATZ OUT AGAINST SEWELL

Eccentric Farmer Announces That He Is Again a Candidate for United States Senator.

Benjamin S. Gratz, the eccentric Burlington county farmer, who caused much merriment during the session of the Legislature previous to the election of John Kean as United States Senator, by declaring himself a candidate for the office, is again in the field, this time as an opponent to the re-election of Senator Sewell. Mr. Gratz has sent out the following notice to the members-elect of the Legislature and to the press:

"Gentlemen—I hereby announce myself an Independent Reform candidate for the United States Senatorship, to be elected in January, 1901, to succeed Senator W. J. Sewell, March 4th, 1901. Sincerely yours,

"Benj. S. Gratz.

"Jacksonville, Burlington county, N. J.

"Formerly of Jobstown, Camden, Asbury Park and New York City.

"Nov. 7th. 1900."

After Gratz's failure to secure any votes against Kean, he used threatening language toward Mayor Ashbridge, of Philadelphia, and was arrested as insane. After being held in custody for a few days he was released.

WANT TO PURIFY THE BALLOT.

Women Promise Great Reforms if Allowed to Vote.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Moorestown, November 15.—The tenth annual convention of the New Jersey Woman's Equal Suffrage Association closed yesterday afternoon, after holding one of the best attended and most successful conventions in its history.

Reports were received yesterday from the various associations throughout the State, all of which showed an increased interest in the work. By organization the women have succeeded in getting a bill through the Legislature allowing them to vote at school meetings and to be eligible to membership on Boards of Education. This success has spurred them to great efforts.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Minola Graham Sexton, of Orange; vice president, Mrs. W. J. Pullen, Camden; recording secretary, Miss J. H. Morris, Moorestown; corresponding secretary, Dr. Mary D. Hussey, East Orange; treasurer, Mrs. G. M. Jefferies, South Orange; auditor, Miss Mary Bassett, Sharptown. These officers, together with the presidents of the various local associations, for an executive committee.

Somerset Council Incorporated.

Somerset Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., has just become incorporated. The incorporators are Jacob Kettenring, Henry DeMott and F. W. Bailey, trustees of the Council.

Miss Mary Bushnell, daughter of Frank Bushnell, of Hartford, Conn., formerly of Madison avenue, is visiting friends in town.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

A. R. Bratlau and family have removed from Webster place to 308 East Fifth street.

George M. Macintyre, of Elm place, is recovering from his recent severe attack of illness.

Miss Jennie Thorn, of East Third street, is home after a pleasant visit with New York relatives.

Mrs. William Thompson, of Roseville, formerly of Central avenue, has been visiting relatives in town.

Grand Overseer Nash, of Columbia Lodge, No. 58, A. O. U. W., paid an official visit to Acme Lodge, of Rutherford, last evening. Tonight he will visit Shrewsbury Lodge, of Red Bank, and assist in several initiations.

Morris Sorenson, of Webster place, has accepted a position as cornetist in the orchestra at Miner's Newark Theatre. Mr. Sorenson has been a member of the Boynton Beach for the Boynton Beach orchestra for the past two seasons, where his solos were heard and greatly enjoyed by hundreds daily.

Roadhouse Wreckers Sent to Jail.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Nov. 15.—John Carling, William Gerlach, Bernard Brogan, Richard Van Fleet and William Slager, the roughs who wrecked the roadhouse of William Emmons at Aldene and beat him and his wife, were arraigned in the Union County Court yesterday and pleaded guilty. Carling, the ringleader, was sentenced to the county jail for six months. The others got three months each. They all belong in Union Township.

No Money for Police.

The Westfield Township Committee is puzzled over the police department. The sum of $1,500 appropriated for police is nearly all spent, and the donation promised by the Board of Trade has not materialized. The force will have to be reduced unless some way of raising funds is found. The matter will probably be considered at the meeting of the Committee Friday night.

There Was No Fire.

The fire department was called out at 1 o'clock this afternoon on an alarm from box 63. Someone saw a lot of steam coming out of the exhaust pipe attached to the heater in the house of Mrs. Withrow, of 657 East Sixth street. Wilbur Hendrickson pulled the box. When the firemen arrived at the scene the mistake had been discovered.

THE CRAB APPLE.

It Has No Superior for Preserving and Jelly Making—How to Prepare Them.

The crab apple is indigenous in most parts of the temperate zone. It is the primitive form of the apple, which, shriveled and brown with age, has been found among the relics of the lake dwellers, proving the antiquity of this fruit. And though the modern crab apple is the only form of this species of primitive apple we have, all our various pippins, spitzenbergs, greenings and other apples are believed to have descended from the humble apples which the lake dwellers and people of their generation cultivated, says the New York Tribune.

For preserving and making jelly the crab apple is superior to any other apple, though a hard, sweet "wild" apple, raised from the seed of a sweet apple, is a better fruit for sweet pickles and spicing. Crab apples are only useful for sweet preserves like jelly, marmalades and conserves of the whole fruit.

For jellies they should be wiped and have the flower and stem removed. They should be cut up without removing the skins or cores, which give an exceptionally fine flavor to the fruit. The latter can then be put in a stone jar, covered and set in a pot of water, which should be kept boiling around the jar for nine or ten hours. At the end of this time set the jar in a cold cellar to cool. In the morning strain off the juice. This is the easier way and requires less lifting of the fruit. But some cooks prefer to add a little water to the fruit and stew it in a porcelain kettle as you would any other apple. In this case you must boil the juice a little longer. Cook the juice squeezed out of the pure apple pulp for 20 minutes, and then add a pound of sugar to every pint of juice, and cook until the mixture "jellies."

To make marmalade strain the pulp through a puree sieve, put over the fire and stir continually to prevent its burning. When it has cooked for 20 minutes add sugar in the proportion of a pound to every pint of pulp and cook a little longer.

For preserving use large Siberian crab apples. Peel them with a penknife, core them and remove the stem and flower. Cut the apples into halves, and put them over the stove to boil with a pint of water to every pound of crab apple. Cook them until tender enough to be pierced with a broom splint. Then strain the water off them, pour it over the cores and peelings of the crab apples and cook for 20 minutes. Strain the juice again, and add to it a pound of sugar for every pound of crab apple. Add the crab apple halves and let them simmer in the sirup until they are clear and transparent—that is, for about ten or 15 minutes. Put them in jars, cover the jars with a layer of paraffine paper and seal them up. In sealing all preserves and jellies it is better to wait until they are cold before covering them permanently.

departed with all the good omens attendant upon such an occasion. Upon their return they will occupy a residence in Willow avenue, Washington Park, the gift of the groom's parents.

The ushers at the wedding were Ray McGee, Frank L. Schoonmaker, Louis E. Waring, of this city; Laurie Bliss, George F. Dominick, Jr., and Alfred E. Robbins, of New York.

The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond pin, and the bride gave her maid-of-honor and bridemaids lace fans with mother-of-pearl handles. The gifts of the groom to the ushers were gold scarf stick pins set with pearls.

Says His Salary is Not Paid.

The contract case of Frank L. Smith against Amy Kellogg was tried yesterday before Justice Moss, of Metuchen. W. K. McClure represented the plaintiff, while George Silzer, of New Brunswick, represented the defendant. Mr. Smith is the manager for the Holly Grove Farm, and his salary was $125 a month. He claims that salary is due him for a part of February, September and all of October of this year. The case was warmly contested, and Justice Moss reserved his decision for one week.

Fungus Carving.

Some of the finest specimens of fungus carving yet seen in this city can now be seen at Armstrong's pharmacy, corner of Park and North avenues. It is the work of Mrs. S. L. Daniels, of 310 Franklin place, and and repaesents several well-known subjects, such as "Tom and Little Eva," "Little-Bo Peep," "The Cows at the Well," and several others. An inspection of this work is invited and if orders are placed early Mrs. Daniels will fill them.

"Frenchy" Was Drunk.

Patrolman Lunger found Justise Gautier, alias "Frenchy," drunk on Grant avenue last evening. Gautier was arrested and locked up for the night. This morning he was arraigned before City Judge Runyon and given his choice between a fine of $3 or eight days in the county jail.

BOROUGH MANUAL TRAINING SCHOOL

A Large Number of Practical and Useful Things Will be Taught the Scholars.

GIRLS TO LEARN COOKING.

DEPARTMENT EXPECTED TO BE READY ABOUT JANUARY 1ST.

It is Expected That a Majority Attending the High School Will Avail Themselves of Some Part of the Instruction.

The Borough Manual Training school building, which was erected through the benevolence of Charles W. McCutcheon, is expected to be finished about January 1st, and when finished will be immediately occupied by the department of manual training, drawing and laboratory work. So much interest has been manifested in the subject of manual training in the school that it is expected the majority of those in the High School will avail themselves of some of the departments; most of the girls, doubtless, of that relating to cooking, and a less number, but still a large number of boys, of that relating to manual training. The cooking will come under the head of "Domestic Science" and is to be for the Eighth Grade scholars, and to be elective in the High School. The following is to be taught:

1. Simple experiments in Combustion. Use and care of gas range, kitchen, household utensils and furnishings, boiling of water, etc.
2. Study of cooking processes, with experiments to illustrate the different temperatures required. List of utensils and material best suited for different purposes.
3. Experiments to show the effects of heat on starch, sugar, woody fibre, fat, and white of egg as a type of albuminoid.
4. Cooking of cornstarch. Plain cornstarch pudding, no eggs; later, with eggs and milk. (Some of the facts discovered in previous lessons are here applied.)
5. Cereals and fruits. To the cooking of starch is here added the softening of the woody or vegetable fibre of fruit by heat and moisture, and the development of flavor by heat, as in baked apples, the baking being merely a continuation of the natural ripening.
6. Potatoes, baked, boiled, fried and broiled. Dishes made from baked and boiled potatoes. Method of cooking typical of other starchy vegetables.
7. Other vegetables boiled, baked and fried; egg plant, tomatoes, rice, macaroni in white sauce.
8. Vegetable soups, developed from the preceding lessons.
9. Various ways of cooking eggs; eggs and milk in custards, boiled, steamed and baked.
10. Oysters in various ways.
11. Fish.
12. Batters made light by air and baking powder, viz: Popover griddle cakes, muffins, biscuit and cake mixtures.
13. Effect of sugar upon yeast; of different degrees of heat upon yeast germ.
14. Yeast bread, care of bread, uses of stale bread.
15. Beverages: tea, coffee, cocoa, chocolate.
16. Cuts of meat, beef, mutton, etc.; their relative cost, nutritive value and desirability. Experiments to show effect of different temperatures of water and degrees of heat on tender meats.
17. The softening of fibre in tough meats as in soups, stew, etc.
18. Made dishes of left overs.
19. Poultry; broiling over coals, pan broiling, stewing, boiling, roasting.
20. Salads.
21. Desserts.
22. Frozen mixtures.
23. Setting of table, serving, carving, etc. Each class during the course prepares and serves a complete breakfast, luncheon and dinner, doing all the work required therefor.

Drawing is now done in the public school from the fifth to the eighth grades, and in the High School, but hereafter is to be executed in the manual training building.

Sewing is to be taught in the sixth and seventh grades and will consist of basting, running, every-other-back-stitch, back-stitch, over-casting, over-seaming, hemming, felling, plain gather, band hemmed and stitched, patching (plain and matched), darning (dress and stocking), gusset, button-hole and button.

The above stitches may be applied in the making of various articles of clothing.

Ornamental stitching on flannel, including catch stitches, chain outline, briar stitches and scallop.

In the manual training, woodwork, there will be: Knife work in one-eighth inch poplar. Simple geometric figures from plates; chip carving and construction work in thin wood; bench work in wood joinery, mortise-tenon, dovetail and scarf joints; useful articles, some of the articles decorated with chip-carving; wood carving—incised, surface and low relief, inlaying, carving of historic designs in soft woods; wood carving in soft and hard woods—chip-carving, lining, incising, low relief, high relief, round; geometric patterns, historic ornament in casts and clay models; useful articles made by pupils able to do so:

Recently some more of the High School branches have been made

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

CLEVER ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN BY GUILD OF HOLY CROSS CHURCH.

The Faree was a Funny One and was Interpreted by Several Clever Young People.

A musical and dramatic entertainment given under the auspices of the Guild of the Church of the Holy Cross attracted a large and appreciative audience to the Parish House last evening. The entertainment was similar to others that have been given and which are so popular. The proceeds will be devoted to the work of the church.

The programme opened with a tenor solo by Fred Tallamy, accompanied on the piano by Miss Ida Tallamy. Violin solos were given by Miss Tiny Hyatt, accompanied on the piano by Miss Emma Hyatt. A pretty selection from Rudyard Kipling's writings was given by Mrs. Walton. Dutch songs by Alexander VanOss, accompanied on the piano by Fred Haff, and a soprano solo by Miss Mabelle Smith, accompanied by Arthur Brown, on the piano, comprised the first part of the programme.

Part second was devoted to the presentation of a clever sketch entitled "It's an Ill Wind That Blows No One Any Good." Those taking part received flattering applause. Miss Grace Overton, who took the part of the pert and vivacious housemaid, was engaged in a love affair with a fellow who threatened to kill himself if she refused to marry him. He was a butcher, and the maid's aspirations were of a higher order. She was disposed to let him kill himself if he so desired. Miss Frances Phillips, who acted the part of a French lady, was desirous of getting a man, and it so happened that she learned the state of affairs between the housemaid and her lover. They met and as a result eloped leaving the housemaid in a state of frenzy. She was pacified, however, by Miss Alice Barlow, the lady of the house, who told her that she would take her to Paris.

Miss Edith L. Burt took an excellent part as the intimate friend of Miss Barlow, and Marion Overton and Margaret Townsend, as the country children, made a decided hit. They were gowned in blue gingham and wore poke bonnets of the same color. Like all country children they told all they knew and more too.

The entire sketch was given in a perfect manner, and there was plenty of snap and life to it to evoke hearty laughter. At the close of the entertainment the participants were the recipients of congratulations from all. The remainder of the evening was devoted to sociability and an additional feature was the serving of ice cream and cake for a nominal price.

IMPROVEMENTS AT POND'S.

Electric Cranes to be Substituted for Steam Ones in the Foundry Department.

Work will soon be commenced on a number of improvements in the foundry department of the Pond Tool Works, which were contemplated by the officials some time ago. In place of the steam cranes in use at the present time, modern electric ones will be substituted, together with other conveniences. The electrical power for the entire shop is at present furnished by three small generators. These will be replaced by one large one, which will give a greatly increased voltage. During the time these changes are being made, which will take about one week, the foundry will probably be closed down.

Danced in T. A. B. Hall.

In response to invitations sent out, nearly one hundred young people assembled in T. A. B. Hall last night and indulged in an informal dance. Prof. O'Reilly's full orchestra was on hand and furnished the usual excellent programme of waltzes and two steps. At midnight the dancing ceased, to enable the passing of refreshments, after which it was resumed and kept up until an early hour this morning. The committee who had charge of the affair and conducted it so successfully was Miss Ursula Leach and Miss Margaret Whalen.

To Address King's Daughters.

Mrs. Margaret Bottome, president of the United Council of The King's Daughters and Sons, will address the King's Daughters and their friends, Tuesday afternoon, November 20th, at 3 o'clock, in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church. All are cordially invited.

Cold Cars.

Patrons of the trolley cars are beginning to think it is about time some kind of heat is provided for the cars. As usual, however, the company is slow about providing for the comfort of their customers.

TROUBLE OVER SOME HAY

WARRENVILLE FARMERS WILL AIR DISPUTE IN JUSTICE'S COURT.

Thomas McGann and Peter Fuchman Both Claim the Crop Raised on Four Acres.

Grass which grew on four acres of land, up near Warrenville, is the direct cause of a lawsuit which Thomas McGann has just started in Justice D. D. Smalley's court in the borough. Peter Fuchman mowed the hay and made use of it, while McGann claims that he was the rightful owner and so he has brought suit, in tort, for $200, for the value of the hay in question.

McGann has a farm up on the Dugway Hill, near Washington valley. Peter Fuchman is the tenant in the house on the Cory farm, near Warrenville. The Cory farm is the property of Mrs. Charles S. Lee, of Grove street. It has been the custom for McGann to purchase all the grass on the Cory farm and harvest the hay at his leisure. This year he says he did the same.

When McGann went to the farm last September, he says he found that Fuchman had mowed the hay on four acres of the best of the hay crop. The latter, it is alleged, claimed that he had the right to five acres of land with the house. McGann has now brought suit to recover the value of the hay taken by Fucham. The case will come to trial, Monday afternoon, November 26th at 2 o'clock.

RED MEN'S FAIR.

Committee Organized to Look After Various Details of the Affair.

During the week beginning December 17, the local Red Men are planning to have quite an extensive fair in Washington Hall. The committee, which has the affair in charge, is composed of representatives of Miantonomo and Wetumpkah tribes of Red Men and Iona Council of the Degree of Pocohontas. The committee has organized as follows: Chairman, Francis J. Blatz; treasurer, Charles Holdstein; secretary, Mrs Borman. The chairmen of the subcommittees are as follows: Printing, F. E. Whiteside; refreshment, Frank Van Pelt; donation, Robert Humphrey; contest, Mrs. Denckiau; entertainment, Robert Humphrey; fancy table, Mrs. Borman; music, Frank Van Pelt.

Object to Blocking of Crossing.

The Cranford Township Committee held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday evening. A number of prominent citizens were present to enter complaint against the blocking of the grade crossing of the Central Railroad at the Union and Walnut avenues crossing by coal trains stopping to take water for engines at the Rahway River tankhouse. The lowering of the gates that protect the crossing close the streets for periods of from five to ten minutes at frequuent intervals, and the Town Committee was urged to request the railroad to either abolish the grade crossing or abandon the further use of the water tank. One property owner threatened to take the matter in his own hands if the committee failed to secure relief.

Proposed Elevation of Tracks.

Newark's Board of Works has received estimates of the cost of the proposed elevation of the tracks of the Pennsylvania and Central of New Jersey railroads through that city from the officials of the former company. They show Newark's share of the cost ought to be $650,000, and that of the railroads will be close to $2 000,000. Everything now points to the elevation of all grade crossings in Newark as far as these two roads are concerned.

New Painting for Art Gallery.

A valuable painting has just been added to the permanent collection at the Plainfield Art Gallery. It was bequeathed to the gallery by the late Miss Eleanor Roome and has just been formally presented. The painting is entitled "Cnaius Marius Sitting Amidst the Ruins of Carthage." It is by Vanderlin and was painted in the early part of this century.

Kirk's Trotter Hurt.

A valuable bay trotter, the property of Former Sheriff William T. Kirk, was badly injured Tuesday afternoon by a fall on East Fourth street in front of Mr. Kirk's office. Mr. Kirk's man drove the horse out of the stable next to the office and started to turn around. The horse slipped on the car tracks and fell heavily, cutting both knees open so badly that Mr. Kirk fears that the animal is ruined for life.

Special Marshals Sworn In.

Mayor Smalley, of the borough, has sworn into office all the special marshals recently appointed.

DR. JENKINS WILL HEAD G. O. P. TICKET.

Republican Ticket For Coming City Election Has Practically Been Completed.

NO OPPOSITION IN SIGHT.

LEADERS BELIEVE THAT MR. BUCKLE IS NEEDED IN COUNCIL.

If Mr. Barrews' Name Had Been Presented, The Nomination Would Have Been His—Other Political Gossip.

To the First ward will go the Republican nomination for Mayor of Plainfield. And that nominee will undoubtedly be Dr. Olin L. Jenkins. Just so is the situation today. There have been some changes in the last twenty-four hours and the political atmosphere has been considerably clarified in consequence.

Two days ago the name af Councilman J. F. Buckle was on everybodys tongue as the probable candidate, when Former Mayor C. J. Fisk made known his decision that he could not possibly accept the nomination. Mr. Buckle has been a valuable man in the Council and some of the party leaders were loath to see him leave the Council floor. There was also some opposition to him outside of the First and Fourth wards. Furthermore, Mr. Buckle did not want the nomination.

Had Former Councilman E. T. Barrows declared his willingness to run for the chief executive office of the city, it would have been his name that would have headed the Republican ticket. So say the leaders of all the wards. But there were factional differences in the Third and Mr. Barrows stated that he did not want the nomination.

There was a conference yesterday which showed that there was a feeling favorable to Dr. Jenkins in the First, Third and Fourth wards. The Second ward has not yet expressed itself on Dr. Jenkins' candidacy, but it is not at all likely that there will be any opposition there. In casting about for a citizen of the First ward suitable to stand at the head of the ticket, the leaders of the First thought of Dr. Jenkins some time ago. His name began to be mentioned two days ago and has since come to the front with a strong boom.

The situation, at present, points very strongly toward Dr. Jenkins as the mayoralty candidate. It lays with the First and Fourth wards to say who the candidate shall be and it may be stated, on the best of authority, that Dr. Jenkins is very satisfactory to the Republicans of those wards. If the First and Fourth wards had consented to the Third ward man for the head of the ticket, they would have insisted that the nomination for school trustee should come to them and Dr. Jenkins would have undoubtedly been named. Now that the First is to have the mayoralty nomination, the First and Fourth will support Charles F. Abbott, of the Third, for renomination to the Board of Education. The Fourth is to have the collectorship with Frank H. Smith as candidate. The Second doesn't come in this year.

Such is the situation at present and there is every reason to believe that this slate will remain unchanged and will be unanimously nominated by the Republican city convention next Thursday evening.

Luncheon at Golf Clubhouse.

Luncheons at the clubhouse of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club have become very popular with the women of Plainfield society this year. An informal but altogether charming luncheon was given there today by Mrs. Mason W. Tyler in honor of Miss Lincoln, of New York. Covers were laid for forty. The table decorations were of chrysanthemums and were prettily arranged.

Old-Fashioned Reception.

"Grandma Grey's Reception" is the title of an old-fashioned reception and sociable which the Women's Association of the Congregational church will give in the parlors of that church this evening. An entertaining programme has been arranged. All the members of the congregation and their friends are requested to appear in old-fashioned costume.

Getting Ready for Holiday Festivities.

The members of the Gesang and Turn Verein are preparing to have the usual holiday celebrations at their hall on Somerset street. The young people will have their Christmas tree and the older folks will enjoy special festivities.

—Columbia Lodge, A. O. U. W., will meet this evening and have initiation.

AT THE GOLDEN GATE.

AUDIENCE TAKEN ON A TRIP TO THE PACIFIC SLOPE.

Dr. B. VanD Hedges Delivered an Interesting Lecture on His Impressions of California.

The announcement made some time ago that an illustrated lecture on California would be given in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church was sufficient to attract a fair-sized audience last evening. Had the name of the lecturer been given the chapel would no doubt have been filled to overflowing. It was kept secret, however, until the last minute and when it was announced as Dr. B. VanD. Hedges the audience was both surprised and pleased.

The Doctor recently made the trip to the far-off State and he was greatly impressed with its many beauties. To those about to travel, he declared, no finer trip could be taken than the one from which he has returned.

The commencement was made last March by the way of the B. & O. Railroad, the first stop being at New Orleans. After staying in the Crescent City for a short time, during which the speaker formed the impression that it was a poor city to live in, for sanitary reasons, and a good one to die in, on account of the elaborate funeral service and burial, the journey was resumed by way of the Southern Pacific. As the dry climate and dustiness of Texas and Arizona were left behind and the party encountered the atmosphere of California, laden with the perfume of orange and magnolia blossoms, the change was more than appreciated. A stop was made at Pasadena. The latter place was described by the speaker as containing more handsome residences and more handsome widows than any other town in California. This he said was caused by the sudden demise of sufferers from lung trouble, who had built homes in the town expecting to be cured by the dry climate.

Various other interesting places were visited, after which San Francisco was reached. Among the familiar places visited in that city were the Lick Observatory, with its 130 ton telescope, the Chinatown quarter, which has 60 000 Chinese, and the Leland Stanford University, California's great educational institution, all of which were described in a most graphic manner.

Before leaving for home the Yosemite Valley was visited, and its many natural wonders greatly impressed the entire party.

Second "At Home."

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clifford VanEmburgh held their second "at home" yesterday afternoon at their home on East Second street. Mrs. VanEmburgh was assisted in receiving by Mrs. George L. VanEmburgh and Miss Lillian A. Force. The dining room was prettily decorated in green. Mrs. F. M. VanEmburgh and Miss Olive Newell poured chocolate there while Miss Buell, of Bayonne, and Miss VanSickel, of Elizabeth, served. During the evening Wm. N. Runyon sang several solos.

Surprised on Her Birthday.

A surprise party was given to Mrs. Augustus Windham, of Fairview avenue, last Tuesday evening, in honor of the anniversary of her birthday. A number of relatives and friends were present and passed the evening in singing popular selections and dancing. At midnight supper was served, after which the guests left for their homes.

Biggest Attendance.

The Young Men's meeting addressed by Thomas F. Graham at the Y. M. C. A. building last night had the largest attendance of the evening meetings held this week. The vocal and instrumental music as well as the address were much enjoyed. "Faith" will be the subject of the talk to be given this evening.

U. S. Grant Club Smoker.

The officers and members of the U. S. Grant Republican Club have arranged to give a smoker and entertainment in the clubrooms, Spencer's Hall, next Monday evening. Every member is urged to attend.

Treated for Cross Eye.

Katy Green, young daughter of Lawrence Green, of the West End, has been discharged from the hospital cured. She was treated for a cross eye and Dr. Ard performed a very successful operation.

—Neuman Brothers are devoting special attention to apples this fall and expect a shipment of 150 baskets of fine fruit to be placed on sale tomorrow morning. Baldwins, Northern spies, greenings and russets will be found there.

Louis T. Hyde, of Oil City, Pa., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hyde, of East Front street.

GOLD IN PISCATAWAY?

GEORGE BELLOFF EXPECTS TO FIND IT ON HIS FARM.

Located Between Stelton and New Market—Shaft 42 Feet Deep Has Been Sunk.

The sensational news that gold has been found in large and paying qualities on the farm of George Belloff, in Piscataway township, may be heard within the next few days. His farm is located on the road between Stelton and New Market, and since particles of gold were found in the craws of some of his chickens last summer it has been the scene of active operations on the part of the owner in an eager search for the yellow but precious metal.

Mr. Belloff has had associated with him an experienced gold prospector. He has had the most approved machinery for digging gold installed in his barnyard, and if gold is on hand it will be found.

They have already dug to a depth of forty-two feet and the machinery has pumped up some small quanties of gold, according to Mr. Belloff's latest reports. It is expected that gravel, the kind found just before the gold veins are reached will be struck, and it will not be long then before big quantitities of gold are revealed, if it is to be found.

Everybody in the neighborhood of Mr. Belloff's farm is interested in his experiments and visitors are so numerous at times that he is compelled to shut his farm gates to prevent any more persons from entering. He has already expended $300 in his work, and surely deserves a just reward for his labor and his enthusiasm.

DELAY IN STREET WIDENING

Owing to the Amount of Work and the Limited Time of Commissioners it Cannot be Done Now.

It is now practically settled that Somerset street, in the borough, will not be widened this year. The commissioners appointed to treat with the property owners will not be able to complete their report for some time to come. They are very busy men and the time they give to the street matter is that outside of their regular business. After the assessments for benefits and damages are made an assessment map has to be prepared and this will take much time. Under the most favorable circumstances the report could not be prepared in several weeks. This would make it too late to start the work this winter.

If the street should be torn up at present bad weather might come and keep the street in wretched condition until spring. This is not the desire of the Mayor or Council, nor the commissioners, and inasmuch as it has practically been decided not to do the work this winter, the commissioners will not hurry their report. It will be prepared, however, and no doubt everything will be in readiness so that the work can be commenced next spring.

A Quiet Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Minnie Green and James Austin, both of this city, took place last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Coleman, of Cottage place, in the presence of a large number of guests. Rev. W. H. McLean, pastor of the Fillmore Avenue Baptist church, was the officiating clergyman. There was no bridemaid or best man. They young couple left for a short wedding trip and upon their return will reside in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Austin were the recipient of a number of handsome presents.

Glick Didn't Appear.

William Glick, of Cranford, who was arrested by Game Constable Charles Squires for shooting rabbits on grounds posted by the Cranford Fish and Game Protective Association, and who was allowed to go on his own recognizance to appear Wednesday evening before Justice Cox and answer a charge of trespass, failed to appear for trial. A warrant was issued for his apprehension by the Justice.

Will Discuss Hospital Needs.

A week from Monday next the board of governors of Muhlenberg Hospital will hold their regular meeting. It will no doubt be an important one as plans for increasing the accommodations at the hospital will be discussed at some length.

Address by Dr. Spooner.

The Local Christian Endeavor has secured Dr. Arthur W. Spooner, of Camden, State president of the Y. P. S. C. E., to give an address in the First Presbyterian church, on Thursday, November 22d.

—The Borough Board of Education will hold a regular meeting a week from next Monday evening.

POPULAR ADS WERE CLEVERLY PICTURED.

Unique Entertainment Given in Parlors of Park Avenue Hotel by King's Daughters.

TO AID CITY NURSE FUND.

PROGRAMME OF MUSIC AND RECITATION WAS ALSO GIVEN.

Affair Was Under Auspices of Dorcas Circle of King's Daughters—Hotel Parlors Were Crowded—Candy Sale Followed Programme.

A series of tableaux, illustrating some of the most familiar advertisements of the present day, was the chief feature of the entertainment given in the parlors of the Park Avenue Hotel last evening under the auspices of the Dorcas Circle of King's Daughters. In addition to the tableaux, there was a programme of music and recitations. The audience packed the parlors and a goodly sum was netted as a result of the entertainment.

In the last of the parlors a small stage was built and draped in red. Huge cardboard signs were posted by William Jeffery before each tableau, telling what was coming. There were eighteen tableaux, each of which pictured some well-known advertisement. They were cleverly arranged, and looked very much like the originals which are to be seen in all the magazines. Four little colored lads made quite a hit in representing the ad for the well-known dye which "never changes color." Three young men, with immense collars, presented the ad of a collar manufacturer. The tableaux closed with the patriotic group of a certain popular soup.

Those who took part in the tableaux were Miss Caroline Slauson, Miss Julia Fitzgerald, Miss Helen Whitney, Miss Annie Johnston, Miss Autumn Delaney, Miss Jessie Little, Miss Marguerite Ostrom, Miss Lillian Oakley, Sedric Ostrom, Cortney Starkweather, Joseph Gavett, Treadwell Slauson, Irving Oakley, Harry Slauson, Ted Gavett, John Gates, Irwin Leland, William Clark, Arthur W. Vail, Carl D. Pfender and William Jeffrey.

W. Vaughn McGee acted as master of ceremonies for the other part of the programme which was given at intervals between the tableaux. It included some clever banjo work by Fred VanEps, with W. E. MacClymont as his accompanist. Enjoyable soprano solos by Miss Katheryn Glen, and well-rendered violin solos by Miss Burnett and Mrs. Violet Truell Johnston. Miss Aimee Emmons gave an amusing recitation in a very satisfactory manner.

Harold L. Smalley presided at the piano during the tableaux and played various selections in the intervals between them.

Previous to the entertainment and at its close, home made candy was sold. Those in charge of the candy tables were Mrs. Edward S. F. Randolph, Mrs. Frank Howland, Mrs. Fred Stack, Mrs. R. T. Johnston, Miss Annie Wyckoff, Miss Jessie Mackingtosh and Miss J. Louise Jenkins. The committee in charge of the entertainment consisted of Miss Edith Little, chairman, Miss Anna Clark and Miss Lillian Oakley.

Proprietor Bailey, of the Park Avenue Hotel, very kindly gave the use of his parlors and was particularly kind to the young women in charge, aiding them in every way possible. The affair was for the benefit of the city nurse fund. Full returns have not yet been received but it is certainly that a goodly sum will be added to the fund.

Death of a Hunterdon Farmer.

Many friends in this city will learn with deep regret of the death of Luther Hoffman, of Lebanon, Hunterdon county, one of the best known farmers in that section of New Jersey. He died last Wednesday after a long illness. The funeral was held from his late home today. Mr. Hoffman was a brother of Mrs. John Krymer, of East Fifth street, and had many friends in this city and vicinity.

Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. Ladd as Hostess.

A very pretty luncheon was given at the club house of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club yesterday by Mrs. George A. Chapman and Mrs. E. H. Ladd, Jr. Covers were laid for forty. Profuse decorations of chrysanthemums gave the table a charming appearance. The service of Steward Ivamy at the luncheon was very satisfactory.

Laid Over the Term.

The argument in the application for a re-trial of the case of J. D. Spicer against Boice, Runyon & Co., was yesterday laid over until the next term of the Supreme Court in Trenton.

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Residents and Visitors who Go and Come in Society and Business.

Earl Lynn, of Orchard place, has recovered from an attack of diphtheria.

Sheriff Schoonmaker, of Somerville, was in North Plainfield yesterday on business.

Mrs. S. S. Swackhamer, of the borough, has about recovered from a recent illness.

R. M. Shepard, of Philadelphia, has returned after a short visit with relatives in this city.

Mrs. Anna Willice, of New York, has been the guest of Mrs. J. A. Blatz, of Somerset street.

Dr. Carman and Dr. Mattison were called out yesterday to examine a case of supposed lunacy.

Charles H. Angleman, who has had a law office in Westfield for the past three years, has removed to Newark.

Mrs. W. C. Smith, of Grandview avenue, is improving from injuries received a short time ago by falling down stairs.

F. A. Dunham, of West Fifth street, who is in Tennessee on business, is expected to return home before Thanksgiving.

Andrew B. Blair and family, formerly of the borough, have taken up their residence on West Fourth street, with David Bowden.

The many friends of Fred Ross, of Park avenue, will be pleased to learn that he is now able to sit up and is improving steadily from a serious illness.

Great Luck Of An Editor

"For two years all efforts to cure Eczema in the palms of my hands failed", writes Editor H. N. Lester, of Syracuse, Kan., "then I was wholly cured by Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's the world's best for Eruptions, Sores and all skin diseases. Only 25 cents at L. W. Randolph's.

—Campbell is advertising genuine old-fashioned chocolates and creams for tomorrow. Made on the premises. Watch this paper for their weekly advertisements, and their window for fine displays.

—There is no pleasure in life if you dread going to the table to eat and can't rest at night on account of indigestion. Henry Williams, of Boonville, Ind., says he suffered that way for years, till he commenced the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, and adds, "Now I can eat anything I like and all I want and sleep soundly every night." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest what you eat. L W. Randolph.

Mrs. Taggart, of New York, has been spending a few days with Plainfield friends.

The Misses DeMott, of Somerset street, have been entertaining company from Bound Brook.

Spread Like Wild Fire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, rundown man or woman. Price 50 cents. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

Raymond A. McGee, of Troy, was home to attend the wedding of his brother.

Mrs. Mary Lee, of Williamsbridge, N. Y., has been the guest of Miss Helen Cuming, of Putnam avenue.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern which is not afraid to be generous. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles and have the satisfaction of knowing it has cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, LaGrippe and all Throat, Chest and Lung diseases are surely cured by it. Call on L. W. Randolph, Druggist, and get a free trail bottle. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle gauranteed.

—Fred H. Firstbrook, grocer, 312 Liberty street, has a special sale every Saturday, in which he gives double amount of trading stamps. See his special prices.

—Both makers and circulators of counterfeits commit fraud. Honest men will not deceive you into buying worthless counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The original is infallible for curing piles, sores, eczema and all skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

J. E. Stewart and family, of West Seventh street, are home after an extended stay in the Berkshires.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Brown, of Mullica Hill, N. J., have returned home after visiting their nieces, the Misses Runyon, of East Sixth street.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

To Durell Runyon, Edgar J. Runyon and Ida Gaston Runyon, his wife, Lillian R. Gillespie and George E. Gillespie, her husband:—

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein Henry S. Hollingsworth et al. Executors, &c., of Albert B. Darby, deceased, are complainants, and Frederick W. Hoppel et al. are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the bill of said complainants, on or before the Fourth day of December next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a mortgage given by Charles J. Noel and wife to Albert B. Darby, dated June 17th, A. D. 1886, on lands in the City of Plainfield, New Jersey; and you, Durell Runyon, are made defendant because you own an undivided one-half interest in that portion of the mortgaged premises of which John D. Runyon died seized; and you Edgar J. Runyon and Lillian R. Gillespie, are made defendants because you each own an undivided one-fourth interest in that portion of the mortgaged premises of which John D. Runyon died seized; and you, Ida Gaston Runyon, are made defendant because you have an inchoate right of dower in an undivided one-fourth interest in that portion of the mortgaged premises of which John D. Runyon died seized; and you, George E. Gillespie, are made defendant because you may claim a right in an undivided one-fourth interest in that portion of the mortgaged premises of which John D. Runyon died seized, as tenant by the curtesy initiate; the interest of each of the above named defendants, in said mortgaged premises, being subject to the dower right of Sarah R. Runyon, widow of said John D. Runyon, deceased, therein.

THE CZAR'S ILLNESS.

Impression Prevails In Europe That It Is More Serious Than Reported.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The impression exists in most European capitals that the illness of Emperor Nicholas is more serious than it is represented to be, but this is probably based upon knowledge that the czar's constitution is not strong and is little likely to resist a serious attack.

In Copenhagen the illness is attributed to overwork in connection with the Chinese crisis, and there is also a suspicion that the hygienic conditions and water supply at Livadia may be faulty.

The dowager czarina receives news by courier twice each day. Her departure from Fredensberg had been officially fixed for Nov. 26. Preparations have since been made for her to leave at any moment, and the fact that she has not started indicates that there is no immediate danger.

It is feared, however, that even if no complications ensue the attack may be of long duration.

There is no news from St. Petersburg on the subject beyond the official bulletins, which indicate that the attack is only slight, no high temperature having yet been reached.

A dispatch from Rome says a rumor is current there that the illness of the czar is due to poisoning, and it is asserted that cipher telegrams have been received at the Vatican saying that an attempt was made to poison both the czar and czarina, but that the latter was not affected.

This story, however, is not believed.

Mountains on Fire.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Word was received here that a dangerous fire was spreading along Bear hill and Highland lake, near Highland Falls. It threatened Doodletown and Fort Montgomery. The fire started from a spark of a West Shore engine Wednesday afternoon. In less than ten hours the flames had swept several miles back in the mountains. Icehouses and "shoots" fed the fire. Wednesday at midnight the whole country seemed one continuous blaze. There has been no rain in the mountains since last April, and everything is dry.

Chicago Ambulance Corps Arrives.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The members of the Chicago Irish ambulance corps sent out to aid the Boers in South Africa have arrived at quarantine on the steamer Trave from Bremen. The men were sent out to South Africa by the United Irish societies of Chicago and left New York on Feb. 15 last on board the steamer La Gascogne. They arrived in South Africa about April 30 and left the Boer army in the vicinity of Lourenco Marques, from whence they sailed for Triest and thence to Bremen.

Burglary at Brasher Falls.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Nov. 16.—A daring burglary was committed at Brasher Falls by a gang of nine men. W. H. Capell's shop was entered, and tools were secured with which to effect an entrance into the store of J. H. McCarthy. The safe was blown open, but no money was found in it. The cash register was smashed and $9 taken therefrom. A great quantity of goods was also taken from the stock. T. D. Rachford's store was also burglarized and hardware taken to the amount of $50.

Governor Elect Samford Better.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 16.—All doubt as to the legal succession to the governorship in this state in case of the death of Governor Elect Samford before his inauguration Dec. 1 was settled yesterday by the passage in the lower house of the general assembly of a bill providing for such an emergency. The bill is now before the senate. Reports received from Opelika, Governor Elect Samford's home, state that he is improving and undoubtedly will recover.

Thirteen Killed In Railway Wreck.

BAYONNE, France, Nov. 16.—The southern express was derailed at noon yesterday between St. Geoures and Saubusse, near Dax, about 33 miles northeast of Bayonne. The restaurant car was precipitated over an embankment. Thirteen persons were killed and 20 others injured, seven seriously. Five passengers are missing. The list of killed includes Senor J. F. Canevaro, Peruvian minister to France, and an attache of the Peruvian legation in Madrid.

Preparing For Arctic Trip.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Nov. 16.—Mr. Evelyn B. Baldwin, who, as a member of the Wellman expedition, spent the winter of 1898-99 in Franz Josef Land and who was a member of the Peary expedition of 1893-94, has arrived here in search of steamers, men, dogs and other requisites for his projected north pole venture next summer, backed by the purse of Mr. William Ziegler. He will secure a sealing steamer prior to next spring's sealing voyage if possible.

Medicine Man Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16.—Eben C. Jayne, a nephew of Dr. David Jayne, of patent medicine fame, and who since 1866, when Dr. Jayne died, has been the head of the firm of Dr. Jayne & Son, has succumbed to pneumonia. Mr. Jayne was 73 years of age and was taken into the patent medicine firm in 1854.

Fatal Dynamite Explosion.

DUBOIS, Pa., Nov. 16.—An explosion of dynamite occurred at Driftwood yesterday which killed one man and injured several others. The force of the explosion shook every building in the town.

BOXER BARBARITIES

Inhuman Treatment of Christians Brought to Light.

MISSIONARY TELLS HORRIFYING TALE

An Eyewitness Describes Scenes of Murder and Mutilation by Chinese Soldiers — Other Important Eastern Advices.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 16.—Under the sanction and with the approval of the United States minister and the officers commanding the American troops in Peking George Tewksbury has been prosecuting inquiries, dictating terms and arranging indemnities in the villages around Lung-chow. Tewksbury's report, according to oriental advices, says his investigation "brought to light cruelties of the most barbarous description as practiced upon the native converts of that neighborhood by the Boxers. Some of the Christians and all their relatives and connections shared in whatever punishment was meted out. Some were buried alive, others were burned at the stake, and still others were first saturated with kerosene and then set on fire. A Belgian Catholic priest had strips of flesh cut out of his limbs and the holes filled with kerosene, which was then ignited."

Almost as horrifying a description was also brought by the steamer Empress of China yesterday and is given by Rev. C. H. Tjader of the Swedish Protestant mission of the murder of Rev. G. McConnell, Mrs. McConnell, their little boy, the Misses E. Burton and S. A. King, Rev. John Young and Mrs. Young and a native servant.

At Tsin-kianan the little party, fleeing for their lives, were overtaken by 20 soldiers and a mob of coolies. The soldiers hacked the missionaries to pieces with their swords, the women being forced to look at the murder and mutilation of the men and the baby. The bodies were thrown on the road and were still in the dust seven days after the murder.

Tokyo has been startled by an attack on the empress of Japan, who, while out driving, was made the object of a remarkable attack by a young man named Kanewa Iwasaburo. He claims to have royal blood in his veins, although the official genealogical records do not mention him and, though reared in a family of peasants, was given a command in the army. His leg was amputated in the Chino-Japanese war, and, unable to obtain recognition at court or even an audience with the emperor, he took the unique revenge of hurling his wooden clog into the carriage of the passing empress. The empress was struck on the head with the strange missile, but not seriously hurt. Her assailant has been sent to prison.

The Kunch Kong Hoi of Hongkong was recently held up by pirates on the West river and all the passengers looted of money, clothing and jewelry. The pirates also secured 14 boxes of specie of the value of $32,000.

Tuan and Chwang Degraded.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 15.—An imperial edict was issued yesterday which deprives Princes Tuan and Chwang of all rank and offices and hands them over to the imperial clan court. They are to be closely confined while awaiting further punishment. Duke Lan is also deprived of his rank. In regard to Governor Yu Hsien, the notorious antiforeigner who was recently reported to have committed suicide by swallowing gold leaf, it is ordered in the edict that he shall be temporarily handed over to the clan court for confinement while awaiting banishment to the farthest borders of the empire, where he is to work on the roads.

Havana Delegates Seated.

HAVANA, Nov. 16.—The Cuban constitutional convention held a short session yesterday in the Marti theater and adjourned until today. The report of the committee on credentials sustained the election of all the delegates from the province of Havana. Some irregularities, the committee asserted, had been committed, and some votes had been thrown out, but not enough to change the general result. The report was laid upon the table for discussion today. The committee's findings with reference to the other provinces were accepted by the convention.

Yerkes Reappointed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—John W. Yerkes, late Republican candidate for governor of Kentucky, has been appointed collector of internal revenue for the Eighth district. He will assume his duties Nov. 20. Mr. Yerkes, who resigned the office to which he has been reappointed to make his campaign of Kentucky for the governorship, called on the commissioner of internal revenue yesterday. He said he had abandoned all idea of contesting Governor Beckham's election.

A Tomato Trust.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 16.—Forty tomato growers, controlling almost the entire product of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, met here and raised the price of the vegetable 30 per cent over last year. They have formed an association and have fixed the price at 30 cents per bushel, pledging themselves to hold out for this price.

Students Fight For Front Seats.

OMAHA, Nov. 16.—In a fight between medical and dental students at Omaha Medical college over the possession of front seats Dale Woods of Schuyler, Neb., was perhaps fatally injured and Joe McCann, also a student, seriously hurt. Fists and sticks torn from desks were used.

Guiteau's Widow to Wed Again.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—A license has been issued for the marriage of Mrs. Anna Dunmire and Enoch Allen. Mrs. Dunmire was the widow of Charles J. Guiteau, hanged for the assassination of President Garfield in 1882. Allen is her third husband.

Alabama's Coal Output.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 16.—The biennial report of State Mine Inspector Hooper has been submitted to Governor Johnston. The coal production for the present year is estimated at 8,500,000 tons, the production in 1899 being 7,484,000.

Engines For South Africa.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Nov. 16.—An order for ten engines for the Cape government of South Africa is being filled by the Schenectady Locomotive works. They are essentially American, but English in appearance.

READY FOR CANAL.

President and People of Nicaragua Enthusiastic.

WILL AID UNITED STATES IN WORK.

That Government Has Annulled the Old Concession and Is Ready to Negotiate For the Building of the Waterway.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—When seen at the Nicaraguan legation yesterday and asked as to Nicaraguan canal affairs, Mr. Corea, who has just returned from Central America, said:

"I spent some time in conference with the president and members of the cabinet at Managua, and I am happy to say that President Zelaya and his associates and, in fact, the whole country are enthusiastic on the future of the great waterway. They are awaiting with interest the developments at Washington and are hopeful and confident that congress will pass the bill authorizing the opening of negotiations with the countries interested in the canal and the actual beginning of the important work of construction. In that connection I have the necessary instructions to facilitate in every desirable way the co-operation between the governments. It can be said generally that Nicaragua stands ready to do her full share in carrying forward this great project. Our president, Mr. Zelaya, is a very progressive man and is enthusiastic in promoting all measures contributing to the benefit of the country and of general commerce, and he is surrounded by strong and influential advisers, all inspired by the same progressive spirit. All of them see in the canal work the great development of Central America and a beneficial contribution to the world's progress, and they will do everything in their power and within the dignity of the republic to see that the work is realized."

When inquiry was made as to the long pending misunderstanding between Nicaragua and Costa Rica in connection with the canal, Mr. Corea said that by a fortunate arrangement this had been entirely removed.

"There never has been a time," said he, "when the relations between the two countries have been more close and cordial. On July 24 there was celebrated the conclusion of a boundary line which had been for years the cause of misunderstanding, and from that time both countries proceeded in mutual co-operation in the development of interests which will contribute to both of them. President Zelaya is anxious to sustain at any cost the peace of Central America, and as far as I know President Iglesias of Costa Rica is animated by the same purpose. I feel assured that peace cannot be interrupted between any of the Central American states, least of all among these two, who have such mutual interests. This means much, not only for the canal, but for the permanent tranquillity of Central America."

Concerning the Eyre-Cragin canal concession, Mr. Corea said the Nicaraguan government had declared officially that this concession was nullified in accordance with the provisions of the contract. The old concession, he said, had ceased to attract attention.

"So that," he added in conclusion, "I am happy to say Nicaragua is free to negotiate with any one ready to negotiate concerning the canal and especially the government of the United States."

No Rise In Meat Prices.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Absolute denial is made by Chicago packers of a report to the effect that the packers had advanced prices on all sorts of meat from 1 to 5 cents a pound and that there is a combine of the firms to hold the price higher regardless of the price of live cattle. "The reports that we have arbitrarily swelled the prices of meats are untrue," said E. F. Swift of Swift & Co. yesterday. "Supply and demand control the market now as they have always done. The election cut no figure whatever in the price of meat during the week following it, nor will it affect it."

Rescued From Sinking Ship.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16.—After floating on the ocean in a helpless condition on a sinking vessel for five days Captain Anderson and his crew of 13 hands of the Norwegian bark Highflyer have arrived here, having been rescued by the British steamer Georgian Prince, Captain Flett, from Hull. During the five days the crew was at the mercy of the waves they saw only two sails. The first one, according to Captain Anderson, came within half a mile of his vessel, but steamed away without giving any aid. The second ship sighted was the Georgian Prince.

Miss Barton Returning.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 16.—Miss Clara Barton and party of the Red Cross, who have spent several weeks in Galveston managing the distribution of relief among the storm sufferers, reached here yesterday in a special car. At Atlanta Miss Barton and her staff will stop for some hours to look after Red Cross work there. Miss Barton stood the trip to this city fairly well, though she is much fatigued as a result of her exciting labors in Galveston and is in the care of Dr. W. A. Dillinger of Galveston, who will accompany her to Washington.

A Long Distance Photograph.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 16.—Professor F. P. Leavenworth photographed the asteroid Eros through the telescope at the State university observatory last evening. Considering that the diminutive planet is said to be 34,000,000 miles away, it was a long shot. The professor said that the planet could not be seen with the naked eye or through the telescope. By a close mathematical calculation he ascertained its exact location, and the sensitive plate caught its likeness, even though it was beyond human ken.

Unanimous For Morgan.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 16.—The joint caucus of Democrats of both houses of the Alabama legislature unanimously nominated John T. Morgan for re-election as United States senator. No other name was presented. Senator Morgan was called before the meeting and made an eloquent speech in thanking the members for the honor conferred.

Bandit Was Well Born.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—The bandit who was killed Oct. 3 last by Express Messenger Baxter on the Kansas City, St. Joseph and Council Bluffs railroad is said to have been the outcast son of a wealthy Massachusetts family.

MONUMENT UNVEILED.

Memorial Erected at Scranton, Pa., to Civil War Heroes.

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 16.—Lackawanna county's tribute to her heroes of the civil war, a massive $50,000 memorial shaft, was unveiled yesterday with appropriate ceremonies. The miserable weather materially interfered with the attendance of participants and spectators, but withal it was an elaborate celebration.

The parade was participated in by G. A. R. posts of Scranton and Wilkesbarre, Sons of Veterans, the children of the Soldiers' Orphan school at Harford, the Spanish war veterans and the Ninth and Thirteenth regiments, national guard of Pennsylvania.

At the unveiling exercises there were addresses by A. B. Stevens of Scranton, Hon. Thomas Sample of Allegheny, Homer Green of Honesdale, Judge Alfred Darle of Wilkesbarre and Rev. P. J. McManus of St. Paul's Roman Catholic church, Green Ridge.

The monument stands on Courthouse square. It is 99 feet high, built of Barre granite, with bronze embellishments, and weighs 115 tons exclusive of the foundations. Over $5,000 was expended in building pillars in the old mine workings beneath the monument to insure a solid foundation, while a cylinder of solid masonry 35 feet in diameter and 35 feet deep directly supports the shaft.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Glasgow has been declared free from the plague.

King Oscar of Sweden is reported to be in a low state of health.

Work on Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger Shamrock II has been begun at Glasgow.

The collieries of the upper Schuylkill valley were reported severely hampered by lack of water.

The Society of the Army of the Tennessee re-elected General Grenville M. Dodge president.

The deer season in the Adirondacks has closed. The slaughter during the past week has been enormous.

The German reichstag has re-elected Count von Ballerstrem president of that body by 268 votes out of 294 cast.

The Norwegian bark Highflyer was abandoned at sea in a sinking condition. The crew was taken off by the Georgian Prince and brought to Philadelphia.

Western New York Snow Bound.

DUNKIRK, N. Y., Nov. 16.—The blizzard which struck the lake region of Chautauqua county has subsided. However, railroads are experiencing great difficulty in forcing trains through the drifts between Brockton and Buffalo. Last night four engines attached to 16 coaches, comprising three trains of three different roads, left Dunkirk for Buffalo two hours late. The consolidated train was made up of a Lake Shore train from Chicago, a Nickel Plate train from Chicago and a Pennsylvania train from Pittsburg. The Lake Shore tracks were used from Brockton to Buffalo. The snow belt extends 50 miles along Lake Erie, but is only five miles wide.

Burglars In Binghamton, N. Y.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Nov. 16.—Burglars were busy in Binghamton and vicinity yesterday morning. They left this city and worked their way east on the turnpike, stopping at farmhouses along the route. At Conklin they broke into the barn of Asa Fish, harnessed a horse to a light wagon and drove away. At Charles Bagley's, a few miles beyond, they stole clothing and a couple of checks. At the house of Charles Beardsley Mrs. Beardsley scared them away by telling them there was typhoid fever in the house. It is a case of tall and short man. They conceal the lower part of the face with a handkerchief.

Snow Three Feet Deep.

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 16.—The fall of snow in this vicinity and northern New York is unprecedented for thus early in the season. There is a fall of three feet on the level along the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg railroad and drifts from four to ten feet deep. A train became stalled on the Watertown branch and finally was abandoned from Carthage to Utica. Last night trains were from two to three hours late, the earliest blockade by snow in the recollection of the oldest railroad men.

Nebraska's Legislature.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Assistant Secretary of War Meiklejohn last night wired from Omaha as follows: "Official count of Omaha and Douglas county has just closed, showing one Republican senator and seven representatives elected. This gives us the organization of the house and senate, 72 votes on joint ballot, a constitutional majority of five."

Died After a Cane Rush.

BOSTON, Nov. 16.—Hugh C. Moore of Rochester, a Massachusetts Institute of Technology freshman, 19 years of age, met his death in the annual freshman-sophomore cane rush at the South End ball ground yesterday afternoon. He died within 20 minutes after the rush, in the ambulance while on the way to the hospital.

Jeffries to Fight Ruhlin and Sharkey

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—James J. Jeffries of California has signed articles of agreement for fights with both Gus Ruhlin of Akron, O., and Tom Sharkey of Ireland. According to the stipulations the bout with Ruhlin is to take place first.

British Garrison Besieged.

CAPE TOWN, Nov. 16.—A correspondent of the Cape Times reports that 1,250 Boers are besieging a British garrison of 250 regulars at Schweizerreneke, in western Transvaal, and that Lord Methuen and Colonel Settle are believed to be going to the garrison's relief.

Starch Factory Resumes Operations.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Nov. 16.—The Oswego Starch factory, the largest concern controlled by the National Starch company, has resumed operations after a shut down of two months. Four hundred hands are employed.

Population of Michigan.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The population of the state of Michigan as officially announced is 2,420,982 against 2,093,889 in 1890. This shows an increase since 1890 of 327,093, or 15.6 per cent.

MAMMOTH STEAMSHIPS.

Keels Laid For Iron Vessels Larger Than Any Now Afloat.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 16.—Actual work began this week on the laying of the keels of the mammoth iron steamships to be built at the works of the Eastern Shipbuilding company, Groton, opposite New London, and from this date the work of putting together the hulls of the ships will go rapidly on.

There was issued from the office of the company an authoritative statement regarding the size of the ships now building at the works, which shows the projected ships to be larger than any vessels in the world now building or planned. The new vessels will be of 20,000 tons register and 33,000 tons displacement, or just 10,000 tons more displacement than the new Atlantic greyhound Deutschland. The new steamers, which are being built primarily for cargo carriers, are not as long as many Atlantic liners, but are much wider and deeper. The following are the principal dimensions of the vessels: Length, 630 feet; beam, 73 feet; depth, 56 feet. They have each five continuous decks extending the whole length of the ship, with three additional partial decks amidships. The carrying capacity of these ships is tremendous, and the holds are such that 28,000 tons of coal can be carried. The dead weight carrying capacity at normal draft is stated as 20,000 tons. Passengers will also be carried, and excellent accommodations are provided for nearly 1,000 passengers in three classes.

It is estimated that when completed the steamships will cost fully $5,000,000 and are intended to run from the Pacific coast to oriental ports in connection with the Great Northern railway. The Eastern Shipbuilding company at the present time has several hundred men on its pay roll, but when the work gets well under way it is estimated that fully 2,000 men will be employed.

Anglo-American Commission.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Steps have been taken for resuming the important work of the Anglo-American commission, made up of representatives of the United States, Great Britain and Canada, and consideration of the subject now in progress probably will determine within a few days what course will be pursued. Correspondence has passed recently between Ottawa and Washington relative to resuming the work, and now that the elections on both sides of the border are over there is felt to be more time and opportunity to devote to the serious questions involved before this commission. It is understood that the American commissioners desire to remove the possibility of such ineffectual results as occurred at their last sitting. The indications are that this can be done through the co-operation of the state department by omitting the Alaskan boundary question from those to be considered, thus removing the chief obstacle to progress.

Croker Against Vice.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Richard Croker has instituted a crusade under the auspices of Tammany Hall against vice on the east side. He made a speech in which the movement was started at a meeting of the executive committee held in the wigwam on Fourteenth street. Mr. Croker made many forcible statements. He said not one dollar of money had ever gone into his pocket from blackmail levied on disorderly houses, gambling resorts or poolrooms. He declared that any Tammany leader who was accepting money from such sources had better resign, because he was a disgrace to the organization and would be found out and punished.

Condition of Senator Davis.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 16.—The new feature in the case of United States Senator Davis is the slight delirium on first awakening. This indicates the mental as well as physical strain under which the patient is suffering and is a stage of the kidney trouble, which is now the most serious difficulty with which the senator has to contend. The immediate family is prepared for the worst outcome, although hopeful of the possible turn for the better, which seems to appear in any favorable symptoms. Thus far this week has been full of anxiety, and they appreciate to the full the hard struggle for existence now being made.

Oklahoma's Vote.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Nov. 16.—Official returns from all the counties have been received, and the vote on delegate to congress stands as follows: Flynn (Rep.), 38,253; Neff (Fusion), 33,539; Tucker (Socialist), 780; Allan (middle of the road Populist), 780; Flynn's plurality, 4,714; total vote polled, 73,352; total vote in 1898, 45,831. This shows an increase in the vote in two years of 27,521. The legislature stands: House, 16 Republicans, 3 Democrats, 7 Fusionists. Council, 5 Republicans, 7 Democrats, and 1 Populist.

Increased Cable Facilities.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Consul Listoe, at Rotterdam, in a report to the state department says that a third telegraphic cable has been laid recently between the Netherlands and England and will expedite the delivery of American cablegrams via London. One of the wires will be connected immediately with the Atlantic cables at London, thus making it possible to cable to the United States without the intervention of the London office.

Headquarters In Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Within two weeks Republican national headquarters will be opened in this city, apartments having been selected in the building at the northeast corner of Vermont avenue and H street. All of the furniture of the eastern headquarters in New York and part of that of the Chicago headquarters has been shipped to Washington for the use of the national committee.

Well Known Newspaper Man Dead.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 16.—Frank W. Hinman, one of the best known newspaper men in Connecticut at one time, principally from being the founder of the Connecticut Associated Press, a state newspaper press association, is dead at his home on Howe street from typhoid fever, aged 38. He leaves a widow. Deceased was one of the most skillful yachtsmen in New England.

Deer Killed In Westchester.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Nov. 16.—There was much excitement among the hunters of Westchester county because of the appearance of two deer in the woods near the Empire race track. One of the deer was killed, and the woods were full of sportsmen who were searching for the other.

BIG DEAL IN ARMOR.

Secretary Long Announces Close of Controversy.

PRICE OF PLATES GREATLY REDUCED

Contracts Made With the Carnegie and Bethlehem Companies to Furnish Covering For Seventeen Vessels at $420 Per Ton.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Secretary Long announces the conclusion of the long controversy over the price of armor plate for naval vessels and an agreement with the Carnegie and Bethlehem companies for Krupp armor at $420 a ton, with the possible addition of royalty fees making the maximum price $455.52 a ton. The amount of armor involved is the largest ever placed at one time by the government and is said to equal all the armor purchased by this government up to 1896. It covers the armor for 17 ships now in various stages of construction, including eight battleships, six armored cruisers and three protected cruisers.

The following official statement was given out concerning the agreement:

"The navy department has come to an agreement with the Carnegie and Bethlehem companies for Krupp armor of the first class amounting to 24,950 tons for $420 a ton. The Krupp process involves the Harvey patent, the validity of which is now under consideration by the courts, and it is further agreed that the government will assume in addition any liability for the Krupp process not exceeding £5, or $24.32, a ton for Krupp royalty and not exceeding the United States license fee of $11.20 for Harvey royalty. The maximum price to the government is therefore $455.52 a ton, subject to diminution in case of any reduction in the foregoing royalties.

"The bid of these companies for this class of armor was $490, and the price originally asked $545.

"The Midvale company some time ago withdrew their bid, but they would have been unable in any event to furnish armor in due season for the Maine class of battleships. Had they not withdrawn their bid it is probable that some arrangement might have been made for the distribution among the three companies of the manufacture of the armor other than that of the Maine class. Their bid, however, was of value in enabling the department to secure the above large reduction."

Admiral O'Neill, chief of the bureau of ordnance, said of the result: "The agreement is most satisfactory. The terms are reduced not only to a reasonable point, but more than reasonable. We get armor cheaper than any country in the world. It is due not only to Secretary Long's able management of the matter, but also to the fact that the companies met him in a very reasonable spirit. It is only just that this should be understood."

The armor contract covers not only the 24,950 tons specified in the official statement, but also some 10,000 tons of armor of the second and third class, which has not been in controversy, but has been dependent upon the disposal of the first class armor. The entire amount, approximately 35,000 tons, is now made available.

Banker Morgan's Daughter Weds.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The marriage of Miss Louisa Pierpont Morgan, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, to Mr. Herbert Livingston Satterlee took place at half past 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon in St. George's Protestant Episcopal church, Stuyvesant square. The arrangements were on a scale of magnificence which has seldom been equaled. The marriage ceremony was performed by the rector of the church, the Rev. Dr. William S. Rainsford, in the presence of a brilliant gathering, including the representative men and women of New York's highest social circles. The church was profusely decorated with palms, roses and chrysanthemums.

President Reviews a Parade.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—President McKinley yesterday reviewed the annual parade of the police and fire departments of the District of Columbia. About 800 men in all were in line. The parade included 15 fire companies, five trucks and fuel and police patrol wagons. Several fire companies gave a speed exhibition as they passed the White House reviewing stand. The parade was headed by Major Sylvester, superintendent of police, and the Marine band, and the fire laddies were led by Acting Chief Belt and the Fifth cavalry mounted band.

Montana Mourns Daly.

HELENA, Mon., Nov. 16.—Memorial services for Marcus Daly, whose funeral took place in New York yesterday, were held in nearly all the churches throughout the state, and business of all descriptions was suspended, including the operations of all the mines, smelters and mills of the Amalgamated Copper company. No such scenes of mourning and evidence of respect have ever been witnessed in the west before.

Kentucky's Population.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The population of the state of Kentucky as officially announced is 2,147,174 against 1,858,635 in 1890. This is an increase of 288,539, or 15.5 per cent.

Old Corn In Farmers' Hands.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—It is estimated that 4.4 per cent of the corn crop of 1899 was still in farmers' hands Nov. 1 as compared with 5.9 per cent of the crop of 1898.

Enforce or Repeal It.

Since the State administration takes so much pride and gratification in accepting the fees of corporations organized in New Jersey, thus making a full treasury at Trenton, it seems strange that the law imposing a license fee of $10 upon each insurance broker in the State is permitted to remain a practical dead-letter. It is stated that there are 5,000 insurance agents in New Jersey subject to the provisions of this statute, but only 250 of them have taken out the license and paid the fee which the law obligates upon them.

This law was enacted March 30th, 1892, and the text of it can be found on page 366 of the public laws of that year. The penalty for the violation of this act is a fine of not less than $25 or more than $100 for the first offense, and a sentence to imprisonment for not more than sixty days for subsequent offenses.

With the law being applied to only about one-twentieth of those whom it is supposed to reach, the loss to the State can easily be seen. In round figures it approximates $45,000 a year. The failure to enforce the law would seem to fall upon the Insurance Department. As the year draws to a close it would be a good idea for the Superintendent of the Insurance Department to send notices to all delinquent agents, notifying them of the law and calling for the payment of the fee by January 1st.

As the act provides a legitimate source of income, the State should either enforce it or the Legislature should cause its repeal, if there is any good reason for such action. It is useless and detrimental to to have a law on the statute books that is enforced in such a lax manner.

The financial aspect of the Boer war is gradually assuming the chief importance in the public mind in England. Taking the anti-election estimate as a basis, the war is costing $35,000,000 a month, so that at least $120,000,000 will be needed before the end of the year, and another $100,000,000 at the end of the war to bring the army home, so that in any case it will mean increased taxation and an increased debt. It will probably be found that it has cost more than $10,000 to conquer each Boer. Therefore, it is not to be wondered at that each day increases the number of those who ask; "Has it been worth while?"

An American who served as a trooper in Kitchener's Horse tersely sizes up the incapables whom Lord Wolseley praises as the finest officers in the world. He says: "We never paid much attention to them when we got into a fight. We had business to attend to, and we just went whichever way seemed best. Some of these society chaps would go right out in the open, wearing their single eyeglasses, and get shot down like men."

The Newark Advertiser says that Hoboken is the smallest city in the United States in area, covering only 760 acres. With its 59,364 population, it has 61 persons to the acre, whereas New York, the largest city of the nation in area, with 197,192 acres, has but 18 to the acre. And the Paterson Press adds that when we consider the number of acres in Hoboken occupied by beer shops, the people must really be pretty well crowded.

The Elizabeth Journal pays this compliment to this city: "Plainfield has grown right handsomely. Its population is now 15,369, an increase of 36 4 per cent, in the past ten years. This is not quite so large a percentage of increase as that of Elizabeth, but it is very nearly as large. Plainfield is certainly a growing, enterprising, prosperous city."

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

What is the matter with Rahway? In the past five years it has not only failed to gain any in population, but has actually fallen off ten. In the past ten years, taken as a whole, it has gained about 839, but all this gain was made between the years 1890 and 1895. The past five years have seen Rahway recede, while other towns and cities in Union county were gaining. The time was when Rahway was a busy, industrial centre; when it was far ahead of Plainfield in activity and population; but this was before the war. Whatever the cause of Rahway's lack of advancement, it is to be deplored. What with the removal of her aforetime industries, her municipal failures, her bank troubles, etc., Rahway has come through a great deal of distress, but it was hoped that new conditions and the general prosperity would do more for Rahway than they seem to have done.—Elizabeth Journal.

Things that Are Not Exacty News but Just as Interesting.

O. M. Meekr's steam roller, under the charge of Engineer Jack Porter, is now working for the city on West Front street. The roller has hitherto been employed on the Passaic valley road, the contract for building which Mr. Meeker held. When that road was completed, the steam roller was brought over here last Tuesday. The steam roller made the trip alone from the road near Murray Hill, over Diamond Hill and down through the Notch at Scotch Plains. The trip was seven miles long and was made in a trifle over two hours. There were some lively times for Engineer Porter in getting the ponderous machine up and down the steep hills. In descending them he was compelled to back down as the water in the water-back would otherwise run out. The trip was made without accident although the roller had to plow through mud on the Notch road. Two iron bridges and one wooden bridge were crossed.

A letter has been received by Maze Edwards, manager of Music Hall, from his son, R. M. Edwards, who is one of Uncle Sam's men on board the U. S. S. Wilmington. The letter was sent from Montevideo, Uraguay, South America, and was dated September 25th. He stated that the ship would sail the following Thursday for the Philippines. The trip will cover a period of seventy-three days and a distance of 17,000 miles. Mr. Edwards states that he is well and enjoying life. He has had some very hard work preparing for the long trip. They have also experienced some very rough weather, and expect more of it on their long journey. The ship is due at Manila about January 19th, 1901. Young Edwards' letters was couched in breezy nautical language.

GRIGGS TO LEAVE CABINET.

Secretary of War Root May Become Attorney General.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Washington, D. C, Nov. 16—Attorney Generel Griggs authorized the statement last night that he would retire from the Cabinet March 4th. He gives as his reason for retiring private business. Mr. Griggs has a large law practice, and he wishes to retire to New Jersey to resume the work of his profession.

Gentlemen:—I must say in regard to GRAIN-O that there is nothing better or healthier. We have used it for years. My brother was a great coffee drinker. He was taken sick and the doctor said coffee was the cause of it, and told us to use GRAIN-O. We got a package but did not like it at first, but now would not be without it. My brother has been well ever since we started to use it.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Nov. 16—A drunken man, who claimed to be a canal boat captain from Bound Brook, created considerable disturbance on the streets early last evening. He shed his coat and offered to try his pugilistic powers on anyone who desired to have him do so. It is also said that he flourished a revolver in a rather dangerous manner. He finally disappeared in the direction of Bound Brook.

A special meeting of the borough Council was held at Taylor's Hotel last evening for the purpose of consulting with Counsel Wills in regard to the poor water supply furnished the borough. No definite action was taken however, and the matter will again be brought up at a later meeting.

An entertainment will take place in the Presbyterian chapel this evening. An admission fee will be charged and the proceeds will be devoted to buying presents for the Sunday-school scholars at Christmas.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Nov. 16—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pierce entertained a number of friends at a pleasant card party Wednesday evening. Refreshments were served at the close of the affair.

The members of Lakeside Council and their friends who visited Unity Council, D. of L., at New Brunswick, Wednesday evening, arrived home safely shortly after midnight with one exception. In some way George Logan forgot the hour of the stage's departure and was left behind. By good luck he managed to get home by another conveyance, but it was some time after the others had arrived.

A talk on the missionary work among the New York Italians will be given in the First Baptist church this evening by Mrs. Dessore, of New York.

A large number of buyers attended the J. M. Adams' sale yesterday, but the majority of the household and farming goods were sold at extremely low prices.

According to the figures given out by Supervisor Tunis, of New Brunswick, the population of Piscataway township is 2,630.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Nelson are entertaining Miss Mattie Bonnell, of Union.

Miss Mary Dunn is the guest of relatives at Gladstone.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, November 16.—John H. Coles, who is a lover of fine fowls, has lost a number of valuable chickens of late by a disease resembling colic. A number of remedies were tried to check the disease which was spreading among all the fowls, but none seemed to be the right thing until the incubator people at Lincoln heard of the disease and sent a remedy as a trial. The trial was a success. No more chickens were lost and the epidemic was completely wiped out in a few days.

Rev. G. M. Shott will lead the weekly prayer meeting in the Baptist church this evening. Mr. Shott has arranged for a series of short talks upon some of the interesting and well-known books of the Bible at these Friday evening meetings and a cordial invitation is extended to all to attend the services.

The local football eleven will meet the Roselle eleven on the Dunellen gridiron Saturday afternoon. The reason for the game being played at Dunellen, is several of the Dunellen boys are members of Scotch Plains team and have asked to have this game on their grounds.

The Young People's Literary Society met and enjoyed an interesting reading from Shakespeare in the class rooms in the Methodist church last evening.

The "Soldier Queen" at Music Hall last evening was enjoyed by a number of amusement lovers from the village.

The Township Committee will meet in the town rooms this evening.

WESTFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Westfield, Nov. 16.—The Westfield Board of Trade and Imporovement Association, through a special committee of which W. G Peckham is chirman, has succeeded in getting the Central Railroad of New Jersey to erect an overhead bridge over their tracks in this town half way between the Broad street crossing and the Fanwood bridge. The street has been cut through on both sides of track and for years the property owners in that vicnity on both sides have worked for the bridge. After looking at the matter from all sides Superintendent Chausen said that the bridge would be built. He stated that the company meant to build before but that they had waited for the result of the late election. It was decided also to lower the roadway under the railroad tracks at Broad street and do away with the crossing, whice is a very dangerous one. The railroad officials wanted the township officers to agree to let the company lower Centrel avenue also but this the Westfielders refused to do.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Nov. 16.—There is more trolley rumors going, but they never get nearer a trolley line than getting the signers for the right of way.

Walter Conors and Stanley Weaver are both detained at home by illness

A. Brundage is painting a house for Still Blackford, of Piscataway.

FIRENEN FOUGHT.

Roselle's Departments Wage a Watery Fight, Clothing Is Torn and Arrests Will Follow.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Roselle, November, 16 —The North and South Side fire departments of Roselle are in a very disorganized state as the result of a fight at a fire in Westfield avenue Wednesday night.

The house of Patrick Cassidy caught fire, and both the North and South side fire departments responded to the alarm. The South Side department is from Roselle, and the North from Union township. The North Side refused to allow the South Side department to assist them in put out the blaze, and a free fight followed.

Both companies used their hose with deadly effect on each other. A half dozen members of the departments were knocked over by the force of the water. As soon as they recovered their breath the members made a combined assault on each other.

Borough Marshal Blake Catham had his clothing torn off, and drawing a club, he knocked down Thomas Buchanan, a member of the North Side department. Several of the men were badly hurt and a number of arrests followed. It is unnecessary to add that the house burned down while the fight was going on.

—Rev. Floyd Appleton's lecture on the Passion Play at Oberammergau will be given in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church next Monday evening, for the benefit of the Woman's Exchange.

Preußen.

Provinz Brandenburg.

Berlin. Der Gesellschaft für Hoch- und Untergrundbahnen ist die Genehmigung zum Bau und Betrieb einer elektrischen Straßenbahn von der Warschauer Brücke durch die Warschauer- und Petersburgerstraße, über den Bastenplatz, durch die Thaer- und Eldenaerstraße bis zum städtischen Centralviehhof ertheilt worden.—Der verheirathete Hauswart und Portier Oskar Gräbert war vor einiger Zeit mit 20,000 Mark einkassirter Miethgelder durchgebrannt. In seiner Begleitung befand sich ein 16jähriges Mädchen, das in seiner Familie verkehrte. Neulich wurde das Paar in Wittenberg ermittelt und festgenommen.—Der 20 Jahre alte Arbeiter Hermann Büngle wollte auf einen Wagen springen, nachdem die Pferde schon angezogen hatten. Büngle kam dabei so unglücklich zu Falle, daß ihm das linke Vorderrad über den Kopf ging. Mit zermalmtem Schädel blieb er auf der Stelle todt liegen.—Am Herzschlag plötzlich gestorben ist auf dem Grünauer Bahnhof die Ehefrau des Gerichtssekretärs Nietz von Berlin. Die 40jährige Frau war mit ihrem Manne von einer Reise aus Pommern zurückgekehrt, wo sie an der Feier der goldenen Hochzeit ihrer Eltern theilgenommen hatten.

Fürstenwalde. Das Schwurgericht verurtheilte die geschiedene Eigenthümersfrau Luise Sauermann aus Steinhöfel wegen Ermordung ihrer 79jährigen Mutter zum Tode.

Groß-Lichterfelde. Mehrere Gesellen des Dachdeckermeisters Kinzel waren damit beschäftigt, auf einem vierstöckigen Neubau das Pappdach zu theeren. Der 18jährige Arbeiter Wedler hatte auf der Straße Aufstellung genommen, um die mittelst Winde herabgelassenen leeren Theerkessel zu füllen und wieder emporzuwinden. Plötzlich sauste der schwere eiserne Kessel aus einer Höhe von circa 15 Meter hernieder und zerschmetterte in furchtbarem Anprall dem jungen Wedler den Schädel, so daß das Gehirn weit umherspritzte.

Rathenow. In einer Stadtverordnetensitzung wurde der Bau einer Wasserleitung für die Stadt Rathenow beschlossen. Die Gesammtkosten der Anlage betragen 710,000 Mark.

Provinz Hannover.

Hannover. Der Egestorff'schen Maschinenbau-Aktiengesellschaft anhier hat die spanische Regierung den Auftrag auf Lieferung von Lokomotiven im Werthe von 1,600,000 Francs ertheilt.

Göttingen. Wegen zahlreicher Wechsel- und Urkundenfälschungen war der Agent Wahl flüchtig geworden. Er wurde jedoch noch am Abend desselben Tages im Metropoltheater zu Hannover verhaftet.

Ricklingen. Hierorts waren in mehreren Häusern Erkrankungen an den schwarzen Blattern vorgekommen. Die erkrankten vier Personen wurden den Blatternbaracken in Hannover zugeführt.

Provinz Hessen-Nassau.

Dörnigheim. Die 19jährige Tochter des Milchhändlers Heck kam mit ihren Kleidern dem Herdfeuer zu nahe, in Folge dessen diese Feuer fingen und ihr schwere Brandwunden beifügten, an deren Folgen sie verstarb.

Frankfurt. Friedrich Köhler aus Frankfurt stürzte bei einer Bergpartie in der Schweiz ab und wurde todt aufgefunden.

Wiesbaden. Nach einem Beschluß des Stadtverordnetenkollegiums wird in der Folge von allen der Trinkkur obliegenden Personen eine Brunnentaxe von 3 Mark für das Vierteljahr und 5 Mark für das Jahr als Gebühr für die Aufbewahrung und Nummerirung des Trinkglases sowie die Bedienung erhoben, womit der Trinkgelder-Unfug beseitigt werden soll. Zugleich nimmt die Stadt den Brunnenausschank in eigene Regie.

Provinz Pommern.

Stettin. In einer unter Vorsitz des Oberbürgermeisters Haken abgehaltenen Generalversammlung des Kunstvereins für Pommern wurde unter Anderem mitgetheilt, daß der Fonds zum Bau eines Museums bereits auf 986,144 Mark angewachsen sei.

Köslin. Im Hinblick auf den in Pommern zur Zeit bestehenden Lehrermangel hat die Regierung des Kösliner Regierungsbezirkes die Kreisschulinspektoren angewiesen, für die unbesetzten Lehrerstellen Stellvertretungen, und zwar bei mehrklassigen Schulen durch die anderen Lehrer der Schule, bei einklassigen durch die Lehrer der Nachbarschulen einzurichten. Es ist, wie es in der betreffenden Verfügung heißt, dabei festzuhalten, daß täglich an jeder Schule, wenn auch mit verkürzter Unterrichtszeit, unterrichtet werden muß.

Provinz Posen.

Posen. Die Handelskammer nahm eine Resolution an, welche die Heranziehung aller Konsumvereine und eingetragenen Genossenschaften zur Gewerbe-, Staats- und Gemeindeeinkommensteuer fordert, damit eine gleichmäßige Belastung der Steuerpflichtigen herbeigeführt werde.

NEWEST FASHIONS.

Never did I see so many things worthy of special attention, and never did I find the things so cheap. Certainly there are dear ones—so dear that one scarcely dares to ask the price, for fear of falling to the floor in a faint. The good, kind husbands are now in the best of humor if their preferred candidate has won, and maybe there have been a few little bets won, and so, dear little wives, let me tell you that this is just the time to ask them for a small amount of extra cash. It has always been understood that the election bets are the legitimate spoil of the wives. So I hope you have all been able to take advantage of the fact and that you are prepared to go shopping, and this letter is to tell you what to buy if you want to be in the front rank of the most fashionable. The new cloaks and mantles are handsome indeed to look at, but the woman of today is too active to be able to get the proper wear out of them, for the reason that they are so long that they require slow and dignified movement, and our women are given to swift action and movement. The cloaks are so long that, as a rule, they touch the ground, and, hanging open in front, as the most of them do, they are greatly in the way. No one can get into car, carriage or mount the steps of any place with a purse in one hand and a parasol in the other without peril and also without the danger of stumbling. Some of the empire coats look more like nightrobes than anything, with the only difference of material. Covert is seen in very many of the newest of these long wraps, mostly the cravenetted covert, which is waterproof, and they are really elegant when seen in repose, but not so when the lady is climbing in and out of cars and going up stairs.

The long and splendid velvet cloaks and mantles are cut away in front so that they are easier managed. Right here I wish to say that there seems to be a great confusion about the names of these long garments, as some are called mantles, and perhaps in the next store they will be called wraps, opera cloaks, and others have still other names. But they are all as beautiful as if they bore one name only. The evening wraps are too magnificent to describe. The most superb brocade, with real gold thread running through it, is used in some of them, and others are so covered with lace, beading and furs that it is almost impossible to say what the foundation is. But the chic of all is the square shouldered, short box coat, made of the lightest beige doeskin cloth or melton or the heavy broadcloth made expressly for cloaking. Not every one can have the automobile necessary to the happiness of every one, but all can walk, and that is why the short box coat is so very fashionable for the smart set. The shoulders are fitted with a sort of half moon piece of canvas sewed with strips of featherbone tape and backed by a fine covering of cotton batting, so that the boning shall remain invisible, while the shoulders become of the required squareness, and that is saying much. The day of sloping shoulders has gone by, and the square shoulders of the athlete are the fashionable ones. It was impossible to make sloping shoulders where nature had designed other ones, but it is easy with this contrivance to get the square effect, and then all one has to do is to live up to it.

Very little gold braid or gold cloth is now being put on new garments, for, no matter how much one pays for it, it tarnishes so soon that it is scarcely worth while. It costs $6 to $8 a yard for the cloth, and it is narrow, and when one can hardly get a week's good wear out of it it is poor value.

The newest of the shirt waists are so pretty that it is no wonder that all the women are wild to get one of the clan plaids and one of the ridiculous fancy handkerchief petticoats. These last are of taffeta silk of some kind or other, with the regulation number of ruffles, and above them is a sort of flounce made of handkerchief points, with the points down. These are the rumchundas, which did not please well in waists, and so, as the stock was left on the hands of the importers, it seems that the petticoat makers thought they might be utilized in that way.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 18—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—What intemperance costs our nation.—Prov. xxiii, 1-7; 15-21. (Quarterly temperance meeting.)

In these passages Solomon warns us against the temptation to excess in drink and against the direful consequences that follow intemperance or excessive indulgence in strong drink By way of warning against the temptation he says, "Put a knife to thy throat if thou be a man given to appetite," and the consequence of intemperance in drinking and eating is set forth when he says, "Be not among winebibbers, among eaters of flesh, for the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty." In eating with a king the temptation to excessive indulgence is strong, but it costs a man dearly to become a drunkard. Financially, socially and morally drunkenness exacts an awful cost of its victims. As with individuals, so it is with nations, and these two phases of the question of intemperance come to us with special force and power. The temptation is before us, and the cost is being exacted with inexorable regularity. Intemperance is one of our national sins. The saloon is a national disgrace, and the havoc it is annually working would be appalling if the American people gave the matter serious thought and comprehended the universal and widespread devastation of the drink traffic. But, alas, like Nero of old, we fiddle while this fire of hell burns the hearts and lives and souls out of a half million of American citizens annually!

Americans as a nation are peculiarly tempted to excessive indulgence in alcoholic drinks. Dr. Strong in "Our Country" has thoroughly established the fact that Americans are more susceptible to the temptation and dangers of intemperance than any other people in the world. This results from the fact that as a nation we are the most nervous of people. This excessive nervousness is a consequence of the climate in which we live and of our manner of living—the intense character of our lives in every respect, which has an injurious effect upon our nervous systems. Nervous people are more likely to crave stimulants than others and are more responsive to them. Their effects are more rapid and more direful. These facts demand extra precaution on the part of Americans if we would not become a nation of drunkards.

The cost of intemperance to the American nation is incalculable. If we could calculate the cost in men, money and morality, it would be appalling and overwhelming. It costs the lives of 500,000 men every year! If the drunkards of America were placed in a line five abreast, like an army, they would form a procession 100 miles in length! It costs in money annually $900,000,000—more than all the railroad receipts of our country! The moral loss, could it be computed, would be more stupendous and appalling. Intemperance corrupts the citizen, defiantly breaks the law, educates lawbreakers, debauches lawmakers and executors and has a damning, blighting influence upon our courts of justice, our legislative bodies and all our political life. What a cost! And yet the nation permits it and under the protection of the law! May God forgive us and guide us in some way to overthrow this giant evil before it is too late!

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Have some temperance orator deliver a special address on "The Nation and Intemperance."

BIBLE READINGS.

Lev. x, 8-11; Num. vi, 1-4; Deut. xxi, 18-21; Prov. xx, 1; xxiii, 29-35; xxxi, 4, 5; Isa. v, 11; xxviii, 1-4; I Cor. v, 11; Gal. v, 19-26.

As Christ Did.

We are to touch men wherever and however found. We are to put the mind of Christ into life and effort and to make His gospel a living, ameliorating and redemptive force at all times and under all circumstances. When the church rises to this high conception of her privilege and her obligation, we may look for a ripening harvest upon a most magnificent scale. Indifference will flee away, and warm, earnest and persistent work will take its place. Talent, genius, wealth and energy will be consecrated to and find their fullest and noblest development in the cause of Christ. The slums will be reached; the home will be improved and elevated; the city will be redeemed and purified; the nation will be regenerated; society will be leavened; mankind will be benefited and saved, and the Lord of the harvest will get increasing glory and honor from the mighty and blessed ingatherings of Christian evangelization.—Presbyterian.

The Value of Ignorance.

Ignorance of evil protects the young. Many specific forms of evil thought and action would pass out of the minds of men and never come again if once they could be forgotten. A love of virtue may be all the stronger in a youth because his imagination has never been marred and defiled by the record of sin.—Christian Register.

Thine.

Thine, Thine only and forever,
Purchased with Thy precious blood;
Links of love that naught can sever
Bind my soul to Thee, my God.

Thine today, and Thine forever;
Other lords have ceased to reign.
In this heart's whole realm, oh, never Let one rival rise again!

Thine, and only Thine forever;
Thine to follow, serve, adore;
Oh, direct my life's endeavor
Toward Thy glory evermore!

Thine on earth; in heaven forever
Where Thou art I soon shall be;
Height nor depth Thy saints shall sever,
Jesus, from Thy love and Thee.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 18, "What Intemperance Costs Our Nation"—Text, Prov. xxiii, 1-7, 15-21.

"Be not among winebibbers, among riotous eaters of flesh."

The temptations of young men are not much different now from what they were in the days when this book of Proverbs was written or compiled. They remain the same in all lands and times. This need surprise no one if he will stop and consider what the assailable side of a young man is and the points on which he is most liable to be attacked.

Boyhood is passed. Self reliance is growing rapidly. Muscles have been developing and the sense of physical strength is strong. Self direction comes to the front. He is thinking for himself. Authority of others has lost its old hold. The new life of manhood begins to assert itself. He can be no longer led; he must of necessity find a way for himself. The world is wider than he has known it to be. He must explore, must master it for himself. His food has before this been selected for him. Others have protected and directed. In future he must make his own way. He must do his own selecting, form his own tastes and habits of living. Fortunate is the young man who has had judicious direction while in boyhood.

Consciousness of strength and right to choose for himself are the two leading elements in the life of the young man as distinguished from the boy. A third factor is found in the inclination for companionship. These three are the strong foundations on which stable character can be builded and a long, happy career secured. They also give the chance for sharpest temptations and utter failure of happiness and wrecking of all hope.

Every physical appetite is keen and urgent and needing firm, strong control. Every social instinct is alert and insists that pleasure is the highest good, while experience has not been able to separate the worthy from the vicious.

It makes small difference whether the home be in city or country or what the daily occupation may be, wherever the young man or young woman lives there will be found two classes of companions who will urgently solicit friendship. The free, easy, witty, jovial lovers of a good time who are not overnice in speech or action, but who enjoy the dance, the theater, a social glass and cigar, music and the company of the opposite sex—it is useless to attempt to deny the attractiveness of this class. They are not so very vicious, and there are beauty, grace, enjoyment, social, mental and physical, in their companionship.

Those who think these things evil are so often dull, commonplace, lacking spirit, prosy and prudish that they repel rather than allure. What wonder that multitudes of the young drift or deliberately steer for the track of the seekers of pleasure!

A clear note of warning is needed; not harsh, but full, ringing, unmistakable, so that the danger which lies in the track of the fascinating wrong may be realized and avoided. One who has for a score of years watched the lives of our young people in city and country must have seen the invariably fatal results of association with those who use intoxicating liquors and walk with winebibbers and riotous eaters of flesh. It makes no difference whether it is in high society or low life. The amount of money does not change the result. Moral character and religious hope are sure to be wrecked. "Evil communications corrupt good manners." No physical constitution is proof against the assaults of alcoholic liquors. No moral resolution is abiding in the companionship of the socially impure.

What does it cost the nation? We cannot compute the waste in wealth and health, how much less can we estimate the loss in manhood and womanhood. But the loss to our nation of its strength and beauty in its young people is the most terrible of costs.

Its Buildings.

The liquor traffic has fine buildings. The great distilleries and breweries are among the most conspicuous edifices in the towns and cities of the land. They are often more costly and imposing in size and more elaborate in style than any schoolhouse, public building or church in the place.

No expense is spared in the fittings of the saloons. Mirrors, marbles and mosaics, fine woods, paintings, pianos, lights and luxurious fittings of every kind are provided for the patrons. Of course it is all paid for by the drinkers' money. But who ever heard them complain of the cost?

Then the jails and prisons, the reformatories and asylums, the courthouses and police stations—how substantial and imposing! What pride we can take in these things! We sometimes complain of the taxes for schools, and often, very often, we hear growling at the cost of running the church, but no one ever hears much fault finding at the expense of maintaining our liquor business.

It is worth a long journey to see the saloons of Chicago and New York on the great avenues and compare them in brilliancy and beauty with the dingy, dirty down town churches. We house our rum business better than our religion.

O music, thou surely art worship,
But thou art not like praise or prayer,
And words make better thanksgiving
Than thy sweet melodies are.

Thou, Lord, art the Father of music;
Sweet sounds are a whisper from Thee.
Thou hast made Thy creation all anthems,
Though it singeth them silently.

But I guess by the stir of this music
What raptures in heaven can be,
Where the sound is Thy marvelous stillness
And the music is light out of Thee.
—Faber.

SPORTING.

ON THE GRIDIRON.

The Newsboy's football team will play a game with the North Plainfield Excelsior's on Martine's common tomorrow morning. "Man Eater" Mullen will be in charge of the former team.

There will be football on Martine Common tomorrow afternoon. A game was scheduled by the Alis A. A. with the Knickerbocker Football Club, of New York, and the latter club was compelled to post a forfeit to prevent a repetition of the incident of Election Day. The New Yorkers asked to be released from their agreement yesterday, and so arrangements were made with the Bergen Point Field Club for a game with the latter team. The Bergen Point team has been long anxious to play the Alis boys, and, as the Bergen Pointers had an open date for Saturday, they were glad to fill in instead of the Knickerbocker team. The game is called for 3:30 o'clock.

GOLF

The golf committee of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club has posted the following notice: "Owing to the lack of entries and the number of members that will be away this Saturday afternoon, the competition for the men's foursome cup will be postponed until some future date. Members desiring to enter for the Gilbert cup, mixed foursome, Thanksgiving Day, must send their entries to L. E. Waring, 900 Park avenue, not later than Tuesday, the 27th inst.

PROPERTY TO BE SOLD.

Judge Vail Orders Disposition of Mrs. Cash's Estate to Pay Her Debts.

The case of Jeremiah Cash, administrator, against Mary Doll was heard before Judge Vail on Wednesday last at Elizabeth. The case is one where the personal property of the late Maggie Cash, deceased, is not sufficient to pay the debts of the estate, and the plaintiff desires to sell the real estate to settle the debts. Mary Doll is a step-daughter of the administrator and does not want the property sold. W. A. Coddington represents the administrator, while Lawyer Gordon, of Jersey City, represents the defendant. After hearing both sides Judge Vail gave orders to sell the property. He also allowed the defendant a few days grace in which to appeal the case.

—Neuman Brothers have just received a carload of Michigan potatoes. They are very fine and are selling fast.

—DeWitt,s Witch Hazel Salve will quickly heal the worst burns and scalds and not leave a scar. It can be applied to cuts and raw surfaces with prompt and soothing effect. Use it for piles and skin diseases. Beware of worthless counterfeits. L. W. Randolph.

elective, so that pupils do not expect to pursue their education beyond the High School may elect the most useful to them. All colleges having now dropped the requirement of Greek to enter, that study will not be taught in the High School. And in the classics course, among the elective branches now are astronomy, botany, geology, typewriting, stenography, etc. These are five High School courses, any one of which may be selected by the pupil.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

A grand spectacular production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," by "Amy Stone's Little Tots," will be given at Music Hall tonight and tomorrow night, and at a matinee tomorrow afternoon. This is said to be the first time on record of children sustaining all the requirements of this great drama, and as far as known the "Tots" are the only regular juvenile organization of any kind in the United States at the present time. Many years ago there was an orgenization known as the Marsh family, who appeared in some of the standard comedies of the day, and many of the members of that little company are now leading lights in the dramatic world. Then there was a juvenile "Pinafore" company, but since that went out of existence no juvenile dramatic company has been known. Mrs. Amy Stone, who was at one time a popular actress, and is now a teacher of elocution in Newark, conceived the idea of forming a juvenile company to play "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and gave her first performances last spring, meeting with unqualified success. Encouraged by same, she has now arranged for a complete tour with her little pupils, and their work will be seen as above mentioned. None of the children are over 12 years old, and the play will be given in its entirety, with new scenery, correct costumes, and interspersed with lots of specialties. At the matinee tomorrow, which is particularly for children and ladies, children under 12 will be admitted for 10 cents; adults, 25 cents, and reserved seats are fixed at 50 cents each.

* * * * *

Charles E. Blaney's Chinese American drama, "King of the Opium Ring," which made a genuine and unmistakable hit, and a hit that grew in proportion every day, when presented last season, will be seen at Music Hall on Friday of next week. It is the first duty of a melodrama to be melodramatic, and this play is melodramatic to a high degree. Many thrilling scenes are graphically pictured. Scenically, the play is beautiful. The sets, reproductions of scenes in San Francisco's Chinatown, are marvels of the scene painter's art. There is a pretty love story running through the play, which relieves the harshness and happenings in Chinatown, while a number of very clever specialties are introduced in the several scenes.

Mrs. Lancaster Held for Grand Jury.

In answer to the counter charge made by Law Student Wm. Sweeney, Mrs. Frederick Lancaster was arraigned before Justice Smalley yesterday. She was held in $100 bail for the Grand Jury. Mrs. Lancaster was also arraigned before Justice Abbott on a second charge preferred by Sweeney. Bail was fixed at $100.

WANTED TO KILL EMPEROR.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Breslau, Nov. 16—Emperor William was the object of an attempted outrage this morning, which, however, failed. He was driving in an open carriage to the Cuirassier barracks, accompanied by hereditary Prince Saxe Meiningen. A woman in the crowd hurled an ax at the Emperor's head, but the rapidity with which the carriage was going saved the occupants. It fell just behind the carriage. The woman was arrested and hurried off to jail.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

J. P. Laire, of Trenton, was in town for a little while today and called on a few of his friends in the business section of this city.

Miss Marion P. Bowen, of Watchung avenue, will sail tomorrow on the Fuerst Bismarck to spend the winter with relatives in Athens, Greece.

—A team of horses and a plough are being used on West Front street to good advantage in removing the huge bumps, previous to macadamizing the street.

Dr. D. C. Adams and J. A. Smith, who have been on a hunting expedition in Virginia, returned home yesterday afternoon. They were detained on their homeward journey and did not arrive earlier as expected.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—A shipment of 150 baskets of choice table and cooking apples will be received at Neuman Brothers tomorrow morning. They will include Baldwins, Northern spies, greening and russets.

—You can't afford to risk your life by allowing a cough or a cold to develop into pneumonia or consumption. One Minute Cough Cure will cure throat and lung troubles quicker than any other preparation known. Many doctors use it as a specific for grippe. It is an infallible remedy for croup. Children like it and mothers endorse it. L. W. Randolph.

FUNERAL OF SAMUEL STELLE.

Held Yesterday Afternoon and Services Largely Attended.

The funeral services of the late Samuel Stelle, who died a few days ago, after an illness of three weeks, were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence of the nieces, the Misses Marsh, 915 Madison avenue. There was a very large attendance of relatives and many aged people who had known the deceased for a number of years.

The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor of the First Baptist church, and a personal friend of Mr. Stelle. He read appropriate Scripture selections and spoke words of praise concerning the life and character of him who had lived such a life of usefulness. He also referred to Mr. Stelle's long life which was filled with good deeds.

There were many beautiful floral tributes from the relatives and friends. Following the services at the house the interment took place in the Evergreen cemetery, Plainfield avenue.

Excellent Entertainment.

The meeting in Reform Hall last evening was an unusually excellent one, the attendance being the largest in some time. Remarks were made by John Sayers, John Manley, W. C. Smith and Eden Boice. The musical part of the programme was furnished by the North Plainfield Glee Club which gave several well-rendered selections. Individual solos were also greatly enjoyed. At the conclusion of the meeting two new members signed the pledge. A reception was afterward was given to the club members in the lower hall.

Conference of Seventh-Day Baptists.

The annual meeting of the Seventh day Baptist church members in New York and New Jersey, was commenced in New York city today. The session will last for three days, the most important being that of tomorrow, when Rev. L. E. Livermore, of New Market, will deliver the annual sermon. Large delegations will attend from this city and New Market tomorrow as no session of these churches will be held. The meetings are being held in the Seventh-day Memorial church.

Married in This City.

The marriage of Miss Addie Mead, of Rahway, and William Bryam, of Madison, took place yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. B. Noe, of Arlington avenue, this city. Mrs. Byram, who is a sister of Mrs. Noe, has many friends who will join in wishing her and her husband happiness and success.

Out of the Hospital.

Walter Harrison, the fireman who was injured last Sunday afternoon at fire headquarters, while responding to an alarm of fire, was discharged from the hospital today. Although not entirely well, he is greatly improved and will soon be able to return to work.

The First Snow.

During the early part of last evening there was a light flurry of snow, and it reminded those who saw it that winter is here in earnest.

MR. GINNA'S BEAUTIFUL CHRYSANTHEMUM SHOW

Over Fifty Varieties of the Popular Flower, in Big Blossoms, are to be Seen.

FRAGRANT ROSES GROWN.

LARGEST AND MOST COMPLETE PRIVATE GREENHOUSES HERE.

Mr. Ginna Takes Great Pride in His Floral Display, Which is Under the Careful Culture of His Gardner, Mr. James Barlow.

For the past few weeks there has been a magnificent display of chrysanthemums in the green house of Former Councilman Stephen A. Ginna, of Watchung avenue. Over fifty varieties of that popular flower, many of the blossoms of unusual size, have been on exhibition. There were hundreds of the blossoms of all the varying colors, some with short, closely folded petals and others with the long waving fringe.

The largest and most complete private green houses in the city belong to Mr. Ginna and have long been his pride. They are now under the charge of James Barlow, who is an expert in his line and takes particular pride in keeping the place in fine condition. This display of chrysanthemums has become an annual event and many of Mr. Ginna's friends and neighbors have viewed it each season.

A new greenhouse was built this summer and was completed just in time to be devoted entirely to the chrysanthemums. Most beautiful among all the varieties is the white Madame Carnot, surmounted by a regular hat of petals. It is remarkably large. One of the most peculiar is the Loantika, which is almost red when it first opens and gradually changes into a bronze, eventually turning to a yellow, with only the sides tipped with color. Largest of all towers the W. H. Chadwick, a monstrous creature of pure white, with widely extended petals. The Gold Standard and the Australian Gold vie with it in size. They are of varying shades of yellow. The Modesto is a deep yellow, with closely-folded petals.

One of the rarest of the varieties is the Belle of Castlewood, the large white petals of which are tipped with purple. The long flowing petals to the Golden Gate are in strong contrast to the short, but energetic plumes of the Mrs. Jerome Jones. Of the darker varieties the Black Hawk is the most startling.

But chrysanthemums are not the only beautiful things to be seen in Mr. Ginna's greenhouses. There is a central conservatory where rubber plants, palms and century plants tower aloft. A dark moist corner is devoted to the orchids, all of them more or less rare and some even startling in their beauty. One house, in which Gardener Barlow takes particular pride, is devoted to roses. There are American beauties and other beautiful creations. Another section is devoted to carnations, some of which reach the size of the smaller chrysanthemums. There are several rare varieties of that beautiful flower to be found. Some idea of the wonderful growth of roses there may be learned from the fact that from the last of September up to last week over 4,000 roses were cut from the bushes in the rose house.

PART OF A COMBINE.

Bloodgood's Mill Has Not Shut Down Yet, and Is in the "Trust."

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, Nov. 17—Several reports have been published during the last few days that Bloodgood's Felt Mill at Picton, near here, were running overtime in order to fill orders and complete all work on hand before closing the mill down and laying off the several hundred men in order to permit of the mill being merged into the trust.

It is said that Bloodgood's mill has been in the trust for nearly two years, and was one of the four mills that formed the American Felt Company, of which William Bloodgood is secretary. A mill in Connecticut, one in Massachusetts and one in New York State constitute the trust in the United States and control the manufacture of all kinds of felt in this country. The report that the factory will be closed cannot be confirmed.

Early Morning Prayer Meeting.

An early morning prayer meeting is to be a feature of the services at the First Baptist church in the future. The first will be held tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock and will be held at the same hour each Sunday hereafter.

GRANDMA RECEIVED

SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH LAST NIGHT.

Old Fashioned Social Given by Women's Association of That Church—The Programme.

"Grandma Grey" received and entertained her friends in the parlors of the Congregational church last evening. Her children and grandchildren gave a programme and then treated the guests to some refreshments, all of which was done under the supervision of the Women's Association of the church.

"Grandma Grey" was a dear old lady with her old-fashioned Quaker gown, a century old, and her kerchief, cap and shawl. She looked over the tops of a pair of old-fashioned spectacles and welcomed her friends in a cheery fashion. This quaint little lady was impersonated by Miss Aimee Emmons. Some of the guests at the reception observed the request of the committee and appeared in old-fashioned costumes. Most of them, however, wore the garb of today.

A series of shadow pictures were given representing various plays on words and the audience was asked to guess them. These pictures were chiefly of a comic nature and caused lots of laughter. Afterwards some of the young people appeared behind the screen and the others tried to guess their identity from the silhouette. Vocal solos were given by Miss Strong, Miss Mary A. Griswold and Miss Harriet Ellmer.

A decidedly new method of pairing off the young people for refreshments was tried. One end of a length of grey yarn was tied to each young woman's arm and then the thread woven in among the rest of the crowd, and finally given to a young man. The latter proceeded to wind up his length of yarn and thus discover his partner for refreshments. Coffee and cake were then served by some of the young men and the affair closed with a social hour.

The affair was in charge of a committee of which Miss J. Louise Jenkins was chairman. She was assisted by a number of the young people of the church.

FAULTS OF THE NEGRO.

Rev. E. E. Jackson Describes Conduct Which He Thinks Colored People Should Follow.

Rev. E. E. Jackson, pastor of the Mt. Olive Baptist church, delivered an address to the officers of the Benevolent Association of the church Thursday night, in which he said that though his race had been taking part in politics for thirty-five years he could not see where there had been any benefit from it. He urged the colored men to strive better in business and to master economic questions in a more intelligent manner. He said that the negro would be elevated by the white race, but that his betterment depends upon himself. He denounced the lavish expenditure of money for political purposes, especially in buying votes, and that after election the handlers of this money turned a deaf ear to the pleading of the suffering and impoverished. He said that some of the reason why the colored man did not progress faster was the lack of real leaders, lack of confidence in each other and because some in whom they confide are disloyal in their actions.

EMBURY HOMESTEAD SOLD.

Located at Corner of Washington Avenue and Park Place and Sold to William B. Smith for $15,000.

An important change in real estate has just taken place whereby the Embury homestead property, corner of Washington avenue and Park place, 190x200, has been sold to William B. Smith for $15,000. Mr. Smith has already taken up his residence in the borough. Mr. Embury will go to Germantown, Pa., and reside. Mr. Smith came from Atlanta, Ga. He owns a big steel plant in Pennsylvania and has recently purchased the Smith plant at Garwood. His New York office is at 15 Cortlandt street. Mr. Smith proposes to make a number of decided improvements about the property just purchased. Steam heat and electric lights will be installed in the house and other changes will be made to enhance the value of the property.

For Congressman Fowler's Use.

A. I. & N. B. Smalley have received the contract to furnish crushed stone to be used about Congressman Fowler's handsome new property at Elizabeth.

YOUNG SHALLCROSS SEEN AT THE "TANKS?"

Great Interest Manifested in the Whereabouts of the Missing Philadelphia Lad.

MAY BE HELD BY TRAMPS

WAS IN THE COMPANY OF A CHUM WHEN SEEN HERE.

Detectives Hunting for the Boy, But Have Not Been Able to Find Him—He is Worth $100,000 in His Own Right.

The belief that the youngster who visited the store of Mrs. Henry Illsley, at 1001 South Second street, this city, last Wednesday afternoon, was Amos Shallcross, the missing Philadelphia boy, has aroused great interest in the Quaker City. Young Shallcross is the son of a wealthy mother, and when he becomes of age will come into possession of $100,000 himself. The boy disappeared from home October 11th, and no trace was secured of his whereabouts until the information sent by Chief Kiely to the Philadelphia police telling of the boy's visit to Mrs. Illsley.

Another fresh bit of evidence concerning the probable whereabouts of the boy was received yesterday in the report that a lad bearing out the description of Shallcross was seen in the vicinity of the "tanks" at Green brook. This place is a notorious rendezvous for tramps of the worst stripe, and if it is true that the boy was there he is undoubtedly in the company of worthless and desperate hoboes. It is barely possible that the tramps may be holding the boy in the hope of securing a reward for his return home.

Since Wednesday detectives have been scouring the northern part of New Jersey and watching every approach to Jersey City and New York. Up to a late hour last night no sight nor sign of the boy or of any one like him had been seen.

An evening dress party was held at the Shallcross home last night.

Mrs. Shallcross told a reporter that she had not and probably would not put the case in the hands of private detectives, nor would she offer a reward for the return of the boy. She added that she had confidence in the ability of the newspapers to effect his restoration, and she will be content to await the result of their work. Asked if she will come to Plainfield should further information come from here, she said that she would not unless she were sure that her son had been found.

She received a letter yesterday from Mrs. Illsley, but the only new information it contained was that he had mentioned a "chum."

A picture of the Shallcross boy, printed in the Philadelphia North American this morning, which is said to be an excellent likeness of him, was shown to Mrs. Illsley this noon by a Press reporter. Mrs. Illsley said that the picture was a perfect likeness of the boy that entered her store on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. William Whitehead, of Pond place, reported this morning that a boy resembling the description of young Shallcross called at her house this morning and asked for something to eat. However, she said that he was not dressed as the Shallcross boy was when he left home.

[Jolly Whisters Together Again.]

The Jolly Whist Club has resumed its meetings for the fall and winter, and last evening the club was entertained in a delightful manner by Former Councilman and Mrs. L. B. Woolston, of Fairview avenue. There were four tables and the playing was spirited throughout. Mrs. R. I. Tolles won the ladies' first prize, a piece of statuary, and a china hair receiver, second prize, was won by Mrs. L. B. Woolston. P. A. Emmons won the first gentlemen's prize, a carving knife and fork, and J. P. Homan won the second prize, a receiver for shaving paper. During the evening refreshments were served and a delightful social time was enjoyed.

[A Peanut Sociable.]

A peanut sociable was given in the Grace M. E. church last evening under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society. Sociability was the main feature and all present enjoyed themselves in a thorough manner. Before leaving for home all present were served with refreshments.

Operated on in the Hospital.

Calvin Hill, of West Front street, was taken to the hospital last evening suffering from appendicitis. An operation will be performed today.

PENNSY MAY BUY CENTRAL.

Well-defined Rumor That It Will Purchase Jersey Railroad in Interest of B. and O.

A well-defined rumor has been current in Wall street to the effect that the Pennsylvania Railroad would purchase the Central Railroad of New Jersey.

The Pennsylvania Railroad is now influential in the management of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and as the latter gains its entrance to the metropolis by use of the Jersey City terminals of the Central Railroad, it is believed its position would be strengthened by the control of these terminals.

The purchase of the road by the Pennsylvania, it is believed, would be in the interest of the Baltimore and Ohio road.

It has been found impossible to find confirmation of this rumor. There is ground, however, to believe that there is truth in the report, as it comes from certain reliable sources.

Vice-president H. C. Fahnestock, of the First National Bank, one of the syndicate controlling Jersey Central, said yesterday: "There is no truth in the report. No negotiations for a lease or purchase are pending."

MEETING OF THE FRIENDS.

Plainfield and Shrewsbury Society Met in This City—Several Interesting Addresses Made.

The Plainfield and Shrewsbury Society of Friends held their half-yearly meeting at the meeting-house on Watchung avenue all day Thursday and part of yesterday. The first day's session was devoted to the transaction of routine business and discussion of various topics of interest. J. Edward Borden, of Eatontown, was elected clerk, and he presented the various reports from the branches in this district.

In the afternoon there were several addresses along the line of woman suffrage, philanthropy, and among those who took part were Mrs. Antoinette Pearsall, of Brooklyn; Mrs. Anna Rice Powell, Mrs. Mary Haviland, Margaret Vail, of this city; Mrs. Mary Willetts, of Sea Girt; Mrs. Charles Underhill, of Brooklyn; Martha Walton, of Somerville, and John Shotwell, of Manasquan. The evening session was given up to the Young Friends' Society. There were recitations by Robert Goldsack, Claretta Morris, Eleanor Cooley and Margaret Vail.

Yesterday morning the session was devoted to hearing reports from the branches, all of which showed that progress is being made. Members are adhering to the Quaker dress, as well as to other principles of the society which comprises the creed. The advices were read by the secretary and were listened to with considerable interest. The session was concluded yesterday afternoon with the usual exercises. While the visiting members were in this city members of the local meeting provided entertainment for them and several meals were served at the meeting house.

Civil Service Examination.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces that an examination will be held in this city for the positions of clerks and carriers. It will be held December 15th. The recent examination failed to result in a sufficient number of eligibles to meet the needs of the service. All persons who have been examined within the past year and failed to pass may be re-examined. The age limitations are as follows: Clerk, not less than eighteen years; carrier, between twenty-one and forty years. Applications must be on file with the seretary of the local board, J. H. Whitenack, before the hour of closing business December 7th next.

In the Interest of Temperance.

A meeting in the interest of temperance will be held under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Crescent Avenue church in the church parlors, Friday evening, November 23d, at eight o'clock, when James W. Cummings, of New York, will speak on "What Intemperance Costs Our Nation." An offering will be received for the work of the National Temperance Society of which Mr. Cummings is a representative. All are cordially invited to be present.

Secretary to Mr. Root.

E. E. Mullen, formerly of this city, where he was employed at the Scott Press Works, is now private secretary to Assistant Secretary of War Root. He will commence in a few days a five months' cruise in the U. S. S. Dolphin about Cuba and Porto Rico for Governmental purposes.

Unless Popularity of Former Councilman Barrows Stampedes the Convention Machine Slate Will Probably be Nominated.

Twenty-four hours ago a slate was ready for the Republican city convention which suited the "machine" of the First and Fourth wards and one faction in the Third ward. The Second ward was then saying nothing. The Second ward has now come out with a candidate for the Mayoralty nomination. The name of Dr. W. H. Murray, now president of the Plainfield Board of Health, has come to the front with a rush during the last twenty-four hours and he is likely to be the choice of the Second ward at the city convention unless somebody happens to dissipate his boom beforehand.

There are still rumors afloat regarding the candidacy of Former Councilman E. T. Barrows. The statements made by the ward leaders to the effect, that he would not run, do not seem to make any difference. It is more of a popular movement than anything else and there is no telling what may come of it. Both the First and Fourth wards have declared for Dr. Jenkins. Part of the Third has done likewise. Another faction in the Third is said to favor Dr. Murray. There has been a strong feeling in the Second in behalf of Mr. Barrows but now the leaders from that ward seem quite enthusiastic for Dr. Murray.

The ward primaries take place Monday night and delegates will then be elected. At present writing a majority of them are practically sure of being elected with a view of nominating Dr. Jenkins. Only a popular and general demand by the citizens of the various wards for Mr. Barrows is likely to upset the "machine" slate.

Regarding the probable ward nominees to the Council, it is likely that R. I. Tolles will be returned from the First. George P. Mellick will be the choice of the Second. There is a rumor current this morning to the effect that B. Frank Cortell may not care to go back from the Third, in which case Dr. F. C. Ard would be the likely one. The Fourth will undoubtedly nominate Frank E. Randolph.

WANT FARE REDUCED.

But in Negotiating to do so the Brunswick Traction Company Demand Great Concessions.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Nov. 17.—The Board of Commissioners are making an effort to have the trolley fare reduced between Somerville and Bound Brook to five cents. It is now ten cents. The trolley company demand in consideration of reducing the fare that they be remitted the franchise tax of $100 a year for five years; that then only $100 a year be charged for seven years, $300 a year for ten years and $500 a year thereafter; that they be allowed to put up round chestnut poles instead of iron ones, as now required; to put up signs that cars will only stop at certain points in town; to be allowed to put in turnouts whenever and wherever they desire, and to allow cars to stand over night on turnout in front of Court House.

The trolley committee of the Board reported favorably on all propositions but the franchise tax. The matter was laid over for a month in order to give counsel of Board a chance to see whether the franchise could be amended. The prevailing opinion is that the managers of the Somerset and Middlesex Traction Co. want the earth, but will get it in the neck.

Profits Were $101.

At a meeting held last night in St. Peter's Lutheran church it was ascertained that the profits of the concert recently held in the Y. M. C. A. hall for the benefit of the church, amounted to $101. The expenses were $50.38, and the total receipts $151. The trustees were well pleased with the results. Prof. Korff arranged the programme and Margarette Gottheil sold sixty-eight tickets.

Mr. Graham's Last Meeting.

The last of the series of the evening meetings to be addressed by T. F. Graham will be held at the Y. M. C. A. building this evening. Subject, "The Right Number." Mr. Graham will speak and sing.

SONGS OF YE OLDEN TIME

JED BASSETT AND HIS VOCALISTS AT MONROE AVENUE CHURCH.

The Quaint Songs and Rustic Humor Were Enjoyed by a Good-Sized Audience.

"Jed Bassett's" village choir, of Punkin' Ridge, took possession of the Monroe Avenue church last evening, and for nearly two hours entertained a large audience with their quaint old-fashioned songs and rustic humor. The singin' school that our grandfathers knew was faithfully portrayed in a manner which evoked peals of laughter. The young ladies were attired in old-fashioned gowns, high back combs and wore beauty patches, while the boys tried to be comfortable in swallow-tail coats, knee breeches and lace collars.

Mr. Bassett's impersonation of the village choirmaster was given in his own inimitable way. He possesses the typical Yankee nasal twang, which he used to advantage in portraying different characters. He is the possessor of a fine voice, capable of either pathos or humor, and his recitations and songs were greatly enjoyed. His imitation of a silent prima donna and the rendition of the "grapevine swing" were especially fine and left no doubt as to his originality as a humorist in the minds of the audience.

The songs given by the choir, although of the old fashioned variety, were the kind that pleased and judging from the frequent applause they were not unfamiliar to the majority of those present. Individual solos and duetts were given by the Misses Mae Crower, Sadie Brower, Lizzie Foster, May Pound, Marjorie Phillips and Sidney Gilbert. In addition to these, the choir consisted of the following: the Misses Daisy Brouard, Sue Pound, Carrie Brower, Edna Phillips, May Wallender, Jessie Burt, Minnie Gunzelman, Ethel Stryker, Beulah Klyne, Olla Klyne, Helen Foster, Sadie Kriney, Lulu Randolph, Maggie Williams, Florence Morrison, Bessie Kenyon, Daisy Gilbert, Grace Allen and Ada Fountain and the Messrs. Mansfield Smith, George Whitely, Robert Leland, George Leland, Charlie Leland, Willie Fielding and George Frity. Miss Charlotte Aldrick accompanied the chorus on the piano.

ORGAN RECITAL.

Musical Programme to be Rendered Under the Direction of Prof. Ward Stephens This Evening.

There is no finer organist than Ward Stephens in Plainfield and there are many who visit the Crescent Avenue church every Sunday to hear him. Since his connection with that church as organist he has arranged to give a series of free organ recitals. The first was well attended, despite the fact that it was given on a rainy evening. Tonight the second of these recitals will take place in the Crescent Avenue church and a large audience will undoubtedly attend. He will be assisted by Mrs. E. W. Dutton, soprano. A collection will be taken for the chapel fund of the church. The programme will be as follows:

Toccata and Fugue, in D Minor.....Bach
"O Divine Redeemer".....Gounod
Mrs. Dutton.
"Old German Song," "Es ist den wald gesungen,"....Mendelssohn-Warren
"Grand March from Leonore Symphony,"....Raff-Shelley
"Overture to Stradella".....Flotow
"Spring Contrasts".....Allitsen
"The Swallows".....Cowen
Mrs. Dutton.
"Sonata in C Minor," Andante, Allegro, Fugue.....Mendelssohn
"Variations on a Scotch Air".....Buck
"My Dearest Heart,".....Sullivan
Mrs. Dutton.
"Nocturne".....Chopin
"March from Tannhauser".....Wagner

END OF A CHURCH FAIR.

Bazaar Conducted at the Mt. Zion A. M. E. Church Proved to be a Profitable One for the Society.

The five night fair and bazaar at the Mount Zion A. M. E. church came to a successful close last evening. There was an increased attendance and the different tables were well patronized. The articles remaining at the close of the affair were sold at auction and some good prizes were realized. There was no formal programme last evening as the awarding of the several prizes offered occupied considerable time. They were given to those selling the largest number of tickets. The lucky ones were Theodore Hooper, who secured a handsome lamp for his trouble, and E. B. Maynard, who was given a handsome counterpane. A voting contest for the most popular lady present was also indulged in and Miss Ida Mitchell secured the largest number. She was presented with a handsome watch. Altogether the patronage given the fair was very gratifying and the ladies of the Helping Hand Society are greatly pleased at the result.

NO STREET WIDENING TILL AFTER ELECTION.

Borough Council Learns That the Improvements Will be Delayed Several Months.

DUER ST. IMPROVEMENTS.

THE EXTENSION TO BE MACADAMIZED, FLAGGED AND CURBED AT ONCE.

Telephone Company's Bond Returned for Correction—Mayor Smalley Suggests the Changing of the Name of the Borough.

The Mayor and Borough Council, with the exception of Mr. Valliant, attended the special meeting of the council last evening, and transacted business of some importance. As stated yesterday in the Daily Press, it was practically agreed to give up the idea of widening Somerset this year. The subject was introduced last evening and W. C. Smith, the only member of the commission, was called upon for a report.

Mr. Smith stated that the commissioners had held no meeting since the one in October when a public hearing was given. He could only report progress on the work and he gave as his opinion that it would require some time to complete the report.

Mayor Smalley gave his opinion in the matter and said that it would be just as well to give up the idea of widening the street this winter. He thought, however, that the work of prepartion could be pushed rapidly so that by spring the widening could be accomplished. He was in a position to say that some of the trees along the street could be removed at present at little expense to the borough and this would aid in the general improvement proposed. He hoped that in the arrangements for the work provisions would be made to include a storm sewer, so that the widening and everything necessary thereto could be done together.

Counsel Reed informed the members that it would require one month's time after the report of the commissioners is received to confirm the same, and he suggested that no time be lost in preparing the same. So far as the trees are concerned, he said that the Council has the power to remove them. A street is for the use of the public and any encroachment can be removed. This is about as far as the matter progressed and nothing further will be done until the report is presented to the Mayor and Council.

Regarding the improvement of the Duer street extension the Mayor and Council authorized the street committee to go ahead and macadamize, flag and curb that portion of the street. This will be done at once as the new bridge will be completed inside of another week and the officials are anxious to open the street to the public. It is also proposed to run a railing alongside of the street between the bridge and Craig place to prevent anyone from walking or driving off the street.

Former Councilman Johnson, of this city, appeared before the Mayor and Council to make a statement regarding the laying of sidewalk in front of his father's property on Westervelt, Jackson and Fairview avenues. Mr. Johnson's father received the regular sidewalk notice sometime ago, but failed to make any reply. A second notice was sent and in response to it Mr. Johnson appeared before the Council. He asked the Council to give his father an extension of time until next spring, when he would be better prepared to lay the walks.

Mr. Clark, of the street committee, stated the circumstances in the case, and said that it placed the committee in an embarassing position. If Mr. Johnson's request was granted others would be seeking the same concessions. He cited several cases where property owners in the same neighborhood, no better able to lay walks than Mr. Johnson, had done so to comply with the ordinance.

Mr. Johnson stated that his father did not object to laying the walks, but inasmuch as there are good walks in front of his property he thought the Council could afford to extend the time. After considerable discussion, Mr. Rogers moved that the matter be referred to the street committee with power.

The New York and New Jersey Telephone Company communicated with the Council informing them that the ordinance in their favor granting a franchise to lay their wires underground had been accepted. They also forwarded a bond, as required by the terms of the ordinance. The bond was referred to the finance committee, of which Mr. Swackhamer is chair-

JOTTINGS OF THE DAY

SURPRISINGLY GATHERED AND WISELY TOLD BY REPORTERS.

Newsy Notes of More or Less Importance Bunched Together for Reference by Press Readers.

—Mrs. Lafayette Rosensteihl, of Summit avenue, is visiting Brooklyn friends.

—Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., will hold a regular conclave next Monday night.

—DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the best liver pills ever made. Easy to take and never gripe. L. W. Randolph.

—Collector Frank Smith is now kept busy receiving taxes for this year. Taxes are due until Tuesday of next week. After that they are delinquent.

—Since Mayor Smalley, of the borough, has given orders for all teamsters to keep to the right of Somerset street, there has been less trouble than formerly.

—James E. Martine's new house on Thornton avenue is now completed, and will soon be occupied by Miss Westervelt, of New York city, for whom it was built.

—The borough officials are having the extension of Duer street filled in preparatory to macadamizing that portion of the street between Craig place and the new bridge.

—Contractor Ferrier is now putting the concrete on the new Madison avenue bridge. Owing to the cold weather great care has to be exercised in doing this work as the material is liable to freeze. For this reason the concrete does not harden as rapidly as in other kinds of weather.

—Many people worry because they believe they have heart disease. The chances are that their hearts are all right but their stomachs are unable to digest food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and prevents the formation of gas which makes the stomach press against the heart. It will cure every form of indigestion. L. W. Randolph.

—There promises to be an abundance of turkeys in market this season and if the present cold weather continues, the price will remain pretty high.

—If you have ever seen a child in the agony of croup you can realize how grateful mothers are for One Minute Cough Cure which gives relief as soon as it is administered. It quickly cures coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles. L. W. Randolph.

—Work will be started next week on the new Jefferson avenue bridge. W. T. Kirk has the contract for the iron work, and Wm. Ferrier will do the mason work.

—Of late there has been a notable increase in the membership of the Loyal Temperance Legion and the meetings held each week are made attractive by special features.

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches. They make pure blood and build up your health. Only 25c. Money back if not cured. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

LITERARY.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly has a large subscription list, but it should be larger. Its management is more energetic, its plans better than ever before. As an added stimulus toward an increase, the Monthly offers no less than two hundred and sixty four (264) prizes in cash to the men and women, boys and girls who show most energy in securing new subscribers. This offer means that time and energy will be well paid for.

The price of the magazine is one dollar a year. Its contents appeal directly to people who care for good and timely literature. A few spare hours a week will add to your income substantially. Mrs. Ira Ackerman, Mrs. Leo Smith and Miss Lida Smith, of Brooklyn, who have been visiting Mrs. J. A. Clark, of West Front street, returned home today.

Great Luck Of An Editor

"For two years all efforts to cure Eczema in the palms of my hands failed", writes Editor H. N. Lester, of Syracuse, Kan., "then I was wholly cured by Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's the world's best for Eruptions, Sores and all skin diseases. Only 25 cents at L. W. Randolph's.

Mrs. Alburtus Swalm, of West Front street, is much improved from a recent illness.

—There is no pleasure in life if you dread going to the table to eat and can't rest at night on account of indigestion. Henry Williams, of Boonville, Ind., says he suffered that way for years, till he commenced the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, and adds, "Now I can eat anything I like and all I want and sleep soundly every night." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest what you eat. L. W. Randolph.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haberle, of West Front street, have been entertaining company from out of town.

Samuel Boss, of Craig place, who has been troubled with an affection of the eyes, is greatly improved.

Spread Like Wild Fire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, rundown man or woman. Price 50 cents. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

Col. and Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Pittsburg, Pa., have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Schoonmaker, of Central avenue.

Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Downey, of Washington avenue, who have been visiting out-of-town friends for several days past, have returned home.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern which is not afraid to be generous. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles and have the satisfaction of knowing it has cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, LaGrippe and all Throat, Chest and Lung diseases are surely cured by it. Call on L. W. Randolph, Druggist, and get a free trail bottle. Regular size 50c and $1 00. Every bottle gauranteed.

—Within another month the improvements being made at the North Avenue station by the railroad company will nearly be completed. It is hoped that everything will be ready for the traveling public before the new year.

—Both makers and circulators of counterfeits commit fraud. Honest men will not deceive you into buying worthless counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The original is infallible for curing piles, sores, eczema and all skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

Miss Katie Barry, of New York, has returned home after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Barry, of South Second street.

Invitations have been sent out by Mrs. Weir Lewis for a tea in honor of her friend, Miss Carpenter, of Ilion, N. Y., to be given Tuesday, Nov. 20th, from 4 until 6 o'clock, at her home on Rockview avenue.

QUEER CONFIDENCE GAME.

Hoboken Man Entertains a Fake Niece From Austria.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Elias Krams, a West Hoboken grocer, has just discovered that he has been made the victim of misplaced confidence. He is an Austrian and has in Vienna a niece named Minnie Krams, whom he and his wife have long desired to have come to America and live with him. Three months ago he received a letter signed "Minnie Krams," saying she was coming and asking him to meet her at the dock. He did so and met a beautiful, finely educated young woman of 22, whom he took to his house and ever since he and his wife have treated with the greatest affection. Of late people who were acquainted with his relatives in Vienna and who have lately been there have declared to Mr. Krams that his visitor was not his niece. When taxed with this, she has with tears denied the accusation and has shown such an intimacy with all the Krams relatives and their doings in Austria that Mr. Krams began to believe the girl was what she purported to be.

A few days ago, however, a strong piece of proof came that she was not his niece. Thursday he called in a justice of the peace, who, after a talk and some threats, succeeded in getting an acknowledgment from her that she was not Minnie Krams, but Etta Gelles and said she returned to Vienna from this country two years ago and that while there she became acquainted with all particulars concerning the Krams family and decided to impersonate Minnie Krams. She also gave the address of a brother she has in New York.

Mr. Krams took her to her brother, who said she received a fine education in Austria and that she had studied medicine in New York. He was not aware that she had returned from Austria and was astonished when told of the role which she had assumed.

TAXPAYERS PRAISED.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Reports Large Collections.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The annual report of the commissioner of internal revenue for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1900, shows a collection exceeded but once in the history of the bureau. The receipts were $295,316,107, being $10,316,107 in excess of the estimated amount and $21,831,534 more than during the previous year. The percentage of cost of collection was 1.58 as against 1.68 for last year, being the smallest in the history of the internal revenue service.

Commissioner Wilson estimates that the receipts from all sources of internal revenue for the current fiscal year will approximate $295,000,000.

The commissioner takes a new position in accounting for the successful administration of the law by giving those who paid the taxes a very large degree of credit for the result. He says:

"I deem it my duty in the interest of justice to make a new departure by saying that for the successful and economical manner in which the internal revenue laws have been administered much credit is due the millions of taxpayers throughout the country for the generous, patriotic and prompt manner in which the taxes have been paid."

Women's Clubs Choose Officers.

ALBANY, Nov. 17.—The New York State Federation of Women's Clubs held its final session yesterday. These officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Cornelius Zabriskie of Brooklyn; first vice president, Mrs. Charles M. Dow of Jamestown; second vice president, Mrs. Lucie C. Watson of Utica; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Van Loon Lynch of Syracuse; general federation secretary, Miss Anna Maxwell Jones of Saratoga Springs; treasurer, Mrs. William Eastwood of Rochester; executive board, Mrs. William Goodridge of Flushing, Mrs. Wolcott J. Humphrey of Warsaw, Mrs. Campbell of Binghamton and Mrs. William H. Seward of Auburn.

Noted Abolitionist and Divine Dead.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The Rev. Alfred Pinney, 90 years of age, is dead at the home of his son near Sing Sing, N. Y. Mr. Pinney was born in Middletown, this state. He studied at Colgate university and entered the Baptist ministry and had charges at Syracuse, Auburn and Brooklyn, in New York, and at Cleveland and Zanesville, in Ohio. During the abolition agitation he was prominent and an associate of Wendell Phillips and William Lloyd Garrison. For 30 years prior to two and a half years ago he lived in Brooklyn.

No Sectional Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The opinion is growing among public men who are in the confidence of the president that he will oppose any movement looking to a reduction of the congressional representation of the southern states on account of charges of the disfranchisement of colored voters. The president is said to be opposed to reviving ill feeling, which he thinks would be the result of a bill thus touching the south's suffrage.

To Educate Filipinos.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 17.—At the meeting of the state normal school board it was resolved to allow four Filipinos free tuition at each of the state normal schools at St. Cloud and Winona. The request came from Commissioner of Education Atkinson at Manila. A proposition is also involved in this plan which contemplates that the government provide for the maintenance of such pupils while attending school.

Dunn Succeeds Odell.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The Republican state committee met at the Fifth Avenue hotel today to receive the resignation of Governor Elect Benjamin B. Odell as chairman and to elect Colonel George W. Dunn of Binghamton in his place. Mr. Odell also retired as a member of the committee.

A Natural Hot Water Supply.

HARTFORD CITY, Ind., Nov. 17.—Oil men say they have discovered a new natural heating agent. After a depth of a mile had been reached in the oil sand hot water gushed forth like lava from a volcano. This is to furnish steam heating for business blocks and residences.

Griggs Will Retire.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—At the cabinet meeting Attorney General Griggs made the formal announcement that on the 4th of March next he would retire from the cabinet. Mr. Griggs will leave the president's official family for purely business reasons.

Weather Probabilities.

LARGE ARMY NEEDED

General Miles Favors Stronger Military Service.

ONE SOLDIER TO 1,000 OF POPULATION

Force Now In United States Smaller Than For Many Years and Insufficient For Garrison Purposes or Relief of Tropical Forces.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The feature of the annual report of Lieutenant General Miles, commanding the army, is a chapter dealing with the need for a general reorganization of the military service. In regard to this question he says:

"The events of the past two years and a half have resulted in a condition that the nation must prepare to meet. The need for an efficient and well organized land force for an indefinite period in the future is most obvious, and the organization of such a force cannot be wisely avoided. There are weighty reasons why such a service as is now demanded of the army cannot be performed by a temporary organization."

General Miles points out that the practical limitation of service of the volunteers to one year in the Philippines makes this a most expensive practice, necessitating double transfer of troops and adding enormously to the cost of the organization. He also points out the need of a reserve force for the relief of the soldiers who serve in the tropics, declaring that the regiments that have so far served more than two years at unhealthy stations should be relieved. General Miles renews his recommendation that the permanent force of the army should be one man for each thousand of population of the United States. In supplying any increase of the army he urges that appointments of officers be made with a due regard for the principle of seniority and that each case be passed upon by a board of the highest officers of the army, as was done in the reorganization following the civil war. He submits a draft of a bill embodying his views and recommendations on army reorganization.

GENERAL NELSON A. MILES.

The report shows that the urgent demands for troops for remote stations has reduced the number in the United States to a much smaller force than has been maintained at any time during the past 39 years. In fact, says General Miles, the force has been so much reduced that at the present time there are not one-fourth enough troops properly to care for and man the fortifications which have been erected on the seacoast at an expenditure of nearly $55,000,000. In addition to the artillery deficiency the present home force is not sufficient to occupy the interior garrisons properly or to protect life and property on the western frontier, and what is still more serious the government is left without troops to relieve those who have had too much tropical service. The actual number of troops remaining in the United States after the dispatch of soldiers to Cuba, Porto Rico, Alaska and the Philippines is said to be 998 officers and 18,898 enlisted men. General Miles says that during the past two years the army has been engaged in two hemispheres under all conditions and hardships and has on all occasions exhibited courage, stability, excellent marksmanship and devotion to duty.

Touching upon the Chinese campaign, General Miles compares the American contingent in the Peking expedition with those of other nationalities and says:

"It would be difficult to name any occasion on which troops engaged in action were better commanded, were more steady under fire or where they made the soldier's sacrifice with more unselfish patriotism or rendered a higher tribute to the honor of their country."

Great reverence is said to be due the memory of Colonel E. S. Liscum, who fell while leading his troops with undaunted courage and marked ability. Major Jesse M. Lee of the Ninth infantry is also commended as having sustained the honorable reputation acquired by him in the civil war and since upon taking the command of the American forces at Tien-tsin after Colonel Liscum's death. Captain Reilly is also named as an ideal American soldier, without fear and without reproach, who by his death at Peking again demonstrated the zeal and courage of the American soldier.

General Miles calls attention to the fact that under the law the volunteers in the Philippines must be withdrawn and discharged before July 1 next, wherefore, he says, it will be necessary to begin their return home almost immediately.

In a few short paragraphs the report shows what has been accomplished in the officers' training schools and toward the extension of the coast defense system. On this last great work, he says, $55,000,000 has been expended already, and at least $45,000,000 will be required to carry out the present projects. For the next fiscal year alone the sum of $11,827,000 is estimated as necessary to defray the cost of fortifications, barracks and sites on the coasts.

Reported Grave Robberies Denied.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Nov. 17.—The story of a horrible graveyard robbery in Springbrook cemetery, Newaygo county, sent out from this city, proves to be utterly false. The officers here deny all knowledge of the robbery. A special from Newaygo says the sheriff of that county was in that city Thursday instead of being in Kalamazoo, as was asserted in the story. In fact, no such place as the Springbrook cemetery is known of in Newaygo county.

Louisiana's Population.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The population of the state of Louisiana, as officially announced, is 1,381,625 against 1,118,587 in 1890. This shows an increase since 1890 of 263,038, or 23.5 per cent.

METHODS NOT WISE.

European Commanders Doing Much Harm In China.

PRINCE TUAN'S PUNISHMENT SEVERE

It Degrades Him and Also Prevents His Son, the Heir Apparent, From Becoming Emperor—General Fu Hsiang Skipped.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—"Opinion is strong here," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Daily Express, "that the European commanders are doing more harm than good by the punitive expeditions, which, by the destruction of villages, excite the Chinese to execrate the foreigners, a feeling which it will take a century to eradicate.

"It is perfectly clear that the emperor and empress dowager care nothing because a few hundred Chinamen are killed, and the allies would be far better employed in trying to secure the return of Emperor Kwang Su to Peking.

"Vice Admiral Seymour, on board the British battleship Centurion, and Herr Knappe, the German consul general here, on board the Kurfurst Bismarck, have ascended the river with the object of stopping remittances to the court and securing the payment of customs funds into the foreign banks."

The full text of the edict issued for the degradation and punishment of Princes Tuan and Chwang, Duke Lan, Governor Yu Hsien and Chao Chu Chiao, president of the war board, has been received here. It confirms the statements made in yesterday's telegram, but shows that several other unimportant officers are also ordered punished. Chao Chu Chiao was not cashiered, as stated. The edict orders his degradation, but allows him to retain his office.

The punishment of Prince Tuan is regarded as severe, because it means that his son, the heir apparent, can never become the emperor of China.

The punishment of Governor Yu Hsien, who was responsible for the massacre of Christians in Shensi province, is considered entirely inadequate. The feeling here is that he should be beheaded.

No mention is made of General Fu Hsiang in the edict, probably because of his strong military power and prestige in the northwestern part of China.

LIST NOT COMPLETE.

United States Insists That Tung Fu Hsiang Be Punished.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Minister Wu Ting Fang brought to the state department yesterday a copy of a telegram he had received from Sheng, the director general of railways and telegraphs at Shanghai, which said that an imperial edict had been issued ordering that the notorious Prince Tuan, father of the heir apparent of China and leader of the Boxer uprising, be degraded and imprisoned for life and that a number of other Chinese officers be punished for their participation in the recent antiforeign attacks.

The telegram was laid before the cabinet by Secretary Hay, with the explanation that the punishments imposed were satisfactory, but that the list was not complete. This government has insisted that the name of General Tung Fu Hsiang, commander of the imperial forces, supposed to be with the emperor and empress dowager, should be added to the list of those designated for punishment and that he should get a severe sentence.

It is understood that instructions will therefore be sent to Minister Conger to insist on the addition of Tung Fu Hsiang's name to the list.

The Chinese officials mentioned in the decree are among the highest in China and comprise most, if not all, of those against whom the powers demanded rigorous punishment.

Whites Beaten In Honolulu.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—The first election in Hawaii resulted in defeat for the whites. Robert W. Wilcox, half white, the independent Royalist candidate, is elected Hawaiian delegate to congress by a small plurality over Samuel Parker, Republican candidate. Wilcox is a professional politician, who used the tricks of a demagogue to win native votes and who did not hesitate to arouse race prejudice against his Republican opponent. The vote shows that he met with success, for he secured a plurality on every island except Oahu, on which Honolulu is, and in some places he polled a larger vote than both his rivals. Prince David, Democratic candidate, polled a very light vote. Wilcox received 3,632 votes, Parker 3,563 and Prince David 1,468. It is said ex-Queen Liliuokalani secretly favored Wilcox and advised her friends to knife Prince David.

The Name Sing Sing Disliked.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Another movement is on foot to change the name of Sing Sing to Ossining, which is the town name. Manufacturers say that the name "Sing Sing" stamped on their goods prejudices them, and it is almost impossible to convince customers that the goods are not made at the prison. While Sing Sing is a large and flourishing village of 10,000 inhabitants, there are multitudes, even in this state, who think that about all there is in Sing Sing is the prison and a few houses about it where the keepers live.

Gives $100,000 to a Church.

BLOOMFIELD, N. J., Nov. 17.—James N. Jurvis of this place has notified the Westminster Presbyterian church that he will build on property adjoining the church building a two story stone building, harmonizing in architecture with the present structure, which he will equip with all facilities for church and Sunday school work and a public library of 25,000 volumes, the whole to cost $100,000.

Skeleton Found Near Norwich.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Nov. 17.—A human skeleton discovered in a gravel bank on the outskirts of Norwich is believed by some to be the remains of Palmer Rich, who mysteriously disappeared from that section 12 years ago.

$30,000 Fire In Whitehall.

WHITEHALL, N. Y., Nov. 17.—James Doren's Sons' furniture, carpet and undertaking store was gutted by fire yesterday afternoon. Loss, $30,000; insurance, $20,000.

New Guns For Indian Army.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—"The Indian government," says the Simla correspondent of The Daily Mail, "is about to spend £2,500,000 on new guns for the Indian army."

A FIGHT FOR LIFE.

Senator Davis Holding His Own, but In a Critical Condition.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 17.—The condition of United States Senator Davis shows little change, according to the report from his sickroom. Nothing is given out except through the physicians, whose bulletin reported the patient sleeping most of the time, but having a clear brain when awake. Temperature, 100; pulse, 108; respiration, 22. He continues to have a good appetite, but the ability to digest food is of great importance.

The weakened condition of the senator makes recuperation more difficult. His health, shattered in the civil war, was never fully restored. However, his strong will is battling with the disease, and hope has not been abandoned, although it is admitted that his condition is very critical. He realizes his serious condition and, it is stated, has made all arrangements as to his estate.

Judge Bartlett Tripp has arrived from Yankton, S. D. He will remain until there is a change in his brother-in-law's condition.

GERMAN EMPEROR ASSAULTED.

Insane Woman Throws an Ax at Him In Breslau.

BRESLAU, Germany, Nov. 17.—While the kaiser was driving through the Garten Strasse, this place, at noon yesterday, a well dressed woman threw an ax at the royal carriage. The missile struck the back of the vehicle, and the kaiser escaped untouched. The woman was arrested.

The woman carried the ax concealed under her shawl. When she threw it, it struck the carriage and then fell to the ground.

The emperor appeared to be unmoved. A spectator seized the woman and held her until the arrival of the police.

The woman's name is Selma Schnapke. She was born in Italy on July 15, 1859, and is a tradeswoman of Breslau. A provisional medical examination of the prisoner has been made, and she has been pronounced to be insane. The ax she threw was new and had just been sharpened.

After the attempt on the emperor's life the Breslau garrison was alarmed and ordered to form a wedge as the emperor drove from Kleinburg, where he visited the barracks of the cuirassiers, to the Breslau railway depot, which he left at 3:30 p. m. for Gross Strelitz.

Boers Very Troublesome.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The Boers, according to the Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Mail, have broken the railway in 20 places between Bloemfontein and the Orange river, and the line was cut yesterday between Kimberley and Belmont. "The Vryheid garrison is practically besieged," says the Pietermaritzburg correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, wiring Thursday, "and the town is evacuated. A position has been taken up on the hills commanding it, and notices have been posted in the vicinity warning the Boers that if they attempt to reoccupy the town it will be blown to pieces."

Would Not Pay Extra Fare.

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 17.—Charles Monier, a well known business man of Oriskany, went to the New York Central station there yesterday morning to purchase a ticket for Utica. The office was closed, and he boarded a train, tendering the conductor the price of a ticket. The conductor demanded 5 cents more under the state law for fares paid on board a train. This was refused, and the passenger was forcibly ejected. He will bring suit against the conductor for assault and against the company for damages on the ground that he was not at fault because the ticket office was not open.

Fatal Railway Collision.

FRANKLIN, Pa., Nov. 17.—The Lake Shore passenger train which left this city for the west at 7 o'clock last night collided with a Pennsylvania freight on the Lake Shore railroad between Polk and Raymilton, 12 miles west of Franklin. Details of the collision are very meager, but it is known that the engineer of the freight train was killed. The engineer and fireman and Brakeman Paden of the passenger train were badly injured. Baggage Master Tom Sutton of Oil City and three passengers are missing.

Runaway Boys Found.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—James C. Osborne of Providence, who came to New York to find his runaway boy, located him in a cheap rooming house. The finding of young Osborne led to the discovery of three other boys who had run away from home, getting here on Wednesday.

Caracas Again Shaken.

CARACAS, Venezuela, Nov. 17.—A severe earthquake shock was felt yesterday morning in the island of Curacao. Only slight damage, however, was done.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

Export Records Broken In October. Our Balance $92,475,226.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Sixty railroad stocks this week advanced to an average price of $77.12 per share, the highest in 18 years. The top point of September, 1899, was $76.29 per share. Wall street is moving, as is its custom, a little in advance of the rest of the country, but there is not one of the great industries in which contracts, delayed until after election, are not being closed daily. Prices of commodities advance almost without exception, and all the changes in manufactured goods are in the direction of firmer quotations. The smallness of stocks of goods carried is a feature of our reports from most of the leading centers. Scarcity of labor gives manufacturers in the middle states great concern.

Largely on account of Wall street operations payments through the New York clearing house show a gain of 22 per cent for the week compared with last year, while the gain over 1898 is 41.6 per cent.

Activity at iron and steel mills steadily increases, and there is an equally uniform advance in quotations. The gain has been more general this week than at any previous time this season, pig iron moving up 25 cents a ton and corresponding gains appearing in bars, billets, plates and structural materials generally.

Cotton rose slightly. Exports to Great Britain continued heavy even at prices 2 cents higher than a year ago. Total cotton shipments in October were valued at $60,391,107, exceeding all records and showing a gain of 200 per cent over the previous month.

Our foreign trade still indicates that we shall have a great store of gold at command next season. Exports from this city in two weeks of November were 17.4 per cent larger than last year, with less than 4 per cent gain in imports.

Final returns for October show merchandise exports exceeding all records by $25,000,000 and making the balance of trade for the month $92,475,226 in favor of this country.

Failures for the week were 217 in the United States against 219 last year and 33 in Canada against 20 last year.

Train Invaded McCarthy's Yard.

ROCKLAND, Mass., Nov. 17.—The passenger train from Rockland to Hanover leaving here at 4:32 yesterday afternoon ran into the back yard of T. D. McCarthy, near Howard street, instead of bringing up at its scheduled destination. The train was made up of a smoker and one passenger coach. The engine toppled over only two feet from the corner of Mr. McCarthy's house. The coaches started to overturn, but landed on a shed, which, while partially crushed in, held up the cars pretty well. None of the passengers was hurt. William Sylvester, a brakeman, and Howard S. Tower, the express messenger, were hurt. A switch which opened under the engine was the cause of the accident.

The Newfoundland Case.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Nov. 17.—The Newfoundland general election being virtually over much speculation is now indulged in regarding the next move. Mr. Bond's unqualified victory makes it certain that Mr. Reid, the contractor, will be unable to procure government sanction for the transfer of his concessions to a limited liability company unless he consents to abandon certain properties now included in his contract. Apparently he is disinclined to alter his ante-election attitude, and a prolonged struggle is expected. The floating of an enterprise involving $25,000,000 is involved unless Mr. Bond forces Mr. Reid's hand by legislation and compels him to surrender.

New Gun Tested.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Important tests of the new 12 inch naval gun, which is the type of the great guns to be furnished the new battleships and armored cruisers, have been in progress at Indian Head proving grounds. The gun is the first of 40 for the new ships, and much interest has been shown in its performance. It is a modification of the old 12 inch gun, with an enlarged chamber suited to the use of smokeless powder and designed to take much heavier charges and to secure higher velocity and penetration than the old gun. The firing thus far has justified every expectation as to the new piece.

Four Hundred Times Across Atlantic

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Captain H. Christoffers of the steamship Trave of the North German Lloyd line, which arrived yesterday from Bremen and Cherbourg, completed his two hundredth round trip across the Atlantic ocean. The big liner was decorated with flags and bunting, and the many vessels in the bay saluted the Trave as she slowly steamed into the harbor. On the completion of his next eastward voyage Captain Christoffers will retire from his position and go into private life.

Veteran Electrician Dead.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Frederick W. Royce, widely known as an inventor, electrician and veteran telegraph operator, dropped dead from apoplexy here. He was 61 years old and a native of Delaware. Mr. Royce was among the first to send a message on the old printing telegraph instruments and became one of the most expert telegraphers in the country. In sending press telegrams he often attained a speed of 60 words a minute.

DEATH AT THE STAKE

Fiendish Crime Avenged by Citizens of Limon, Colo.

MURDERED GIRL'S FATHER LED.

Young Negro Had Confessed, but He Seemed Indifferent to the Enormity of His Guilt—The Sheriff Powerless to Protect Him.

LIMON, Colo., Nov. 17.—Chained to a railroad rail set firmly in the ground on the exact spot where his fiendish crime was committed, Preston Porter, Jr., or, as he was familiarly known, John Porter, last evening paid a terrible penalty for his deed. It was 6:23 o'clock when the father of the murdered girl touched the match to the fuel which had been piled around the stake, and 20 minutes later a last convulsive shudder told that life was extinct. What agony the doomed boy suffered while the flames shriveled up his flesh could only be guessed from the terrible contortions of his face and the cries he gave from time to time.

The executioners, who numbered about 300 citizens of Lincoln county, had not the least semblance of the ordinary mob. Their every act was deliberate, and during all the preparations, as well as throughout the sufferings of the negro, hardly an unnecessary word was spoken. Grimly they stood in a circle about the fire until the body was entirely consumed, and then quietly they took their way back to Limon, from where they departed to their homes shortly afterward.

Preston Porter did not seem to realize the awful punishment that he was destined to undergo. As he had exhibited indifference to the enormity of his crime, so he seemed to lack all understanding of its terrible consequences. For more than an hour, while preparations for his execution were in progress, he stood mute and sullen among the avengers. When everything was ready he walked to the stake with a firm step, pausing as he reached the circle of broken boards to kneel in prayer. He was allowed to take his time. He arose and placed his back to the iron stake, and half a dozen men wound chains about his body and limbs. Kerosene oil was applied to the wood, and after a brief pause Richard W. Frost, the father of little Louise Frost, whose cruelly mutilated body was found one week ago on that very spot, applied a match.

Throughout the entire affair but little was said. As they had calmly prepared for the avenging, so the people of the eastern part of the state carried out their plan coolly and deliberately. There was not a hitch in the entire proceeding. Not a weapon was drawn. There was no angry discussion. After the fire had burned low they told each other good night, and they went home. They did not stop to discuss the affair.

The train bearing the negro in custody of Sheriff Freeman and his deputies arrived in Limon at 3:45 p. m. The cars were crowded with newspaper reporters and people who were curious to see the negro executed. R. W. Frost, the murdered girl's father, was one of the passengers. When the train stopped, 16 men who had been selected by the vigilance committee entered the train and demanded the prisoner from the sheriff. Their every action was marked by calmness and determination. The officer protested in the name of the law and asked the men to allow him to take his prisoner to the county jail at Hugo, but his protests were disregarded.

Praise For American Soldiers.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Nov. 17.—Under general order 131 the department of eastern Cuba has been discontinued. Colonel Whitside, in his final orders relinquishing the command of the department, expressed his satisfaction at the soldierly conduct of the troops, officers and men, and their faithfulness in the performances of duty. He specially mentioned the fact that no officer or man had sought or received more than the regulation pay in return for the performance of duty in the island. In conclusion the orders said that there had been no betrayal of trust and no infidelity to the high standard of duty which should regulate those wearing the uniform of the United States. Colonel Whitside's tone in the orders is favorably commented upon by Cubans and foreigners.

Hypnotic Swindlers.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Nov. 17.—The Poughkeepsie police have requested the police of Rochester to arrest Mr. and Mrs. Tony Greco, Italians, who claim to be hypnotists and mind readers. They left here with $145 in cash and clothing and jewelry which they had obtained from women in the Italian colony. They held a seance with three women, and while the latter were in a hypnotic state, it is charged, they robbed them, taking $75 from one, $50 from another and $20 from the third. The women, it is said, were induced to bring their money on Mrs. Greco's representation that she would charm it so that it would double its amount within a week.

No Large Tracts For Sale.

TORONTO, Nov. 17.—The Ontario government has received a large number of requests from people in the United States for large tracts of land in New Ontario, all of which have been refused. A letter was received from a gentleman asking the price of 10,000 acres of land to establish a colony of people from the New England states. A reply was sent that individual settlers can buy land very cheaply, but no large amount of land will be sold to any person.

Oldest Letter Carrier Dead.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Charles A. Tyler, the oldest letter carrier in the world, lies dead in Brooklyn. Mr. Tyler, who was about 80 years old, had been in the employ of the postoffice department for 55 years. Appointed by President Polk Aug. 1, 1845, Mr. Tyler had since then until yesterday been in continuous service.

Close Call For Locomotive Works.

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 17.—A fire in the wheel foundry of the Portland company's big locomotive works and machine factory threatened the destruction of the entire plant for a time last night, but the blaze was confined to a small building. The loss is estimated at $5,000.

Iowa's Population.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The population of the state of Iowa as officially announced is 2,231,853 against 1,911,896 in 1890. This is an increase since 1890 of 319,957, or 16.7 per cent.

Where Bribery is Respletable.

If the Monmouth county newspapers can be believed, the bargain and sale of votes, for which that county has acquired such an unenviable reputation, was carried to its utmost extent at the recent election. The Long Branch Record declares that 1,200 of the 3,000 votes of Ocean township were purchased. Of the 1,600 votes in Freehold township 1,100, it is asserted, can be bought by the party that has the most money. The Red Bank Register doubts if there is a township in the county where the purchasable vote does not reach at least one-fourth of the total, while in several more than half can be bought by the highest bidder. The Monmouth Democrat notes with regret that in Freehold a large number of young voters sold their votes this year, and the same is reported from other parts of the county. These youths, it is said, did not wait to be tempted, but, regarding their newly acquired right of franchise as a marketable commodity, hunted up the men engaged in debauching the ballot and made the best bargain possible.

Noting this deplorable condition of affairs the Newark News moralizes as follows:

Much is heard about the danger to our free institutions from the addition of a large ignorant foreign element to our voting population, but the conditions which exist in Monmouth prove that the native-born citizens are equally susceptible to corruption. Monmouth's population has but a small percentage of persons of foreign birth. Most of the inhabitants are of families which for generations have lived and died on Monmouth soil. Nowhere should there be cherished a truer spirit of Americanism or a loftier conception of its ideals. And yet it is a fact that the leaders in debauching the ballot are representatives of the oldest and best families, men of standing and respectability, prominent in church and social circles, and exemplars of the moral tone of the community. With such men sowing the seeds it is no wonder that the growth of political corruption has infected the entire community.

An interesting bit of political gossip is going the rounds. It is that Senator Edward C. Stokes, of Cumberland will succeed Lewis A. Thompson as Clerk in Chancery next spring. Mr. Thompson's term expires March 30th next, and Mr. Stokes will finish his Senatorial term with the next session of the Legislature. It is a long peek to next March, but knowing ones say that the change has already been as good as decided upon.

Referring to the fact that Assemblyman Foote, of Plainfield, is an aspirant for the majority leadership of the Assembly, the Elizabeth Journal says: "Mr. Foote is an able, careful and influential member of the legislature, and the Republicans would do well to select him as the leader. Without reflecting on any leader of the majority of recent years it may still be said that he would add both dignity and distinction to the position."

Only New Jersey and four other States in the Union have annual sessions of the Legislature. All others have biennial sessions.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

Mayor Fisk, of Plainfield, is reported to have decided not to accept the Mayoralty nomination again. His health is not of the best, and he desires to be free from official duties. This is to be regretted. He is an eminently capable official; makes an excellent Mayor and is a Republican and a citizen of high character and standing, whom the majority in Plainfield delight to support. Mayor Fisk's retirement from local politics will be a loss to the party, but he has done much good work and is entitled to rest if he believes it will be of advantage to him. —Elizabeth Journal.

THEY SAY.

The Merchant Says:

Telephone service is a great promoter of business. It not only is an open door for new business, but increases the facility with which any business may be transacted.

The Railroad Man Says:

It keeps our many departments running in continuous harmony. It increases both our passenger and our freight service, and is a great convenience to our patrons.

The Broker Says:

It keeps me in touch with the market wherever I am; I buy and sell by wire, and by taking telephonic advantage of a turn in the market I have made thousands of dollars.

The Doctor Says:

Telephone service has increased my income to nearly double. Many persons will seek advice by telephone who would hesitate to ask a physician to make a call.

The Caterer Says:

Telephone service enables me to serve my patrons more speedily and with less effort. It minimizes possibility of loss from overstocking.

The Housekeeper Says:

Life without telephone service would be unbearable. It smooths all the rough places. How we ever got along without it, I do not know.

The Suburban Resident Says:

The knowledge that I can call up my house out of town from my office in the city, is a great comfort.

The College Man Says:

"I say, old chap, it's great. You can call up and get the latest news from the football game or the boat race, and every other old thing a fellow wants to know."

Everybody Says:

It is the greatest thing in the world—the greatest convenience of this or any other time. The greatest factor in business, social or domestic life; a service no one can afford to be without.

The Telephone Company Says:

We want your patronage on the basis of LOW RATES, PERFECT SERVICE.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table.

DUNELLEN

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Nov. 17.—The entertainment in the Presbyterian chapel last evening was a financial as well as a social success and as a result the Christmas fund of the church will be greatly increased. The programme was an informal one and consisted of vocal and instrumental solos and recitations given by the teachers in the Sunday-school.

An exceptionally interesting programme has been arranged for the Literary Society, which meets this evening with Miss Ella Dunham. Quotations from "Julius Cæsar" will be given by the various members, a humorous recitation by Miss Mary Doolittle, a synopsis of "As You Like It" by Miss Ella Dunham and vocal selections by Miss Wilson and Doolittle.

It was stated by several borough citizens yesterday, that Amos Shallcross, of Philadelphia, the boy for whom the Plainfield police are searching, has been in the borough two or three times in the past few days. He loitered about the round house the greater part of yesterday, but unfortunately no one knew he was wanted by the police.

The Twilight Social Club will give a grand ball in Apgar's Hall, Thursday evening, November 22d. A prize cake walk will be the feature of the evening. Peterson's orchestra will be in attendance and furnish the musical part of the programme.

John and George Huff and N. B. Snell spent yesterday hunting in the vicinity of Stelton. Game was scarce, however, and they returned with one rabbit and some quail.

Robert Humpston left yesterday in company with several friends from various places for Port Jervis, N. Y., where two weeks will be spent in hunting.

Walter Bodine will leave Monday morning for Chicago, where he will join Charles Teel and proceed to Portland, Oregon.

Miss Annie Sirisky, of Raritan, returned home yesterday after a two weeks' visit with her brother, Bernard Sirisky.

Lewis Thomas left for Princeton yesterday for the purpose of witnessing the Yale Princeton game today.

Mrs. Edward Book returned home Wednesday after a two weeks' visit with relatives at Frenchtown.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Churchill attended the funeral of a relative in New York yesterday.

Ludlow Frazee is at work decorating the interior of Fowler Vail's residence.

Mrs. Morris Barick is visiting relatives at Freehold.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Nov. 17.—Although the township school board and the Dunellen Board of Education met Thursday evening, the question of tuition fees to be paid by the township for scholars attending the latter schools is still unsettled. The meeting adjourned without any definite action being taken in the matter and it will now be settled at the December meeting of the township board.

Owing to the annual meeting of the New York and New Jersey Seventh-Day Baptist churches being held in New York city today there was no session in the local church. A large number of New Market residents are in attendance at the meeting. Rev. L. E Livermore delivered the annual sermon this morning.

Mrs. Tomlinson, of Plainfield, will deliver a temperance address to the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church tomorrow evening at 7:30.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dayton, of Plainfield, formerly of New Market, has been blessed by the arrival of twins.

The first shipment of lumber for the new ice house arrived yesterday and the work of erection will be commenced in a few days.

Joseph Meeker has been visiting relatives at Franklin Park during the past week.

'PLAINS AND FANWOO

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Nov. 17—A woman, who is known as "True Blue," and hails from over the mountains, made the air blue with her oaths and obscene language yesterday afternoon on Park avenue. The woman had, as usual, when she visits the town, imbibed too freely of the cup that cheers. The boys began plaguing her and this started the ball. A number were upon the street at the time and the sight was a most disgusting one. No arrest was made.

Miss Louise Robison tendered a social evening to a number of her friends at the home of her sister, Mrs. William B. Noble, last night. The pleasant affair was arranged in honor of her friends, Miss Browning and Miss Duke, both of Camden, who are visiting Miss Robison. Music and games, followed by refreshments, passed the evening all to quick for the happy party, and the pleasant and delightful little affair will be a pleasant memory to all. Guests were present from Camden, Ridgewood Park, Westfield, Plainfield and the village.

The members of the Baptist Sunday-school will observe their annual Bible Day exercises in an appropriate manner tomorrow morning. The programme arranged by the superintendent and teachers is an interesting one and they hope the friends of the school will drop in and enjoy it with them. The exercises will begin at 9:30, and will take up about fifteen minutes of the morning church service, which will begin at 11 o'clock instead of 10:45 as is usual.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Margaret Happell were held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from her late residence on Westfield avenue. Rev. G. M. Shott officiated, assisted by Rev. J. H. Parks, D. D. Interment was made in the family plot in the Baptist cemetery.

The recent census shows Scotch Plains and Fanwood borough has a total population of 1,599. Judge Clark could not find the other one so as to make it 1,600.

Those who have been attending the State Sunday-school convention held at New Brunswick the past two days, returned home last night.

The Township Committee met in the town rooms last night. Several bills were ordered paid and other routine business transacted.

Rev. G. M. Shott will take for his text for Sunday morning: "The Blood, Testimony and Life." In the evening: "John the Baptist."

Twilight Council, No. 7, Jr. O. U. A. M., held its regular weekly meeting in its rooms last evening.

Horace Hand, of Plainfield, was the guest of friends in the village last night.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Nov. 17—Miss Kate Kilner, of North Plainfield, visited her aunt, Mrs. Bodenheimer, Thursday.

Jacob Thuma and family are visiting out-of-town friends. Mr. Thuma is the ticket agent at the railroad station and is now enjoying his vacation.

The regular business meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Fred Latourette.

The meeting of the Farther Lights Society was held last evening at the parsonage.

FOR ENDEAVORERS.

Interesting Side of the Work Being Carried on by Young Christians.

(Conducted by Press Department Union County C. E. Union.)

The New York State Christian Endeavorers, whose very delightful State convention was held last month, have adopted the recommendation of Rev. Dr. Clark in reference to observing the twentieth anniversary of Christian Endeavor, Feb. 2, 1901, as "Decision Day." As the date falls on Saturday the special effort will be made on the following day, Sunday. Every society in the State of New York—and there are many of them—will be urged to make an earnest effort to "bring associate members to a definite decision for Christ." Active steps to carry out the plan have already been begun.

Nebraska's State convention was a very great success. It was held in the city which has so often been heard of in recent months, Lincoln. Secretary Baer of the United Society gave the keynote address and led the "Quiet Hour" service at its close. The missionary feature was emphasized strongly, a returned missionary from Ecuador, a teacher among the mountain whites of North Carolina and a missionary from China being among the speakers.

The State union's work for prisoners was ably presented and the society in the prison was visited. It numbers between 50 and 60 members and is a wideawake, vigorous organization.

An excellent rally by the Juniors pleased the visitors and showed what Christian Endeavor is doing for Nebraskan children. Thirty Junior societies have been organized during the year. The State secretary says that the future outlook of Christian Endeavor in Nebraska is as promising as wheat-growing.

The enrollment of the Christian Endeavor Tenth Legion is now 17,464. The Comrades of the Quiet Hour number 21,861.

THEMES OF THE THEATRE

MERITORIOUS PRESENTATIONS AT MUSIC HALL THIS WEEK.

Nellie McHenry in "M'liss" and Josephine Sabel in "A Soldier's Queen" Scored Distinct Hits.

Performances of marked merit and worthy of much better patronage than was awarded the efforts of Manager Maze Edwards, is the record of Music Hall this week. The first on Tuesday night, the beautiful play of "M'liss," written expressly for the late Annie Pixley, founded on the well known story by Bret Harte, was a revelation in more senses than one, in acting and general presentation. It served as the introduction of Miss Nellie McHenry in the title role, a part which made name and fortune for Miss Pixley, and in the rendition of the character Miss McHenry surprised all who remembered her from her former appearance nearly two years ago.

She failed to make a favorable impression at that time, but in justice to the lady it must be said, she did not have proper opportunity to show her abilities. The entertainment presented at that time was of mixed character, a picked up affair, in which a new sketch was tried. Miss McHenry did not show to advantage and her "jolliness" was truly mis-named, but as M'liss she was everything that could be desired, and gave unbounded satisfaction. The contrast in the present enactment is surprising, and Miss Pixley in her palmiest day never shone to better advantage than did Miss McHenry Tuesday night. The company, too, was a most excellent one, and the scenic, accessories perfect The play was deserving of as good patronage as was given "Way Down East," for the story is wholesome and the characters drawn from life.

"A Soldier's Queen," in which Miss Josephine Sabel appeared Thursday night, was another good production and introduced Miss Sabel as a dramatic artist, something different from what she she been identified with since she has been before the public. She has been a recognized "head liner" in all the principal vaudeville theatres in the United States as a vocalist, but in the comedy of Thursday night she proved herself a very versatile actress and scored a success highly gratifying to all. Her singin was superb as usual, but her acting and conception of the character she enacts is the principal matter of praise. Her dressing, too, is commendable and the same may be said of all the characters. The scenery of the play was exceedingly good and novel and the universal verdict of all present was one of unqualified approbation at the completeness of the entire performance. A very pleasing feature and in fact a show in itself was the introduction of Schilzonyi's Hungarian Boy Band between acts and in the final scene of the play.

Hungarians are musical. They must be, when a band composed of midgets—lads ranging from 6 to 16 years of age, produce music as good as that of Sousa's and far ahead of others, in the precision, snap and effect with which they play the numbers.

Last night, Amy Stone's Little Tots made their first appearance in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" the first time on record, of any juvenile organization attempting such a feat. The novelty of the affair excites comment, but the performance is more than remarkable.

These children in reality give a much more complete performance of the famous drama than the average company of adults. The text and story is more fully carried out but there is no lack of "specialties" which of late seem so indespensible in the presentation of all plays. The children one and all speak clearly and distinctly. You can scarcely imagine they are children, so thorough are they in speech and stage business. All are good, but special praise is due little Irma Day, aged 4 years as Eva, and Martha Lloyd, aged 7 years, in the character of Topsy. A third and last performance of the play will be given tonigat and is worthy of attention and patronage.

The benefit entertainment of Clarence A. Roberts, the Grand Army veteran, is expected to take place Monday night of coming week.

"King of the Opium Ring," by Charles E. Blaney and Charles A. Taylor, which scored a phenomenal success at the Academy of Music, New York, last spring, will be the attraction on Friday night. It is a four act melodrama. The scenery is very elaborate. The action of the piece takes place in San Francisco about 1890, and deals with the methods employed to get opium into the United States free of duty. The first act shows Dead Man's Dock, with the Golden Gate in the distance. The second act shows the Chinese quarters underground, the home of the high-tinder and the headquarters of the smugglers. The third act represents the entrance to the Fong Quay Club and the Palace saloon on Sacramento street. Then to the heart of Chinatown, on New Year's night, the street is fantastically illuminated, and presents a scene of oriental splendor The mart scene, the Chinese theatre, and the Joss house are shown in this act. An acrobatic sensation, surpassing that of the "Span of Life," occurs here. Act four shows the assembly rooms of the Fong Quay Club; a Chinese-American wedding; a nuptial feast, at which, as part of the festivities, vaudeville acts are introduced. The act closes with a Chinese cake-walk and a rag-time ball. A number of native Chinese lend an oriental atmosphere to the whole piece, and makes it one of the most complete organizations on the road.

On Monday, 26th inst, Washburn Minstrels, one of our standard attractions will be seen and "Uncle Josh Spruceby," a rural play of much merit, will be the Thanksgiving attraction, Thursday 29th inst. Then will come the New York Opera Association on Saturday December 1st—"Lost in Egypt" December 4th—"The Three Musketeers," December 6th—"Who is Who" Saturday matinee and night December 8th—"The Village Postmaster" Thursday, December 12th, and "The Christian" Saturday, December 15th, with other novelties to follow.

Euchre Party of the Misses Moore.

The Misses Moore, of Central avenue, gave a very delightful euchre party yesterday afternoon. Seven tables for six-hand euchre were arranged in the spacious rooms, which were prettily decorated with roses. The first prize was won by Miss Caroline F. Randolph, the second by Miss Harriet Halloway and the third by Miss Phebe Lowell. Mrs. Fred Fish was the winner of the consolation prize. After the game refreshments were served.

FASHION'S MIRROR.

Some of the Pretty Fancies in Late Costumes Reflected Therein.

A lovely gown recently seen is of soft green crepe, with vertical tucks at six-inch intervals in the skirt, which is edged with deep vandykes of cream lace, whose points turn upward to meet each tuck. The bodice is slightly bloused all around, with the vandyked lace applied yokewise, and has a loose front inserted of white crepe, with yellow roses and green leaves painted upon it. This is crossed by gold braid interlaced and fastened by tiny emerald ones. The belt is of gold galon with a gold and emerald clasp, says Boston Budget.

Grecian satin, a new wool material for evening wraps and tea gowns, has a tiny diagonal stripe on the surface.

Panne velvet spotted with gold is very attractive.

Egyptian designs are to be seen more and more in belt buckles, jewelry and for many purposes. They are Cleopatra heads, Egyptian symbols, and the asp is frequently to be seen. A handsome purse has for its silver trimming this asp, part of the body outlining the edge with the head and a coil in one corner.

Some new stocks are softened with a little line of white tulle around the neck.

Clever young women are utilizing black lace "scraps" by outlining the designs with gold thread and sewing gold spangles in the center of all the flowers. If edge lace, it is useful for bows and ends, when wired with the finest wire. If piece lace, it is just the thing for crowns of hats or theater bonnets.

Many pretty hats have the under side of their rims faced with fur. In a pretty hat of this kind the fur is chinchilla, and the hat itself layers of gray felt. It is trimmed with pink roses. Another pretty hat of l'Aiglon shape is faced with mink. One of the new rose hats is formed not of masses of roses but of large petals of velvet. The hat has a broad rim and a low, round crown made of the pink petals, and the sole trimming is a low, spreading bow of black velvet in the front.

COOKING BY THE CLOCK.

Time and Temperature to Be Observed in Cooking Fish, Fowl and Game.

Fish may be baked continuously at 300 degrees for one hour. Underdone fish is unsightly, unpalatable and unwholesome, says Mrs. S. T. Rorer, in Ladies' Home Journal.

Game, such as woodcock, snipe and pheasants, requires continuously 400 degrees for 30 minutes. Partridges split down the back, 400 degrees for 30 minutes. Prairie chickens, 400 degrees for 45 minutes.

A haunch of venison requires 400 degrees at first; then cooled to 300 degrees; almost constant basting and roasting for two hours. Run in a skewer and if the blood follows the skewer out, and at the same time the meat is tender and rare, it is done.

An eight-pound turkey with stuffing should go into the oven at 400 degrees for half an hour; then cool the oven to 80 degrees and roast for two hours longer. Without stuffing it will require less time. The oven must be hot at first (400 degrees) for half an hour; then roast the unstuffed turkey for an hour and a half at 280 degrees, basting every 15 minutes.

A four-pound chicken, if stuffed, will bake at 400 degrees in half an hour; at 280 degrees it will require two hours. The same sized chicken unstuffed will require the first half hour in a hot oven; then the oven cooled to 280 degrees for an hour.

A tame duck stuffed with potato, placed in the oven at 360 degrees, will require an hour to brown. It should be basted every ten minutes. The oven may then be cooled to 230 degrees and the cooking continued for two hours.

THE MODE.

An Old Skirt Revived and the Princess Gown In Favor.

So many skirts of the plaited variety have been seen that fashion mongers have wearied of them and have revived the amazon skirt, which is perfectly plain all around and fastens at the side. This skirt was fashionable about a year ago, and it is a most exceptional thing that it should be brought forward again after so short a period of retirement.

The princess form is definitely adopted for elegant gowns and those intended for grand occasions. Like all other garments, it is subject to incessant variations, and just now the redingote opening over an independent skirt is the preferred style. The decoration is always dignified in character and usually flat. Embroideries and incrustations of lace, with a few spangles introduced, form appropriate trimming. Besides the redingote there is the one piece gown, opening at the left side from head to foot. Down the bodice the fastening is covered by coquilles of mousseline de soie, while on the skirt it is concealed by embroidery, braid or applications.

VELVET BOLERO.

Today's illustration pictures a bolero of garnet velvet, covered with applications of white satin. It opens over a vest of white satin, embroidered with gold, and the high collar matches the vest. The guimpe and corselet belt are of old gold satin. The tight sleeves of velvet are ornamented with white satin applications at the top and have deep cuffs of old gold satin. JUDIC CHOLLET.

WHAT TO WEAR.

Latest Ideas In the Realm of Fashion.

House and tea gowns are less often made with a watteau plait. The newer way is to have an open redingote, with a short bolero in front which shows a profusion of lace.

The thinnest and most vaporous of materials are combined with heavy silks of the Louis Quinze and Louis Seize order.

Long, straight mantles, like a sack extended to the feet, will be worn all winter. They are not suitable for long walks, but for the carriage and for traveling are very useful, being loose and easily put on and off, while they afford protection from dust, rain and cold. Black, brown, iron gray, mastic, red and plum are the favorite shades of color for them, and they are lined with satin or broche silk when they are not made of double faced material requiring no lining. The high medici collar is always used for them, as it shelters the neck and ears most effectively. If it is lined with fur, it is most luxuriously warm.

GIRL'S COSTUME.

The cut shows a girl's gown of silver gray cloth. The skirt is plaited except in front, where the tablier of gray velvet is ornamented with tiny folds of silver gray silk, arranged in V form. Tabs of gray velvet cross the plaits of the skirt at the hips and are fastened by silver buttons. The bodice is plaited like the skirt and trimmed with buttoned velvet tabs, and the plastron of gray velvet has silk folds to match the tablier. The half length sleeves of cloth are plaited and have velvet tabs. Below are full undersleeves of silver gray silk, gathered into close cuffs. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Apollo Statue.

A life size marble statue of Apollo, with the head wonderfully well preserved, has been dug up near Athens. The workmanship is of the fifth century before Christ.

HE WALKS BY FAITH

Dr. J. W. Bischoff, the Blind Organist of Washington.

His Life, Career and Success Should Be an Inspiration for All Who Doubt Themselves and Their Maker.

[Special Washington Letter.]

WHEN you visit the national capital you should try to spend at least one Sabbath day here in order to have an opportunity to go to the Congregational church and hear the blind organist, Dr. J. W. Bischoff. No matter what may be your creed or home affiliations, you should hear Bischoff.

The services in the church the second Sunday in this month were in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his continuous services as organist and musical director. Both the morning and the evening services were so arranged as to give prominence to the music; and the dear, devoted, conscientious, religious, honorable and noble man who presided at the organ shook the pillars of the temple with his rhapsodies of harmony and melody. He is a living symphony.

The morning sermon was on "The Relation of Music to the Religious Life," and the eloquent pastor dwelt particularly upon the almost absolute necessity of music for success in the work of every minister. The evening sermon was on "The Manifestation of the Spirit;" and the beloved pastor told the congregation of the many manifestations of the Spirit which had shone forth in the work of the blind organist, who has given half of his life to the work of the church. He is 50 years of age, and has been 25 years superintending the musical work of the church.

Julius Caesar said that he would rather be the first man in Capua than the second man in Rome; and, so far as human ambition might measure a man's pleasure, pride and contentment, Dr. Bischoff has achieved as great success as Caesar, for he is facile princeps, first in the hearts of the congregation which he has served so long and well.

Twenty years ago, for the first time, the writer attended a concert in that church for some public benefit, and heard the blind organist play an accompaniment for Miss Edith Abell, of Boston, when she sang "The Lost Chord." A few days later he attended the funeral of a son of the pastor, Dr. Rankin, and heard the organist pathetically lead his choir in solemn sacred requiems; one of them of his own composition, welling out of his love for the bereaved father.

This year will mark the completion of the nineteenth annual session of Bischoff's concerts. The concerts are directed and prepared by Dr. Bischoff, and all of the participants are his pupils. They are always successful, and have grown to be such a custom in the national capital that they are looked forward to each year as a necessary part of the musical season—and are, in fact, more firmly established than any other series of concerts in Washington.

In the arrangement of the programmes and grouping and the selection of singers for the concerts, Dr. Bischoff gives another evidence of his broad musical culture and musicianship. The programmes also show that Dr. Bischoff is an American of the Americans, loving his own nationality in music and loving all that is artistic and poetic from the hands of his countrymen.

To be a singer, pianist, organist (and member of the A. G. O.), a most successful teacher, eminent in registration and in the art of transposition, would seem more than enough for any musician, but Dr. Bischoff does not stop here, and, in fact, considers his talents as heretofore mentioned as the smallest part of his equipment.

DR. J. W. BISCHOFF.
(Known Everywhere as the "Blind Organist of Washington.")

Great as his success has been in these former lines, his success as a composer has been even more marked. All singers of note are familiar with some of Bischoff's beautiful songs.

Dr. Bischoff has done much to elevate the standard of music in the churches of Washington, not only by presenting the best class of music in the services of his own church, but by helping to place in the church choirs throughout the city singers of the highest degree of proficiency. Along this line he has instituted in his own church what is styled "An Evening with the Choir;" one Sunday evening every five or six weeks being devoted to this choral service, when the choir renders fine anthems and sacred choruses, and solos; and concerted numbers by his quartette make up the programme. These services are most popular—hundreds often being turned away from the doors.

Dr. Bischoff was born in Chicago. He is totally blind, having lost his sight when only two years of age. His early education was acquired at the Wisconsin institute for the blind, and he subsequently studied with a number of eminent masters, among whom may be mentioned W. W. Ludden and Carlo Bassini, in the art of singing, and Mr. Creswold, of London, for the organ. He was called to Washington in 1875, to take charge of the organ at the First Congregational church, which position he has continued to fill up to the present time.

Dr. Bischoff has two grown children, by a former marriage. About a year ago he married Miss Elsie Bond. Mrs. Bischoff possesses a pure soprano voice of rare sweetness. At a recent concert in an aria from the "Magic Flute," the purity and flexibility of her tones were effectively displayed. Many considered her execution of this difficult selection the vocal gem of the concert, though all the singers were above the average in excellence. Mrs. Bischoff is an efficient and enthusiastic assistant of her gifted husband. Dr. Bischoff has endeared himself to the Washington public not only by his musical attainments, genius and ability as an instructor, but by his genial bearing and those estimable qualities which constitute a man of integrity and cultivation.

DR. BISCHOFF AT THE ORGAN.

The blind organist does not need guidance about the church which he knows so well, nor does he need help of any kind at the organ. While it is likely that he might be bothered with the handling of any other organ, he knows his own as a father knows his child. It is marvelous to see him enter the church and take his place before the beginning of the services. It is wonderful to see him run his fingers over the keys; and it is still more thrilling to see him reach forth into the darkness which envelops him, no matter how bright and beautiful the sun may be for others, and manipulate the stops which produce the exact effects which are running through his masterful mind.

The pastor, Dr. Newman, says: "Dr. Bischoff has gone forth into our community in many capacities. He has given us concerts at various times, and he has given benefit concerts, going into the different churches to help the causes which have appealed to him. By his unselfishness and generosity he has endeared himself to thousands of our people. He has gone into the homes and hearts of the bereaved and afflicted with me and the previous pastor by singing omniscient and omnipotent love to them in the funeral services, thereby lightening the burdens which have to be borne in the moments of seeming darkness when loved ones have been apparently lost, but really lifted up into the realms of light and supernal joy. His music on such occasions has been as benedictions from the source of all music, which is the source of all love.

"He is not only a master of the organ, but a master of organization. He is not only a musician, but a man of the keenest and kindest sensibilities and susceptibilities. Having a wide view of the world, having astute knowledge and being a constant reader, he is alive to current events and expresses himself in his chosen and beloved sphere with force and eloquence. In addition to his musical genius, he is a good comrade and a desirable element in the community."

One can see in him, in his conversations, in his works and in his manners the manifest fact that in being obliged to lean on others because of his infirmity this strong man has learned to lean upon another, who has said that "like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear Him." There is no gentler, manlier man. His weakness has been made strength unto him, because he has devoted himself unto others. Beginning life without sight, he found himself helpless, but only in one sense. He realized that he must develop some one of his remaining talents, and he developed his best talent. This world would be the better probably if every man having sight could do as well and develop his best talent. There are many thousands who struggle on untimely to their tombs without knowing which of their talents is their best talent.

The life, the career, the success of the blind organist ought to be an inspiration to all of us. We might well emulate his example and walk by faith, and not by sight. Whoever has a will will not be lacking in finding a way. Almost every man is good for something. The successful men are those who find out what they are good for, and have the will to proceed in that direction, forcefully using all of their energies to achieve.

But, after all, the greatest of men have achieved their most wonderful successes by falling on their knees, as Bischoff did in childhood, and asking for guidance from the Guide of all guides.

QUAKER FUNERAL SERVICE.

Large Attendance of Friends at the Obsequies Over the Remains of the Late Alexander Shotwell.

The funeral services of the late Alexander Shotwell were held yesterday afternoon from the house in Pearl street, and there was a very large attendance of the older citizens of this city and vicinity who had known Mr. Shotwell for a great many years. The deceased being a member of the Friends meeting, the services were in charge of members of the meeting. There were remarks by John Shotwell, of Manasquan, and Lydia Williams. Both speakers referred impressively to the life of Mr. Shotwell and to his many good deeds. His long association with the Friends and this city were mentioned and his exemplary life was praised.

The service was according to the rites of the Friends and was simple and plain. A few floral offerings from friends and relatives evidenced the esteem in which the departed was held. Interment took place in the North Plainfield Cemetery and those who acted as pall-bearers were Theodore Pruden, Alex. Thorn, Mulford Cole, Richard McCullough, George Feller and W. H. Shotwell.

Surprised on Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin E Hoagland, of West Front street, celebrated the anniversary of their wedding last Thursday, and a genuine surprise was given to them in the evening. They were invited to take supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cadmus, in Plainfield avenue, and, soon after going out, a small boy called at the home of Mr. Cadmus and told Mr. and Mrs. Hoagland that some one had called at their home to see them. They returned immediately and found a house full of relatives and friends. The evening was given up to celebrating the happy event in the lives of the celebrants and supper was served during the festivities. Mr. and Mrs. Hoagland received a great many handsome presents.

Misses Osgood Were Hostesses.

About twenty friends were entertained in a very pleasant manner last evening by the Misses Osgood at their home on Myrtle avenue. The evening was spent in listening to informal vocal and instrumental selections contributed by Mr. VanOss and Stephen Haff. The serving of refreshments brought the affair to a close.

ASPIRE TO BE A CITY.

BOROUGH OFFICIALS TALK OF CHANGING FORM OF GOVERNMENT.

They Also Discuss the Project of Organizing a Bank to be Located in the Local Canada.

After the special meeting of the Mayor and Borough Council last evening the members indulged in an informal discussion of the advisability of changing the borough form of government to a city one of the fourth class. The advantages of a such a move were talked about with considerable seriousness. It would place the license question in the hands of the Mayor and Council and it would give the place more dignity and prominence. Of course, one disadvantage would be a little more expense, as there would be an increase in salaries, etc.

Another matter talked of informally was that of establishing a bank in the borough. One of the members stated that he knew a person who would put up $25,000 at once to establish a bank, and the sum of $50,000 was deemed sufficient to start such an institution. Several councilmen said that they would subscribe for stock. The many advantages of having a bank in the borough were set fourth in an attractive and practical manner. It would not be surprising if a move to organize a bank was made at an early date. There are many boroughites who would rather keep their money in the borough than deposit it in this city, and besides they say that the two city banks are now doing a big business.

Councilman Rogers expressed himself plainly on the license question. He favored a higher license fee. He cited the case on Somerset street where one man running a saloon just inside of the borough is paying $300 a year for a license, while just across the line in the city a man has to pay $750, and besides the city man is obliged to close at 11 o'clock at night, while the borough man can remain open all night. No doubt some pressure will be brought to bear on Judge Schenck to equalize these matters when the opportunity affords itself.

TO GO TO CHANCERY.

New Turn Taken in the McLoughlin Will Contest Now.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Nov. 17.—The parties in the McLoughlin will case appeared before Judge Schenck again yesterday, but W. S. Angleman, who is associated with W. K. McClure, for the caveator, W. F. S. McLoughlin, served a notice on the attorneys for the will, Cortlandt Parker and A. S. Lewis, to appear before the Chancellor at Jersey City, on Monday, and show cause why an injunction should not be issued against the probate of the will. Mr. Parker accordingly had the matter of probate in the Somerset Orphans' Court adjourned for two weeks, until Friday, the 30th.

Marriage of a Plainfielder.

An attractive home wedding took place Thursday at the residence of Rev. Dr Reese F. Alsop, of Brooklyn when Miss Clara Righter, sister of Mrs. Alsop was married to Louis Lincoln Drake, of this place. The home was profusely decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums. Music was furnished by a string quartette. The bride was attended by a maid of honor, Catharine Righter, a tiny girl of three years. Charles T. Pierce, of New York was best man and William S Righter, of Newark, gave the bride away. The ceremony was followed by a reception. Mr. Drake is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Dewey Drake.

Took Her Mistress' Finery.

Miss Emma Ammon was arraigned before Justice Moffett this morning on a charge of theft preferred against her by Mrs. Minnie Bush, of Watchung avenue. The girl had been employed as a domestic by Mrs. Bush, and during her stay had appropriated various articles of clothing and a gold ring. She made no denial of the charges and was held in $100 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

Test the curative powers of Ely's Cream Balm for the cure of Catarrh, Hay Fever and Cold in the Head and you are sure to continue the treatment. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying, does not produce sneezing. It soothes and heals the membrane. Price 50 cents at druggists or by mail. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

The Misses Serrell, of Plainfield avenue, gave a party last evening at their home to a number of friends living on the avenue.

NO STREET WIDENING TILL AFTER ELECTION.

man, and it was reported back incorrect. The bond was not filled out properly and was referred back to the company for correction. It is made out to the "Borough of North Plainfield," when according to Counsel Reed's opinion, there is no such thing. It should read "To the Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield." Otherwise the borough would have no claim against the company should it become necessary to establish one.

This brought the question to the mind of Mayor Smalley as to whether it would not be a good idea to change the name of the borough entirely. Mr. Reed said it could be done by an act of the Legislature. His Honor believed it would be a move in the right direction, and it is quite likely that more on this subject will be heard later.

Before the Council adjourned a bill for $240.11 in favor of Manhattan & Cashin for laying sidewalks, was approved and ordered paid, in accordance with a resolution offered by Mr. Rogers.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

S. D Drake was among those who attended the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of Drake's Band, at Elizabeth, last evening.

J. F. Hibbard, one of the proprietors of Hotel McVey, was summoned by telegram to Buffalo, last evening, on account of the serious illness of his mother.

The Cook Cure Company, which treats persons addicted to the use of drugs and intoxicants, receives many letters testifying to the good that various patients have been done by taking the treatment. George Spraker, of Syracuse, says that during the past seven years he has been treated by several so-called "gold cures," but that they never done him much good. Since taking the Cook cure, however, he has lost all desire for intoxicants and finds himself in good health. He believes he has been permanently cured.

As Light as Day.

Woodhull & Martin's big store will be lighted tonight for the first time in all its departments with Acetylene gas. The high quality of the light afforded by acetylene gas is now universally recognized. In addition to its great brilliance, it is a sanitary gas and far healthier than ordinary gas, it consumes less oxygen, give off far less carbide and emits no poisonous carbonic oxide whatever. It is said that the light is nearer daylight than any light yet produced.

BIG IMPROVEMENTS ON THE CENTRAL.

Two New Double Decked Steel Ferryboats are to be Built in the Immediate Future.

NEW CARS OF ALL KINDS.

AMONG THEM TWENTY-FIVE PASSENGER COACHES OF LATEST TYPE.

More About Those C. R. R. Rumors—The Talk of Central's Absorption by P. R. R. Interests—Pennsylvania May Increase Capital Stock.

Among railroad and financial men one of the most interesting topics of conversation has to do with the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Pennsylvania Railroad. There is highly interesting gossip about the coming development of the New Jersey Central on a gigantic scale, and of a possible new issue of P. R. R. stock to meet the cost of stupendous improvements and acquisitions to be made by Pennsylvania interests.

Some costly improvements have been commenced by the management of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, and further plans to extend the company's facilities to handle its growing traffic are being considered. The cove between Communipaw and the National Dock Company's property in Jersey City will be filled in. Fifteen new piers will probably be added to the three which are now in use by the Company. The contracts have been let for the equipment of the tracks between Bound Brook and White Haven with electric and automatic block signals.

Increased traffic on the New Jersey Central Railroad has necessitated the ordering of two new ferryboats and 2,225 new cars. Of the latter twenty-five are to be passenger coaches of the most approved type. The car deliveries are to be made in the spring. The new ferryboats are to be built of steel, with double decks Exclusive of this latest order the Jersey Central has purchased within the past two years 4,500 freight and coal cars and 56 new locomotives.

The belief that the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company would some day or other take over the Central Railroad of New Jersey has been for many months held by Wall street. Last week, a well-defined rumor became current that the purchaser of the New Jersey Central would be found to be the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and that the announcement of the completion of the operation might soon be expected. These reports of a prospective lease of Jersey Central by Baltimore and Ohio or Pennsylvania Railroad interests, furnished food for much gossip.

Just what direct benefit control of the New Jersey Central would give the Pennsylvania is not, at first thought, clear. Nor was it clear, before the act, how the Pennsylvania could benefit through ownership of the Long Island Railroad, but it bought the Long Island Railroad. The Baltimore & Ohio, as is well known, gains its entrance to the metropolis by use of the Jersey Central terminals of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, and its position as a trunk line would be greatly strengthened by its absolute control of these terminals. But the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is now influential in the management of the Baltimore & Ohio, and it is thought in Wall street not unreasonable to suppose that the Pennsylvania may acquire the New Jersey Central, perhaps in the interest in large part of the affiliated Baltimore & Ohio.

Endeavorers Praise Mr. Anthony.

The executive committee of the New Jersey Christian Endeavor Union, at a recent meeting, passed resolutions expressing appreciation of the four years' faithful service of the retiring treasurer, E. E. Anthony, of this city. They expressed regret at the severance of the relation existing between the committee and Mr. Anthony, as treasurer, and appreciation of his faithful and arduous work in the management of the finances of the state, thereby making it possible to remove the debt.

To Address King's Daughters.

Mrs. Margaret Bottome, president of the United Council of The King's Daughters and Sons, will address the King's Daughters and their friends, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church. All are cordially invited.

In Interest of Soldiers and Sailors.

The soldier and sailor work committee of the W. C. T. U. has arranged to hold a meeting next Sunday afternoon in the interests of the soldiers and sailors in this vicinity. Rev. John MacMurray, pastor of Monroe Avenue church, will deliver an address.

DUPEE WON COVETED "Y"

PLAINFIELDER PLAYED ON THE YALE 'VARSITY FOOTBALL TEAM.

In the Second Half He Took Perry Hale's Place as Fullback—Many Plainfielders There.

Several score football enthusiasts of this city journeyed to Princeton Saturday afternoon to witness the great game between Yale and Princeton. The Yale rooters came home very joyful, but the Princetonites wore long faces indeed. Princeton was reached by the Pennsylvania Railroad, via Elizabeth, and the accommodations proved ample despite the immense crowd.

Chas. Dupee, the young Plainfielder, won his coveted Y. by playing on the Yale 'varsity. Perry Hale was started at full back, but, when the second half was half over he was retired and Dupee took his place. Dupee kicked well and made some good gains and justified the pleasant things said about him by the football critics on the newspapers. Plainfield was also represented in the two armies of under-graduates from the rival universities which did the cheering. Many of the Plainfield crowd consisted of graduates and their families and friends. Conspicuous in the cheering section of the Princeton stand was Lewis H. Thomas, of Dunellen, who graduated from there in 1899.

DONALDSONS AT IT AGAIN.

Wife Has Husband Arrested—Recently Got Out of Jail After Ten Days' Imprisonment.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, November 19.—John Donaldson, who has figured in the Scotch Plains court of justice on several former occasions, is once more in trouble, Mrs. Donaldson having sworn out a warrant yesterday afternoon before Judge Clark charging her spouse with cursing and beating her on Sunday afternoon at their home. Donaldson followed his wife to town, and when the warrent was sworn out hunted up Constable Allen and gave himself up. Donaldson claims he is a victim of spite, that Mrs. Donaldson threatened some time ago to have him sent to Elizabeth upon the slightest excuse and in a few days her opportunity arrived. Donaldson had a few words with his partner in life, and a warrant was sworn out for his arrest. Judge Clark gave him ten days. His time expired about two weeks ago. When he went home Mrs. Donaldson, he claims, told him she would have him down again before long. This is Donaldson's story. The case will be heard before Judge Clark today.

RURAL MAIL DELIVERY

Five Routes to be Served From New Brunswick Postoffice.

Warren W. Sawyer, special agent of the Postoffice Department at Washington, has completed the mapping out of the five rural free delivery mail routes that are to be established with the New Brunswick postoffice as a centre.

Route No. 2 will be as follows: From postoffice going east on River road to Lover's lane, to New Market road, to school house corner, to Drake's corner, to Runyon's farm, to Darlon's corner, to Miller's corner, to Plainfield road, to New Market road, to Blue's corner, to Pennsylvania Railroad, to Morris avenue, to Randolph's corner, to Runyon's corner, to River road, to Stone road, back to this city. Total distance, 21 3-4 miles. Number of houses, 117. Population served, 523 C F. Randolph will be the carrier.

Band Concert.

Benjamin LaVere, leader of the cornet band, has made arrangements to give a first-class concert in Music Hall on the evening of January 11th. There will be several soloists, tenor, baritone and soprano. Some very fine selections are promised by Al. Sweet, whose cornet playing last summer was greatly enjoyed. Mr. LaVere will give these concerts frequently during the winter if they are well patronized. He has engaged first-class players for the band, which will comprise thirty-five pieces.

Grows a Beard on Bellet Weird.

Nicholas Thill, a well-known painter, of New Brunswick, has begun to grow a four years' length of beard in result of an eleetion bet. The conditions were that if McKinley was elected Mr. Thill would not shave for four years, while if Bryan was elected Mr. Wright had to grow the beard.

Prof. Janke's Musicale.

A musicale will be given by Arthur Janke, pianist, Tuesday evening, November 20th, at 8:15 o'clock, at his studio, 931 West Sixth street, and he will be assisted by Miss Mary Peddle, contralto, and Karl Grienauer, 'cellist. The programme will contain selections of a high order.

BAD FUMBLING LOST GAME FOR ALIS A. A.

Bergen Point F. C Defeated Alis Team on Martine Common Saturday—18 to 3.

IN MUD AND DARKNESS.

TWO OF VISITOR'S TOUCHDOWNS WERE RESULT OF FUMBLES.

Bergen Point Team Played Good Football and Found Alis' Guards the Weak Point—Whitney Did Great Work for Visitors—Summary.

Inability to hold the ball when they once obtained possession of it, lost for the Alis Athletic Association, of this city, in the football game with the Bergen Point Field Club, on Martine Common Saturday afternoon. The visitors won by the score of 17 to 0. While Alis was outweighed, the size of the score rolled up against the home team was the direct result of lack of practice and consequent fumbling.

It was after 4:20 o'clock when the game began and there were numerous delays during the progress of the first half. The second half was played in darkness so that it was impossible for spectators or the team on the defense to see the ball. The ground was soft and slippery and made it difficult for both sides to get started.

Alis had the kick-off and Phillips sent the ball to the 20 yard line. There the ball was almost immediately regained on downs. Twice more the ball changed hands on downs and then Phillips punted to the centre of the field. Plays on guard and tackle netted steady gains for the visitors and they went down the field to Alis' 20 yard line where the Plainfield boys made a final brace and recovered the ball on downs.

Cuming and Woolston made fair gains but Schoonmaker fumbled and a Bergen Point back fell on the ball on Alis' 30 yard line. Back the ball went toward the home goal but another great brace gave the ball to Alis eight yards from the goal. Woolston ran left end for five yards and smaller gains were made. The ball was passed to Schoonmaker only to bounce out of his hands and roll toward the goal. Whitney picked it up but Serrell ran him down and stopped him two yards from the goal line. In the next play Whitney plunged through the line for a touchdown and Donnelly kicked the goal. That ended the first half.

In the second half Donnelly kicked off to Alis' 30-yard line. Another disastrous fumble gave the ball to Bergen Point. The visitors continued their line bucking and carried the ball to Alis' 10-yard line. There a Bergen Point back fumbled and the ball rolled out into the field. In the darkness no one saw it except Ditchfield, and he sped around the end of the Alis line for a touchdown before the home team knew where the ball was. Donnelly kicked the goal.

Phillips kicked off ten yards to Langford and Bergen Point started down the field for another score. It was so dark that it was impossible to see who had the ball and the Bergen Point players had no trouble in advancing it at will. Whitney was finally sent through guard and tackle for a touchdown. Donnelly missed a difficult goal. Referee Roger Erickson then called the game, with four minutes to play, on account of darkness.

The summary:

ALIS A. A.		BERGEN POINT F. C.
Serrell	right end	Valleau
Schoonmaker-Cathcart	right tackle	Langford
Dwyer	right guard	Whitney
G. F. Smith	centre	Franklin
Pike	left guard	Donnelly
H. Smith	left end	Ditchfield
Peck	quarter back	Houghton-Mott
Woolston	right half back	Duke
Phillips	full back	Cruden

Score—Bergen Point F. C., 17; Alis A. A., 0. Touchdowns—Whitney (2), Ditchfield. Goals from touchdowns—Donnelly (2.) Referee—Roger Erickson. Umpire—Morris J. Dumont. Field linesman—A. Willis West. Linesmen—Harold Davis, of Plainfield, and P. B. Lauterette, of Bayonne. Timekeepers—Fred M. Slater, Jr., of Plainfield, and C. A. Wales, of Bayonne.

Bound to Get In.

The New York and New Jersey Telephone Company has applied to the Supreme Court for a mandamus to compel the Mayor and Council of Bound Brook to give that company an ordinance for a continuous route through the town. Bound Brook has a local telephone company, and the Council does not propose to let in any rivals.

Paid a Fraternal Visit.

A large delegation of members from Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., went to Elizabeth Saturday evening and paid a fraternal visit to the G. A. R. Post at that place. They all express themselves as having had a good time. In the near future the Elizabeth veterans will return the visit.

HELD UP TROLLEY LINE.

CENTRAL FREIGHT CARS PUSHED INTO RICHMOND STREET.

Narrowly Escaped Hitting Passing Street Car—Took Several Hours to Clean Up the Wreck.

Trolley traffic on the through line was blockaded for nearly five hours yesterday in a most unusual manner. The trouble was caused by two of the Central railroad freight cars which had invaded the road at Richmond street, almost beneath the bridge. One of the cars was directly across the street, while the second one hung down the embankment with one end on the sidewalk. They were the end cars of a long string which engine No. 457 was shifting on the Scott Press Works siding about 4:30 yesterday afternoon.

The end of the siding overlooks Richmond street and is blocked only by an embankment of earth. In some manner the engineer mistook the brakeman's signals and continued backing when the end of the siding had been reached. The result was that the cars climbed the earth embankment and rolled into the street.

Car No. 77, of the trolley line, was just passing as the freight cars came down the bank, but luckily got by before they reached the track. The tracks were blocked, however, and the rest of the afternoon, passengers had to be transferred around.

The wrecking train was sent for but it was nearly 7:30 before it arrived. By that time a crowd of nearly five hundred people had assembled to witness the removal of the cars. The sight was a novel one to Plainfielders. The large steam crane was fastended securely to the bridge and the cars were lifted up bodily and placed on the track. It was nearly 9 o'clock before the work of removal was entirely finished.

A fortunate circumstance of the accident was the clearing of the trolley feed wire by one of the brake rods on the first car. It rested within a foot of the wire and had it touched serious trouble might have been caused. Several of the wrecking crew, not knowing of the wire, had narrow escape from being shocked while chaining the car for lifting.

PONY EXPRESS AGAIN.

Whitney Frazee in Business for Himself—Will Use Trolley Between Plainfield and Elizabeth.

The United States Express Company announces, through a circular-letter sent to the business men of the city, that Whitney Frazee has severed his connection with the company as purchasing agent and messenger. The package service will be continued, however, by the company, under the direction of Manager Mills. Mr. Frazee is making arrangements to run a service of his own in opposition to the U. S. company.

Messenger Frazee does not expect to have trouble with the Central Railroad Company and the Express Company, as was the case before he entered upon the employ of the latter corporation. He will travel between this city and Elizabeth by trolley, and from the latter city to New York by the Pennsylvania Railroad. The Pennsylvania has never made objections to package expressmen using their cars, and therefore he does not expect to have trouble. Nearly all of his old customers have promised to give him their patronage.

PRINTERS TO GIVE UP FARM.

Types Who are Rusticating Will Have to Go Back to the City.

It was decided at a meeting of Typographical Union, No. 6, held in New York city a few days ago, to give up the lease on the Herbert farm, west of Bound Brook, owned by the Bound Brook Water Company.

For two years past the farm has been occupied by aged and unemployed printers whom the Union was supporting. The farm, according to John A. Hawkins, chairman of the committee that managed it, was a great success, and the vote to close it was the result of the hostility between the Union's two factions, which are known as the administration and anti-administration parties. The board of delegates is composed of about 500 members, and the "antis," when the motion to close the farm was voted upon, controlled more than two-thirds of the votes cast.

A Treat for Plainfielders.

The Local Christian Endeavor Union are expecting to give the people of Plainfield a rare treat in giving them an opportunity to hear State President Dr. Arthur W. Spooner, of Camden. He will deliver a free temperance addresss on "The Relation of Christian Endeavor to the Greatest Reform Movement of the Age," Thursday evening, Nov. 22d. All come and hear him.

DOCTOR VS DOCTOR FOR THE MAYORALTY.

It is Thought That the Nomination of Mr. Jenkins is Assured, Though.

SECOND WARD FOR MURRAY

COUNCILMAN MELLICK TALKS ABOUT THE SITUATION.

He Says That the Second Ward is Entitled to the Nomination—Hopes That First and Fourth Will Give In.

No changes have appeared in the situation in the local Republican camp. In fact, the slate of the "machine" of the First and Fourth wards is stronger than ever. There were several conferences of leaders Saturday evening, which only served to strengthen the candidacy of Dr. Olin L. Jenkins for the Mayoralty nomination. The delegates which will be elected to the city convention at the primaries in the First, Third and Fourth wards will all support Dr. Jenkins for the nomination. The Second ward delegates will support Dr. W. H. Murray, president of the Board of Health, as the candidate for the Mayoralty nomination.

This candidacy of Dr. Murray in the Second ward is the only opposition at present to the "machine" slate. There is a possibility that the convention may be stampeded for Former Councilman E. T. Barrows, but it seems hardly likely at present. The boom for Dr. Murray is quite strong in the Second and has some strength in the Third. Councilman George P. Mellick is one of its chief advocates.

Councilman Mellick, of the Second ward, was seen by a Press reporter this morning. Mr. Mellick said: "I believe that Dr. Murray should be nominated for Mayor. There is a greater demand for his selection to head the ticket than the majority of people may imagine. The constant publication of the desires and intentions of the First and Fourth ward leaders of the party leads many to think that their candidates are the only ones with serious backing, but this is a mistake. I know that there are a large number of Republicans in the Second ward who are warm and firm advocates of the nomination of Dr. Murray, and every day since the doctor's name has been mentioned in connection with the Mayoralty there have been prominent Republicans in the Third ward coming to me and saying that he should be nominated for the office. I realize, however, that the First and Fourth wards have a majority of the delegates in the convention, but it seems to me that they ought to give way this time to the Second ward and allow Dr. Murray to be nominated. At present the First and Fourth wards have control of nearly all the political offices of the city, and consequently it would seem as though they should let the Second ward have the Mayor."

"Dr. Murray," said Mr. Mellick, "would make an excellent Mayor. He has proved a conscientious and thorough-going official in the public places that he has already occupied. He is aggressive, but still conservative enough not to be inclined to be a boss. If nominated and elected he would make an admirable record as Mayor. The Second ward will do its best to put him in the position."

Prof. Stephens' Organ Recital.

Ward Stephens, organist of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, gave the second of his series of organ recitals in that church Saturday evening. An appreciate audience was present. He was assisted by Mrs. E. W. Dutton, the soprano of the church quartette choir. Her selections were well chosen to show her ability and well-trained voice. Mr. Stephens was at his best and demonstrated his skill at the organ as he has done many times before.

U. S. Grant Club Smoker.

The U. S. Grant Club, of the borough, will hold an entertainment and smoker this evening. Every member is requested to be present. The glee club will render several new songs composed by Dr. Buchanan.

Executive Committee to Meet.

The executive committee of the Plainfield Local Union Christian Endeavor will meet tomorrow evening at the home of E. E. Anthony, West Front street, at 7:45 o'clock sharp.

Out of the Hospital.

Miss Martha Goodman, of Manning avenue, who has been in the hospital under treatment, was discharged yesterday and she returned to her home greatly improved.

DEMOCRATS ISSUE CALL.

PRIMARIES TO BE HELD IN WARDS ON WEDNESDAY EVENING.

City Convention on Friday Evening—Names of Probable Nominees Not Given Out.

The first step of the Democrats towards carrying out their intention of putting a straight party ticket in the field for the municipal campaign comes today in the calling of the ward primaries and the city convention. The date fixed for the ward primaries is for next Wednesday evening and that of the city convention for Friday evening.

The places for holding the ward primaries and the number of delegates each is entitled to in the city convention, on the basis of one for every twenty-five votes or fraction thereof cast in the last city election for their ticket, are as follows: First ward, A. E. Hoagland's office, North avenue, 7 delegates; Second ward, Bryant school building, East Sixth street, 6 delegates; Third ward, High school building, West Fifth street, 5 delegates; Fourth ward, rooms of the Hillman Association, West Front street, 12 delegates.

The city convention will be held in the rooms of the Hillman Association.

At the ward primaries, besides the nomination of Councilmen, Justices of the Peace and Constables, members of the city executive committee will also be chosen, one for each election district in the wards.

For several days past the Democratic leaders have been discussing the question of candidates for the various offices to be filled by the city election. While it is admitted that there are not as many aspirants for the honors as the Republicans have, the leaders say that they will be able to put up a ticket that will be a strong one in every respect. Several names for the nominations have been considered, but as yet the situation is not such as will warrant the announcement of them.

FOUND DEATH, NOT WORK.

Thomas Jackson Started Out to Find a Job, But Encountered Grim Reaper on His Tour.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Nov. 19.—On Friday night a well dressed Englishman about fifty years old knocked at the door of the house of August Bolmer, a farmer, living near South Somerville, and asked to be allowed to sleep in his barn. Bolmer was so favorably impressed with the stranger that he gave him a meal and invited him to sleep in his house. At 7 o'clock on Saturday morning the Bolmer family was startled by a commotion in the room occupied by the stranger. On entering the room Mrs. Bolmer found the man in convulsions. He died before medical aid could be summoned. County Physician Wagoner could find no evidence that he had taken poison. His body was brought here and last night Mrs. Thomas Jackson, of Skillman Station, identified the body as that of Thomas Jackson, her husband. Mrs. Jackson stated that her husband had left home to search for work. When she last heard from him he was in hard straits, and was tramping home. She believes his death was due to hunger and exposure, as he was too proud to beg.

QUIET SUNDAY WEDDING.

Miss Mary E. Noel Married to Albert L. Brown, of Long Branch, Yesterday Afternoon.

A very quiet wedding took place in Grace Episcopal church yesterday afternoon, when Miss Mary E. Noel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Noel, of West Third street, and Albert L. Brown, of Long Branch, were united in marriage by Rev. E. M. Rodman. Only a few immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony. There was no bridemaid or best man.

The bride was very prettily attired in a dress of dark blue silk, trimmed with white silk and white silk braid. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple left for a short wedding trip, after which they will return and take up their residence for a time with the bride's parents. They will afterward make their home in Long Branch. The groom is well known in this city, being a member of the firm of Brown Brothers, of North Plainfield.

Excellent Sermon.

Yesterday morning Rev. J. W. Richardson, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, exchanged pulpits with Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church. Mr. Richardson chose for his text the 31st verse of the 40th chapter of Isaiah, and the large congregation present was well pleased with the very excellent discourse delivered.

G. O. P. PRIMARIES TAKE PLACE TONIGHT

Only One Ticket Filed With Ward Clerk in the First, Third and Fourth Wards.

NO CONTESTS IN VIEW.

SECOND WARD CLERK IS SWAMPED WITH GREAT LIST OF NAMES.

Republicans of Second Ward Will Have Plenty to Pick From—No Fight is Expected Despite the Multitude of Candidates.

Republican primaries will be held in the four wards of the city this afternoon and evening. They will open at five o'clock and close at nine, according to the rules of the Roger F. Murray plan, recently adopted by the Republican city committee. According to these rules all nominations to be voted on at the primaries must have been filed with the various ward clerks Saturday night. In the First, Third and Fourth Wards only one ticket was nominated. In the Second, there were eighteen names presented for the Councilmanic nomination, fifty-two for the delegation of seven to the city convention and eight for the three members of the city executive committee.

Despite the fact that the Second ward seems deluged with candidates, there is not likely to be any serious contest. The other primaries will be magnificent examples of Republican harmony unless somebody should quietly decide to test the legality of the primary law, which requires all names to be filed with the ward clerk by Saturday night, and institute a fight. While such a thing is a remote possibility, there is little likelihood that any of the wards will see any contest in the primary.

The nominations, which will be posted at the various ward primaries, are as follows:

First ward—For Councilman, Ralph I. Tolles. For justice of the peace, H. C. Croome. For Constable, Stephen R. Hope. For nine delegates to the city convention, Harry Maxson, Arthur A. Freeman, L. L. Croom, Harry C. VanEmburgh, H. S. Taylor, William Ulmer, James Hansen, Charles S. Smincк and William J. Douglass. For three members of city committee, J. F. Buckle, Horace G. Adams and Dr. O. L. Jenkins.

Second ward — For Councilman George P. Mellick, James Everett Kimball, William H. Murray, Silas Yerkes, Thomas A. Cuming, Stephen A. Ginna, Stephen Cahoone, Jose Machado, J. Wesley Johnson, Marion S. Ackerman, James W. Jackson, R. Henry Depew, Joseph W. Reinhart, Thomas Hanna, William S. Slape, Henry B. Newhall, Albert B. Beers and Walter Peterson. For justice of the peace, . For constable, W. R. Mattox. For seven delegates to the city convention, George P. Mellick, Charles S. Foote, Albert C. Wyckoff, Thomas A. Cuming, Chas. C. Davis, J. Hervey Doane, Willard M. Miner, Edward S. Kline, Fred M. Letson, Armstrong Mulford, Fred J. Viewig, Fred J. Pope, D. Stuart Pope, Jan van Herwerden, Robert B. Guttridge, Charles H. Hand, Walter Peterson, E. Frank Vail, J. Wiswall Drayton, Dr. B. Van D. Hedges, George H. Goddard, Alfred C. Slauson, Henry E. Bowen, R. B. Waldo, Dr. Frank Hallock, Edward C. Petrie, Rev. F. D. Tilden, Edward H. Frost, Curtis Beard, Daniel Ginna, Israel C. Pierson, Leander N. Lovell, William B. Gilbert, William Hobbie, Simeon A. Cruikshank, Lucius C. Ryce, George S. Clay, George D. Patten, William H. Drayton, W. B. Mellor, Sherman Evarts, Herbert Bonnell, Charles G. Little, George Coe, Dr. Monroe B. Long, Dr. J. T. Fritts, Dr. George W. Endicott, John Erskine, W. D. W. Miller, John E. Keely, John B. Dumont and Dr. Kempton Browning. For three members of city committee, John B. Dumont, John E. Keely, Charles B. Morse, Charles S. Foote, Thomas A. Cuming, Thomas Hanna, Jose Machado and James E. Kimball.

Third ward—For Councilman, B. Frank Coriell. For justice of the peace, John Neagle. For constable, Amos Moffett. For seven delegates to the city convention, Nathan R. Titsworth, Martin R. Lantz, Eugene Moore, Fred S. Green, Francis Whiteley, John Cose and Theo. Larew. For three members of the city committee, Robert Rushmore, Charles J. Fisk and Roger F. Murray.

Fourth ward — For councilman, Frank D. Randolph. For justice of the peace, Fred J. Huff. For constable, Alfred Jacobson. For twelve delegates to the city convention, Charles Dunham, Frank Marsh, Robert Gow, Daniel Galbraith, James Stewart, Clarence L. Murphy, Charles W. Runyon, William Newcorn, Robert Craig, Robert L. Lee, Daniel Force, Jacob Kriney. For three members of city committee, William Newcorn, William A. Westphal and James Stewart.

Lewis Cornaro, a celebrity of the sixteenth century, who, by careful living, reached the age of one hundred years, hale, hearty and with the faculties unimpaired, has left us the following maxims which it were well to heed:

"It is not good to eat too much, nor fast too long, nor do anything else that is preternatural."

"Old men fast easily; men of ripe age can fast almost as much; but young persons and children that are brisk and lively, can hardly fast at all."

In comparison with other foods, but a small quantity of H-O (Hornby's Steam Cooked Oatmeal) is necessary to furnish sufficient sustenance for either the old or the young, the food value of one pound of H-O being equal to one and three-quarter pounds of mutton.

Nearly two pounds of beef,
Three pounds of eggs or veal,
Six pounds of chicken,
Nine pounds of cooked fish, or Forty-six pounds of oysters.
"It mixes better with cream."

Spread Like Wild Fire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, rundown man or woman. Price 50 cents. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

Mrs. Lafayette Rosensteihl, of the borough, has returned from a visit with Brooklyn friends.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern which is not afraid to be generous. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles and have the satisfaction of knowing it has cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, LaGrippe and all Throat, Chest and Lung diseases are surely cured by it. Call on L. W. Randolph, Druggist, and get a free trail bottle. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle gauranteed.

—The women of All Souls church, Park avenue, are planning to hold a fair at the church during December.

—Both makers and circulators of counterfeits commit fraud. Honest men will not deceive you into buying worthless counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The original is infallible for curing piles, sores, eczema and all skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

Mrs. Stafford, of High Bridge, has been spending several days with Plainfield friends.

Dr. Boone, of West Seventh street, hopes to be able to resume his practice soon. He is rapidly recovering his strength.

KENTUCKY BANK WRECKED.

The Old Story of Trusted Employee and Fast Living.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 19.—United States Bank Examiner Tucker has taken possession of the German National bank at Newport, Ky., and posted a notice that the bank will remain closed pending an examination. Examiner Tucker also announced unofficially that Frank M. Brown, the individual bookkeeper and assistant cashier, was missing and that a partial investigation showed that Brown was short about $201,000.

Brown had been with the bank 18 years, was one of the most trusted men ever connected with this old bank, and it is stated by the experts that his peculations extended back as far as ten years. The capital stock of the bank is only $100,000. Brown's shortage is double that amount and more than the reserve and all the assets, including their real estate.

Three weeks ago the bank examiners made a good statement for the bank, and the officers and directors allayed suspicion by referring to the report of this examination and to their last statement, in which all of Brown's defalcations were covered up by him. Last Wednesday Brown left, and it was announced that he had gone on a hunting trip.

Brown was suspended last Tuesday pending an investigation, and the experts have been at work all the past week, while the officers and directors have been making announcement that everything was all right. Last Friday the officers and directors over their own names published in the papers of this city a statement that the bank had been found to be all right and that the rumors about Brown were false. They continued making these statements to the press as late as Saturday midnight, but the statements were not accepted by The Commercial Tribune, which exposed not only Brown, but also the bank officers, and caused a panic in Newport, so that the bank had to be taken in charge by the examiner.

The wildest scenes were witnessed in Newport yesterday, and serious trouble is feared today, when the officers and directors will be confronted by people who hunted them in vain yesterday. Brown was living a fast life, with wine, women and gambling in his repertory. His career was not cut short by any discovery at the bank until a jealous woman gave him away.

HAWAIIANS INCREASE.

Natives of the Islands the Larger Property Owners.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The decrease of the Hawaiian race has been steadily growing less rapid for the past several decades, especially the female population, according to the annual report of ex-President Sanford B. Dole, governor of Hawaii. The increase of part Hawaiians tends to keep down the number of the pure Hawaiians. While the figures show race progress, the census reports as to surviving children are discouraging. In both the censuses of 1890 and 1896 the pure Hawaiian percentage of survivors was the lowest of all nationalities represented in the islands. An encouraging outlook for the Hawaiians exists in the fact that out of 6,327 owners of real estate in 1896, 3,995 were pure Hawaiians and 722 part Hawaiians. The facts are significant as showing the ownership of holdings by so large a number of pure Hawaiians and the evident tendency of the race to acquire homesteads.

The ex-president reports that there is reason to expect that annexation is going to influence Hawaiian character very favorably through the changed conditions effected. Their old dependence on their chiefs has ceased, and they are forced to rely more upon themselves, and their footing with the white men in the future will be equal. The political privileges they enjoy in common with other American citizens, he says, will tend to educate them in public affairs.

The total valuation of real and personal property in Hawaii subject to ad valorem assessment in 1900 is $97,491,584.

The report says the present aggregate area of the public lands is approximately 1,772,713 acres, valued at $3,569,800.

Bad News From Colombia.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 19.—The British steamer Atrato, Captain Copp, which left Southampton Oct. 17 for Barbados, has arrived here from Colon, Colombia. Captain Copp reports that the insurgents had gained several important victories during the fortnight that preceded his departure and that when he left Colon they were marching in force against Panama, where the stores had been closed in momentary expectation of an attack. He says that the three masted schooner Marie Isabelle was ordered to leave Colon Thursday because she had a cargo of gunpowder which the Colombian authorities believed was intended for the rebels, although it was consigned to a neighboring republic. It appears also from Captain Copp's statement that business in Colombia is generally at a standstill, that exchange is now at 1,200 and that the military difficulties of the situation are complicated by an outbreak of yellow fever, rapidly approaching the proportions of an epidemic, at Port Limon and Bocas del Toro.

Two Killed In a Dock Disaster.

BUFFALO, Nov. 19.—A section of the Minnesota ore docks, situated on Blackwell canal, in this harbor, collapsed yesterday morning under the weight of 60,000 tons of ore. Two boys were killed and one man was badly injured. The property loss is estimated at $150,000. The crash came without warning, 300 feet of the dock disappearing beneath the surface of the water and the top of the great pile of ore which had stood 25 feet high on the dock just showing its cone shaped peak above the water.

Engineer Killed.

ZANESVILLE, O., Nov. 19.—A passenger train on the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad ran into an open switch here, badly wrecking the engine. The engineer, John Somers of this city, jumped, but fell under the wheels and was killed. Four trainmen were hurt by jumping, and Mrs. Sarah Schaing of Louisville was thrown over a seat and badly bruised.

Condition of the Czar.

LIVADIA, Russia, Nov. 19.—Emperor Nicholas, according to the best information obtainable, had a favorable day. He slept for some time and felt at ease. His temperature at 9 a. m. was 101.6 and his pulse 64. Saturday night he slept well and on waking yesterday morning was comfortable, his head being quite clear.

Weather Probabilities.

Fair; colder; winds becoming fresh to brisk northerly.

FIGHTING RESUMED.

End of Rainy Season Permits Action In Philippines.

AGGRESSIVE CAMPAIGN PLANNED.

Several Engagements Already Reported—Re-enforcements Sent to Various Island Garrisons—Grant Carries Filipino Stronghold.

MANILA, Nov. 19.—Last week witnessed a very considerable increase in rebel and American activity in the field. Many skirmishes occurred and several small engagements in northern and southern Luzon. The termination of the rains permits a resumption of operations on both sides.

The Americans are undertaking a series of aggressive movements against the insurgents, notably upon the island of Samar against General Lukban, whose forces hold the entire island with the exception of three coast towns, each of which is garrisoned by two companies of the Twenty-ninth infantry and a platoon of artillery.

The rebels are continually shooting into the garrisoned towns, and our forces have not been sufficient to retaliate effectively. Commerce in Samar has been at a standstill, and most of the influential inhabitants have departed. General Hare has arrived there with 250 men. He will bring eight companies of the Second infantry from the island of Marinduque, as they may be needed, and will proceed energetically to crush General Lukban. Meanwhile United States gunboats will patrol the coast to prevent the escape of the insurgent leader. Lukban still holds three members of the Forty-third regiment prisoners.

The Fourteenth infantry, which recently arrived from China, will relieve the Twenty-first infantry from Manila, and the Twenty-first will relieve the Thirty-eighth infantry from southern Luzon, the Thirty-eighth infantry proceeding to the island of Panay to re-enforce the troops there.

The Twenty-eighth infantry will re-enforce the garrisons in the island of Mindanao, particularly at Kagayan, where an armed truce between the rebels and the Americans has existed for months past.

General Wheaton, commanding in the department of northern Luzon, is sending re-enforcements to General Young's provinces, where the natives, under General Tinio and Aglipay, the excommunicated Filipino priest, are showing signs of restlessness, deserting the domiciles they have occupied during the rainy season and joining under compulsion of fear the insurgents in the mountains.

Notable among the week's engagements was General Grant's advance, with Maccabebe and American scouts, upon a rebel stronghold 35 miles north of Manila, which was defended by 200 insurgents armed with rifles. After skirmishing and fighting for the greater part of a day and night, the enemy was dislodged from the mountain fastness, and immense quantities of rice and stores, with considerable ammunition, were destroyed. Fifty Filipinos were killed and many others wounded. The insurgents carried off their dead. The American losses were 11 privates and one officer wounded and one Maccabebe killed.

Lieutenant Frederick W. Alstaeter of the engineers, who was captured by the insurgents in Luzon last September, has sent, with the permission of his captors, a letter to Manila asking for food, money and clothing, which will be forwarded to him by a native runner. His health is broken and his release problematical.

General MacArthur has gone to Subig bay with Admiral Remey on the United States cruiser Brooklyn for the purpose of examining the locality. It is probable that 1,800 marines now in Philippine waters will be used to relieve certain army posts, rendering the relieved soldiers available for other and more urgent duties. It is understood that General MacArthur is considering the question of establishing more marines in the vicinity of Subig. He is expected to return here today.

Captain Bowman H. McCalla of the United States cruiser Newark is undergoing trial by court martial convened by Admiral Remey. He is charged with "irrational and bad management and lack of discipline" on board the cruiser.

A Fight With Apaches.

PASCHECO, Mexico, Nov. 19.—In the attack on the Mormon colony here on Friday by Apache Indians four white men and ten Indians were killed and many wounded on both sides. The Indians were attempting to drive off stock belonging to the colony. They were pursued, and a running fight lasted two hours. The governor of Chihuahua has ordered out the Mexican troops and rurales. A squadron of cavalry has been dispatched from the military post at Asceneion, 50 miles distant, but it is feared this force will be too small to cope with the Apaches, who appeared in great numbers.

X Rays For Baldness.

VIENNA, Nov. 19.—Dr. Kienbock says he has discovered that lost hair can be restored by the use of the X rays. He introduced to the Society of Physicians a man, aged 26 years, part of whose head had been bald for years. He applied the rays on six occasions, 15 minutes each time, in the course of two months, with the result that hair has grown thickly on the parts treated, the rest of his head remaining bald.

Stock Company Shuts Down.

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 19.—The Empire Stock company of New York, with offices in Auburn, Schenectady, Albany, Utica and other places throughout the state, which suspended last week, announces through its manager, Charles Eberlin, that the company will not resume business, but will pay its creditors 25 per cent.

Fire In Davenport, Ia.

DAVENPORT, Ia., Nov. 19.—The Renwick block, occupied by the Davenport Furniture and Carpet company, and adjacent buildings, occupied by the Harold Peterson Wallpaper company, the Jarvis White Art company and the Perry shoe house, were burned yesterday. Loss, $100,000; insurance, $80,000.

Received by the Sultan.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 19.—The sultan received in audience last Friday Mr. Lloyd Griscom, United States charge d'affaires. It is believed that the conference was in connection with the proposed imminent purchase in the United States of a cruiser for the Turkish navy.

THE ICE TRUST CASE

Governor Roosevelt Publishes Some Interesting Facts.

APPARENT TARDINESS EXPLAINED.

New York World's Action Against Mayor Van Wyck Shown Up In a Somewhat Ludicrous Light.

ALBANY, Nov. 19.—Governor Roosevelt has prepared the following memorandum of the charges against Mayor Van Wyck of New York city in the ice trust matter:

"There are three wholly distinct sides to the ice trust matter.

"In the first place, there is the general question whether the American Ice company, dealing as it does in a necessary of life to the poor people of New York, was one into which it was proper for a public spirited man to enter. This is, of course, not a question for legal action in any shape or form.

"Second.—There is the question whether or not the existence of this so called ice trust is in violation of the antitrust law. (Chapter 690 of the laws of 1899). This, of course, can only be decided by the courts.

"We now come to the third side of the matter, the only one in which the governor in his official capacity has any power whatsoever to act, viz, the charges against Mayor Van Wyck.

"The history of the proceedings in connection with these charges against the mayor is as follows:

"On June 2, 1900, a memorial to the governor was sworn to by David Ferguson and Louis Southworth, reporters of the New York World, which memorial was submitted to the governor the following day. The charges were turned over by the governor to the attorney general, with instructions to examine.

"While the charges were being considered and before formal action upon them was taken, under date of July 7, 1900, Mr. J. Noble Hayes, counsel for The World, wrote to the governor a letter, which contained the following:

"'I want to amend the charges preferred by The World before any formal action is taken upon them, the situation having changed somewhat since they were filed in consequence of the mayor's appearance upon the stand after having first refused to testify.'

"On July 9 this letter was turned over by the governor to the attorney general.

"On July 13 the attorney general received the following telegram from the petitioners, signed David Ferguson, L. R. Southworth, New York World:

"'We beg to advise you that J. Noble Hayes, attorney for the petitioners in the matter of the removal of Mayor Van Wyck, having withdrawn from the case, the petition will be amended and filed with you by Mr. Wheeler H. Peckham or other counsel within a few days.'

"However, in spite of this telegram, Mr. J. Noble Hayes apparently did return again as counsel in the case, for on July 27, 1900, the amended charges were filed, signed by David Ferguson and Louis R. Southworth and indorsed on the outside as follows: 'J. Noble Hayes, Wheeler H. Peckham of counsel.'

"A somewhat humorous feature of the proceeding thus far was that at the very time The World, through its counsel, Mr. Hayes, and through its two reporters, was asking for delay by requesting to put in amended charges the paper itself from day to day editorially demanded immediate action on these charges. Throughout July the paper thus continued to demand action before its own counsel and its own reporters had put in their final complaint.

"The amended charges were carefully considered both by the governor and the attorney general, separately and together, and on Aug. 14 the governor directed the attorney general to serve the mayor with a copy of them.

"Accordingly on Aug. 17 the attorney general served the mayor with a copy of the charges, giving him 15 days in which to answer. The mayor asked for two extensions, which were granted, although in neither case was he given the full time for which he asked.

"On Sept. 27 the mayor swore to his answer and submitted it to the attorney general within a day or two at Syracuse, this being on Friday, and the answer was duly filed in the executive chamber and thereafter placed in the hands of the attorney general.

"On Sept. 30 Mr. J. Noble Hayes wrote the attorney general a letter which concluded with the following sentence:

"'It is but fair that you should be advised that neither Mr. Peckham nor I have as yet been retained by The World to do this work.'

"To this the attorney general immediately replied under date of Oct. 2 as follows:

"'I beg to acknowledge receipt of yours of Sept. 30, and I have carefully noted its contents.

"'I am certainly astounded at the assertion contained in the last five lines of your communication—viz, that neither yourself nor Mr. Peckham have been retained in the matter.

"'The charges are signed by two men who are unknown to us. The names of both you and Mr. Peckham appear on the charges as counsel for the petitioners, and from your letters and oral communications to the governor and me we certainly had the right to assume and in fact have assumed nothing else but that you were the counsel for the petitioners in the proceeding.

"'I am very sure that the governor has and I know that I have relied on the fact that Mr. Peckham and you were the proper persons to treat with in the matter.

"'Now, for the first time you have informed us that neither of you are retained, and therefore I would like to know with whom we are to treat.

"'It is needless to recall the fact that it was at your request that the governor suspended the service of the original charges upon the mayor until you could file amended ones, for which he has received harsh and unmerited criticism by the daily press.

"'Upon receipt of this letter I think it would be well for you to see me at this office at once, that the governor may be informed and that I may act intelligently in the matter.'

"On receipt of this letter Mr. J. Noble Hayes came down from Bennington to Albany and had a conference with the attorney general and on Oct. 4 wrote the attorney general a letter which contained the following statement:

"'First let me state the case in a word. On July 26, when the amended charges were filed with the governor and in your office, he had my assurance that The World stood sponsor for them, as was well known at that time, and would appear and prosecute them through. Mr. Peckham and myself as counsel and that all the resources of the paper would be employed to collect and present the evidence to sustain them. On Sept. 21 The World claimed to be dissatisfied with the delays which had occurred in getting the matter to a formal issue and notified me that neither Mr. Peckham nor myself would be required to make any preparations for the impending trial, as it did not intend to prosecute the charges against the mayor which it had caused to be filed and which, with so many solemn assurances, it had pledged itself to support, squarely receding from its original position.'

"Meanwhile the governor and the attorney general had been in conference over the matter orally and in writing. On Sept. 5, in a conference between them at Saratoga, it had been agreed, as the governor was going out of the state, that after the answer was received in the event of its not proving satisfactory a commissioner should be appointed to take testimony in the matter, said commissioner to be Hon. Tracy C. Becker of Buffalo. At this time it was not known that the mayor would require more than the 15 days that had been given him in which to make his answer, although it was also agreed at the same time that any request for a reasonable extension of time should be granted.

"On Sept. 27 the governor wrote to the attorney general from Pueblo, Colo., a letter running in part as follows:

"'What about that ice trust matter? Mayor Van Wyck must have put in his answer by this time. Has Tracy Becker been notified to go on with the work? I gave you the instructions about Tracy Becker, about the whole matter generally, before leaving the state.'

"On Oct. 1 the governor telegraphed from Arapahoe, Neb., to the attorney general as follows:

"'What progress has been made Van Wyck matter and has commissioner been appointed to take testimony? Answer Plattsmouth, Neb.'

"Which he followed by a telegram on the following day from York, Neb., which ran as follows:

"'It seems to me that there should be no unnecessary delay in ice trust matters. Do you regard answer of mayor as satisfactory? Can you not send me copy of answer to Chicago, where I shall be next Sunday, together with your opinion? Then if necessary to take testimony can you have Mr. Becker appointed as per my conversation before leaving the state? If not, can we not consult Lieutenant Governor Woodruff to find out if it is not possible to take immediate steps?'

"The attorney general wired in reply to Plattsmouth, Neb.:

"'Unforeseen complications have arisen in matter concerning which you have wired. We have received a notification by letter that attorneys heretofore acting for petitioners are not retained to act in the case. Do you know with whom to communicate? Will keep you informed.'

"Then followed under date of Oct. 4 the opinion and letter of the attorney general which is herewith appended. This opinion was the one which The World surreptitiously and with gross impropriety procured and published.

"It may also be mentioned that when about Oct. 25 The World charged that the answer was being suppressed lest it should hurt the members of the political party to which the governor belonged the governor immediately, in an interview in the Associated Press, stated that as far as he was concerned the mayor was entirely at liberty to publish his answer if he desired.

"On Oct. 24 the governor and the attorney general had a conference on the matter, and it was agreed that, although Mr. Hayes had notified the attorney general that neither he nor Mr. Peckham was longer retained as counsel for The World and that The World had abandoned the case, yet that as a matter of courtesy a copy of the answer should be given to Mr. Hayes for the use of himself and Mr. Peckham.

"The following day the attorney general wired Mr. Hayes, who came to Albany and was there handed a copy of the mayor's answer.

"After waiting until Nov. 13 the attorney general sent Mr. Hayes the following telegram:

"'On or about Oct. 25 I delivered to you a copy of Mayor Van Wyck's answer to The World charges by direction of the governor. You then stated that you would immediately furnish me with your comments upon the answer in writing. Nearly three weeks have passed, and you have not furnished me the comments. The governor notifies me that there can be no further delay and that if you or Mr. Peckham or either of you desire to be heard either orally or in person you must write or appear here in person by Thursday, the 15th, at noon. If you do not so write or appear, the governor will be obliged to make a disposition of the charges.'

"At an interview held at noon, Nov. 15, Mr. Hayes notified the governor and attorney general that he was once more retained by The World and in response to a request from the governor said that he would file a further brief and statement in the matter by or before Tuesday, the 20th."

Senator Davis' Worse.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 19.—The improvement which had marked the condition of Senator Cushman K. Davis during Friday and Saturday seems to have received a decided check, and his physicians report that he passed a very bad night and was restless and feverish throughout yesterday. The delirium, which was a feature of the disease in the early part of last week, has returned and is more marked. His pulse has again risen materially, as has also his respiration.

Wheat From Quebec to Liverpool.

QUEBEC, Nov. 19.—The new Canadian transatlantic route, which is 800 miles nearer Liverpool than any of the other lines, has been opened by the sailing of the steamer Albanian of the Leyland line, this city, with a cargo of 230,000 bushels of western grain, which was loaded from the recently constructed Great Northern elevator. The erection of this elevator, which has a capacity of 1,000,000 bushels, was largely due to backing by American capital.

Miners Return From Nome.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 19.—Two hundred and fifty-nine miners returned on the steamer Nome City, which has arrived from the goldfields. The vessel's cargo consisted of about $100,000, principally in possession of individuals. The Nome City sailed Nov. 4, ten hours in advance of the steamship Oregon, which arrived Friday.

FOUR MEN CREMATED.

Fire In Oswayo, Pa., Destroys Hotel and Opera House.

OSWAYO, Pa., Nov. 19.—Four men were burned to death in a fire which yesterday destroyed the McGonigal House, a three story frame building; the hotel barn and the opera house. The three buildings were burned to the ground in half an hour from the time the fire started. The dead are: Arthur Fletcher, bookkeeper for Penn Stave company, home in Boston; Michael Russell, employed by Penn Tanning company, Oswayo; William Mulhany of Rexford, N. Y., and Hugh Jefferson of Alfred, N. Y.

The town has no fire department, the only protection being a pump at the tannery. The fire originated in the McGonigal House from an overpressure of natural gas. There were 30 people in the hotel, which was a flimsy structure. Two men were seriously injured. Otto Kauley, a gas line walker of Coudersport, Pa., was burned about the face and arms, and Jerry Dailey sustained a broken shoulder by jumping from the third story of the hotel. There were many narrow escapes.

The flames licked up the hotel building as if it were built of tinder. Nothing remains of the four unfortunate men but a few charred bones. One man had a leg broken in jumping, and several others received minor injuries and slight burns in making their exit from the building. The tannery employees connected a line of hose to the burning buildings, but on account of some trouble with the pump there was considerable delay in getting a stream on the fire and the flames had got beyond control.

AMERICAN SHIPPING.

A Prosperous Year Reported—Foreign Tonnage Light.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The report of Commissioner of Navigation Chamberlain, just made public, says the past fiscal year has been the most prosperous period known to American shipping for some years. Returns for the current fiscal year promise an even more satisfactory record.

For the first time since the civil war the documented tonnage of the United States exceeds 5,000,000 gross tons. On June 30, 1900, American documented tonnage comprised 23,333 vessels of 5,164,839 gross tons, an increase of 300,000 tons over the previous fiscal year. Our maximum tonnage was 5,539,813 tons in 1861. Our shipping, the report adds, in 1861 was larger than Great Britain's and nearly equaled the British empire's. British shipping now amounts to 14,261,000 gross tons.

American vessels are almost wholly confined to the coasting trade, which employed last year 4,338,145 tons, or more than the total tonnage of Germany and France. Our tonnage in the foreign trade was only 816,795 tons and carried last year only 9 per cent of our exports and imports. A century ago American shipping registered for foreign trade was 669,921 tons, while this tonnage now in the 13 original states amounts to 482,907 tons.

To Fortify Puget Sound.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 19.—In conformity with the government's policy in the Pacific the war department will next year materially increase the strength of Puget sound fortifications. Plans have been made at Washington for the construction of new battery emplacements at Forts Flagler, Casey and Worden. One additional battery of 16 mortars is to be put in, and six 8 and six 10 inch guns are to be added to the present defenses. In addition the new fort at the entrance to the government dock at Port Orchard is to be completed. Later fortifications are to be erected at Fort Lawton and Point Defiance. Congress will at the ensuing session provide for this work, it is expected.

A Lively Session In Spain.

MADRID, Nov. 19.—The approaching session of the Spanish parliament promises to be a lively one. Members of the opposition who are now arriving intimate their intention to attack the political and economical programmes of the government. All parties appear determined to combat any increase in public expenditure. The opposition leaders will criticise the government for a lack of economy and a failure to carry out the reforms which are imperative if the indebtedness of Spain is to be liquidated.

Secretary Root at Santiago.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Nov. 19.—Mr. Elihu Root, United States secretary of war; General Wood and Mr. Root's son arrived here last evening at 7 o'clock on the revenue cutter Kanawha from Manzanillo. The other members of Mr. Root's party came this morning on the Viking. Colonel Whitside will entertain all at his country house. The trip from Manzanillo was very rough, and all the landsmen on the Kanawha were seasick with the exception of General Wood, who is a good sailor.

Morgan Coming to Northfield.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The Rev. S. Campbell Morgan, minister of New Court Congregational chapel, Tollington Park, London, announced from his pulpit yesterday that he had accepted the pastorate at Northfield in succession to the late Dwight L. Moody. In a letter announcing his resignation, which will occur not later than February next, he says, "I have come to the conclusion that the invitation to Northfield is the call of God."

The Lynching Denounced.

DENVER, Nov. 19.—The indignation of the people of Denver over the burning of the negro Porter was expressed yesterday in the most emphatic manner. The disgrace to the state was the theme in every pulpit. Without exception the speakers placed upon the press the responsibility for exciting the people to frenzy.

Sea Voyages For the Holland Boat.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—John P. Holland, the inventor of the submarine boat, announces that he has planned a number of sea voyages for his boats now under course of construction. These include a trip to Cuba and another one to Europe.

Steel Mills Start Up.

JOLIET, Ills., Nov. 19.—The billet mill and converters of the Illinois Steel works resumed operations after a three weeks' shutdown. About 1,000 men resumed work. The outlook is good for a long run.

Killed by a Manhole Explosion.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Anthony Bono was killed by an explosion in Brooklyn, a manhole cover striking him and practically cutting his head in two. No cause is assigned for the explosion.

PEKING A DEATH TRAP

Unwholesome Sanitary Conditions Invite Pestilence.

POWERS NEARLY READY TO NEGOTIATE

Minister Conger Says the Results Are Problematical and Considers China In a Very Critical Condition. Military Operations Halt.

PEKING, via Shanghai, Nov. 19.—Sanitary conditions here are becoming serious. Since the foreign occupation many Chinese have died of smallpox and other infectious diseases. Fearing that their funerals would be interfered with, they have kept most of the coffins containing their dead in their houses and courtyards.

The question of removing garbage has become one of grave importance. As the natives are forbidden to deposit refuse in the streets, there is now an enormous accumulation in their dwellings and yards, which threatens a serious epidemic. In view of the large number of troops in and near the capital, the consequences of such an outbreak would be frightful. Smallpox, which is always prevalent, is much more malignant during the winter season, and the danger here is now alarmingly increased.

The belief that the note of the powers to the Chinese commissioners, Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang, will be completed soon is strengthened by the results of the recent informal conferences of the ministers of the powers.

Mr. Conger, the United States minister, said to a press correspondent:

"The situation is apparently very favorable to the early beginning of negotiations for a preliminary settlement. I believe that the next meeting of the foreign envoys will virtually settle all points of difference between the representatives of the powers, who will lose no time in presenting the demands.

"What the result will be it is impossible to foretell. Events have placed China in a very critical condition. Whether she will be able to preserve her integrity and to save her trade relations with the rest of the world will depend upon what the powers demand in the final settlement and upon her willingness to accept promptly the conditions proposed.

"It is quite unlikely, if not impossible, that the Chinese court will return to Peking before next spring, but I do not anticipate any serious delay in the progress of the negotiations with the Chinese commissioners, as they are in telegraphic communication with the court."

Military operations are virtually at a standstill. The German and Italian expeditions northward passed through the Nan-kau pass unopposed.

JUSTICE FOR CHINA.

Dr. Martin Urges Great Severity For the Guilty Leaders.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Dr. W. A. F. Martin, president of the new Imperial university in Peking, has given out an open letter the caption of which is "Justice to China," which he calls the question of the hour for the whole world. Dr. Martin takes exception to some recently printed newspaper articles which advise moderation in the treatment of the Chinese. He says in effect if the ruling powers in China were of Chinese strain there might be some excuse for moderation, but he calls the empress dowager "a Tartar usurper who follows the traditions of the grand khan and treats embassadors with contumely."

As to the plea that China be treated as a self respecting power Dr. Martin asks: "What kind of self respect was it for the empress dowager on the 19th of June, before Baron Ketteler was killed, to send a secret edict to all her viceroys, 'Exterminate the foreigners; kill the native Christians?' What sort of self respect was shown by Prince Tuan, father of the heir apparent, in making himself the patron of a body of cutthroats? What self respect was shown by Prince Chuang as military governor in setting a price on the heads of foreigners, '50 taels for the head of a man, 50 for the head of a woman and 30 for the head of a child?'"

Dr. Martin further says: "The readiest road to peace and order is the restoration of the young emperor. As for his tyrannical aunt and all her bloodstained clique, no penalty can be too severe to inflict on them. When the dowager and Prince Tuan put to death four ministers in the foreign board for the crime of pleading for peace, are the allies too severe if they insist on the exile of the one and the execution of the other?"

The doctor closed by contending that $600,000,000 is not too much for China to pay.

Proforeign Governor For Wu-chang.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 18.—As the outcome of the protest by Great Britain against the transfer of Yu Chang to the governorship of Wu-chang this official will be replaced by a governor who is proforeign in his sympathies. It is reported that General Ma, with 10,000 men; General Fang, with 8,000, and General Yu, with 5,000, are marching toward the borders of the province of Chi-li to check the advance of the allies westward.

Colonel York's Advance.

BERLIN, Nov. 19.—A telegram received from the German headquarters in Peking says: "Colonel York's column on Nov. 14 reached Tsha-tau, on the great wall, northwest of the capital. A large force of Chinese cavalry had just evacuated the place."

Boers Very Active.

PRETORIA, Nov. 19.—The Boers are active. It is alleged that Commandant Louis Botha has established a government at Roesendal, north of Middleburg, and that with the £150,000 which he has available he is paying the fighting burghers a crown per day. Commandant Abel Erasmus is said to be at Oliphant's river with 2,000 men, 1,000 wagons and 12,000 cattle. From Heidelberg it is reported that the Boers are compelling the burghers who had surrendered to take up arms again.

Tenement House Dynamited.

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 19.—During the night some vandal exploded a stick of dynamite beneath a shanty adjoining a large Italian tenement house in North Scranton, demolishing the shanty and blowing in the end of the tenement. Mr. and Mrs. James Payne and their 14-year-old son, who were asleep in the wrecked end of the apartment, were thrown out of bed and for a time buried beneath the debris, but outside of a few cuts and bruises escaped injury.

Popular Votes for President.

In 1896 the plurality of McKinley over Bryan was 596,749 votes, while the plurality this year is not far from 840,000. Grant's plurality over Greeley in 1872 was 763,001—the largest in the history of the country till this year. In 1892 Cleveland's plurality over Harrison was 393,638, and over Blaine in 1884 his plurality was only 23,005. Harrison defeated Cleveland in 1888 by a plurality of 114,660 votes. In 1880 Garfield had a plurality over Hancock of only 7018, and a majority of 59 votes in the electoral college. Tilden had a plurality of 251,645 popular votes in 1876, and Hayes was counted into the office of President, by one electoral vote. In 1868 Grant's plurality over Seymour was 309,518. Lincoln's plurality over McClellan in 1864 was 411,281, and over Douglas in 1860 his plurality was 491,295, while in the latter year the total votes for Douglas, Breckinridge and Bell were 947,289 more than the popular vote for Lincoln. Buchanan's plurality over Fremont in 1856 was 497,125.

The interview with Councilman Mellick, printed in the news columns of The Daily Press today, indicates that there is to be a lively contest in the Republican city convention over the nomination of a candidate for Mayor. Notwithstanding that the leaders of the faction known as "the machine" control the votes of the First and Fourth wards, which compose a majority in the convention, and have determined to make Dr. O. L. Jenkins the nominee for Mayor, there are active spirits in the Second and Third Wards who hope to thwart that arrangements and put Dr. W. H. Murray at the head of the Republican ticket in the municipal contest. The opponents of "the machine" realize that the latter are at an advantage in controlling more than half of the delegates who will be empowered to select the nominee, but the former trust, undoubtedly, to moral suasion to carry their point. Whether or not the claims and arguments of the Second and Third ward people will avail them much remains to be seen, and in the meantime the public will look on with interest.

It is stated for a fact that Attorney-General Griggs has an enormous law practice in New Jersey. This, according to common reports, nets him a sum in the neighborhood of $75,000 a year. The salary of the Attorney-General is only $8,000 per annum, and Mr. Griggs has found it impossible during his official career in Washington to live in a manner commensurate with the dignity of his office upon that amount. He will return to New Jersey shortly after March 4th and renew his practice before the State courts. Two men have already been mentioned to succeed Mr. Griggs. They are Senators Carter, of Montana, and Wolcott, of Colorado. Both will leave the Senate next March.

Colonel Samuel D. Dickinson, leader of the Republican party in Hudson county, has declared himself in favor of the Massachusetts ballot law, which he would like to see replace the Werts ballot law, now in force in New Jersey. The change would be that, instead of each party having a separate ballot, as now, there would be only one ballot, containing the names of the candidates of all parties, and the voter would express his preference by making a mark opposite the names.

Secretary of the Navy Long predicts that the women will soon make Colorado a Republican State. However, the Philadelphia Record thinks that will largely depend on what their husbands and fathers shall think about it.

Mrs. P. S. Bristol, of Milford, Pa., is visiting at the home of her brother, S. C. Peck, 316 West Front street.

Things that Are Not Exacty News but Just as Interesting.

Among recent publications by Messrs. Putnam, of New York, is an attractive volume of poems entitled, "Survivals," by Former Mayor L. V. F. Randolph, of East Front street, to which an interesting story is attached. Mr. Randolph, who is now president of the Atlantic Trust Company, of New York, started life as a bank clerk, with poetic aspirations, which were frowned upon by his relatives, friends and business associates, who told him that a poet could never succeed in business. So he locked away his verses, working at them in hours of leisure, desultorily, with no idea of their ultimate publication. But having succeeded in business, he now places them before the public, the "Survivals," of thirty years of poetic self denial.

* * * * *

That very eminent lawyer, W. A. Coddington, who is associated with Senator Charles A. Reed in the practice of law, had an experience last week which makes his rating as a fisherman very low. He, together with a few friends, journeyed to the Passaic river, where the fish are reported to be plentiful. He sat by the river bank all day, and would only leave his rod and line occasionally to get a bite of something to eat. After his patience was exhausted, he was compelled to return home with a small fish that did not measure one bit over three inches. The Judge did not intend to let the secret out, but he was obliged to make some explanation to his wife, to whom he made a promise to bring home enough fish for supper. The Judge explains his failure to catch more fish by saying that the weather was so cold that the fish would not bite. His friends, however, have threatened to appeal the case, on a writ of error.

What Became of the Girls.

Thursday afternoon next at 3 o'clock Mrs. Ada Leigh Lewis will give an account of what has been done for American girls in Paris, hundreds of whom went there during the past summer. All members of the Plainfield Auxiliary are requested to be present, and it is hoped that others who know nothing of this work in Paris will avail themselves of this opportunity to hear the wife of the Archbishop of Ontario. The work is entirely undenominational. The meeting will be held in the guild rooms of Grace Episcopal church.

Cops Knee Sprained.

Patrolman Myers is confined to his home with a badly sprained knee, which resulted from a fall received on his beat Saturday night. In a dark spot, the patrolman stepped in a hole and was thrown to the ground. He was able to finish the night, but on going home the knee became worse and he will be laid up for several days.

To Make up Barrel of Clothing.

The quarterly meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the First Baptist church will meet tomorrow afternoon in the parlors of the church. There will be a committee of women at the church from 10 o'clock until 4 o'clock to receive clothing and other useful things to be placed in a barrel to be sent to missionaries.

Endeavor Thanksgiving Service.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church will hold a Thanksgiving service next Friday evening, and the members and friends are requested to bring donations of fruits, preserves and dry groceries which will be sent to Miss Sara Curry for her nursery in New York.

Former Plainfield Girl to Wed.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Mabel Ketcham Ladd, of Brooklyn, formerly of this city, to Herbert Shotwell Quinn, also of Brooklyn. The ceremony will be performed in the Central Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening, Nov. 27.

Checks Tabooed.

A sign has been placed over the ticket office window at the North Avenue Station that checks will not be received in payment for tickets. The Jersey Central Railroad Company has established a hard and fast rule in this matter.

Postal Affairs Inspected.

Inspector Snow, of the postoffice department, paid an official visit to Plainfield one day last week and expressed satisfaction at the condition of the Plainfield office as conducted by Postmaster Bird.

THANKSGIVING FURNITURE.

Our offering of Sideboards, China Closets, Dining Tables and Dining Chairs for the greatest feast day of the year, is worthy of your earnest attention. The styles and prices cannot be duplicated elsewhere. Have you seen the elegant dining room display in our east window and also in the basement. There has never been such a display in the city before

Sideboards.

Made of solid oak, plain and quartered, beautiful golden finish, lined drawer for silver, French bevel plate mirrors, side brackets, elegant carvings, with or without canopy tops, some with serpentine and some with swell fronts, 30 different styles which represent the best manufacturers in the country. Without doubt the handsomest as well as the cheapest line of sideboards ever shown under one roof. Some as low as 9.98 and so on up to 25.00, but those at 14.98, 15.98 and 18.75 are noteworthy.

Dining Room Tables.

In solid oak golden finish, size of tops 42x42 and 44x44, some with gloss finish and some rubbed and polished, extending to 6, 8 and 10 feet, the legs are heavy turned, some of which are fluted, some twisted and others spiral shaped, with plain and claw feet, the prices are 5.98, 6.75, 7.98, 8.48 and up to 12.98.

Dining Room Chairs

at 1.10, a nice high back chair, golden oak finish, cane seat and arm braces. At 1.25, a solid golden oak chair, very neat design, with cane seat and arm braces. At 1.35, a solid oak chair, golden finish, high back, new fan shape spindles, cane seat and arm braces. At 1.48, a very strong and durable chair, golden oak with cane seat, arm braces and fancy embossed back. At 1.98, about six different styles in golden oak, highly polished, box seat chairs with high back, arm braces, etc.

New China Closets.

Solid oak china closets, golden finish, with round ends, carved tops and adjustable shelves, at 12.98 instead of 15.00. Quarter sawed golden oak china closets with round ends, carved top and base, rope edge and French legs at 14.98 instead of 16.50

Lamps.

It would be hard to find another such gathering of high grade lamps such as we are exhibiting, and after all that may be said about gas and electric lights, the lamp still has its place in the home, the picturesque effect of its form and decoration gives a finish to the entire furnishings and the soft rich glow of the blended light gives a mellow refinement that brings the entire room into eye-pleasing harmony. The place of the lamp in the furnishing scheme is most important. The variety of our offerings is too great to describe in detail, so come and judge for yourself. Suggestion of price ranges

75c and up to 13.98.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Nov. 19—Among the artists who will appear at the concert to be given in Music Hall, Plainfield, this evening, for the benefit of Clarence A. Roberts, of the borough, will be Alfred E. Pearsall, of Westfield, whose elocutionary powers are known to everyone. Others who will contribute to the programme are Harry W. Elder, humorist and vocalist, and Miss Ione Chamberlain, of Washington, D. C., who will give a musical sketch portraying "Little Nell" in Dickens' "Old Curiosity Shop." Miss Minnie Budworth will preside at the piano.

The first of a series of entertainments and lectures provided by the Board of Education, will take place in the Methodist church tomorrow evening. The Rutgers College Glee Club will be in attendance and give one of their pleasing concerts. The other dates on which concerts will take place are December 4th and 18th, January 8th and 22d.

The Roselle-Scotch Plains football game, which was to have been played on the Lincoln avenue grounds Saturday, was given up, as the former team failed to materialize. The Scotch Plains contingent was on hand, but after waiting for some time returned home in disgust.

Rev. Mr. Osbun, of Chester, occupied the Presbyterian pulpit yesterday and preached an excellent sermon at both morning and evening services.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Nov. 19—While a party composed of Edward Johnson, Irving Runyon, Charles Moore and Theodore Roantree were hunting in the vicinity of West Dunellen Saturday, the latter stumbled upon a number of carpenter tools concealed in a hedge. On investigation tools to the amount of $50 in valuation were discovered. They were stolen from the carpenters engaged in building Abram Smalley's new residence at Greenbrook, nearly six weeks ago and had evidently been abandoned by the thieves as being too bulky. There were $150 worth of the tools stolen in all most of which belonged to Ambrose and Samuel Smalley, of Plainfield.

A wagon belonging to an unknown farmer and loaded with straw narrowly escaped being struck by a train at the crossing Saturday afternoon. The wagon was on the east bound track when the driver saw a train approaching. Instead of continuing across he attempted to back. The horses had just cleared the tracks when the wheels of the wagon were turned too short and the load upset. It was far enough from the train, however, and no damage was done.

The Seventh-day Baptist Conference held at New York Friday and Saturday was attended by quite a delegation from town. There was no service in the local church Sunday.

Frank Hill, of Trenton, spent yesterday and Saturday with Mrs. Mary Runyon.

Lewis Benedict, of New Brunswick, was the guest of A. G. Nelson yesterday.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Nov. 19—The local football eleven feel very sore against the Roselle team for failing to put in an appearance Saturday afternoon as arranged. The Roselle eleven arranged the game, as they supposed, with the Dunellen team, but it was arranged by several from Dunellen that Scotch Plains should play the game. Roselle had refused to play Scotch Plains, so this scheme was worked so as to bring the two teams together. But Roselle "must have smelt the rat," as they played a game with the eleven from Westfield and gave Dunellen and Scotch Plains "the lay down."

The members of the Baptist Sunday-school observed their annual Bible day exercises in the auditorium of the church Sunday morning. An interesting programme of responsive reading, special music and recitation was enjoyed by the members and their friends. George Hall, a former popular superintendent of the school, made the address of the day.

The woods near the Fanwood Club House were set on fire Saturday afternoon, it is supposed, by some careless hunters. The fire burned fiercely Saturday night and at one time it was thought that the club house was in danger as the fire was coming that way but died out before reaching the buildings.

The weekly meeting of the B. Y. O. U. Society, held in the Baptist church last evening was led by Edward Johnston. Subject, "Temperance."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grant, of Plainfield, were the guest of Mrs. Grant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. M. Paff, Sr., Sunday.

Rev. G. M. Shott addressed a temperance meeting at Locust Grove yesterday afternoon.

Miss Lottie Lyons, of Plainfield, spent Sunday with friends in town.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Nov. 19.—P. J. McDonough's new house is nearing completion. It will be heated with a furnace and have all improvements.

Scarcely a day passes but one or more ladies have to walk to Plainfield and back and still some people think we do not need a trolley.

Saturday morning the pond was frozen over solid.

—The repairs that have been underway at the Borough Public School are nearing completion and the scholars will be able to occupy the rooms by the last of this month.

—Mrs. Ella Lewis will deliver an address next Thursday afternoon in the guild room of Grace P. E. church, in which she will tell of the work in Paris among the American girls. The public is cordially invited to attend.

—Hundreds of people admired the new light at Woodhull & Martin's store last Saturday night. The store was just as light as day and one strong advantage is the fact that one is able to distinguish colors perfectly in selecting goods.

—You can't afford to risk your life by allowing a cough or a cold to develop into pneumonia or consumption. One Minute Cough Cure will cure throat and lung troubles quicker than any other preparation known. Many doctors use it as a specific for grippe. It is an infallible remedy for croup. Children like it and mothers endorse it. L. W. Randolph.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

"The King of the Opium Ring," a play that is brimful of life and action, and in which the scenery and costumes used are beautiful in their Oriental splendor, will be seen at Music Hall on Friday night. The chief attraction of the play, and what probably accounts for more than anything else its phenomenal success last season, is the novelty of the theme. But little was known of the Chinatown of San Francisco in this part of the country, and the revelations of the play are of great interest. For the presentation of the play the present season, Mr. Blaney has engaged a company of exceptional ability, among the members being Howard Truesdell, W. F. Clarke, Wm. Frederic, Katie Rooney and Beatrice Lieb.

Success, tremendous and unquestioned, has fallen to the lot of May Irwin at the Bijou Theatre, where she in her merry farce, "The Belle of Bridgeport," is demonstrating beyond a doubt that she is one of the most popular of actresses and that "The Belle of Bridgeport" eclipses any of her previous successes. While Miss Irwin has always been received with open arms, as it were, by the theatre-going public of New York, she has never met with such emphatic and pronounced success as has greeted her this year with her new production. May Irwin's career is a noteworthy one when we realize that this triumphant star of today was a few years ago merely one of the Irwin sisters, known only to vaudeville, and when we consider that since that time Miss Irwin has been associated prominently with Charles Frohman and was for four years a member of Augustin Daly's company, we find that she has literally worked her way up to the front rank of the profession.

With the best programmes of vaudeville in their career, the Proctor continuous performance theatres are now enjoying unusual large patronage. And such is little wonder, when you scan the list of star features at these favorite houses. J. E. Dodson, Della Fox, the Great LaFayette, Ugo Biondi, McIntyre and Heath, Papinta, John C. Rice and Sally Cohen, Chas. T. Aldrich, Williams and Tucker, Jas. J. Morton, LeRoy and Clayton, Montgomery and Stone, Foy and Clark, Bunth and Rudd are only a few of the big headliners now on the Proctor circuit. With these big programmes of feature acts, the prices only 15, 25 and 50 cents, and the performances are continuous from 12:30 to 11 p. m.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The Misses Cuming, of Putnam avenue, are entertaining company from New York.

The Misses Saxton, of East Fourth street, have been entertaining company from out of town.

Miss Ada Van Horn has accepted a position with W. G. DeMeza as typewriter and stenographer.

Miss Adaline M. Shwarz, of Newark, is spending a few days with Miss Nettie Leichtentritt, of Central avenue.

Alexander T. Wells and Howard W. Merrified, of New York, spent Sunday with Miss May Duckworth, of North avenue.

His Grace, the Archbishop of Ontario, and Mrs. Lewis, are again visiting Mrs. W. L. Patton, of 122 West Fifth street.

Mrs. S. W. Milligan and son William, of West Fourth street, have returned home from a visit with Brooklyn relatives.

Burton Seals, of Califon, who has been under treatment at the hospital for appendicitis, was discharged Saturday and returned home.

Miss Louella Mills, of East Fifth street, is greatly improved from a long illness, but is not yet able to return to her position at the U. S. Express Company office. Her sister is filling the position temporarily.

TAXATION OF FRANCHISES.

Senator-elect Hudspeth will Offer a Bill in the Legislature This Winter.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Jersey City, Nov. 19.—State Senator-elect Robert S. Hudspeth, when questioned regarding his plans for the coming session of the Legislature, said:

"The question of the taxation of franchises will engage public attention for some time to come. Every proper effort to provide for the adequate taxation of franchises will receive my most hearty support. I believe franchises should be taxed the same as other property, and expect to offer a bill to that effect.

"My purpose is also to do all I can next winter to secure the passage of a bill which will enable the State to retain its remaining rights in the lands under water and still in the possession of the State. These rights should remain part of the State's most important assets. They should not be sold. It is too late to recover for the State those riparian lands that have already been sold, but it should be impossible for the Riparian Commission hereafter to deed away riparian rights outright. They should be leased for stated periods, but not surrendered.

"I think it might be a good idea to place the naturalization of citizens in charge of a local non-partisan commission."

John Wanamaker's New Magazine.

The latest development in magazines is the entrance of the firm of John Wanamaker into the publisher's field. They will take over and publish, beginning with the December issue, Everybody's Magazine. "We have set ourselves the task of building up in character and circulation an illustrated magazine of our own and of the best type" says the announcement. So radical a departure seems to call for some explanation; the statements made that the Wanamaker stores have become the largest sellers of books at retail in the country and that they deal with more readers directly than any other firm (the aggregate sales equalling or surpassing the sales of even the larger publishing houses) they think that a popular magazine belongs naturally to this organization.

New Cars on Philadelphia and Reading New York Trains.

The new parlor cars which have been recently added to the equipment of the Philadelphia and Reading two-hour trains between Philadelphia and New York, were built expressly for this service by the Pullman Company. These trains leave Philadelphia at 7:30 and 8:30 a. m. Returning, leave New York at 4 and 4:30 p. m., being solid vestibuled trains throughout. Other fast trains to New York run frequently by this route. Engines burn hard coal; no smoke.

Dortmund. Der wegen Ermordung seines Schwiegersohnes zum Tode verurtheilte Berginvalide Buehren erhängte sich im Gefängniß.

Sachsen.

Dresden. In Gegenwart eines Polizisten erschoß sich in seiner Wohnung der Hausmann Anton Niering, als er zur Abbüßung einer 14tägigen Gefängnißstrafe abgeführt werden sollte.—Gestorben ist hierorts der Geheime Justizrath und Kammergerichtsrath a. D. Botho v. Bergen im 73. Lebensjahre.—Der „schlafende Bremser" Dittrich in Naußlitz ist von seiner Frau ermordet worden. Die Frau entleibte sich hierauf selbst. Dittrich hatte im Jahre 1880 bei einem Eisenbahnunfalle eine Schädelverletzung davongetragen und lag seitdem im Starrkrampfe.

Bautzen. Ein Arbeiter in Neschwitz neckte die 18 Jahre alte Fabrikarbeiterin Anna Knorre damit, daß er ihr eine todte Maus in den Halsausschnitt zu stecken versuchte. Die Knorre entfloh und rannte direkt an die Deichsel eines ihr entgegenkommenden Lastgeschirres, stürzte zwischen die Pferde und wurde von diesen so unglücklich getreten, daß sie kurz darauf verstarb.

Döbeln. In einer Stadtverordnetensitzung wurde mitgetheilt, daß sich an der Konkurrenz um den Entwurf für das hiesige Luther-Denkmal fünf Dresdner Künstler mit sieben Entwürfen betheiligt haben, und daß das vom Bildhauer Ernst Paul entworfene Modell angenommen worden sei.

Leipzig. An den hiesigen städtischen Volksschulen, deren Schülerzahl sich auf 62,668 belief, wirkten am Schlusse des Jahres 1899 insgesammt 45 Direktoren, 1140 ständige Lehrer, 146 Hilfslehrer, 51 ständige und 11 Hilfslehrerinnen, 54 Fachlehrer und 122 Fach- (meistens Nadelarbeits)-Lehrerinnen.

Markneukirchen. Ein hervorragender Künstler in seiner Art war der letzthin dahier verstorbene 70jährige Bogenmacher Christian Süß, ein sehr schlichter, einfacher Mann. Seine meisterhaft gearbeiteten Violinbogen wurden selbst über die Grenzen Europas hinaus begehrt, und große Violinvirtuosen verschmähten es nicht, seine ärmliche Werkstatt persönlich aufzusuchen.

THE ANGLO-SAXON SECRET.

Why the United States and England Are To-Day the Mightiest of Nations.

The source of national greatness, says Edmund Noble, in Atlantic, is not only the results in the individual of the life now being lived by a people, but it is also—a high degree of race virility being understood—that subtle thing which we call brain structure on which are impressed the whole experiences of a people in the past. If a nation is in decay, the past goes for little, however glorious it may have been; but if a people be, physiologically speaking, in the ascendant, then it takes its strength or weakness from the character of its heredity. This is why the United States and Great Britain are to-day the two mightiest and most durable nations in the world. Satisfying in a high degree the conditions of social efficiency, they have both had rich race experiences, and it is these experiences which, impressed upon the structure of the individual brain, have made it strong with the whole strength of the wonderful process and story of Anglo-Saxon development.

She Told the Truth.

The debutante dabbed her moist brown eyes with an infinitesimal pocket handkerchief. "It's all over between Tom and me," she cried. "I never had any luck with men, anyway. I can't hold them"—

The chaperon raised her eyebrows.

"My dear child," she remarked suavely, "you will make your nose awfully red, and I'm sure that won't bring Tom back to you."

The debutante covered her face with her hands. "What's the use, anyway?" she sobbed. "He'll never see it. He's with that horrid Marion Campbell all the time!"

The chaperon smiled. "So that's where the shoe pinches!" she murmured.

The debutante made a sudden movement and threw her arms about her. "Oh, do tell me," she begged impulsively. "I know you have the secret. What sort of a girl do men like?"

STRAUS GIRL.

"So you may model yourself on her, eh?" laughed the chaperon. "Well, tell me first how many types of girl you recognize."

The debutante wrinkled her forehead. "Well, there's the Straus girl, tall, fair and queenly, and there's the Wenzell girl, petite and dark, then the red haired girl, full of witchery, and—well, just the plain little brown haired thing like myself."

"I see you have classified them as to looks," returned the chaperon. "That's a great mistake. Looks are not everything, not by a great deal. Now this is how I would have divided them: The sweet and depending little girl, the intense and alluring one, the common sense one, the jolly boy and the 'home' woman."

"What do you mean by the depending girl?"

The chaperon dropped a lump of sugar into her tea. "Well, you're one," she answered. "You look up to Tom, you depend on him and fairly cling to him in the stereotyped vine and oak plan. No, don't be angry, my dear. It's all very sweet and lovely, and it appeals to the vanity of a man, but it won't last. Now, your Miss Campbell is quite the opposite. She alternately attracts and repulses him. She treats him like a dog, and then all at once she lets him feel the full witchery of her smile. In other words, she leads him a perpetual dance. Tom finds it wildly exciting, and you can't blame him. After you have entertained him in your little white and gold reception room and he has feasted his eyes on your daintiness as you sit at the piano, dressed in your pale blue gown, with a bunch of violets tucked away among the chiffons you so much affect; after, as I said, he has heard you sing your quaint old English songs, he goes away feeling he has been in the presence of an angel. But he doesn't go home—not he! He wants to mix sensations. So he sends up his card to Miss Campbell. He is admitted into her Turkish room, where she sits enthroned on an oriental divan. She is dressed in red and perhaps wears a red rose in her hair, and as he looks at her he can't help comparing her to some rich, flashing jewel. She deigns to smile a welcome and gives him the tip of her fingers where you gave him probably the whole of your eyes. Later on she takes out her guitar and sings for him, not 'The Lass With the Delicate Hair'—no, indeed; that isn't her style—but something eastern, mystical, something which fills him with a strange unrest and mingles pleasantly with the perfume of sandalwood, which is always in evidence:

"On the road to Mandalay,
Where the flying fishes play,
And the dawn comes up like thunder
Out of China, across the bay.

"You can fancy how she sings it. Who can blame Tom for wanting to listen? You would, too, if you were a man."

The debutante moved uneasily.

"Well, some day, you know," the chaperon went on comfortably, "it is beautiful sunlit weather. He feels like taking a ten mile tramp or something or other. Anyway, it isn't sandalwood or the road to Mandalay any more. So he gets the sensible girl who believes in plenty of sunlight and stout shoes and who never uses perfume because, she says, she would rather breathe pure air, and they go off for a jaunt. She gives him plenty of good advice and tells him what a nice boy he is, and he admires her because she is so sensible, no nonsense about her and not like other girls."

"And then?"

"Then? Oh, he has a platonic friendship with her until he meets the jolly boy—the girl who can wear the jauntiest red coat, ride to hounds, make the longest drive, who belongs to a club, calls her room a den and himself old man and who can talk politics and shop with him."

"But what of the home woman?"

"Oh, she is a fine housekeeper and a great manager, and she understands the giving of a dinner, and she is good hearted and simple and restful, and he marries her"—

"What!"

"Yes; you see, he wants to be sure of having comfort in his home and some one to take care of him when he is sick and some one he can depend on generally."

"But why didn't he marry one of the others?"

"Because he wasn't in the mood for it when he met them."

"But"—

"My dear, it's all a question of moods. When a man has the marrying mood upon him he will wed the first girl who happens to please him at the time. Now, the reason so many plain women marry over the heads of their more attractive sisters is this: They know they can't compete with them in the matter of brilliancy. They can't ride or sing or play or talk wittily, but they are most observing. You see, they have plenty of time to do that, because they are not rushed around like the more brilliant girl, and they have leisure to think. They take note of the man whose thoughts are turning toward his 'ain fireside.' They don't bother about the others. Then they invite that man to a good dinner, a cozy family affair. After dinner there is coffee in the library under the glow of soft lamps. Perhaps the girl takes out a bit of embroidery and does the domesticated act, as a friend of mine puts it. Result, deep thought on the man's part, followed some little time after by an announcement of the engagement."

"But doesn't he ever regret?"

"Oh, dear, yes, any number of times. Some night he may have the Mandalay mood, for instance, and then the embroidery act would be about the most irritating thing which could happen. But I am speaking of marrying, not holding the man, which is quite a different matter."

"Well, but that's what I want to know"—

"My dear girl, it's very prosaic and resolves itself into this: Man is preeminently selfish. The attractive girl in his eyes is the girl who can fit his present mood. If she doesn't do that, though she might be a second Venus and Circe combined, she wouldn't suit him. And the all around attractive girl, who, by the way, is rare, is simply a human chameleon."

The debutante sighed. "Men are queer things," she said.

The chaperon shrugged her shoulders. "Dear me, who said they weren't?" she remarked.

The Cane Girl.

All hail to the girl with the cane! We shall see her swagger along with a most manly stride this season. The cane is long, black and slender. And the girl? Well, she will dress in Oxford grays and blacks to match the cane, with perhaps a dash of red in the shape of a waistcoat or a lining to her short skirt, for of course she will carry her cane with her business costume—this latest edition of the new woman!

Mrs. Astor's Snake Ring.

Of course every one knows how popular the bug and the snake are at present—at least in jewelry—and most lifelike imitations some of them are too. It only remains for them to jump or wriggle. Mrs. Astor would appear to have solved that difficulty. She possesses a wonderful Egyptian snake ring which literally moves on her fingers. It is constructed of flexible gold wire in which a ruby, an emerald and an amethyst are firmly set. The slightest movement starts the wire quivering, and the ring scintillates and seems to go round and round the finger with a serpentine wriggle which is most weird.

OVERFURNISHED HOMES.

Health, Comfort and Good Taste Are Sacrificed for Display in American Houses.

"More simplicity in our homes would make our lives simpler," writes Edward Bok, in a plea for the exercise of better taste in furnishing our homes, in the Ladies' Home Journal. "Many women would live fuller lives because they would have more time. As it is, hundreds of women of all positions in life are to-day the slaves of their homes and what they have crowded into them. Comfort is essential to our happiness. But with comfort we should stop. Then we are on the safe side. But we get on and over the danger line when we go beyond. Not one-tenth of the things that we think are essential to our happiest living are really so. In fact, we should be an infinitely happier and healthier people if the nine-tenths were taken out of our lives. It is astonishing how much we can do without, and be a thousand times the better for it. And it doesn't require much to test this gospel of wisdom. We need only to be natural; to get back to our real, inner selves. Then we are simple. It is only because we have got away from the simple and the natural that so many of our homes are cluttered up as they are, and our lives full of little things that are not worth the while. We have bent the knee to show, to display, and we have lowered ourselves in doing it; surrounded ourselves with the trivial and the useless; and filling our lives with the poison of artificiality and the unnatural, we have pushed the real, the natural, the simple, the beautiful—the best and most lasting things—out of our lives."

MENDING STOCKINGS.

It's Disagreeable Work, But If It's Worth Doing at All It's Worth Doing Well.

Darning stockings is a somewhat laborious, time taking work, when the rents begin to grow large, and it is a saving of time and labor to reenforce the heels with a piece of old stocking leg taken from a pair where the feet were beyond mending. This reenforced piece should be cut the size of the hose to be mended, and the shape of the diagram. Make a seam from A to B after folding the heel piece together from B to C. Lay this seam flat with crisscross stitches, and put it on the outside of the heel where it begins to show signs of wear, and darn it down, hemming it down on the edges. A stocking mended in this way wears nearly twice as long as one left to wear itself into holes and then darned. It pays to foot stockings. Cut a foot pattern with the seam on the top. If the single seam that shapes this foot is carefully held down by crisscross stitches it will not hurt the tenderest foot. It does not fit as snugly as a new stocking, but usefulness, not elegance, is what is aimed at, and these made-over stockings will be a useful addition to the wardrobe of the schoolgirl or schoolboy who trudges through the snow to school and should have abundant changes of stockings.

CARE OF THE FEET.

Lemon Juice, Regularly Applied, Will Soften Callous Places and Drive Away Corns.

There is nothing that will keep the feet in better condition than lemons. A friend thus speaks in their favor:

"My feet, from long continued standing, had become covered with corns and callouses. Not only my toes, but the bottoms of my feet were so tender I could not stand upon them without pain. I tried every remedy suggested, but without relief. One day, lemon juice was spoken of as being worth a trial. Lemon juice is good for the hands and face, why not for the feet, I thought. So I purchased a lemon, and explicitly followed directions.

"I cut it in halves and gave my feet a lemon bath, rubbing the pieces thoroughly over every callous and corn. I repeated this treatment every night for several weeks. The roughness began slowly, but surely, to disappear. My feet are now as fair and smooth as my hands, and my corns and callouses are ills of the past. Lemon juice effects a complete cure.

"The treatment is very inexpensive, as the halves of the lemon placed together, when not in use, will last a long time."—Ladies' World, New York.

Best Way to Use Camphor.

The best method of employing camphor when storing away articles for the winter is in pieces the size of a hazlenut, wrapped each in tissue paper; thus covered the camphor will not injure the most delicious color. Spirits of turpentine sprinkled freely in a trunk before lining it with newspapers will destroy any moth's eggs that may have found lodgment therein, but the turpentine must not be allowed to touch anything which it can possibly injure.

MALICIOUS GOSSIPS.

They Are a Constant Menace to the Peace of the Community in Which They Live.

Habitual gossips ought to be shunned as well as despised. They are so dangerous that one is afraid to accept even their offers of assistance in domestic affliction lest they violate the sanctities of the sick chamber. In their presence no one feels safe. Even though people may never think of believing what they say, they are a disturbing element in any community, and every true person dreads them as the coils of a viper, even though the bite may have been rendered harmless. Falsehood is loathsome, and a relief is felt when men get away from it. It is needless to say that such persons are more open to criticism than anyone else, and that the faults and foibles they charge upon others are the best indicators of their own besetting sins. In nine cases out of ten, they criticize most severely that fault in others which is peculiar to themselves. Uncharitable remarks about the character and conduct of others, or even about their dress or taste—words often so unkind and wounding—might in 99 cases out of 100, be applied with more justice to the person uttering them than to those in regard to whom they are uttered; and, as a general thing, sensible, observant people see this, and attach but little importance to their slander. Why people delight in commenting upon the faults of others, even if they are conspicuously apparent, is a question that can be answered only on the ground of perverted human nature, which is prone to hate its neighbor; but such persons help to add to the sorrows of the world, and inflict misery upon themselves. The difficulty is one that concerns personal character. The man's own inward spirit rather than the foibles of his fellows, is what is to be corrected.—N. Y. Weekly.

PATENT MOTH TRAP.

A Clever Little Device in Whose Success Almost Every Housekeeper Is Interested.

The affinity of the moth for the flame is well known, and this inordinate love is utilized in the device illustrated herewith to exterminate the inseet. A metallic receptacle is provided which has the sides sloping toward each other at the top. On this receptacle are placed two plates of tin or other polished metal, provided with slots, which allow them to be set at right angles to each other, supporting a small lamp on the shelf formed at the center. The receptacle underneath is partially filled with water and a small quantity of coal oil is placed on the surface to kill the moths or other insects which, attracted by the bright flame and the numerous reflections on the surface of the tin, will circle around the apparatus until they strike against one of the reflectors, falling into the liquid. The slanting sides prevent the insects from falling out, and the oil soon puts an end to their existence. When the room has been cleared the lamp and reflectors are lifted off the basin and the contents thrown out. A patent on this device has been granted to Seward A. Haseltine, of Springfield, Mo.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Book Clubs for Small Towns.

A writer in the Ladies' Home Journal, telling how to organize book clubs in small communities, says that one successful club was started in a small country town of from 1,000 to 1,500 inhabitants, in which there was no public library of any kind. Its charter members numbered 17. Each member, except one, who was chosen secretary and gave service instead of money, paid into the general treasury five dollars a year. With the sum so raised the club was able to subscribe for 17 periodicals, weeklies and monthlies, and to buy from 17 to 34 books chosen in general from among the new publications.

Sweet Potato Croquettes.

Bake sweet potatoes until they are tender; then scoop out the centers and put them through a vegetable press. To each two cups of mashed potatoes allow a tablespoonful of butter, a level teaspoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of sugar and a half saltspoonful of white pepper; mix thoroughly. Form into cylinders, dip in egg, then in breadcrumbs and fry in smoking-hot fat.—Ladies' Home Journal.

How to Broil a Fish.

Fish should never be turned while broiling. Put the inside next to the coals and allow it to cook until thoroughly done. Then turn and just brown the skin side, taking care that it does not scorch.

Salted Peanuts Are All Right.

Salted peanuts are frequently used in place of the almonds, and are even less expensive. Shell, put in the oven and bake until the skin cracks; brush off thoroughly and then proceed as with the almonds.

SPORTING.

GOLF

The great attraction on the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club ocurse for Thanksgiving Day will be the play for the Gilbert cup. There are already a large number of entries.

It has been definitely decided that the first annual championship tournament of the East Jersey Golf League is to be held November 30th and December 1st, on the Baltusrol course. A recent meeting of the committee was held and arrangements were made for the event. According to the conditions the golf on both days will consist entirely of match play. This, of course, makes the luck of the draw cut a big figure. Each club will be represented by two players. Regarding the probable winner of the event it is difficult to state who may be the favorite, as every club intends entering its strongest representatives. The Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, of Plainfield, will stand an excellent chance of carrying off first honors with W. L. Glenny, who holds the record for the Newark A. C. course, a capital seventy-nine. Glenny has been golfing regularly and in the team match between Columbia and Wee Burn easily defeated his man. Newark, Elizabeth, East Orange, Glen Ridge and Forrest Hill all have representatives of more than ordinary ability, any of whom, if right at the top of his game, would stand a first-rate chance of capturing the coveted title. On past form young Howard Griffin, of East Orange, stands the best chance of lowering the colors of Glenny. The former gets a remarkably long ball from the tee and also plays the rest of the game in good form.

ROD AND GUN.

Den. Gavin, of the borough, expects to go hunting tomorrow with some friends.

George Voehl, of West Front street, has returned home from a successful hunting trip.

W. D. Thickstun, of Central avenue, left today for Barnegat, where he will remain for a few days hunting ducks.

ON THE GRIDIRON.

A game of football was played on the Westfield grounds Saturday afternoon between the Westfield "second" team and the eleven of the Whittier School, of this city. The Plainfield boys won 6 to 0. Martin made the touchdown and Smith kicked the goal. Time was called with the ball within five feet of Westfield's goal.

After a hard fought game the Association Foot Ball team of Garwood was defeated by the Plainfield team Saturday on the Clinton avenue grounds. The score was 3 to 0. All three goals were made in the first half. The game was witnessed by several hundred spectators.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

The first of a series of athletic events at the Y. M. C. A. was held Saturday evening, in which twelve men entered. The event was the standing broad jump and was won by W. H. Heinecke, with a record of 8 ft. 5½ inches. Points are given to each winning contestant and kept until the end of the season, when the man securing the most will be given a medal.

Death of Mrs. Marsh.

The death of Mrs. Lucy A. Marsh, widow of the late Alexander Marsh, occurred this morning at her home, 211 West Fifth street. Death was due to heart trouble, with which the deceased was a great sufferer. She was a member of Trinity Reformed church, and always attended the services when able. Mrs. Marsh was born in Elizabeth sixth-seven years ago, and after her marriage took up her residence in this city. She is survived by three sons, Everitt, Aaron and Willett, and two daughters, Mrs B. Frank Coriell and Mrs. Elizabeth Randall. The funeral services will be held from the late residence Wednesday afternoon next at 2:30 o'clock.

Many Heard Mr. Graham.

An unusualty large attendance was present at the afternoon meeting of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday, conducted by Thomas F. Graham. Mr. Graham's speaking was greatly enjoyed and much interest manifested. At an after-meeting, held later, testimony was given by several men who, during the past week, had professed conversion. The music yesterday was also greatly enjoyed. It was furnished by Mrs. James Buckley, Mrs. George W. Saums and Elmer Wheeler. Mr. Graham left today for Stirling, where he will conduct a series of meetings this week.

Sold Under Chattel Mortgage.

Wm. G. DeMeza, attorney for the mortgage, conducted a sale this morning of the goods and chattels of B. F Crane in the butcher shop on Somerset street, formerly conducted by him. The goods were all disposed of to Clark Mundy who expects to open a butcher shop there today. Hand & Pangborn were the auctioneers.

Conditions in Utah.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Crescent Avenue church will hold a special meeting in the chapel Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. There will be an address on "Conditions in Utah," by Dr. Sarah J. Elliott, a deaconess of the Episcopal church, who has spent seven years among the Mormons.

Emma Ammon in Jail.

Emma Ammon, the girl who was held in $100 bail by Justice Moffet Saturday on a charge of theft, was unable to procure the amount and was taken to Elizabeth by Constable Weaver. If she pleads guilty to the charge, she will be sentenced Wednesday, otherwise she will not be tried until January.

Methodists Raise $1,700.

In response to an appeal from the finance committee, the sum of $1,700 was contributed by the congregation of the First M. E. church yesterday to clear off a floating debt. The amounts contributed ranged from 25 cents to $250, and the committee is greatly pleased at the result.

FROM COLONIAL STOCK.

B. D. F. Randolph, Who Died Yesterday, Was a Descendant of the Family Who Came Here in 1630.

Barzillai D. F. Randolph, aged 85 years, died last evening at his home at 132 Grove street. He had been ill less than a week. Death was due to old age and infirmities. Mr. Randolph was the son of David and Mary Fitz Randolph, who lived near South Plainfield. He was a descendant of the seventh generation from Edward and Elizabeth Blossom F. Randolph, who came to this country from England in 1630. He was born near South Plainfield, June 27th, 1815, and lived there till he was 17 years of age, attending the school at that place which was taught by Mrs. Patterson Boice. In 1832 he hired with A. D. Titsworth and learned the tailor business. He remained there three years after which he continued in that business for six years.

At the end of that time he purchased an 80-acre farm on lower Park avenue and for twenty-five years was a farmer. He then gave up farming and lived in retirement. His first marriage was on January 18th, 1837, when he married Rachel A. Laing, daughter of David and Mary Laing. One son, David L., was born to them. He died in 1881. His second marriage was on November 10th, 1842, to Elizabeth C. Dunham, of this city. By that marriage there were no children. The third marriage was to Margaret A. Coon, daughter of David and Harriet Cory Coon, of North Plainfield. She and one daughter, Elizabeth, survive him.

Mr. Randolph was a Christian, and a person of quiet taste. He loved God and his fellow man and was devoted to his home and family. He was of the Seventh-Day Baptist faith. Although quite infirm, he was able to get about up to within a few days of his death.

Announcement of the funeral will be given later.

To Enforce Judgment.

In the Municipal Court, New York city, on January 26th, of this year, Russell O. Howell obtained a judgment of $80.34 in an action on contract brought against David M. Kellogg, of Oak Tree. Papers have now been issued in Justice Warden's Court, Dunellen, returnable November 26th, at which time the plaintiff will endeavor to have the judgment sustained here so that he can get what is claimed. By the result of the first case the judgment is a foreign one. W. K. McClure represents the plaintiff.

Wouldn't Let Sweeney Appear.

The landlord and tenant case of Wm. Miles, Jr., against Alexander Stiglitz was adjourned in Justice Mattison's court this morning to Monday, November 26th. The defendant appeared in court accompanied by William Sweeney, who represented W. K. McClure. The plaintiff did not appear and by consent the case was adjourned. Justice Mattison refused to allow Mr. Sweeney to appear for the defendant on the grounds that he is a minor and is not recognized by the court.

A Painful Injury.

Louis Bonnie, of 40 Craig place, who is employed by The Pond Tool and Machine Company, met with a very painful accident this morning while chipping a large face plate for a thirty-two inch lathe. It rolled over and fell on his foot. He was at once taken to the hospital where Dr. Hedges dressed the injured limb, after which the young man was taken to his home. He is doing as well as can be expected, but suffering considerable pain.

Captured Young Fox.

While walking on the mountain back of Scotch Plains yesterday, Irving Marcley, of New street, discovered a small animal in a hollow tree. The animal was captured without any trouble and proved to be a young fox. Mr. Marcley took it home and the little fellow is already making himself acquainted with the house.

To be Interred at Woodbridge.

The death of Margaret Hughes occurred last evening. The funeral services will be held from the residence of her brother-in-law, John Hogan, Hillside avenue, below the golf grounds, tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock and from St. Francis' church, Metuchen, at 10 o'clock. Interment at Woodbridge.

To Hear About Korea.

The regular monthly meeting of the Boys' Mission Band of the Crescent Avenue church will be held in the large parlor of the church tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. The subject will be "Korea," and the members are asked to bring items of interest.

Death of Mrs. Thompson.

The death of Mrs. Sarah Thompson, wife of David S. Thompson, occurred in New York Friday last. The funeral services will be held from the Filmore Baptist church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Cake Sale.

The Advance Circle of King's Daughters will hold a cake and roll sale next Saturday morning from 8 to 12 o'clock at the store of J. A. Smith & Bro., West Front street.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Pickled Sliced Tomatoes and Onions.

Wash and cut half peck green tomatoes in slices; also six large white onions; put both in a preserving kettle, sprinkle over half cupful salt and let them stand 24 hours, then drain them in a sieve; return the vegetables to a kettle; add half ounce ground pepper, two ounces mustard seed, one teaspoonful ground cloves, two tablespoonfuls celery seed, half cupful sugar and sufficient vinegar to cover all. Boil five minutes, counting from the time the boiling begins, and keep the kettle covered; remove and put in jars; close and set aside. — Ledger Monthly.

The New Skirt.

The general tendency this autumn is toward skirts that are snug about the hips and flare freely at the feet. Those for golf make no exception to the rule. Circular models prevail. The only variations are found in the gored front, and the double in place of the single inverted plait.—Detroit Free Press.

Democratic Primaries.

The Democratic City Executive Committee of Plainfield hereby gives notice that the ward primaries for the nomination of ward officers and the election of delegates to the City Convention, will be held in the various wards at 8 p. m.,

Wednesday, Nov. 21, 1900.

The candidates to be nominated are one Councilman, one Justice of the Peace and one Constable in each ward. Delegates to the City Convention, which will be held Friday evening, November 23, 1900, at 8 p. m., in the rooms of the Stillman Association, West Front street, will be chosen on the basis of one delegate to every twenty-five votes or a fraction thereof cast for the Democratic candidates in the last city election.

The places for holding primaries and the number of delegates each ward is entitled to in the City Convention, is as follows:

First ward—E. Hoagland's office.
North ward—Pryant School building... 6 del.
Second ward—Pryant School building... 6 del.
Third ward—Hoagland School building..... 5 del.
Fourth ward—Stillman Association rooms, West Front street.....12 del.

At the City Convention a Mayor, City Collector and a member of the Board of Education will be nominated.

At the ward primaries members of the City Executive Committee will also be elected, one from each election district in the ward.

M. R. FLYNN,
Chairman.

DELEGATES OF THREE WARDS FOR JENKINS

Second Ward Requested Its Delegates to Support Candidacy of Dr. Murray.

G. O. P. PRIMARIES HELD.

ONLY EXCITEMENT WAS IN THE SECOND WARD.

Councilman Dumont Did Not Approve of City Judge Runyon's Action in Sending in Huge Batch of Nominations.

Delegates favoring Dr. Olin L. Jenkins for the mayoralty nomination were elected last evening at the Republican primaries in the First, Third and Fourth wards. There was no opposition against any of them. The Second ward primary came out openly to endorse the candidacy of Dr. W. H. Murray and requested its delegation to use its best endeavors to secure his nomination. Despite the multitude of candidates in the Second ward, there was no contest.

As far as the factional differences in the First ward are concerned, they seem to be over for the present. Last evening's primary there was exceedingly harmonious. There were 146 ballots cast. The primary officers were D. S. Dunavan, judge; Thomas U. Smith, inspector; W. H. Thorn, clerk. The only thing done at the business meeting was to empower the delegation to fill vacancies. Councilman J. F. Buckle acted as chairman and Charles S. Sminck as secretary.

So many names as were filed for the Second ward primary aroused some interest in that ward. There was only one ticket in the field, however, and a few scratches were recorded. The primary officers were J. Hervey Doane, judge, Armstrong Mulford, inspector, and William Spangenberg, clerk. The business session proved somewhat exciting. Thomas A. Cuming was made chairman and Howard C. Tracy secretary. Councilman J. B. Dumont, chairman of the city committee, had something to say regarding the profusion of names presented. They were sent into the ward clerk that morning, he said, by City Judge William N. Runyon. They were filed, he declared, without the consent of the men themselves or without any intention of voting for them but rather as a joke. He did not believe that such acts advanced the course of good government but tended to make the primaries a farce.

There had been considerable questioning before the meeting as to how the delegates stood on the mayoralty question and the advisibility of requesting the delegation to support Dr. Murray was considered. On a motion by Dr. E. W. Hedges, the primary made the request of the delegation.

There were 64 ballots cast at the Second ward primary. The "regular" ticket was elected, but a few votes were scattered among a dozen of the other candidates.

Quietness prevailed at the Third ward primary. A rumor was current that a fight was to take place, but it wasn't true. Only 53 ballots were cast and they were all for the same ticket, the only one nominated. The primary officers were: J. S. Garrettson, judge; A. I. Littell, inspector, and George A. Rockfellow, clerk. A business meeting was held at which the delegates were empowered to fill all vacancies. School Trustee Charles F. Abbott was chairman and J. W. Murray, Jr., secretary.

A big turnout was seen at the Fourth ward primary despite the the fact that only one ticket was nominated. There were 158 ballots cast. The primary officers were Clarence L. Murphy, judge, Frederick J. Huff, inspector, and Fred H. Firstbrook, clerk. A business meeting was held at which the delegation was empowered to fill all vacancies in its ranks. Clarence L. Murphy was chairman and Fred J. Huff secretary.

The four ward Councilmen were all renominated. Then there were the Justices of the Peace and Constables, delegates to the city convention and members of the city committee. The results of the various primaries were as follows:

First ward—For Councilman, Ralph I. Tolles. For justice of the peace, H. C. Croome. For constable, Stephen R. Hope. For nine delegates to the city convention, Harry Maxson, Arthur A. Freeman, L. L. Croom, Harry C VanEmburgh, H. S. Taylor, William Ulmer, James Hansen, Charles S. Sminck and William J. Douglass. For three members of city committee, J. F. Buckle, Horace G. Adams and Dr. O. L. Jenkins.

COUNTIES GAIN AND LOSE

SENATOR STOKES ON THE REAPPORTIONMENT OF STATE.

Will Introduce Bill For Assembly Representation—Five Members of the House to Be Distributed.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, November 20.—Senator Edward C. Stokes has been working on the matter of the proposed reapportionment of Assemblymen to the several counties of the State, under the census of 1900, with a view to introducing a bill at the next session of the Legislature.

Senator Stokes, in speaking of the matter, said:

"The constitution of the state limits the number of the assemblymen to 60, and requires that those 60 members shall be apportioned among the several counties, as nearly as may be, according to the number of their inhabitants at the session of the Legislature next after each census taken by the United States, provided that each county shall at all times be entitled to one member.

"The population of New Jersey, according to the census of 1900, is 1,883,669, or 31,394 persons to each member of the House of Assembly. Upon this basis of representation and in accordance with the constitutional requirements aforesaid, the following statement shows the population of each county, the number of Assemblymen to which it is entitled and the number of persons unrepresented under such apportionment:

Counties.	Population.	Assemblymen.	Unrepresented.
Atlantic	36,402	1	15,008
Bergen	78,441	2	15,653
Burlington	58,241	1	16,847
Camden	107,643	3	13 461
Cape May	13,201	1	None
Cumberland	51,193	1	19,799
Essex	359,053	11	13,719
Gloucester	31,905	1	511
Hudson	386,048	12	9,320
Hunterdon	34,507	1	3,113
Mercer	95,365	3	1,183
Middlesex	79,762	2	16,974
Monmouth	82,057	2	19,269
Morris	65,156	2	2,368
Ocean	19,747	1	None
Passaic	155,202	4	29,626
Salem	25,530	1	None
Somerset	32,948	1	1,556
Sussex	24,134	1	None
Union	99,353	3	5,171
Warren	37,731	1	6,387

"This leaves five members of the House of Assembly to be distributed. On the basis of unrepresented constituencies these five members would be allotted to Passaic, Cumberland, Monmouth, Middlesex and Burlington, in the order named.

"Under this distribution, Warren and Hunterdon each lose a member, while Hudson and Passaic each gain a member; the representation of the other counties remaining undisturbed."

GRIGGS TO ABANDON JERSEY

Retiring Attorney General Will Practice Law in New York, So It Is Reported.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New York, November 20.—Attorney General John W. Griggs, upon his retirement from President McKinley's Cabinet, will open a law office in New York city, following the examples of ex Speaker Reed and ex-Secretary Carlisle. He will also have an office in Washington, and will make a specialty of practice in the United States Supreme and Circuit Courts.

Mr. Griggs has had flattering offers from several noted New York law firms, and is considering the question of entering an established partnership, but is inclined rather to form a new law firm, of which he will be the head.

SUCCESSFUL SKIN-GRAFTING.

Difficult Operation Performed on a Little Girl.

A most difficult operation in skin-grafting has just been performed on the little daughter of Andrew Parsons, of Cottage place, who was terribly burned a few weeks ago. Dr. Browning was the attending physician and was assisted by City Nurse, Miss Delaney. Out of the twenty-nine pieces of skin placed on the afflicted parts all but two were successful. The child is now recovering nicely and will be able to be out in a short time. Skin-grafting is one of the most delicate operations known to the profession and the complete success of this one is a credit to those in charge.

Death of Mrs. Dunham.

Mrs. Bethune Dunham, aged 47 years, died Sunday evening at her home in Clinton avenue, after a long illness with bronchial trouble. She is survived by a husband and six children. The funeral services will be held from the late residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The interment will take place at Samptown.

In Honor of a Bride.

Miss Evelyn M. Lewis, of West Seventh street, informally entertained a number of her friends at her home this afternoon in honor of a bride of a few weeks.

LINCOLN NOW IN THE HANDS OF A RECEIVER

That is the Result of the Fight in the Realty Company That Owns the Town.

S. D. DRAKE WON HIS POINT.

HE SHOWS FIGURES TO JUSTIFY HIS ACTION IN COURT.

Claims That in Two Years He Was in Charge He Sold $28,000 Worth of Property—Since Then Only $2,000 Worth Sold.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Jersey City, Nov. 20.—Vice-Chancellor Pitney, in Chancery Chambers yesterday morning, appointed Lawyer James P. Northrop, who lives in Plainfield, receiver for the New Jersey Mutual Realty Company and instructed him to wind up the affairs of the concern with as much dispatch as possible. The application for receiver was made by minority stockholders, headed by Silas D. Drake, Mayor of Lincoln.

Mr. Drake alleges that the trouble which has come to the company has arisen out of the action of the directors in ousting him from the management of the concern eighteen months ago. There was a statement presented showing that in the two years he was manager of the company over $28,000 worth of property was sold, and that during the eighteen months John D. Voorhees has been president in his place, but $2,000 worth of land had been sold.

The directors of the company, who are all on the majority side in the Chancery fight, have been running the affairs of the company since Mr. Drake was deposed as president. They bitterly opposed the appointment of a receiver. Former Congressman Alvah Clark, who appeared for the directors, pleaded with the vice chancellor to permit the business to be continued under the management of the directors, under the supervision of the court.

Lawyer Craig A. Marsh opposed this, declaring that it would become the duty of the receiver to file bills in Chancery against the directors, who were accused of buying in property of the company for less than the price charged other persons, and of whom the accounting will be demanded.

Vice Chancellor Pitney talked of naming Senator Reed, of Somerset, receiver, but Mr. Marsh objecting, he named Mr. Northrop.

IN ROLE OF CONGRESSMAN.

Swindler Representing Himself as B. F. Howell, of Middlesex, Tried to Dupe Land Broker.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, Nov. 20.—Two men representing themselves as Congressman B. F. Howell and T. E. Schanck, cashier of the People's National Bank, attempted to swindle James Freeman, of Orange.

Detective Allen said last evening that the men called to see Freeman, who is a wealthy real estate dealer, and wanted to buy a house. Without seeing the property the man representing himself as the Congressman handed over the price, $500, saying as he did so that he had won it at a new gambling game, and offering to show Freeman how to play the game.

Howell left, and Freeman turned the cash over to the self-styled Schanck, and asked him to deposit it. His idea was that if the fellow tried to deposit the money he would be captured. No trace of the men has been had as yet.

New Draperies.

Every one admires rich deep colored draperies and hangings and the artistic eye can enjoy a feast of these good things at Woodhull & Martin's new carpet store "on the corner," where they carry a full line of very desirable goods in draperies, portieres, couch covers and table covers in the effective Turkish and Oriental designs made of velours, mercerized cotton and tapestry goods, suitable for cozy corners, Turkish and moorish rooms.

A Plainfield Bridemaid.

Miss Gertrude Andrews, of Central avenue, will be one of the bridemaids today at the wedding of Miss Katharine Schoonmaker, of Montclair, and Thomas Russell, of New York, which takes place at the home of the bride.

Camp Hand to be Inspected.

The annual inspection of John Hand Camp, No. 28, S. of V., will take place this evening and a full attendance of the members is requested. Fred Morse, of Elizabeth, will be the inspector.

MARTIN ACT SUSTAINED.

IMPORTANT DECISION BY THE COURT OF ERRORS AND APPEALS.

Constitutionality of the Law Established in an Ejectment Suit Brought Under It.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Nov. 20.—The Court of Errors yesterday, in the ejectment suit of William J. Flock et al. against Joseph A. Smith, sustained the constitutionality of the Martin act regulating the sale of property for taxes. This is the first time the Martin act has been passed upon by the Court of Errors, although it was held constitutional by the Supreme Court some years ago in an opinion by Chief Justice Depue.

Yesterday's decision was an unanimous affirmance of the decision below in the case of Flock against Smith, but Justice Dixon insisted that the case was not before the court in such shape as to make necessary any expression as to the constitutionality of the Martin act. Justice Dixon was alone in this view.

The Martin tax act is essentially different from previous acts in that it permits the sale of property for taxes and the passing of absolute title to the purchaser after notice to the original owner and mortgages, and a failure on their part to redeem the property with interest and costs within six months.

THE PASSION PLAY.

An Interesting Lecture on the Great Drama Delivered by Rev. Floyd Appleton Before a Large Audience.

An audience that completely filled the chapel at the Crescent Avenue church gathered last evening to enjoy the illustrated lecture on the Passion Play at Oberammagau, as witnessed this year by Rev. Floyd Appleton, curate of Grace P. E. church. Mr. Appleton is a very entertaining talker and his description of this wonderful performance, aided by the pictures of it, proved a delight to all and very instructive.

A feature of the affair was the musical part of the programme. Before the lecture was commenced, Miss Isabelle Schroeder sang "The Ressurection," and another selection for an encore. She was accompanied by Miss Tiny Hyatt on the violin, and Miss Emma Hyatt on the piano. Another number was the rendition of the "Hosanna Chorus" by several young men and women from the Groce P. E. church choir. Mrs. Freeman presided at the piano. This chorus is rendered at Oberammagau just before the Passion Play is started.

The lecture was given for the benefit of the Woman's Exchange and that worthy organization will realize a handsome sum to assist them in carrying on their work.

HIS TWENTY-FIFTH CAPTURE

Dennis Kane Made Another Heroic Capture of a Runaway Last Evening.

After being dragged for twenty feet, Dennis Kane captured his twenty-fifth runaway early last evening. It was a team attached to a hay wagon belonging to James Wheeler, of West Front street. The horses had been left standing in front of Anderson's hotel at Scotch Plains and becoming frightened, dashed down Front street to this city. There were several narrow escapes from collisions, the worst being in front of the Y. M. C. A., when two ladies in a carriage just cleared the frightened animals. It was at this juncture that Denny appeared and in his usual inimitable style brought the horses to a stop. He took them to the corner of Front and Somerset streets where they were claimed by an employee of Wheeler. There was only a slight damage.

Will Save Fuel at Hospital.

The Schlicht process has just been installed in Muhlenberg Hospital through the generosity of C. Maynard Evans, of East Front street, who is the agent for the Schlicht Combustion Process Company. By this process there is a guaranteed saving in fuel, no coal gas, more heat and a more even temperature. Mr. Evans has been very successful in installing this system in this city and it will be a great benefit to the hospital.

New Bridge Will be Popular.

The popularity of the new Madison avenue-Duer street bridge is already evidenced. The people can scarcely wait for the completion of the work, and insist on going that way when passing between the city and the borough.

An Excellent Likeness.

An excellent picture of Dr. H. K. Carrell, of Westervelt avenue, appeared in yesterday's New York Herald. Dr. Carroll was a prominent figure at a M. E. church conference held in New York last week.

MARTINE'S ORATORY HEARD IN CITY COURT.

He Appeared to Defend Cornick Caufield, Accused by Health Inspector Addis.

SCORED OFFICIOUS ACTION.

DECLARED BOARD OF HEALTH HAMPERED PROGRESS OF THE CITY.

Made an Eloquent Plea for the Accused, as Against the Learned Corporation Counsel—Sentence was Suspended.

James E. Martine, the political "sage of Cedar Brook Farm," this morning appeared in City Court as counsel for Cornick Caufield, the well-known builder, who was arrested several days ago, charged with violating one of the ordinances of the Board of Health.

The alleged violation consisted of constructing a cesspool on Mr. Martine's property without securing a permit from the Health Board. Some time previous Mr. Martine filed his plans with the Building Inspector. He supposed that further permits were unnecessary. It was one of Caufield's men who constructed the cesspool, which from time to time was inspected by Health Inspector Addis. The latter neglected to notify either Mr. Martine or Builder Caufield that a violation of the law would exist without a permit.

About the time of the completion of the cesspool Inspector Addis began to assert his authority with the result that Caufield's arrest followed.

Farmer Martine was incensed at the proceeding. He characterized the movement as one of officiousness on the part of the Health Inspector, whom he considered had overstepped his authority. In justice to his good sense of manhood and fairness Mr. Martine determined to stand by Caufield.

This morning the "Farmer Orator" appeared in police court armed with plenty of choice language. What legal phraseology he lacked he made up of good sound logic. Pitted against the champion of W. J. Bryan was the learned city counsel, Craig A. Marsh—considered the most astute legal adviser and counselor of Union county. But Jim was equal to the emergency. In clear, concise and forceful language he defended his client in a manner that would do credit to the Hon. Rufus Choate. Mr. Martine's eloquence not only electrified City Judge Runyon, but also caused the dignified and learned city counsel to appear astonished.

For ten minutes Mr. Martine pleaded the cause of his client most eloquently. He did not forget, however, to pay his compliments to the Board of Health for what he considered an attempt to unnecessarily annoy reputable citizens in the peaceful pursuit of their calling and in jeopardizing the liberty of honest mechanics by causing their arrest at unseemly hours.

Mr. Martine's presentation of his clients side of the case was well done. However, the law was on the side of the prosecution and Caufield was found guilty. The violation was of so technical a nature, though, that the court decided to suspend sentence. Mr. Martine then shook hands with Judge Runyon and also with Mr. Marsh, who complimented him on the clever and able manner in which he defended his client.

Rutgers Senior Elect Officers.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, Nov. 20.—The election of officers and class day officers of the senior class of Rutgers College was held yesterday afternoon in President Austin Scott's lecture room. The election for class officers resulted as follows: President, Edward F. Johnson, of Albany, N. Y.; vice president, C. C. Cain, of Metuchen; secretary, J. S. Sylvester, of New Brunswick; treasurer, G. W. Colick, of Somerville; Self-Government Board, H. G. Eddy, of Bayonne; O. D. Mann, of Chicago; V. G. Feind, of Newark, and W. P. Merchantville.

Democratic Primaries.

Democratic primaries will be held in the four wards of the city tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Ward candidates and delegates to the city convention, to be held Friday evening, will be chosen at the primaries. The place of holding the primaries can be found in the official call printed in another part of The Daily Press.

Harvest Home Next Week.

The annual harvest home will be held at Muhlenberg Hospital next week Tuesday afternoon, November 27th, from 3 to 5 o'clock, and not this afternoon as stated in yesterday's Press.

PAYING THE CITY TAXES.

CITY COLLECTOR SMITH KEPT VERY BUSY YESTERDAY AND TODAY.

Half of the $208,000 Due From the Taxpayers Had Been Received Up Till Last Evening.

City Collector Frank H. Smith is the busiest man in Plainfield today. The taxpayers of the city are flocking to his office in the Coward building on Park avenue to settle their indebtedness to the city before the account is placed on the delinquent list. So much money was turned in at the Collector's office yesterday that it was deemed necessary to keep Roundsman Mattox on duty there all day. Today the funds are coming in faster than ever and the Collector hardly has time to breathe.

There is some $208,000 on the tax budget to be collected this year. Of that amount, half had been collected up to last evening. Half of the remainder is expected to come in today so that only from $50,000 to $60,000 will go on the delinquent tax list. That amount will undoubtedly be considerably reduced before the list is published.

Four times yesterday Collector Smith had such a stock of funds on hand that he made a trip to the bank to deposit it. His total collections yesterday amounted to $25 673.95. That made a total of $86,000 which has been collected this month.

This morning a steady string of taxpayers came to the office as soon as it was opened at eight o'clock. They have continued ever since. Last night the Collector and his assistants worked until ten o'clock. Tonight there is no telling when they will finish. They will simply stay there until everything is in. A policeman will remain on guard.

TROLLEY JUMPED TRACK.

Returning From Elizabeth to Westfield With Special Party—Motorman Wallace Hurt.

While running at a high rate of speed at 12:30 this morning car No. 6, of the Westfield and Elizabeth line, jumped the track just east of the bridge over the Rahway river at Cranford. The car was a special, returning from Elizabeth with a Westfield theatre party. The jump was made where the two tracks enter the single track over the bridge.

The car ran diagonally across the street and struck one of the slanting bridge girders, climbing half way up before the momentum was spent. Motorman George Wallace, of this city, was thrown down and badly cut by the glass from the broken vestibule. The passengers were also thrown about, but with the exception of a few who were struck by flying glass, no one was injured. Wallace was taken to Westfield, where he was attended by Dr. Sinclair. The car was badly damaged about the front and trucks. It was after 3 o'clock this morning before the Plainfield wrecking crew brought it to this city.

Dramatics in St. Mary's Hall.

Next Thursday evening at 8 p. m., in the school hall connected with St. Mary's church, the members of the Dramatic Society will present two farces. They have planned an enjoyable evening and for the past month or more have worked diligently to make it a success. They promise to present the fastest fun yet produced by local talent. The casts contain many familiar names as Messrs. Cashin, Doyle, Carty, O'Keefe Brothers and Ward, and among the ladies the Misses Flannagan, Gannon and Murphy.

Gas for Bound Brook.

F. M. Tait, the superintendent of Somerset Lighting Company, has been in Bound Brook to formulate plans for laying gas pipes in the streets of Bound Brook. He will begin work at once, and hopes the weather will permit him to have gas there by the first of January next, which is only some six weeks distant. Gas will be brought there in a high-pressure pipe and discharged into a receiver, whence it will be distributed through pipes under a low pressure.

Drake Left Suddenly.

H. C. Drake, who has been conducting a bicycle shop in the West End, has left suddenly for the south to the regret of a large number of interested parties. When last heard from he was at Norfolk, Va., but is traveling through the Southern States.

A Surprise Party.

A surprise party was given to William Davie, of Jackson avenue, last evening by about forty friends. Several hours were spent in playing games after which refreshments were served and the guests reluctantly left for their respective homes.

SOCIETY PEOPLE TO HAVE A NEW CLUB.

Home of the Defunct Union County Country Club Will Be Used By It.

STEPS TAKEN TO ORGANIZE.

MEETING OF SIXTY OF THE INTERESTED ONES HELD.

George A. Chapman Was Made Chairman—New Organization Will be Practically a Downtown Affair of the Hillside Club

Plainfield society is once more to take possession of the clubhouse of the erstwhile Union County Country Club on West Seventh street. A movement was started last evening looking toward the formation of a temporary organization which will occupy the clubhouse during the winter months, and may eventually become a permanent club. A meeting was held at the Casino and the plan outlined to some sixty prospective members who received the proposition with much favor.

Since the dissolution of the old Union County Country Club and the sale of its effects, the property has been controlled by former Mayor Charles J. Fisk and a few other of the men prominent in the club and its chief creditors. The Casino and clubhouse are in good condition and it seemed too bad to see them standing idle all winter. The success of the summer social season at the clubhouse of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club led some of the members of that organization to believe that a club, providing the usual winter pastimes, might be successfully conducted on the same social lines.

It was thought too late in the season to start the formation of a permanent club so a call was issued to a hundred and twenty-five men, prominent in the Hillside Club and local society circles, asking them to meet last evening at the Casino to consider the plan. Sixty were present. George A. Chapman was made chairman and William C. Kinney, who represents the trustees of the old club property, acted as secretary.

It is planned to have a temporary organization with a governing committee to take charge of the clubhouse during the occupation by the club. It will be conducted after the manner of all the big social clubs which are supported by the society people of other cities. There will be bowling, billiards and pool in the basement. It is expected that Steward Ivamy, of the Hillside Club, will be installed there during the winter months, and the luncheons and suppers, which were so popular at the clubhouse on the hill, will be continued there during the winter. The club will give occasional dances, while members will undoubtedly give private affairs. There will be "ladies' nights," when the wives, sisters and friends of the members will be specially entertained.

According to the plans of the committee, which has taken the initiative in the matter, a hundred members are required to carry it on successfully. The dues will be $15 from the present time until spring when this temporary arrangement will end. Each member will have the right to designate a lady of his household, wife, daughter, mother or sister, as an associate-member without further charge. Other associate-members may be elected from his household, the charge for each being $3. No one can join the club who is less than sixteen years of age. It will not be a "stag" organization like the old Country Club, but will be conducted on the same lines as the old Hillside Club, including men and women, young and old, of Plainfield society.

Another meeting will be held in the near future when plans for the club will be completed. A committee will be appointnd by the chairman to secure further subscriptions, and there seems no doubt but that the required hundred will be secured without any trouble.

HOWELL AT WASHINGTON.

New Jersey Congressman Ready for Coming Session.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Washington, Nov. 20.—Representative Howell is the first of the New Jersey delegation in the House to come here and secure rooms for himself and family for the coming session. He will make his home during the session at the Hotel Normandie.

Mr. Howell tells with pardonable pride that whereas he was elected two years ago by only 700 majority, he rolled up a majority of over 10,000 at the recent election, which he considers a pretty good showing in a State the Democrats so persistently claimed as "doubtful."

JOTTINGS OF THE DAY

ENTERPRISINGLY GATHERED AND CONCISELY TOLD BY REPORTERS.

Newsy Notes of More or Less Importance Bunched Together for Reference by Press Readers.

—DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the best liver pills ever made. Easy to take and never gripe. L. W. Randolph.

—The third of the series of Sunday-school institutes will be held at Hope Memorial chapel Tuesday evening, December 4th.

—There is no pleasure in life if you dread going to the table to eat and can't rest at night on account of indigestion. Henry Williams, of Boonville, Ind., says he suffered that way for years, till he commenced the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, and adds, "Now I can eat anything I like and all I want and sleep soundly every night." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest what you eat. L. W. Randolph.

LITERARY

For variety and interest the December number of The Smart Set ranks all previous issues of that smart magazine. It is not too much to say that the novelette of the number, "Her Guard of Honor," by Miriam Michelson, is the strongest short story that has been published in this country in recent years. It cannot be read without profound emotion. The leading characters are an actress and her son. The child, whom she worships passionately, constitutes himself her guard of honor, and finds his task difficult.

Trust Those Who Have Tried.

I suffered from catarrh of the worst kind and never hoped for cure, but Ely's Cream Balm seems to do even that.—Oscar Ostrom, 45 Warren Ave., Chicago, Ill.

I suffered from catarrh; it got so bad I could not work; I used Ely's Cream Balm and am entirely well. —A. C. Clark, 341 Shawmut Ave., Boston, Mass.

The Balm does not irritate or cause sneezing. Sold by druggists at 50 cts. or mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., New York.

—W. T. Kirk has the contract to erect a new roof on the electric light station.

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches. They make pure blood and build up your health. Only 25c. Money back if not cured. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

A bevy of forty or fifty exceptionally pretty young women have been asked to "come without their hats" and assist in receiving at the large reception given at Delmonico's, New York, Saturday, Dec. 1, inaugurating the gaiety of the northern and southern set connected with the Wednesday Cotillion. One of these girls is Miss Katharine Reinhart, of Netherwood.

—If you have ever seen a child in the agony of croup you can realize how grateful mothers are for One Minute Cough Cure which gives relief as soon as it is administered. It quickly cures coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles. L. W. Randolph.

George F. Schoonmaker, of this city, was registered among the guests at the Hotel Grenoble, New York, last week.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern which is not afraid to be generous. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles and have the satisfaction of knowing it has cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, LaGrippe and all Throat, Chest and Lung diseases are surely cured by it. Call on L. W. Randolph, Druggist, and get a free trail bottle. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle gauranteed.

Miss Georgie Clark, of Roselle, has been visiting Plainfield friends for several days.

G. Elston Lowerie, formerly of Dunellen, has been spending several days with Plainfield friends.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

PARTICULAR MENTION

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Residents and Visitors who Go and Come in Society and Business.

Miss Mattie Merrill, of Newark, spent Sunday in Plainfield with friends.

Mayor Rockfellow, of Park avenue, is somewhat from a severe attack of rheumatism.

Nat. Samuels, of West Fourth street, has returned home from a visit with New York friends.

Charles Conover, of Elmwood place, entertained his father from High Bridge over Sunday.

Edward Mulford, of East Front street, has secured a position at Woodhull & Martin's store.

Wallace Serrell, of Chicago, who has been visiting relatives in Plainfield, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Ward, of Fairview avenue, have been entertaining company from out of town.

Miss Tillie Blankstein, of New York, has returned from a visit with her sister, Mrs. Silverstein, of Church street.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Roeder's two children, of West Fourth street, have recovered from a recent illness.

Mr. Goldstein, of New York, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Hinan, of Mountain avenue, has returned home.

Miss Minnie Kruger, of Philadelphia, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Schloss, of West Front street.

Miss Adelaide Schwarz, of Newark, has returned home after a visit with Miss Nettie Leichtentritt, of Central avenue.

Fred Ross, of Park avenue, still continues to improve from a severe illness, and he hopes to be able to go out in a short time.

Miss Ella Conover, a trained nurse, who has been assisting at the hospital for several weeks past, has been called outside on a private case.

H. Reeve Stockton, of West Eighth street, is steadily improving from an operation for appendicitis and expects to leave the hospital soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldron, of Somerville, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Morris Abrams, of West Front street, have returned home.

George Morrison, of Plainfield avenue, entertained a few of his girl and boy friends at his home last evening. The young people played games and had a good time in general.

Great Luck Of An Editor

"For two years all efforts to cure Eczema in the palms of my hands failed", writes Editor H. N. Lester, of Syracuse, Kan., "then I was wholly cured by Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's the world's best for Eruptions, Sores and all skin diseases. Only 25 cents at L. W. Randolph's.

—Iona Council, Degree of Pocohontas, will hold an important meeting tomorrow evening.

—Many people worry because they believe they have heart disease. The chances are that their hearts are all right but their stomachs are unable to digest food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and prevents the formation of gas which makes the stomach press against the heart. It will cure every form of indigestion. L. W. Randolph.

Mrs. Elizabeth Parse, of Grove street, expects to attend the National W. C. T. U. convention in Washington the first of December. From there she will probably go to Knoxville, Tenn., where she will visit Mr. and Mrs. John Honeyman.

Spread Like Wild Fire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, rundown man or woman. Price 50 cents. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

—There will be a regular communication of Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M., this evening.

—Both makers and circulators of counterfeits commit fraud. Honest men will not deceive you into buying worthless counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The original is infallible for curing piles, sores, eczema and all skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

Miss Josie Fritz, of Somerset street, is the guest of relatives at Scranton, Pa.

M. Leichtentritt, of Central avenue, has returned from a visit with out-of-town friends.

Mrs. Harry Green, of Jackson avenue, has gone to Newburg-on-the-Hudson, where she will visit relatives.

I. H. BOEHM. 109-113 West Front Street.

THE CZAR'S ILLNESS.

Russians Praying For the Recovery of Their Ruler.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 20.—The highest religious authority has sent a telegraphic command to all churches to hold special prayers for the recovery of the emperor. All the churches in St. Petersburg, Moscow, Kharkow, Kherson and Odessa were already holding prayers when the order was issued.

The Novoe Vremya says: "The attention of the entire Russian people is riveted upon the telegraphic bulletins from Livadia. Fortunately the course of the czar's illness occasions no fear. His youth is his physician's best ally. Russians are touched by the expressions of foreign sympathy."

The Syjet, after remarking that "the normal course of the disease has hitherto been a favorable augury," says:

"The telegraph has given sincere expressions of foreign sympathy. Europe and the world comprehend the role of the czar better than ever before, acknowledging him as the first prince in the world and the guardian of peace."

YELLOW FEVER ABATING.

Many Cases Still In Havana—Among the Number Two Americans.

HAVANA, Nov. 20.—Only 56 cases of yellow fever are now under treatment. Among these are two Americans. The disease is abating rapidly in Havana, and it is hoped that by keeping out immigrants the city will soon be entirely rid of it.

The supporters of Senor Capote in his candidature for the presidency of the Cuban constitutional convention are evidently anxious to exculpate him from the charge that, as Cuban secretary of war, he delivered the Cuban army to the Americans without definite promises with respect to the future. They have issued a statement saying that what he did was the best thing that could have been done in the circumstances and that he acted in conjunction with Garcia, Gomez and Maso.

Powers and Howard Skip.

MIDDLESBORO, Ky., Nov. 20.—It is reported that John Powers and Berry Howard, under indictment for the assassination of William Goebel, have left the mountains, where they sought refuge from arrest. Powers was at Harlan and Howard in the mountains of Bell county, both places being 20 miles from any railroad. The men are said to have left two days ago, accompanied by several mountaineers, and to have struck through the mountains for West Virginia. The story is generally believed here, as Powers and Howard feared troops would be sent after them, but inquiry of men returning on the evening train from Pineville, which is the nearest point to the home of Howard, failed to confirm it.

New Time Schedule For Workmen.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 20.—The 2,700 employees of the Edward P. Allis company have begun to work 57 hours per week and will continue on this basis until May 18, 1901, when 54 hours will comprise a week's work. The men have been working ten hours per day. The new arrangement is the outcome of the settlement of the labor troubles last May in Chicago, Paterson, N. J., and Cleveland. In the future for every hour worked over 9½ per day the men will receive pay for 1½ hours' pay.

Drowned In the Black Sea.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The Daily Express publishes the following from Odessa: "A party of 38 Turks, wishing to leave Russia, secretly sailed at dead of night from Tschuruksu to cross the Black sea. A storm arose, and the boat filled. First the baggage was thrown overboard. Then the children and finally the women were committed to the sea, but this did not prevent the vessel from foundering, and all perished save one lad, who clung to the mast and was washed ashore."

Buffalo Bill's Men Dying.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Nov. 20.—Four circus men have died since the Buffalo Bill Wild West show reached winter quarters here ten days ago. All had pneumonia, contracted while on the way from the south to the north, but the direct cause of death in each instance was a kidney trouble superinduced by the vibration of the circus cars on the railroads, the outfit having traveled 11,000 miles in the season.

Battleship Kentucky Ordered to Smyrna.

AMERICAN CLAIMS TO BE PRESSED.

Turkish Government Owes Uncle Sam About $100,000 For the Destruction of Missionary Property and Has Proved a Poor Paymaster.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The first class battleship Kentucky, now in Mediterranean waters, has been ordered to touch at Smyrna, Turkey, on her way to the Philippines. The Kentucky has been in Mediterranean waters for some time, has made a stop at Algerian port and is now at Naples. She is going to Manila via the Suez canal route and is in command of Captain Colby M. Chester. The Kentucky's presence in Turkish waters will be coincident with renewed efforts on the part of the administration to collect from the Turkish government payment of the indemnity claimed by the United States for the destruction of missionary property in that country some years ago.

These claims have been pending for a long time. The payment of the indemnity was urged in turn by Ministers Angell and Straus, and Mr. Griscom, the American charge, now at Constantinople, has been persistent in his demands for a settlement, but thus far apparently without any definite assurance that the claims will be paid. The claims approximate in amount $100,000.

Smyrna lies at the head of the gulf of that name, has a large population and for centuries has been the most important center of trade in the Levant. The city lies out of the ordinary line of travel to the Suez canal.

Naval officers are proud of the splendid battleship Kentucky, which only recently has been launched. She has a displacement of 11,525 tons, an indicated horsepower of 10,000 and has 22 guns in her main battery. Much admiration has been expressed for her appearance at the places she has stopped, and the detour to Smyrna is said in official quarters to be for the purpose of showing her off.

Mayor Receives Threatening Letters.

PATERSON, N. J., Nov. 20.—Hundreds of threatening letters have been received by Mayor Hinchcliffe since the Jennie Bosschieter case. In them the writers threaten the mayor with all kinds of harm, and some of them hold him responsible for the fact that the perpetrators of the crime are still living. One was received, postmarked New York, which read: "We understand that the men who brought about the death of Jennie Bosschieter will escape the penalty of the law through influence. Now, I warn you if justice is not carried out in the matter we will organize a band of whitecaps and burn up your public buildings and punish your officials. This is no longer any affair concerning Paterson alone. It is now national, and its effect will be such." Mayor Hinchcliffe is very indignant over some of the letters and says that Paterson has the cleanest record from crime of any city of its size in the country.

Strange Finds In New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Laborers excavating to lower a sewer in the line of the new rapid transit tunnel at Center and Leonard streets have unearthed some curious finds within the past few days that carry back to a time at least 100 years past. The construction has been carried down to a depth of over 20 feet, where the men are now digging hip deep in water and thick black mud. The workmen began to toss out a few bull horns last Saturday. Then they came across the horns in greater quantities, and finally their picks and spades seemed to strike nothing but horns. The horns were black and crusted with mire and generally broken off and badly decayed. An old resident said that there was a slaughtering place in the neighborhood not less than 50 years ago, and the slaughtering men had probably used this spot as a burying place for the horns.

Death of an Unfortunate Inventor.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 20.—John G. Carter, formerly of Boston, the inventor of a process for making a substitute for rubber from cottonseed oil, died in the hospital yesterday morning after a brief illness. By profession Mr. Carter was a landscape and portrait painter. Several years ago he discovered his oil rubber process. He went to Boston to enlist capital in his invention. Thirty thousand dollars was invested in a plant near Greenwich park. Fire soon after destroyed it, but it was rebuilt, only to be greatly damaged by a storm. Again it was rebuilt and was on the eve of being started once more when death claimed its originator. The process was known only to Mr. Carter, and unless he left written instructions and directions for the continuance of the work it is probable the secret died with him.

Swazey Closely Followed.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 20.—Edward L. Swazey, who fled from Kansas City four months ago after obtaining a large sum of money from banks throughout the country by means of duplicate cattle mortgages, is being followed closely by detectives in South America. The local attorney for the Cattlemen's Protective association, which is prosecuting the search, stated that Swazey will be arrested and brought back here if he enters a country where the extradition laws do not interfere with his being taken. It appears that Swazey went direct to Montevideo from Kansas City.

Wild Man Only a Hungry Boy.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Nov. 20.—The alleged wild man who has been terrifying the people near Walton for several weeks and who made his hiding place in the woods has just been discovered to be a boy named Gann, who disappeared some time ago. He was finally compelled to come out of his hiding place for food.

Population of Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The population of the state of Pennsylvania as officially announced by the census bureau is 6,302,115 against 5,258,014 in 1890. This is an increase of 1,044,101, or 19.8 per cent. The population in 1880 was 4,282,891, an increase of 975,123, or 22.7 per cent, from 1880 to 1890.

Pig Iron Shipped to Germany.

FLORENCE, Ala., Nov. 20.—A shipment of 1,000 tons of pig iron was made here via Brunswick, Ga., to Bremen. This is the third shipment made in 60 days to a foreign port.

VERY MILD SENTENCE

Punishment of Chinese Leaders Only Illusory.

PRINCE TUAN BANISHED TO HIS HOME

The Edict Not as Severe as at First Reported, and the Foreign Envoys Cannot Accept Such Feeble Penalties.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Dr. Morrison, wiring to The Times from Peking Sunday, says:

"In communicating the punishment edict, dated Sian-fu, Nov. 13, to the foreign envoys Li Hung Chang submits it as the final punishment the court is able to inflict and repeats the stereotyped plea of all Chinese plenipotentiaries—namely, that the emperor threatens himself and Prince Ching with severe punishment if they fail to induce the representatives of the powers to accept the compromise.

"The mildness of the sentences excites ridicule and strengthens the ministers in their determination to demand the death penalty. The punishments are illusory. Prince Tuan is merely banished to his own home, and others undergo a merely nominal lowering of rank. Perpetual imprisonment means a life of honored retirement."

The Morning Post's Peking correspondent, wiring Saturday, says:

"The edict inflicting punishment is milder than the first reports suggested. Prince Tuan and Prince Chwang are only banished and not imprisoned. Duke Lan is merely dismissed. The foreign envoys cannot accept the edict owing to the inadequacy of the punishments.

"Count von Waldersee officially announces that he has stopped looting and restored peace in the province of Chi-li."

"The French consul here reports," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Daily News, "that severe persecutions of Catholic converts continues in the province of Kiang-si. Mr. Goodnow, United States consul, hears that the Protestants in the province of Che-kiang are similarly persecuted. The governors of both provinces are Mantchoos and violently antiforeign."

According to the Shanghai correspondent of The Times it is asserted on good authority in Tien-tsin that there are still some missionaries surviving at Tai-yuen-fu under the protection of the mandarins.

MINISTERS DISSATISFIED.

Punishment of Boxers Inadequate. German Troops Accused.

PEKING, Nov. 17, via Shanghai, Nov. 20.—The ministers are not satisfied with the punishment of Chinese princes and others responsible for the Boxer outrages. They say that while the punishment may appear severe in some cases it should be remembered that these were the men who were responsible for all the loss of life and countenanced all sorts of outrages.

There is still considerable complaint about the actions of the German soldiers in the neighborhood of Choo-chou, and the missionaries have now taken the matter up. Some of the charges are to the effect that the soldiers have outraged women and demanded money from the Chinese officials of villages. In reply to the complaint of the missionaries Count von Waldersee declared that he had stopped looting in the south and restored order.

Germany's Policy.

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—In the reichstag yesterday Count von Bulow, the imperial chancellor, made an important declaration in regard to Germany's policy in China. Germany, he said, was not waging a war of conquest; she had no desire to play the role of Providence on earth, and the Hohenzollerns would not tread in the path of the Bonapartes. She only sought atonement for Chinese misdeeds and a guarantee of reforms. Germany desired her share in what was to be won from China, but would not overreach any one and also would not let any one overreach her. Nor did Germany desire a partition of China, having nothing to gain by it. But she desired that the influence accruing to her in the present movement be preserved to her.

Troops Occupying the Tombs.

PARIS, Nov. 20.—Official advices from General Voyron, commander of the French troops in China, announce that international columns are occupying the tombs east and southwest of Peking. He reports a small engagement with the Boxers, in which they lost 300 killed, the foreign troops sustaining no casualties.

Wholesale Arrests In Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Four hundred arrests in 36 hours is the record of the Chicago police department since the drag net was thrown out on Saturday night. At daybreak this morning there was not an unoccupied cell in any station in Chicago. Among the men in custody are scores of old offenders. Pickpockets, highwaymen and burglars with numerous aliases and known police records were caught in the general round up.

Eight Years Without Rain.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Captain Carter of the schooner Volant, from Magdalena bay, lower California, reports that the first rain that has fallen at Magdalena in eight years fell while he was there. This place is one of the most arid in the world, being between the northern and southern rain belts. It has one of the best harbors on the Pacific coast and is a favorite place for target practice by American warships.

Condition of Senator Davis.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 20.—Whether the improvement noted in the condition of United States Senator Davis is other than superficial it is impossible to say. The continued intervals of delirium are deemed unfavorable to recovery. However, the fact that he continues to take and digest considerable food and tonics is considered much in his favor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Governor Roosevelt left Oyster Bay early this morning for Albany. He spent a quiet day here yesterday, riding in the morning and chopping down a tree in the afternoon.

MARRIED FOR LOVE.

Duke of Manchester Says That's Why He Wedded American Heiress.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The social sensation of the hour is the secret marriage of the Duke of Manchester to Miss Helena Zimmerman of Cincinnati.

According to The Daily Mail the marriage was the outcome of a long and romantic attachment, but it was only last July, to use the words of the duke himself, that they discovered they had been in love with each other all the time.

"Then the duke," says The Daily Mail, "seeing that many suitors were pressing their attentions upon Miss Zimmerman, claimed her for himself. The engagement was announced, but was denied by the relatives. Not being in a position to marry they decided to await awhile. A fortnight ago Mr. Zimmerman was expected to arrive in London, and they had decided to see him and to get his consent. He did not come, and therefore they agreed to marry without delay. They will sail for New York next Saturday.

"The duke wishes it to be known that he married for love. He has not asked and does not hope for a dowry with the lady. The couple will settle at Tanderagee."

How Papa Zimmerman Feels.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 20.—Eugene Zimmerman, vice president of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railway and a director in several other lines, was very much surprised on reading the press cablegrams announcing that he was the father-in-law of the Duke of Manchester. He stated that the press reports were all the information that he had regarding the matter and that he did not desire to talk about the marriage until he was further advised. He insisted, however, that there had been false reports about the Duke of Manchester, that the duke had never been engaged to any actresses, that he is not a spendthrift and has not been as notorious as reports would make him. Mr. Zimmerman said the fortune was dissipated before the present duke assumed his heritage. Mr. Zimmerman stated that he had received word that his daughter was on her way to America and that he would go to New York to await her arrival. He had only the kindest words to say of his daughter and of whatever she may have done.

MAY BE DEPORTED.

Dowie's Lacemakers May Not Be Allowed to Work In Zion.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20.—Samuel W. Packard of Chicago, counsel for Dr. J. Alexander Dowie of Zionist fame, has deposited $8,000 with the International Navigation company and thereby secured the release of the lacemakers who arrived here from England last week and who were ordered deported by the immigration commissioner from this port on the ground that they were violating the alien contract law. The release of the lacemakers, who, with their wives and children, number 25 persons, is only a temporary one, as their case is now before Secretary of the Treasury Gage at Washington on appeal. The lacemakers were brought here by Mr. Dowie for the purpose of establishing a lacemaking plant at Zion, the town founded by him in Illinois. After they were ordered deported the case was reopened, and the commissioner again decided against them. Then the matter was carried to Washington, and a decision is looked for the latter part of this week.

Samuel Stevenson, the manufacturer who sold out his lace factory at Nottingham, England, to Dr. Dowie, arrived in Philadelphia yesterday. He says that the installment of eight lace machines which have just arrived in New York are only the precursor of about 100 more that are to follow them. Manufacturers in England, he said, are now engaged in constructing the machines.

Negro churches in Chicago adopted resolutions protesting against the Colorado lynching and calling on the president to recommend legislation by congress on the subject.

White Fish After a Shower.

JOLIET, Ills., Nov. 20.—After showers a large number of small white fish were found in different parts of the city, and local scientists are at a loss to account for their appearance. From the fact that some of the fish were found on the roofs of the big buildings at the steel mills it is supposed that they must have dropped from the clouds.

New Pork Packing Plant.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Nov. 20.—A pork packing plant is to be built in Bellevue, a suburb of this city. Schenectady business men have subscribed the capital stock of $25,000. Over 50 men will be employed from the start. The concern will be ready for business in the spring.

Twitchell Pleads Guilty.

BUFFALO, Nov. 20.—In the criminal court Asa L. Twitchell of Springville, deputy state dairy commissioner, who was indicted for misappropriating funds, was arraigned and withdrew his former plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty. He will be sentenced Thursday.

Minnesota's Growth.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The population of Minnesota as officially announced by the census bureau is 1,751,394 against 1,301,826 in 1890. This is an increase of 449,568 since 1890, or 34.5 per cent.

ROOT IN CUBA.

War Secretary Pleased With What He Sees In the Island.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Nov. 20.—Secretary Root and General Wood yesterday morning inspected the Morro barracks and the garrison. Mr. Root expressed himself as very much pleased with the condition of the post and the appearance of the soldiers.

At noon the party visited the San Juan battlefield, and in the afternoon they rode over the new government highway. This thoroughfare, which is a work in which General Wood takes great pride, is probably one of the finest in the world. It was constructed at a cost of $20,000 per mile over a mountain range, from the summit of which there is a superb view of the valley, city and ocean. Mr.

SECRETARY OF WAR ROOT.

Root said he had never seen anything more impressive than the outlook.

Today the party will go by yacht to Daiquiri, where the United States troops first landed, and will ride overland to the city, following the route of the army.

Mr. Root says he finds the Cubans more tractable than he had expected, and he thinks they are satisfied with the American occupation and appreciate the efforts of the Americans to improve conditions in the island. He will return to the United States, he asserts, full of enthusiasm for a continuance of the improvements, particularly in education and sanitation. Santiago he considers in a better sanitary condition than any other Cuban city he has visited. The party will probably go to Guantanamo tonight.

KENTUCKY BANK WRECK.

The Shortage of Brown $191,500. How He Managed the Steal.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 20.—The experts who have been working with Receiver Tucker on the books of the German National bank at Newport place the shortage of Brown, the missing assistant cashier and individual bookkeeper, at $191,500. According to reports from those who were with Brown when he left last Tuesday night, he had less than $500 with him. Brown's salary was only $1,500 a year. Cases are now cited where he spent more than that amount in one day. His bond was for $10,000, and it is good as far as it goes.

United States District Attorney Hill will arrive from Paducah today, when, it is said, criminal proceedings will be begun. The federal detectives have certain persons under surveillance, and there are reports about arrests that will follow on the arrival of District Attorney Hill.

During the run on the German National bank at Newport last Saturday $200,000 was secured in Cincinnati to bridge over the trouble. This was returned, and Receiver Tucker had other moneys and papers also transferred to Cincinnati.

Brown's system required a wonderful memory. The experts say he carried in his head the figures that enabled him to call off correctly a lot of false entries in a way to throw the clerks who were doing the checking with him off the track.

Fell One Hundred Feet.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 20.—Leonard G. Nash of Bradford, Pa., who has been in Princeton since September preparing to enter the university in February, was instantly killed by falling 100 feet from the top of the Princeton water tower on Mercer heights. Nash, in company with Freshmen Moore and Brokaw, went out walking and upon reaching the tower climbed up the iron ladder, followed by Moore. The latter started to return when half way up, and Nash, who had reached the top, lost his balance and fell. His body struck Moore, whose head was quite badly bruised by the blow. Nash was 26 years old, and it is said that Judge North of Bradford, Pa., was providing him with funds to secure an education.

Afraid of Himself.

QUEENSTOWN, Nov. 20.—Ernest Henry Deering, a young American, appeared at a police office here yesterday with a loaded revolver, exclaiming that unless he were disarmed he would commit suicide. On being disarmed and taken into custody he said that he left New York, where his wife and children are still living, last August after embezzling $4,000 of the funds of his employer, Mr. Horace Caleb of New York, all of which he had squandered. The police are making inquiries as to the truth of his statement.

Dead, Yet Alive.

FAIRFIELD, Ia., Nov. 20.—Bennett Sellwood, who has been declared dead by a court in Ohio, refuses to admit the charge and has departed for his old home in that state very much alive and determined to secure his share of a large estate. He read in an Ohio paper that relatives had secured a decree to the effect that he was dead as a necessary preliminary to dividing an estate. He left home more than 40 years ago and has never since been back.

Injured by Falling Wall.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Six men were injured, two probably fatally, by the falling of the wall of a two story building in course of construction at 176 Forty-seventh street. The wall had been condemned by the city building inspector, and the men were engaged in tearing it down when it collapsed.

Russians Prepare For Winter.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 20.—Ice has started to move down the Neva, and the movable bridges here have been removed. Another indication of the approach of the rigors of winter is the opening of soup kitchens in Odessa.

WHITE HOUSE SHAKY

President's Home In Washington Deemed Unsafe.

AN ACCIDENT REVEALS WEAKNESS.

East Wing Overloaded—Increase of Clerical Forces and Files Apparently Too Heavy a Strain For Aged Structure.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—There is considerable anxiety at the White House as to the stability of the building.

An accident occurred there late Saturday night which has occasioned wide conjecture as to whether the old historic structure is in a general state of collapse.

Shortly after midnight Saturday there was a crash in the east room which startled everybody in the mansion, including the president and Mrs. McKinley, who had retired.

An investigation showed that the life sized portrait of Abraham Lincoln, which has for years occupied a position of honor on the east wall of the room along with life sized portraits of Martha Washington, George Washington and Thomas Jefferson, had fallen face downward upon the floor, carrying with it the hangings and part of the cornice from which it was suspended. All four of the pictures were hung before closed windows, being attached to the heavy cornice surmounting these windows.

In its descent the picture of Lincoln struck a sofa immediately underneath, and this broke the force of the fall. One corner of the heavy gold frame in which the portrait was mounted was parted and somewhat broken, but the canvas was uninjured.

The cause of the accident is not definitely known, but a new stairway to the president's office in the east wing of the building to replace the old one, which had been pronounced unsafe, has just been completed, and it is thought that the hammering upon the opposite side of the walls may have loosened the plastering and allowed the picture to fall, or it may have been partly due to the wire becoming thin as a result of long wear, causing it to break easily.

The general theory advanced is that there is some radical defect in the eastern, or business, wing of the mansion. During recent years much additional weight has been imposed on that part of the building by a greatly increased clerical force and the piling up of records and files, such as previously were destroyed or stored in other government buildings.

Within the past year or two several defects have been discovered in the business portion of the structure, and efforts have been made to remedy them as far as possible. A short time back the floor of the second story showed unmistakable signs of giving way. It was found that there was a depression in the floor of more than a foot, caused by weak and decayed timbers and overweight caused by crowding too large a force into the limited space next the main stairway leading to the cabinet room, and other office rooms gave way and had to be rebuilt.

A Pastor Charged With Crime.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 20.—A sensational murder mystery has developed at Wyoming, near here, and the principal figure in it is Rev. D. C. Stuart, a former pastor of the Wyoming Baptist church. The pastor's wife died suddenly two weeks ago at the home of her daughter in Plymouth. She had been married but three months and was ill only ten days. Her illness was not considered serious, and she died suddenly shortly after her husband had carried dinner to her bedside. An empty bottle having the label of "carbolic acid" was found near the bed, and suicide was suggested. Numerous suspicious circumstances have been brought to light, and the body was exhumed and an autopsy will be held. The reverend gentleman was asked to account for some money belonging to the church, which he failed to do, and he resigned his pastorate and left for Philadelphia. A warrant has been issued for the missing pastor, charging him with murder and abortion.

New York Horse Show.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—A few scores less than 1,000 horses and ponies will be on parade this week in Madison Square Garden before no one knows how many humans, a few of whom will look on with critical eyes for the equines only and more with a gaze wandering away from the arena to the promenade, the boxes and the tiers of seats. The exhibition began yesterday morning when the National Horse Show association threw open the doors of the Garden, of which it had taken possession for its sixteenth annual event, and inaugurated what the association believes will be the most successful affair in its history.

To Tunnel Gibraltar.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—A Parisian engineer has finished a plan by which the Spanish railroads terminating in Gibraltar can be connected, by means of a tunnel crossing under the strait of Gibraltar, with the railroad lines of Morocco, according to information received at the state department from United States Consul Monaghan at Chemnitz, Germany. Several parties interested in this novel scheme are now in Morocco trying to obtain permission to build a railroad in that place. Technically the plan is said to be a possibility, as it is merely a question of boring through rock.

An Important Anniversary.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Yesterday was the one hundredth anniversary of the meeting of the first congress which assembled in Washington after the capital of the republic was transferred to this city from Philadelphia. The centennial anniversary of the removal of the seat of government to Washington is to be elaborately celebrated Dec. 12.

Loom Fixers Ordered Out.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Nov. 20.—All the loom fixers in the Acushnet and Hathaway mills were called out on strike by the president of the national union in consequence of charges that the mill officials insist on crowding work on the men. It is alleged that the operatives have been asked to handle 100 draper looms instead of 80, as formerly.

Brighter For Australian Wheat Crop

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Nov. 20.—Mr. John Lionel Fegan, secretary for mines and agriculture, asserts that the recent downpour of rain has largely improved the prospects of the wheat crop.

Yellow Advice on Gambling.

So-called "yellow" journalism is supposed to find its best—or worst, some think—exemplification in the New York Evening Journal, but be that as it may it cannot be denied that the Evening Journal prints some of the most striking, forceful and convincing editorials to be found in any metropolitan paper. They strike out from the shoulder and reach the point with an editorial thwack that is easy for both learned and ignorant to understand. Recently a correspondent addressed a letter to The Journal editor asking him if it would be a good thing for a young man about to get married to invest some of his savings in Wall street speculation in the hope of increasing his funds. The Journal's reply is sound and convincing and is fit to be repeated in every medium encouraging honest thrift and square business methods. It follows:

We would not advise you to go into Wall street and speculate on margins any more than we should advise you to play with rattlesnakes, drink carbolic acid or eat ratsbane.

Of course your money is your own. You can throw it off the Brooklyn Bridge and see how big a hole it will make in the water, if you please. That would scarcely be more foolish and probably less injurious than to gamble it away.

No doubt some other men you know have made money from Wall street speculation; no doubt a great many more young men that you do not know have lost money in the same way. No doubt when you hear of a man that has won it seems the simplest and easiest way of all kinds to make money.

But even if you were certain to make a profit from speculation you have no business to use your money in that way, for two reasons:

In the first place, because no money is ever of any satisfaction or comfort to a man except which he has made by his own work. That is not sentiment nor theory, but a cold, hard fact. It is one of the beautiful things about the law of compensation. The money a man gets by gambling or speculating will buy just as much of all things except one, as the money a man makes by the labor of his hands. The one thing it will not buy is a man's self respect, his contentment with himself, and that is worth more than all the rest together.

If you want a tip worth more than all the tips on the stock market that will be given out in a year, here it is, free of charge:

Don't study the ticker on the stock market; study your job. In that way you will not only get ahead much faster than your speculating neighbor, but attract considerable attention from the rarity of your performance.

And here is another: The young man with his little savings in the savings bank, a style of living inside of his salary, a purpose in life, and some part of his attention fixed on his daily work, is far richer than any young man will make himself in Wall street this year. Make no mistake about that.

Making New Jersey History.

The Newark Sunday Call points out that President's McKinley's administration created considerable official havoc in New Jersey, and made a good deal of pertinent history, when the time comes for the State to get a history. It says that the election of Garret A. Hobart to the vice presidency was the beginning of a series of trespositions that kept the State agitated as well as interested. His election took him out of the active political life of his party. It was through him that Governor John W. Griggs was made Attorney General, necessitating his resignation, and the pressing into service of the President of the Senate as Acting Governor and giving the honor of "Mr. President" to Senator Kirm, of Mercer.

Then Senator Voorhees resigned as Senator from Union, and that necessitated Speaker Watkins acting as Governor. The resignation of Senator Voorhees gave Senator Cross a chance to come to the Senate a year before he expired. Through Attorney General Griggs, Senator Johnson, of Bergen, was made First Assistant Postmaster General, causing another Senatorial resignation, and the unexpected elevation of Leader Wakelee to the Senate. In four years New Jersey has had the distinction of having six Governors. In connection with those mentioned above, Senator Johnson was Acting Governor, when the real Governor was in Europe, Senator Johnson resigning before Governor Voorhees took a vacation, prerogative of the office fell on Benjamin F. Jones, but he never had occasion to use it.

Senator-elect Hudspeth, of Hudson county, said yesterday: "Every private corporation holding a franchise and using public streets and highways for its own profit should be taxed as the owner of a house and lot is taxed," which means that a bill taxing franchises will be introduced.

In order to bring the South African War to a close the British Government requires from Parliament $150,000,000 more, which will swell the total to about $500,0000,000 for wiping out the Boer republics.

In a new dress of type The News takes on an appearance of style and progress that is fitting. We congratulate Editor Runyon on this evidence of enterprise and prosperity.

In two weeks, dating from yesterday, the Fifty-sixth Congress will meet for its second session.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exacty News but Just as Interesting.

Although twelve years past the alloted age of mankind, Ethan Lanphear, of Central avenue, is still active in mind and physique, an evidence of which is the appearance of a book from his pen entitled "Scenes, Memories and Travels of Eighty-two Years." The book contains 247 pages and relates the doings of the author, together with several members of his family. The last chapters are devoted to a little wholesome advice and observations by Mr. Lanphear.

. . . . . .

The New York Press published a picture and a half column biography of William H. Miller, the well-known church organist, who was formerly connected with the First Presbyterian church in this city, in its Sunday issue. Mr. Miller is now organist and musical director of the Scotch Presbyterian church in New York, and Thursday of this week he will give his first organ recital in that church, which is located at the corner of Ninety-sixth street and Central Park West. The Press pays this compliment to Mr. Miller: "Mr. Miller having recently entered upon his choir work in his new position, is known famililiary as the 'new organist of the Scotch church.' Those who have heard Mr. Miller, either as organist or pianist, unanimously agree that he was born to a musical career, and that careful study and correct training enable him to express fully his native musical endowment. His testimonials from artists of the first rank are emphatic in their pronouncement of his refined and artistic musical sense. Rarely is such perfection of command of organ and piano invited in the same musician. His admirers are unable to tell which they enjoy most—his organ or piano playing."

DISPUTES RABY'S AGE.

King's Weekly of North Carolina Thinks He is But a Centenarian.

Much has been written about Noah Raby and his great age. Noah himself says he is 128 years old. The following clipping from King's Weekly, of Greenville, N. C., may be interesting in this cannection:

"It is now going the rounds of the press that Noah Raby, celebrated his 127th birthday in the almshouse at Piscataway, N. J., April 1st, claiming to have been born at Gates Court House, N. C., April 1st, 1772. Although North Carolina men hardly ever die this sounds a little fishy. Gates county was not formed until 1779. The statement so often attributed to Raby that he says he 'was born at Gates Court House' may be true and doubtless is and also carries with it conviction that he is mistaken in the day, as there must have been a Gates Court House when he was born, which could not have been the case in 1772. Raby is no doubt a centenarian but hardly plus twenty-seven years."

Gentlemen:—Our family realize so much from the use of GRAIN-O that I feel I must say a word to induce others to use it. If people are interested in their health and the welfare of their children they will use no other beverage. I have used them all but GRAIN-O I have found superior to any, for the reason that it is solid grain.

THANKSGIVING FURNITURE.

Our offering of Sideboards, China Closets, Dining Tables and Dining Chairs for the greatest feast day of the year, is worthy of your earnest attention. The styles and prices cannot be duplicated elsewhere. Have you seen the elegant dining room display in our east window and also in the basement. There has never been such a display in the city before

Sideboards.

Made of solid oak, plain and quartered, beautiful golden finish, lined drawer for silver, French bevel plate mirrors, side brackets, elegant carvings, with or without canopy tops, some with serpentine and some with swell fronts, 30 different styles which represent the best manufacturers in the country. Without doubt the handsomest as well as the cheapest line of sideboards ever shown under one roof. Some as low as 9.98 and so on up to 25.00, but those at 14.98, 15.98 and 18.75 are noteworthy.

Dining Room Tables.

In solid oak golden finish, size of tops 42x42 and 44x44, some with gloss finish and some rubbed and polished, extending to 6, 8 and 10 feet, the legs are heavy turned, some of which are fluted, some twisted and others spiral shaped, with plain and claw feet, the prices are 5.98, 6.75, 7.98, 8.48 and up to 12.98.

Dining Room Chairs

at 1.10, a nice high back chair, golden oak finish, cane seat and arm braces. At 1.25, a solid golden oak chair, very neat design, with cane seat and arm braces. At 1.35, a solid oak chair, golden finish, high back, new fan shape spindles, cane seat and arm braces. At 1.48, a very strong and durable chair, golden oak with cane seat, arm braces and fancy embossed back. At 1.98, about six different styles in golden oak, highly polished, box seat chairs with high back, arm braces, etc.

New China Closets.

Solid oak china closets, golden finish, with round ends, carved tops and adjustable shelves, at 12.98 instead of 15.00. Quarter sawed golden oak china closets with round ends, carved top and base, rope edge and French legs at 14.98 instead of 16.50

Lamps.

It would be hard to find another such gathering of high grade lamps such as we are exhibiting, and after all that may be said about gas and electric lights, the lamp still has its place in the home, the picturesque effect of its form and decoration gives a finish to the entire furnishings and the soft rich glow of the blended light gives a mellow refinement that brings the entire room into eye easing harmony. The place of the lamp in the furnishing scheme is most important. The variety of our offerings is too great to describe in detail, so come and judge for yourself. Suggestion of price ranges 75c and up to 13.98.

THEY SAY.

The Merchant Says:

Telephone service is a great promoter of business. It not only is an open door for new business, but increases the facility with which any business may be transacted.

The Railroad Man Says:

It keeps our many departments running in continuous harmony. It increases both our passenger and our freight service, and is a great convenience to our patrons.

The Broker Says:

It keeps me in touch with the market wherever I am; I buy and sell by wire, and by taking telephonic advantage of a turn in the market I have made thousands of dollars.

The Doctor Says:

Telephone service has increased my income to nearly double. Many persons will seek advice by telephone who would hesitate to ask a physician to make a call.

The Caterer Says:

Telephone service enables me to serve my patrons more speedily and with less effort. It minimizes possibility of loss from overstocking.

The Housekeeper Says:

Life without telephone service would be unbearable. It smooths all the rough places. How we ever got along without it, I do not know.

The Suburban Resident Says:

The knowledge that I can call up my house out of town from my office in the city, is a great comfort.

The College Man Says:

"I say, old chap, it's great. You can call up and get the latest news from the football game or the boat race, and every other old thing a fellow wants to know."

Everybody Says:

It is the greatest thing in the world—the greatest convenience of this or any other time. The greatest factor in business, social or domestic life; a service no one can afford to be without.

The Telephone Company Says:

We want your patronage on the basis of LOW RATES, PERFECT SERVICE.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Nov. 20—Greatly to the disappointment of a large number of interested ones the benefit concert for Clarence A. Roberts, which was to have been given in Music Hall, Plainfield, last evening, was again indefinitely postponed. It is not known whether the concert will be given later or not. The attendants at Music Hall last evening were unable to give any definite information in regard to the postponement.

A number of railroad men in this vicinity claim to have seen Amos Shallcross, the missing Philadelphia boy, in this vicinity for some time past. He is in the company, it is said, of a notorious hobo who hangs about towns along the Jersey Central and can be found at most any time by a few hours' search. He is no doubt using the boy for begging purposes.

From present appearances, the concert to be given in the Methodist church this evening, under the auspices of the Board of Education, will be well attended. The Rutgers College Glee Club has always been popular in this vicinity and this time promises to be no exception to the rule.

Summons have been issued by Justice Warden in the case of Howell against Kellog. The suit is to recover a judgment obtained by the plaintiff some time ago. The case will be heard next Monday.

The trustees of the Presbyterian church are preparing the parsonage in anticipation of the arrival of Rev. N. J. Sproull some time next week. He will deliver his first sermon on Sunday, December 2.

Rev. Mr. Osbun, of Chester, who preached in the Presbyterian church Sunday, was entertained for a few days by M. L. Rarick.

Mrs. Emily Apgar has returned home after several days' visit with her daughter, Mrs. H. L. Terry, of Westfield.

George Schenck expects to remove this week from his present residence on Jackson avenue to Charles Adams' house.

Miss Annie Campbell, of Martinsville, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Newton Apgar.

The Misses Jamison, of Raritan, were the guest of borough friends yesterday.

The regular meeting of W. G. Holton Council will be held this evening.

Mrs. Josephine Dunham entertained Westfield relatives Sunday.

Mrs. B. Sirisky is home from a visit with New York relatives.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, November 20.—John Donavan has resigned his position with A. F. Sampson and will leave in a few days for his old home in Connecticut.

The members of the Willing Workers connected with Holy Innocents' church are already making extensive preparations for the bazaar to be held in Friendship Hall, and a very interesting affair is promised.

Frank Houston, of Trenton, has returned home after an extended visit with relatives in town.

Joseph Meeker is home after a visit with Franklin Park friends.

Mrs. Bertha Moody is confined to her home by illness.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, November 20.—John Donaldson, of Westfield avenue, was arraigned before Judge Clark yesterday morning charged with cursing and beating his wife Sunday afternoon. The judge has had the marital troubles of Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson in his court before, and as Donaldson claimed when arrested Sunday that the charge was made for spite, the judge investigated the matter thoroughly before the trial, and when the evidence was presented told the couple that from the investigation he had made he had come to the conclusion that both were to blame in the matter, so he imposed the cost only which amounted to $5 upon the prisoner. During the afternoon Mrs. Donaldson appeared before the judge and wanted another warrant upon the old charge of disorderly. She said her husband had returned home after the trial and had been making life very unpleasant for her all day. The court thought that their marital woes had been aired in his court enough for one day, so told Mrs. Donaldson before he would issue another warrant for her husband's arrest he would have to have her evidence corroborated by some reliable witness. This seemed to end the trouble as Mrs. Donaldson did not return.

Little Miss Marion Johnston, of Westfield avenue, observed her fifth birthday anniversary in a very happy manner yesterday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock, by inviting a number of her little friends to a party. The pleasant little affair was of course overseen by Mrs. Johnston, but the little guests all said Miss Marion was a lovely little hostess and that they had had a real good time. The three hours was all too short a time for the many children's games which were played, and when the time came to bid adieu to their charming little hostess there was not one but what did it regretfully. Before leaving for their homes the children were served with cake, ice cream and candy. Miss Marion received a number of very pretty reminders of her fifth natal day.

Mrs. Brockway, who has been spending a week with her daughter, Mrs. Wm. A. Gere, has returned to her home in Brooklyn.

Rev. G. M. Shott has returned from New York, where he has been attending the Ministers' Weekly Conference meeting.

Miss Jennie Johnston led an interesting meeting of the Epworth League in the Methodist church last evening.

Mrs. John Boulston, a former resident of the village, but now of Jersey City, has been visiting friends in town.

Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company held their regular monthly meeting in their rooms last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Lee have been entertaining relatives from Raritan for a pleasant visit.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Westfield, Nov. 20—The police made a wholesale raid on the boys who congregate on the street corners Sunday, and as a result Herman Frowery, Wm. Hyslip, Frank Ricardo, Samuel Terry, George LaMatty and Joseph Deinero faced Justice of the Peace Toucey in the town court room last night. Officer C. P. Wilcox stated that he would not make a charge if the boys would promise to keep away from the corners and stop annoying ladies who passed, and as the boys promised they were allowed to go after the Justice had given them some excellent advice.

RUNYON WINS AGAIN.

Court of Errors Affirms Verdict Against C. R. R. of N. J.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Nov. 20th—The Court of Errors yesterday sustained the verdict of $1,000 damages obtained by Elmer Runyon, of Elizabeth, in the lower court from the Central Railroad of New Jersey. This case, in different aspects, has been before the Court for two or three years.

Runyon was ejected from a train at Jersey City, in the enforcement of a rule against passengers conducting a pony express business, because he had some packages in his possession.

The Court held that the company's custom in permitting the carrying of packages justified Runyon in assuming that he had a right to enter the car. Yesterday's opinion holds that under the indignities to which Runyon was subjected the damages allowed were not excessive.

Chancellor Magie and Vredenburgh dissented on the ground that the damages were too high. Justice Van Syckel and Hendrickson voted to reverse. There were nine votes to affirm.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL GETS $2,500.

Law as Passed Applied in Case of Change in Office.

According to the law passed by the last Legislature the salary of the Adjutant-General will be increased from $1,200 to $2,500 per year. The law as passed applied to the Adjutant-General, Quartermaster General and State Road Commissioner, but Attorney General Grey decided it to be unconstitutional, as applying to any increase in salary of persons then holding the offices.

The Attorney General's decision as appealed by State Road Commissioner H. I. Budd will shortly be argued before the Supreme Court.

With the change of incumbent in the Adjutant General's office the law applies in that case.

—The funeral services of the late Barzillai D. F. Randolph will be held from the home, 132 Grove street, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited.

—J. V. Smalley has rented the butcher shop, corner Somerset street and Linden avenue, and will open a first-class cheap cash meat market on Thursday of this week. He has employed L. A. Hummer to look after the market. Mr. Smalley is a wholesale meat dealer and guarantees to sell the best of meat at less money than is sold elsewhere.

GAGHANITE POLITICS

MEMBERS OF THE CLUB WILL BE ACTIVE IN MUNICIPAL CAMPAIGN.

Candidates Nominated for Officers After an Exciting Time Among the Members.

With their customary promptness in taking part in all public affairs, it was decided by a unanimous vote of the Gaghanites Friday evening that the association should have a ticket in the coming city election. This determination was arrived at only after the different issues had been carefully inquired into by the president and been reported by him openly at the meeting.

A platform was presented and although Howard Manning insisted that it wasn't the kind that he was familiar with in his carpentering days, those who expected to run for office agreed to its terms. One of the strongest points in favor of its adoption was the declaration that in case the Gaghanite ticket should be elected every member would be given a salaried office with six months vacation twice a year. Winzenreid declared that under no circumstances would he support the platform unless this was made to read that the friends and relatives of the members should be included in the deal also. He has a number of the latter in France, he said, all of whom have been imploring him to secure them just such a office. John was finally pacified on being informed that his relatives would be carefully considered and would be added to the list of city officials as soon as possible.

There were various other startling issues in the platform but the members prudently refrained from making them public. When the question arose as to who should be placed on the ticket, everyone clamored to be heard. Order was finally restored with great difficulty and the president then announced that he himself would head the list as nominee for Mayor. This was agreed to although there were some who maintained that Charles Hall was better fitted for the position. The latter was afterward pacified by receiving the appointment of Councilman-at-large. There is no doubt but what he will serve faithfully in that capacity although he is inclined to lean toward the West End. In quick succession Lew Dunavan was named as Councilman from the First ward, Aleck Martin in the Second and Tommy Woodcock in the Third.

When it came to the Fourth ward everyone was on his feet as the honor is too great to slip by unnoticed. The question bid fair to be left undecided when the name of Conroy was mentioned and instantly the hubbub subsided. Everyone recognized in him the right man in the right place and his name was put beneath that of the honored president. Conroy's fair mindedness and philanthrophy were important factors in securing the nomination for him and he will doubtless confirm this belief and make a record for himself when elected.

But all former disputes were outclassed when it came time for deciding who was to be justice of the peace. Jack Mehl insisted that he should have the office as he could already read the Latin labels on drug store bottles, and that was sufficent, in his mind, to practice law. Mark Hipp remarked that if he got it, he would set up an office on the little end of West Fourth street and perform the marriage ceremony for all the members free of charge. During the entire discussion Feiring had been seated in a corner, but he suddenly arose and declared that he should have it as he had agreed to turn all fines collected into the refresment fund of the association. That settled the dispute and Feiring received the nomination. He was then given the privilege of choosing his court constable, but when he selected Frank Hart he was jeered at. No one, the members said, was fitted for the place who gave such an exhibition with an extinguisher as Hart did recently and his named was dropped. Dave Adleman was also rejected in a like manner, and in desperation Feiring named Cliff Pierson

Some were in his favor and some were not. The dispute grew warmer and would have ended in trouble, but two wires became crossed, causing a ground in the light circuit and the meeting ended in a confused scrambling for the stairs.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness

"King of the Opium Ring," which will be seen at Music Hall on Friday night, has caused a sensation among theatre-goers, one scene particularly, that in the second act where a beautiful society girl is enticed into an underground opium joint of the Chinese, and suffers insult and indignities from the hands of a college educated Chinaman who has become enamored by her charms. This scene has no element to shock the most fastidious, and is fascinating and thrilling. Its moral climax is said to ring the heart chords of all witnesses, its thorough originality stamping it as a masterpiece of dramatic construction. The temptation of St. Anthony of old is brought vividly to mind, as the pagan character struggles between right and wrong, and he finally proves the great virtue of instilling Christ in teaching into the heathen soul by fasting himself in penance before his wooden idol, while the Venus-like model of flesh that he covets remains unpolluted by his amorous touch.

* * * * *

Whenever you see the name of Leon W. Washburn attached to the printing of a coming attraction you may be assured the coming entertainment is one worthy of best patronage, for this veteran caterer of amusements presents nothing but the best in the show business. The Washburn's Great Southern Minstrels, which will be seen at Music Hall next Monday evening, is no exception to this assertion. It is composed of some of the best talent in the country, who give an unexcelled entertainment of up-to-date minstrelsy and novelty, and all who attend may be assured of complete satisfaction. The company has been doing immense business wherever they have appeared, and the patrons here will undoubtedly fill the house to its capacity. A grand spectacular street parade will be seen at noon on the day of performance.

* * * *

A new rural play—new here, although it has been traveling the last two seasons with great success all over the country—entitled "Uncle Josh Spruceby," will be Manager Maze Edwards' Thanksgiving day offering at Music Hall. It is said to be the equal of the famous "Old Homestead," and will be presented by a competent company and fine scenery. For the accommodation of patrons reserved seats for either performance will be on sale at the box office beginning Thursday morning of this week.

Ants, Cockroaches, Bugs.

Mix, say, a 25c. box of "Rough on Rats" carefully with a pound or so of mashed boiled potatoes or with a loaf of finely crumbled day-ened bread, or two tin cups of fine powdered sugar, and place about their haunts, out of reach of children or pet animals. Even the hardier Black Cockroaches, Beetles, Wood or Water Bugs, in one or two applications will be completely annihilated. "Rough on Rats" is the only thing that will effectually and permanently annihilate Bed Bugs, and it stands unrivaled the world over for the prompt and effective extermination of Rats and Mice. 15 and 25 boxes at druggists.

New Crosswalks.

In connection with the macadamizing one great improvement will be appreciated by the people that is new crosswalks. For some time past it has been a question as to whether there have been any walks.

Tunnel Under Tracks.

The North avenue crossing to the underground tunnel beneath the railroad is about completed, and in a short time the work on the tunnel will be finished.

Hamburg. Die Auswanderung über Hamburg betrug im September 1900, 1899, 1898 und 1897 je 4298, 2751, 3047 und 3997 Personen, worunter 1167, 976, 712 beziehungsweise 973 Deutsche waren. Für die ersten neun Monate der betreffenden Jahre stellten sich die Ziffern auf 76,179, 48,997, 29,688 und 36,017 Personen beziehungsweise 9037, 7928, 6221 und 7124 Deutsche. Die meisten Auswanderer stellte im September 1900 Rußland, nämlich 1607. Nachdem kam Oesterreich-Ungarn mit 1243. Die meisten Auswanderer gingen nach den Ver. Staaten, nämlich 2869.—Die russische Regierung hat mit der „Hamburg-Amerika-Linie" einen Vertrag zum Transport von Truppen zwischen Odessa und dem fernen Osten geschlossen. Die „Batavia" fuhr kürzlich nach Wladiwostock ab, um von dort 2000 Mann nach Odessa zu überführen.

Finkenwärder. Der Finkenwärder Fischerkutter „H. F. 221" ist unweit des Borkumriffs während einer Gewitterböe untergegangen. Die drei Insassen ertranken.

Kuxhaven. Auf Antrag des Kapitäns wurde hierorts die aus elf Köpfen bestehende Mannschaft der britischen Bark „Iredale" verhaftet. Die Bark ging von Hamburg nach Melbourne in See, und während eines Sturmes in der Nordsee meuterte die Mannschaft.

Bremen. Der Norddeutsche Lloyd hat unter Umgehung der westfälischen Konkurrenz für seine Werkstätten über 1000 Tonnen Baueisen in den Ver. Staaten bestellt.

Bremerhaven. Der durch die Brandkatastrophe in Hoboken schwer beschädigte Lloyddampfer „Bremen" ist jüngst nach provisorischer Reparatur von Philadelphia mit 6000 Tonnen Kohlen glücklich in Bremerhaven angekommen.

Lübeck. An der äußersten Grenze des Israelsdorfer Waldes, dicht am Ufer der Trave, ist ein Aussichtsthurm zu Ehren des Seniors unseres Senates, Senators Dr. Behn, errichtet und jüngsthin eingeweiht worden.

Oldenburg.

Oberstein. Die elektrische Bahn, welche die beiden gewerbfleißigen birkenfeldischen Städte Oberstein und Idar mit einander verbindet, ist dem Verkehr übergeben worden.

Mecklenburg.

THE HEROINE OF TO-DAY.

She Is Self-Reliant, Ambitious to Learn, and Thoroughly Fitted to Be Man's True Companion.

The heroine of modern life and fiction is contrasted with the heroine of the century's beginning by Robert Grant, in the Woman's Home Companion. In the following passage Judge Grant leaves little doubt as to which of the two he prefers:

"Not only woman herself, but the universe, rejoices in the new heroine of real life and contemporary fiction—the self-reliant, incredulous, sphere-seeking, critical, yearning modern woman. Even the rose on her bosom wears a prouder demeanor, as though conscious of her changed estate. Who would remand her to her insipid servitude? Certainly not man. She has become his true companion instead of his adoring doll. The Amelia Sedleys have passed away from the face of the earth forever, and the Marcellas rule in their place. And yet, with the swinging of the pendulum in mind, a philosopher may be pardoned for dropping a few violets on the grave of the heroine of the past; even on poor Amelia Sedley's—Amelia, who would certainly have bored this philosopher to the point of weariness.

"Amelia Sedley was the sheer heroine of the past without lights and shadows. But her more attractive sisters lie also in their graves, and memories of some of them come back to us fragrant with virtues in spite of their limitations, which, it seems to a philosopher, the new heroine—the Gibson girl—cannot afford to disregard. They had no minds to speak of, it is true. That is, they were parrot-like in their repetition of what their husbands and fathers and brothers told them was so; and their energies were devoted to household concerns—the generation and rearing of babies, the production of delectable food, to darning, nursing, church work and small charities. They were generally timid and afraid of mice, disinclined to athletic exercise and heroic undertakings; they had no clubs and did not aim to be original. But think how dainty and pure-minded and tender they were! Dainty with the niceness of dolls, pure-minded with the innocence of the moated grange, tender with the loving forgiveness and foolish infatuation of idolaters, it may be, and yet dainty, pure-minded and tender."

A Measure Of Merit

Plainfield Citizens Should Weigh Well This Evidence.

Proof of merit lies in the evidence. Convincing evidence in Plainfield is not the testimony of strangers. But the endorsement of Plainfield people. That's the kind of proof given here. The statement of a Plainfield citizen. Mrs. R. Wortman, living with her daughter, Mrs. S. E. Cook, of 204 Somerset street, say's: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results for severe pain across my back and hips, which no doubt was caused by the kidneys being out of order. It was painful for me to stoop or bend forward and I could not sit ten minutes in one position, but had to be constantly changing about. I used many different kinds of medicine recommended for kidney trouble, but I could not see that any of them benefitted me. Doan's Kidney Pills were procured for me at L. W. Randolph's drug store and it is the only remedy I ever used that gave me any relief. I always keep a supply of them on hand and would not think of being without them.

CEREMONIOUS GOWNS.

Wedding Garments For Next of Kin to the Couple.

There are other costumes of interest at a wedding besides that of the bride. The mother of each of the contracting parties and their sisters and their cousins and their aunts, who form the phalanx of guests of honor, are all an important part of the general effect, and their gowns are carefully considered. It behooves the mothers in particular to look as young, handsome and cheerful as possible and to take great pains with their dress. Light colors are permissible, also demi-tints, and even dark colors, but not black, unless it is in combination with something else which takes away from all somberness of effect. Gray, emerald, royal blue, heliotrope, garnet and golden brown are all suitable tones, and lace, fur and every description of rich and elegant trimming is an appropriate ornament. For young girl relatives all pale and bright tints are liked—pearl, dove, turquoise and pale green.

The picture shows a sort of sack redingote of mastic cloth. It is loose, and the back is laid in stitched plaits, which are left free toward the foot. The front corners are rounded away, and the cuffs of the pagoda sleeves are embroidered to match. The capuchon forms revers in front, and two bands of white cloth, held at the ends by buttons, are carried around the shoulders. Down each side of the front is a circular ruffle of mastic cloth, lined with white silk. The collar is faced with white cloth and turned over.

WINTER NOVELTIES.

New Ideas For Bodices Accompanying Different Skirts.

Individual bodices for this winter are lavishly trimmed and designed in a most elaborate manner. There is no limit to the varieties seen. One of the latest novelties is embroidered cashmere, in which the embroidered design is made with reference to its use as a bodice decoration. These cashmeres are extremely diverse in color and character. Among the sorts shown are turquoise embroidered with black and white silk, red embroidered with black, rich blue embroidered with a Persian design, etc.

A great deal of gold ornamentation is also employed, of thread, cord, braid, spangles and passementerie. There are many new gold tissues brought out, one of the most striking being a heavy design of gold on a ground of white gauze. Gold ribbons and gold cords and tassels are much employed as girdles.

The illustration given today shows a coat which is closely fitting at the back, but straight in front. It hangs to within a foot of the ground and is embroidered around the lower part with a soutache pattern. The tall, flaring collar and the square pelerine are in one and are covered with soutache. The lower part of the pagoda sleeves is also embroidered with soutache, and beneath are tight sleeves of velvet. The coat, which is of cloth, is fastened by cords and buttons and is lined with broche silk. The felt hat is trimmed with tulle striped with satin and has a chou of velvet under the brim.

ABOUT ELEPHANTS.

Attentions Needed by the Big Beasts in New York's Central Park.

The elephant, as is familiarly known, is a vegetarian; it eats hay, and grass and grain, and that sort of thing, and the amount of provender it consumes is in porportion to its bulk. And not only is it thus a large eater, in accordance with its size, but its appetite is continuous; it would eat all day if it were permitted. A good, big elephant might get along on 150 pounds of suitable food in a day, or it would eat 500 if that amount were provided for it. A knowledge of the elephant's peculiarity in this respect enables those who have occasion to take it to board, as circus and menagerie people, to keep it at less expense than could those not acquainted with it who should try to give the poor beast all it wanted to eat, says the New York Sun.

When grass is conveniently obtainable the cost of an elephant's keep may be materially reduced; as it is, for example, in the case of the two big elephants in the Central park zoo. These eat in summer part hay and part grass, the grass being of that cut in keeping the park in order.

The elephants have a habit of throwing hay over their bodies to protect themselves from annoyance by flies and mosquitoes or other insects. "A good many people think," says Elephant Keeper Snyder, "that his thick skin must save him from being bothered by such things, but as a matter of fact the elephant is as sensitive to such attacks as many much thinner skinned animals."

Leaning over the railing in the elephant house in Central park the other day, talking elephant with Keeper Snyder, was a tall, stalwart sailor man of Uncle Sam's navy; the ribbon around the broad-topped hat that he wore tilted rakishly, being stamped in gold letters, with the name of the big battleship Kearsarge. The big sailor man was interested in elephants; he had been where they grow and had seen hundreds of them in swimming together in a river. For the sailor man's benefit Keeper Snyder stepped back between two of the cars in the front of the inclosure in which Tom, the larger of the park's two elephants, is kept, and made him kneel, which he will do at the word; and when he was thus down, and his back was within reach he took a broom and swept off from the elephant's broad back the thick of the hay there was upon it.

This sweeping off the elephant's back appeared to please at least one of the visitors in the elephant house very much; this visitor saying he had seen folks sweep houses and steamboats and stores and sidewalks and a great many other things and places, but that that was the first time he had ever seen anybody sweep an elephant.

And yet, as every showman knows, sweeping the elephant is, in the case of elephants held in captivity for show purposes, not only a common thing to do, but it is a regular part of the daily duties of the keepers who have the care of them. If a show had a herd of elephants or one or two elephants, and it gave a street parade before the opening of the show, the last thing done about the elephants before they came out into public view would be to sweep them off. And the same thing would be done before each performance; before they went on into the ring they would all kneel and be swept. Whoever has attended the circus must have seen elephants pick up a lot of dirt from the ground and flirt it up on their back, a common thing for them to do; but they don't come on that way; they come on spick and span, in accordance with an established custom of the business.

They do just so with the elephants at the zoo in Central park. The menagerie is opened to the public in the morning at a fixed hour, before which time all preparations have been made, and, everywhere, everything is in order. The last thing done in the course of these preparations in the elephant house is to have Tom and Jewel, the two big elephants there, kneel and have their backs swept.

Why the Oyster Crop Fails.

It is pointed out that partial failure of the oyster crop in certain years, the diminution in size of oysters on the market and the extinction of many oyster beds that formerly were famous—the "saddle rocks," for instance—have been due to want of material for the production of the oyster shell. The beds throughout the oyster belt have steadily deteriorated in late years, and in many cases become absolutely worthless. In spite of the fact that food has been supplied artificially at great expense and trouble, and wire fences have been used to protect the oysters from the starfish. For this trouble the defilement of the water by sewage and waste of various manufacturing establishments have usually been blamed, sometimes justly, sometimes without cause. What the oyster must have, or it will perish, is a full supply of carbonate of lime with which to build its shell. Near the mouths of rivers, where carbonate of lime in mechanical solution, as it is expressed, comes down from the hills and plains of the interior in drainage, the oyster has all the material it needs for building its house, and, at the same time, the inflowing tide brings it ample food.—Boston Transcript.

Watch Your Kidneys!

They are Filters For the Blood. Impure Blood Causes Disease.

Few people understand the important part performed by the kidneys in filtering the blood. As the blood in its circulation through the body passes through the kidneys, its impurity is left in the kidneys, which in turn empties the secretions into the bladder in the form of urine.

If the kidneys are blocked and filtration of the blood from poisonous or diseased germs is prevented thereby, the result is one or all of the following: Sleeplessness, Nervous Prostration, Weak Back, Pains in the Back and Loins, Scalding Dark and Cloudy Urine, Dizziness, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Congestion of the Kidneys, Bright's Disease and Inflammation of the Bladder.

Unhealthy Kidneys Must Be Treated

A medicine is needed that will properly promote the filtration of the blood and check the over-secretion of urine.

SCHOOL AND CHURCH.

A returned missionary says that the Chinese emperor, in giving out an order for 129 books some time ago, selected 54 that dealt with the Christian religion.

The youngest of all professors at the University of Germany is Dr. Siegfried Rietschel, who was recently appointed to a chair in the law department at Tubingen. He is only 19 years old.

President Charles Kendall Adams, of the University of Wisconsin, will temporarily retire on half-pay and travel in the Mediterranean to recover his health, which has been bad for two years.

In the chapel of the Marble Collegiate church, New York, Rev. Donald MacDougall, a native of the Scotch Highlands, who was educated at Yale and Princeton, conducts a service in Gaelic every Sunday afternoon.

Rev. William Lennox Mills, who has just been elected coadjutor bishop of Ontario, Canada, was born in Woodstock, Ont., and was educated at Trinity university, Toronto. He has been for many years a pronounced figure among the Anglican clergy of Montreal.

A remarkable instance of faithful pastoral service is that of Rev. Sherman D. Taylor, of South New Lyme, O., who at the late meeting of Cleveland presbytery was, at his own request, honorably retired from the ministry at the age of 86, after nearly 60 years of service.

Syracuse university has adopted the plan of placing scholarships in the high schools of her patronizing territory. These scholarships represent the gift of $1,000 or $1,500. This money is to be collected of friends in the community where the high school is located. It is hoped to establish 500 or more of these scholarships in New York state and bordering states.

Max Schoenfeld, a former Philadelphian but now a resident of Rorschach, Switzerland, has given $10,000 to the national farm school at Doylestown, Pa., to be used in the purchase of farms, which are to be rented to graduates of the school, thereby giving them an opportunity of practically demonstrating the value of the instruction they have received and the capability of the Hebrew youth to support himself by means of agriculture.

HOW LINCOLN HUSKED CORN.

He and His Mates Got Up an Appetite by Work of Exceedingly Arduous Nature.

In the big cornfields of the west it is the custom to husk in the fields and from the standing stalk. Some of the the big wagons that bring the corn from the field hold from 50 to 75 bushels of ears. On one side of these wagons is a high "fanger board," which enables the man working beside the wagon to throw the husked ears in without looking up. The horses walk astride one row, bending it beneath the axle. This is called the "down row" and invariably set aside as "the boys' row." Hamlin Garland in his "Boy Life on the Prairie," tells how his hero, Lincoln, fared at the husking season.

Lincoln took the down row, while Jack husked two rows on the left of the wagon. The horses were started and stopped by the voice alone, and there was always a great deal of sound and fury in the process. At first this work was not devoid of charm. The mornings were frosty, but clear, and the sun soon warmed the world; but as the days passed the boys' hands became chapped and sore. Great painful seams developed between the thumb and forefinger, the nails wore to the quick and the balls of each finger became tender as boils.

The leaves of the corn, seaselessly whipped by the powerful winds, grew ragged, and the stalks fell, increasing the number of ears for which the husker was forced to stoop. The sun rose later each day and took longer to warm the air. At times he failed to show his face all day and the frost hung on till nearly noon.

Husking gloves became a necessity, but this by no means preserved the hands. The rains came and flurries of snow; the gloves, wet and muddy, shrank at night and in the morning were as hard as iron. They soon wore out at the ends, where the fingers were sorest.

To husk 80 or 100 bushels of corn during one of the short days of November means making every motion count. Every morning long before daylight Lincoln stumbled out of bed and dressed with numb and swollen fingers which almost refused to turn a button. The frost was white on everything and made the boy shiver as he thought of the thousands of icy ears he must husk during the day.

Sore as his hands were, he had his cows to milk before he could return to breakfast, which consisted of home-made sausages—"saussingers," the boys called them—and buckwheat pancakes.

"You won't get anything more until noon, boys," said Mr. Stewart, warningly, "so fill up."

Mrs. Stewart flopped the big, brown steaming disks into their plates two or three at a time, and over them each man and boy poured some of the delicious fat from the sausages, cut them into strips, and, having rolled the strips into wads, filled his stomach as a hunter loads a gun.

Elizabethport Banking Company Will Give up Search for Him.
(Special to the Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Nov. 20.—The authorities of the Elizabethport Banking Company have about given up hope of capturing William Schreiber, the clerk who is alleged to have stolen $109,000 from the institution.

They now admit that despite the fact that several detectives have been working on the case, there has been absolutely no trace found of the thief since he departed in New York with Mrs. Hart on August 27 last. They now think he has made his way to some South American country.

Scrap in an Italian Family.

There was a lively Italian scrap on Watchung avenue last Sunday night in which the Daranzo family were prominent factors. This family has been in court several times for similar causes and it is not a new story. The family engaged in a fight with some other Italians, and it is alleged that the lives of one another were threatened. Chief Marshal Campbell appeared on the scene and stopped the trouble. About ten Italians were mixed up in the fracas, and they were ordered to appear for trial last evening. Mayor Smalley was obliged to be away, and it was decided to put the hearing off until this evening, when the troubles will be aired fully.

Nixon Raises His Employes' Wages.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Nov. 20—The employes at Nixon's shipyard, at Elizabethport, have received an increase of 5 per cent, in their wages. This was the outcome of a visit made to Mr. Nixon some weeks before election by a committee of the workmen, who asked for ten hours' pay for nine hours' work. Mr. Nixon then said he would consider the matter. The increase, while not as much as the men expected, is satisfactory to them.

Bound Brook Factory Enlarged.

The Standard Paint Company, of Bound Brook, is making preparations to build a reduction house to replace the structure commonly known as the "devil's kitchen." It will be of brick and iron, two stories high, 60x70 feet. This will give increased facilities in this department. The contract for its erection has been given to the David Henry Building Co., of Paterson, and work has been commenced.

U. S. Grant Club Jollification.

The members of the U. S. Grant Club indulged in a little jollification last evening and enjoyed a smoker and informal entertainment. The Glee Club was present and rendered several of their latest and best selections. Speeches were made by Senator Reid, B. A. Hegeman, Jr., Mayor Smalley, Peter Emmons and others. There was plenty of material for smoking and all present enjoyed themselves immensely.

Lived to Ripe Old Age.

The death of Alfred Westerfield, aged eighty-four years, occurred yesterday at his home on Central avenue. He had been in feeble health for sometime. The funeral will be held from his late home Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Congressman Fowler's Petition.
(Special to the Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Nov. 20.—Congressman Fowler made his first appearance last Thursday night before the Elizabeth City Council as a petitioner for the opening of a new street from Westminster avenue to Salem avenue, where he is erecting a magnificent mansion. The City Council will grant his request, it is believed, at the next meeting.

NO JERSEY EDITIONS.

Discontinuance by New York Papers Causes Dissatisfaction, But State and Local Papers Profit Thereby.

The New York Herald a few days since discontinued its Brooklyn edition. Some time ago its regular New Jersey edition was discontinued, to the great dissatisfaction of numerous readers in this State and a resultant loss in circulation to the paper.

About a year ago the New York Journal's New Jersey page was done away with. Mr. Hurst, coming in early one morning, found the paper late and everything in confusion on account of the Jersey page. He is said to have declared very forcibly that that was the New York Journal and to throw out the Jersey department. According to the newsdealers there was a considerable drop in circulation.

With the abandoning of the New Jersey department has come a lessening of the State news and the few items published are thrown helter-skelter in the paper.

The result has been beneficial to the newspapers in the cities about the metropolis, the partial withdrawal of the New dailies having to a large extent increased their circulation.

FOR HEALTH'S SAKE.

Kansas Man and Family Make Long Journey in Wagon.

Traveled Over 3,000 Miles in the Course of a Year—Trip Cured Head of the Expedition of Pulmonary Disease.

E. E. Farnsworth and his family have just returned to Winfield, Kan., after an absence of a year, during which time they have completed one of the most remarkable journeys recorded in the annals of the west.

Traveling in a specially constructed wagon, during the 357 days they covered over 3,000 miles, including some of the least explored sections of the boundless west, traversed six states and even invaded Mexico, discovered and investigated some practically unknown cliff dwellings, and returned home with the same team of horses with which they started.

The party consisted of E. E. Farnsworth, his wife, and her father, L. Small, and for one year they lived in their novel house on wheels and never saw the interior of a hotel or ordinary dwelling. In the course of their pilgrimage whenever they came to a place they liked they simply halted the wagon and took up a temporary residence, remaining until they wearied of the location or their stock of provisions became exhausted.

The novel trip was originally conceived by Mr. Farnsworth as being his only chance to escape the ravages of consumption. For several years he had been gradually going into a decline, and, acting on the warning of his physician that unless he secured a change of air and scene his condition was hopeless, Mr. Farnsworth devised the idea of making a tour of the west in a specially constructed wagon. One year ago, when he left, he could scarcely totter into the wagon owing to his weakness and emaciation, whereas at the present time, as a result of his extraordinary journey, he is hale and hearty, the picture of bronzed, robust health, and seems to be permanently cured of all his ailments.

"The wagon on which we made our long journey, and which for one year was our only home, was specially constructed for the trip after designs devised and prepared by myself," said Mr. Farnsworth. "The bed of the car was on springs, two feet longer than an ordinary wagon box. The sides and top consisted of a skeleton frame of white pine, covered with painted sail cloth. The car proper was ten feet long, the first two feet in front being used for a seat under which was constructed a clothes press in such a manner that by pushing the seat forward it could be opened from either the inside or outside of the car.

"In order to secure light and ventilation we had a window in each door and a window in each side that could be raised and lowered. Line holes were drilled through the front door so that in stormy weather we could drive from the inside. In one corner we had a small stove and cooking utensils, along the sides we had two folding beds (two sets of springs on hinges), and a folding table.

"The car and gear complete weighed only 1,400 pounds, and, including our own weight, provisions, etc., only pulled down the beam at a little more than a ton. During all the long journey of 3,000 miles, not one day's illness of any kind marred or interrupted the trip, and my pair of horses returned home stronger and better than when we started.

"The entire trip was made with the same team and the average progress per day when traveling was 23 miles. The total cost was small and did not reach $1,000. The wagon cost $175, provisions and expenses aggregated about $800, a total of $975—or little more than it would have cost we three persons to live at home."

Big Demand for Excelsior.

The present annual production in this country of excelsior is about 60,000 tons. Put to a great variety of uses, excelsior is most commonly used for packing purposes, and in such uses it is employed for many very different kinds of things. It is used, for example, in the packing of things so fragile as eggs, and things so solid as iron toys. In the variety of uses to which it is put excelsior is most in demand where manufacturing is carried on, so that the larger part of the great quantity of this material now produced in this country is used east of the Mississippi river.

Childish Idea of Happiness.

A queer idea of happiness was manifested by two little girls of London who, through the kindness of a clergyman's wife, were sent to the country to have a happy day. On their return they thus narrated their experiences: "Oh, yes, mum, we did 'ave a 'appy day. We see two pigs killed and a gentleman buried."

Democratic Primaries.

The Democratic City Executive Committee of Plainfield hereby gives notice that the ward primaries for the nomination of ward officers and the election of delegates to the City Convention, will be held in the various wards at 8 p. m.,

Wednesday, Nov. 21, 1900.

The candidates to be nominated are one Councilman, one Justice of the Peace and one Constable in each ward. Delegates to the City Convention, which will be held Friday evening, November 23, 1900, at 8 p. m., in the rooms of the Hillman Association, West Front street, will be chosen on the basis of one delegate to every twenty-five votes or a fraction thereof cast for the Democratic candidates in the last city election.

The place of holding primaries and the number of delegates each ward is entitled to in the City Convention, is as follows:

First ward, A. E. Hoagland's office, North avenue..... 7 del.
Second ward, Bryant School building... 6 del
Third ward, High School building..... 5 del.
Fourth ward, Hillman Association rooms, West Front street.....12 del.

At the City Convention a Mayor, City Collector and a member of the Board of Education will be nominated.

At the ward primaries members of the City Executive Committee will also be elected, one from each election district in the ward.

G. O. P. GOSSIP ABOUT THE GOVERNORSHIP

Republicans Already Figuring on a Contest Between Franklin Murphy and Mr. Pitney.

NEWARKER IS IN THE LEAD.

HIS POSITION ON STATE COMMITTEE A FAVORABLE FACTOR.

Senator Pitney Will Make a Hard Fight for the Honor, Though—Stokes as Murphy's Successor as State Leader.

Though the figures of the recent elections have hardly had time to dry on the official records political gossipers have already turned their attention to the Gubernatorial contest a year hence. Among Republicans it is almost an absorbing question whether Franklin Murphy or Senator Mahlon Pitney will develop the greater strength in the race for the honor of being the party's standard-bearer. Among Democrats the talk of reorganizing the party has naturally brought out the names of various men who, it is supposed, would be available to lead in a campaign.

Mr. Murphy's announcement that he was through as chairman of the State Republican committee, was generally interpreted to mean that he would be an aspirant for Gubernatorial honors. In fact, that impression prevailed long before the close of the recent campaign. Mr. Murphy did nothing to help it along, neither did he attempt to stop what was an apparent movement on the part of friends to pave the way for the honor coming to him.

Soon after Mr. Murphy declared himself concerning the State chairmanship, one of his intimate friends in speaking of the matter put it in this way:

"If Mr. Murphy is to be the Republican nominee for Governor he can not be the State chairman, and if he is not to be the nomiuee he wont be the chairman."

This remark was made in a group of Republican politicians and was interpreted to mean that Mr. Murphy felt that if his labors in behalf of the party were to be rewarded the reward would come in the shape of the Gubernatorial nomination next year and if it did not come that way it probably would not come at all. It was conceded by those in the group that Mr. Murphy had never personally asked for any return for his party services, though the opinion was expressed that his work as State chairman entitled him to recognition.

Among well informed Republicans the impression prevails that Mr. Murphy's long and close associations with the State Committeemen would be of distinct advantage to him, should he openly proclaim himself a candidate. At the same time it is claimed that Mr. Pitney will be in a position to give anybody a hard race for the honor, and the Morris Senator's friends assert that he stepped out of the way in 1898 on the promise that he would receive General Sewell's support in 1901. The anti-Pitney men, however, are not inclined to accept that claim without question.

Whether Mr. Murphy will be a candidate for Governor or not, his retirement as State chairman will create a vacancy which will have to be filled, and Senator E. C. Stokes, of Cumberland, the vice-chairman, and William Riker, of Essex, treasurer of the committee, have been mentioned as possible successors. Stokes, however, in the judgment of many Republicans, seems to be the more likely man, as it is argued that factional differences in Essex would militate against Riker being chosen. It has been said on good authority that Mr. Riker will not be a candidate for the place, and he is said even to have offered to retire from the committee if his membership in that body would interfere with Mr. Murphy's securing the united support of Essex in the Gubernatorial nomination contest.

For Use of Missionaries.

The members of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of Grace M. E. church, will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Taft, 41 Grandview avenue, to pack two barrels of clothing and useful articles to be sent to the missionaries in the west. Any person desiring to contribute articles can send them to the above address.

To Buy Lodge Paraphernalia.

A special meeting of Wetumpka Tribe, No. 229, will be held tomorrow night, at which time representatives from several firms will present samples of paraphernalia. An informal programme of songs and recitations will follow and refreshments will also be served.

ALL DONE IN HIS NAME

REPORTS SHOWING WORK OF THE CITY UNION OF KING'S DAUGHTERS.

Semi-annual Meeting Held—Address Delivered by Mrs. Bottome, the National President.

The semi-annual meeting of the City Union of King's Daughters was held in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church yesterday afternoon. Considering the disagreeable weather there was a large attendance of members and their friends. Miss Blish, president of the Union, presided. The first part of the meeting was devoted to the presentation of reports which were of considerable interest. Miss Lillian A. Force, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting held in May.

Miss Emily B. Tracy gave a report as chairman of the nurse committee. This showed that during the past six months fifty patients had been cared for by Miss Olive Delany, the city nurse, and that she assisted with twelve operations. Two deaths occurred. The nurse served under fifteen physicians and had made 478 visits. In order that Miss DeLany might be still better fitted for her work it has been arranged that she is to take a six months' course offered by the Victorian Order of Nurses at Montreal, and she will go to Montreal on January 1st to pursue this course. During her absence it will be necessary to engage another nurse to take her place.

Miss Jessie Littell, treasurer, gave her report showing the total receipts to be $854 49, and disbursements $747 95. There is a special fund containing money received from the euchre party given last summer at the Hotel Netherwood. The receipts were $181 35 and there is a balance at present of $99 44 in that fund. This leaves a total balance of $205 98.

Miss Katharine Glen, chairman of the camp committee, presented an interesting report of the past summer's work. It showed that the city nurse made nineteen visits to the camp during July, August and September, and during that time 71 children and 43 adults were cared for and treated at the camp. The committee expressed great appreciation to all who had so kindly assisted the King's Daughters in carrying on this most important branch of their work, and they hope that still greater good may be accomplished during next summer.

These reports were all filed with the secretary of the Union, Miss Lillian A. Force, who, at this time, called for pledges from the various branches of the Union. The sum of $470 was pledged as follows: Advance Circle, $50; Benevolent Band, $75; Charity Circle, $100; Cheerful Workers, $50; Dorcas Circle, $25; Daughters of the Cross, $100; Brightside Circle, $10; Golden Rule Circle, $25; Whatsoever Circle, Trinity Reformed church, $25. The Circles that did not respond include Mizpah, Opportunity, of the Mt. Olive Baptist church, and Whatsoever Circle, of the Park Avenue Baptist church. They will probably pledge themselves later. In connection with this it should be stated that in response to a request many members have donated glasses of jelly for the nurses' dispensary.

This concluded the business, and Miss Blish then introduced Mrs. Margaret Bottome, National President of the King's Daughters, who gave a very spiritual and helpful talk along the lines of work of the order. She spoke from the text "And They Dwelt With Him in His Work." The speaker opened her remarks by stating that she had brought a message from the King, and her entire address impressed all with the thought of living nearer to the King, in order that all might dwell with Him. She emphasized the thought that more spirituality is needed among the members of the order. Though one should give all they had, even their body to be burned, and had not love, it would profit nothing. She said that it is an old saying that one does not know a person until they live with them, and this she thought was true regarding Christ. To know him one had to live with him, dwell with him constantly. This thought she impressed strongly upon the minds of all and she plead with the members to give themselves entirely to Christ and serve him faithfully.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Bottome's address the meeting adjourned and all retired to the church parlors, where tea was served and a social time was enjoyed. Membere from the Whatsoever Circle, of Trinity Reformed church, and the Golden Rule Circle, of Grace M. E. church, presided at the table and served. Mrs. George W. Gardner and Mrs. Will F. Williams presided at the table, while other members acted as waitresses.

FELL SEVENTY FEET TO INSTANT DEATH.

Henry C. Root, a Telephone Lineman, Killed in Westfield Yesterday Afternoon.

FATAL TOUCH OF LIVE WIRE.

ENGAGED IN WORK ON TOP OF 70-FOOT TELEPHONE POLE.

After Being Shocked His Body Hung Half a Minute Before Falling—In the Employ of Company for Fourteen Years.

Shocked into insensibility by the deadly current from an electric light wire, Henry C. Root, a lineman in the employ of the local exchange of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, fell from a seventy-foot pole yesterday afternoon and was instantly killed. The accident occurred in Westfield at the corner of Elm and Walnut streets.

In company with two other linemen, Augustus Seiders, of Arlington avenue, and Herbert Chamberlain, of East Fourth street, Root was stringing a rope along the Elm street poles preparatory to hauling a wire through the trees. Each man was up a separate pole, Chamberlain being in the middle. The latter had been busily engaged about his work for some time when, suddenly glancing toward Root, he was startled to see him reclining on a wire within a few feet of the top of the pole, while his hands convulsively grasped the air. Shouting to Seiders that something was wrong, Chamberlain clambered down and rushed to the next pole.

Before he could reach it, Root's inanimate form turned backward and fell headfirst, striking the curb-stone. His horrified companions hurried to his side but there was no sign of life. Death must have been instantaneous. Dr. Harrison soon reached the spot but he saw at a glance that the man was beyond all human aid. The skull had been crushed in a terrible manner and he was otherwise injured.

County Physician Westcott was notified and gave a permit for the removal of the body. It was brought to this city and taken to the undertaking rooms of George W. Cole. This morning it was removed to his late home on West Sixth street, near Liberty.

Root, who was fifty years old, leaves a wife and two small children. He had been in the employ of the company for fourteen years, only two of which were spent in this city. He came here from New Brunswick, where he was manager of the office at that place. He was also manager at one time of the Rahway and Bayonne exchanges.

For some unknown reason he has always dreaded working in Westfield, which is included in the Plainfield district, and when engaged in pole work there was alwys extremely careful. Just how he came in contact with the line wire is not known. At the point where the men were working the electric light wires run parallel and are directly below the telephone wires. A cable box is situated on the pole where Root was working and to reach this he would have to pass the live wires. He was using no spurs as the pole is provided with steps, otherwise the body might have remained balanced until help arrived. As it was he remained suspended for fully thirty seconds.

Charles Root, a brother of the dead man, is manager of the exchange at Elizabeth. Another brother, Howard Root, is foreman of the telephone repair department at Brooklyn and is the patentee of the Root Automatic Telephone Pay Station which is used extensively by all telephone companies. There are several of them in use in this city. A third brother is one of the foremost scene painters in this country.

The accident greatly affected Root's companions, and as a result one of them is confined to his bed in a precarious condition.

The funeral services will probably be held from his late residence Friday morning at 10 o'clock, and interment will be made at New Brunswick Friday.

Death of Well-known Man.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Nov. 21.—William P. Sutphen, aged 68, a brother of Squire A. P. Sutphen, of this place, died at his home at Bedminster on Sunday, from Bright's disease. The deceased was a prominent man in Bedminster township, having been Assessor, Town Committeeman, Town Clerk and Town Treasurer. The funeral was held this afternoon, at the Bedminster Reformed church, and the remains were intered in the Peapack cemetery.

OPENING OF SOCIAL SEASON IS AT HAND

First Assembly, to be Held Thanksgiving Eve, Will Formally Start Winter Activity.

WILL BE HELD AT CASINO.

ANNOUNCEMENTS SENT OUT OF SERIES OF SOCIETY'S FUNCTIONS.

Coming Season Promises to be Even More Successful Than Last Year's—New Club Will be Important Factor.

Although the Schoonmaker-McGee and Walz-Innerarity weddings of last week were important events in Plainfield's society circles, the social season of 1900-1901 in this city will not be formally inaugurated until Thanksgiving Eve when the first of the Assemblies will be held in the Casino. After several years of comparative quiet when the Assemblies were omitted, the society folk enjoyed a particularly active winter last season. The Assemblies were resumed with such entire success that there was no question this year but that they should be held. Announcements of the dates for the series of three were sent out yesterday.

While last season was a marked success, the season so soon to begin has the promise of being even a more satisfactory one. Four charming young debutantes made their appearance in society last year and a whirl of gaiety marked the events. The assemblies were so popular with the young people that an extra dance was arranged for late in the season. Then there other social functions of special prominence. It is too early as yet to say what the chief features of the coming season will be but there will undoubtedly be fully as many brilliant happenings as marked the proceding season.

The success of last season's Assemblies has led those in charge to plan this winter's formal dances on even a more elaborate scale than last season. The first of the series will be held Thursday evening of next week, which is Thanksgiving eve. The next will take place New Year's night and the third April 8th, Easter Monday night.

The patronesses for the Assemblies are announced as follows: Mrs. Charles E. Brooks, Mrs. M. E. Edgerton, Mrs. Charles J. Fisk, Mrs. Frederick G. Mead, Mrs. J. Kirtland Myers, Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen, Mrs. Harry G. Runkle, Mrs. S. L. Schoonmaker and Mrs. Henry P. Talmadge. Lewis E. Waring is treasurer of the committee in charge of the dances. Subscriptions will be sold only for the full season but tickets for each Assembly can be obtained by subscribers for non resident friends. All the dances will be held in the Casino.

An important factor in the coming season will be the new club which is to occupy the clubhouse of the defunct Union County Country Club for the next six months. The past summer has seen unusual activity in the society set and this can be directly traced to the advantages presented by the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club at its clubhouse. Luncheons and dinners were of frequent occurence and proved decidedly popular. So pleased were everybody with them that they were loath to end the season at the Hillside Club. Then came the proposition to form a temporary organization during the winter months and continue these gatherings in the Casino and adjoining clubhouse.

When the golf links are closed, bowling will undoubtedly become very popular among the young society folk, and the clubhouse will be the scene of many delightful gatherings. With Steward Ivamy at hand, ready and able to prepare an excellent dinner at short notice, that feature of the new club is bound to be largely patronized.

Then there is the prospect of several large weddings this winter, which will be very elaborate and promise to be of unusual importance in the social world.

Settlement Effected.

The contract case of E. H. Holmes against Charles J. McN abb was called in Justice Mattison's court yesterday afternoon. Lawyer Isaac P. Runyon, for the defense, offered to compromise the matter and the plaintiff was willing. An offer was made and a settlement effected on a fair basis.

Twenty Choice Fowls Stolen.

Harrison Bennett, a farmer, who lives on the Mellick farm, near the Plainfield Driving Park, had twenty choice fowls stolen from the place last evening. He has not the slightest clue as to who the thieves are and the chances are he will never find out.

FASTER TIME TO BE MADE ON THE CENTRAL.

Reduction of Five Minutes on Express Trains Between Plainfield and Jersey City.

EXTRA EASTBOUND TRAIN.

WILL RUN IN EVENING FOR ACCOMMODATION OF LOCAL TRAFFIC.

The Fast Time Will Be Made on the Trains Carrying Plainfield Commuters in the Morning and in the Afternoon.

Important changes are to be made to the passenger schedule of the Jersey Central Railroad, which will go into effect Sunday. Plainfield will be particularly interested in the changes as it is planned to reduce the running time between this city and Jersey City and also to give increased facilities to Plainfield passengers. The changes are the result of careful study by the present management which has been carefully looking into the matter for some months, but has not been prepared to make many changes until this fall.

A reduction of five minutes in the running time of two of the express trains which run between this city and Jersey City is probably the most important change as far as the Plainfield public is concerned. The New York express, No. 38, which now leaves Plainfield at 7:55 o'clock, and is scheduled to reach New York, Liberty street ferry, at 8:42, will leave here at 8 o'clock, but will reach New York at the same time as at present. The Easton mail, No. 2, now due here at 8 o'clock, will run a minute or two later. Some changes in the running of the club cars are under consideration.

One of the afternoon expresses from New York to Plainfield will have its running time reduced five minutes. It will probably be the express, No. 19, now leaving Liberty street ferry, New York, at 4:40 and reaching here at 5:27.

An extra eastbound train, running as accommodation from Plainfield to Elizabeth and express the rest of the way, will be added early in the evening at the period when there is now no train for over an hour. Several other changes of lesser importance will also be made.

TO HEAR DR. SPOONER.

State President of Christian Endeavorers Will Speak Tomorrow Night.

It is not often that Plainfield Endeavors have the opportunity of listening to State President Dr. A. W. Spooner, of Camden, but this privelege is to be acorded them tomorrow evening when he will deliver an address in the First Presbyterian church on the subject "The Relation of Christian Endeavor to the Greatest Reform Movement of the Age." The Christian Endeavor Societies and Epworth Leagues are planning to be present in large numbers, and the meeting under the auspices of the local Union of Christian Endeavorers promises to be a large and enthusiastic one. The church will be made especially attractive with orange and black, the State C. E. colors, and the white and green of the Plainfield local union in addition to the American flag.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to be present. An offering will be received to defray the expenses of the evening.

A quartette consisting of Miss Etta Cuming, Miss Haven, Elmer Cutting and I. W. Travell, will sing several hymns that were rendered at the State convention.

Promised to Leave the Borough.

Guy Dandyze and his daughter, Clementine, were arraigned before Mayor Smalley last evening on a charge of disturbing the peace and morals of the borough. It will be remembered that they were engaged in a fracas at their home in Watchung avenue, last Sunday evening. His Honor heard the complaint, and then censured the prisoners severely. He told them that he wanted them to get out of the borough and stay out, and that if they were ever brought before him again he would see that they received the full penalty. They promised to move away.

Heavy Machinery Fell on His Foot.

William Glasener, of Watchung avenue, an employe at Pond's in the night shift, met with an accident at 2 o'clock this morning. While working about a planer, a heavy piece of iron fell on the large toe of the right foot. A carriage was procured and he was taken to the hospital where he will be confined for some time. The toe will probably have to be amputated.

RECLAIM THE MARSHES.

VAST IMPROVEMENTS TO BE MADE ABOUT NEWARK BAY.

Senator Kean Back of the Project—Wasteless Tract Will be Made Valuable for Business Purposes.

Projects are on foot by United States Senator Kean and others for reclaiming large areas of the salt marsh bordering on Newark Bay, above the bridge of the New Jersey Central Railroad, near the Singer Sewing Machine Works, at Elizabeth. The Senator has made application for the riparian right in front of several hundred feet of his land there, which he intends to fill in and make available for manufacturing and other purposes. The filling in will be done either by using material taken from the underground railway being constructed in New York, or by pumping up mud and sand by steam dredges, such as are in operation in Atlantic City.

If the enterprise proves successful the Senator's experiment will doubtless be the prelude to the very extensive reclamation projects of a similar character on the great meadows or marshes that front on Newark Bay and the Hackensack and Passaic rivers. Thousands of acres may be filled in and converted into solid upland of great value through all this extensive region. And at the same time the marsh is filled in the dredging deepens and improves the adjacent navigable waters, thus increasing the value of the upland in both ways.

This plan of filling in low lands by steam dredges is comparatively new, and is yet in its infancy, and there is reason to believe that it is on the eve of enormous and most profitable development. Hundreds of acres of low and marsh lands have been thus reclaimed at Atlantic City, converted into valuable building sites, and sold at great profit. More than a dozen of these dredges were in operation there last summer. There is no reason why the same plan may not be still more profitably employed in reclaiming the Newark meadews, according to experts who have looked into the matter.

LECTURE-MUSICALE.

"In a Persian Garden" to be Rendered and a Lecture on "Tone Character" Will be Given.

A lecture-musicale will be given at the Randolph-Cooley Collegiate School tomorrow evening. Miss Annie J. Bronson will deliver a lecture on "Tone Character." She is too well-know in Plainfield to need any introduction. There will also be the rendition of the well known "In a Persian Garden," Fitzgerald's translation of the "Rubaiyat" of "Omar Khayyam." It will be given by Miss Edith Mortimer Kelly, soprano; Mrs. Katherine Swinthn Forbes, contralto; Alfred Y. Cornell, tenor; Chester Stone Spencer, basso, and Mrs. Florence Brown Shepard at the piano. Mr. Cornell, under whose direction it is to be sung, is one of the directors of the American School of English opera, a member of the Bach Singers, of New York, and organist and choirmaster of the M. E. church on 17th street, New York. Miss Helen Patterson, violinist, will also take part in the programme.

Plainfielders Took Part.

The yearly meeting of the Seventh-Day Baptist churches of New Jersey and New York city was held at the Judson Memorial Baptist church, New York, Saturday. A delegation of fifty from this city was in attendance. Rev. L. E. Livermore, pastor of the church at New Market, preached at the morning session. Rev. A. E. Main, pastor of the church in this city, conducted an hour of industrial missions during the afternoon session. In the evening Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, editor of the Sabbath Recorder, made an address. The yearly meeting next year will be held at Marlboro, N. J.

New Fixtures in Cafe.

Hibbard & Jones, the enterprising proprietors of the Hotel McVey, have just had their cafe fitted throughout with handsome new fixtures which add greatly to the appearance of the place. The cafe is now one of the handsomest appearing in the State. In keeping with the improvements already made, several others have been contemplated by the proprietors which in a short time will make the hotel modern and up-to-date in every respect.

Gas Mains in the West End.

The employes of the gas company commenced work yesterday laying mains on West Front street, west of Grant avenue. They will probably be extended as far as Clinton avenue.

Mrs. French, of Park avenue, has about recovered from injuries caused by a fall which occurred several weeks ago.

DIED WHILE OTHERS WENT TO FUNERAL.

Old German Laborer Found Dead in Farmhouse When Casey Returned From Funeral.

HIS NAME IS NOT KNOWN.

WAS EXPECTING A REMITTANCE FROM THE OLD COUNTRY.

John Hogan Allowed Him to Earn His Board By Working on the Farm While He Waited—Happened Yesterday.

While the rest of the household were absent attending the burial of Miss Hughes, the housekeeper, at Woodbridge cemetery yesterday afternoon, the old German man of all work left in charge of the homestead on the Isaac Laing farm on Woodland avenue, near Oak Tree, fell dead. Undertaker Patrick Casey, of this city, had charge of the funeral and accompanied the remains to Woodbridge. He returned to the house at 4 o'clock and then found the body of the old German lying in a heap at the foot of the stairs.

Two years ago a man came to the Lane farm and secured employment as a farm laborer. He was a German and sixty years of age. He was known as "John" but what the rest of his name was, no one ever found out. He afterwards left this neighborhood. Two weeks ago he came back to the farm and John Hogan, who occupies the farm at present, allowed him to work for his board. The old man said that he was expecting some money from Germany and asked to be allowed to remain until it arrived. He did not appear in the best of health.

Yesterday the funeral of Miss Hughes took place and the old man was left in charge while the rest went to the burial. Death was caused by heart failure. It was first supposed that he had fallen down stairs but there were no signs of injury on his body. Undertaker Casey moved the body into the parlor and notified the County Physician of Middlesex at New Brunswick. The latter appeared this morning and issued a burial permit.

There is no clue as to the identity of the aged German. He was not known to have any friends or relatives about here. He will be buried in Potter's Field tomorrow.

WANT 3 CENTS FROM EACH.

Members of the Union County Sunday-Schools to be Asked to Contribute the Small Sum.

The executive committee of the Union County Sunday-school Union met last evening at the home of Mrs. Alonzo Pettit, of Elizabeth, and transacted considerable important business. It was agreed that the next convention should be held at Westfield in October, 1901. The fiscal year of the Union is hereafter to end September 30th. A resolution was passed instructing township and district secretaries to hereafter report to the county secretary, in addition to the usual statistical report, of the progress of the work in the current year. The plan of asking scholars to give 3 cents a year regularly was adopted and will be put in force next year. By this plan of giving, enough money will be raised in the county to meet all expenses of the Union and purchase lesson helps, etc., for those who are unable to purchase them. Those present at the meeting from this city included Rev. J. W. Richardson, president of the Union; Dr. A. E. Main and H. W. Marshall.

Death of F. H. Biglow.

Franklin H. Biglow, aged 79 years died this morning at his home, 120 Central avenue. Death was due to heart trouble. He was confined to his home about a week. Mr. Biglow had been a resident of Plainfield twenty-five years, and for the past year lived in retirement. The funeral services will be held from the house Friday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock, and the interment will take place in Greenwood cemetery Saturday morning.

Wedding This Evening.

The wedding of Miss Lucy B. Caspar, daughter of Mrs. Rosa Caspar, and Frank Keller, of this city, will take place in the German Reformed church at 7 o'clock this evening. Rev. George Hauser, pastor of the church, will be the officiating clergyman.

$45,000 in Taxes Received Yesterday.

The sum of $45,000 was received at the City Collector's office yesterday in payment of taxes, making the total amount for the past two days $70,000. Collector Frank Smith and his assistants worked until nearly midnight last night receiving money.

JOTTINGS OF THE DAY

INTERPRISINGLY GATHERED AND CONCISELY TOLD BY REPORTERS.

Miss Overbaugh, of this city, has accepted a position at Fowler's candy store on East Front street.

Mrs. Milligan, of West Fourth street, has been visiting relatives in Brooklyn for several days.

Miss Mary VanEps, of East Front street, has returned from a visit with relatives in Somerset county.

R. A. Swackhamer and wife, of Hunterdon county, are visiting relatives in the city and borough.

Mr. Hibbard, of the firm of Hibbard & Jones, of Hotel McVey, returned yesterday from Buffalo, where he was called on account of the illness of his mother.

S. Solomon, whose tailoring establishment on Somerset street was recently destroyed by fire, left yesterday for New York and will sail in a few days for South Africa. His wife and children will remain in this city.

Rev. and Mrs. George P. Noble and daughter, of Mendham, have been visiting at the home of Mrs. F. T. Ketcham, of East Fifth street. Mrs. Noble has been an invalid for many years but has recently so improved as to be able to visit some of her relatives.

Great Luck Of An Editor

"For two years all efforts to cure Eczema in the palms of my hands failed", writes Editor H. N. Lester, of Syracuse, Kan., "then I was wholly cured by Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's the world's best for Eruptions, Sores and all skin diseases. Only 25 cents at L. W. Randolph's.

—The glee club connected with the U. S. Grant Club has elected H. J. Martin, president; R. M. Clark, vice-president, and Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan, treasurer. Several concerts will be given this winter.

—Many people worry because they believe they have heart disease. The chances are that their hearts are all right but their stomachs are unable to digest food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and prevents the formation of gas which makes the stomach press against the heart. It will cure every form of indigestion. L. W. Randolph.

Miss May VanFleet, of East Third street, has been entertaining company from out of town.

Mrs. John L. Edsall, of Sandford avenue, is much improved from a long and severe illness.

Spread Like Wild Fire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, rundown man or woman. Price 50 cents. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

—The work of filling in the extension of Duer street is now going on and the other improvements, that of macadamizing, curbing and flagging that part of the street, will be taken up at once.

—Both makers and circulators of counterfeits commit fraud. Honest men will not deceive you into buying worthless counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The original is infallible for curing piles, sores, eczema and all skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

ARRIVAL OF BERNHARDT.

The Great French Actress Comes to America to Tour With M. Coquelin.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Angular as ever, but if anything younger looking than when she last visited the United States, Mme. Bernhardt arrived in New York on the French line steamship L'Aquitaine from Havre.

The great French actress comes with M. Coquelin to tour the United States. She is fresh from new triumphs in the French capital.

She brings her full company with her, and they made a merry party on board the big French liner.

Mme. Bernhardt occupied two staterooms on board the steamer. With her she brought five maids and several of the best masseurs in Paris, for it is not without hard work and great care that the youthful appearance is preserved with which the divine Sara charms the play lovers of two hemispheres.

The actress will rest. Then she will begin rehearsing for her opening, which takes place at the Garden theater on Monday evening.

On that occasion she and M. Coquelin will present "L'Aiglon," with which Maude Adams has already familiarized New York audiences. New Yorkers will be interested in comparing the presentation by the dainty American actress with that by the most famous actress in the world.

Mme. Bernhardt will play "L'Aiglon" for one week. She will also be seen in "La Tosca," "Cyrano de Bergerac," "Camille" and "Hamlet."

Playwright Hoyt Dead.

CHARLESTOWN, N. H., Nov. 21.—Charles H. Hoyt, the well known playwright, died at his residence here at 7:15 o'clock last night of paresis, from which he had been suffering for several months past. Ever since his return to Charlestown, after his release from a private asylum in Hartford by order of the court early in August, it had been known by his attendants and nearest friends that his condition was serious and that there was little or no chance for his recovery, but Mr. Hoyt had seemed hopeful of ultimate recovery. Previous to two weeks ago there appeared to be a slight improvement in his condition, although he had periods of depression. About two weeks ago his appetite failed and he had a bad turn, from which he only partially recovered. Since that time he had been unable to take any except liquid nourishment.

Independence Mine Gutted.

VICTOR, Colo., Nov. 21.—John Hays Hammond arrived in the city yesterday morning and immediately began his examination of Stratton's Independence mine. He remained underground until noon. When asked if he admitted that the mine had been gutted, he replied: "I do. It is too early yet to make an estimate of the ore in sight, but I will have a report ready in a few days which I shall not withhold from the press. It is necessary to restore confidence, and this can easily be done. This Independence matter will have a great effect on the future disposal of European capital and will decide whether any further Cripple Creek enterprise is to be undertaken from the other side of the water."

Minister Wu In Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister at Washington, delivered an address last night before the American Academy of Political and Social Science. Mr. Wu, who has made frequent trips to this city, but never had seen the sights of the city, was taken on a tour of observation by members of the academy. A visit was made to the University of Pennsylvania, the League Island navy yard, Cramps' shipyard, Standard Oil works and a number of large industrial establishments. After completing his sightseeing tour the minister was the guest of Provost Charles C. Harrison of the University of Pennsylvania.

State Charities Conference.

ALBANY, Nov. 21.—A distinguished array of persons who are connected with public and private charitable and correctional work in New York state and those who take an active interest in these institutions and in charitable work generally gathered in the senate chamber last night at the first New York state conference of charities and corrections. Hon. William Stewart, chairman of the committee of 50 appointed to organize the conference, addressed the assemblage, briefly reviewing the work of the committee in arranging for the first conference. Governor Roosevelt welcomed the gathering on behalf of the state.

Cashier Brown Not Found.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 21.—The experts at work on the books of the German National bank at Newport, Ky., report that they have so far found a shortage of $195,000 in the books of Frank M. Brown, the missing cashier, and they are not yet through. There have been all kinds of reports about Brown having been seen at Indianapolis and other places since he left last Wednesday, but none of these reports is believed here, and his whereabouts are as much a mystery as ever.

Cotton Mill Strike Off.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Nov. 21.—The cotton mill operatives' big strike in Alamanco county, N. C., has been declared off. The strike has been in force about three months. Several thousand hands were involved. The labor organization which had been aiding the strikers withdrew its support. This is the third recent strike among cotton mill workers in North Carolina. The mill owners in each case have been the winners.

Tornado In Tennessee.

LA GRANGE, Tenn., Nov. 21.—A tornado struck this town yesterday, causing much damage and killing three persons outright. The dead are W. C. Moody and two negro women. The storm made its appearance shortly after midday and swept everything in its path. Eight residences and three churches were destroyed. The damage to cotton in the boll will be great.

Postmasters Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed: New York—Lounsberry, Charles Lisenbey; Preston Hollow, Stephen Brasse. Pennsylvania—Minnich, H. P. Ringer; Reinerton, Martha Kaufman.

Iron Discovered In the Caucasus.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 21.—Magnetic iron ores have been discovered at Elizabethpol, in the Caucasus. They are estimated to contain 5,000,000,000 poods, with 62 to 63 per cent of iron.

THE IMPERIAL EDICT

Chinese Decree For the Punishment of Boxer Leaders.

LIFE SENTENCE FOR TUAN AND CHWANG

Yu Hsien, Former Governor of Shansi, to Be Kept at Hard Labor In the Fathermost Border of the Country.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The Japanese legation has received from the foreign office at Tokyo the text of the Chinese imperial edict, dated the 13th inst., on the punishment of the antiforeign officials. It is to the following effect:

"Orders have been already issued for the punishment of the officials responsible for opening hostilities upon friendly powers and bringing the country into the present critical condition by neglecting to suppress and even by encouraging the Boxers. But as Peking and its neighborhood have not yet been entirely cleared of the Boxers the innocent people are still suffering terribly through the devastation of their fields and the destruction of their houses, a state of affairs which cannot fail to fill one with the bitterest feelings against these officials. And if they are not severely punished, how can the anger of the people be appeased and the indignation of the foreign powers allayed?

"Accordingly Prince Tuan is hereby deprived of his title and rank and shall, together with Prince Chwang, who has already been deprived of his title, be delivered to the clan court, to be kept in prison until the restoration of peace, when they shall be banished to Shengking, to be imprisoned for life. Princes Yi and Tsai Yung, who have both been already deprived of their titles, are also to be delivered to the clan court for imprisonment, while Prince Tsai Lien, also already deprived of title and rank, is to be kept confined in his own house. Duke Tsai Lan shall forfeit his ducal salary, but may be transferred with the degradation of one rank. Chief Censor Ying Nien shall be degraded two ranks and transferred. As to Kang Yi, minister of the board of civil appointment, upon his return from the commission on which he had been sent for the purpose of making inquiries into the Boxer affair he memorialized the throne in an audience strongly in their favor. He should have been severely punished but for his death from illness, and all penalties are accordingly remitted. Chao Shuy Yao, minister of the board of punishment, who had been sent on a mission similar to that of Kang Yi, returned almost immediately.

"Though such conduct was a flagrant neglect of his duties, still he did not make a distorted report to the throne, and therefore he shall be deprived of his rank, but allowed to retain his present office. Finally Yu Hsien, ex-governor of Shansi, allowed while in office the Boxers freely to massacre the Christian missionaries and converts. For this he deserves the severest punishment, and therefore he is to be banished to the farthermost border of the country and there to be kept at hard labor for life.

"We have a full knowledge of the present trouble from the very beginning, and therefore, though no impeachment has been brought by Chinese officials at home or abroad against Princes Yi, Tsai Lien and Tsai Young, we order them to be punished in the same manner as those who have been impeached. All who see this edict will thus perceive our justice and impartiality in inflicting condign penalties upon these officials."

President Angell's Opinion.

DETROIT, Nov. 21.—President James B. Angell of the University of Michigan, ex-minister to China, in the course of an address on China before the New England society of this city last night said that he saw only three solutions to the Chinese problem—first, to depose the emperor and place some one else in his place, but who to replace him with President Angell confessed his inability to say; second, to partition China among the powers, but Mr. Angell said that this would result in international strife, and he sincerely hoped it would not happen; third and to Mr. Angell the most feasible solution of the problem, to keep the present emperor on the throne and depose the empress dowager from all power. In conclusion, Mr. Angell said he believed the future of China rested on the successful introduction of the Christian religion into the country.

To Adopt Stronger Measures.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—"At last," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Morning Post, wiring yesterday, "the allies in Peking have resolved upon stronger measures to bring matters to a crisis. They have asked the viceroy of Nankin to state definitely his position toward the Chinese court and the question of forwarding supplies." "It is credibly reported," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, under yesterday's date, "that the empress dowager has telegraphed a secret decree warning all governors and viceroys to prepare for immediate war against the allies everywhere."

Chinamen Steal Electricity.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Charged with stealing several thousand dollars' worth of electric light from the Edison Electric Illuminating company, some of the merchants and restaurant keepers of Chinatown was brought to police court yesterday. The police and lighting people say that by an ingenious and simple device the meters have been made to register only half of the electricity used. Even the missionary meter of 16 Mott street, carefully watched over by Dr. Lee Chack Hoy, a Chinese preacher and schoolteacher, falsely registered the number of volts and amperes consumed.

Bond's Majority Grows.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Nov. 21.—Only one legislative district has not yet declared the result of its poll during the recent colonial general election. Yesterday official returns were received from the Burgeo district, showing another success for Mr. Bond, the premier. The delay in declaring the result was due to the continued stormy weather, which had prevented a collection of the ballot boxes. With one district yet to be heard from, Mr. Bond's supporters in the new house of assembly will number 31 and Mr. Morine's 4.

Fatal Mine Explosion.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—An explosion in shaft No. 1 of the Ellsworth Coal company at Ellsworth, Pa., yesterday killed one man and seriously injured three others. The explosion was caused by fire damp.

Extension of Rural Delivery System Urged.

PROVED A SUCCESS WHEREVER TRIED

First Assistant Postmaster General Johnson Says the Change Can Be Effected Without Excessive Cost to the Government.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—An enthusiastic plea for a wide expansion of rural free delivery is made in the annual report of W. M. Johnson, first assistant postmaster general. He says that the extraordinary development of this system during the past 12 months under the stimulus of appropriations of $450,000 for the fiscal year 1899-1900 and $1,750,000 for the fiscal year 1900-1901, is conclusive as showing that hereafter it must be a permanent and expanding feature of the postal administration. The service can now be extended as swiftly as congress may direct or as the means permit, until it covers all those portions of the United States now reached in whole or in part by the more primitive methods of the postal service, which have come down to us almost without change from colonial times. This change, Mr. Johnson believes, can be effected without excessive cost to the government.

Under ordinary conditions a full route is considered to be 25 miles, so devised that the carrier does not pass over the same ground twice in the same day. The congressional representative controls the appointments. The pay of the rural carriers is now from $400 to $500 per annum. There are no civil service restrictions, nor restrictions as to sex, but it is inexorably required that appointees shall be of good character.

It is proposed to extend rural delivery in accordance with the demands made from all parts of the country, so that each individual route may be dovetailed upon another route hereafter to be started, and with this idea constantly kept in view rural free delivery is eventually to extend over all well settled rural communities in the United States.

Bearing on the question of cost, a statement compiled from the books of the office shows that from December, 1899, to Nov 1, 1900, 439 star routes and mail messenger services have been discontinued or curtailed. Between July 1 and Nov. 1, 1900, the first four months of the present fiscal year, there have been 1,338 additional rural free delivery routes installed, supplying 922,397 people.

Commencing July 1 next it is proposed to include the cost of the postal service of Porto Rico and Hawaii in the regular appropriation instead of paying the same out of the military appropriation, as at present.

The total cost of the Porto Rican postal service for the last fiscal year was a little over $105,000, and the probable cost of the postal service for Hawaii for the next fiscal year is $72,804.

An appropriation of $18,000,000 is asked for compensation of postmasters for the next fiscal year. The regular free delivery service was established in 62 cities, necessitating the appointment of 170 carriers, making the total number of free delivery offices in operation June 30 last 795. Four free delivery offices have been established in Porto Rico and Hawaii. Regular free delivery, it is estimated, will cost $17,140,900 for the next fiscal year, an increase of almost 9 per cent. During the last fiscal year postal money orders issued amounted to $255,670,228, an increase of almost $31,000,000. It is apparent that if for the next two years the business in the money order system increases in volume correspondingly with that of the past year its receipts will reach $1,000,000 per day. They are now about $864,000.

Englishmen Get a Concession.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 21.—An English syndicate, with a capital of £1,000,000, has just secured a concession to exploit the Perhena goldfields, which are 370,000 acres in extent, in the Amur region. The syndicate will also be allowed to dredge and excavate the streams. The Marquis of Queensberry and Professor Holloway are the heads of the syndicate. It has been persistently rumored here for some time past that Mr. Cecil Rhodes has been in St. Petersburg in strict incognito recently engaged in some financial business. The rumor cannot be confirmed.

Roosevelt Denounces Telegram.

ALBANY, Nov. 21.—Governor Roosevelt last night referred to the publication in a New York city paper of an alleged telegram sent by Governor Elect Odell to him at Cripple Creek directing him to suppress the publication of Mayor Van Wyck's answer to the charges preferred that he held stock in the American Ice company, denounced the telegram, saying: "It is an absolute fake, pure and simple. I have the original telegram sent by Mr. Odell, and there is no similarity either in matter or date."

Manley Resigns.

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 21.—Joseph Manley, for 16 years chairman of the executive committee of the Maine Republican state committee, has sent his resignation as a member of the state committee to Hon. Bryon Boyd, the secretary, to take effect in the new year, when the incoming committee is organized. Mr. Manley has served continuously for 20 years on the committee and for 19 years as a member of the executive committee.

Agricultural Department Estimates.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The estimates of the department of agriculture for appropriations for the next fiscal year aggregate $4,659,050. This includes, however, $730,000 for agricultural experiment stations, which cannot be touched by the department; $1,096,320 for the weather bureau and $334,230 for salaries. The total represents an increase of 10 per cent over last year.

Freight Trains Collide.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 21.—Two freight trains on the Plant system collided 13 miles out of this city, and William Smith, colored, of Savannah, was killed. Engineers Dell and Broome and their colored firemen jumped and were seriously injured. The wreck took fire and was burned. The trains were laden with cotton, turpentine and rosin.

To Help Buffalo Exposition.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The New York city board of aldermen yesterday adopted a resolution giving permission to the directors of the Pan-American exposition to erect two poles and string banners advertising the exposition in certain streets.

CZAR HAS A RELAPSE.

It Is Attributed to an Injudicious Dietary.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—"The czar suffered a slight relapse yesterday. This is attributed," says the Moscow correspondent of The Daily Express, "to an injudicious dietary."

Dr. Erhfuhrer, a German specialist, writing in the St. Petersburg Viedomosti, says that the czar's temperament, so far as heart action is concerned, is so abnormal that it might deceive experts, and he has some misgivings that the physicians attending may have been misled in diagnosing the disease.

The advices received at Copenhagen from Livadia continue satisfactory.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of The Times, wiring Sunday, says:

"Strict censorship prevents the newspapers here from saying a word concerning the czar beyond the bulletins. No authentic details are obtainable as to the way the illness was caused. The court minister has not even favored the embassadors with a word of explanation. Private information has reached me that his majesty first caught cold from excess in bathing."

Senator Davis Gains Strength.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 21.—A quiet day was passed by United States Senator Davis, his condition yesterday afternoon being reported unchanged. At Senator Davis' home it was stated that the physicians had reported their patient as being stronger than for the last two days. The delirium, it is understood, continues, and this is his worst symptom. The respiration is eight above normal and the temperature slightly higher than Monday. The pulse is exactly as it was. Food and a tonic were taken as usual and digested without discomfort. This ability of the stomach to receive and of the system to assimilate nourishment is the one factor upon which the sick statesman must rely in his prolonged fight with disease.

The Disabled Red Star Liner.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The disabled Red Star liner Friesland, from New York for Southampton and Antwerp, which passed the Scilly islands yesterday morning in tow of the British steamer Cluden, the former having lost her rudder, and at 10:30 o'clock last night was passing the Eddystone lighthouse off Plymouth, has been unable to make any progress against the strong northeast wind, although the Cluden is using her utmost steam capacity.

Vermont Honors Liscum's Memory.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Nov. 21.—The bill of Mr. Barber of Barre to reorganize the supreme court of the state was killed in the house of representatives. The house adopted a joint resolution authorizing the governor to have painted a portrait of Brigadier General E. H. Liscum, a native of Vermont, who fell while at the head of the American troops in the attack on the Taku forts in China. The portrait is to be placed in the statehouse.

Rumor of Confession From McAlister

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—A call made by the Rev. Dr. Magie of Paterson, N. J., on Walter McAlister, who is one of the men in jail for the murder of Jennie Bosschieter, gave rise to a rumor that McAlister had confessed. Dr. Magie said in answer to questions: "I did call at the jail and had a talk with Walter McAlister, but I consider myself in honor bound as a clergyman to hold his confidence sacred."

Tornado Visits Mississippi.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 21.—A tornado visited north Mississippi yesterday afternoon, causing loss of life and much property damage. Reports from Lulul state that three negroes were killed, their bodies having been carried a distance of three miles by the wind. Many buildings were razed to the ground, and the damage to crops cannot be estimated at present.

The Horse Show.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Increased crowds marked the second day of the horse show, and increased enthusiasm was everywhere apparent. The day started in quietly, but by the time the afternoon events were fairly on Madison Square Garden was filled with fashionable women and well known society horsemen.

Adjudged Insane.

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—William A. Lavalley, the man who shot George C. Dustin at the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad roundhouse in Roxbury on Oct. 18, was formally adjudged insane yesterday afternoon by Dr. Jelly and another expert and by order of the court was sent to the state asylum at Westboro.

WAR REVENUE REDUCTION.

Important Changes In Present Law Likely at an Early Date.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Secretary Gage and Commissioner Wilson of the internal revenue bureau were before the ways and means committee for some time yesterday. The secretary told the committee that, in his opinion, there might be a reduction in revenues of $30,000,000. The war revenue act now raises about $100,000,000. Commissioner Wilson went over the schedules with the members of the committee, and both he and Secretary Gage were questioned as to where reductions could be made to the best advantage from the treasury viewpoint.

A considerable part of the discussion was confined to schedule B, which taxes medicinal and proprietary articles and preparations, perfumery, cosmetics, chewing gum, wines, etc. There was also discussion of stamp taxes.

The discussion indicated that the committee favored quite a change in this feature of the law and reductions wherever possible. The committee also desires to eliminate the taxes on conveyances, of which there has been a great deal of complaint.

It can be stated that in a general way it will be the aim of the committee to abolish the most burdensome taxes and to grant relief from stamp taxes as far as possible.

The committee late in the day called on the president to obtain his views on the proposed reduction. The committee is in session today.

Only a Pleasure Trip.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—In spite of the contradiction contained in dispatches of Nov. 17 of the report that Mr. Alfred Harmsworth, proprietor of the London Daily Mail and other papers, was about to visit the United States with the intention of establishing a Daily Mail in New York, Mr. Harmsworth has been bombarded with cable dispatches from New York asking for particulars of his intended venture. Mr. Harmsworth said yesterday: "The object of my present visit to the United States and Canada, like my previous one, is holiday making pure and simple. After visiting the Dominion I am going to southern California and thence to Florida, for tarpon fishing. I shall be accompanied by Mrs. Harmsworth, my secretary and an automobile. I do not wish to hear the word 'newspaper' mentioned from the time I land from the Teutonic in New York, Dec. 26, to the time of my departure from there on the Oceanic in March, my only desire being to get a vacation, which I have not had for several years."

Cow Ate Dynamite.

SAUGERTIES, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Andrew McGuire, a deputy sheriff who lives near this place, owns a cow that is feared more than if she were a roaring lion. McGuire milks her with his heart in his throat way out in a field away from his other cows, and neighbors shun the animal, running away in panic when they see her brindle colored sides. But it is not the cow herself that has caused so great a disturbance in the neighborhood. She is as harmless as a kitten, but at present she is trying to digest two 10 inch dynamite cartridges, and the shadow of an impending earthquake follows her about.

Silk Mills to Close.

PATERSON, N. J., Nov. 21.—The Pioneer Silk company, the oldest concern in this city, with mills at Allentown, Pa., and in Paterson, will ask for the appointment of a receiver to wind up its affairs at both places. The concern has been running down for some time, but will be able to pay off all its indebtedness. The shutdown will throw 2,000 hands out of work. The mill was founded by the late John Ryle, the father of the silk industry in America.

Rear Admiral Stembel Dead.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Rear Admiral Roger N. Stembel, retired, is dead from pneumonia at the Fifth Avenue hotel. He would have been 90 years old next month, and with the exception of Thomas O. Selfridge, the elder, had more years of life and service than any man in the list of rear admirals. Rear Admiral Stembel had a record of gallant service in the civil war. He made his home in Washington, passing the summer at Narragansett Pier.

General Lee In New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Major General Fitz-Hugh Lee has arrived at this port from Cuba on the Ward line steamship Morro Castle. He will stay at the Grand hotel for three or four days. After reporting to his superiors in Washington he will then proceed to Omaha and take command of the department of the Missouri, to which he has been assigned.

Was Captain Muncey's Body.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The inquest on the skeleton found in a swamp near Babylon, on Long Island, Monday, proved that it was that of Captain Jesse Muncey, who disappeared Dec. 22, 1899. Papers found in a pocketbook established the identity. It is thought the captain, who was 79 years old, wandered into the swamp.

Russia Retrenching.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 21.—Russia is retrenching on account of the Chinese troubles. The official Journal of Commerce announces that the proposed increase of 3,500,000 rubles in the appropriations for popular schools in 1901 will not be made.

BIG BATTLE RAGING.

General De Wet Leads Boers Against the British.

DISTURBANCES AT SEVERAL POINTS.

Railway and Telegraph Lines Broken Near Edenburg—Supply Wagons and Escort Ambushed In Natal. Plans For Roberts' Departure.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Dispatches from South Africa report that a great battle is proceeding between the British forces and the Boers under General De Wet.

Lord Roberts cables the war office that the Boers attacked a British outpost at Thaba N'Chu, in the rich grain district east of Bloemfontein, in the Orange River Colony on Nov. 16 and killed a British officer and three men. They allowed a prisoner to return to the British garrison with a request for an ambulance.

Lord Roberts states that the Boers are very active in the southern part of the Orange River Colony and have repeatedly broken the railway and telegraph lines near Edenburg. He says the occupation of Klerksdorp by General Barton is important, as it greatly hampers the burghers in their operations.

The commander in chief also reports that the Boers have ambushed a wagon load of supplies and 13 men at Utrecht, Natal. They afterward released the men, four of whom were slightly wounded.

A dispatch from Cape Town says that the transport Canada is being fitted up preparatory to taking Lord Roberts home. The commander in chief's departure has been delayed owing to the illness of his daughter. Lord Roberts telegraphed the Cape Town municipality that he was still unable to name the date on which he would partake of their hospitality. The council has tendered a reception and banquet to the field marshal before he leaves for England.

Awaiting Kruger.

MARSEILLES, Nov. 21.—No definite news has been received as to the whereabouts of the Gelderland, but arrangements are going forward for a possible reception and for a banquet this evening, at which, however, Mr. Kruger is not likely to be present. "The crowd in the streets to witness the arrival of Mr. Kruger," said the prefect of the department, "will probably exceed 100,000, which is a fifth of the population of Marseilles. Nevertheless no disorder, in my opinion, will occur. The sympathies of the inhabitants are undoubtedly with the Boers, and Mr. Kruger will receive a rousing reception, but except for a few isolated cries against England, which it will be impossible to prevent, but which will be promptly repressed if the peaceful character of the demonstration seems likely to be in any way jeopardized, we expect nothing that would offend the English."

Recent Military Movements.

BERLIN, Nov. 21.—The war office has received the following telegram from Field Marshal Count von Waldersee: "A detachment consisting of two companies of infantry, a force of mounted men and two guns under command of Major Muhlenfels has been dispatched via Sankai-tien, 21 kilometers west of Peking, with orders to push on to the great wall. The column under Colonel Yorck arrived 25 kilometers southeast of Hsuen-hwa-fu Nov. 17. On returning Colonel Yorck will establish communication with Major Muhlenfels."

Lake Navigation Delayed.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 21.—Navigation on the great lakes is practically at a standstill owing to snowstorms on the upper lakes and dense fog on lake Erie. A number of vessels have not been heard from for five days and are undoubtedly at anchor waiting for the weather to clear. This will mean the shortening of the season's work by one trip for many of the ore and grain carriers and will decrease the profits of the year very materially.

Official Returns From Kansas.

TOPEKA, Nov. 21.—The official returns from Kansas counties just compiled show that the total vote of the state was 349,917. For president, McKinley received 187,881 and Bryan 162,077; for governor, Stanley (Rep.) received 179,407 and Breidenthal (Fusion) 168,830. The Republicans will have a majority of 71 on joint ballot in the next legislature.

To Remove the Maine.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Commander Lucien Young, captain of the port of Havana, has called for proposals for removing the wreck of the Maine from the bottom of Havana harbor. The bids will be opened Dec. 15 next. The contractor will be allowed until April 1 next to remove the material and must engage to use no explosives in the removal.

Internal Revenue Receipts.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The collections of internal revenue for the month of October aggregated $27,464,495 against $26,147,446 for the same month last year. The receipts are classified as follows: Spirits, $11,095,550; tobacco, $5,420,983; fermented liquors, $6,491,488; oleomargarine, $231,306; special taxes, $53,571; miscellaneous, $4,171,595.

Roberts' Resignation Accepted.

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 21.—At the semi-annual meeting of the board of trustees of Hamilton college held here the resignation of Hon. Ellis H. Roberts of Washington, treasurer of the United States, as trustee was accepted, and Charles A. Gardner of the class of 1880, now a resident of New York, was elected to fill the vacancy.

A Call to Prayer.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—William E. Dodge, president, and L. T. Chamberlain, secretary of the Evangelical Alliance for the United States, has sent out an appeal to "all Christian people" asking for a concert of prayer. The appeal calls attention to the hopeful times of the present on one hand and the perilous unrest on the other.

Ohio Bank Blown Up.

ASHLEY, O., Nov. 21.—Eight men made an unsuccessful attempt to rob the Bank of Ashley yesterday. After using four charges of dynamite and shattering the outer doors of the vault the citizens were aroused to fight. They were met with a fusillade of bullets, but the would be robbers beat a retreat.

Population of Illinois.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The population of the state of Illinois as officially announced is 4,821,550 against 3,826,351 in 1890. This is an increase of 995,199, or 26 per cent.

Downfall of Mr. Thompson.

The Jersey City News wonders if the talk about making Senator Stokes Clerk in Chancery, at the cost of turning down Lewis J. Thompson, "means that since the urbane Charlie Reed has become the Republican boss of Somerset the State leaders have no further use" for Mr. Thompson. The uncertainty of politics is thus pointed out by The News. Not long ago, it says, Mr. Thompson was "a heap big brave in the councils of the party," but our Jersey City contemporary thinks that the downfall of the Somerville Statesman dates from the time when he recognized Mr. Reed with an Assembly candidacy. Continuing, The News says:

"Mr. Reed began moderately enough as a candidate for the Assembly, but soon surprised Mr. Thompson by setting himself up as an aspirant for the boship of the county. The struggle was a bitter one while it lasted, and resulted in the complete overthrow of Mr. Thompson. Now it is announced that he is to pay the penalty of failure by being refused a second term in the Chancery Clerk's office. Thus again does it become apparent that the Republican party has no use for a deposed boss."

Martin Act Constitutional.

Ever since the operation of the Martin Act for the adjustment of taxes and assessments in the municipalities of this State, there has been a serious question to the law—that of its constitutionality. Purchases of property under its provisions have been made in many instances with the suspicion that, perhaps, in the end they would not be of good title. The settlement of this question depended upon the litigation affecting it which was before the courts of the State.

Now the decision rendered by the Court of Errors and Appeals, filed on Monday, settles the question in a positive manner and to the effect that the Martic Act is constitutional. The unanimity of the decision makes it as strong as it is possible to make it. The decision is of great importance to Plainfield, for in this city now the Martin Act is in active process of cleaning up the delinquent taxes of a score of years, and many properties are thereby affected. The effect of it is to give substantial value for business purposes to the properties secured under the provisions of the law.

Still the Empire State.

The State of New York, with its 7,268,009 inhabitants, which means a gain of more than 1,270,000 in a decade, retains it name of the Empire Commonwealth. Its population is not only larger than was that of the whole Union in 1810, but it is larger than was that of England at the time of the Revolutionary War. It is considerably larger than that of the kingdom of of Denmark and the Netherlands put together, so far as their European inhabitants are concerned. Even Pennsylvania, which now has 6,301,365 inhabitants, is larger than Belgium, and Illinois, with its 4,821,550, out numers the Netherlands.

The United States is now in the second rank among the world's great powers. In 1800 it stood eighth and at the bottom of the list in population. The powers are now grouped as follows: Russia, 130,896,628; United States, 76,295,220; Germany, 53,000,000; Austria-Hungary, 42,660,906; Great Britain, 40,559,954; France, 38,517,975; Italy, 31,000 000.

Gov. Voorhees has received the annual report of the board of managers and the officers of the State Hospital for the Insane at Trenton. Accompanying the report is an urgent request for an increase in the annual appropriation in order that the work of the institution might be more satisfactorily carried out. The board states in its report that the hospital is now in an overcrowded condition and requests Gov. Voorhees to recommend that the Legislature place $50,000 at the disposal of the board, principally for the purpose of constructing a dormitory for the male employes of the hospital.

All the speculation as to who Governor Voorhees would name to succeed Gottfried Kruger as a Justice of the Supreme Court, he having announced his determination of resigning, has come to naught. Judge Kruger went to Trenton yesterday with his resignation all prepared to present, but after he arrived there the Governor and several of his colleagues of the bench prevailed upon him to reconsider his determination and to continue in the position. The resignation was then torn up, proving that even when a Judge of the Supreme Court makes up his mind it can be changed.

There is a strong and growing public sentiment in New Jersey in favor of the voting machine in elections. It is being voiced by the local press in all parts of the State. As the Paterson Press says: "Then we shall all know who is elected by a decent bedtime on election nights, and feel like something better than thirty cents the next day. There will be no mistakes in tally sheets; no recounts; no shadow of doubt or fraud; no chance for the briber to make sure that the goods are delivered."

The census of Hawaii shows a population of 154,000. It is, therefore, only about 50 per cent. larger than the county of Union, comments the Elizabeth Journal.

FIGHTING DIPHTHERIA.

Physicians Appointed to Inspect the School Children.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Nov. 21st—Owing to the prevalence and spread of diphtheria in this city during the past month the Board of Health will take vigorous measures to check the spread of the disease. To this end the board, after a compromise with the health committee of the City Council, announced the appointment of Dr. P. DuBois Bunting and Dr. Chas. Schlechter to inspect all children of public and parochial schools of the city, beginning last Monday. Where any child is found attending school who shows the slightest traces of diphtheria, the pupil will be sent home and put under quarantine.

The malady is not confined to any one particular section of the city, but seems general. Health Inspector Richards declares, however, that the conditions are not as bad as they were a week ago.

TAXABLE AND NON-TAXABLE.

State Board of Taxation Prepares New Property List.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Nov. 21—The members of the State Board of Taxation have prepared a list of all property which is taxable under the laws of the State, and the decisions of the courts, and has also prepared a comprehensive list of property which is not taxable in New Jersey.

The general tax act of 1866 was the last public document clearly defining the different classes of property subject to taxation.

Wants Information About a Burglar.

Constable W. F. Polhemus, of Lincoln, who recently had an exciting time capturing two burglars at his home, received a letter a few days ago from a postmaster in the upper part of New York State, in which the writer asks for information concerning one of the burglars who gave his name as John Ryan. The postmaster says that not long ago burglars broke into his office and made quite a haul. One of the burglars captured said his name was John Ryan. The New York State man was anxious to know whether the man caught at Lincoln was the same person caught in his town. Mr. Polhemus answered the letter giving the postmaster such information as he could obtain.

Gentlemen:—I must say in regard to GRAIN-O that there is nothing better or healthier. We have used it for years. My brother was a great coffee drinker. He was taken sick and the doctor said coffee was the cause of it, and told us to use GRAIN-O. We got a package but did not like it at first, but now would not be without it. My brother has been well ever since we started to use it.

THANKSGIVING FURNITURE.

Our offering of Sideboards, China Closets, Dining Tables and Dining Chairs for the greatest feast day of the year, is worthy of your earnest attention. The styles and prices cannot be duplicated elsewhere. Have you seen the elegant dining room display in our east window and also in the basement. There has never been such a display in the city before.

Sideboards.

Made of solid oak, plain and quartered, beautiful golden finish, lined drawer for silver, French bevel plate mirrors, side brackets, elegant carvings, with or without canopy tops, some with serpentine and some with swell fronts, 30 different styles which represent the best manufacturers in the country. Without doubt the handsomest as well as the cheapest line of sideboards ever shown under one roof. Some as low as 9.98 and so on up to 25.00, but those at 14.98, 15.98 and 18.75 are noteworthy.

Dining Room Tables.

In solid oak golden finish, size of tops 42x42 and 44x44, some with gloss finish and some rubbed and polished, extending to 6, 8 and 10 feet, the legs are heavy turned, some of which are fluted, some twisted and others spiral shaped, with plain and claw feet, the prices are 5.98, 6.75, 7.98, 8.48 and up to 12.98.

Dining Room Chairs

at 1.10, a nice high back chair, golden oak finish, cane seat and arm braces. At 1.25, a solid golden oak chair, very neat design, with cane seat and arm braces. At 1.35, a solid oak chair, golden finish, high back, new fan shape spindles, cane seat and arm braces. At 1.48, a very strong and durable chair, golden oak with cane seat, arm braces and fancy embossed back. At 1.98, about six different styles in golden oak, highly polished, box seat chairs with high back, arm braces, etc.

New China Closets.

Solid oak china closets, golden finish, with round ends, carved tops and adjustable shelves, at 12.98 instead of 15.00. Quarter sawed golden oak china closets with round ends, carved top and base, rope edge and French legs at 14.98 instead of 16.50

Lamps.

It would be hard to find another such gathering of high grade lamps such as we are exhibiting, and after all that may be said about gas and electric lights, the lamp still has its place in the home, the picturesque effect of its form and decoration gives a finish to the entire furnishings and the soft rich glow of the blended light gives a mellow refinement that brings the entire room into eye-pleasing harmony. The place of the lamp in the furnishing scheme is most important. The variety of our offerings is too great to describe in detail, so come and judge for yourself. Suggestion of price ranges

75c and up to 13.98.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations, Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table.

DUNELLEN

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Nov. 21.—The first of a series of four entertainments and lectures to be given under the auspices of the Board of Education, took place in the Methodist church last evening. It was a concert by the Rutgers College Glee Club and was greatly enjoyed by a large audience. The different selections rendered were loudly encored and were given in the club's usual excellent manner. The next entertainment will take place Tuesday, December 4th.

The first consignment of material for the ironwork on the Jefferson avenue bridge arrived Monday. Lumber for the floor of the bridge is also on the ground and the work of completion will be pushed as rapidly as possible. At present those who were in the habit of using the old bridge are greatly inconvenienced, and the completion will be welcomed gladly.

Mrs. J. D. De Groff and her mother, Mrs. D. E. Crowell, of Craig place, North Plainfield, returned home yesterday from a visit of nearly a fortnight with Mrs. Crowell's mother at Chester, N. J. Mrs. Crowell also had the pleasure of seeing many old acquaintances of her young days and the academy she attended which was built in 1830.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church will hold a dime sociable Friday evening, November 23d, at the home of Mrs. Frank Wynkoop, on Walnut street.

Mrs. George Homan, of New York, a former Dunellen resident, renewed old acquaintances in the borough yesterday.

The Spendthrift Bowling Club will meet on Taylor's alleys this evening and indulge in a few practice games.

Mrs. Smith Watson and her sister, Miss Hannah Pierce, visited relatives at Bound Brook yesterday.

Mrs. Daniel Randolph, of South Plainfield, was the guest or borough relatives Monday.

The Board of Freeholders will meet today for the purpose of paying all election bills.

Mrs. A. F. Sampson and Mrs. Annie Abbott spent yesterday with Somerville friends.

William Doty, of North Branch, was the guest of borough friends yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Runyon entertained company from Newark Monday.

Mrs. William Winges is suffering from a severe attack of illness.

Maxson Dunham is quite ill at his home on Prospect avenue.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Nov. 21—A commotion among the pigeons in M. W. Casterline's cotes attracted considerable attention yesterday, but for some time the cause of the disturbance was not to be found. Upon its continuance, however, a ladder was procured and a closer inspection was made by Charles Rogers and John Downey. To their great surprise the cause of the disturbance was found to be an unusually large 'possum, which in some unaccountable manner had entered the cote. The animal was quickly hauled out and was found to weigh nearly 20 pounds. It had evidently been living on the young squabs in the cote, judging from its size.

Fred Sandford and John Kettling, of Plainfield, spent yesterday hunting in this vicinity and were rewarded by the capture of two rabbits and a few quail.

The G. E. Club met Monday evening with Miss Kate Coriell and passed several hours in the usual enjoyable manner.

The railroad company has placed a small waiting room at Samptown for the use of commuters on cold mornings.

Mrs. William Ackerman, of Plainfield, was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davis, yesterday.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Nov. 21—Several times of late a woman, neatly dressed in black, has made a house-to-house canvass in the village asking for money. The woman tells a sad tale of woe which generally opens the purse-strings of the sympathizing ones, and she is generally able to make a neat little sum from her canvass. For the benefit of those who have been imposed upon The Press will state that the money is spent for rum, and not for her starving children.

The old place in the rear of the greenhouses on Front street, known as the chicken farm, is undergoing extensive repairs, which, when finished, will be a great improvement to the property.

Rev. G. M. Shott, of the Baptist church, will preach the annual Thanksgiving sermon Sunday morning, there being no usual union Thanksgiving service this year.

Miss Duke and Miss Browning, who have been spending several days as the guests of Miss Louise Robison, have returned to their homes in Camden.

Eugene Ford has disposed of his tonsorial business to Mr. De Graff, of Elizabeth. Mr. Ford will return to Philadelphia, his former home.

The old flag pole which has stood a silent sentinel at the head of Front street for a number of years is sadly in need of a coat of paint.

Mrs. Mathias Schmidt and children, of Oceanic, have been spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Ola Johnson, of Front street.

Summons has been issued in Judge Clark's court in the case of Duyckinck against Pack, returnable November 24th.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Westfield, Nov. 21—Indications are that Westfield will be a city shortly after the next legislature meets and the commuter element of the town is already making plans to capture the offices which will result. At a meeting of the so-called Sound Money Club held Saturday evening in the town rooms for the purpose of forming a Good Government Club, the merchants and those who make their living in the town were barred out in favor of the New Yorkers and as a result there is already talk of a warm time at the coming spring election. J. H. Pencheon was elected president, J. B. Wilson, vice-president, George B. Dickerson, secretary, and W. W. Burritt, treasurer. A committee consisting of Messrs. Ira C. Lambert, Frank S. Smith and J. Alston Dennis was appointed to visit Summit and study the form of government in that city.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Nov. 21st—Miss Sarah Giles taught the grammar department of the school yesterday in place of Miss Higgins, who was detained at home by illness.

Landlord Poling, of the Lehigh Valley Hotel, has taken eleven boarders who are building a bridge for the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company.

Albert Kahler, of Perth Amboy, spent Sunday in town as the guest of Milton Major.

Al. Manning has the buildings on the Jones place enclosed.

Was Dog or Horse Bad?

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Nov. 21—A case of considerable interest was tried before Justice Kitchen and a jury of twelve men yesterday at the Court House. The case was that of Charles E. and Jennie S. Wood against Charles Davis, for damages sustained by reason of a vicious dog. On August 31st Mr. and Mrs. Wood, while driving from North Branch to Somerville, were attacked by a dog belonging to Davis, which bit Wood's horse in the legs causing it to jump and throw Mrs. Wood out, which injured her severely. The defense was that the dog was not vicious and that the horse was bad. After being out several hours the jury failed to agree, standing six to six, and were discharged.

Shot by Half-witted Boy.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Somerville, Nov. 21—Robert Burnet, a half-witted young man living near Liberty Corner, was committed to the Somerville jail by Squire Layton, for shooting Wesley Jerolaman, of Liberty Corner, on Friday last. Jerolaman was driving through a piece of woods when Burnet raised his shot-gun and peppered Jerolaman full of bird shot. A short time ago Jerolaman was shot by some unseen person, scaring his horse, which ran away and threw him out injuring him considerably. It is thought that Burnet did the shooting at that time.

Charles J. Newman, of Richmond street, who has been on the sick list for a few weeks past, has entirely recovered.

A CORRECTION.

When the Colonel came home, leave of absence to spend.
The newspaper called for a meeting
Of all the town people, that they might extend "To the bottle scarred Colonel a greeting."

Then the Colonel he asked the newspaper man
What he meant by such a reflection,
And the newspaper man to tremble began,
And promised to make correction.

So, in the next issue, the editor said:
"Through an error in last week's Journal
We were made to say bottle scarred Colonel;
instead,
We should have said battle scared Colonel."

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness

The patrons of Music Hall on Friday night will have a genuine trip to Chinatown. Charles E. Blaney's elaborate scenic production of the "King of the Opium Ring" is equal to a visit to the famous Chinatown of San Francisco. The production is a novelty and that, first of all, commends it. It is the only production on the road which gives decidedly interesting pictures of Chinatown. The first act shows the Bay of San Francisco with the Golden Gate in the distance with the revenue cutter in hot pursuit of the smugglers' yacht. The second act is a scene in the Chinese quarter underground and shows the interior of an opium joint and the effects of the deadly drug. The third act opens with a street scene in Chinatown. A change follows to the celebration of Chinese New Year, the scene being beautifully illuminated and decorated with lanterns, flags, etc. In this act, the wonderful acrobatic feat of the Chinese gymnasts takes place. Forming a human tower they rescue the heroine from the balcony of a Chinese restaurant, carry her across the stage and deposit her safely upon the balcony on the opposite side.

Leon W. Washburn's Great Southern Minstrel Company, which will be at Music Hall Monday next, is considered one of the largest and best organizations now on the road. They travel in two special cars and their performances are said to be very superior this season. The programme is replete with everything that pertains to first-class and refined minstrelsy, and will undoubted give great satisfaction. The street parade at noon of the day of performance is a feature that should not be missed.

D. B. Levis' big production of "Uncle Josh Spruceby" will be the Thanksgiving Day attractions at Music Hall at afternoon and night performances. Special scenery, two big bands, a solo operatic orchestra, and a company of thirty-five people are some of the features promised, and many novel specialties will be introduced. The play is handsomely staged and a splendid company of acting people present the production. The great saw mill scene introduced is realistic. Reserved seat tickets are on sale at box office.

COURT OF ERRORS.

Seventy-six Cases for November Term Which Begins Next Tuesday.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Nov. 21.—The November term of the court of errors and appeals will open this morning. The calendar is an unusually heavy one, 76 cases already having been listed.

Among the cases on the list is the appeal of former Secretary of State Henry C. Kelsey, from the supreme court decision ordering him to pay over to the State some $25,000 retained as fees while he was in office. These fees, which were received as clerk of the prerogative court, Mr. Kelsey retained upon advice of counsel that he was entitled to them under the law.

The question, however, was raised by the attorney-general that the law fixing a salary for the secretary of State abolished all fees. The decision is one which affects also the present secretary of State, as, if decided in favor of Mr. Kelsey, the present incumbent will be entitled to collect the similar fees during his term of office.

ROGERS WORKS MAY CLOSE.

No Progress Made in Saving Big Industry for Paterson.

December is drawing near, but all attempts to close the deal for the purchase of the Rogers Locomotive Works have failed.

The original parties in the deal are still interested, but nothing has been accomplished, because Jacob Rogers still insists upon a $200,000 bond on their part to accept the plant at an appraised value.

If the plant is not sold by Dec. 1, Mr. Rogers says he will then close it down There is no doubt about this point. Many sections of the shops have been already closed down and workmen are being laid off every day.

The chances are that if Mr. Rogers does not withdraw his condition about the $200,000 bond the works will be closed on the date originally set by him, Dec, 1.

—It is understood that the Jersey Central Railroad Company has decided to establish a ticket office in the new station. This would be appreciated by the travelling public.

Karlsruhe. Der 23 Jahre alte Kaufmann Karl Gustav Grünenwald, der auf dem Bureau eines Vertreters einer auswärtigen Lebensversicherungs-Gesellschaft beschäftigt war, stahl einen Geldbrief mit 968 Mark, der zur Aufgabe zur Post bereitet war, und suchte damit das Weite.

Baden-Baden. In einem hiesigen Gasthofe bemerkte man, daß der Fahrstuhl sich nicht mehr abwärts bewegen ließ. Ein hinzugerufener Monteur fand in dem Schacht ein Zimmermädchen als Leiche vor. Das Mädchen hatte den Fahrstuhl benutzt und unvorsichtiger Weise während der Fahrt hinausgeschaut, so daß ihm der Kopf eingedrückt wurde.

Baierthal. Der 46 Jahre alte Landwirth Johann Neuburger lebte mit seinen Stiefbrüdern Georg und Josef wegen Erbschaftsstreitigkeiten auf gespanntem Fuße. Als nun die Stiefbrüder ein Pferd mißhandelten, griff er sie an, erntete aber selber Prügel. Aus Rache setzte Johann die Scheune in Brand und hängte sich dann am Dachstuhl auf. Er wurde jedoch noch rechtzeitig abgeschnitten und kürzlich zu 1½ Jahren Gefängniß verurtheilt.

Freiburg. Durch den Sektionsbefund der mit einer Stichwunde in der Herzgegend im Sternenwald aufgefundenen Frau Kümmerle und durch die Nachforschungen der Staatsanwaltschaft wurde festgestellt, daß es sich nicht, wie anfänglich angenommen wurde, um einen Mord, sondern um einen Selbstmord handelt. Die Frau war schon seit längerer Zeit gemüthskrank.

Pforzheim. Ein 15 Jahre altes Dienstmädchen, Namens Fanny Schuster, verübte an dem einjährigen Töchterchen ihres Dienstherrn, des Fabrikanten C. Bauer, einen Mordversuch. Es gab dem Kinde Schwefelsäure ein. Die jugendliche Verbrecherin flüchtete, wurde aber noch Nachts um 2 Uhr bei Verwandten ermittelt und verhaftet.

A gentleman residing at Greenwich, Conn., tells about a visit from his cousin Sallie, whose home is in Brooklyn, and how all the folks remarked how well she was looking. One evening, confidentially, she showed some Ripans Tabules and told how she used to suffer from indigestion, but, having read about people who had been benefited by Ripans Tabules, she decided to make a trial of them herself and the effect had been "wonderful as you can see, Fred," said she. She no longer has heart-burn or distress of the stomach after eating nor suffers any more from nausea, and more than that she has gained seven pounds in weight. The man who thus heard recommended so highly, and by a near relative in whose judgment he had confidence, writes that he thereupon decided to try them himself, having frequently suffered from heart-burn. He asserts that now, after eating a hearty meal, he always takes a Tabule and actually keeps them on the dining-room table for use just as, it is said, people down South, in malaria districts, used to serve quinine.

WINTER MATERIALS.

Favorite Goods For Costumes of Various Kinds.

Scotch plaids have completely returned to favor and are largely employed for the winter wardrobe not only of children, for whom they are always pretty, but for grown persons. The coloring is, of course, various, but chiefly soft, black and red, blue and green and black and white being the favorite combinations. Where plaid is used for the entire costume plain velvet forms an appropriate trimming, but plaids are often used with plain goods to match, a plaid skirt having a plain waist, or vice versa. There are many attractive plaid flannels for shirt waists, such waists being much in vogue.

Panne, both plain and figured, retains its prestige and composes some very elaborate waists for theater and evening wear. It is combined with rich lace, embroideries and artistic buttons.

The sketch shows a costume of laurel green cloth. The skirt is plain around the hips, but plaited below them and at the back also, the foot being edged by a band of sable fur. There is a narrow front breadth of white cloth, with applications of green cloth. The bodice, plain at the back, is plaited in front, with a plastron of white cloth with green applications. A sort of bolero yoke of green cloth is bordered with fur and covered with lines of black velvet ribbons. It is closed in front by an ornamental clasp. The sleeves terminate below the elbow with cuffs of white cloth, with green applications, finished with fur, and there are full lower sleeves of white silk, with buttoned cuffs. The hat of green velvet is trimmed with black velvet and a gold buckle. JUDIC CHOLLET.

USE OF JEWELRY.

It Is a Conspicuous Detail of Winter Fashions.

The vogue of jewelry is ever on the increase. The very buttons that fasten street toilets are works of art, although not so elaborate as those used on gowns and wraps for greater ceremony. Not a bow or bit of drapery is seen that is not secured by a pin or a buckle. Cravats are ornamented by a jewel, and belt buckles offer a legitimate field for the jeweler's cunning, where all his ingenuity is expended, and the handles of umbrellas are fantastic and unique in the extreme.

As for hat ornaments, they also are multitudinous. The general tendency is toward long, curved, narrow buckles, which are used to fasten draperies drawn through them. For the hair there are wired bows of velvet or satin, sprinkled with spangles and secured in the middle by a jewel. Tiny ostrich tips also are powdered with brilliants and fastened by a sparkling brooch.

The cut shows a walking gown of pastel blue cloth. The skirt is plaited all around, with cloth straps stitched over the plaits to a point a little below the knee, whence the plaits fall free. The bodice is ornamented with stitched straps fastened at the ends by buttons and has a yoke and plastron in one of golden brown velvet. The top of the sleeve is also of golden brown velvet, the blue cloth sleeves, with stitched straps, being drawn over it. The belt is of white kid, with a gold buckle. The hat of blue felt is trimmed with blue velvet and golden brown feathers. JUDIC CHOLLET.

FASHIONS FOR LITTLE FOLKS

Babies' Cloaks and Dresses For Older Children.

For little babies the favorite coat is gathered at the waist or at the point immediately below the arms which passes for a waist in a baby. It has a guipure collar or a short, circular pelerine. Ondine, peau de soie or moire is used for these cloaks, which, of course, are warmly lined. Embroidered cashmere has been abandoned as having become too common.

GIRL'S COSTUME.

A pretty coat for a very little child is of red cashmere. It has a pointed yoke, on which applications of lace insertion form V's. The body of the coat is mounted on the yoke in plaits, which are stitched as far as the waist, below which they are free, affording fullness to the skirt.

Dresses entirely of Dutch plaid, trimmed with plain velvet ribbon, are liked for little girls. Plaids are always suitable for children, and plaid poplins in delicate shades are used for their nicer gowns.

Children's stockings continue to be black, by preference, or else of the same color as the costume.

The girl's costume shown in the sketch is of printed challie. The skirt is gathered at the waist in the back and closed at the side of the front under three rows of narrow black velvet ribbon, with loops forming choux. The blouse bodice fastens at the side in the same way and has a square yoke of guipure outlined by three rows of velvet ribbon. The tight sleeves have three bands of velvet below the elbow and terminate in two puffs of guipure. The belt is wide and is of dotted silk. JUDIC CHOLLET.

FASHIONS IN JEWELS.

Gems Now Worn and Odd Designs In Ornaments.

Diamonds are never out of fashion, of course; they are perpetually in demand and of late have risen in market value. Emeralds, however, are enjoying an extreme vogue just now and are a favorite wedding gift. Jewelers have revived many antique and mediæval designs and made still more of the same style, using tinted gold to set the jewels.

In the same character are ornaments of enamel and Egyptian curios and gold of bronze, green or red tones. These are charming and most artistic.

In America the conventional engagement ring is a diamond solitaire. In France it is more often a sapphire combined with diamonds, or a pearl surrounded by diamonds, or vice versa.

A new way of mounting single diamonds is in an almost invisible setting, placed on a tiny spring at the end of a long, slender pin, to be placed in the hair or corsage. This arrangement allows the jewel to tremble and increases its brilliant appearance.

Today's illustration shows a gown for a young girl. It is of mauve cashmere. The bodice and the skirt are ornamented with corded tucks. The short bolero is bordered with embroidery, and a line of embroidery extends from the collar down the outside of the sleeves, which are open at the wrist, showing undersleeves of white satin gathered at the hand. Two large revers, ornamented with enamel buttons, extend the full length of the front. The collar is of white satin. JUDIC CHOLLET.

FANCIES OF FASHION.

Stripes and Checks Are in Great Favor at This Moment.

Wherein the New Skirt Differs from Its Predecessor — Radical Changes in Headgear and Fur Wraps.

[Special Chicago Letter.]

FOR some reason or other, unknown to any but those in high authority, the fashions have not settled themselves in anything like a reliable manner, but on the contrary are so constantly changing that one cannot be certain from day to day just what surprises will be sprung in the way of new modes and fancies. It would seem perfectly safe, however, to order either stripes or checks for the new cloth gown, for never were stripes and checks seen in greater variety and never were they in more general demand than at the present moment. Smart is the only word that fitly describes the new striped clothes, while too much cannot be said in praise of this season's checked material. A dull red and black check is to be reckoned first on fashion's list, and is the one most sought after for separate skirts as well as for swell-looking "tailor-mades."

Tailors are making the coats to these gowns very short—in fact, they reach only just below the waist. You can well imagine the careful and exact fitting they require, for unless well made, when worn open in front, as is the present fashion, no matter what the state of the weather may happen to be, they will wrinkle and creep half way up the back in the most uncomfortable manner.

Within the week I have seen some decidedly swell costumes made of tweed, showing the fashionable dull red and black mixture. Some were fashioned with chic little bolero jackets, the collars, which were of black taffeta silk, being embroidered with gold thread, or, to be more explicit, bordered with an embroidery done in gold thread. As an interesting item of fashion news I might mention that coat and jacket collars outlined by braiding or a narrow embroidery are more sought after just now than those entirely covered with embroidery, which were so popular when the season first opened.

But to return to the new tweed material. It comes in all the stylish mixtures and is handsomer in texture than ever before, being soft and pliant and easy to manipulate. Fashionable dressmakers are using it for their most elegant street costumes, while up-to-date tailors declare it to be the material par excellence for the winter tailor gown.

There are interesting things galore concerning the new skirt. For the moment it would seem as if every skirt, whether made of silk or cloth, must have one or more shaped flounces, the main idea still being to have a vast amount of fullness about the foot. As a skirt flowing at the foot must by all the laws of contrast fit closely to the figure above, it goes without saying that the skirt clinging about the hips is still held in highest favor. The new skirt shows the change in fashion more in its length than anywhere else. While the trailing skirt is not considered passe by any means, the newest ones are made to just touch the ground all round, and I am certain, were it not for the extreme fullness at the foot, would be most difficult things to walk in. In this new skirt a very charming change, and a very welcome one from the too-popular box plait, is found in six inverted plaits, three on each side, of the closing in the back. They are stitched right down the skirt to within a foot or two of the lower edge, from whence they flare in a most graceful manner. Skirts both tucked and plaited are seen on every hand, and their popularity can be safely counted upon, to the end of the present season, at least. Many of the newest and handsomest skirts have the tucks outlined by narrow braid. It is a most decorative mode of trimming in any case, but is particularly so when the skirt material happens to have a plain, smooth surface.

Owing to the lateness of fall, winter hats were rather slow in putting in an appearance, but within the last week or two I have seen some charming models which lead me to suspect that the headgear worn during the coming months will be both fascinating and becoming. One sees just now black hats, and brown hats, and hats in blue, ranging in shade from the lovely pale Wedgewood tones to the darker powder blue. Powder blue is named as a leading favorite among all the pretty new shades brought out this season, and I saw but yesterday a bewitching hat thereof, in fine felt with crown, which was somewhat on the "Tammie" order, most daintily embroidered in gold thread.

The hat of the moment, however, is the chic-looking black velvet toque, made with the fashionable low, broad outline of brim, over which is arched a becoming set of little ostrich feathers. A soft bow of black satin raises the left side, while the full puffed crown is caught down by a cut-jet buckle.

Every shade of rose color will play an important part in the world of millinery this winter, and among the new velvet trimmings are a number of lovely tones, reproducing exactly the tints of roses, geraniums and azaleas. For evening headgear there are many exquisite shades of daffodil yellow, as well as a very rich tone of tangerine yellow, particularly appropriate for dark-haired wearers.

On the fascinating subject of fur garments one might easily write volumes, for no other article of feminine attire is so universally becoming and so much admired as a handsome fur wrap. As the seasons go by and the art of dress approaches nearer and nearer to perfection, as much time and attention are given to the designing and fashioning of fur garments as could possibly be bestowed on the making of the most elaborate evening gown.

That sealskin has increased greatly in price during the past year is perhaps one of the reasons it is coming back into popularity by leaps and bounds, closely followed in the race by Persian lamb and the old-time favorite, Russian mink. Ermine is another fur that promises to be very much worn this winter, and is seen to very great advantage upon a short coat of black caracule given in the illustration. The coat is smartly cut in the fashionable short length and lined throughout in the most luxurious manner with turquoise blue satin, while the high collar and the revers are carried out in the ermine in a delightfully effective manner.

The newest seal coat is cut perfectly plain, and therein lies much of its charm, for the simplicity of style shows to perfection the beautiful quality of the rich fur. The novelty in some of the prettiest seal models is found in the rather large, open sleeve, in which the cream-tinted lining shows to the greatest advantage.

Nothing could very well be smarter or more generally becoming, or carry with it a more distinctive air of originality and good taste, than the little seal "coatee," as it is called, brought out for the first time this season. It somewhat resembles the jaunty fur bolero of last year, but is more chic in cut, being quite short in the back, while the fronts are formed into a long and becoming point. It can be worn open or closed and with its high collar and new flaring sleeve is swell-looking and attractive in the extreme. The pretty Russian blouse coat has by no means become a thing of the misty past, but, on the contrary, is revived in all its pleasing features in some of the handsomest new models, so that those who possess this shape in fur may rejoice and be glad in the knowledge that even though it be of last year's vintage it is still correct and up to date and will pass muster under the most exacting eye. Mink capes and coats come in a seemingly endless variety, not to mention the ties and boas of rich sable, dainty ermine and the lovely silver fox.

The pretty collar given in the sketch is carried out in the favorite combination among furriers this season—chinchilla and ermine. Being reversible it can be worn with comfort and appropriateness under many conditions and in various ways. Beautiful as this combination is it can only be worn successfully by the fortunate woman who possesses a perfect complexion, but, alas, in this day and generation such a possession is rarely seen.

GOLF

Play for the green committee challenge trophy will end on the links of the Park Golf Club Saturday. There is no doubt but that Morgan T. Townsend will win the trophy and the club championship. The competition was started May 19th, and the trophy has since been played for every week throughout the season. Thiers was the first to win it and it looked as if he would hold the medal. During the fall he has played little golf and Townsend has crept slowly up until last week, when he passed his rival and now stands in the lead for the trophy.

A postponed match was played between Townsend, holder, and Edgar I. Serrell, challenger, last Friday afternoon in which Townsend won seven up and five to go. Saturday, Townsend played H. D. Hibbard, next on the list of challengers, and defeated him seven up and six to go. The last match for the trophy will be played next Saturday. No challenges have been sent in, and an opportunity was given to W. J. R. Thiers to challenge. He is way out of practice, however, and is not at all likely to play as he would stand little show under present conditions.

By winning twice last week Townsend now has eleven victories to his credit. The trophy goes to the player scoring the most wins during the season. Thiers has ten wins. A victory for him would mean that he and Townsend would be tied for the medal. Otherwise, the medal is sure for Townsend.

The standing for the green committee challenge trophy is as follows:

Morgan T. Townsend	11
W. J. R. Thiers	10
Gustavus W. Faber	2
W. de la R. Anderson	1
Fred P. Taylor	1
Edgar I. Serrell	1

The season at the Park Golf Club will end Thanksgiving Day when the semi-finals and the finals for the Charles Hyde holiday cup will be played. The semi-finals will be played in the morning starting at 9:30 o'clock. The green committee has had a drawing and paired the competitors as follows: Meredith Dryden against Frank Rogers, and W. de la R. Anderson against Charles B. Morse. It will be match play, eighteen holes. The winners will meet in the afternoon for the finals.

In the afternoon there will also be a mixed foursome handicap, nine holes, medal play.

PROF. JANKE'S MUSICALE.

Appreciative Audience Heard High-Class Selections Rendered.

The musicale given last evening at studio of E. Arthur Janke, pianist, attracted a good-sized and appreciative audience, who were thoroughly delighted with the artistic work of those who carried out the programme arranged under direction of Mr. Janke. Mr. Janke played several classical selections on the piano and demonstrated his masterful talent in that respect. His work last night added to his already well-known reputation as a clever musician. The solo singing of Miss Mary Peddle, contralto, was pleasing to a degree. She has a splendid voice and excellent control of it. Always one of the sweetest-toned instruments, the 'cello was heard under the perfect and talented playing of Karl Grienauer, who is one of the best 'cellist ever heard in this city.

Mr. Janke, well-known in Plainfield as a pianist and teacher, in the rendering of the Beethoven Sonata proved himself to be a thoroughly equipped artist and teacher, and that he has devoted his time to hard and earnest study. Mr. Janke was also complimented by the audience for the delightful way he played the accompaniments to the soloists.

The programme was made up of selections from Beethoven, Schubert, Shumann, Tschaikowsky, Brahms, Bach, Jensen and Popper.

Anniversary Services.

Tomorrow evening the first quarterly anniversary of the Benevolent Association of the Mount Olive Baptist church will be celebrated. The pastors of the city churches will be present and Rev. Dr. C. F. Walker, of New York, will speak on his travels in the Holy land. Rev. G. L. P. Talifene, of Philadelphia, will speak on the needs of the race and the best methods to adopt. The Stone Square Lodge of F. and A. M., will be out in uniform. A banquet will be given in the vestry of the church after the services. The choirs of sister churches will unite and sing suitable for the occasion.

Accused of Arson.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Nov. 21—Henry Stives, living near Kingston, was arrested and lodged in jail yesterday by Officer Totten, charged with arson. Last September a barn belonging to J. Wallace Rehill, at Bridgepoint, this county, was set on fire, and Stives has been arrested on suspicion of having committed the deed. He has demanded an immediate hearing, through his counsel, Dungan & Reger.

Trolley Conductor Hurt.

Harry Fraleigh, of West Seventh street, is obliged to carry his right arm in a sling on account of injuries received in the trolley accident at Cranford yesterday morning. He was conductor on the car and when it jumped the track was thrown off the rear platform for a distance of ten feet, landing on his right shoulder. The arm was badly wrenched and bruised and he will be off duty for some time.

Private Secretary to Congressman.

John W. Ziegen, formerly of Newark, but now a member of the law firm of Noonan & Ziegen, of Hoboken, is to be private secretary to Congressman-elect Allan L. McDermott. He will continue the law practice.

Gymnasium Night.

Next Saturday evening will be known as "Gymnasium Night" at the Y. M. C. A., at which time contests will be held in several different events. A special feature will be a contest on the low bar.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

Brief Notes of Interest Gathered From Many Sections of New Jersey.

During the fall 16,000 crates of cranberries were harvested in the bogs adjacent to Belle Plain, Cape May county.

Captain Aaron Willets, of Tuckahoe, is the champion rabbit hunter of Cape May county. He has killed forty cotton-tails thus far this season.

A number of South Seaville boys were fined 40 cents each by Justice of the Peace Thompson for trespassing with dog and gun on posted lands.

During last week's storm hundreds of bushels of oysters were covered with sand and killed along the Delaware Bay shore.

Owing to the fact that there has been no rain of any account for several months one reservoir of the Lambertville Water Company is entirely dry and the other one is so nearly dry that a pumping engine has been connected with the water mains to meet the demand.

The boating business of the Morris Canal, in northern New Jersey, is very brisk at present, and the boatmen are making all the time possible before the cold weather freezes up the canal.

South Jersey sportsmen have in contemplation the restocking of the woods and swamps in the lower counties with quail, which are becoming scarce.

Mercer County Solicitor Symms B. Hutchinson has instituted suit in the Supreme Court against Richard D. Horton, of Hightstown, for $10,000 damages for injury done the new macadam road between Hightstown and Manalapan. Horton ran a steam engine drawing ten wagons loaded with stone over the road. The case will come up at the January term.

By the accidental discharge of his shotgun, on Saturday afternoon, Reinhart Beckman, of Trenton, had his right arm shattered so badly that he was taken to St. Francis Hospital, at that city, where the arm was amputated above the elbow. Beckman and a relative had been gunning on the Delaware river, and on returning, in attempting to pull the boat ashore, the trigger of his gun caught in the seat of the boat, discharging it. Beckman received the load of shot in his arm.

THE LINCOLN DINNER.

The Lincoln Association Decides to Meet Next February.

The officers and executive committee of the Lincoln Associatian of Union county, held a meeting Monday night in Elizabeth.

On motion it was unanimously decided to have the dinner, and the treasurer was authorized to engage Jacobs Theatre for February 12th, 1901.

It was further decided to invite ladies, as formerly, but that two ladies' tickets—instead of three—be given to each member of the association purchasing a ticket for the dinner; the seats to be apportioned in the order of tickets purchased.

The number of tickets to be sold will be limited to the seating capacity of the theatre.

In reasonable time the usual circular letters will be sent to each member of the association, giving notice when the tickets will be on sale.

Senator Kean, Gov. Voorhees and Frank Bergen are the committee on speakers, and they will doubtless secure one or more speakers of National reputation.

The promise is that this will be one of the most noteworthy and enjoyable of the dinners given by the Lincoln Association.

PROGRESSIVE EUCHRE.

Card Playing Enjoyed at the Park Club Last Evening.

A progressive euchre party was given at the Park Club last evening under the auspices of the entertainment committee. There was an excellent attendance and a very pleasant evening was spent by all. There were seven tables and the play for prizes was spirited throughout. Mrs. Chas. A. Reed and Mrs. Richard Williams cut for the first ladies' prize and Mrs. Williams won. It was a very handsome tie. Miss Laura Long took the part of a gentlemen, and she won the first prize for the men. It was a silk hat brush. The second prize, a silver tie clasp, was won by Allan Laing. After the play refreshments were served and a social time was enjoyed.

'TWASN'T MARK TWAIN.

How an Audience Took an Unknown Temperance Lecturer for the Famous Humorist.

Mark Twain is a good talker, and invariably prepares himself, though he skillfully hides his preparation by his method of delivery, which denotes that he is getting his ideas and phrases as he proceeds. He is an accomplished artist in this way. His peculiar mode of expression always seems contagious with an audience, and a laugh would follow the most sober remark. It is a singular fact, writes Will. M. Clemens, in Ainslee's, that an audience will be in a laughing mood when they first enter the lecture room; they are ready to burst out at anything and everything. In the town of Colchester, Conn., there was a good illustration of this, Hon. Demsham Hornet having a most unpleasant experience at the expense of Mark Twain. Mr. Clemens was advertised to lecture in the town of Colchester, but for some reason failed to arrive. In the emergency the lecture committee decided to employ Mr. Hornet to deliver his celebrated lecture on temperance, but so late in the day was this arrangement made that no bills announcing it could be circulated, and the audience assembled, expecting to hear Mark Twain. No one in the town knew Mr. Clemens, or had ever heard him lecture, and they entertained the idea that he was funny, and went to the lecture prepared to laugh. Even those upon the platform, excepting the chairman, did not know Mr. Hornet from Mark Twain, and so, when he was introduced, thought nothing of the name, as they knew Mark Twain was a pen-name, and supposed his real name was Hornet.

Mr. Hornet bowed politely, looked about him, and remarked: "Intemperance is the curse of the country." The audience burst into a merry laugh. He knew it could not be at his remark, and thought his clothes must be awry, and he asked the chairman, in a whisper, if he was all right, and received "yes" for an answer. Then he said: "Rum slays more than disease!" Another, but louder laugh followed. He could not understand it, but proceeded: "It breaks up happy homes!" Still louder mirth. "It is carrying young men down to death and hell!" Then came a perfect roar of applause. Mr. Hornet began to get excited. He thought they were poking fun at him, but went on. "We must crush the serpent!" A tremendous howl of laughter. The men on the platform, except the chairman, squirmed as they laughed. Then Hornet got mad. "What I say is Gospel truth!" he cried. The audience fairly bellowed with mirth. Hornet turned to a man on the stage, and said: "Do you see anything very ridiculous in my remarks or behavior?" "Yes, ha, ha! It is intensely funny—ha, ha, ha! Go on!" replied the roaring man. "This is an insult!" cried Hornet, wildly dancing about. More laughter, and cries of: "Go on, Twain!" Then the chairman began to see through a glass darkly, and arose and quelled the merriment, and explained the situation, and the men on the stage suddenly ceased laughing, and the folks in the audience looked sheepish, and they quit laughing, too, and then the excited Mr. Hornet, being thoroughly mad, told them he had never before got into a town so entirely populated with asses and idiots, and having said that, he left the hall in disgust, followed by the audience in deep gloom.

A Delightful Tea.

A very delightful tea was given yesterday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock by Mrs. Lewis, of Rockview avenue, in honor of her guest, Miss Carpenter, who is the secretary for the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Lewis was assisted in receiving by Miss Carpenter, Miss Kenyon, Mrs. W. H. Stirling, Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen, Mrs. H. R. Munger, Miss Munger and Miss Day. In the dining room Mrs. Deuse VanVliet and Mrs. James R. Joy poured tea, while Mrs. Charles A. Reed served tea from a cozy alcove in the hallway. There was no special decorations, and the afternoon was devoted to genuine sociability. There was an excellent attendance and all enjoyed the opportunity of meeting Miss Carpenter.

—An entertainment will be given in the Y. M. C. A. Hall tomorrow night for the benefit of Greenbrook Council, Royal Arcanum.

—Miss Conover will address the G. F. S, of Grace church, this evening at 7:45 o'clock. All young women interested in the work of the society will be cordially welcomed.

CAMDEN MAN TO BE SPEAKER OF ASSEMBLY

Mr. Bradley, State House Gossip Avers, Will be the Lucky Candidate.

HOT CONTEST FOR LEADER.

ATTEMPT TO MAKE ALLIANCE WITH FOOTE FAILED.

Pitney Unopposed for President of the Senate and Senator Reed May be Leader of Upper House.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Nov. 22.—For the third time in recent years Camden county is to have the honor of the Assembly Speakership. That much was practically conceded after the usual Tuesday "corridor caucus" of the Republican legislators in the State House. The coming Speaker is to be William J. Bradley, who breaks some South Jersey records by returning to the Assembly for a fourth consecutive term. Quiet, unassuming, always courteous and of unquestioned ability, Mr. Bradley did not have much trouble in winning friends enough to assure his selection by the House caucus, and as there are 45 Republican Assemblymen such a selection means election, and the Camden man's friends wore very broad smiles of satisfaction as they left the capital for the day with him as a winner.

For a time it looked as though Bradley's chances were not so bright as was indicated a week ago, for complications over the majority leadership began to loom up, and Assemblyman Vivian M. Lewis, who is something of a protege of Attorney General Griggs, came down from Passaic with a rather promising following. It was asserted that he not only had the support of his three colleagues, but that a majority of Essex county's 11, the two from Bergen and sundry other members were with him for the Speakership. This, it was understood, was under an agreement that Bachellor, of Essex, should be supported for the leadership. Some of Mr. Lewis' ardent friends thought the Camden man could not win against this combination, but it did not take long to discover that Essex county was being reckoned in the dark, and that Bradley was more than likely to get its solid vote. Efforts were made to get him to make an alliance with Foote, of Union, who desires the leadership, but the Camden man's friends as quickly as possible put a quietus upon this apparent effort to entangle their candidate by declaring that he was making no alliances; that he was in the fight for the Speakership and meant to win.

Another active candidate for the leadership was Lyon, of Middlesex, but his canvass did not show much vigor.

Senator Mahlon Pitney will be made President of the Senate without a dissenting voice, and his boom for the nomination for Governor will not suffer. As to the Senate leadership, that is as much in the air, apparently, as the same post on the other side. Senator Charles A. Reed, of Somerset, may be the man, but he may not. It all depends The Senate secretaryship is causing some friction, and a caucus may be necessary to settle it. Publisher George E. Frey, of Camden, is a very active candidate for the post, which he held three years ago, and it was stated that he was likely to win. But John S. Gibson, of Essex, who is secretary of the State committee, may walk off with the prize if Senator McCarter, his county's representative, is not too greatly entangled in keeping Bill Supervisor Salmon at his post. Mr. Gibson has Congressional aspirations, and may withdraw from the contest for secretary. Mr. Frey's worst handicap is Assemblyman Bradley's candidacy for Speaker, for besides that Camden county desires to retain the smaller clerkships it had last winter.

LEARNING AMERICAN WAYS.

N. Tamioki, a Japanese Student, is Visiting His Plainfield Friends.

N. Tamioki, son of a wealthy Japanese merchant, is now visiting at the home of Rev. Dr. Whitney, of First place. When Tamioki first came to this country, he spent some time at the home of Dr. Whitney learning the English language and something of the American customs. He is now a student in Dickinson College and is playing quarter back on the football eleven there. Although new at the game, he has become wonderfully proficient in it and plays a very clever game. He has returned to Plainfield, which he calls his American home, to spend a few days.

DEMOCRATS HELD WARD PRIMARIES.

Charles H. Lyman and Alburtus Swalm Nominated for Councilmen in 2d and 4th Wards.

NOT MUCH INTEREST SHOWN

DELEGATES ELECTED TO THE CITY CONVENTION FRIDAY NIGHT:

In First and Third Wards the Councilmanic Nominations Will Be Filled by Committees Before the Time Expires for Filing.

Democratic primaries were held in the four wards of the city last night. In the First and Third wards the Councilmanic nomination was not filled last night, but the First ward nomination was made this morning, and that in the Third ward will undoubtedly be filled before Saturday night, when acceptances must be filed with the City Clerk. In the Second and Fourth wards Charles H. Lyman and Alburtus Swalm were nominated respectively, in the two wards. The results in detail are as follows:

FIRST WARD.

The primary meeting in the First ward was held in Hoagland's express office on North avenue and was called to order by Andrew Nolan, who was elected chairman. The other officers of the meeting were Charles Bock, judge; W. L. Hetfield, Jr., inspector, and M. J. DeCourcy, secretary. The call was read by the secretary and the nomination of officers proceeded with as follows: Justice of the Peace, John J. Kenney; constable, Patrick Kane; delegates to city convention, John Rafferty, Sr., Walter L. Hetfield, Sr., Charles Bock, Andrew Nolan, Walter Hetfield, Jr., Sylvester Sharkey and M. J. DeCourcy. The following were elected members of the city executive committee: Charles McGinley from the First district, and Wm. T. Banks from the Second district. A committee consisting of Walter L. Hetfield, Sr., Charles McGinley and Charles Bock was appointed by the chairman to fill the one vacancy existing—that of a Councilman.

This afternoon John Lloyd, of North avenue, consented to accept the Councilmanic nomination in the First ward. Mr. Lloyd's acceptance has been drawn up and signed and will be filed with the City Clerk. Mr. Lloyd is a well known contractor and builder, and will make a strong fight to win.

SECOND WARD.

Absolute harmony prevailed at the Second ward primary which was held in the Bryant School building and attended by eight Democrats. James E. Martine was made chairman and Lewis G. Timpson secretary. For the balloting J. B. Guttridge was made judge and W. K. McClure inspector.

As the nominee for ward Councilman, Charles H. Lyman was unanimously chosen. Mr. Martine said that he understood that Mr. Lyman would accept although he was not anxious for the nomination. While there was no great probability of victory in the ward for the Democratic forces, he thought that they should have a good ticket up and make a fight anyway. They were sure to elect at least one candidate as the Republicans were not going to nominate anyone for justice of the peace. Hezikiah Hand was then given the nomination for that office and William Callahan for constable.

The delegation to the Democratic city convention, which was empowered to fill any vacancies in its own number, was chosen as follows: Lewis G. Timpson, Edward M. Tomlinson, Alfred Cox, Charles H. Lyman, E. W. Conklin, Frank Shattle, Frank E. Stover. J. B. Guttridge and Louis E. Stover were elected members of the city executive committee.

THIRD WARD.

The Third ward primary was held in the High School building. A. H. Atterbury was elected chairman and the following delegates to the city convention were appointed: E. M. VanBuren, J. T. Hibbits, A. H. Atterbury, John H. Hillman and Martin Galbraith. It was decided to allow the city committee to fill all vacancies in the nominations.

FOURTH WARD.

The Fourth ward primary was held in the rooms of the Hillman Association on West Front street. The meeting was called to order by W. W. St. John, who was made chairman. Elmore D. Moffett was chosen secretary and Norman Mague clerk and judge. Alburtus Swalm was unanimous nominee for Councilman, E. D. Moffett for justice of the peace and Thomas Carty for constable. The following delegates to the city convention were elected: E. C. Searing,

THIS SOCIABLE IN CHARGE OF THE MEN.

Unique Affair Given in the Seventh-Day Baptist Church Last Evening.

THEY WORE STRANGE TOGS

REFRESHMENTS SERVED ON WOODEN PLATES AND BARE TABLES.

Hulled Corn, Milk and Sugar Composed the Menu—John P. Mosher Chairman of the Committee That Arranged the Affair.

Once a year the men of the Seventh-Day Baptist church give a sociable. Last evening they took their turn. Great secrecy was maintained regarding what was to happen, and, as a result, a large crowd turned out to see what form of entertainment had been prepared. There was an enjoyable programme but the event of the evening was the altogether novel kind of a supper which was prepared by the men alone. The social was held in the church parlors.

After a piano solo by Bert Harold, D. E. Titsworth, who acted as master of ceremonies, introduced Dr. F. S Wells, who read some of "Mr. Dooley's" advice for election day." Another piano solo by Bert Harold was followed by a reading from "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush" by Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis. William Holmes then sang with Bert Harold as his accompanist, and then Mr. Titsworth announced a selection by a male chorus. The door to the ante-room swung open and forth came the members of the committee all attired in blouses, overalls and straw hats. Most effective of all were John P. Mosher, chairman of the committee, nearly eclipsed by an immense straw hat several sizes too large for him, and Dr. Marc L. Clawson, whose small straw hat and solemn expression were wonderfully effective. Each man carried a pitcher in which they received contributions.

After passing among the audience once the chairman decided that they didn't have enough and so they tried again with better results. The money was then poured into a huge tin basin and borne away. After another solo by Mr. Holmes, the guests were invited into the room usually occupied by the infant department of the Sunday-school, the door to which had been kept carefully closed.

A row of bare wooden tables was set about the room. Candles, held in flower pots full of sand, lighted the scene. A huge yellow earthen ware bowl was placed on each table. A big pitcher of milk stood beside it and then there were earthenware platters containing pumpkin pie, cheese and crullers. At each place there was a little earthenware bowl and a wooden plate. The contents of the big bowls was a mystery to most of the guests and they carefully delayed operations until the more experienced explained that it was hulled corn and should be eaten with milk and sugar.

The members of the committee, clad in their working attire, waited on the tables. They were John P. Mosher, chairman, J. M. Titsworth, Dr. Marc L. Clawson, William C. Hubbard, William H. Rogers, Ira West, Charles H. Dunham, Councilman Frank D. Randolph, Superintendent of Schools H. M. Maxson, Alonzo L. Titsworth, George E. Stillman and William M. Stillman. Frank J. Hubbard appeared in all the glory of the white garb of the chef. Excellent coffee, made by Mr. Hubbard, was also served. A social hour followed the supper, during which Dr. Clawson off the small bowls as souvenirs.

DEFENDANT WON ON APPEAL

Decision in the Case of Runyon Against Tomlinson was Reversed by Judge Vail.

Sometime ago W. H. Rogers, of this city, sold to Harold W. Tomlinson, of the borough, a machine for mouldings which are used in the electric wiring. The purchaser gave Mr. Rogers a note for $175, which was not paid. Mr. Tomlinson claimed that the machine would not do that which it was supposed to do, and refused to pay the bill. Mr. Rogers afterwards sold the note to W. C Runyon, of the borough. Bruce & Runyon brought suit against Mr. Tomlinson in Justice Moffett's court to recover the value of the note. A judgment was given in favor of the plaintiff.

At this point the defendant engaged Senator Reed, and the case was appealed. Yesterday it was tried before Judge Vail at Elizabeth, when a decision was given in favor of the defendant, thereby relieving him from further obligation.

A PRETTY WEDDING.

KELLER-CASPAR NUPTIALS WERE PERFORMED LAST EVENING.

Ceremony in German Reformed Church—Many Friends Witnessed Tieing of Nuptial Knot.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place last evening in the German Reformed church, when Miss Lucy B. Caspar, daughter of Mrs. Rosalie Caspar, of this city, and Frank Keller, of North Plainfield, were united in marriage by the pastor, Rev. George Hauser. The church was thronged with relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

The ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock. While the Loehengrin wedding march was being rendered by Vincent F. Sokol, on the organ, the bridal party entered the church. First came the ushers, Harry Kesselring and Herman Bremmer. They were followed by the maid-of-honor, Miss Emma Schreiner, of Scotch Plains, who was gowned in white organdie over cerese. She carried pink carnations. Then came the bridemaids, Miss Carrie Belter, of this city, and Miss Gussie Klinsman, of the borough. They wore gowns of white organdie and carried white roses. The bride then entered, escorted by her brother-in-law, Andrew Stiglitz, who gave her away in marriage. The bride was gowned in white silk, cordion plait, trimmed with chiffon and lace. She carried bridal roses.

The ceremony was that of the German Reformed church, and in the service two rings were used. About the altar where the bridal party stood, there was a very pretty decoration of palms and flowers. Immediately after the ceremony the party went to Saengerbund Hall, where a reception was given to the bride and groom.

This part of the happy event was greatly enjoyed by a large number of invited guests. After Mr. and Mrs. Keller had received the congratulations of their friends, dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. During the evening supper was served.

The bride is a popular young woman, and has a host of friends in this city. The groom is also popular. He served with the 8th Reg. U. S. A. in Cuba for one year and has not been home very long. He is engaged in the tobacco business with his brother, Herman Keller, on North avenue. He and his wife have gone to housekeeping at once at the corner of West Fifth and Liberty streets. They received a very large collection of useful and handsome gifts including furniture, gold, silver, cut glass, etc.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MARSH.

Services Held Yesterday From the Home of Her Daughter.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Lucy A. Marsh, widow of Alexander Marsh, were held yesterday afternoon from the home of her daughter, Mrs. B. Frank Corlell, 215 West Fifth street. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends who gathered to do honor to the memory of one whom they had learned to love and esteem. Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D., pastor of Trinity Reformed church, where the deceased was a member, conducted the services.

After reading Scripture selections, he made a few remarks in which he dwelt impressively upon the sureness of the promises of God, and of the comfort bereaved ones find in reading and living according to His Holy Word. In referring to the departed he spoke of her long Christian life, which was one of devotion to her God and His work. He spoke of her constant and faithful attendance upon the church services and especially the midweek prayer-meeting, thereby implying that her example was one that many could follow with great profit. During Pastor Schenck's remarks he said that Mrs. Marsh was a charter-member of Trinity Reformed church, having joined over twenty years ago, and had always been a faithful supporter of this house of worship.

Several selections were rendered impressively during the service by a quartette composed of E. E. Runyon, A. L. Titsworth, Mrs. E. H. Bird and Miss Katharine Glen. There was a beautiful display of floral tributes. The casket, which was covered with a pearl-grey cloth, thereby relieving relieving the usual sombre effect, was completely covered with wreaths, bunches of flowers and a pillow bearing the word "Mother."

The interment took place in the family plot in the Plainfield Avenue cemetery, and those who carried the remains to their last resting place were Charles Stimpson, George L. VanEmburgh, T. O. Doane, J. F. Buckle, Henry Woodland and A. L. Force.

DYNAMITE MIXED UP WITH CANNED FRUIT.

Serious Mistake of Expressman Staats in Delivering the Explosives for the Preserves.

BIG SCARE GIVEN TO MANY.

THE DANGEROUS STUFF WAS IN EMIL WOLTMAN'S CELLAR.

John Mitchell, the Hired Man, Did Some Risky Work Around a Box of Dynamite—Thanking Lucky Stars Now.

The family of Emil C. Woltman, of West Seventh street; John Mitchell, their hired man; Elwood Staats, a local expressman; the employes of the freight house of the Central railroad and people generally in the neighborhood of the Woltman residence, are thanking their lucky stars today that something didn't happen yesterday that might have happened. That something was the possible explosion of nine boxes of dynamite that got into the cellar of the Woltman residence yesterday by mistake for an equal number of cases of California canned fruit.

Yesterday, a consignment of eleven boxes of fruit arrived at the freight house for Mr. Woltman. Staats was engaged to deliver the boxes to the former's residence. As is the custom at the freight house among regular expressmen, Staats went to the compartment where freight consigned to names beginning with W is held for delivery. Now it happened that yesterday there were also nine cases of dynamite consigned to Wilson, the stone cracker man in the Watchung Notch. Without particular investigation of the boxes in that compartment Staats selected the cases that he thought belonged to Woltman. He piled them into his express wagon without a thought of making the mistake of getting dynamite for preserved fruits, and drove off to West Seventh street.

On arriving at the Woltman house he was told to put the boxes in the cellar. He did so, piling them not far from the furnace that heats the house. Incidentally, it may be said that heat generally has elements of making dynamite a very risky thing to have around, but Staats was blissfully ignorant of the nature of the stuff in the boxes. He drove off and in a little while Mr. Woltman's hired man appeared on the scene armed with tools to unpack the boxes. With hammer and chisel he tore off the cover of one of the boxes without much discretion. After doing this he shoved his hand in the sawdust in which the dynamite is packed and brought forth one of the dark looking sticks of the high explosive.

"Some mistake here," quoth the hired man, and so saying he put the stick into the sawdust again and grabbing his hammer he nailed the top on the case with even more vigor that he had used in tearing it open at first. When he finished the job he turned the box over. There in big, black letters read these words: "Highly Explosive. Handle With Care."

"Holy smoke, I wonder what that can be," excitedly exclaimed the hired man. Off he hurried upstairs and to the telephone. He called up the freight house in a jiffy and explained what had happened.

"Gee whiz," came back the reply, "don't let that stuff get near the furnace."

Lucky for the house, its inmates and the neighborhood in general there was not much heat in the furnace.

In a short time Staats, the expressman, came rushing back to the house. Gingerly handling the boxes of dynamite he loaded them into his wagon and drove back to the freight house, where the explosives were unloaded and the preserved fruits taken on and a little while after were stored away in the Woltman cellar. Then everybody concerned drew a sigh of relief and said: "What a narrow escape."

Chance for Creditors to Object.

The creditors of John H. McVey, formerly a hotel proprietor in this city, who has recently petitioned to be declared a bankrupt, were notified yesterday that a hearing would be held in the District Court in Newark Dec. 3d, at which creditors may appear to show cause, if there is any, why his petition should not be granted. A remarkable part of the notice is that its publication was ordered in the Summit Record, instead of one of the Plainfield papers where the majority of creditors and others might see it.

G. O. P. WILL SELECT NOMINEES TONIGHT

Republican City Convention Will be Held at Coward's Hall This Evening.

DR. JENKINS FOR MAYOR.

ONLY THE UNEXPECTED CAN NOW UPSET REPUBLICAN SLATE.

Second Ward Will Present Name of Dr. W. H. Murray—Councilman Robert L. Lee and Charles S. Sminck Named for Chairman.

For Mayor,
Dr. O. L. Jenkins, of the First ward.
For City Collector,
Frank H. Smith, of the Fourth ward.
For School Trustee,
Charles F. Abbott, of the Second ward.

Such is the slate that will undoubtedly be nominated at the Republican city convention tonight. Only the positive refusal of any of these candidates to run can break the slate now. There has been some talk about the possibility of stampeding the convention for Former Councilman Elliott T. Barrows as Mayoralty candidate, but such a thing is hardly within the range of possibility. Dr. Jenkins' nomination is now practically assured.

The nomination will not be a unanimous one at the start, however. The Second ward delegation still clings to its candidate, Dr. W. H. Murray, and will present his name to the convention and give him a complimentary vote on the first ballot. As the First, Third and Fourth wards will vote for Dr. Jenkins, it will probably be moved by the chairman of the Second ward delegation that the nomination be made unanimous But then, it is just faintly possible that something might happen.

A caucus of the Second ward delegation was held last evening when it was decided to stand by the request of the ward primary and support Dr. Murray for the mayoralty nomination. There will be no split in the delegation, as was rumored, but the vote will be unit. Councilman George P. Mellick was elected chairman of the delegation. The First and Fourth ward delegations also held caucuses.

As to the officers of the convention, the First ward has Charles S. Sminck in mind as chairman while the Fourth ward favor Councilman Robert L. Lee. Lee will probably be named chairman with Sminck as secretary. The convention will be called to order in the old Republican headquarters on the second floor of 120 East Front street, at 8 o'clock, by Councilman J B. Dumont, chairman of the city committee.

John R. Johnson Takes a Wife.

The marriage of John R. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Johnson, of this city, and Miss Fannie Vail, of South Orange, took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride. Rev. Mr. Wyckoff, pastor of the Reformed church at Irvington, performed the ceremony. After the ceremony and reception, the bride and groom left for a wedding trip. When they return they will reside in a handsome house just built by the groom at South Orange. The groom formerly resided in this city, but now lives at South Orange He is engaged in business in New York. The bride is a niece of A. C. Vail, of West Eighth street. Among those who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, parents of the groom.

B. D. F. Randolph's Funeral.

The funeral services of the late Barzillai D. F. Randolph were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home 132 Duer street, and was very largely attended by friends and relatives. Rev. Dr. W. C. Nelson, of the borough, conducted the services. There were several floral tributes from relatives and friends. Interment took place in the Seventh-Day Baptist cemetery in Ninth street, and those who served as bearers were A. J. Winckler, William Lunger, J. S. Powlison, B. J. Shreve, David Boice and Duer W. Beard.

Iona Council's Good Time.

Iona Council met last evening in its wigwam on West Front street. A large gathering was present and the good of the order was delightfully spent in songs and recitations. Miss Clara Galway, of Yemassee Council, No. 105, D. of P., of New York, who posseses a charming voice, favored with several selected solos, and won the admiration of all. The council is rapidly growing and bids fair to rank among the first in New Jersey.

New Time Table.

A new time table will go into effect on the Central Railroad of New Jersey on Sunday, November 25th, with important changes.

LEAL'S SCHOOL WON MID WIND AND MUD.

Exciting Contest on Gridiron at Martine Common Won by Score of 16 to 13.

SENSATIONAL PLAYS MADE.

PETTIT KICKED A GOAL FROM THE FIELD FOR RUTGERS PREP.

Both Teams Took Advantage of the Wind—Fierce Shower Did Not Stop the Game—Long Runs by Brown and Tilney.

By far the most spectacular football game played on a local gridiron this season was seen on Martine Common yesterday afternoon when the elevens of Leal's school, of this city, and the Rutgers College Preparatory School of New Brunswick, met. The result was to 16 to 13, in favor of Leal's. A high wind proved a factor in the game and a brief but fierce hail storm swept over the field during the first half, leaving the gridiron wet and slippery.

Leal's School had the kick-off against the wind. Steady gains brought the ball into Leal's territory to be lost on a fumble. Ralph Schoonmaker circled right end for twenty-five yards and then Brown made forty more around the other, aided by splendid interference. Don McGee plunged through tackle for the remaining two yards and a touchdown. Tilney failed on goal.

Prep School's kick-off was touched by Schoonmaker but went over the goal line. McGee downed it for safety. Rutgers again carried the ball down the field and Pettit drop-kicked a goal from the twenty-five yard line. It was the first goal ever kicked from the field on Martine Common.

Schoonmaker kicked off ten yards and then Rutgers gained ten on off-side play by McGee. Pettit punted over the line. Leal's kicked out the twenty-five yard line. Hay punted to Tilney, who fumbled and Pettit picked up the ball and ran twenty yards for a touchdown. Pettit kicked the goal.

Schoonmaker kicked off to Pettit. The Prep School punted at once, but the ball went out of bounds on their forty-yard line. On the first play Brown went round left end for a touchdown. Tilney missed the goal. The second half ended after another forty yard run by Brown.

In the second half Hay made a poor kick off. Rutgers got the ball on downs and carried it to Leal's twenty-five-yard line, where the home team held them. Schoonmaker then punted over Prep School's goal line. On a double pass Tilney ran forty-five yards to Prep School's four-yard line. The ball was lost on a forward pass, but recovered again on Rutgers' twenty-yard line on downs. Schoonmaker gained twelve yards. Four yards were given for off-side play and then Brown went through left tackle for the winning touchdown. Tilney kicked the goal.

Tilney returned the kick off. Pettit ran thirty yards on a quarterback trick, when Leal's got the ball on a fumble. Schoonmaker punted to Prep School's fifteen yard line when time was called.

The summary:

LEAL'S SCHOOL.		RUTGERS PREP. SCHOOL.
McGee, Rogers	right end	Cole
W. Schoonmaker	right tackle	Murphy
Bigelow	right guard	Green
Minford	centre	Feltman
Griggs	left tackle	VanVechten
Hall	left end	Nafey
Tilney	quarterback	Pettit
Brown	right halfback	Kuchnle
R. Schoonmaker	left halfback	DuBois
D. McGee	fullback	Hay

Score—Leal's School, 16; Prep. School, 13. Touchdowns—McGee, Brown, (2). Pettit. Goals from the field—Pettit. Goals from touchdowns—Tilney, Pettit. Safety—McGee. Referee—Roger Erickson, of Plainfield. Umpire—, of Amherst Field linesmen—Roy T. Phillips and Thomas U. Smith. Timekeepers—Harold Davis, of Plainfield High School, and Furgeson, of Hamilton College.

Thinks it May be Her Son.

The son of Mrs. McMullin, of 3225 Tulip street, Philadelphia, left his home July 16th of the present year, and his mother has heard nothing of him since. Mrs. McMullin read in the newspapers the account of the finding of a young man's body along the tracks of the Jersey Central Railroad in this city, and she has written a letter to Undertaker George Cole asking for information and a description of the person found. The letter was received yesterday and Mr. Cole answered it immediately giving all the information in his possession.

Wind Played Havoc With Awnings.

Yesterday's high wind played havoc with the awning on the U. S. Express platform. It was torn from its fastenings and carried for a considerable distance down the railroad tracks and partially wrecked. A quantity of express matter beneath it was also scattered about.

STATE TAX BOARD'S REPORT

A Statement on the Operation of the Franchise Law.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Nov. 22—The report of the State Board of Taxation has been submitted to Gov. Voorhees. The statistics of the report show the total taxable valuation of real and personal property in New Jersey for the year 1900, as returned by the local assessors, is $891,237,286, an increase of $26,720,759 over 1899. Of this sum $774,935,791 represents real estate, and $148,425,680 personal property. The total amount of exempt property is $104,470,342, an increase of about $7,000,000 over 1899.

The report says that by the franchise tax, which will go into operation next year, the State will surrender about $130,000 heretofore collected from the corporations affected by the act, while it is estimated that the municipalities of the State will get about $300,000 from the companies.

Prof. E. H. Lewis, of the Lewis Institute, Chicago, has been visiting his parents, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Lewis, of West Seventh street.

Mrs. Norman K. Barnes, of the West End, who is at the hospital under treatment, continues to improve. A false rumor was circulated that she was much worse.

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Miss Alice Brunn and Grant Leivers, of Central avenue. The happy event will take place near Christmas time.

Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, editor of the Sabbath Recorder, has been confined to his home on West Seventh street for several days with an injured knee cap. It was badly bruised by a swinging gate but is now considerably improved so that he is able to be around once more with the aid of a cane.

Harry G. Adams, of 220 East Front street, entertained his Bible class of the Firstday Sunday-school at his home last Tuesday evening. The young men enjoyed themselves playing games, and a feature was the mandolin selections by W. C. Townsend. Before the guests departed for their homes, refreshments were served.

Great Luck Of An Editor

"For two years all efforts to cure Eczema in the palms of my hands failed", writes Editor H. N. Lester, of Syracuse, Kan., "then I was wholly cured by Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's the world's best for Eruptions, Sores and all skin diseases. Only 25 cents at L. W. Randolph's.

—The Borough Board of Education will hold a regular meeting next Monday evening.

—Many people worry because they believe they have heart disease. The chances are that their hearts are all right but their stomachs are unable to digest food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and prevents the formation of gas which makes the stomach press against the heart. It will cure every form of indigestion. L. W. Randolph.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Haynes, of North avenue, has been spending a short time with relatives at Annandale.

Spread Like Wild Fire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, rundown man or woman. Price 50 cents. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

—The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church will hold a Thanksgiving service tomorrow evening.

—Both makers and circulators of counterfeits commit fraud. Honest men will not deceive you into buying worthless counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The original is infallible for curing piles, sores, eczema and all skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

Willett Marsh and family, of Orange, have returned home after a visit of several days with relatives in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Evarts Tracy have taken possession at their new home on Hillside avenue. The residence is among the finest in the city.

PHILIPPINE SITUATION.

General MacArthur Says Election Result Was Only an Incident.

MANILA, Nov. 22.—General MacArthur was asked whether the result of the presidential election in the United States was in any way responsible for the orders to push operations against the Filipinos. He replied that the result of the election was merely coincident with other features of the situation. He added that the return of the soldiers and marines from China, with the recruits who had arrived recently, would increase the number of troops to 70,000 men. The enlargement of the forces, the ending of the rainy season, better roads, improved transportation and the desire to make the most efficient use of the vol[illegible] their term of service expire[illegible] all contributory to the mo[illegible] paign.

Concerning the replacing of 27,000 [illegible] unteers, General MacArthur said he f[illegible] vored the establishment of [illegible] my of 75,000 men and [illegible] the president to increase it to [illegible]

The general also said he was [illegible] the force in General Young's [illegible] nearly 7,000 men, that heavy [illegible] ments were being sent to General [illegible] in the island of Panay, that [illegible] had been ordered to southern [illegible] that various column movements [illegible] planned.

The stranding of the coasting transport Indiana is causing a long delay in reaching a number of the remote coast stations in southern Luzon, which have subsistence to Nov. 1 only and will have to depend largely on foraging until the Indiana is floated or a steamer is secured.

The customs warehouses are congested, which is delaying the commerce of Manila. General Smith, the collector of the port, at a meeting of many importers urged the necessity for the removal of the goods. The merchants talk of organizing a company for the erection of bonded warehouses.

Women Robbed and Murdered.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Nov. 22.—Two old ladies, Violet J. Colley, aged 75, and her niece, Jane Cath Colley, who lived alone in a house on a main thoroughfare five miles from Charlotte, have been murdered, robbed and their bodies burned. The old ladies were generally reported to be wealthy. It is known that they had a good deal of money. They had lived a retired life for years and seldom ventured away from home, not even to the city, except when business compelled a visit. The supposition is that the old ladies were attacked while they were at supper, after which their residence was sacked and the house in which their bodies lay was fired. For years past they had been known to be accumulating money and probably had $1,200 saved up. There is absolutely no clew to the perpetrators of the deed. The neighborhood people are greatly stirred up, and both city and county officials are using every effort to get a trace of the murderers.

Bryan's Vote In Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 22.—The count of the vote on the presidential electors and state officers by statisticians in the office of the secretary of state, which will stand as the official vote, was completed yesterday. The vote for president was: McKinley, 543,918; Bryan, 475,882. The figures show the remarkable fact that Bryan received exactly the same number of votes in Ohio that he received four years ago. This is without a parallel in the elections of Ohio and probably in the United States.

A Flurry In Corn.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—November corn went to 45 cents yesterday. George Phillips, the lately recognized king of the corn pit, stood in the center of the arena, apparently entirely unaffected by the tumult around him when the grain reached this mark. The din would have drowned the roar of a locomotive. The shorts were wild. They were involuntarily the means of forcing the price higher. The young man in the center made a few sales. The price soon dropped slightly.

Electric Train Trials.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The experimental electric train on the Second avenue line of the Manhattan Elevated railway for the first time made several trips yesterday between Eighty-sixth and Sixty-fifth streets. It dodged in between regular trains and ran just as if carrying passengers, making all regular stops. It developed a speed of from 16 to 17 miles an hour. All the electric trains will be run at that rate. The steam trains average about 12 miles an hour.

An Arkansas Train Robbery.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 22.—North bound passenger train No. 56 on the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railway was held up near Gifford Station, 40 miles south of Little Rock, by five masked robbers. A lot of ties piled on the track and surmounted by a red light caused the engineer to slow up, and before the train had come to a stop the bandits were at work with dynamite. About $300 was secured.

Emperor Nicholas Better.

LIVADIA, Russia, Nov. 22.—The bulletin issued yesterday by the czar's physicians was more satisfactory. It read as follows: "The czar passed a satisfactory day. His condition is good. Temperature at 9 last evening, 102.6; pulse, 76. He slept but little during the night, but from no disturbing cause. His majesty's general condition is satisfactory. Temperature this morning, 100.6; pulse, 70."

WAITING FOR ORDERS

Negotiations Postponed Indefinitely at Peking.

EDICT OF THE EMPRESS DISCUSSED.

Generally Believed to Have Injured China's Cause—Chinese Ministers Disgusted—The Empress May Be Left In Exile to Humble Her.

PEKING, via Shanghai, Nov. 22.—The ministers held another meeting yesterday, but nothing was accomplished, as several of the representatives of the powers had not heard from their home offices. An adjournment to an undesignated date was taken.

At the meeting the ministers talked of the edict issued by the empress dowager on Nov. 13 for the punishment of princes and officers responsible for the present trouble. It was the unanimous opinion that the punishments ordered were insufficient and that the edict had injured instead of helped China's cause. It is stated on the best authority that the Chinese peace commissioners here, Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching, are disgusted and realize that a mistake was made in issuing such an edict at the present time.

The ministers are particularly incensed at the "punishment" of Prince Tuan, who is banished to Moukden, which is his home. They say this is something like "banishing" a New Yorker from China to New York. Nevertheless, it must be said that banishment to his native place, where he is to be imprisoned pending trial, is one of the most disgraceful punishments in the eyes of the Chinese that could be inflicted on Prince Tuan. This is proved by an examination of past edicts. It is also acknowledged that the promise of the punishment of General Tung Fu Hsiang in the future was much beyond what was hoped for.

Officers who are most familiar with the Chinese characteristics say that nothing should be done to induce the empress dowager to return to Peking. She appears to be the only person possessed of the idea that it will be impossible to do without her. These persons say that the edict of Nov. 13 and the note which she sent to Li Hung Chang with the official decree in which she told him that he and Prince Ching would be held responsible for further delay in the opening of the negotiations, shows that she is lacking in the spirit of meekness which the powers seem determined to instill in her before they finish. They say the edict is really her ultimatum and that what she orders in that decree is as far as she will go to settle the trouble. It is suggested by some people that a further exhibition of the spirit of meekness on her part might be desirable before word is sent to her to return. Otherwise the powers may decide to place some one else on the throne and leave her in exile.

The Italian troops that were in the Pao-ting-fu expedition returned here today wearing fur coats. When they entered the town, the natives at first gave them silk umbrellas and banners and flowers. The Italians told the residents that these things were useless, but that some useful presents such as furs would be gratefully accepted. The people acted on the suggestion and furnished fur coats to the entire command. They also handed the colonel commanding the Italians 10,000 taels.

A HITCH AT PEKING.

A Difference Among Foreign Envoys Delays Negotiations.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The Shanghai correspondent of The Morning Post, referring to the rumored decree of the empress dowager warning governors and viceroys to prepare for war against the allies, says that he believes it refers to the provinces of Shansi and Honan alone, as the Chinese believe that the allies intend to invade them.

A dispatch from Peking says the meeting of the foreign envoys Monday unexpectedly developed a point of difference, which brought the negotiations to a temporary standstill. The matter will be referred to the home governments. The conference adjourned without fixing a date for reassembling.

It is said that the difference is such as will possibly cause considerable delay. Li Hung Chang is known to have unofficially approached certain ministers with a view of ascertaining the likelihood of the powers consenting to reduce the punishment of Chinese officials to degradation by banishment; but it is understood that he received no encouragement.

Reports from Chinese sources say that a German and Italian column is burning villages to the northward.

Malicious Persecution.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 22.—Rev. D. E. Stuart, charged with performing a criminal operation and against whom a warrant has been issued for wife murder, was closeted nearly all day with his counsel, and the expected hearing was not held yesterday. The mystery enshrouding the prosecution is being cleared up gradually. The dead woman's parents, it is now said, are the real prosecutors. Stuart claims the entire affair is a malicious persecution, and he feels confident of acquittal.

Runaway Cars Kill Three.

BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 22.—A string of empty tramcars broke loose and ran away in the Sloss ore mines of the Sloss Sheffield Steel and Iron company near Bessemer. Nape Thompson, the superintendent, was run over and instantly killed. Charles Kelly and Andrew Hart, who were working near by, were struck by two cars which jumped the track and crushed them to death against the wall of the mine.

Heavy Snow In Utah.

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 22.—A heavy snow and wind storm prevailed here all day yesterday and last night and appears to have been general throughout the intermountain region. Railway trains are generally behind time, and interruption to telephone and telegraph wires is reported throughout the west. Extremely cold weather is reported from central Montana points.

Brakeman Fatally Hurt.

HARTFORD, Nov. 22.—Frank Owens of Fort Plain, N. Y., a brakeman on the Central New England railroad, was knocked off the top of a freight car at the Woodland street bridge in this city and received injuries from which he died in half an hour.

IMMENSE LOSS OF PROPERTY.

Tornado Cuts a Swath Across Mississippi and Tennessee—Destructive Gales Sweep Through Northern and Western States.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 22.—Tennessee was swept Tuesday night by the most destructive storm ever known in the state. More than 50 persons were killed and 100 more injured, while the damage to houses, timber and other property will reach large figures.

The storm entered the state from northern Mississippi and swept across in a northeasterly direction. Great damage is reported from the counties bordering on Mississippi, and farther on Columbia, in Maury county, is the heaviest sufferer.

The path of the storm is about 50 yards wide and was through the northwestern suburbs of the town. In its path everything is completely wrecked. Not even the iron and stone fence of the arsenal grounds is standing.

The houses of Captain Aydelott, the Farrells and other large residences were demolished.

With the exception of these four houses the storm's path was through a section of the town populated chiefly by negroes and the poorer classes, and the houses were mere hovels. It is estimated that 150 of them were totally destroyed and a larger number damaged.

The suffering of the people rendered homeless and bereft of all their goods is pitiable.

The number of houses destroyed in the Nolensville neighborhood is 16. There were two fatalities. All of the 16 houses were totally destroyed. Mr. Hampton had $400 in money, and this was blown and only a part recovered. The baby of Jim Christman, colored, reported lost, was found 300 yards from the house at 10 o'clock, lying near a branch, uninjured. One of the family dogs was lying by his side.

At Lavergne, 16 miles south of here, on the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis road, the velocity of the wind was marvelous and from best reports lasted only about 20 seconds. In this short time about 35 dwellings were turned into kindling wood. The loss of life is small compared with the miraculous escapes made. The wind made a swath about 200 yards wide through the middle of the town. The Lavergne High school and the depot, the two largest buildings, were laid flat on the ground. The loss of these two buildings is placed at $7,000. The railroad lost four section houses also, each valued at $900.

In almost every home there were several injured. Immense damage was done to farms, and hundreds of live stock were killed. Considerable damage resulted at Martin's Mill and at Indian Creek. Twenty houses at Dallas, Ala., near Huntsville, were demolished, but no lives were lost.

In the Mohawk Valley.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Nov. 22.—Several persons were injured and many others narrowly escaped death, while thousands of dollars' worth of damage was done as the result of the cyclone in this city yesterday. Prominent among those injured was James A. Goodrich, president of the Y. M. C. A. and a prominent lawyer, who was blown down and hurt about the head. John A. Castor and a fellow laborer were blown from a scaffold at the locomotive works to the ground, 50 feet away, and badly injured. They are in the hospital. The baseball grandstand was wrecked and fragments carried through the air demolished the fronts of houses in Delemont avenue. Three baby carriages were upset, and their occupants narrowly escaped being trampled to death under horses' feet. At the State street railroad crossing Charles H. Benedict saved a boy from the wheels of a freight train, toward which he was being blown. It is reported that a schoolhouse several miles from here was blown down. The Alpha Knitting mill was badly damaged. Two icehouses on the Mohawk river and owned by Timeson & McAuley are demolished. A saloon on State street run by Charles McConokey was wrecked.

The Storm In New York City.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—A windstorm accompanied by a slashing fall of rain struck New York and vicinity at 4:10 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The wind came from the northwest and blew for five minutes at a 72 mile clip. The rain was driven in hissing sheets through the streets. The velocity of the wind was so great that several persons going across City Hall park were blown from their feet. The big flag on the Postal Telegraph building was whipped away from the staff and went sailing like a great feather on the wind. At Park place and Broadway, in front of several clothing stores, showcases were overturned and the goods scattered to the winds. A large roll top desk which had just been taken from a truck was hurled up against a big case, and both were demolished. Then the storm ceased as suddenly as it had come, and the city was treated to a most magnificent rainbow.

Hurricane In Colorado.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Nov. 22.—A hurricane has swept over this city, and signs are blown down, telephone, telegraph and light wires are down and chimneys have been blown from roofs. People are afraid to venture in the streets, and business is practically suspended. The velocity of the wind was the greatest ever attained here—70 miles an hour. The storm started at 10 o'clock yesterday, but did not become severe until 12:30. The plant of the Colorado Springs Electric company is badly damaged, the steel stacks being blown down. The High school building was damaged a great deal. The iron roof of the Temple theater was ripped off in large sections, and many business blocks were also much damaged, the roofs and cornices being torn off.

Building Wrecked In Pennsylvania.

LOCKHAVEN, Pa., Nov. 22.—A violent windstorm passed over this (Clinton) county yesterday. The building now under construction for the Pennsylvania Fire Brick company at Beach Creek was blown down, and Thomas Stahl, an employee, had a leg severely injured. Two tobacco sheds belonging to Robert McCormick below this city were torn to pieces, and the crop of 1,200 acres of tobacco leaf stored in the sheds was destroyed. The tobacco shed of Thomas McKeague at McElhattan was also destroyed, and two iron stacks at L. M. Patterson & Co.'s pipe works, this city, were blown down.

Storm at Granville.

WHITEHALL, N. Y., Nov. 22.—A terrific windstorm, accompanied by rain and lightning, struck Granville, N. Y., yesterday afternoon, creating great havoc. The roof of the Central House was blown off, and the large shirt factory was badly damaged, one end being moved from its foundations. Great consternation prevailed among the employees. Telephone lines are down in all directions.

Fatal Collapse of Buildings.

PATERSON, N. J., Nov. 22.—A strong gale blowing out of the west hit Paterson shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It reached its greatest velocity a little before 2 o'clock, and at that time a particularly strong gust caused the collapse of the new buildings in course of erection for the Yantacaw Ice company a mile from Haledon and caused the death of one man and severe injury to five others. All the victims are carpenters and were in the employ of William T. Gutherson, who was erecting the icehouses.

Fierce Gale In Ohio.

ASHTABULA, O., Nov. 22.—The severest windstorm seen in years did considerable damage in northeastern Ohio. At Conneaut Harbor a frame residence belonging to Frank Kennedy was lifted from its foundations and completely torn to pieces. Another residence was unroofed. The large smokestack of the Carnegie Iron works was blown down. The Shenago Car ferry en route to Canada was compelled to return to her starting point for shelter.

Trees and Buildings Blown Down.

LYONS, N. Y., Nov. 22.—A terrific windstorm struck Wayne county yesterday. It followed a downpour of rain resembling a cloudburst. The thermometer dropped to freezing. Large damage by wind is reported from the surrounding country. Orchards are upturned and buildings unroofed and blown down. The streets are in darkness, as the wind blew down the electric light wires.

Great Damage In Toledo.

TOLEDO, Nov. 22.—A terrific windstorm swept over Sandusky and did many thousand dollars' worth of damage. Half a dozen large icehouses were blown down and demolished. Several small vessels were blown ashore and a number of buildings unroofed.

Killed by Falling Tree.

HENNIKER, N. H., Nov. 22.—A cloudburst in this section yesterday afternoon was accompanied by a gale of wind, and in Weare Walter Hemmel was killed by being caught under a falling tree.

Storm at Oswego.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Nov. 22.—A severe windstorm has been raging here. The wind blew 52 miles from the west. Buildings were unroofed and other damage caused.

Dr. Kennedy Sees His Wife.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The wife of Samuel J. Kennedy, who has been sentenced to death for the murder of Dolly Reynolds, but who has been granted a new trial, visited Sing Sing prison yesterday and was allowed to spend considerable time in the death house in conversation with Kennedy. The official papers from Albany have not yet arrived, and Warden Johnson did not have authority to move Kennedy from the death house, and his wife had to talk to him through a screen during the interview. Both were overjoyed at the meeting, and Mrs. Kennedy assured her husband that she believed as strongly as ever in his innocence and that he would now escape the death chair. She promised on leaving him that she would be on hand to accompany him from the prison when he was taken to the Tombs in New York, there to await his new trial.

Tutuila Heard From.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The navy department has received a report from Commander B. F. Tilley, the commandant of the naval station at Pago Pago, on the island of Tutuila, Samoa. Peace and quietness, says Commander Tilley, prevail everywhere among the natives, and they are obedient, tractable and industrious. Attention is being given to the cultivation of cocoanuts and bananas, and a marked increase in the exportation of crops is noted. A number of roads and harbor entrances are said to be suffering for want of improvements, and Commander Tilley says that the natives would be much encouraged by the expenditure of a few thousand dollars by the government for this purpose.

Big Price For Football Tickets.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 22.—Tickets for the Yale-Harvard football game in this city next Saturday are selling at unprecedented prices in the hands of speculators. Reports are heard of payments that are ridiculously high. Several, however, that are vouched for are that tickets have been sold in end stands at two for $15 and three for $20 and in side stands three for $60 and severally in single lots at $10 apiece.

Oceanic Has a Rough Voyage.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The White Star line steamer Oceanic has arrived from Liverpool and Queenstown, somewhat delayed by adverse winds and rough seas. Nearly all the passage northwest gales, rough and squally weather, with very high confused seas, were encountered. Nothing was seen of the belated steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse nor of any of the other liners which are much behind time.

Thought to Be a Murder.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Nov. 22.—Austin Hamilton of Oxford, Chenango county, who was found dying in his home a week ago, is now believed to have been murdered. Hamilton, who was 81 years old, lived alone, and it was first supposed the wounds from which he suffered were caused by his falling down the stairs. Coroner Blair finds that the man was murderously assaulted for the purpose of robbery.

Premium on Good Behavior.

CHRISTIANIA, Nov. 22.—A law has just gone into operation in Norway permitting the conditional discharge of a convict for good behavior after he has served two-thirds of his sentence.

LORD ROBERTS HURT.

Horse Fell With Him, and He Was Severely Shaken and Bruised.

LONDON, Nov 22.—Early reports of Lord Roberts' accident have been verified. On Sunday last while he was riding his horse fell with him, and he was shaken and bruised, but no limbs were broken. As he has since sent dispatches to the war office it is believed that he is performing his usual duties, especially as he has not mentioned the accident.

A dispatch to The Standard says: "Lord Roberts' bodyguard removed him to Government House, Johannesburg. He was badly shaken and bruised, but it is expected that he will be able to take the field again in the course of a few days."

The Daily Telegraph learned that Lord Roberts has telegraphed privately to the secretary of state for war, Mr. William St. John Brodrick, that he felt no ill effects whatever.

Secretary Root In Cuba.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Nov. 22.—Secretary Root and General Wood, with the other members of their party, left yesterday morning for Guantanamo, from which point they proceeded to north coast ports, where General Wood expects to meet his family. Before returning to Washington Secretary Root will meet Sir William Van Horne at Puerto Principe. Local business interests are intensely anxious with reference to the action of the Cuba company of which Sir William Van Horne is president. The company is now employing 2,000 men in the construction of a railroad, but without a franchise. Secretary Root declines to discuss political matters for publication, but said that Cuba was the richest and prettiest place he had ever seen.

Good Roads Association Formed.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—During the closing hours of the national good roads convention a permanent organization was effected. The National Good Roads association is the name of the new organization. Headquarters will be in Chicago. Officers were elected for the first year, and it is the intention of the association to continue the agitation and work for the improvement of the public highways along the lines suggested by the convention. The articles of the association state that the new organization is to represent the various national, state, agricultural, industrial, commercial, transportation, wheelmen's and automobile associations of the country which are furthering the cause of good roads.

Cuban Constitutional Convention.

HAVANA, Nov. 22.—The Cuban constitutional convention at its session yesterday in the Marti theater discussed the rules of the Yaya Cuban assembly and adopted 56 out of 131 as the rules to govern the sessions of the present organization, the most important being a rule that delegates during the exercise of their duty shall not accept positions under the government. This rule, however, does not apply to delegates already holding positions. Another rule forbids delegates to be absent longer than eight days.

Trouble In Japan's Cabinet.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—"The overthrow of Marquis Ito's cabinet," says the Yokohama correspondent of The Daily Mail, "is threatened. Already Viscount Katsuna, minister of war, has resigned in consequence of a scandal affecting Hoshi Toru, minister of communications, who is accused of accepting large bribes and will probably be arrested. The political opponents of the accused minister denounce him as a 'Tammanist,' probably because he was formerly minister to the United States."

Official Vote of Boston.

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—The tabulation of the official vote of Boston at the state election has been completed. The Bryan electors carried the city by upward of 8,800 votes, and Paine, the Democratic candidate for governor, had a plurality over Governor Crane of over 3,000. Lieutenant Governor John L. Bates, Republican, carried the city by about 700 over John B. O'Donnell of Northampton, the Democratic candidate, for the second place on the state ticket.

Rhode Island's Vote.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 22.—The state board of canvassers has completed the official count of the presidential votes cast Nov. 6. The total number of votes cast for presidential candidates was 56,548. The vote was divided as follows: McKinley and Roosevelt, 33,784; Bryan and Stevenson, 19,812; Mallony and Remmell, 1,423; Woolley and Metcalf, 1,529. McKinley's plurality was 13,972.

A Deadly Duel.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 22.—Mitchell Taylor and Charles Comer, both negroes fought a terrible duel with pistols near here. The cause was $2.15 due on a watch by Comer to Taylor. Comer was killed, and Taylor was badly wounded During the fusillade Taylor's sister ran between the men as a peacemaker and was shot through the head by Taylor She died in a few minutes.

One of Reid's Ships Wrecked.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Nov. 22.—The new steamer Fife, one of Mr. Reid's fleet of eight mailboats running in the postal service, was lost in the straits of Belle Isle Sunday during a dense snowstorm The vessel was worth $100,000, and it is believed that she was not insured. No lives were lost. The crew of 30 men took to the boats and had a terrible experience before reaching land.

Prussia Does Penance.

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—Yesterday being a day of public penitence in Prussia, all public buildings, the reichstag and the theaters were closed. No evening papers were published, and the police president of Berlin forbade the Royal Opera chorus to sing in the evening parts of Wagner's "Parsifal" and Handel's "The Messiah."

KRUGER DID NOT COME

Demonstration In His Honor at Marseilles a Fizzle.

BOER LEADER TRAVELS SLOWLY.

Programme Will Be Carried Out When the Belated Gelderland Arrives, but the Enthusiasm Has Been Dampened by Fiasco.

MARSEILLES, Nov. 22.—A blunder in the calculations of the time the Gelderland would require between Port Said and Marseilles resulted in the fizzling out yesterday of the intended demonstration and imperiled the success of the reception today. The French reception committee did not take into account the gale that is sweeping the Mediterranean and the low speed of the Gelderland, but allowed all their arrangements to stand.

The Boer delegates, victims of the organizing committee, awaited expectantly at their hotel from early morning until the afternoon the arrival of the cruiser. For several hours the carriage intended for Mr. Kruger remained at the entrance of the hotel, the horses, which were decorated with rosettes of Boer colors, pawing the ground impatiently until the equipage was dismissed. Various delegations and societies that had assembled at the landing stage remained through heavy showers until they realized in the nonsignaling of the Gelderland that their presence was futile. Then they disbanded.

The fiasco was unfortunate, because thousands among the day's concourse will shrink from the possibility of losing another day. The crowds were for the greater part made up of workingmen and shopkeepers who lost money by attending the gathering and who are not likely to repeat the experiment.

Bad weather and the element of uncertainty as to the time of Mr. Kruger's landing kept many thousands from the route. Thirty thousand would be a generous estimate of the crowd which massed thickly at several points, while only sparse assemblies were to be seen elsewhere.

The French and the Boer delegates were all intensely disappointed, especially as up to a late hour no news had been received of the Gelderland's entry into the harbor, although her appearance is momentarily expected. No importance is attached to the report of an injury to her machinery, the theory being that she is merely going slowly in consequence of the heavy sea, which is chiefly responsible for the delay.

The Boer committee has issued an announcement that the programme intended for yesterday will be carried out today.

Senator Davis Delirious.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 22.—The forenoon and early afternoon are Senator Davis' most comfortable hours, and during these hours yesterday he slept almost continually. At noon his temperature was normal, but his pulse and respiration were so high as to indicate fully the advance of the disease. This is combined with a delirium, which manifests itself almost continually during Senator Davis' waking hours. The attending physicians have frequently been quoted in the past few days by Senator Davis' intimate friends as saying that they entertain no hope whatever of his recovery. While no official statement to this effect has been made, the unofficial reports have gained wide credence and have tended to increase the anxiety of Senator Davis' friends.

Gift of a Million Dollars.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Hans Schuyler, B. D., Ph. D., of College Point, Queens county, told his friends that he had been notified that he had come into possession of a fortune of about $1,000,000, the gift of a wealthy uncle in Germany. The uncle, he said, had made a fortune in the coffee business and had decided to retire owing to his advanced age. Mr. Schuyler was the head of a Flushing educational institution for young women for many years. At present he is the principal of a school at College Point.

Cleveland Councilmen Smirched.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 22.—A sensational affidavit made by Charles W. Lapp, a member of the city council, has been made public. Councilman Lapp swears that Councilman White told him that "the gang" (meaning certain members of the council) received $5,000 for their votes on the police alarm contract and intimated that $5,000 more was to be paid for their votes on a contract for the new city fire alarm system.

Grand Rapids Celebrates.

GRAND RAPIDS, Nov. 22.—The Grand Rapids board of trade last night celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the incorporation of the city by a monster banquet at the Armory hall. General Russell A. Alger of Detroit, who began his career here, laying the foundation of his present fortune by a small investment in lumber, was the guest of honor. He spoke to "Reminiscences of Early Days."

Ivanhoe Paper Mill Burned.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Fire yesterday destroyed the old Ivanhoe paper mill at Paterson, N. J. It caught fire during the great gale, and nothing could save it. The building of late had been used as a place in which to sort rags, and the smoke from the rags was so dense that it forced the operatives in the Rogers locomotive works and the Silverman silk mills to suspend work.

Charles K. Booth Ill.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Charles K. Booth, son of Commander and Mrs. Ballington Booth, the heads of the Volunteers of America, is seriously ill at his parents' home in Montclair, N. J., with appendicitis. An operation is thought to be necessary and may be performed today. He is about 11 years old. His mother has canceled all her engagements for the next two weeks.

Ill Treated In Hamburg.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Charles Melka of Momence, Ills., who was recently reported to have been arrested by the police of Hamburg, has exonerated himself and returned to his home. He was arrested on false charges, stripped of his belongings and imprisoned for five days, during which time he was not allowed to communicate with the American consul.

Typhus Epidemic In Copenhagen.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 22.—The typhus epidemic here is assuming serious proportions. Twenty new and serious cases were officially reported yesterday.

The natural result of the establishment of numerous routes of free delivery of mail service through the rural sections will mean a lessening of fourth-class post offices and a consequent diminishing of the patronage that Congressmen have to dispose of to faithful political henchmen. It is a fact that the general movement to organize these routes has met with some opposition on the part of Congressmen, but the advantages and benefits of the service are so great that the selfish political interests of these officials will not be permitted to stand long in the way of the extension of the rural delivery. The far-sighted Congressman, however, will be shrewd enough not to attempt to interfere with the granting of the service to any of his constituents, for while doing so he might win the approbation of a small-fry office holder he would be offending a large number of people who appreciate rural delivery and would resent at the ballot box the man who would attempt to interfere and deprive them of it.

It will cost over $98,000,000 to run the municipal government of Greater New York during the next calender year—nearly $30 per capita of population. Before consolidation the cost of local administration of ordinances in the same territory was about $67,000,000.

When all the newly-elected Governors of the States shall have been inaugurated there will be one Silverite, twenty-six Republicans and eighteen Democratic executives. The Silverite is Reinhold Sadler, of Nevada.

New Jersey may have been the mother of trusts, but New York is proving a good stepmother, quotes The World.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

The most notoriously "wide open" town in New Jersey on Sundays is Rahway. Not that the "family entrance" of saloons is more in evidence here than elsewhere, but that fruit stores, candy shops, cigar shops, soda fountains, bakeries and all such places that supply the physicial wants of man are as open for business on Sundays as on any other days of the week. The streets in the parts of the town where these places abound are thronged on Sunday nights by young men and young girls and the shops do a thriving business. The Sunday morals of Rahway might easily be amended to the advantage of the rising generation.—New York Herald.

The fact that so many Senators are not re-elected to the Fifty-seventh Congress will make some notable changes, in which Senator Sewell will probably figure. The New Jersey Senator is at present chairman of the committee on enrolled bills, fourth in rank on military affairs, fifth on appropriations, second on territories and a member of the committee on immigration and interoceanic canals. Senator Sewell could be chairman of the territories committee if he desired the honor, in place of that he now holds. Should Senator Cullom not be his own successor, Senator Sewell would be advanced one place on appropriations. Senator Shoup's defeat advances the senior Senator from New Jersey to the third place on the committee on military affairs.—N. Y. Tribune.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exacty News but Just as Interesting.

A movement is on foot to secure the preservation of the old building at Ripon, Wis., in which the preliminary meeting which resulted in the formation of the Republican party was held. The meeting took place March 20, 1854. Among those who were present at that meeting was Frank M. Bacon, of this city, then a lad of eighteen years. He was not a voter, but felt deeply interested in the Abolition movement. The desired plan is to secure about $5,000, which amount is considered necessary to effect a purchase—an option having been secured—and to keep it in repair during future years. If the plans carry the building will be dedicated to spend the remainder of its days as the most suitable home of a historic museum for the safe keeping of such records of Republicanism and relics of the State's history as have been promised or may be contributed. A statue of Fremont, the first National party nominee, and of Lincoln, will have places therein.

Plainfield as a copper centre seems to be attracting the attention of the outside world. In olden times the Watchung mountains presented a great field for the miner and for many years boys climbed through the old tunnels deserted only as to rats and snakes. Lately, however, as many people know, there has been a great jump in the price of copper, and the question of reviving mining has awakened new interests. Descendants of the capitalists of a half century ago are taking out of their old trunks certificates of stock bearing signatures of officers long resting in our cemeteries. From Boston comes the inquiry as to the value of the "Plainfield Copper Mining Company." The holder of some of its shares of stock certificates numbering 52, 53 and 54, are dated April 26th, 1865. It comprises 1,365 shares which is held by the heirs of the Goodspeed estate. The shares in question bear the names O. MacDaniel, president, and P. Wallace Wayan, secretary. There may be some Plainfielder who has knowledge concerning the above-named company and information about it would, undoubtedly, be of much interest to the inquiring ones.

CHANGE IN NEWARK TRAINS.

Will Again Run From Elizabeth Over the Broadway Route.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Nov. 22.—Next Sunday the Central Railroad will recommence the running of trains between this city and Newark over the Broadway branch tracks in this city, which route was abandoned last spring. The railroad authorities got into a controversy then with the Elizabeth City Council because of the failure to have the street crossings on the Broadway line protected by gates and flagmen.

Now the company has placed gates and flag shanties at all the crossings on the Broadway route and hired flagmen for each. Everything, therefore, is in readiness to resume travel over it next Sunday, when the new winter timetable of the Central goes into effect.

The Broadway route to Newark will take the trains on the Elizabeth and Newark branch away from the main line of the Central, and, it is claimed, will enable them to make better time running between the two cities.

ASSOCIATION'S RECOMMENDATIONS.

Suggests Constitutional Amendments Touching the Courts.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Trenton, Nov. 22.—The New Jersey State Bar Association met in the Senate Chamber to consider proposed amendents to the Constitution to be recommended to the Legislature at its next meeting. The proposition to have the Court of Pardons composed of the Governor, Chancellor and Attorney-General was approved, as was also a proposition to have the Court of Errors composed of a chief judge and four associate judges. The recommendation to continue the appointment of Vice-Chancellor by the Chancellor was disapproved, and it was voted that the appointing power should rest with the Governor.

Recommendations were adopted which provided that the Judges of the Court of Errors, the Justices of the Supreme Court, the Chancellor and Vice-Chancellors should be appointed for seven years and the Common Pleas Judges for five years.

A Still Alarm.

A still alarm called the West End Hose Company to the residence of James Mann, on Plainfield avenue, last evening. The chimney was found to be blazing furiously. The blaze was extinguished in a short time with the contents of one extinguisher.

Dear Sirs:—Some days since a package of your GRAIN-O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Java and Mocha in our family, but I am free to say I like the GRAIN-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank.

THANKSGIVING FURNITURE.

Our offering of Sideboards, China Closets, Dining Tables and Dining Chairs for the greatest feast day of the year, is worthy of your earnest attention. The styles and prices cannot be duplicated elsewhere. Have you seen the elegant dining room display in our east window and also in the basement. There has never been such a display in the city before

Sideboards.

Made of solid oak, plain and quartered, beautiful golden finish, lined drawer for silver, French bevel plate mirrors, side brackets, elegant carvings, with or without canopy tops, some with serpentine and some with swell fronts, 30 different styles which represent the best manufacturers in the country. Without doubt the handsomest as well as the cheapest line of sideboards ever shown under one roof. Some as low as 9.98 and so on up to 25.00, but those at 14.98, 15.98 and 18.75 are noteworthy.

Dining Room Tables.

In solid oak golden finish, size of tops 42x42 and 44x44, some with gloss finish and some rubbed and polished, extending to 6, 8 and 10 feet, the legs are heavy turned, some of which are fluted, some twisted and others spiral shaped, with plain and claw feet, the prices are 5.98, 6.75, 7.98, 8.48 and up to 12.98.

Dining Room Chairs

at 1.10, a nice high back chair, golden oak finish, cane seat and arm braces. At 1.25, a solid golden oak chair, very neat design, with cane seat and arm braces. At 1.35, a solid oak chair, golden finish, high back, new fan shape spindles, cane seat and arm braces. At 1.48, a very strong and durable chair, golden oak with cane seat, arm braces and fancy embossed back. At 1.98, about six different styles in golden oak, highly polished, box seat chairs with high back, arm braces, etc.

New China Closets.

Solid oak china closets, golden finish, with round ends, carved tops and adjustable shelves, at 12.98 instead of 15.00. Quarter sawed golden oak china closets with round ends, carved top and base, rope edge and French legs at 14.98 instead of 16.50

Lamps.

It would be hard to find another such gathering of high grade lamps such as we are exhibiting, and after all that may be said about gas and electric lights, the lamp still has its place in the home, the picturesque effect of its form and decoration gives a finish to the entire furnishings and the soft rich glow of the blended light gives a mellow refinement that brings the entire room into eye-pleasing harmony. The place of the lamp in the furnishing scheme is most important. The variety of our offerings is too great to describe in detail, so come and judge for yourself. Suggestion of price ranges

75c and up to 13.98.

THEY SAY.

The Merchant Says:

Telephone service is a great promoter of business. It not only is an open door for new business, but increases the facility with which any business may be transacted.

The Railroad Man Says:

It keeps our many departments running in continuous harmony. It increases both our passenger and our freight service, and is a great convenience to our patrons.

The Broker Says:

It keeps me in touch with the market wherever I am; I buy and sell by wire, and by taking telephonic advantage of a turn in the market I have made thousands of dollars.

The Doctor Says:

Telephone service has increased my income to nearly double. Many persons will seek advice by telephone who would hesitate to ask a physician to make a call.

The Caterer Says:

Telephone service enables me to serve my patrons more speedily and with less effort. It minimizes possibility of loss from overstocking.

The Housekeeper Says:

Life without telephone service would be unbearable. It smooths all the rough places. How we ever got along without it, I do not know.

The Suburban Resident Says:

The knowledge that I can call up my house out of town from my office in the city, is a great comfort.

The College Man Says:

"I say, old chap, it's great. You can call up and get the latest news from the football game or the boat race, and every other old thing a fellow wants to know."

Everybody Says:

It is the greatest thing in the world—the greatest convenience of this or any other time. The greatest factor in business, social or domestic life; a service no one can afford to be without.

The Telephone Company Says:

We want your patronage on the basis of LOW RATES, PERFECT SERVICE.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Nov. 22—John Hall, an employe at Garretson & Gray's stone crusher, met with a rather serious accident while at work yesterday morning. He was part way up the face of the quarry dislodging bowlders, when a large rock above him became loosened and fell, striking him on the forehead. A deep gash was made between the eyes and he was partially stunned by the force of the blow. He was assisted to Dr. Brakeley's office where the wound was dressed. It was necessary to take four stitches to close it.

A grand ball will be given in Apgar's Hall this evening under the auspices of the colored council of the Twilight Social Club. The feature of the evening will be a prize cake-walk in which a number of well known couples will take part. Music for the occasion will be furnished by Peterson's orchestra.

The next event in the Board of Education's series will be a lecture by County Superintendent Willis. The subject will be the "School Law." It will take place in the chapel of the Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening, December 4.

Mrs. William E. Terry entertained a number of young lady friends at a delightful afternoon luncheon yesterday. It was an informal affair and was greatly enjoyed by those in attendance.

Walter G. Runyon was in charge of the funeral services of Mrs. Bethume Dunham, which were held from her late residence on Evona avenue yesterday.

The electric lights were on their bad behavior again last evening, and for some time refused to burn to the great annoyance of pedestrians.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, November 22.—The Epworth League Society of the Methodist church will give an entertainment in Excelsior Hall tomorrow evening. The programme arranged is an interesting one and includes Miss Luckey, who needs no introduction to the residents, as she has appeared before a Scotch Plains audience upon several other occasions.

The entertainment for the benefit of the borough fire company which was to have been held in the Fire House this evening has been postponed, owing to the serious illness of Henry L. Hall the president of the fire company. Mr. Hall has been seriously ill for several weeks but was improving very nicely until Tuesday when he suffered a relapse.

Henry Keuhn, Jr., was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital Wednesday to be operated upon for appendicitis. The operation was performed during the afternoon and the patient was doing as well as could be expected last night.

The degree team of Fanwood Council, R. A., will pay a fraternal visit to Roselle Council tonight. The team will work the Fanwood third degree upon a candidate for the benefit of their Roselle brethren.

WESTFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Westfield, Nov. 22.—During the heavy wind storm last night one of the wings on the large eagle which surmounts the one-hundred foot flag pole of Central Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., at the corner of Broad and Prospect streets, was blown off. The pole swung and tottered so much that a strict watch was kept but it still stands today.

The Central Railroad Company has commenced making the promised improvements about Westfield. A gang of men is now at work building a composition platform in front of the south side station. The work of tunneling Broad street crossing will commence as soon as the township committee agrees to do the grading up to the railroad property line. The company carpenters have been at Osborn avenue figuring on the proposed overhead bridge which will be built before spring.

It is reported here today that the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company has decided to build a bridge ove the Lehigh Valley Railroad at Picton and thereby do away with transferring of passengers between this town and Rahway.

OLD WOMAN FOUND DEAD.

Neighbors Found Her With Face Badly Mutilated, Evidently by a Pet Cat.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Market, Nov. 22.—Ever since last Thursday Mrs. Julia Green an aged colored woman, who lived about a mile out of town on the Stelton road, had been missing from her usual haunts. Becoming suspicious that something was wrong, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lant, who live near by, went to her home Tuesday. They found the old lady lying on a bed and on going closer discovered that she was dead. She had evidently died suddenly several days before. The face was terribly mutilated, presumably by a pet cat which was in the house. Mrs. Green was about seventy-five years old and had lived alone since the death of her husband a few years ago. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. James Williams, who resides in this vicinity. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon.

AT END OF AUTUMN DAYS

MERRY WEDDING BELLS RANG OUT AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH YESTERDAY.

Miss Elizabeth Burns Becomes the Wife of Edward McCarthy—Admiring Friends as Witnesses.

St. Mary's church was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday, when Miss Elizabeth Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burns, of Pemberton avenue, and Edward McCarthy were united in marriage by Rev. P. E. Smyth. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock in the presence of several hundred friends and relatives.

Miss Mamie McCarthy was bridemaid and Wm. Blitho, of New York, was best man. The ushers were Max Moraller, Thomas Burns, Daniel O'Keefe and Arthur Mosher. Miss Burns was attired in a handsome dress of tan cloth, trimmed with velvet and lace and carried a rosary of beads. The bridemaid's dress was of crepe de chene. She carried a basket of pink roses. The ceremony was carried out very impressively.

Forming at the front of the church the bridal party proceeded up the aisle to the strains of Lohengrin's beautiful wedding march, played by Miss Smith. They were met at the altar by the groom and his attendants and the words were pronounced which made the young couple man and wife. Immediately after the ceremony the guests repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was held lasting until after midnight. Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy left on the 8:20 express last evening for a southern wedding trip, stopping first at Baltimore. On their return they will take up housekeeping in the Jackson building.

The young couple received an unusually large number of handsome gifts, among them being several sets of silverware from the Gorham Company, of New York, with which the groom is connected. The groom presented his attendants with gold stick pins. The decorations at the church were greatly admired, the altar in particular being a solid bank of handsome palms and potted plants.

AT BETHEL CHAPEL.

Entertainment and Sale of Articles Opened There Last Evening—To Continue Till Tomorrow.

A sale of fancy and useful articles, together with an entertainment, is being held at the Bethel chapel this week. The affair opened last evening and will continue through until tomorrow evening. There was a very good attendance for the opening night. The members of the Circle of Earnest Workers, under whose auspices the affair is held, are in charge.

C. J. MacKoy had charge of the entertainment last evening, which consisted of selections by an orchestra, Alfred White, pianist; Howard Grobes, cornet; Henry Peterson, violin; vocal solos by Albert Bowser, Eddie Blair, Alfred White; vocal duet, Isaac Fields, Eddie Blair; recitations, Miss Alice Hoffler, Miss Mamie Smith; piano solo, Miss Alice Maynard. There was also given a one-act drama, entitled "Too Curious for Comfort," in which Mrs. C. J. MacKoy, Miss Alice Maynard, Alfred White and Isaac Fields took part. The drama was well given and caused hearty laughter.

The entertainment concluded with a pretty tableau given by some of the young women. The representation was "America," and the song of that title was rendered.

Those in charge of the tables are as follows: Cake and cream—Mrs. Douglass, Miss Dixon, Mrs. Banks; lunch—Miss Laura Ware, Miss Phyllis Hollon; candy—Miss Charlotte Dorsey, Miss Celie Ford; Russian tea and chocolate—Miss Euphemia Dorsey, Miss Kate Lane; fancy—Miss Clara Lane, Miss Huola Lane; china—Mrs. VanBlake, Mrs. Hill; variety—Mrs. A. Brown, Miss Anderson, Miss Douglass.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness

A sweet, dreamy odor, recalling to memory tales of the poppyland and later-day stories of the gorgeous splendour of San Francisco Chinatown, will penetrate Music Hall tomorrow night when the "King of the Opium Ring" is presented. The play is entirely different from all previous attempts at melodramas, and that its phenomenal success of last season will be duplicated is beyond question. There is enough of comedy running through the performance in a sparkling manner to make it one of the interesting features. Thrilling climaxes and sensational situations abound which keep the audience in a constant state of excitement from start to finish. The opium joint scene is realistic. The startling mechanical effects bring about thrilling climaxes. The mad rush of the police patrol, revenue cutter in pursuit of the smugglers' yacht, the raid on the opium joint, all form part of this remarkable melodrama. The human tower of Chinks carrying off the drugged mistress of the opium king is wonderful. Three high, the top man carring the senseless woman from the balcony of one building across the stage to that of another, forms a most startling novelty, which causes the audience to hold its breath until it is completed.

Novel, up to-date and refined minstreley will ever be a popular amusement with all classes of theatre going folks, and all delighting in such will have an opportunity of witnessing one of the best shows of the season at Music Hall next Monday night when Washburn's Famous Southern Minstrel Company make their first appearance here. The present organization is said to be superior in many respects to any of the other companies Mr. Washburn has brought here, and, if such be the case, it must be something extra good, for a bad show, with the Washburn trade mark attached was never known. There are thirty-five people in the company which is made up of noted performers. The appointments and accessories are unexcelled. Be sure and see the grand street parade at noon of the day of the performance.

With the "Uncle Josh Spruceby" company, which will be the Thanksgiving Day attraction at Music Hall next Thursday afternoon and night, is the celebrated "Spruceby" orchestra of 12 soloists. This musical organization has a world-wide reputation and is under the direction of a talented leader and composer of note. A very popular program is rendered between the acts. Two big bands are carried by the company, and a novel and unique parade will be given at noon by the combined bands. A carload of special scenery and mechanical effects are used. The realistic saw mill scene is one of the most startling pieces of stagecraft even produced. Thirty-five people are in the company.

J. Wesley Rosenquest, manager of the Fourteenth Street Theatre, New York, who is directing the tour and is one of the owners of the great play "The Village Postmaster," which is to be at Music Hall Thursday, Dec. 12th, writes Manager Maze Edwards as follows: "You may assure your patrons that the company, scenery and effects of the play I am sending you, on this occasion, is the only authorized company now performing the play, and you will have it with every detail as presented at my house here—the original company, and with Archie Boyd in the title role."

—You can't afford to risk your life by allowing a cough or a cold to develop into pneumonia or consumption. One Minute Cough Cure will cure throat and lung troubles quicker than any other preparation known. Many doctors use it as a specific for grippe. It is an infallible remedy for croup. Children like it and mothers endorse it. L. W. Randolph.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Oesterreich.

Wien. Das neunjährige Töchterchen des Metalldrehers Schwiehalek wurde von einem elektrischen Motorwagen erfaßt und von der Schutzvorrichtung des Wagens derart eingeklemmt, daß man das Kind nicht hervorziehen konnte. Die städtische Feuerwehr mußte berufen werden, und nach langer Arbeit wurde der schwere Wagen so weit gehoben, daß das unglückliche Kind herausgehoben werden konnte. Der Kleinen war ein Theil des Rückgrats und der Unterkiefer zermalmt, die rechte Hand vollständig abgetrennt. Inspektionsarzt Dr. Frühmann konnte nur den Tod des Kindes feststellen.—Der städtische Straßenkehrer Michael Schönbauer beging mit seiner Gattin das Fest der goldenen Hochzeit. Bürgermeister Dr. Lueger überreichte dem Jubelpaare ein Säckchen mit 100 Kronen als Angebinde der Stadt Wien.

Braunau. Wegen des Verbrechens der Gotteslästerung und des Verbrechens der Herabwürdigung von Gebräuchen der katholischen Kirche, endlich des Vergehens der Beleidigung der Garnison und der Behörden von Innsbruck wurde gegen den flüchtigen Redakteur Ignaz Kutschera aus Braunau ein Steckbrief erlassen.

Brünn. Lepthin hat sich der Direktor des zweiten deutschen Staatsgymnasiums, Hugo Horak, erschossen. Man glaubt, daß ihn ein langjähriges Rückenmarksleiden in den Tod getrieben habe.

Budapest. In der Gemeinde Pardauy erschoß der Landwirth Joseph Toth den Bierbrauer Mathias Gafto, mit dem er längere Zeit in Feindschaft gelebt hatte, und beging dann Selbstmord.

Krakau. Der hiesige Gemeinderath beschloß die Errichtung eines städtischen Kohlenlagers behufs Detailverkaufs zum Selbstkostenpreise.

Lemberg. In dem Dorfe Bohuszow brachen rasch nacheinander mehrere Brände aus, welche das Besitzthum von fünf Landwirthen in Asche legten. Wie die Untersuchung nunmehr ergab, ist die Brandstifterin ein 12jähriges Kind, Marie Muszynska, Tochter eines der Abgebrannten. Als Motiv gab die jugendliche Verbrecherin an, sie habe das Feuer gelegt, weil ihr die Eltern und Nachbarn Milch verweigert hatten.

Oedenburg. Der Weingartenbesitzer Mathias Heinrich in Deutsch-Kreuz hatte in seinem Keller eine große Quantität Most eingelagert. Ohne die üblichen Vorsichtsmaßregeln zu beobachten, betrat er in Begleitung seiner Frau den Keller, um nach dem Most zu sehen. Die in Folge des Gährungsprozesses angesammelten Gase übten auf das Ehepaar eine betäubende Wirkung aus und führten nach kurzer Zeit den Tod der Bedauernswerthen durch Ersticken herbei.

Salzburg. Der Bauer Simon Aschacher in Hüttau tödtete im häuslichen Zwiste seine Gattin durch Messerstiche. Aschacher wurde verhaftet.

Tarnopol. Anhier wurde das der Oesterreichischen Eisenbahnverkehrsanstalt gehörige Elektrizitätswerk dem Betriebe übergeben. Das Werk liefert den Strom für die gesammte Straßenbeleuchtung.

Troppau. Der Oekonomiebeamte Adolph Eich aus Troppau, der als Kurgast in Aussee weilte, hat sich Nachts im Altausseer-See ertränkt. Da er brieflich die Stelle sehr genau bezeichnete, konnte die Leiche sofort gefunden werden.

Schweiz.

Bern. An das im Jahre 1901 in Luzern abzuhaltende eidgenössische Schützenfest hat der Bundesrath eine Ehrengabe von 10,000 Francs bewilligt.—Der Gemeinderath in Bern hat kürzlich folgende Kredite bewilligt: 160,000 Francs für den Umbau und die Erweiterung des Depots im Mattenhof, 80,000 Francs für den Bau eines Depots im Burgernziel, 34,000 Francs zum Bau eines Werkstattgebäudes für die Mechanikerabtheilung der städtischen Lehrwerkstätten.

Zug. Bei der Heimkehr von der Jagd geriethen die beiden Brüder Johann und Albert Berglas aus Baar wegen der Jagdbeute, dreier Hasen, auf der Straße in Streit, in dessen Verlauf der ältere Bruder Albert den jüngeren durch einen Stich in den Unterleib tödtete. Der Brudermörder wurde gefänglich eingezogen.

Freiburg. In seiner Wohnung zu Vilarsel starb nach langer Krankheit Kantonsrichter Friedrich Gendre, langjähriges Mitglied des Großen Rathes für den Saanebezirk.

St. Gallen. In Lichtensteig ist Frau Dr. Eugster-Wirth in einem Anfall geistiger Verirrung aus dem Fenster ihres Schlafzimmers gesprungen. Sie wurde als Leiche aufgehoben.

Graubünden. Im Dorfe Peiden brannten im Jahre 1896 von den 24 Wohnhäusern des Ortes 14 mit 16 Ställen ab. Neulich wurde auch der stehen gebliebene Theil des Dorfes ein Raub der Flammen.

Druggists, as a general rule, do not make a practice of recommending proprietary medicines. Sometimes, however, when they have a particularly bad case of dyspepsia to deal with, they have been known to ask the sufferer to try Ripans Tabules. A St. Louis lady who was afflicted with chronic dyspepsia told a friend that she had tried more than a dozen different kinds of medicine without much relief; but one day, when she went to her druggist to have a bottle refilled, he asked her why she did not try Ripans Tabules. She bought some and took them regularly at meal time according to directions, and now she says she has never seen their equal for complaints of the stomach and liver such as she has so long suffered from.

WANTED—A case of bad health that RIPANS will not benefit. They banish pain and prolong life. One gives relief. Note the word RIPANS on the package and accept no substitute. RIPANS, 48 for 5 cents, may be had at any drug store. Ten samples and one thousand testimonials will be mailed to any address for 5 cents, forwarded to the Ripans Chemical Co., No. 10 Spruce St., New York.

THE AMERICAN IS VULGAR.

He Has the Traits of a Courtly Gentleman, But Is Too Self-Assertive.

We must all agree that the American has beyond other men an innate respect for women and for helpless things, writes "An American Mother" in the Ladies' Home Journal. He has usually, too, a wide acquaintance with the world which hinders him from intolerance and vanity. He has also a tact too fine to blurt out unpleasant facts to his companions, as does the Englishman, who, quite unprovoked, hurls disagreeable truths at you with a ferocity and a gusto that is indecent. A week with your dearest English friends is enough to make you in love with lying. The dearer you are to them the more likely are they to talk incessantly of the mole on your nose, or your vulgar kinsfolk. The American has a vivacity almost French; he gives himself easily to the occasion; he is ready to weep and laugh with you, and is sincerely interested in your new bicycle or baby. At the same time he has something of the phlegm of the Asiatic, and seldom frets or grumbles. He sniffs the odors of foul drains, quaffs typhoid germs in his water, sits in overheated steam cars and stands in overcrowded street cars year after year with imperturbable good humor.

Why, with all these qualities—why is he not a more agreeable fellow? Why, with all the traits that go to make up a courtly gentleman—why is he vulgar? Simply because he is not certain of his own position. He asserts himself every moment lest you may mistake him for an inferior. This uneasy self-assertion is the explanation of all our bad manners. "I'm as good as you!" is the secret thought with which too many of us meet every fellow creature.

HE HAD A NARROW ESCAPE.

How a Pullman Car Porter Got Off with Losing Only Part of His Money.

"We were traveling from El Paso to the coast," said the advance man of a theatrical combination, relates the New York Times, "and the porter had tucked us snugly in our berths when we were awakened to the consciousness that our train was 'held up.' The robbers marched us out of the car and made us deliver. Fortunately not one of us had more than a few dollars in cash. But the man who held up the car porter gave a yelp of delight:

"'See what I've found! Put 'em back; start the train!'

"In the careless porter's vest pocket they had discovered a roll of bills as big as the pocket would hold. It looked as if there must have been several hundred dollars. We all knew of the profitable rapaciousness of the Pullman car porter, but never dreamed that his accumulations were so large. Yet the friendly human spark of forgiveness and sympathy was in our hearts for the poor fellow losing so much at one fell swoop. We were gathered in the smoking compartment and had a consolation purse under advisement for the darky, when he came along himself.

"'Mah Lawd! Dat was de luckiest ksperience I done ever had,' he said, chuckling all over. 'Lucky!' We were astonished. A poor servant robbed of hundreds chuckles with glee. ''Deed, yes, gem'men. Dey never looked but jis in only one of mah pockets.'"

METALLIC EFFECTS.

Profuse Employment of Cloth of Gold and Gold Ribbons.

Much has been said upon the subject of metallic effects during the past year or two, but the end is not yet, for this season sees the introduction of cloth of gold, which is immensely used in the more elaborate class of winter millinery. There are entire draped toques made of it, and very ugly they are. Then there are high crowned hat shapes, the crown smoothly covered with cloth of gold and the brim with fur. Combinations of the gold with velvet, silk and lace are innumerable.

Gold ribbon from narrow to very wide widths is also much employed. It forms belts and girdles of various kinds and is combined with ribbon and velvet to compose fancy stock collars, cravats, etc.

SILK BODICE.

Small gilt ornaments are used as a finish to the hanging ends, and the belts are fastened with choux or with gold buckles. Gold braid appears as a bodice and wrap trimming, alone or in combination with some other decoration, and such effects were never as lavishly indulged in as now.

A picture is given today which shows a bodice of broche peau de soie. It has a large collar and revers composed of guipure insertion and tucked silk over plain silk. The plastron and high, flaring collar are of guipure over silk, the plaited cravat of mousseline de soie. Sleeves of broche peau de soie extend a little below the elbow and have cuffs of lace and silk matching the revers. Below there are tight sleeves of guipure, flaring over the hand. The plaited corselet belt is of panne. JUDIC CHOLLET.

MOURNING FASHIONS.

Extensive Use of Crape Upon the Costume.

English crape is a mourning luxury. There is little variety permissible in deep mourning, and so an effect of richness and elegance is obtained by a lavish use of this material, which is expensive and perishable. This is for gowns of great pretension. For ordinary use there are woolen crapes which are serviceable and look well, while they are of moderate cost.

For rich costumes sometimes the entire skirt and bodice are made of dull silk, covered with crape; or the gown is of cashmere, the skirt being faced with crape half way up its height, and the bodice having a pelerine, vest and deep ruffs of crape. Circular flounces, berthas, corselets and fichus are of crape, and even long redingotes are largely composed of it.

The illustration depicts a mourning costume of black cloth. The skirt has three bias bands of crape arranged in scallops. The bolero is cut in large scallops at the edge and opens over a vest and corselet of crape. The wide collar of crape is scalloped, and there is a high crape collar. The cloth sleeves are tucked and corded across the top and are large at the wrist, showing a full undersleeve of crape gathered in at the hand by a band. The toque is of crape, trimmed with draperies of the same material and crape wings. JUDIC CHOLLET.

COST TO CLOTHE A CHINAMAN

As a Rule the Natives Are Extremely Frugal in Their Habits and Dress.

It may be interesting to note, apropos of the trouble in China, how extremely frugal the natives are in their habits and dress. Of course the rich Chinese wear more expensive garments and live in a manner befitting their purses, but the ordinary Chinaman, in his native land can and does live on as much per year as we spend each month. The Celestial and his wife can clothe themselves more than comfortably for the small sum of $5 per year. Their clothing is made in two pieces, from cotton. Only two measures are taken—one from neck to waist, and one from waist to feet. The garments have no especial shape conforming to any figure. Underwear is unknown, and in winter the garments are padded with cotton, and once a year they are ripped apart and washed, says the Baltimore American.

The following figures serve to illustrate the great need they have for the strictest economy: Common laborers are paid from six to seven cents per day; masons, stonecutters and carpenters are paid from 25 to 30 cents per day, and by day is meant from sunrise to dark. They waste nothing that can possibly be put to any use. Small splinters of wood are glued and nailed together to form posts or boards; scraps of paper serve as shoe siles and even the roots of grass and wheat are pulled up, cleaned and used in fires. The beautiful straw platted work and weaving that we see brought from China was all made by women who were paid two cents per day for their labor—and still strikes are never heard of, and the Chinese laborer is, perhaps, as happy a member of his class as is found in the world.

The enormous demand for cotton makes it necessary even to import that article into the Flowery Kingdom, although a great deal is grown there. Unlike the United States there is no such thing as the gin, all of the cotton being picked over by hand, and the consequence is that a great amount of labor is employed; whereas, if the gin were used thousands would be thrown out of employment. An abomination of the Celestial is bare feet. If he is so poor that he cannot afford to wear another stitch of clothing, his feet will always be encased in shoes, and a hat will be jauntily perched on his head. But of course, as everywhere else, there are well-to-do Chinese, who spend the most unheard-of amounts upon food and dress. Tea sells all the way from a few cents to $150 a pound, which latter price is often paid by the rich mandarin.

A certain Chinaman came to this country several years ago to go to school. He was the son of a very wealthy merchant in Shanghai, and when he got to Washington walked down Pennsylvania avenue, and had not gone five squares before he had bought $500 worth of the most useless foppery which pleased his eye. One of his purchases was a very fine meerschaum pipe, for which he paid $15, and a few moments later swapped with an Irish hod carrier for a short clay pipe. Having never handled money before, he did not know its value.

He Was Willing.

Johnny Green came home from school the other day with the following note, duly signed by the teacher:

"Mr. Green—Dear Sir: It becomes my duty to inform you that your son shows decided indications of astigmatism, and his case is one that should be attended to without delay."

The father sent the following answer the next day:

"Mr. Kershaw—Dear Sir: Whip it out of him. Yours truly, John Green."—N. Y. World.

No Need to Go.

"Go thy ant, thou sluggard!" quoted the ambitious one.

"I don't have to," replied the man who had been lying on the ground, as he jumped up and began reaching for things down his back; "the ant has come to me."—Chicago Post.

A Measure Of Merit

Plainfield Citizens Shou'd Weigh Well This Evidence.

Proof of merit lies in the evidence. Convincing evidence in Plainfield is not the testimony of strangers. But the endorsement of Plainfield people, That's the kind of proof given here. The statement of a Plainfield citizen. Mrs. R. Wortman, living with her daughter, Mrs. S. E. Cook, of 204 Somerset street, say's: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results for severe pain across my back and hips, which no doubt was caused by the kidneys being out of order. It was painful for me to stoop or bend forward and I could not sit ten minutes in one position, but had to be constantly changing about. I used many different kinds of medicine recommended for kidney trouble, but I could not see that any of them benefitted me. Doan's Kidney Pills were procured for me at L. W. Randolph's drug store and it is the only remedy I ever used that gave me any relief. I always keep a supply of them on hand and would not think of being without them.

Sold for 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co. Buffalo, N.Y., sole agents for the U.S.

ABOUT BREATHING.

A Physician's Advice for Those Who Are Afflicted with Weak Lungs.

In order that each organ and tissue of the body may best perform its function, it must have a good, generous supply of oxygen. This must come into the system through the lungs. Full breathing of the best air insures the securing of this wholesome oxygen supply, says a doctor in Housekeeping.

Most people breathe too shallow, and hence most people would find it to their advantage to "[illegible] especial breathing exercises." Those whose occupations tax the lungs—taking a good deal of "wind"—are the least liable to need these exercises, but nearly all those who follow the quiet avocations—those of the sedentary order—are too unconscious of their breathing, and easily become shallow breathers, with flat, debilitated chests; and as a result debilitated bodies, for the condition of the blood is regulated by the amount of oxygen it receives.

There are few of the class alluded to, with the exception of those whose lungs have become too weak, who would not be benefited by getting out into the morning air to take 20 or so full breaths, completely filling the lungs at every inspiration. To obtain the best results from such exercise, these breaths should be taken slowly, and held a bit before expiration; and all through the day, while at work, an occasional, or even "semi-occasional" breath of this sort starts one along wonderfully. In case of weak or actually diseased lungs more care must be taken unless undue strain is put upon the lungs; begin with but three or four of these breaths, moderately taken, at first, and gradually increased as the lungs become adapted and stronger, as they most certainly will under the regular and persistent action of such a tonic.

One should breathe through the nostrils rather than the mouth. The fine hairs growing in the nostrils serve to prevent more or less dust from entering the breathing tract, while this longer and more tortuous passage to the lungs gives the air a warming before it reaches the sensitive lung, a fact of considerable significance in cold and damp weather, when catarrh, bronchitis, pneumonia, etc., are rife. Breathing through the mouth is noisy and coarse, causes the dissemination of bad odors, and besides gives the countenance a blank, unintelligent expression.

UTILITY OF SHOEBAGS.

Some Points About an Article That Every Dressmaking-Room Should Have.

The fashion of shoebags is in danger of being abandoned with many other good, old-fashioned things which modern people have no time for. These bags should be made of dark ticking or canvas, and stretched across a convenient door in a closet of clothes, which is supplied with air and light, says the New York Tribune. It is important that the shoes should be well aired. Instead of close pockets arrange straps to hold the shoes. When you put the latter away turn back the tops of high boots and arrange the soles of all shoes against the back of the bag, so that they will be well aired on the inside. It is just as easy, when one is once trained to do so, to put shoes away in such a bag as it is to throw them on the floor. If they are arranged in the bag as described, they will be well aired in 12 hours, and this is about the time a pair of shoes should rest after being worn. No pair of shoes worn day after day lasts so long as the same pair would if it was worn the same length of time with a "rest" between the periods of use. It is cheaper to keep two pairs of shoes and wear them alternately, so that they can have these rests when the leather gets into its proper shape.

Rubber cases are made of canvas. They are designed to hold overshoes when one is going from place to place and they are not needed for wear. Hem two opposite sides of a piece of canvas 14 inches square. Gather the other two sides on circles 3½ inches in diameter, using to stay them a bright covered cord which will match feather stitching covering the hem. Embroider the word "rubbers" on the case in the same color as the cording and feather stitching. When filled this forms a round little case, the hems being lapped over and buttoned with three buttons.

Outing Gowns.

There are for the autumn some good gowns being turned out in cheviots, covert cloths and the double-faced cloths. There is not a great deal of difference noticeable since last spring in the cut of the skirts; some have the double box plait, others the inverted box plait, and there are some with an almost plain habit back. The newest have one box plait, stitched flat to the skirt itself with rows of machine stitching that form a point toward the belt. This is supposed to be more becoming than the straight lines of stitching. Another model had three small box plaits that are shaped to be quite small at the belt, and are stitched flat on either side for a short distance below the belt, and if the cloth be heavy it is cut away under the plaits. The jackets are tight fitting, rather short and made like the old-fashioned dress waist with a round basque at the back, and opened at the throat with small revers and turned-down collar.—Harper's Bazar.

A Cooking Item.

To brown a meringue on a pudding or pie an ordinary fire shovel heated red hot and passed over the surface until the desired color is obtained is as good as a regular salamander. Care is required not to allow it to scorch.—N. Y. Tribune.

TRIED TO MURDER?

Burnette Jailed on Charge of Shooting Grocery Clerk From Ambush.

Robert Burnette, of Liberty Corner, has been placed in the county jail at Somerville charged with having made several attempts to kill Wesley Jeroloman, from ambush. Jeroloman works as a clerk in the grocery store of Teneyck & Sars, at Liberty Corner.

A month ago he was riding across the mountain in a delivery wagon, when he was fired at with a shotgun from ambush. The charge scattered and entered his body and head. He fell from the wagon and his horses ran away. His wounds were serious and he only recently returned to his employment.

Jeroloman says that about six years ago Burnett and a party of youug men became disorderly in the Liberty Corners store. In order to drive them out he burned cayenne pepper on the stove. Burnett suffered severely from inhailing the pepper and has since held enmity against him. Burnett is 22 years old and is considered slightly demented.

Miss Andrews a Bridemaid.

The marriage of Miss Katharine Hunker Schoonmaker, daughter of Frederick W. Schoonmaker, to Thomas Franklin Russell, treasurer of the Union Selling Company, of New York, took place Tuesday afternoon last at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, No. 60 Union street, Montclair. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Amory H. Bradford, pastor of the First Congregational church. One of the four bridemaids was Miss M. Gertrude Andrews, a cousin of the bride, of this city. The wedding was attended by many relatives who live in this city. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Schoonmaker home, and after an extended trip the bride and groom will reside at Montclair.

GILES-MEIER NUPTIALS.

Performed at the Home of the Bride Last Evening, and Witnessed by Many Friends.

Miss Mary Madeline Meier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Meier, of 44 Manning avenue, was married to Mifford Giles, son of Nelson Giles, of New Market, at the home of the bride's parents last evening. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church.

The bride was gowned in white silk, trimmed with lace and white velvet. She wore a veil and carried a bunch of white chrysanthemums. She was attended by Miss Lottie Springman, of New York, who was the bridemaid. She wore a gown of white organdie over green silk and also carried white chrysanthemums. The best man was John H. Schenck, of Manning avenue.

The bridal party stood beneath a bower of evergreens and chrysanthemums. Suspended overhead in the centre of the bower was a bell of chrysanthemums, from which hung a gilded horseshoe. Congratulations followed the ceremony, after which supper was served in the dining room, which was attractively decorated in pink. The decorations in the hall were red and green.

There were about thirty-five guests present including near relatives and friends from New Market, Stelton, New York and this city. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Giles left the scene of festivities for their newly furnished home on LaGrande avenue, where they have commenced housekeeping. The groom is an employe of Edward Brown, the Park avenue meat dealer, and for some time past resided at 305 East Third street. Both he and his wife are well-known in a large circle of friends, who wish them a happy and successful married life. They received a great many useful and handsome presents as tokens of esteem.

NATALIE OF SERVIA.

The Ex-Queen Is Unhappy and Discontented and Her Once Great Beauty Is Fading.

Ex-Queen Natalie of Servia, who has denounced her son, King Alexander because of his marriage to Draga Maschin, has had a most eventful career, and perhaps more has been written and said about her than about any other woman of the time. She has figured in court scandals, political intrigues, divorces, kidnapings, wars and exiles, at no time being long out of the public eye since her unlucky marriage to Prince Milan nearly 25 years ago. Her father was a Col. Kechko, of the Russian imperial guard, and her mother Princess Puleherie Sbroudga, a Roumanian

KING OF SERVIA.

Natalie in her youth was a woman of striking beauty. One enthusiastic writer describes her figur as rivaling the marbles of antiquity and her face as illuminated by the flame of sweet affection and superior intelligence. Another admirer, equally enthusiastic, had this to say of her ten years ago: "It is difficult to describe the rare and exceeding beauty of the queen. Her classical features have at the same time a commanding royal majesty and the charm of a playful girl. Her fair, broad forehead is crowned by a profusion of jet-black hair. Her almond-shaped brown eyes have a look at once inexpressibly tender and sparkling with intelligence. Her rippling smile and silvery laughter irradiate a clear and pale complexion, recalling her Russia snows, warmed into a richer coloring by the eastern suns. She is tall and surpassingly graceful and her manners have a subtle charm, partly royal and wholly feminine."

The ex-queen is now 42 years old and her beauty is somewhat faded—a fact not to be wondered at when one considers what she has gone through.

SOCIETY'S NEW CLUB.

MEMBERSHIP LISTS WERE CIRCULATED THIS MORNING BY COMMITTEE.

Another Meeting Soon to Elect Committee to Govern Club House and Casino.

Plans for the temporary organization which is to occupy the club house and Casino of the defunct Union County Country Club, have met with general approval in Plainfield's society circles. Sixty names were enrolled at the meeting Monday evening when the scheme was first submitted and the work of securing more is now going rapidly forward. At that meeting, the chairman, George A. Chapman, was instructed to appoint a committee of five to secure additional members and report at the next meeting.

According to the plans of those who called Monday evening's meeting, it will be necessary to have a hundred members, who agree to pay $15, for the six months during which the organization is to flourish, in order to meet the expenses of running the club house during the winter. More members would mean, of course, that it could be run on a more elaborate scale than was originally planned. Mr. Chapman appointed the following committee: Elliot T. Barrows, chairman, Evarts Tracy, William B Cock, George P. Mellick and William C. Kinney.

Membership lists have been prepared and were circulated for the first time this morning in the club cars. There is no doubt but that the desired hundred members will be secured in a short time. As soon as the membership is secured another meeting will be called at which a governing committee will be chosen and the management of the club house placed in the hands of that committee.

Always Doing Good.

The Daughters of the Cross, that worthy organization which is affiliated with the City Union of King's Daughters, is constantly doing good. They are always assisting the poor and needy and on Thanksgiving Day they will furnish several dinners to worthy families. The members are actively engaged at all times in bringing cheer and comfort to needy ones. They will contribute $100 this year to the city union work.

Street Can Be Used Again.

West Fourth street, from Monroe to Clinton avenues, is once more navigable. The heavy rains of summer and fall had badly gullied the roadway which is not macadamized and made it exceedingly unpleasant for those who attempted to drive through there. A gang of Street Commissioner Gavett's men have been leveling up the roadway and filling up the gullies so that it is now in good condition.

THE CHURCH NEEDS MORE CONSCIENCE.

Dr. Spooner Gives His Version of the Relation of C. E. Society to Cause of Intemperane.

COWARDS IN COPING WITH IT

CHURCH HOLDS THE CUDGEL TO BEAT OUT THE LIFE OF EVIL.

He Advises Plainfielders to Make Temperance an Issue in the Present City Election so as to Arouse the People.

A meeting of unusual interest was held in the First Presbyterian church last evening under the auspices of the Local Union of Christian Endeavor. It was a meeting in the interest of and for the cause of temperance, and the audience comfortably filled the church. Miss Florence Hawkins, president of the Local Union, was in charge of the service, and a quartette composed of Miss Etta Cuming, Miss Haven, I. W. Travell and Elmer Cutting, with Miss Jennings at the organ, conducted the musical part of the meeting.

Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph. D., of Trinity Reformed church, read the Scripture selection, and prayer was offered by Rev. G. W. Gardner, of Grace M. E. church. The quartette then sang "Will There Be Any Stars in My Crown," one of the hymns rendered at the last State convention. Miss Hawkins then introduced Rev. Dr. A. W. Spooner, State President of the Christirn Endeavor Society, who is pastor of the Presbyterian church at Camden. Dr. Spooner is a magnetic speaker and he delivered a very strong address on temperance.

In beginning his talk Dr. Spooner brought greetings from the Pennsylvania State convention now holding its closing sessions in Philadelphia. He said that in Christian Endeavor history it was the largest convention ever held, there being 15,000 registered delegates in attendance. The speaker then announced his subject, "The Relation of Christian Endeavor to the Cause of the World's Greatest Reform Movement." In part Dr. Spooner said:

"Unquestionably intemperance is the most vicious, venomous and deadly opposition to the cause of Christ. At the beginning of the Nineteenth Century there was a great monster opposition to Christianity in the form of infidelity. Its palsied hands were even laid on Yale and Harvard Colleges and it threatened to capture our students, when a counter-movement appeared and put a check to it. There are infidels in most all of the colleges of today, but they are in the minority.

"Later on another huge monster appeared in the form of slavery, but that was put down. Now in the closing days of this century, just as we are about to begin a new century, we are confronted with the monster-temperance. We face this great evil, and the thing that startles me most is the lethargy that has fallen on the Christian people. It is plain that the issue is not a burning one in this city, else this church would be packed to the very doors. It is not only true in this city, but everywhere. The church needs a new confession of faith. By that I do not mean that the confession contained in our church books needs to be changed, but God awaits for a new confession of faith. We are cowards in dealing with this issue of intemperance.

"Not long ago we heard of the Christian Chinese being slaughtered by the Boxer, and when he was called upon to denounce his faith he refused. That is what I call a confession of faith. The time has arrived for the Christian people to quit their fooling and stop their masquerading. There is a vast deal of it and Longfellow's words 'Things are not what they seem,' are true in every sense. The church has lost its courage, its loyalty and its spirituality. What it needs is something that will stir it to a new sense of obligation.

"I understand that your city election is soon to be held, and that the question of license is one of great importance. The attitude of the Christian people in this city toward that question is of greater importance. It makes me tremble when I think of the power invested in the church to say whether evil shall exist or not. The united forces of Christ hold the problem in their hand, and what about the responsibility of the man who realizes his power and refuses to place it on the side of right.

"The Christian Endeavor Society develops a new conscience in the church and that is what is needed. If LITTLE PROSPECT OF GOOD BASKET BALL.

Almost Impossible to Get Games With Good Teams That Will Observe League Rules.

INTEREST IN IT, HOWEVER.

CONTEST MAY BE ARRANGED AMONG LOCAL Y. M. C. A. TEAMS.

First Match Will be Played Sometime Next Month for the Benefit of the Checker and Chess Club.

There is little prospect that Plainfield will see many basket ball games this season, despite the fact that the game has been shown to be decidedly popular with Plainfield audiences. The present chaotic state of the sport through the country is largely responsible. There is no recognized head to it and teams have been making rules to suit themselves without any regard to the effort of the Y. M. C. A. Athletic League to keep the game free from professionalism and other objectional features.

It was through the local Y. M. C. A. that the game was first introduced in this city and it has since been exclusively played under the auspices of the local association except when it was taken out by the girls of the Plainfield High School. Two years ago the Plainfield association had a team which compared very favorably with that of any of the associations in the State. There was a feeling among the enthusiasts in the game that it should be made a more important feature of the athletic work at the association but the physical work committee declared that the general development of all the members and not the support of a basket ball team was the aim of the association and so the team was relegated to a minor place.

Last season a few games were played and the Plainfield public turned out in force at every opportunity of seeing a game. There was difficulty in securing games, however. Most of the big teams of the State and metropolitan district had ignored the new rules of the Y. M. C. A. Athletic League and professionalism was decidedly apparent. Physical Director C. E. A. Heywood refused to lose the amateur standing of the Plainfield Association by playing any of these clubs.

This year the situation is even worse than last, and it is almost impossible to get games with any good amateur team which will observe the new rules of the league. A series of matches with the Summit Association may finally be arranged, but Summit, as yet, has no team. It is therefore hardly likely that the Plainfield Association will have any regular team this season.

There is still considerable interest in the sport among the athletic members of the association and it is planned to form among the members two teams, who will play a series of matches. These teams have not yet been formed, but are now being talked up among the members. The first match will probably be played some time next month, and the game played as a benefit for the Chess and Checker Club of the association, thereby giving the local lovers of the game a chance to see their favorite sport once more.

Almost Lost His Life.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, November 23.—Clarence Ladd, of this place, a porter at the Central Railroad dedot at Jersey City, met with an accident which almost cost him his life yesterday. He ran across the track in front of an approaching train in Jersey City, and as he stepped on the rail slipped and fell. With a great presence of mind he managed to crawl from the track as the train went by. He was helped to the depot where it was found that his ankle was broken. He was later removed to his home on South Broad street, where he is now doing nicely under the care of Dr. R. R. Sinclair.

New Building for West End.

Architect E. V. French has let the contracts for a store and flat building, 25 1-2 x 64, to be erected on West Third street for Abram Kunzman at a cost of $6,000. The building will be three stories high, have one store and basement and two flats, and will be built of wood. W. H. Pangborn has the contract for the mason work and Byron E. Young has the contract for the carpenter work. The roof will be flat and be either of tin or asphalt.

MISS LEE'S DEBUT.

Charming Luncheon Given Yesterday in Honor of the Event by Mrs. F. O. Herring.

A charming luncheon was given yesterday by Mrs. F. O. Herring at her residence on Park avenue in honor of Miss Genevieve Lee, who will make her debut in Plainfield society this winter. Miss Lee is a pretty brunette and is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Lee, of East Ninth street. There were twenty-two present, among whom were the Misses Waring, Miss Louise G. Fisk, Miss Lydia P. Ackerman, the Misses Holly, Miss Lotta Lowe, Miss Viola Conklin, Miss Compton, Miss Anna Miller, Miss Maud VanBoskerck, Miss Rodman, Miss Huntington, Miss Ginna, Miss Helen Bushnell and Miss Rosabel Schroder. The table decorations consisted of chrysanthemums and smilax, artistically arranged.

PRETTY CANTATA HEARD.

"In a Persian Garden" Rendered Before a Fashionable Audience at the Randolph-Cooley School.

A fashionable audience assembled in the Randolph-Cooley Collegiate School last evening to attend the lecture-musicale. Miss Annie J. Bronson gave a very interesting talk on "Tone Character," which showed her complete acquaintance with the subject. Miss Helen Patterson gave a well-rendered violin solo.

The rest of the evening was devoted to the rendition of the cantata, "In a Persian Garden," Fitzzerald's translation of the "Rubiyiat" of Omar Khayyam. It was given by a well-balanced quartette composed of Miss Edith Mortimer Kelly, soprano; Mrs. Katharine Swinton Forbes, contralto; Alfred Y. Cornell, tenor, and Chester Stowe Spencer, basso. Mrs. Florence Brown Shepard was at the piano.

The cantata is one which requires particular ability in order to fully show its effectiveness, and the quartette which gave it last evening handled their difficult subject with success. The solo work was excellent. While all of the audience was not in sympathy with the philosophy of the famous Persian, only words of the highest praise were heard for the soloists and their artistic rendition of the various numbers.

Colored Pythians Elect Officers.

The State Grand Lodge, K. of P., colored, which has been in session at Newark since Tuesday last, closed its session last evening. The following officers were elected for the ensuing term: Grand chancellor, J. W. Macklin; grand vice-chancellor, William H. Lenard; grand prelate, A. A. Newton; grand master exchequer, John H. Richardson; grand keeper of record and seals, C. D. Lepscomb; grand master at arms, Richard Hyson; grand lecture, D. L. Croom; grand marshall, S. Stackford. The installing officers was John Michel, Jr., editor of "The Richmond Planet." He is supreme district deputy chancellor of Virginia.

Rebecca Degree Had a Good Time.

The members of Rebecca Degree Lodge, auxiliary to the Odd Fellows, met last evening and enjoyed an entertainment and social. The first part of the evening was devoted to a stereopticon exhibition showing pictures of the Galveston disaster and war scenes. The latter part of the programme was given up to Jereanaud Bros., who gave a comical sketch and rendered music on several kinds of instruments.

A Netherwood Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Caroline Borrup and Erastus Krog, of Netherwood, took place Thursday evening at the home of the bride. Rev. S. P. Simpson, rector of St. Stephen's church, performed the ceremony. After a reception was given to the newly-wedded couple they took up their residence at the corner of LaGrande avenue and Berckman street.

Thanksgiving Praise Service.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church will hold a Thanksgiving praise service this evening, followed by a business meeting. Contributions for Miss Curry's Thanksgiving box are to be brought at this meeting. Miss Curry carries on mission work in New York during the winter months.

Glee Club Rehearsal.

The Glee Club associated with the U. S. Grant Club will hold its first rehearsal this evening. W. H. Miller, formerly organist at the First Presbyterian church, has been engaged as instructor, and the rehearsals will be held every week for the present.

Entertained Temperance Workers.

Last evening Mrs. Rufus K. Case, of Central avenue, entertained the teachers and assistants of the Loyal Temperance Legion. Plans for the winter work were discussed, and they will be put in operation.

DR. JENKINS FOR MAYOR.

Republican Machine Slate Went Through Without Hitch at Any Point.

7 VOTES FOR DR. MURRAY.

CONVENTION WAS IN SESSION ONLY SHORT TIME.

Frank H. Smith Nominated for City Collector and C. H. Abbott for Board of Education Without Opposition.

It took just twelve minutes to get the machinery of the Republican city convention last evening in good working order and nominate Dr. Olin L. Jenkins for Mayor, Frank H. Smith for City Collector and Charles F. Abbott for member of the Board of Education. According to promise, the Second ward presented the name of Dr. William H. Murray as its candidate for the Mayoralty nomination but even that didn't disturb the harmony of the occasion. The First, Third and Fourth wards voted for Dr. Jenkins and then the nomination was made unanimous at the request of the Second. There wasn't any platform adopted but the speech of Charles S. Sminck, made in presenting the name of Dr. Jenkins, fairly outlined the Republican view of the situation.

At 8:20 o'clock the delegates had all gathered in the hall over the new police station at 120 East Front street, and Councilman J. B. Dumont, chairman of the Republican city executive committee, called the meeting to order. Charles H. Dunham, chairman of the Fourth ward delegation, nominated Councilman Robert L. Lee for chairman and he was promptly elected. Assemblyman Charles S. Foote was then made secretary and read the call. H. S. Taylor was appointed judge of election, Nathan R Titsworth inspector and Charles C. Davis clerk. Credentials of the delegations were received and then came the call for candidates for the Mayoralty nomination.

In response to the call by wards Charles S. Sminck, chairman of the First ward delegation, spoke. After a few words of introduction he said: "I wish to pay a tribute to the loyalty, courage and patriotism of the Republicans of the other wards. Let me also speak words of approval in commendation of the honesty, economy and good sense of the administration of Mayor George W. Rockfellow. We desire to emphatically declare our unalterable purpose to maintain a high standard among the men chosen to fill public office in Plainfield. As the Republican candidate for mayor, I now present the name of a man born in Plainfield, a self-made man, a man who has waged the battle of life from the bottom upward, whose judgment is tempered by good feeling and sympathy for his fellow man. If elected, he will serve the city with credit to himself, honor to the Republican party which has nominated him, and distinction of the home-loving, patriotic citizens of the beautiful city of Plainfield. His name is Dr. Olin L. Jenkins."

In conclusion Mr. Sminck called attention to the fact that Dr. Jenkins had already served the city as a Councilman for two terms and had been a member of the Board of Education for five years.

George P. Mellick, chairman of the Second ward delegation, presented the name of Dr. William H. Murray, speaking in high terms of his character and ability. He had resided in Plainfield, Mr. Mellick said, for fifteen years, and for the last four had been a member of the Board of Health, serving three years as secretary and now as president.

Frederick S. Green, chairman of the Third ward delegation, explained that as long as the present Mayor, George W. Rockfellow, refused a renomination, the Third ward had no candidate to offer. Charles H. Dunham, in behalf of the Fourth ward, seconded the nomination of Dr. Jenkins.

On the call for votes, the First, Third and Fourth wards voted solidy for Dr. Jenkins while the seven votes of the Second ward were cast for Dr. Murray. The secretary accounced the vote as 28 for Dr. Jenkins and 7 for Dr. Murray. Mr. Mellick promptly moved to make the nomination unan-

THEIR LAST "AT HOME."

Party of Elizabeth Young Ladies Paid Their Respect to Mrs. H. C. Van Emburgh.

The third and last "at home" of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clifford Van Emburgh, of East Second street, was held yesterday afternoon and evening. Mrs. Van Emburgh was assisted in receiving by Mrs. George L. Van Emburgh and Miss Lillian A. Force. In the dining room Mrs. Fred Van Emburgh and Miss Olive Newell poured chocolate while Miss Della Van Sickel and Miss Katherine Karr, both of Elizabeth, served. The decorations in the dining room were in green. Eight members of the Whatsoever Circle of King's Daughters, of Elizabeth, of which Mrs. Van Emburgh is a member, attended in a body. During the evening there were several vocal solos by City Judge William N. Runyon.

NOT FOR RESCUE WORK.

Respectable Girls Cared for at the Washington Home Maintained in Paris.

Mrs. Lewis, wife of Archbishop Lewis, of Ontario, who is greatly interested in the Washington Home in Paris, which is maintained for the English-speaking American girls in that city, was present yesterday afternoon at the semi annual meeting of the Plainfield Association for the American Girls in Paris, which was held in the guild room of Grace P. E. church.

Mrs. Lewis said, by way of explanation, that the Home is not in any sense maintained for rescue work, but for respectable girls, who are boarded for a nominal sum until they are able to get something to do. It has proved to be a great help to a large number of American girls and they appreciate all that is done for them. At the close of the meeting several subscriptions, $1 a year, were received toward the work.

DEAD LINEMAN'S FUNERAL.

Conducted by Rev. G. Kennedy Newell—Brother Unable to Control Himself.

The funeral services of Henry C. Root, the telephone lineman, who was accidentally killed Tuesday, were held from his late residence on West Sixth street at 10 o'clock this morning. They were very impressive and were conducted by Rev. G. Kennedy Newell, pastor of Hope chapel.

"Nearer My God to Thee" was sung by Mrs. Wm. Westphal and Mrs. Geo. Firstbrook. The pall-bearers were Charles W. Runyon, Augustus Seidens, Harry B. Kitchell, of this city; J. B. Hudson, of Elizabeth, and F. B. Baker, of Westfield. Immediately after the services the remains were taken to New Brunswick and interred in the family plot.

During the services Charles Root, of Elizabeth, a brother of the deceased, was unable to control his grief and became prostrated. It was necessary to secure the services of a physician before he could be revived.

A handsome floral pillow was given by the employes of the local telephone exchange, jointly with the New Brunswick office.

HEAVY LIABILITIES.

The Debts of Marsh, Ayres & Company Exceed Assets by $9,200.

A meeting of the creditors of Marsh, Ayres & Company was held at Jersey City yesterday. The liabilities will be $16,000 and the assets $6,800, which include book accounts and the stock in the store. The Woolsey Paint Company, of Jersey City, which has been understood to be interested in the business, asked that a settlement be made. The creditors will probably receive 30 cents on a dollar.

New Kind of a Street Drain.

Street Commissioner Gavett hopes to be able to remedy the trouble that has existed in West Front street, opposite Washington avenue, where in wet weather the water stands, making the street very muddy. Large iron casting, perforated, have been installed in the centre of the street, and the water will run through these to a drain that has been placed under the street.

Bethel Chapel Fair.

The fair was continued at Bethel chapel last night with a large attendance. The regular programme was interspersed with phonographic selections by Benjamin Sutton. Miss Clara Lane was in charge of the programme.

Dimes for the Chapel.

A dime sociable for the benefit of Marconnier chapel was held at the home of Mrs. S. K. Swenck, at Oak Tree, last night. There were seventy-five present.

"MESSIAH" TO BE SUNG BY A LOCAL CHORUS

One Hundred Vocalists are Now Rehearsing the Oratorio Once a Week.

SUBSCRIPTIONS NEEDED.

PUBLIC REHEARSAL TO BE GIVEN FOR THE CONTRIBUTORS.

George T. Rogers in Charge of the Financial End of the Affair—Quartette of Soloists to be Engaged.

A plan was inaugurated last season whereby the people of Plainfield were enabled to hear the well-known oratorio of "Messiah" sung by a chorus of trained voices without being compelled to pay for the privilege. Previous to that time the Choral Society and other musical organizations of the city had given yearly series of concerts at Music Hall for which subscriptions for the season were sold at prices which put them beyond the reach of many who were nevertheless very fond of music. The experiment of last season made to give all a chance to hear good music without charge proved a great success and the Crescent Aveuue Presbyterian church was crowded to its utmost capacity, and as many more were unable to gain admittance.

Instead of a regular concert, similar to those of previous years, the rendition of the "Messiah" last year was more of the nature of a religious musical service and was given just before Christmas as the most appropriate time. Those who had the service in charge last year found that their efforts were so much appreciated by the music loving public of Plainfield that they decided sometime ago to repeat the oratorio at the beginning of the Christmas season under the same conditions that it was given last year. A chorus of 150 voices is now rehearsing at the Y. M. C. A. Hall every Monday evening.

Of course, it costs money to prepare and train a chorus for the rendition of the oratorio and to meet the necessary expenses of the service itself. The chorus is composed of local singers who gratuitously give their services. A quartette of talented soloists assist in the renditon. The necessary funds were raised last season by subscription from among the liberal citizens of the city and borough. To enable those who subscribe to hear the oratorio without being compelled to brave the crush of the regular service, a public rehearsal was given for which tickets were issued. These tickets were given out among the subscribers a ticket for each dollar subscribed. The rehearsal was positively identical with the public service, the same soloists and orchestra taking part.

This year the financial end of the enterprise will be conducted on the same lines as last year. A number of subscriptions have already been made. There are doubtless many who would prefer to contribute toward the work and thus ensure tickets for the public rehearsal rather than wait until the public service which is open to all, and which experience has shown will not accommodate all who wish to attend. Tickets for the public rehearsal will be distributed this year on the same basis as last, a ticket for each dollar subscribed. The number of tickets for the rehearsal will, of course, be limited to prevent any crowding at that time.

It is hoped that all who wish to attend the public rehearsal and feel that they can subscribe will do so, thereby making room at the final performance for those who now have no other opportunity of hearing the "Messiah." Those who so desire may send their subscriptions to George T. Rogers, 44 Myrtle avenue, who is treasurer of the committee in charge. Subscriptions should be sent in now before it is too late and the seating capacity of the church for the public rehearsal exhausted.

Cost of Intemperance.

J. W. Cummings, of New York, will address the Christian Endeavor Society of the Crescent Avenue church this evening on "What Intemperance Costs Our Nation." An offering will be received which will be devoted to the work of the National Temperance Union, of which Mr. Cummings is a representative.

County's Tax Valuation.

The total tax valuation for Union county is as follows: Real estate, $36 614 435; personal, $5,621 255. The percentage of real estate and personal property in Union county is: Real estate, 86.6; personal, 13.4. The total increase in Union county is $1,482,100.

FUNNY FARCES GIVEN BY CLEVER AMATEURS

"Nan, the Good for Nothing," and "That Rascal Pat" Seen in St Mary's Hall.

BOTH WELL PRESENTED.

MISS MURPHY AND CHARLES WARD PLAYED TITLE ROLES.

Displayed Talent in Portraying the Characters—Large Audience Was Present to Witness the Farces.

An audience which filled St. Mary's school hall to overflowing last night witnessed the production of two of the most amusing farces given in this city by local talent. The titles were "Nan, the Good for Nothing," and "That Rascal Pat." The cast of characters was composed of the members of the Dramatic Society connected with St. Mary's church. The roles throughout were admirably taken and individual hits were made by the entire cast. During the progress of the farces many ludicrous scenes were enacted and the audience was kept in a continual fit of laughter.

"Nan, the Good for Nothing" was presented first and proved an excellent vehicle for displaying the talent of Miss Josephine M. Murphy, in the title role. Miss Murphy's portrayal of "Nan," a harum-scarum girl, was all that could be desired, while the support given by the remainder of the cast was equally pleasing. "Nan" is the torment of her two adopted fathers, "Tom Dilles" a gardener, (William J. O'Keefe) and "Harry Collier" a railway fireman (Lawrence Doyle) and despite all their entreaties persists in having her own way to the great discomfort of those about her. She succeeds in making life miserable for everyone in general and "Young Mr. Simpson" (Joseph F. O'Keefe) in particular. She is finally brought to see the error of her ways by the gentle pleadings of "Charley," a carpenter (John J Carty) and from a thoughtless girl, becomes a sensible young lady. Her adopted fathers become involved in trouble and when all seems dark and gloomy, "Nan" proves her true worth and extricates them from their despondency in a clever manner. The farce ends with every one in a happy mood, thanks to Nan's engineering.

"That Rascal Pat," if possible, was more amusing than the preceding farce and was presented in a truly professional style. The complications ensuing from "Major Puffjacket's" notions as to who his niece, "Laura," should marry, carries the plot. The Major's plans are seriously upset, however, by his servant, "Pat McNoggerty," who succeeds in getting everyone into difficulties and himself in love with "Nancy," Miss Laura's maid.

The Major finally concludes to let true love take its course and gives his consent to "Laura's" marriage to "Charles Livingstone," a poor, but ambitious young man. Charles J. Ward's reputation as a comedian is too well known to dwell upon, but it was strengthened more by his portrayal of "Pat." M. J. Cashin made an excellent "Major Puffjacket," while the part of "Laura," as acted by Miss Elizabeth Flanagan, was in keeping with the rest of the cast. Miss Cecelia Gannon presented the part of "Nancy" in a very able manner.

Altogether the farces were highly successful and the efforts of the cast greatly pleased the large audience. It is to be hoped that the society will repeat last evening's success by giving a performance again in the near future.

Previous to the first farce and during the intermissions several pleasing selections were rendered by the Cecelian orchestra in charge of Miss A. M. Quinn. The orchestra is composed of the Misses Lizzie Hickey, Mary Seal, Bessie Young, Mamie Murray and Jeremiah Walsh, violins, Miss Kathryn Quinn, guitar and Miss May Smith, piano.

Royal Arcanum Decision.

The New Jersey Court of Errors and Appeals has given a decision interesting to the members of the Royal Arcanum and similar fraternal beneficial organizations. Under the present constitution and by-laws of the Royal Arcanum blood relatives only can become beneficiaries of a member. By the ruling of the New Jersey court stepchildren of a member can also be made beneficiaries.

PARTICULAR MENTION

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Residents and Visitors who Go and Come in Society and Business.

Mrs. Slonin, of this city, has been visiting her sister at Raritan.

Abram VanCleef, of this city, has returned from a visit with relatives in Somerset county.

Miss Westervelt, of New York, will take possession of her new house on Thornton avenue next week.

Miss Mabel Wilson, who has been kept at her home by illness for several weeks past, will resume her place as cashier at Crosby & Hill's store Monday.

John Powers, of Craig place, attended the horse show in New York Wednesday evening, and greatly enjoyed the exhibition of the thoroughbreds.

Mr. Meichlin, of Duer street, who was badly injured in a wreck on the Jersey Central Railroad some time ago, has entirely recovered and he has regained the full use of his arm.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern which is not afraid to be generous. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles and have the satisfaction of knowing it has cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, LaGrippe and all Throat, Chest and Lung diseases are surely cured by it. Call on L. W. Randolph, Druggist, and get a free trail bottle. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle gauranteed.

—Two private cases were admitted to the hospital yesterday, making the total now at that institution twenty-four.

Mrs. William C. Smith, of Grandview avenue, who fell some time ago and sustained painful injuries, has about recovered.

Isaac Brown, of Watchung avenue, who was stricken with paralysis some time ago, has so far recovered as to be able to go out and visit his neighbors.

Great Luck Of An Editor

"For two years all efforts to cure Eczema in the palms of my hands failed", writes Editor H. N. Lester, of Syracuse, Kan., "then I was wholly cured by Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's the world's best for Eruptions, Sores and all skin diseases. Only 25 cents at L. W. Randolph's.

—An important meeting of Somerset Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will be held this evening.

—Many people worry because they believe they have heart disease. The chances are that their hearts are all right but their stomachs are unable to digest food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and prevents the formation of gas which makes the stomach press against the heart. It will cure every form of indigestion. L. W. Randolph.

Miss Marie VanOstrand, of Elizabeth, has been visiting her friend, Miss Zeisz, of Chatham street.

Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, of Central avenue, was called to Jersey City yesterday to attend the funeral of a friend.

Spread Like Wild Fire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, rundown man or woman. Price 50 cents. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

—The Union Veterans' Union will elect officers on Tuesday evening, December 4th.

—Both makers and circulators of counterfeits commit fraud. Honest men will not deceive you into buying worthless counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The original is infallible for curing piles, sores, eczema and all skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

Ministers at Peking May Not Settle Differences.

INTERESTING PROBLEM PRESENTED.

Washington Hears Nothing From Conger In Regard to the Reported Break In Negotiations—Letter From Secretary Lyman.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The state department so far has heard nothing from Mr. Conger respecting the "impasse" reported to have been reached by the foreign ministers at Peking. In fact, save a brief expression respecting the insufficiency of the punishments proposed by the Chinese government to be inflicted upon the responsible leaders of the Boxer movement, Mr. Conger has not communicated with the department for more than a week.

Without taking issue with Mr. Conger respecting this matter of punishments the state department has earnestly advised him not to insist upon impossible conditions in the negotiations.

An interesting problem is suggested by the possibility, which today is almost a probability, that the ministers representing the powers at Peking cannot reach an agreement. If Russia, France and the United States should refuse to accept the German idea as seconded by the British representative, very much would depend upon Japan, and even some of the lesser powers represented at Peking by ministers might have great power in swaying the proceedings of the council.

A copy of the following letter, dated Shanghai, Oct. 23, and addressed by V. G. Lyman, secretary of the American Association of China, to W. W. Rockhill, United States commissioner to China, has been received here:

"Being strongly impressed with the critical situation and the unsatisfactory nature of the attitude presented by the Chinese government at this time, the committee of this association desires to present its views with reference to the following matters, which we trust will appear to you to be of sufficient importance to warrant the transmission of the substance thereof to the state department by telegraph.

"First.—This committee most strongly deplores the appointment to high and important government positions in the central and southern provinces of reactionary men who have given the strongest evidence of their sympathies with the whole Boxer movement and uprising and who are thus appointed not only to counteract the influence of the friendly provincial officials from the viceroys down, but for the purpose of eventually inciting the people through this whole district to a renewed uprising of vastly increased magnitude against the powers.

"Second.—Believing that the isolation of the court at Si-ngan-fu means a dangerous delay in the conduct of negotiations and the impossibility of bringing them to a satisfactory conclusion, we represent that strong measures should be employed to enable the emperor to escape from the dangerous influences of the reactionaries by whom he is surrounded and to facilitate his return to Peking or to such other place where he may be accessible to the foreign representatives.

"Third.—We would most strongly urge and represent that the imperial edict denouncing Prince Tuan and others high in rank is both insincere and meaningless; that it was issued merely in an attempt to delude the powers and without the slightest intention that it should be carried out.

"Fourth.—We sincerely believe that every function of the central government is now being employed with a view of renewing the movement against the foreigners in the near future; that it is fighting for time with the hope that by next spring the whole empire will act as a unit in a final attempt to drive out the foreigners."

German Press Comments.

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—The press in general severely criticises the United States for not agreeing to the demands of the other powers in China. The Vossische Zeitung, which claims that the Chinese are "only induced by the American attitude to remain obdurate," says: "It would be impossible to aid more effectually the joint enemy of western culture." The Berliner Tageblatt remarks: "The Philippine question is causing the United States a severe stomach ache. Hence the shilly shally policy of Washington toward China."

The Edict Denounced.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—"Nine of the foreign envoys," says the Peking correspondent of The Morning Post, wiring yesterday, "have written strong letters denouncing the punishment edict and declaring that Tung Fu Hsiang must be punished. Dr. Mumm von Schwartsenstein, the German minister, has told Li Hung Chang that the foreign powers must themselves punish the guilty officials."

Czar's Condition Improved.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Better news has been received as to the emperor's condition at Copenhagen. A courier has arrived with news that the doctors believe the crisis has passed. Similar favorable intelligence has reached Berlin. Grand Duke and Grand Duchess Sergius, who arrived in Vienna yesterday from Florence, were expected to start immediately for Livadia, but on receipt of favorable telegrams they decided to remain at the Austrian capital until Sunday unless there should be an unexpected change for the worse.

Paper From Cottonseed Hulls.

ATLANTA, Nov. 23.—The Journal says that plans have been consummated here for the erection of ten plants for the manufacture of cottonseed hulls into paper of different grades. It is the intention to have the factories scattered throughout the cotton belt from Texas to North Carolina. The plants, it is stated, will run with a capacity of from 125 to 200 tons each.

Stoneware Plant Burned.

RED WING, Minn., Nov. 23.—The plant of the Minnesota Stoneware company has been destroyed by fire. Loss, $75,000. The plant was one of the largest of its kind in the United States.

Governor Samford Not So Well.

OPELIKA, Ala., Nov. 23.—Governor William J. Samford is not so well. He passed a restless night. T. L. Samford, a brother of the governor, died Wednesday night.

HUNTING FILIPINOS.

Detachment of Forty-seventh In Two Sharp Fights.

FIGHTING IN SOUTHEASTERN LUZON.

Thirty Insurgents and Ammunition Captured by Colored Troops—Alstaeter's Return From Captivity Causes Surprise.

MANILA, Nov. 23.—Captain Gulick, with 16 men of the Forty-seventh infantry, had a sharp encounter with insurgents concealed in a blockhouse near Binorongan. The insurgents fired a volley from 30 rifles on the approach of the Americans, wounding two, one mortally. The firing soon became hot on both sides.

With nine men Captain Gulick swam the river, gained the hillside, routed the enemy and incidentally killed several fleeing bolomen.

The same party, with a score of comrades, drove the insurgents from Bulasan, where they were intrenched. The detachment killed 14 and captured five in two days.

Numerous reports of minor engagements and captures in southeastern Luson have arrived here in letters brought by steamer.

A detachment of 100 men from Companies I and M, Twenty-fifth United States infantry, colored, under Captain O'Neill, made a clever capture of 30 insurgents, with rifles, supplies and 1,500 rounds of ammunition, in a camp east of San Marcelino, which the Americans charged at daybreak. Among the rifles captured were a few Krag-Jorgensens which the insurgents had recently secured. Several of the Filipinos were wounded.

The Philippine commission has passed the bill for the civil government of townships in the province of Benguet, first adopting a few minor amendments suggested by Filipinos.

Lieutenant Frederick W. Alstaeter of the United States engineers, who was captured by the insurgents early last September north of San Isidro and released, entered the American garrison at Gapan, province of Nueva Ecija, Tuesday evening. His appearance there was a great surprise, as Aguinaldo's order for the release of American soldiers included only enlisted men. He will start for Manila today.

Guam and Tutuila.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Mr. Hackett, the assistant secretary of the navy, in his annual report says that the establishment of a suitable government over the islands of Guam and Tutuila has been not without its difficulties, and he takes pleasure in stating that the officers charged with these new and perplexing duties from the beginning have achieved a success that reflects credit upon the service. The people of both islands appear to be contented with the new state of affairs. Mr. Hackett says the schools at Guam are flourishing, and the general health of the island shows a marked improvement. The suggestion is made that our transports touch at Guam and Tutuila as frequently as possible. The assistant secretary says that the establishment of a naval station at Guam is of the utmost importance, and the port of Pago Pago is destined to grow in importance and to prove of the greatest convenience to the commerce of the United States.

Manila Better Than Home Cities.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Rev. Oliver C. Miller, a chaplain voluntarily attached to the Fourth cavalry who served under Generals Bates, Young and Lawton, has just reported at the war department, having been invalided home from the Philippines. He has made an interesting statement respecting vice and immorality in the Philippines, taking occasion to reply in detail to certain published criticisms directed against the canteen and the military administration there. He says he knows of no city in the United States where there is so little crime or where crime is followed so quickly by punishment as in Manila. He adds that he has found a larger degree of drunkenness and immorality in the cities of our home land than in the cities of the Philippine archipelago.

To Launch a Monitor.

BATH, Me., Nov. 23.—Arrangements are nearly completed for the launching of the monitor Nevada at the Bath Iron works tomorrow afternoon. The monitor will be christened by Miss Annie Curtis Boutelle, daughter of Congressman Charles A. Boutelle of Bangor. Not only will Miss Boutelle christen the $1,000,000 monitor, but a new feature will be introduced. She will let the big ship loose by cutting a rope with a shiny silver hatchet made especially for the occasion. The hatchet will be appropriately inscribed and will be retained as a souvenir by Miss Boutelle. In tonnage the Nevada is the largest government vessel the Bath concern has ever built.

To Found a Model Town.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—A project has been put on foot here which, it is hoped by its promoters, will result in the founding of a great model industrial town near this city. The scheme was made public last night at a dinner given by Joseph J. Byers, formerly of New York, but now a financier of this city. Among those present were many men prominent in financial and industrial circles of this city and New York.

Colombian Rebels Defeated.

COLON, Colombia, Nov. 23.—The rebel forces at Buenaventura have been completely crushed by the Colombian government troops, who captured three cannon and two generals. General Alban, the governor of Panama, personally directed the operations from on board the British steamship Taboga, seized by the Colombian authorities, and saved the situation there.

Severe Electrical Storm.

LYONS, N. Y., Nov. 23.—A severe electrical storm, accompanied by a heavy downpour of rain, came over this city last night between 6 and 8 o'clock. The thunder and lightning was as heavy and vivid as a July storm. The storm came from the south. The damage is greatest along the shore of Lake Ontario, where several buildings were struck by lightning.

Germans Mine Much Iron.

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—Germany's pig iron production for October was 742,720 tons, the highest figures ever reached, the output being 33,520 tons above that of the previous month.

A PHENOMENAL STORM.

Great Damage Done by the Gale In Colorado.

DENVER, Nov. 23.—It is impossible for the railroads to estimate the amount of damage suffered from the windstorm which has swept the lines for nearly 100 miles along the base of the mountains. The wires were blown down, and trains are moved with great caution in the absence of telegraphic orders, seriously delaying traffic. Many freight cars on siding had their roofs blown off. Station buildings were damaged more or less all through the storm region and the tracks strewn with wreckage, which further retarded the movement of trains.

Between Pueblo and Colorado Springs houses were damaged, haystacks blown away and outbuildings demolished. The property loss will be heavy among the ranchmen.

The storm stands without a parallel in many respects. Former severe windstorms have been accompanied with either rain or snow, but in this case it was neither, and the wind carried sand, gravel and small stones, similar to the sandstorms of the desert. It was remarkable and unlike any past storms in the scope of territory covered, though apparently terminating at the foothills. Cripple Creek and the district surrounding was basking in bright, clear weather.

Trainmaster Dean, from La Junta, with all the linemen to be had, is engaged in restoring the Santa Fe wires between Denver and Pueblo, while companies of linemen of all the roads are hard at work endeavoring to restore the wires and enable business to be resumed at the earliest possible moment.

BIG LINER AGROUND.

Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse Had a Stormy and Slow Voyage.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The great express steamer of the North German Lloyd's, the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, arrived 48 hours overdue and to add to her misfortunes grounded near the Southwest spit in the lower bay after passing in Sandy Hook.

The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse left Cherbourg Nov. 14 at 11:30 p. m. and arrived at the Sandy Hook lightship at 2:50 p. m. yesterday, making the passage in 7 days, 20 hours and 20 minutes, with an average speed of 16.22 knots. This is the slowest trip ever made by the steamer. The cause of her delay was primarily the weather. From the moment of leaving Cherbourg the steamer experienced stormy weather. On Nov. 15 she had west southwest winds, changing to west northwest, cloudy and rain squalls, with high seas and westerly swells. On the 16th the wind increased to hurricane force from the northwest with a very heavy westerly sea.

The great steamer labored heavily during the whole day. The engines were slowed down to nine knots. The total distance run that day was 181 knots. At times the seas boarded the high sided craft and caused some damage to her rails and fittings. On the 17th, at 8 p. m., one blade of the port propeller was lost, and the engineers were obliged to slow the engines down to 16 knots to adjust the speed to suit both engines in order to prevent vibration. This, with the successive gales, reduced the daily average of the steamer over 100 knots.

The Iron Mountain Express Robbery.

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Nov. 23.—Conductor Whiteside, who had charge of the Iron Mountain train held up at Gifford, Ark., Wednesday night, and Baggage Master Todd both reside here. Mr. Whiteside says that at least six men were engaged in the robbery. He said that two of the men guarded the engineer and fireman; that two kept the passengers quiet and that the other pair broke open the express car. Several shots were fired at Whiteside, and he was compelled to remain quiet in the car. One of the men engaged in blowing open the safe compelled Todd at the point of a revolver to accompany him to the express car and take the keys of the local safe from the pocket of Sam Avery, the express messenger, who had been badly wounded. He was then ordered to select the right key to the safe and unlock it, after which the robbers extracted several bags of coin and departed.

A Domestic Tragedy.

BRADFORD, Pa., Nov. 23.—Yesterday afternoon John J. Keating, aged 89, a passenger brakeman employed on the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg railway, fatally shot his wife, aged 35, and then turned the smoking weapon against his own breast and fired a bullet through his heart. Two bullets were fired at Mrs. Keating. The first entered her left temple, and the second passed through her left breast. After the shooting of the woman Keating seemed to suddenly realize what he was doing. "My God," he shrieked, "what have I done?" and then shot himself. Both were soon dead. The tragedy occurred in a small room, and in another room a 9-year-old son of the dead woman by a former husband lay sick of scarlet fever. The cause of the tragedy is ascribed to whisky and insane jealousy without cause.

Senator Davis No Better.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 23.—There is no material change in the condition of United States Senator Davis. For several days his food has consisted of eggnog, cocoa and other easily administered and easily digested foods, solids being almost entirely eliminated from his diet. Naturally his almost constant delirium interferes materially with his ability to accept nourishment.

WELCOME TO KRUGER

Boer Leader Enthusiastically Received In France.

BIG DEMONSTRATION IN MARSEILLES.

Oom Paul Declares His People Will Be Free or Die—Does Not Attend Banquet In His Honor, but Sends a Message.

MARSEILLES, Nov. 23.—Yesterday proved a triumph for Mr. Kruger such as even the Boer delegates and his most ardent admirers failed to anticipate. The delirium of enthusiasm which marked every step of his progress from the time he landed until the hotel was reached was a revelation even to the people of Marseilles themselves. It fully equaled if it did not surpass the frantic demonstration of patriotism with which France opened her arms to Major Marchand at Toulon on his return from Fashoda.

Yet the grandeur of this demonstration perhaps ranks second in importance to the emphatic manifestoes of "no compromise" which Mr. Kruger delivered in a low voice, but one vibrating with emotion, accompanied by energetic gestures of the right hand, stirring the hearts of all within hearing.

He announced to the world that the Boers would be free people or die, and the faces of the men about him, Fischer, Wessels, Grobler and the other Boer representatives, bore the look of fearless determination reflecting the spirit that Mr. Kruger declared animated every man, woman and child in the Transvaal.

The unfortunate occurrence at the hotel on the main boulevard alone marred the character of the demonstration, which up to that moment had been unanimously and exclusively a tribute of sympathy and admiration. "Vive Kruger!" "Vive les Boers!" and "Vive la liberte!" were the cries that formed a hurricane of cheering and swept over the city. Unfortunately the highly reprehensible foolishness of a half dozen persons in throwing small coins into the crowd as Mr. Kruger passed acted like magic in conjuring up an anti-British outburst, which needed all the promptitude and energy of the police to prevent becoming a serious disturbance. The hotel remained for the rest of the day in a state of siege, while at one time a procession several thousand strong marched in the direction of the British consulate shouting, "Down with the English!" and raising other threatening cries.

The result was that a strong body of police was compelled to disperse the demonstrators, although it was not found necessary to make more than a few temporary arrests. Throughout the evening, however, large bands of students and other youths marched up and down in front of Mr. Kruger's hotel and the hotel which was the scene of the unfortunate incident, cheering in chorus for Mr. Kruger and the Transvaal and denouncing England. These demonstrators were more noisy than dangerous, and the police wisely left them to relieve their feelings by shouting instead of interfering with them, which might have created disorder.

Every one expressed astonishment at the robust and healthy appearance of Mr. Kruger, considering his advanced age. He walked firmly, leaning but lightly upon his cane, when he crossed the landing stage to the landau in which he drove with Dr. Leyds and MM. Paullat and Thourel. The landau was followed by five carriages containing Boer officials, and these were followed by six others conveying the officers of the Gelderland and the members of the Marseilles reception committee, all forming a procession headed by various societies with handsome banners and escorted by a large police force.

Mr. Kruger repeatedly acknowledged the acclamations of the crowds that filled the sidewalks and balconies of the houses, black with sightseers waving hats and handkerchiefs. At several points along the route bouquets were presented to him, and on the balcony of the Military club stood a group of officers in gala uniforms who heartily joined in the ovations. On arriving at the hotel Mr. Kruger's ears were greeted with the strains of a Boer hymn played by a local band, while the standard bearers drew up in two ranks at the entrance and waved the standards as Mr. Kruger, bareheaded, passed between to his apartments.

Soon after, in response to a thunderous ovation, he appeared on the balcony and repeatedly bowed, but as some ten minutes elapsed without a sign of abatement in the enthusiasm he spoke a few words which were interpreted in French by Dr. Ledys and were followed by a renewal of the frenzy. Finally, to testify his gratitude, he took in his hand a corner of the French tricolor that was flying from the balcony between the Transvaal and Free State flags and pressed it to his heart again and again. The enthusiastic people cheered him until he withdrew to his rooms, which he found half filled with bouquets and garlands by his admirers.

The prefect and mayor then called to pay their respects, the latter, M. Flaissioros, making an eloquent speech in sympathy with the Boers.

Mr. Kruger replied briefly, declaring how deeply he had been touched by the unexpected warmth of his reception in Marseilles and by the sympathy of the French people.

After luncheon and a little repose Mr. Kruger descended to the hall of the hotel, where he received the delegations.

Dr. Leyds represented him at the banquet in his honor, where all the Boer officials and members of the pro-Boer committees were present, and read the following message from him:

"I am fatigued and am in mourning. Moreover, I never attend banquets. Otherwise I should have liked to spend a few minutes with you and to thank you. I shall never forget the warm welcome I have had in your beautiful city. Your reception of me has surpassed all I could have expected even from the city which gave France her admirable national hymn, that 'Marseillaise,' which is the song of all peoples whose independence is threatened and who are struggling against invaders.

"I would that your acclamation could have been heard by all those Boers in arms who are encamped in our mountains. They would thank you from the bottom of their hearts. I thank you in their behalf.

"Could I have been with you I should also have expressed my thanks to all France and would have raised my glass in honor of her worthy president, M. Loubet."

Mr. Thompson Vindicated.

Since Chancery Clerk Thompson has lost his hold in Somerset county politics he has been made the butt of much criticism and ridicule both as to his official work and his political standing. Of all the annoying things, however, the most distasteful and bitter to him has been the charges made by Vice-Chancellor Pitney that his work as Chancery Clerk is slovenly and unsatisfactory for the proper conserving of interests of persons whose affairs are concerned in chancery. Mr. Thompson is very much incensed over the objections of the Vice-Chancellor, but now a balm to his injured feelings is forthcoming from no less an authority than Chancellor Magee himself. The Chancellor and Mr. Thompson had a conference over the charges made against the latter, and after it was over the Chancellor gave him this certificate of fitness and confidence:

"Mr. Thompson, I have not one word of complaint to make against the manner in which you conduct the business of your office. Your methods are perfectly satisfactory to me. I am the only one who can make rules for this court or direct your conduct. Vice-Chancellor Pitney has no authority to either make rules or interpret them."

It is said that Chancellor Magie also commented upon the criticisms of Chancery methods, of lawyers and things in general which Vice-Chancellor Pitney has made from the bench, and said he wished the Vice-Chancellor would refrain from such remarks in the future.

A year ago the Chisholm process of making "cheap gas" occupied considerable attention of New Jersey municipalities, not the least of which was Plainfield. The great advantage of the Chisholm process was its claim that it would provide a good illuminant at fifty cents per thousand feet. The promoters of the scheme for its establishment in Plainfield, Passaic and other towns where it was under consideration pointed to San Francisco and Oakland, Cal., as cities where it was used with great and gratifying success. An investigation was urged, but the cities concerned never got to the point of doing this in a thorough manner. Recently, however, the Engineering News took the trouble to make a practical examination into the details of the process in the California cities. The reports of such work is decidedly unfavorable to the system. The scientific men who made the investigation declare that the Chisholm idea has but few merits and, in fact, many demerits that make its use impracticable to any community seriously desirous of "cheap gas" that will be permanently satisfactory.

The question of a permanent pavement in the business streets of Plainfield is not concerning the public very much at present, but it will be in time. In this connection, it is interesting to note that a rule has been obtained from Justice VanSyckel that will probably bring up for review in the Supreme Court a question of interest and importance to every city in New Jersey. The question involved is whether contracts for the paving of public streets with a specified kind of asphalt must be awarded to the Barber Asphalt Paving Company, although other contractors made lower bids, on the ground that this company has exclusive ownership of the kind of asphalt called for in the advertisement for bids. The contention of those who underbid the Barber company is that they can furnish asphalt of the same quality as that specified, and that it is against public policy to so frame an alleged call for competitive bids as to exclude everybody but one bidder. The case will come up for a hearing next Monday.

It is a little early to think of a successor to Senator Reed as Senator of Somerset county, but the Somerville Unionist-Gazette finds it opportune to say that "the vigorous campaign work done by Joseph S. Frelinghuysen has already caused his name to be mentioned very prominently in connection with the nomination for Senator at the conclusion of Senator Reed's term."

It has required thirty-three years to double the listed ratables in New Jersey. The State Tax Board reports the total this year as $821,337,286, and the total was just about half of that sum in 1867.

The official canvass shows that Bryan received exactly the same number of votes in Ohio at the last election that he received in 1896. The vote was: McKinley, 543,918; Bryan, 475,882.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

What a world of harmony would prevail if—

Franklin Murphy is nominated for Governor.

Senator Pitney becomes President of the Senate.

William Riker, Jr., becomes chairman of the State committee.

Senator Reed becomes a Justice of the Supreme Court.

Lewis A. Thompson is reappointed Clerk of the Court of Chancery.

Senator Stokes succeeds H. C. Loudenslager in Congress.—New York Press.

DR. O. L. JENKINS FOR MAYOR.

imous, which was done amid applause.

There was only one name presented for the nomination for City Collector. The Fourth ward named Frank H. Smith, the present incumbent, and he was unanimously nominated. The Third ward presented the name of Charles F. Abbott for member of the Board of Education and he, too, was promptly nominated without opposition.

On a motion by William Newcorn, the chairman appointed a committee of one from each ward to fill any vacancies which might occur on the ticket before election. He named the chairmen of the delegations, Messrs. Sminck, Mellick, Green and Dunham. Then the convention adjourned.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Nov. 23—Charles Tilton, switchman at the round house switches, who returned to work a short time ago after several months illness, was again taken sick yesterday. He was forced to give up work and return home, but is feeling much better today. His place is being temporarily filled by Thomas Costello.

It is said that two borough young men were held up by three highwaymen in the vicinity of the Eight Row Wednesday midnight. On being told to stop the borough men took to their heels and escaped in the darkness. The highwaymen ran after them for some distance, but finally gave up the chase.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will give a dime sociable this evening at the residence of Mrs. Frank R. Wynkoop. A very pleasant time is expected as it is understood the ladies have a very interesting programme prepared.

John Hall, who was injured by a falling stone at Garretson & Gray's quarry Wednesday, is greatly improved, although his forehead is badly swollen where the gash was made.

The Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar Club will give an entertainment in the First Baptist church at Somerville this evening, for the benefit of the C. E. Society connected with it.

Rev. L. E. Livermore, of New Market, will occupy the Presbyterian pulpit Sunday. Rev. N. J. Sproull is expected to deliver his first sermon the following Sunday.

The Board of Directors of the Building and Loan Association held a meeting at the office of Secretary George W. Day, last evening.

Mrs. Silas Pound, who was attacked with nervous trouble a short time ago, is rapidly recovering under the care of Dr. Brakeley.

Thomas and William Heller spent yesterday hunting on the mountains and secured four squirrels.

A raffle for a fine large turkey will take place at Taylor's Hotel on Thanksgiving eve.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Merrell are visiting relatives at Flemington and Clover Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Roberts have removed to Plainfield.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Nov. 23 1—The funeral services of Mrs. Julia Green, who was found dead Tuesday evening, were held from her late residence this morning. Rev. W. T. Dorwin, pastor of the Stelton Baptist church, was the officiating clergyman. A large number of friends were in attendance. Interment was made in the Piscataway-town cemetery.

M. W. Casterline, Joseph Kelley and Raymond Burton formed a hunting party Wednesday and spent the day hunting in the vicinity of Oak Tree. They had excellent luck bagging sixteen rabbits and five squirrels.

Quite a number of sportsmen from town journeyed to Avon Park yesterday and attended Campbell's pigeon shoot.

David Blackford, who has but lately returned from Central America, expects to leave for there again Monday next.

Mrs. Adam Waglow and daughter, Mrs. Herbert Taylor, spent yesterday with Plainfield relatives.

Jacob Welby and family, of New Brunswick, were the guests of friends in town yesterday.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Nov. 23—One of the prettiest of Rahway home weddings took place last evening at the home of Mrs Sarah Noe, when her daughter, Miss Elizabeth, became the bride of George Squier, a former resident of Scotch Plains. The ceremony was witnessed by the immediate families of the contracting parties and a few very intimate friends only. Mr. and Mrs. Squier after a short trip will settle in Rahway.

The committee in charge of the Epworth League entertainment in excelsior Hall this evening are anticipating a large audience. Proceeds are for the benefit of the carpet fund.

Goodwill Lodge, K. of P., held an important meeting in their rooms last evening. The report of the committee on disbandment was received.

There will be no football game in town tomorrow afternoon. The local eleven are promising a game on Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Jimerson, of Westfield, were the guests of their daughter, Mrs. George W. Marsh, last evening.

A number of the members of Fanwood Council, R. A., enjoyed a pleasant visit to Roselle Council last evening.

A number from the village will attend the "King of the Opium Ring" at Music Hall tonight.

The members of the Baptist Sunday-school have begun practising their Christmas music.

John H. Thys has returned from a pleasant two days trip to Trenton.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, November 23d—The Foresters' Court, of South Plainfield, gave a banquet last evening in their hall, after which they had dancing.

The blind evangelist, Thomas Houston, of Elizabeth, will commence a series of meetings in the Baptist church next Sunday.

Mr. Jones, the miller, reports business brisk with him. He has the mill full of grists waiting their turn to be ground.

Rev. Harry Johns was in town last Wednesday. He has accepted a call from the Whitehouse church.

The Red Men will give a ball in their hall Friday evening, November 30th.

Edna Eckert was at home ill yesterday.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Westfield, Nov. 23.—A change has been made in the night schedule of trolley cars between Picton and Rahway. The last car for Rahway, Woodbridge and Sewaren leaves Picton at 10:30. The last car for Rahway leaves Picton at 11:20.

The Central Railroad has taken up the plank platforms at the Westfield depot and will replace them with concrete pavement.

The township engineers are making the necessary surveys for the work of depressing Broad street at the railroad crossing.

Mike Huber, who has run a saloon at Garwood for ten years past, has sold out the business.

I were going to place a sign on a church it would read "Wanted—A Christian Conscience." What we must have in our churches is a dominant Christian conscience. That is what makes the Christian. The right kind of an election means more to Plainfield than the Presidential election meant. The church holds the cudgel to beat out the life of evil. I would suggest that meetings be held in every available place from now until election day. Get out the drums! Sound the blast and sever the entangling alliances if you want a revival in your church and purer politics.

"Suppose that it had been your daughter that was murdered in Paterson? That city is wreaking in vileness and today she is reaping the fruits of her own sowing. That is not the only city. The same conditions exist elsewhere, but it is only occasionally that such a horror creeps to the surface. There are about fifteen societies represented here tonight, and those present can go back to their societies and start a movement to awaken the city and win it for God. God will need your efforts to carry on this work, and if you will do your part the result will be all right."

At the close of Dr. Spooner's address, a closing prayer was offered by Rev. C. E. Herring, pastor of the church. After the collection was taken the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Dr. A. E. Main. A social time then followed, when an opportunity was given for those present to greet Dr. Spooner.

Mention should be made of the decorations at the church. There was a display of the State colors, orange and black, and the local colors, green and white, while the American flag occupied a prominent position.

—Another shipment of apples will be placed on sale at Neuman Brothers tomorrow morning. They will have Northern spies, greenings and Baldwins, all fine fruit and at low prices.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness

What the public requires is novelty and that will be given them with a vim in the "King of the Opium Ring," which will be presented at Music Hall tonight. There are several reasons for its unqualified success, chief among which is that there had not been a more really stirring melodrama on the boards for many years. There is enough of vaudeville to tickle the palate of vaudeville lovers, enough of the emotional to please the sentimental people, and enough of the heroic to make the "gallery gods" yell with unalloyed delight. The main ambition of the play was to provide a novelty, and in this it has been successful. The slums of the Chinese quarters of San Francisco provide ample opportunity for novel effects, both in scenery and incident. The scenery is very elaborate, being exact reproductions of streets and interiors of Chinatown. From the wharfs to the work shops, from there to the gilded dives where opium is smoked, then to the beautifully illuminated street scene, where the Chinese New Year is being celebrated by acrobatic feats and other features of amusement, and the "wind up" in the rooms of the Fong Quay Society, where the Chinese wedding and rag-time ball take place. The interest is kept at white heat to the end.

* * * * *

A minstrel performance of great merit and novelty is promised by Washburn's Great Southern Minstrel Company, who are to appear at Music Hall on Monday night. Anything with the Leon W. Washburn trade mark is generally accepted as firstclass in all cities and towns wherein his organizations have appeared, and the present organization is one in which he has exercised his best judgment and endeavors. It is complete in every detail and includes some of the best talent in the country. The principal comedian, George Titchner, is known as "The Prince of Colored Comedians," and with him are associated Billy Mack, Wesley Norris, Al Bailey, Lonnie Crosby, Harry Welsh, Paul Floyd, Will Garland and Oscar Paul, all noted performers. The first part is made up of beautiful ballad selections by the vocal corps and funny witticisms by the endmen, while the olio is filled by pleasing novelties. A laughable farce ends the very complete programme. Everything connected with the show is first-class and a grand feature will be the parade at noon on the day of the performance.

* * * * *

The old-time favorite, "Uncle Josh Spruceby," will be the attraction Thanksgiving Day at Music Hall Thursday of next week. This popular play is now in its tenth successful season. The charm of the play is in its rustic simplicity. The scenes are taken from Vermont rural life, and the character of Uncle Josh as the honest old farmer is true to life. The story is told in a manner that is irresistible. Mr. Levis has staged the piece in splendid shape, and it affords ample opportunity for displaying the startling mechanical effects that are introduced. Thirty-five people are in the company. A big parade and band concert will be given at noon by the splendid concert band which is carried by the company. There will be two performances—afternoon and night—and reserved seats can now be secured at box office.

Provinz Brandenburg.

Berlin. Im Jahre 1899 sind von dem im gesammten deutschen Bundesgebiet in den Listen geführten gestellungspflichtigen 1,696,760 Mann 226,957 für das Heer und die Marine ausgehoben worden; freiwillig traten 23,266 Mann in das Heer und 1222 Mann in die Marine ein. Von den Ausgehobenen wurden 216,880 zum Dienst mit der Waffe bestimmt, während 4591 zum Dienst ohne Waffe herangezogen wurden. Vor Beginn des militärpflichtigen Alters traten freiwillig in das Heer 21,189, in die Marine 1480 Mann ein.—Eine Anzahl Berliner Bürger hat dem Oberkommandirenden der ostasiatischen Truppen, Feldmarschall Grafen Waldersee, einen etwa drei Centner schweren riesengroßen Frühstückskorb, gefüllt mit den auserlesensten Delikatessen, Weinen, Likören, Konserven, Pasteten, Cigarren und anderes mehr, nach Peking gesandt. Den Berlinern haben sich für diese Liebesgabe Firmen aus Hannover, Bremen, Heilbronn, Mainz, Ost-Friesland angeschlossen.—Der aus Berlin geflüchtete Kommis Oskar Müller, welcher 16,500 Mark gestohlen hatte, ist in einer Auswanderer-Herberge in Rotterdam, Holland, verhaftet worden. Von dem gestohlenen Gelde fehlten 500 Mark.

Driesen. Die Wittwe Alwine Cybulsky in Guscht wurde vor ihrer Wohnung als Leiche aufgefunden. Sie war durch einen Messerstich in die Brust getödtet worden. Von dem Mörder fehlte jede Spur.

Prenzlau. Wegen vorsätzlicher Brandstiftung wurde der Baptistenprediger Johannes Irmer zu fünf Jahren Zuchthaus und fünf Jahren Ehrverlust verurtheilt. Neben seinem Beruf als Prediger betrieb er einen Handel mit Pianinos und Harmonikas. Seine Vermögens- und Familienverhältnisse waren zerrüttet.

Provinz Hannover.

Hannover. Prinz Prosper v. Arenberg ist zur Verbüßung seiner 15jährigen Strafe in das Gefängniß zu Hannover eingeliefert worden. Arenberg hatte in Deutsch-Südwestafrika einen eingeborenen Häuptling in bestialischer Weise ermordet.

Olderfum. Nach dem Ausspruche des Emdener Seeamtes sind die beiden in Olderfum beheimatheten Schiffe, nämlich der Dreimastschooner „Janette," welcher mit Kohlen von England nach Gibraltar in See gegangen war, sowie der Schooner „Johann Hinrich," welcher mit Oelkuchen von Harburg nach Truro (Wales) bestimmt war, als verschollen zu betrachten. Fünfzehn Seeleute haben auf den beiden Schiffen ihren Tod gefunden.

Provinz Hessen-Nassau.

Frankfurt. Zwischen Offenbach und Frankfurt fuhr während dichten Nebels ein Lokalzug in den auf freiem Felde haltenden Berliner Schnellzug. In Folge des Zusammenstoßes explodirte ein Gaskessel des Schnellzuges, und zwei Waggons des letzteren geriethen in Brand. Es wurden acht verkohlte Leichen aus den Trümmern hervorgeholt. Nur eine derselben, die Leiche der Inspektorsfrau Wolff aus Mainz, konnte identifizirt werden. Verletzt wurden 30 Personen.

Fulda. Für den Kreis Fulda ist die Errichtung einer Ackerbauschule beschlossen worden. Die Schule wird auf einem in vollem Betriebe befindlichen Gute des Kreises eingerichtet, und es sollen auf ihr junge Landwirthe nach Absolvirung der Volksschule nicht nur theoretischen Unterricht, sondern auch praktische Unterweisung in allen Zweigen der Landwirthschaft erhalten.

"For a number of years past I suffered untold agony from dyspepsia, and how to get rid of it I did not know. I tried every remedy friends could suggest, still I got no relief, and my business being sedentary, that of a bookkeeper, it was getting almost unbearable. I often had to lay off for a day or two. I consulted our family physician, but the medicine he prescribed for me only gave temporary relief. Finally I was induced to try Ripans Tabules. It was not long before I felt greatly relieved, and now, thank God, I have not lost a day in the last year. I can fully recommend

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

To Durell Runyon, Edgar J. Runyon and Ida Gaston Runyon, his wife, Lillian R. Gillespie and George E. Gillespie, her husband:—

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein Henry S. Hollingsworth et al. Executors, &c., of Albert B. Darby, deceased, are complainants, and Frederick W. Hoppel et al. are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the bill of said complainants, on or before the Fourth day of December next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a mortgage given by Charles J. Noel and wife to Albert B. Darby, dated June 17th, A. D. 1886, on lands in the City of Plainfield, New Jersey; and you, Durell Runyon, are made defendant because you own an undivided one-half interest in that portion of the mortgaged premises of which John D. Runyon died seized; and you Edgar J. Runyon and Lillian R. Gillespie, are made defendants because you each own an undivided one-fourth interest in that portion of the mortgaged premises of which John D. Runyon died seized; and you, Ida Gaston Runyon, are made defendant because you have an inchoate right of dower in an undivided one-fourth interest in that portion of the mortgaged premises of which John D. Runyon died seized; and you, George E. Gillespie, are made defendant because you may claim a right in an undivided one-fourth interest in that portion of the mortgaged premises of which John D. Runyon died seized, as tenant by the curtesy initiate; the interest of each of the above named defendants, in said mortgaged premises, being subject to the dower right of Sarah R. Runyon, widow of said John D. Runyon, deceased, therein. Dated October 29th., A. D. 1900.

NOTICE TO PARTIES IN INTEREST TO REDEEM UNDER MARTIN ACT.

TO MONTRANA OR MONTANNA ALLEN.

You are hereby notified, That at public sale made by the Collector of the City of Plainfield, on the thirtieth day of March Nineteen Hundred, the Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield purchased for the sum of twenty-one dollars and one cent, all the land and real estate situate in the City of Plainfield, in the County of Union and State of New Jersey, which is laid down and designated as lots Nos. 305-307 Watson avenue, in Block No. 134, in the First ward of said City, upon the assessment maps annexed to the report made by the Commissioners of Adjustment heretofore appointed in and for said city by the Circuit Court of the county of Union, a certified copy of which report and maps was filed in the office of the City Collector of said City of Plainfield on the 29th day of April, A. D. 1899, said report and maps and said sale being made pursuant to the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of New Jersey, passed March 30th 1886, entitled "An Act concerning the settlement and collection of arrearages of unpaid taxes, assessments and water rates or water rents in the cities of this State, and imposing and levying a tax, assessment and lien in lieu and instead of such arrearages, and to enforce the payment thereof, and to provide for the sale of lands subjected to future taxation and assessment," and the several supplements and amendments thereto. And the certificate of such sale was afterwards assigned to me.

And you are further notified, That you appear or claim to have an estate or interest in said land and real estate, and unless the said land and real estate shall be redeemed, as provided in said act, before the expiration of six months from and after the service hereof, a deed for the same will be given, conveying to said Elston M. French the fee simple of said land and real estate according to the provisions of said act.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 25—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Praise the Lord.—Ps. cxlvii, 1-20.

This psalm was probably written for use in the second temple. It praises God specially for bringing His people from captivity and giving them power to rebuild the walls of Jerusalem. "The Lord doth build up Jerusalem; He gathereth together the outcasts of Israel." But there are references here also to the more regular and common blessings of life, and for these also God is praised. In every year of our lives God sends special favors upon us, along with the usual benefits that we daily receive from Him. Both kinds of blessings should be acknowledged on Thanksgiving day and God should be praised for them.

This psalm suggests many reasons for praising the Lord.

1. Praise the Lord for spiritual blessings (verses 1-6). The return from captivity and all its accompanying blessings was pre-eminently a great spiritual blessing. It was a return to God, a return to God's temple, a return to the ordinances of God, all of which would produce an increased spiritual life, with its manifold blessings, and for these God would deserve to be praised. Has God blessed us as a nation, as a church, as individuals, with spirtual blessings—and undoubtedly He has—let us be grateful unto Him and praise Him for all He has done.

2. Praise the Lord for temporal blessings (verses 7-11). Sing unto the Lord with thanksgiving, * * * who covered the heavens with clouds, who prepareth rain for the earth, who maketh the grass to grow upon the mountains. He giveth to the beast his food and to the young ravens which cry." God's providential care of both man and beast calls for continued praise and thanksgiving. Our country has been specially and wonderfully blessed in temporal affairs in the past year. Fruits abundant have been borne by our trees, our fields have yielded abundant crops, and our industrial prosperity has been unprecedented, all of which are causes for thanksgiving to God.

3. Praise the Lord for ecclesiastical blessings (verses 12-15). For protection, peace and plenty the church is called upon to praise the Lord. The church of Christ today in our land is richly enjoying all these blessings. Therefore let us praise Him as churches for His manifold blessings to our churches.

4. Praise the Lord for national blessings (verse 20). "He hath not dealt so with any nation." God has greatly blessed us as a nation in the past year. We have a goodly heritage, where the favor of God seems to be freely dispensed. Let us therefore thank Him in thought, in word and in deed.

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Let the prayer meeting committee arrange a special thanksgiving programme or use the one published by the United society.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ps. xxxiv, 1-8; xlviii, 1; lxvi, 1, 2; lxxxi, 1-3; xcii, 1-5; cvii, 1-8; II Cor. ix, 10-12; Phil. iv, 1-6; Col. ii, 6, 7; iv, 2; Rev. vii, 11, 12.

Begin Today.

Is there nothing that Christ, as your friend, your Lord, your Saviour, wants you to do that you are leaving undone today? Do you doubt one instant, with His high and deep love for your soul, that He wants you to pray? And do you pray? Do you doubt one instant that it is His will that you should honor and help and bless all the men about you who are His brethren? And are you doing anything like that? Do you doubt one instant that He wants you to be pure in deed and word and thought? And are you pure? Do you doubt one instant that His command is for you openly to own Him and declare that you are His servants before the world? And have you done it? These are questions which make the whole matter clear. No; not in quiet lanes or in the bright temple courts, as once He spake, and not from blazing heavens, as men sometimes seem to expect—not so does Christ speak to us. And yet He speaks. I know what He, there in all His glory—He, here in my heart—wants me to do today, and I know that I am not mistaken in my knowledge. It is no guess of mine. It is His voice that tells me.—Phillips Brooks.

Good Temper a Duty.

When it comes to be recognized more generally, as it ought to be, that good temper cannot only be cultivated, but is a Christian duty, and that one has no moral right to inflict gloom and despondency upon the home members of the community, we shall doubtless see a marked change for the better. Doubtless a sunny disposition is natural to some and not to others. But all may acquire this as well as any other virtue, and its possession is one of the strong recommendations of one's religion. There is no reason why one member of the family—say the unselfish mother—should supply all the sunshine for the home.—Watchman.

A Test of Character.

Have you ever seen the good in some one and his ability while he was still obscure and prophesied the high place he would take, and then, when this was realized, and he had risen above you in your own sphere, were you still able to praise him? This is a test of character, and here it was John proved his nobility of character. "Did I not tell you He was greater than I? And is He not great—greater than I thought?" He could wish for Him to increase and grow greater each day and for himself to decrease.—Ian Maclaren.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 25, "Praise the Lord"—Text, Ps. cxlvii, 1-20.

"It is good to sing praises unto our God; for it is pleasant, and praise is comely."

A world without music, who would care to live there? What a place of misery and torment of soul it would be! The mind would be unbalanced and insane fancies possess it. Howlings would replace hallelujahs, and the wail of woe unending rise in place of pæans of praise.

Listen to the songs men sing and you can tell the whole story of their inner life in its thought and passion, its heights and depths, its richness or poverty of soul. Men sing of war and of love, of life and death.

But of all themes the love of God is richest, fullest, highest, strongest, most joyous and inexhaustible. "Our God!" Who shall reach the upper notes of His praise?

The harp at nature's advent strung
Has never ceased to play;
The song the stars of morning sung
Has never died away;
And prayer is made and praise is given
By all things near and far,
The ocean looketh up to heaven
And mirrors every star.

It was a great achievement for the ancient Jubal to invent the pipe and stringed instrument and become "the father of all who handle the harp and organ," as is spoken of in early Genesis. It was a greater thing for David to wed sweet song to harmony of instruments and give us the religious psalms and open the way for spiritual hymns as the expression of the heart's deepest adoration.

The world's best music is religious, Christian. Handel's "Messiah" is the pinnacle of earthly song, and his incomparable "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" is the gem of the oratorio.

The highest ecstasy of human souls finds expression in praise. No pleasure of which man is capable here below exceeds that found in worship of God through music.

How this psalm runs through the scale of thanksgiving! The powers of nature are all in God's hands; harvests are from Him; all life is dependent on Him; most precious of all gifts are His commandments and laws to His people. Most becoming is it, then, for His people to praise His name.

The Curse of It All.

It is not so much the bloated sot nor the hardened criminal in state prison who moves our sympathy and indignation. It is the young fellow and the young girl, those just entering on the course of vice. They are out for a good time. They have often had no better way to enjoyment pointed out to them. They are not consciously and intentionally wicked. They may know that there is some danger in their course, but have no fear of it, but are rather stimulated and challenged to try it. The pity of this whole drink business, and all that goes with it, lies in the seductiveness with which it grasps young life. It takes our best in the flush of opening powers with strength and beauty and wrecks all, in hideous disease of body, deformity of soul and debauchery of mind.

Have you ever stopped in your pure course to give a look and a thought to these who are choosing the impure? Do it some time, if you dare. Be careful of your own footing. Don't get too near the brink and slip over. But just watch the crowd. Mark the hollowness of its mirth, the fever of its pulse, the opening hell of its end. It is a fearful price to pay for such goods.

Our Education Society Secretary.

Just in the prime of life, refined, scholarly, sensible, experienced, tactful and with enthusiasm, Dr. W. F. McDowell is eminently the man for the secretaryship of the board of education. This work is gradually unifying and systematizing the courses of study and relations of our various educational institutions. Probably the assistance given needy and deserving students in our various schools is the feature which is best known in its varied activities. Collections in the churches and Sunday schools must be secured, the programme for children's day arranged, published and distributed, funds must be wisely administered, applications considered and loans made and innumerable details of a world-wide work kept in hand.

Dr. C. H. Payne had filled the place for a number of years and greatly enlarged the usefulness of the board until it seemed as if no one else could ever fill the place. But when death removed him and Dr. McDowell was called the work moved on with undiminished efficiency.

Some of the Heroes of the Hour of Eastern Gridirons

ASK the gridiron followers who are the men most in the public eye in football in the east and they will be quick with the retort: "Little Harold Weekes, the left half back of Columbia, who has twice scored touchdowns against mighty Yale; Coach Sanford, the old son of Eli who is directing the Columbia team, and whose strategy gave Weekes the opportunity to humiliate Mr. Sanford's alma mater eleven; Coach Percy Haughton, of Cornell, who took his disheartened Ithacans to the Nassau Tigers' field, coached them to use a few plays that the newspapers had said were discarded and treated Princeton to a second humiliation, this time to the tune of 12 to 0."

Individual cases of great gridiron prowess are coexistent with every big game. None will ever care to detract one whit from the magnificent play of Capt. Truxton Hare, the giant guard of the Pennsy team, when, exhausted but not vanquished, the courageous young man fought the crimson team almost single-handed, refusing to acknowledge that the red and blue was beaten by Harvard until the whistle blew for the call of time. His was the greatest individual work of the season, even though the results of his work were diminished by the futility of his team's work. So, too, it might be argued that the desperate work of Capt. Morley, of Columbia, against Princeton and the humiliation for the second time this season of Old Nassau's eleven should entitle him to a big place in the resume of the season. "Bill," as the Columbia captain is called, is a New Mexico ranchman. Beginning to play football at the Pennsylvania military academy, he played at Michigan, and this is his sixth season on the gridiron. Believing in the strenuous life, it is conjectural what the great half back will do when he returns to the sun-baked plains of his New Mexico establishment.

Percy Haughton is too good a student of human nature to be turned by any of the compliments hurled at him for his work with Cornell. He reads the men who praise him, feels sorry for some of them and "jollies" the others. When he played on the crimson team he was the best punter Harvard had ever had. The Ithacans are just now jubilant because of a fortunate circumstance that gave them Haughton's services as a coach. Without Haughton Cornell never would have triumphed for two successive seasons over the mighty Tigers under Capt. Pell. "Billy" Barnard, the former great Princeton player, had been engaged by Cornell to coach, but after he had got the team together he was compelled to cancel his contract because of illness at home. Cornell aimed high. She made a great offer to Lewis, the greatest center Harvard had ever had, and one of the best defense strategists that ever donned a gridiron suit. Harvard could not think of letting Lewis go. Haughton would not see the Ithacans left without a coach, and took the contract. Few will charge up to Haughton the defeat of Capt. Starbuck's eleven by the Maroons at Marshall field. The head coach had had his men but one day before starting to Chicago to play. Yet football history will ever record the progress the Ithacans made when the big, good-natured Harvard man got his stride in coaching the latter part of that season.

In defeating Princeton this season Cornell used Haughton's ideas, executed them nicely in spite of a drizzling rain and fumbled the ball but once. A precedent was established, for that was the first defeat that had ever been given to proud Nassau on her own gridiron. Otherwise Haughton's men did not offend the coach.

"I baffled the Tigers," said Haughton, "by ordering a combination of heavy line players and delayed passes for Cornell's offense. At that I do not consider the score a criterion of the comparative strength of the teams. After our team had scored twice on the Tigers it was content to play on the defense. Warner was a tower of strength on offense, failing at no time to gain his distance. Starbuck showed great speed on tackle plays. Some of the critics are talking of him for a place on the All-America team. The defense of Cornell was so satisfactory that Lewis would have found no fault. Every time a Tiger back hit the line he was invariably hurled back for a loss. How strong that defense was is shown by a glance at a diagram of the contest. Five times did Princeton have the ball inside Cornell's 15-yard line, yet she failed to score. The Tigers had much to learn in handling punts."

Haughton was under a handicap when he sent his men on to Princeton field. His star tackle, Alexander, was not in the game, and that was a decided advantage to the opposing team. Besides, he knew, if his team players did not realize it, that Princeton had never bowed to defeat at home.

As to Coach George F. Sanford, of Columbia, it might be said that while Yale has never been enthusiastic about inviting the old Eli player to her coaching bee, the coach has forgotten the scoring Weekes did against his alma mater and has shown that he can visit New Haven and make the candidates for positions on the team feel that they are being driven by an efficient man. Once last year Sanford gave up his position for a week to help out his alma mater in coaching. Sanford was a wonderful center. Besides, years ago, when he was prominent in Yale athletics, he was a speedy distance man in track athletics. Success tells. Columbia thought that Sanford would be the right man for her material and gathered him in for $5,000. While it is true that the Princeton coaches throughout the country have been generally more successful than the men from other 'varsities, it is a remarkable fact that no school can show such an able group of men active at the same time in gridiron teaching as the sons of old Yale, A. A. Stagg, G. F. Sanford, Coach George Woodruff and Dr. Williams. It may be a question in the minds of many followers of football whether these strategists could maintain victory over such great coaches as Cochrane and "King" Kelly, but the fact remains that the football world is almost daily discussing the work of this Yale group.

Woodruff, with a persistence that knows no bounds, has stuck to his "guards back" formation even after a strong team has shown him how easily a past master in defense like Lewis can easily give a combination which will stop it. Yet when Pennsy was good under the direct teaching of Dr. Woodruff there were many men who began to think that perhaps, after all, the guards back was a most effective play. Harvard threw the formation off like water rolling off the back of a duck.

Then Dr. Willams is widely discussed in football because his Gophers have, under his Yale methods, so puzzled the coaches of other western universities that many a leader lost sleep planning to counteract Williams' strategy. It would be queer if the coaches like Stagg, Woodruff, Sanford and Williams should insist upon resurrecting some of the strategy that was in vogue a decade ago to teach it to their charges to-day. Football, as a matter of fact, has developed wonderfully in a decade, but it has developed systematically, and the old stars see little in the play of to-day that commends it to them. Because some one has hit upon a particularly efficient play, the coachers have had to work overtime in devising defense to meet the requirements.

Now and then a wriggling, twisting, hopping, speedy, erratic and sensational little bundle of energy like Richardson, the former half back of Brown university, or Weekes, of Columbia, will set at naught all of the problems of defense framed by the coachers. Then it is said that the player who gets in the necessary touchdowns is in a class by himself. It will never be known, however, how much of the element of luck there has been in the work of both these men.

SPORTING.

ON THE GRIDIRON.

The Plainfield Association football team will play the Carlton team on the Clinton avenue grounds tomorrow afternoon.

Charlie Dupee will not, in all probability, begin the game on the Yale eleven when they line up against Harvard at New Haven tomorrow afternoon. Perry Hale will be the full back at the start but it is possible, in fact quite probable, that Dupee will get a chance before the game is over.

A number of Yale graustes in this city are preparing to go to New Haven this evening to attend the big Yale-Harvard football game tomorrow. Considerable interest is manifested in the game among the local enthusiasts and a little money is up on the result. Most Plainfielders are hoping and expecting a victory for the Yale eleven.

After meeting defeat twice at the same hands, the North Plainfield High School eleven will again line up against the Plainfield High School team on Martine Common tomorrow morning. The city school boys are considerably weakened by the loss of several players and the boroughites are hoping that their luck will change this time.

The next game of the Alis A. A. will be against the Rivington A. C., of New York, on Martine Common tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The Rivingtons were recently defeated by the Bergen Point F. C. by a score of 10 to 5. As the Bergen Point team defeated the Alis boys last week, Saturday's game should be a very even one.

Several changes will be made in the Alis lineup for tomorrow's game which will materially strengthen that team. To begin with, McClure and Long will be back in their old places at the right and left guard. Phillips will go in at quarter while Peck will be put on one end and Homer Smith on the other. Tom Smith will probably play full back in Phillips' place. Serrell is likely to go in at tackle until one of backs is injured in which case he will be substituted behind the line.

A REAR END COLLISION.

A rear-end collision occurred at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon between two eastbound freight trains between Fanwood and Netherwood.

In coming over the hill at that point the rear train ran too close to the forward train. Before it could be stopped the locomotive struck the caboose of the forward train.

The locomotive was derailed and the caboose thrown across the eastbound passenger track. It was very badly wrecked. The conductor was riding in the caboose and was hurt. The ambulance was called and took him to the hospital.

$10,000 SLANDER SUIT.

Called a Man a Horse Thief and Heavy Damages Are Demanded.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, Nov. 23—Moore Baker, of Franklin Park, has instituted a suit for $10,000 against Abram C. Beekman, son of the late Columbus Beekman, of the same place, for slander. He alleges that Mr. Beekman called him a horse thief in a public place last Saturday night. The case will excite much attention, owing to the prominence of the parties.

The plaintiff is the young man at whose house a terrible tragedy occurred on the night of February 28, 1894. It will be remembered that two colored men, Willard Thompson and Henry Baker, broke into Mr. Baker's home, brutally murdered Mrs. Baker and her sixteen-months old child. The negroes were killed by Mr. Baker after a terrific struggle.

It was about the same year that a gray mare was stolen from Abram C. Beekman's barn. According to Mr. Baker's charge, he and Mr. Beekman were in the Franklin Park Hotel last Saturday evening, when Mr. Beekman charged Baker with having stolen his horse six years ago. Mr. Baker said that he would see a lawyer about it and would bring an action against his accuser for defamation of character.

Mr. Beekman's version of the affair is different from that of Mr. Baker's. He says that he heard that Mr. Baker told some people at Franklin Park that his horse was stolen before anyone had left Mr. Beekman's place. He wondered how Mr. Baker heard of the affair so soon and asked him. Mr. Baker, he says, took the question as an insinuation and demanded: "Do you mean to say that I stole your horse?" Mr. Beekman says that he told Mr. Baker that he made no such charge.

Reform Club's Good Meeting.

An audience of nearly 300 was present at the entertainment and meeting in Reform Hall last evening. The entertainment part of the programme was furnished by Ben LaVere and Herbert Harold.

The speakers of the evening were W. C. Smith, John Sayers, Eden Boice and Michael Armstrong.

Mr. Swalm Declines.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—I noticed in your issue of last evening that I received the nomination for Councilman in the Fourth ward Democratic primary. I most respectfully decline the honor as it would be impossible for me to serve if elected.

EDITH HAND A BRIDE

WEDDED TO ALBERT CANFIELD, OF SUMMIT, YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Among the Gifts Received Was the Deed to a House From the Bride's Mother.

Plainfield lost one of its popular young women yesterday when Miss Blanche Edith Hand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hand, was united in marriage to Albert Canfield, of Summit. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parent, 504 Belvidere avenue, at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. Charles E Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was the officiating clergyman.

Owing to a recent death in the groom's family, the ceremony was a very quiet one, only a few immediate friends and relatives being present. The young couple stood beneath a canopy of ferns and chrysanthemums in the parlors, while the words were pronounced which made them man and wife. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McClellan, of this city, the former acting as best man and latter as matron of honor. The bride looked charming in a neat fitting travelling dress of black cloth. At the conclusion of the ceremony the guests partook of a collation after which the young couple left for a short wedding trip, the designation of which they refused to divulge. On their return they will take up their residence in Summit, where the groom is connected with a large grocery house.

Among the the wedding presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Canfield was the deed to a handsome house in this city presented by the bride's mother. Another gift was a stylish horse and carriage from Mr. Hand. Mrs. Canfield is well-known and popular among a large circle of acquaintances by whom her loss will be greatly felt.

A YOUNG PRISON BIRD.

Raymond Johnson, Nineteen Years Old, Confessed to Assaulting a Young Girl.

Raymond Johnson, a young colored man who lived here for several years and is the step-son of Prime Voorhees, of Madison avenue, was sentenced last Monday to two years in State Prison. Johnson is only nineteen years old. For some time he was employed as a coachman by W. J. B. Thiers, of Watchung avenue, but subsequently went to Newark. While he lived here he bore the reputation of being very quiet and well behaved.

Early in October last Johnson attempted to assault a fifteen year old girl near Orange. He was arrested at once and made a confession to the Orange police. He retained Attorney Edward O. Clark as his lawyer, who appeared for him in the Essex County Court of General Quarter Sessions, Nouember 16th, and entered a plea of guilty.

A FATAL FALL.

Westfield Carpenter Sustained Injuries While at Work That Resulted in His Death.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, November 23.—Amos Allen, aged sixty years, a well known resident of this place, died suddenly last evening at his home, following an accident that hapened yesterday afternoon. Mr. Allen, who is a carpenter, was at work and he had occasion to step on a bench. The bench tipped, throwing Mr. Allen across it. Two ribs were fractured. The service of a physician was secured at once and proper treatment given. The ribs were set and bandages placed about the body. Last evening the body began to bloat and soon afterward Mr. Allen died. Mr. Allen's wife died about two months ago. They were both known in Plainfield, where they have several relatives. Mr. Allan's funeral services will be held from the late home tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

DEMOCRATS NOMINATE.

Col. Mason W. Tyler Nominated for Mayor at City Convention Last Night.

BRIEF AND HARMONIOUS.

A. T. GALLUP WAS NAMED FOR CITY COLLECTOR.

E. C Perkins Selected to Run for Member of Board of Education—Convention Presided Over by Ex-Councilman W. L. Hetfield.

For Mayor,
Col. Mason W. Tyler.
For Collector,
Arthur T. Gallup.
For Member Board of Education,
Edward C. Perkins.

The Democratic city convenrion met last night and placed in nomination the above ticket. The convention was held in the rooms of the Hillman Association on West Front street, and was attended by a good representation of delegates elected at the ward primaries Wednesday evening.

It resembled the Republican convention in two things—briefness and harmony. There was a little difference of opinion at one point, but after a discussion of the matter by several of the delegates the matter was settled in good feeling and the delegates left the convention feeling that they had succeeded in nominating a strong ticket, and one which would stand an excellent chance of winning even in this Gibraltar of Republicanism.

In the absence of M. B. Flynn, chairman of the Democratic city committee, W. W. St. John, another member of the committee, called the convention to order. Former Councilman Walter L Hetfield was elected chairman without opposition, and in accepting the chair Mr. Hetfield delivered a short speech thanking the delegates for the honor conferred upon him.

Frank Stover was elected secretary, and E. M. VanBuren and E. C. Searing were appointed judge and clerk respectively. A recess of five minutes was then taken in order to fill vacancies in the ward delegations and to allow each to select its chairman The chairmen of the delegations were chosen as follows: First ward, Michael DeCourcy; Second ward, L. G. Timpson; Third ward, J. H. Hillman; Fourth ward, W. W. St. John.

After the convention reconvened the nomination of a Mayor was taken up, and Col. Mason W. Tyler named by the Third ward chairman. No other nomination being made, the secretary was instructed to cast a ballot.

At this point in the proceedings, however, Mr. Hetfield questioned the advisability of nominating Col. Tyler until there was positive assurances that he would accept Mr. Hetfield said that he thought that if the nomination should be made and then Col. Tyler would not accept, it would put the convention and the party in an unfavorable light.

Charles Bock, of the First ward, made a motion that the convention resolve not to put a ticket in the field, but this idea was vigorously opposed by several delegates and a point of order raised. The chairman ruled that Mr. Bock's motion could not be entertained and the secretary went ahead and cast the vote for Col. Tyler. He was declared the nominee of the convention.

The City Collectorship was then taken up and Arthur T. Gallup, of the Fourth ward, named for the office without opposition. Edward C. Perkins, of the Third ward, was nominated unanimously for member of the Board of Education.

The chairman, on the motion of Mr. Hillman, appointed the following committee to notify the candidates and also to be empowered to fill vacancies: Michael J. DeCourcy, Lewis Stover, J. H. Hillman and W. W. St. John.

Then, after it was recommended that the city committee hereafter call the convention at least six days before the time for filing nominations expires, the convention adjourned.

Fewer Men to Be Employed.

An order has just been issued by the Central Railroad officials, notifying all section bosses to reduce their gangs from one to two men. No reason for the reduction has been made public. The new order will go into effect today.

MUST BE PLAYED OVER.

GOLF LEAGUE SO DECIDES IN DISPUTED NEWARK-PLAINFIELD GAME.

Individual Championship Arranged—Competition at Baltusrol November 30th and December 1st.

Delegates from six of the seven clubs belonging to the East Jersey Golf League met in Newark Wednesday night One of the first questions to be settled related to the Newark-Plainfield match. It will be remembered that in the contest in question Newark played Croker and DeGoll on the team, neither of whom at that time were full fledged members, although Captain Moody in playing them was not then aware of the fact. At any rate, the decision at the meeting was to play the match over again, and this must be done on or before December 15th, and, of course, Newark is not to play DeGoll or Croker. Should Plainfield lose to Newark the former would then be tied for first place with East Orange, and a special match made necessary before the team championship could be definitely settled.

After settling the Newark-Plainfield matter, the coming individual championship came up for discussion. As has previously been announced, this competition will take place at Baltusrol November 30th and December 1st. Entries will be limited to 16, and each club is entitled to two entries with a possible three—that is, in case any club fails to enter its representation of two, the deficiency can be made up by a third entry.

The tournament will be conducted at match play, morning and afternoon, each round consisting of eighteen holes. A notification of the pairings will be mailed to each club Monday evening. U. S. G A. rules will govern all play, and the contestants failing to appear by 10:30 on the opening day will forfeit The winner of the tournament will be presented with a valuable trophy, to be won outright.

PARK CLUB ACTIVITY.

First Formal Dance Will be Held the Night After Thanksgiving.

Unusual social activity is promised among the members of the Park Club this winter. Already a successful euchre party has been arranged by the entertainment committee, and several other affairs are to be held in the near future.

The first of the series of formal dances, under the auspices of the club, will be held next Friday evening. It was originally planned to hold the dance Thanksgiving Eve, but the date was changed so as not to conflict with the first assembly. Tuesday, December 4th, a "book" party will be held at the clubhouse. Instead of the members representing the different books, as was previously the case, everything will be prepared by the committee in charge, and the guests will merely be asked to guess the names of the books. Tuesday, December 18th, a dramatic entertainment will be given.

Officers of Cadet Battalion.

When the cadet battalion of Rutgers College was reorganized for the year last week, several Plainfield High School graduates were placed on the roster. Ralph B. Titsworth, of Dunellen, was made captain of Company C; Charles M. Titsworth, of Dunellen, was made color sergeant of the battalion while William A. Fisher and Edward L. Coriell, both of Bound Brook, were appointed corporals in Company B.

Will Meet in Hoboken.

The Newark annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, embracing all the churches of that denomination in the State north of the Raritan river, has just been appointed to meet in the First M. E. church, Hoboken, April 10th, 1901, under the presidency of Bishop Foss, of Philadelphia.

Justice Huff's Court.

Justice Huff has issued summons in the contract cases of John Nelson against Charles D Baldwin, and J. Neilson Dunbar against Augustus Baldwin. They are returnable November 28th, at 10 a. m. Francis J. Blatz, of the law firm of Murphy & Blatz, represents the plaintiff in both cases.

The "Pneumonia Express."

The Somerville newspapers this week make mention of the fact that the "pneumonia express" has been in operation through their town and that people are being hustled along toward the cemetery. The plaintive cry is also heard in this vicinity, but with no tangible result.

LAND OF THE BOXERS.

INSTRUCTIVE PAPERS ABOUT CHINA HEARD BY EPWORTH LEAGUERS.

Given at the Literary Evening of the Society Last Night—Those Who Took Part.

"The Land of the Boxers" interested the members of the Epworth League of the First M. E church and a number of their friends, who gathered in Vincent chapel last evening for the monthly literary evening of the League. A series of interesting papers on China and its people and history occupied most of the evening. There was an intermission between the two parts of the programme during which tea and other refreshments were served by three young women in Chinese gowns. They were Miss Edna French, Miss Mabel Jenkins and Miss Carrie Mulford.

The programme was as follows: "China 2500 Years Ago; China Today," by Mr. Jones; "The Great Wall of China," by Thomas McDonald; "Education and Religion," by Miss Garrison; "The Taiping Rebellion," by E. R. Miller; "The Boxers and Recent Outbreak," by Miss Davies; "Future Outlook," by Stephen H. Tugwell.

Novel programmes were distributed during the evening. The words instead of being written across the pages ran from top to bottom, after the Chinese fashion. A little firecracker was attached to each.

The affair was under the charge of the literary committee of the Epworth League, of which E. A Edgar is the chairman. He acted as master of ceremonies. After the programme was completed a social hour followed.

THE REAR END COLLISION

The Only One Hurt Was a Conductor and His Injuries are Not Very Serious.

The rear end collision which blocked both east bound tracks for several hours, took place on the Central at Terrill road yesterday afternoon at 1:30. The first train was composed of coal cars and was drawn by engine No 435. On account of the steep grade at this point the progress of the train was very slow. A freight train, drawn by engine No. 437, was following and with the intention of assisting the first one over the hill, came up at a high rate of speed. It struck the forward caboose with terrific force, throwing it on the east bound passenger track. Its only occupant was Conductor Fred Friendt, of Mauch Chunk, who was pinned in the wreckage. He was hastily taken out and sent to the hospital in the ambulance. Engine No. 437 was derailed and an oil tank behind it was partially wrecked The wrecking crew was summoned from Elizabethport but on account of the derailed engine, being one of the large "hog" type, it was several hours before the tracks were cleared.

On examination at the hospital Friendt's injuries were found to consist of a dislocated humerus and a scalp wound. He is getting along nicely and will be able to leave the institution in a few days.

To Practice in Plainfield and Newark.

John P. Owens, of Lee place, who last week successfully passed the bar examination, will at once begin the practice of law in this city and in Newark. The latest Plainfield representative to enter the legal profession was educated at Seton Hall College, South Orange. He graduated from that institution in the year '98 with the degree of A. B. and in June last was honored with the degree of Master of Arts. On graduating he adopted law as his profession and studied at the New York Law School and in the office of Philip Lowy, of Newark. He will continue with Mr. Lowy, keeping his interests here also.

Donations for Thanksgiving.

The Relief Association asks for donations for Thanksgiving of turkeys, chickens, vegetables, etc., or money, as a great many beneficiaries enjoy the liberal dinners which have always been given them. All contributions should be sent to the relief rooms, 544 West Front street, on Tuesday, November 27th, where they will be gratefully received and acknowledgment made in the annual report.

Resumed Official Visitations.

Great Sachem William Newcorn has again resumed his official visitations to the many tribes of Red Men through the State. Last evening he went to Frenchtown and visited a tribe there. Representatives from many surrounding tribes were present at the meeting.

Music Hall Box Office.

The box office of Music Hall will be open tonight until 9 o'clock for accommodation of all desiring reserved seats Monday and Thanksgiving Day.

Took Possession This Morning of the Old Bank Building on East Front Street

IT IS THOROUGHLY HEATED.

PRIVATE OFFICE FOR CHIEF OF POLICE IN THE FRONT.

New City Court Room is Rather Dark—Well Equipped Jail in Rear Reached By "Bridge of Sighs"—Everything is Satisfactory.

Plainfield's police force took possession this morning of its new quarters in the old City National Bank building, 120 East Front street. For two days the cells have been removed from old police headquarters in the Olympia on Sycamore street and were set up in the rear of the new quarters Tonight the police will gather at the new establishment and any offenders arrested will be confined there.

Except for the lighting facilities, the new headquarters are decidedly superior to the ones just vacated. They are located in the building owned by J. B. Coward and formerly occupied by the City National Bank. Upstairs are the old Republican headquarters. For some time the ground floor of the building has not been in use except as a polling place or primary meeting place. It is eighty feet long and twenty feet wide. A long hall runs the full length of it and the rear, where the cells are located, can be reached by this hall or from the adjoining alley over a "Bridge of Sighs" which has just been built to span the open areaway.

In front, on the left when entering, is the office of Chief Kiely. It is surrounded by a railing and partition six feet high. Then comes the main room of headquarters. Separated from it by a low railing is the city court room where City Judge Runyon will preside. He is to have a desk built up against a high partition which bounds the city jail part of the establishment. Inside the railing only the lawyers, reporters and other privileged characters will be allowed. It will be nicely carpeted The whole place has been repapered with a handsome dark blue paper with a bright-looking border.

In the rear five cells have been built along the left side of the room formed by the partition and the rear wall. It is well lighted but the city court room is dark and electric lights will have to be used on all but the very brightest days. The whole place is well heated with steam and there is no chance of the prisoners freezing to death as they might have done in the old quarters.

INDICTED RAILROAD

Central Charged With Criminal Offense in Not Providing Flagman at a Grade Crossing.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Nov. 24.—The recent Somerset County Grand Jury indicted the Central Railroad of New Jersey for maintaining a nuisance at the Middagh street crossing. Yesterday before Judge Schenck, Prosecutor Griggs presented the indictment, and Hon. Alvah A. Clark, counsel for the company, plead not guilty to the indictment. The trial was set down for the first day of the December term of court.

The Middagh street crossing is much traveled, and the company maintain neither gates or flagman, so that it is very dangerous. They once employed a flagman at that spot, but when the present managers came in control the flagman was discharged.

Recently a seven-year-old boy was killed by a train at this crossing, and the Coroner's Jury censured the railroad for not maintaining a flagman there. Nearly every day accidents are narrowly averted, and there is great feeling against the railroad management.

The father of the boy recently killed has brought suit against the company, and it is probable that the lack of a flagman will cost them more money than to employ one.

Danced Away the Night.

About 150 young people were in attendance at a dance given in the Camera Club rooms Thursday evening under the auspices of the O. B. Joyful Club. The dancing was kept up until a late hour, stopping only at midnight to allow the passing of refreshments. The affair was chaperoned by the Misses Bogert.

Macadamizing Approach to Bridge.

Work was started yesterday macadamizing that portion of Madison avenue between Front street and the new bridge. C. M. Meeker is doing the work under the direction of Street Commissioner Gavett for the Babcock estate.

TO PAY COUNTY AWARDS

A SETTLEMENT WITH WESTFIELD AVENUE LANDOWNERS.

Board of Freeholders Authorize Raising of Money by Notes and the Sale of Condemned Buildings.

The Board of Freeholders has arranged for early payment of the awards for lands to be taken for the widening of Westfield avenue from Elizabeth to the Cranford line.

At the meeting Thursday afternoon County Attorney Codington reported to the Board that the report of the commissioners who had made the awards had been confirmed by Judge Swayze, of Newark, and had been filed in the County Clerk's office.

Freeholder King offered resolutions, one of which gives authority to the County Collector to borrow, on notes, money to pay the awards, pending the receipt by the county of $73 000, which Senator Kean agreed to pay July 1st, 1901, and which is now to be paid by the Westfield and Elizabeth Railway Company, in accordance with a contract when the consolidation with the Morris avenue and East Grand street lines was made. The other resolution provides for the disposal and removal of the buildings on the line of the proposed boulevard.

It provides that the County Attorney be authorized to take proceedings for the advertisement and sale of such buildings as may be required, and that the advertisement and sale be made by and in the name of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union, and that the sale be advertised at least three weeks in the following newspapers, namely: The Elizabeth Daily Journal, the Cranford Citizen and Plainfield Daily News, and that said sale be advertised to take place at such time and place and under conditions as may be deemed best for the interests of the county of Union.

NOT TO BUY CENTRAL.

First Vice-President of Road Denies the Reported Purchase of Jersey Railway.

First Vice President Green, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, says that the management of that property has no idea of buying control of the Jersey Central road, and that he knows nothing of any deal by which Pennsylvania interests will become connected with Jersey Central.

The Pennsylvania Railroad now has large holdings in the Chesapeake and Ohio, the Norfolk and Western and the Baltimore and Ohio, and it is not likely, it is asserted, that any important interest will be taken in any other roads.

BETHEL CHAPEL FAIR CLOSED.

Prizes Awarded to the Winners at the Close Last Night.

The fair at Bethel chapel was concluded last evening when the various prizes were awarded. There was a large attendance and everything was disposed of. During the evening an impromptu programme of music and recitations was presented in an excellent and praiseworthy manner. Following the entertainment the prize winners were announced. The desk was given to Eugene Johnson who sold the greatest number of tickets. He brought in $22 61 His opponent, Miss Mary Tildon, brought in $19.05 The pair of blankets were given to Miss Euphemia Dorsey who brought in $19.21, and Miss Bertha Hill for bringing in $10 was awarded the gold ring. As yet it cannot be definitely told what the profits will be, but it is known that they are satisfactory.

Powers Selling Huylers.

Powers' apothecary shop, Somerset street and Craig place, has been designated as an agency for the sale of Huyler's candies and bon-bons. Mr. Powers will keep a full line of the Huyler stock always on hand. His daily special messenger service between this city and New York permits him to have on sale a fresh assortment of these choice delicacies at his popular store at all times. The numerous varieties are now on sale. The stock arrived today.

Veterans Went to Rahway.

A delegation of members from Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., went to Rahway last evening to witness the inspection of Wm. Barry Post, of that place. Past Commander W. C. Smith, of Post 73, had a part in the inspection. The veterans made the trip by trolley and reached home at a late hour.

Lodgemen Visited Elizabeth.

Large delegations from Columbia and Central Lodges, A. O. U. W., went to Elizabeth last evening to witness the initiation of twenty-four candidates by the crack team from Camden. The affair took place in the rooms of Elizabeth Lodge, considered to be the finest in the State.

CHASE FOR FURNITURE.

JAMES GUTTRIDGE WANTED TO SECURE IT FOR RENT.

Walter T. Carroll was Leaving Fanwood and He Owed His Landlord $160.

James Guttridge, of Netherwood, and Officer Kaynor, of Fanwood borough, participated in an exciting chase after a vanload of furniture to Westfield Thursday afternoon. When they reached there the furniture had been place in a freight car standing on the sidetrack of the Central Railroad, and a drill engine was preparing to depart with the car of furniture so much coveted by the pursuers.

The furniture was the property of Walter F. Carroll, who till recently conducted the roadhouse known as "The Maples," situated on the county road at Fanwood, and famous because it was under the management of Minstrel George Thatcher for some time.

Guttridge conducts a butcher business. He also owns the hotel recently occupied by Carroll, and started out with the officer to capture the vanload of furniture to obtain $160 rent money.

As soon as Guttridge reached Westfield, he and Chief Kaynor went to see Township Attorney Paul Q. Oliver, and Carroll's goods were levied upon under a distress warrant. In the meantime the drill engine was getting ready to start with its train. Word was telegraphed to the law department of the railroad company by Freight Agent Rowen, who desired to know what he could do in the matter, the goods being consigned to another party than Carroll at Atlantic City. While the situation was being considered by all concerned, a telephone message was received from Fanwood, which told Landlord Guttridge that a letter was awaiting him at home from Carroll. The attachment was taken off the carload of goods for the contents of the note settled the matter. The goods were removed to Westfield by Robert Woodruff and placed in the car before Guttridge and Officer Kaynor arrived in Westfield.

COST OF INTEMPERANCE.

Money Loss is One Billion Dollars and the Human Loss is 60,000 Lives Each Year.

An appreciative audience assembled in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church last evening and listened to an excellent address on the temperance question, delivered by Mr. Cummings, of New York. Previous to his discourse a short prayer service was held, which was led by I. W. Travell, and during which several well-rendered selections were given by a quartette.

Mr. Cummings is a very forceful speaker and his remarks were terse and to the point. His subject was "What Intemperance Has Cost Our Nation," not only financially but in various other ways. The money cost of intemperance each year amounts to the enormous sum of one billion dollars, which is twice the world's output of gold and silver for the same amount of time. But the money cost is a mere nothing to the loss of human life, 60,000 people dying each year from this great evil. In addition to this three-fourths of the nation's crime can be traced to drink. Then there is to be added the misery caused in homes, and a faint idea is gained as to what intemperance costs the nation. But although no one individual is able to close a grog shop, as it is a duly licensed place, that person can close his mouth and declare "I won't touch strong drink," and his example will be followed by others.

In conclusion Mr. Cummings beseeched his hearers to do all they could in ridding the country of the scourge, as it was not to the advantage of others only, but to themselves also.

Floral Wedding at Trinity.

The Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed church will hold a social Tuesday evening next in the lecture room of the church. A programme including music and recitations, also the wedding of "Miss Violet Flower," will be given during the evening. Miss Blanche Dilts, of Roselle, will recite. All are welcome.

Recital by Miss Luckey.

Miss Mary Adelaide Luckey, the talented reader, announces a recital to be given in the Y. M. C. A. Hall Tuesday evening, December 4th. She will be assisted by Miss Magdalena S. Perry, contralto, and Miss Helen Patterson, violinist. A number of prominent Plainfield women have consented to act as patronesses.

To Preach to Juniors.

Rev. J. W. Richardson, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, will preach tomorrow evening to the Jr. O U. A. M. Councils of this city. Every member of the order is urged to attend the service.

COL. TYLER ACCEPTS.

He Will Stand as the Democratic Candidate for Mayor of the City.

MR. GALLUP ALSO TO RUN

E. C. PERKINS THE ONLY NOMINEE WHO DECLINES

C. H. Lyman, Candidate for Council, Also Signs the Acceptance—Vacancies to be Filled This Evening.

Col. Mason W. Tyler has accepted the nomination of Mayor made at the Democratic city convention last night.

Col. Tyler was officially notified this morning of the nomination and he promised to have his reply ready at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

He was met at that hour by Albert H. Atterbury, representing the committee of notification, and stated that he had decided to accept the nomination and make the best possible fight for the office.

Col. Tyler signed the official acceptance at that time and will be filed with the City Clerk this afternoon.

Col. Tyler is one of the best-known men in Plainfield, as well as one of the most popular. He has always been prominently identified with charitable affairs in the city, and has been one of the most active members of the board of directors of the Public Library. He is a member of Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R. He is recognized as a man of exceptional business capacity and well qualified for the office for which he has been nominated.

Former Councilman Arthur T. Gallup, who was nominated for City Collector, was also notified this afternoon and has signified his intention of accepting the nomination.

Edward C. Perkins, who was nominated for member of the Board of Education, has declined. The vacancy will be filled by the committee appointed for that purpose, which will meet this evening.

For Councilman in the First ward John Lloyd has already accepted. In the Second ward Charles H. Lyman signed acceptance this afternoon. This evening the Third and Fourth ward vacancies for Councilmanic nominations will be filled.

Had to Pay Rent to Get Goods.

For non-payment of rent an attachment was made on goods owned by Mrs. Martha Suydam, of Dunellen avenue. She occupies a house owned by Wm. Craig, of the same avenue, and he learned that she was going to move to Bound Brook last Wednesday evening. Mr. Craig sought the counsel of Lawyer William G. DeMeza and the latter caused an attachment to be placed on the goods. The papers were served by Constable John Gjettlesen. The rent was paid yesterday and the goods were released.

Justice of the Peace Arrested.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Perth Amboy, Nov. 23—Justice Esberg was arrested yesterday and gave a bond of $100 before Recorder Ward for his appearance before the Grand Jury. Esberg sent Christian Asbling to jail on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences. The Justice had no right to issue a warrant on this charge in a city where there is a Recorder. Judge Strong ordered Asabling's release.

Approach to New Depot.

Work was started this morning laying a concrete walk from the new railroad station to Park avenue. The walk is to be about 8 feet wide, and at the Park avenue end there will be two steps leading to the walk. This improvement will be greatly appreciated by every one who has occasion to go that way. There will be a slight incline in the walk, but not enough to be at all objectionable.

—Important changes in time table of Pennsylvania Railroad will be made tomorrow. Corrected table appears in today's Press.

CUBA'S CONSTITUTION.

A Plan For Drafting It Passed by the Convention.

HAVANA, Nov. 24.—The question whether the future relations of Cuba and the United States are to be considered simultaneously with the drawing up of the constitution led to a spirited argument between Senor Gualberto Gomez and General Sanguily at yesterday's session of the Cuban constitutional convention. Senor Gomez said:

"The relations must depend on the constitution and not the constitution on the relations. General Wood's address at the opening of the convention outlined the course for us to take—namely, first to draw up a constitution and then to discuss the question of relations. I believe it was not the intention of the United States to have the constitution of Cuba depend on the relations, and I would refuse to act further in the convention if any other view should prevail. This is not the time to discuss the relations."

General Sanguily, who made a patriotic address, said:

"Our future relations will be an important factor in the development of Cuba, and the convention should first settle what those relations are to be. I am a patriot and ready for anything."

Senor Gomez presented the following motion, which was carried:

"When the convention has been definitely constituted, a period of 30 days shall be allowed, during which delegates may present proposals as the basis of a constitution or an entire draft of a constitution. On the eighth, sixteenth and twenty-fourth days the executive committee shall classify and print the various projects in order to give the delegates an opportunity to study them. The convention shall then divide into five committees for the purpose of considering the proposals, making additions where it may seem desirable or necessary. These committees shall each name one member to constitute a new committee of five, whose duty shall be to draw up a final project for presentation to the convention."

GERMANY A GREAT ENEMY.

Russia Warned to Be Eternally on Guard.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 24.—"Germany is Russia's greatest and strongest enemy," says the Svet, "and against her Russia must be eternally on guard."

From the beginning of the new year Russian custom houses will have laboratories for the examination of importations. It is suggested that this step is taken with a view of forcing Germany to terms in commercial negotiations.

A Berlin company has purchased naphtha property at Balachany, near Baku, for 3,500,000 rubles. Herr Klele, a German engineer, has secured a permit to organize naphtha production on the island of Saghalin, where thousands of tons of naphtha are floating to the surface of the small lakes and freezing.

The Russian government has ordered the construction of a 6,250 ton cruiser at Sevastopol. The cost will be 700,000 rubles.

A company for manufacturing automobiles has been organized in Moscow.

Private dispatches from Eupatoria, on the western coast of the Crimea, report that the commercial quarter of the town was nearly destroyed by fire on Wednesday.

Funeral of Charles Hoyt.

CHARLESTOWN, N. H., Nov. 24.—The funeral of Charles H. Hoyt, the playwright, was held in St. Luke's Episcopal church yesterday afternoon. From 9 o'clock in the morning until the hour of the services the body lay in state in the church, and a continuous line of people passed in to view the remains of their widely known and universally loved friend and fellow citizen. The body lay in a cedar casket draped with royal purple broadcloth and heavily mounted with silver, with tufted silk lining. In plain black letters on a broad silver plate was the inscription, "Charles Hale Hoyt—1860-1900." The floral offerings were almost without number, coming from all parts of the country, and were the most magnificent ever seen in this vicinity.

Order For Dr. Kennedy's Release.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Dr. Samuel J. Kennedy, charged with the murder of Dolly Reynolds, to whom a new trial has been granted by the court of appeals, may be brought to the Tombs from Sing Sing prison today. The formal order reversing the judgment and sending the case back to the supreme court was received by his counsel late yesterday. Dr. Kennedy's wife, Marian, who has never missed a visiting day at Sing Sing prison since his incarceration there, went to Sing Sing again to see him and did not return to the city until evening. She will go thither again today, and if he is brought to New York in the afternoon she will accompany him.

Krist Found Guilty.

OWEGO, N. Y., Nov. 24.—Krist was found guilty of murder in the first degree by the jury after an absence from the courtroom of three hours. They came in at 8:15 p. m., and Krist heard his doom pronounced with a smile of the utmost indifference. His two brothers were the only friends in court when the verdict was pronounced. He expresses his pleasure with the verdict and says, as he has since the afternoon of April 7 when he shot the girl, that he wished to be convicted and electrocuted. The courtroom was packed, hundreds of women being present, some of them standing for hours waiting for the verdict and not even leaving the room for lunch.

VAN WYCK CAN STAY

Governor Declines to Remove New York's Mayor.

NO PROOF OF WILLFUL VIOLATION.

Ice Trust Not Thought to Be a Corporation In Which the City's Chief Magistrate Should Have Stock, However.

ALBANY, Nov. 24.—Governor Roosevelt late last night gave out his decision in the application for the removal from office of Mayor Robert A. Van Wyck of New York city. He declines to remove the mayor on the grounds that while he was undoubtedly a stockholder in the American Ice company there has been no proof that he willfully violated the law forbidding a public officer to be a stockholder in a corporation having dealings with his municipality.

The governor's memorandum says:

"The brief presented by Mr. Hayes of counsel to The World undated, but received in this office Nov. 20, contains no additional testimony or indication where additional testimony can be obtained. The situation is therefore unchanged from what it was on Oct. 4, 1900, when the attorney general wrote his letter to me.

"There is therefore, as stated by the attorney general in his letter of Nov. 23, little to add to what was contained in his letter of Oct. 4 and in the statement issued by me on Nov. 17.

"I concur in the attorney general's opinion. My judgment is that the so called ice trust is not a corporation in which the mayor of New York should have stock. But no proof has been offered of any willful violation of law on the part of the mayor such as would justify the drastic measure of removing him from office. The power of removal from office of elective officers should be treated much as we treat the power of impeachment. It is an extraordinary and not an ordinary remedy.

"The normal remedy for bad government must be an appeal to the people, and only in wholly exceptional cases is it desirable to substitute for this appeal to the people an appeal to the power of removal or the power of impeachment. The case is therefore dismissed."

In giving out his decision the governor said:

"There has not been an hour's unnecessary delay on the part of the state authorities. Fifty-five days elapsed from June 2, when The World first filed its charges, until July 27, when its amended complaint put those charges in final form, and 42 days elapsed from Aug. 17, when these charges were served upon the mayor, until Sept. 27, when the mayor filed his answer. The delay since then has been solely due to the fact that The World at that time discharged the counsel which it formerly employed and refused to go on with the case, leaving it completely in the air for the time being.

"Although the matter of the trusts is not directly involved in this decision, I wish to point out that the existing law of the state, even provided that under it the attorney general's action against the ice corporation should be successful, is not adequate. In my last annual message to the legislature I recommended the adoption of a system which would secure reasonable publicity of such facts concerning corporations as the public has a right to know and reasonable restriction of their powers. Events have shown, especially in view of what has occurred in connection with the ice trust, that stronger action than what I recommended should be taken. Not only should such provisions concerning corporations as above mentioned be enacted into law, but there should be lodged somewhere the power to prescribe the conditions under which foreign and domestic corporations can do business in this state and to deprive them of their charters if they at any time violate these conditions."

Vermont Legislation.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Nov. 24.—In the house of representatives Mr. Northrop of Fairfield introduced a resolution authorizing the governor to procure the erection of a monument tablet marking the birthplace of former President Chester A. Arthur in Fairfield. The senate passed a bill to abolish capital punishment. The house passed a bill prohibiting the giving of free passes by the railroads to judges of the supreme court.

Secretary Root Returning.

HAVANA, Nov. 24.—Secretary Root, General Wood and Mr. Root's son left Nuevitas yesterday afternoon on the Kanawha for St. Augustine, Fla., where they are expected to arrive tomorrow. The secretary of war will go direct to Washington. The other members of the party, Mr. Alexis E. Frye and Captain Greble, in the Viking, will inspect the schools and hospitals along the north coast.

The Czar's Condition.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 24.—It is rumored here that Emperor Nicholas is threatened with pectoral complications, which, if they exist, would materially diminish his chances of recovery. Inflammation of the lungs is a common complication of typhoid fever in Russia. Thus far there is no official confirmation of the rumor.

Snow In Germany.

BERLIN, Nov. 24.—Snow has fallen in many parts of Germany. It is knee deep in Alsace, Silesia, in the Harz region and on the Bavarian Alps. There have been lighter falls in the valleys.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

Activity In Iron Continues—Woolen Market Dull.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

With reasonable promptness business is recovering both activity and tone and fortunately without the sharp rise in general prices which was seen in the spring and which was followed by a sudden and serious transition to a more natural range. With general confidence prevailing, the current change is naturally toward a better level of prices, but without excitement. Manufactured goods are raising in response to a better demand from distributing sources, helped at the end of the week by the more seasonable weather. Business is not yet what it was on the top of the wave of industrial prosperity, but the working force is fast increasing. The ordinary measures of business reflect increasing operations at all points, but the textile markets are the point of last response to the improved undertone of trade.

Recital of conditions in the iron and steel market has become a monotonous repetition. Each week there is the same record of activity so generally distributed that everything, from the raw material to the finished product, enjoys a share. There is also the same freedom from speculative accumulation in anticipation of fancy prices that has been for weeks the most encouraging feature. The market is not rampant, but shows a wholesome improvement in the consumptive demand.

Two factors militate strongly against activity and strength in wool and woolens. Mild weather has been the chief adverse influence, reducing sales far below a normal volume in this vicinity, while liquidation of embarrassed concerns threatens to throw a considerable quantity on the market at forced sales. In the light of these disquieting features it is not surprising that sales of wool at the three chief eastern markets declined to 5,354,331 pounds against 8,352,000 pounds in the week preceding and 19,870,392 pounds a year ago.

Undaunted by recent reverses speculators in cotton advanced the price about $3.50 a bale in ten days. Estimates have fallen below 10,000,000 bales because of the slow movement, and this fact, together with last month's record breaking value of exports, forms the basis of present prices.

Failures for the week were 238 in the United States against 191 last year and 29 in Canada against 22 last year.

OUR FORTIFICATIONS.

Trained Artillerists Needed to Man the Guns Now Mounted.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The annual report of the board of ordnance and fortifications just made public sums up concisely a very large amount of experimental work accomplished by the board during the past year. A general statement of what is needed in the future is contained in the following paragraph:

"The work of equipping our coast fortifications is progressing rapidly, and a large portion of the new armament is already installed. There is imperative need for an adequate force of trained artillerists to care for and man the guns now mounted. The board, therefore, deems it within its province to invite the attention of congress to the necessity for reorganization and material increase of the artillery arm of the service.

"In this connection, also, the board recommends that steps be taken at an early date to provide the coast artillery personnel with suitable ranges and other facilities for carrying out each year a system of practical drill and target practice with heavy guns under conditions approximating those of actual service."

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Tugeri pirates attacked the natives of the British possessions in Dutch New Guinea.

Turkey has rejected the request for an exequatur for a United States consul at Harpoot.

The city of Anaheim, Colo., was threatened with inundation by the rise of the Santa Ana river.

A Cleveland firm has decided to purchase interests in the iron ore range of Atikotan, Canada.

Richard Croker was interviewed at Queenstown. Beyond saying that he was not well and needed rest he would not talk.

A big deal in coal lands, which also involves control of the Little Kanawha railroad, was reported from West Virginia.

Iron ore shipments at Duluth and Two Harbors, Minn., have been interrupted by the cold snap, thousands of tons of ore being frozen.

The Bible For the Filipinos.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Missionary activity in the Philippines is indicated by a recent report received at the war department which says that Rev. J. C. Goodrich, the agent of the American Bible society in Manila, has established headquarters there and is busily engaged in distributing the Scriptures in native dialect among the various islands. A thousand copies of the gospel according to St. Matthew, translated into Tagalog, already have been distributed. Dr. Goodrich is now working on other translations of the gospels into Visayan, Cebu-Visayan, Ilocano and Pampango. The natives are said to receive reading matter of this sort very eagerly.

Another Submarine Boat.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The navy department has entered into a contract with the Holland Submarine Boat company for the construction of a boat of the type of the six heretofore contracted for to replace the Plunger, the company agreeing to take the Plunger off the hands of the government and to build in her place the best type of modern submarine boat for the sum of $170,000, refunding to the government the sum of $90,000 already paid on the Plunger and the sum of $4,365 which represents other expenses to which the government has been subjected.

Objected to Sauerkraut.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Nov. 24.—Fred Butzel has complained to the police that Mrs. Adeline Goreline, who lives in the same house, had attempted to poison him because she did not like the smell of sauerkraut, which he insisted upon eating. While going to the cellar to get some for breakfast he saw her sprinkling yellow powder over the kraut. Police Surgeon Norwood will make an analysis of the powder.

Weather Probabilities.

Increasing cloudiness, with rain; fresh northerly winds.

POWERS DON'T AGREE

Serious Differences as to Punishment of Boxers.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS WILL PROCEED

Japan, Russia, France and the United States Favor Mild Punishment. Latest Note of Minister Hay Criticised.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—"A serious divergence has arisen in Peking," says the Tien-tsin correspondent of The Daily Mail, wiring Wednesday. "Japan, the United States, Russia and France favor demanding a milder punishment than the execution of Prince Tuan and the others, while Great Britain, Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy deem anything less than the death penalty useless.

"An important decision has been arrived at, however, that this divergence is not to interfere with the general peace negotiations.

"Another remarkable feature of the situation is the sudden volte face of Russia, who now declines either to withdraw her troops from the province of Chi-li or to hand over the railway as promised."

The Times this morning comments editorially in a somewhat incredulous tone upon Secretary Hay's fresh note to the powers, saying that it cannot imagine Secretary Hay as objecting to the execution of the guilty officials after, as was understood, assenting to the French proposals. It admits, however, that, so far as outsiders can form an opinion, "the United States appear to be the leading obstacle to the working of the concert of powers in China."

With reference to Mr. Wu Ting Fang's speech in Cincinnati, promising the United States better commercial chances when peace is restored, The Times says:

"We would not advise Chinese ministers in Europe to venture upon such a line of argument, as there are countries where so gross a proposal would be resented as an injury."

The Daily News, evidently despondent as to the outcome of the negotiations in Peking, says:

"The concert must either dissolve or compromise. We hope Mr. Hay may be able to suggest a compromise which all the powers will agree to adopt firmly and in union."

The Daily Chronicle remarks:

"Even if the powers are won over to the views of the United States, we do not see how matters would be much advanced unless the Chinese court can be induced to return to Peking."

According to the Shanghai correspondent of The Morning Post there is a grain of truth in the rumor of an expedition up the Yang-tse Kiang. "Such a movement," he says, "would cause a conflagration among the Chinese, who would submit to British occupation, but dread German interference."

Special dispatches from Shanghai describe the situation at Sian-fu. General Tung Fu Hsiang's troops hold the city. The personal bodyguard of the emperor and empress dowager consists of only 250 men. General Tung enters the sacred precincts at will, salutes the imperials with scant courtesy and almost with insolence and declares his intention of emulating the notorious Wang Mang, who, during the Han dynasty, prevented the court from coming to terms with the enemy and finally murdered the emperor and usurped the throne.

According to the same dispatches the only hope for the court is in General Ma, who has 5,000 troops outside of Sian-fu and has a blood feud with General Tung Fu Hsiang, who murdered Ma's cousin.

A terrible famine exists in the province of Shensi, and the government granaries are empty.

JUSTICE TO CHINA.

The Pleas of the United States In a Note Just Issued.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The secretary of state has addressed an identical note to the powers interested in the Chinese situation setting out tersely and afresh the object of the United States government as to China and pointing out how such objects as are common to the powers can best be secured.

The note marks the initiation of fresh negotiations on our part on the arrangement of new bases to tide over the impossible situation created at the last meeting of the ministers in Peking.

Some responses already are at hand, and it is stated that generally our advances have been well received, and the state department expresses satisfaction with the progress so far achieved.

It is believed that the note is an appeal from the extreme course suggested by some of the powers as to the treatment of China, especially in the matter of punishments and indemnities to which the ministers at Peking seem inclined.

The intent is to push the negotiations on a more rational and businesslike basis.

Railway Order Rescinded.

TIEN-TSIN, Nov. 24.—The Russian military authorities announce that the order to hand over the railway has been rescinded, but no reasons are given for this step. Until Tuesday last civilians had been allowed to travel free. Since that time, however, fares have been charged, and the passage tickets issued are printed in the Russian language.

Thanksgiving For Porto Ricans.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Nov. 24.—Governor Allen's Thanksgiving proclamation fixing Nov. 29 as a general holiday was issued yesterday morning. In the course of it he reminds the Porto Ricans that during the last 12 months the island has been bountifully blessed, that the crops have improved, that industrial and financial conditions have become freer under the influence of good government, that the island has not been visited by pestilence or other calamity and that the general health of the public is now excellent.

Dangerous Flour Moth.

TORONTO, Nov. 24.—The Ontario agricultural department is warning millers and those who have stores of flour and meal to be on the lookout for a destructive insect known as the Mediterranean flour moth. The larva has the appearance of a caterpillar, and the agricultural department thought it had the pest exterminated some time ago.

OOM PAUL'S PROGRESS.

Will Proceed to Paris Today—Speech In Marseilles.

DIJON, France, Nov. 24.—Mr. Paul Kruger was welcomed here by an immense crowd. He is stopping here overnight and will then proceed toward Paris.

Though the enthusiasm attending Mr. Kruger's departure from Marseilles was not so boisterous and there was no such crowd present as awaited him on the quay when he landed from the Gelderland, he had no reason to complain of any diminution of warmth on the part of the people of Marseilles.

Mr. Kruger was up at an early hour and was ready and waiting when his landau reached the hotel to convey him to the railroad depot. Amid the cheering of a large assembly the former president of the Transvaal entered his carriage at 9 o'clock and was driven to the station. He was accompanied by Dr. Leyds and Messrs. Wessels, Eloff, Fischer, Van Hammel, Rambaud and Heymens. Just before the departure of the train Mr. Kruger appeared on the steps of the railroad carriage in response to the shouts of the crowd and said:

"Citizens of Marseilles, I thank the population of Marseilles for its warm welcome. I trust I shall find the same enthusiastic sympathy in all the cities which I am going to travel through, and I hope it will be followed by actions which will continue to assist us and result in abetting our cause."

Cork's Council Protests.

CORK, Nov. 24.—As a protest against the refusal of the lord mayor of Cork to entertain a motion to confer the freedom of the city upon Mr. Kruger, the corporation adjourned yesterday, the adjournment resolution being adopted by a large majority after an excited debate.

Holland's Queen Sends Greeting.

THE HAGUE, Nov. 24.—Queen Wilhelmina has sent a message to Mr. Kruger saying that she was happy to learn that he has completed his voyage and is in good health.

COMMISSION AT WORK.

First Legislation For Provincial Rule In the Philippines.

MANILA, Nov. 24.—The Philippine commission has enacted the first legislation establishing provincial civil government in the Philippines—namely, an act for the government of the province of Benguet. This was adopted yesterday, and it co-ordinates with the act passed Thursday for the establishment of township government in the same province. The governor, who is appointive, will receive a salary of $1,500. He will pass upon the acts of the town councils and will issue orders which will have the same effect as ordinances whenever the councils fail to enact the necessary measures.

The governor, who will also be the treasurer and auditor, will be ex officio a provincial justice of the peace and in that capacity will control the constabulary.

Electors in the province of Benguet will be required to affirm that they have had six months' residence and are at least 18 years of age. They will also be required to declare their allegiance to American authority.

Three months' imprisonment will be imposed for a refusal to accept municipal office when elected.

Ecclesiastics and soldiers are debarred from office. Delinquent taxpayers will be punished by being compelled to do labor on the roads.

Corn King Takes a Rest.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—George H. Phillips, the apparent dictator of November corn prices, rested on his oars yesterday and declared that he would do nothing more this week. In consequence of Mr. Phillips' attitude the corn pit was quiet. November corn sold on a few trades to 43 cents per bushel and closed 1 cent lower than it did Thursday, at 44½ cents. "I don't care whether prices go up or down for the present," said Mr. Phillips. "If November will work back to 40 cents it will please me. When the last day of the month comes, I shall be ready for all the corn delivered, and those who have sold it and can't deliver it will have to settle."

President Eliot Takes a Vacation.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 24.—President Eliot of Harvard college, accompanied by Mrs. Eliot and other members of his family, left Cambridge yesterday for New York, where they will leave on a steamer bound for Bermuda. The president will be absent until April. This trip is in the nature of a vacation, as President Eliot was unable to take one during the past summer owing to the immense amount of work he was called upon to do by the visit of the Cuban teachers. During his absence Dr. Walcott of the state board of health will act as president of the college.

A Servant of Jefferson Davis.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—The poverty stricken condition of Mrs. Adelia Burton, who claims to have been a confidential servant in the family of Jefferson Davis during the civil war, was brought to the attention of the police here and her wants attended to. Mrs. Burton, who was discovered in a lonely hovel on the South Side, declares that when the president of the Confederate states fled to escape capture she was intrusted with the private effects of the fugitives. She was born in slavery 87 years ago.

Against Bibles and Chaplains.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 24.—The twenty-fourth annual congress of the American Secular union and Free Thought society began here with the annual address by President John E. Remsburg of Kansas. Vice Presidents E. M. McDonald and T. B. Wakeman also spoke. The secretary reported a membership of 65,000. The society is considering propositions to abolish chaplains in congress, the army and navy and state institutions and to eliminate the Bible from public schools.

A Tornado In Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 24.—A tornado swept over Delaware and Knox counties during the night, doing considerable property damage. The path of the storm was only about a quarter of a mile wide and touched the earth only in spots. The Hartford fair grounds buildings were badly damaged. No loss of life occurred.

Key West Street Cars Tied Up.

KEY WEST, Nov. 24.—The entire street railway system of Key West is completely and indefinitely tied up by the strike. All of the cars have been run to the sheds and locked up. The cigar workers have, in meeting, officially indorsed the action of striking motormen and conductors and will give them financial aid.

FOR A NEW ARMY BILL

Chairman Hull Summons the House Military Committee.

NO MAKESHIFT LEGISLATION LIKELY.

President Thought to Desire Authority to Raise Force Sufficient For Country's Needs—Filipinos May Be Enlisted.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Chairman Hull of the house committee on military affairs has called a meeting of the committee for next Tuesday. He hopes that a quorum will be present and that the committee can go to work immediately upon the outlines of a new army bill.

"It will be in the direction of economy to pass the army bill without delay," said Mr. Hull. "The army now in the Philippines will have to be brought home in the summer—that is, those of the men who do not care to re-enlist. The transports which go out for them should depart laden with the troops who are to replace them, else the ships will make one voyage empty."

Mr. Hull was in conference yesterday with the president and with officials of the war department upon the character of legislation desired by the administration. He said the president will communicate to congress very fully his recommendations about the army, and he did not assume to speak the president's mind in advance.

He thought, however, that the administration would not be content with any makeshift legislation, no proposition to continue the present law for two years more. His impression was that the president wanted authority to raise a regular army sufficient for the needs of the country—100,000 men, if necessary—the number to be reduced when there was no longer need for them.

Mr. Hull said the Taft commission had reported that 15,000 Filipinos could be enlisted immediately in the army for the Philippines and that they would make good soldiers under American officers. There was no fear of a repetition of Great Britain's experience with the Sepoys, for the Filipinos, Mr. Hull said, have no national feeling like the natives of India. Moreover, added Mr. Hull, the experiment of enlisting native troops has proved successful, and there are no more loyal or efficient soldiers than the natives enlisted in the British army in India.

State Constabulary Unpopular.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Politicians around the Fifth Avenue hotel divide their discussions between the probability of passage and the result of Senator Platt's state constabulary bill and the selection of names of persons for the various appointments Governor Elect Odell is to make in his official household when he takes office on Jan. 1. While none of the members of the next legislative body will discuss for publication the proposed police measure, the general opinion of those about state headquarters is that, despite Senator Platt's declaration to the contrary, the active opposition to any measure which seeks to take from the cities municipal control of their police departments will become so strong before the legislature convenes that Mr. Platt and his lieutenants will be forced to heed the clamor and withdraw the bill.

Hardened Criminals Sentenced.

PATERSON, N. J., Nov. 24.—John McLaughlin, John McDonough and Ada Crane, who assaulted Mrs. Foalke, aged 82, who lives in the outskirts of this city, have been sentenced to seven years each in state prison. Ada Crane is the old woman's granddaughter. The grandmother accused her of assisting the men to break into the house and stood by laughing while the two men assaulted her. The trio were convicted of assault and breaking and entering. They got two years for the first and five years for the second. The men took their sentence stolidly, while the girl, as she was being led back to jail, swore at the judge.

Spanish War Veteran Shoots Himself

WAVERLY, N. Y., Nov. 24.—Arthur Kinney, aged 23 years, committed suicide by blowing off the side of his head with a shotgun. He was one of the gunners on the Marblehead when the Spanish cable was cut at Cardenas and was honorably discharged last May. A couple of weeks ago he started for New York to reenlist, but was nearly asphyxiated in his room in a hotel, and the report that he had attempted suicide became current, and it is thought that brooding over the accident and the fancied disgrace unsettled his mind.

Daly Appointed to West Point.

BOSTON, Nov. 24. — Congressman John P. Fitzgerald has appointed Charles Daly, captain of the Harvard football team, to the vacancy now existing at West Point from the Ninth congressional district. This appointment is found to be a very popular one, as every Harvard man in the country is interested in Captain Daly, and realizing the fact that Daly's ambition lay in this direction the news of his appointment would be very gratifying to them.

Kentucky Miners to Strike.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 24.—President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America has granted 2,000 miners of Hopkins county, Ky., permission to strike. They are thoroughly organized and will demand higher wages.

COMING EVENTS.

November 25—Rev. Thomas Houston, the blind evangelist, will speak and sing at the Y. M. C. A. rally at 4:15 p. m.

November 28—Members of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. will visit the Newark department.

November 29—The Weber Tableau Concert Company, of New York, in Y. M. C. A. Star Course.

Reports from Washington are to the effect the administration plans to reduce war taxes $30,000 000 from the amount now raised by this system of taxation. This is but a bagetelle, since the receipts from war taxes in one month now amount to over $38,000,000, and in the course of a year amounts up to the enormous sum of $157,595,424. In time of war the people are willing to stand any method of raising public revenue, but they are beginning to tire of it now.

It is estimated that the cost of maintaining the police departments of the cities in New York State which it is proposed to put under the scope of a constabulary law, amounts to $13,000,000. Your Uncle Thomas regards that as a plum worth having, but it remains to be seen whether he will be able to corral enough members of the Legislature to shove the bill through.

The indictment of the Central Railroad of New Jersey by the Grand Jury of Somerset county for maintaining a dangerous grade crossing in Somerville, without safeguarding traffic at that point by the employment of a flagman, shows that there is at least one section in New Jersey where "railroad influence" is at a discount.

According to the official returns of the November election filed with the Secretary of State it is noted that in the counties of Atlantic, Camden, Cape May and Ocean the Republican pluralities are larger than the total Democratic vote.

New Jersey ranks seventh in the list of States engaged in the manufacture of tabacco. It produced during the year just ended over 85 000,000 cigars.

Pennsylvania gained more than a million in population, 1,044 101, as well as New York, which gained 1 270,159

That pirate of a cabman in New York doubtless regards Mark Twain as anything but a joker.

President McKinley's message will be sent to Congress December 3d.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exacty News but Just as Interesting.

Mrs. W. E. Honeyman, of Lincoln place, who is State president of the Synodical mission of the Presbyterian church, that has charge of the school located near Asheville, N. C., which is conducted for the boys in the district inhabited by the Mountain Whites, has received a sweet potato from the farm at the school, which is a wonderful specimen of that vegetable. It weighs 6 pounds. There were two sweets sent to her, and this one is the smaller of the two. Mrs. Honeyman has been showing it to a number of Plainfielders who are interested in the work.

In keeping with the wish of the late Mahlon C. Martin, the millionaire rubber manufacturer, of New Brunswick, a small white tombstone is being made to mark the grave of the family cat, to which Mr. Martin and his family were much attached. The tombstone is inscribed:

PUNCH.
Loved pet of M. C. Martin and his household.
April, 1883,
September, 1900.

Punch was 17 years old. The tombstone is about two feet high and eight inches wide. It will be erected over Punch's grave in a few days.

Prof. Boechen, a young Rahway inventor, who has been quite successful, has just brought out an electrical machine which promises to be worth a fortune. Frank P. Freeman, one of Rahway's wealthiest business men, has become so interested in the invention that he will give it a practical trial during the next three months in the waters of the Gulf of Mexico and many rivers of the south. The affair is a small dynamo for electric lighting of gas or gasoline engines without the aid of batteries. The ignition takes place at once from a spark given by one revolution of the wheel. After that the engine propels the dynamo. Mr. Freeman is fitting the invention to his yacht, the Rahwack, thus dispensing with seven batteries, making a difference of several hundred dollars in the cost of running the yacht during the winter, besides lightening the load many hundred pounds.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

Brief Notes of Interest Gathered From Many Sections of New Jersey.

The rural free mail delivery service in Camden county, established a month ago, has proved a pronounced success.

The pound net fisheries along the South Jersey coast have suspended operations after one of the most successful seasons in their history.

Since the Legislature passed the law prohibiting the killing of deer for five years these animals have rapidly increased in numbers in the "deer pines" of South Jersey.

A party of Catasauqua, Pa., capitalists have rented the old machine shops and foundry building at Oxford and expect to start an industry that will be of great benefit to the town.

A slick collect on delivery package trick has been worked on some sixteen families in Northern New Jersey, among whom was A. D. Herrick, proprietor of the American House at Hackettstown. The charge on the packages was $3 in each case and the packages contained a lot of stones.

About five weeks ago Andrew Hill, of Quinton, left his home and his family were unable to locate him. Not a trace of the missing man could be found until a few days ago, when a Quinton neighbor saw him walking along the streets of Trenton. Hill said he had secured work in a foundry there, but he gave no reason for his sudden disappearance.

Henry L. Hurff, of near Cross Keys, heard a noise at his corn crib Wednesday night. Taking his gun and posting his two sons as guards, Hurff made an investigation. The door of the crib was thrown open and a man who Hurff recognized, made a dash away in the darkness, running in a zigzag course. Hurff fired at him but missed. He says revelation of the man's name would astonish the neighborhood.

Gentlemen:—Our family realize so much from the use of GRAIN-O that I feel I must say a word to induce others to use it. If people are interested in their health and the welfare of their children they will use no other beverage. I have used them all but GRAIN-O I have found superior to any, for the reason that it is solid grain.

THEY SAY.

The Merchant Says:

Telephone service is a great promoter of business. It not only is an open door for new business, but increases the facility with which any business may be transacted.

The Railroad Man Says:

It keeps our many departments running in continuous harmony. It increases both our passenger and our freight service, and is a great convenience to our patrons.

The Broker Says:

It keeps me in touch with the market wherever I am; I buy and sell by wire, and by taking telephonic advantage of a turn in the market I have made thousands of dollars.

The Doctor Says:

Telephone service has increased my income to nearly double. Many persons will seek advice by telephone who would hesitate to ask a physician to make a call.

The Caterer Says:

Telephone service enables me to serve my patrons more speedily and with less effort. It minimizes possibility of loss from overstocking.

The Housekeeper Says:

Life without telephone service would be unbearable. It smooths all the rough places. How we ever got along without it, I do not know.

The Suburban Resident Says:

The knowledge that I can call up my house out of town from my office in the city, is a great comfort.

The College Man Says:

"I say, old chap, it's great. You can call up and get the latest news from the football game or the boat race, and every other old thing a fellow wants to know."

Everybody Says:

It is the greatest thing in the world—the greatest convenience of this or any other time. The greatest factor in business, social or domestic life; a service no one can afford to be without.

The Telephone Company Says:

We want your patronage on the basis of LOW RATES, PERFECT SERVICE.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, November 24.—Miss Florence Long was given a pleasant surprise party Thursday afternoon by about twenty-five of her little friends. It was some time before Florence recovered from her astonishment, but on regaining her composure she joined in the fun. Games were played until 7 o'clock, when refreshments were served and the little ones left for home.

A large number attended the dime sociable given at the residence of Mrs. Frank Wynkoop last evening and a most excellent time was had by all. During the evening an informa programme of vocal and instrumental selections was given which were greatly enjoyed. The affair was a financial as well as social success and the treasury of the Ladies' Aid Society, of the Presbyterian church, under whose auspices it was given, will be benefitted considerably.

H. O. Gaskill is compelled to walk about with the aid of crutches as the result of a sprained ankle received in a fall yesterday. In company with William Farrier, of New Market, he was crossing a plank in the latter's store, when it broke, precipitating them to the ground. Mr. Farrier received a number of bruises about the head.

Fred Wilcox is mourning the loss of $35 which dropped from his pocket some time Thursday afternoon. The money must be on the railroad somewhere between the borough and Plainfield as it was lost while Mr. Wilcox was at work on his engine.

The members of W. G. Holton Council will attend a Thanksgiving service in the Methodist church tomorrow evening. Members are requested to meet at the council room at 7 o'clock.

There is no improvement in the condition of Maxson Dunham, who has been seriously ill for some time past, and fears are entertained for his recovery.

There will be no meeting of the Literary Society this evening. The next meeting will be held with Miss Ella Dunham on December 8th.

Mrs. Howard Giles and daughter Hattie have gone to South Amboy for a few days visit with relatives.

Miss Margaret Cannon, of Glen Gardner, is spending a few days with Mrs. Edward Ayers.

A new time table with important changes will go into effect on the Central tomorrow.

Miss Pauline Kratzel has gone to Cranford for a few days' visit with relatives.

Mrs. J. B. Eick and daughter Stella are spending today with Annandale relatives.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, November 25.—Arrangements have been made for the holding of divine service in the First Baptist church tomorrow evening, at which delegations will be present from Frendship and Lakeside Councils. Invitations have been extended to Rockview and W. G. Holton Councils to attend the Thanksgiving service. Rev. Frank Fletcher and L. E. Livermore will make addresses.

Superintendent H. C. Cathers has gone to his home in Lahaska, Pa., for several days' visit with relatives. Harry Pittenger, of the Grammar School, will spend part of next week at his home in Stockton.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Burton, of Philadelphia, who have been visiting M. W. Casterline, have gone to Newark, but will return to New Market Thanksgiving Day.

The Lehigh Valley has issued a new time table which will go into effect tomorrow.

Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Nelson are entertaining friends from Stanhope and Netcong.

Miss Annie Jenner returned Thursday from a visit with New York relatives.

Mrs. J. C. Orbin is considerably improved from her recent severe illness.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, November 24.—Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., met in its rooms last evening. Arrangement were completed for the council to attend divine worship tomorrow evening at the Park Avenue Baptist church, Plainfield. The council will go as the guest of Franklin Council.

The Epworth League entertainment in Excelsior Hall last evening was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed by all. Miss Lucky and her introduction to a Scotch Plains audience of Joshua Dows Family Album was all that could be desired. At the close refreshments were enjoyed and a short time was spent in a social way. The proceeds were for the benefit of the carpet fund of the church.

Rev. G. M. Shott will preach a Thanksgiving sermon tomorrow morning. In the evening Mr. Shott will begin a series of sermons upon the story of the elder brother in the Bible story of the prodigal son. "The Son Erring" will be the first subject.

George Dorn, who has been a resident of this town for a number of years, has been admitted to the Soldiers' Home in Newark. Mr. Dorn was a veteran of the Civil War.

Henry Keuhn, Jr., who underwent an operation for appendicitis at Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, Wednesday, is doing as nicely as can be expected.

The contract case of Duyckinck against Pack will be heard in Judge Clark's court this afternoon.

Frank R. Allen is detained at home again suffering from a severe attack of chills.

Mrs. Charles Joerg is very ill at her home on Stansbery avenue.

WESTFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Westfield, Nov. 24—Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Mary E. Lynde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Lynde, of Mountain avenue, to John C. Morrow, to take place at the home of the bride's parents Tuesday evening, December 4th. The contracting parties are both well known in this vicinity and a large and fashionable wedding is expected.

The board of governors of the Westfield Club have elected the following gentlemen to membership in the club: C. H. Bunker, Fred E. Hegeman, W. E. McClymont, Randolph Perkins, J. W. Barr, H. R. Forster, W. C. Welles and H. E. Warncke, of Westfield, and J. W. Craig and Fred F. Eps, of Plainfield.

The Westfield Club bowling team, which is entered in the Press Bowling League, has elected Chauncey D. Smith, captain, and Walter S. Smith, manager. The team is practicing nightly and high scores are frequent. The team expects to make a good showing the coming season.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, November 25.—Mr. Molineux, the foreman of the coal storage, is keeping all of his men at work despite the fact that they are handling no coal. The fires have been out for the last ten days. They are giving the plant a thorough overhauling.

School closed yesterday and will not resume again until Monday after Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Theresa Nelson, of Washingtonville, was in town yesterday calling on friends.

Miss Higgins was able to teach school yesterday after two days' illness.

Little Robbie Thuma was quite sick the latter part of the week.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Haynes, of North avenue, have returned from a visit at Annandale.

Mr. Lacey, of Jersey City, is temporarily in charge of the Union News stand at the North Avenue station.

Miss Florence Shepherd, of Elizabeth, is spending a few days with her cousin, Mrs. V. L. Frazee, of West End Park.

William Pearson, of West Second street, has returned home after a two months' stay at Niagara Falls and Toronto, Canada.

Mrs. Wm. Kissam, who was visiting her sister, Mrs. Henry Walker, in Baltimore, Md., has just returned to her home in Irvington, N. J.

William Pearson, of Vine street, who has been engaged in electrical work at Niagara Falls during the past six weeks, returned home last evening. During his absence he enjoyed several sleigh rides.

Miss Maida Hyde, of this city, acted as bridemaid at the marriage of her cousin, Miss Ellen Augusta Newhall, to Larkin Bennett, which took place at the bride's home in Lynn, Mass., Thursday evening.

Quite Impossible.

It has been remarked that the surprises in all lines of inventive industry have prepared us for the conclusion that nothing is impossible to American genius, and yet it may be safely maintained that one branch of that genius has made it impossible to get more handsome and more serviceable novelties in gold and silverware at lower prices than are offered you in the extensive stock of new holiday goods at Colliers, No. 103 Park avenue.

—The landlord and tenant case of Craig against Suydam, which was to have been tried by Justice Mosher, has been settled out of court.

COMING AT MUSIC HALL

SOME FAMOUS ATTRACTIONS BOOKED BY MANAGER EDWARDS.

Variety Enough to Please Admirers of All Kinds of Drama—Little Being This Week.

For unexplained reasons, the entertainment announced at Music Hall for the benefit of Clarence Roberts on Monday last, did not take place. Manager Maze Edwards wishes it distinctly understood that he is in no way responsible for the failure of same, he merely agreeing to rent the house for the occasion and holders of tickets must look to Mr. Roberts for redemption or settlement, as nothing was sold at the box office.

"King of the Opium Ring" was greeted by a splendid house last night and the play with its many startling surprises, exciting climaxes, scenic effects, specialties, etc., made a decided hit.

Leon W. Washburn's Great Southern Minstrels will be in evidence Monday night, and all who delight in music, mirth and melody should avail themselves of the opportunity to witness a first-class up-to-date minstrel show. Without detriment to the abilities of other managers, it is a conceded fact that Mr Washburn is one of the most successful managers of minstrel talent in the country. Long years of experience has made him fully acquainted with the wants of the amusement-seeking public and the present organization is the result of his latest efforts.

The funny New England comedy, "Uncle Josh Spruceby," will be the big event for Thanksgiving Day afternoon and night. This charming comedy-drama is a series of pictures of New England farm life, and the troubles of "Uncle Josh" in making a visit to New York are incidentally touched upon. The characters are all taken from Vermont rural life and are true to nature, the play containing a mixture of pathos and humor. Special scenery is used to mount the different scenes, and the great saw mill scene in use in this production is the most realistic piece of stage mechanism presented. Thirty-five people are in the company.

The attraction announced for Saturday of the coming week—the New York Opera Association—have changed their date to a later period.

"Lost in Egypt," a spectacular musical melodrama, will be seen for the first time here Tuesday, Dec. 4th. A sumptuous production of Dumas' famous story of the "Three Guardsmen," a play which has ever been popular with standard theatre patrons and which was revived and acted in New York last season by those eminent artists, James O'Neil and E. H. Sothern, will be the attraction Thursday, Dec. 6th, with Harry Glazier, a gifted young dramatic actor, whose work in the west has met with unbounded praise by the western press.

"Who is Who," a laughable musical farce comedy, in which Charles A. Loder, the celebrated German character performer, and John McMahon, another splendid comedian, appear in principal roles, will be seen Saturday, December 8th.

Archie Boyd and the original company that made "The Village Postmaster" such a great success, together with the same scenery and accessories used at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, New York, will be seen Thursday, December 13th, in this now famous play, and Saturday, Dec. 15th, Manager Edwards announces "The Christian" for the first time in this city.

FOR ENDEAVORERS.

Interesting Side of the Work Being Carried on by Young Christians.

(Conducted by Press Department Union County C. E. Union.)

The press department of the Union County Christian Endeavor Union has sent circular letters to all the societies of the county in regard to the work of the department. Through the courtesy of the publishers, space for Christian Endeavor news has been secured in five prominent papers of the county, viz: Cranford Chronicle, Plainfield Press, Westfield Leader, Summit Herald and Elizabeth Daily Journal. In the last named paper the county department is conducted in connection with the column commenced four years ago this month under the auspices of the Elizabeth C. E Union.

The Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor Union has held this week the most successful of the many State gathering of 1900 and possibly the most wonderful of the many State conventions of Christian Endeavorers for twenty years. The convention opened on Tuesday and closed on Thursday night. Every hour of every day was filled with interesting conferences, helpful addresses, glowing reports, inspiriting singing, quiet meditation, practical evangelistic effort or delightful sight-seeing; and the 15,000 or more participants enjoyed every minute and stirred the old Quaker city with their enthusiasm and earnestness of purpose.

William R. Moody, who is so successfully continuing his father's work at Northfield, has succeeded in securing Rev. G. Campbell Morgan and Rev. F. B. Meyer, both of London, for a six months' evangelistic tour in this country. Both men are well-known through their addresses at the summer conferences in Northfield each year, and as they are staunch Christian Endeavor workers, this announcement of further work in this country will be hailed with delight by Christian young people who have had the pleasure of hearing either Mr. Young or Mr. Morgan, as well as by those who know them through their helpful writings.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

William M. Sandford and wife, of East Front street, have returned from a western pleasure trip.

Mrs. William H. Williams, of Madison avenue, who has been visiting in New York State, has returned.

Collector and Mrs. F. H. Smith, of Madison avenue, have been entertaining company from Westerly, R. I.

Theodore Roeder, the efficient Union News agent at the North Avenue station, was given a day off yesterday.

Mrs. Reed, of Clinton, Hunterdon county, has been the guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. Caspar Bolsterli, of Watchung.

Jeremiah Brown, of Washington avenue, who came from the west to Plainfield some time ago on account of ill health, is greatly improved. The climate in this part of the country agrees with him perfectly.

Bed Bugs and Cock Roaches.

For destruction and complete riddance of Cock Roaches, Beetles, Wood and Water Bugs, Bed Bugs, Ants, Rats, Mice, etc., "Rough on Rats," though poisonous, if used with care is most effective. In fact it is the only thing that will permanently annihilate Bed Bugs and Cock Roaches. As an exterminator of Rats and Mice, "Rough on Rats" is the old reliable that never fails nor disappoints. They "don't die in the house." Is sold all around the world. Is used by all civilized nations of the earth. Is the most extensively advertised, the best know and has the largest sale of any article of its kind on the face of the globe. It gives satisfaction every time. Beware of imitations. I employ no peddlers. Have a suspicion of any dealer offering substitutes said to be as good. 15c. and 25c.

—If your are looking for pure wholesome candy, you can find it at Fowler's confectionery store on East Front street.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Provinz Ostpreussen.

Barten. Der Keuchhusten tritt in der hiesigen Gegend epidemisch auf. Auf dem Vorwerke Sansgarben erlagen allein drei Kinder der Seuche.

Gumbinnen. Sein 50jähriges Meisterjubiläum beging der Ehren-Obermeister der hiesigen Schmiedeinnung, L. Peter. Die Schmiedeinnung überbrachte dem Jubilar ein werthvolles Geschenk.

Insterburg. Erschossen hat sich der Oberlieutenant Jäger vom Feldartillerie-Regiment Nr. 37. Das Motiv der That ist unbekannt.

Provinz Westpreussen.

Danzig. Ein im Danziger Werder wohnhafter Fleischermeister lehrte Nachts im Gasthause zu Wossitz ein und band sein Pferd an dem Holm vor dem Hause an. Als er wieder heraustrat, waren Pferd und Wagen verschwunden. Er schickte nun seine beiden Gesellen aus, um die Spur des Gefährtes zu erforschen. Als diese das Feld betraten, wurden sie von mehreren Wegelagerern überfallen und hierbei der Geselle Johann Lietz getödtet, der zweite Geselle durch Messerstiche schwer verletzt. Als vermuthlicher Haupttattentäter ist ein Arbeiter Palikowski verhaftet worden.

Graudenz. Der 18jährige Sohn des Gutsbesitzers Schweizer aus Klein-Schönbrück glitt, im Begriff zur Jagd zu gehen, aus; das Gewehr entlud sich, und die Ladung drang dem jungen Manne in die Brust. Letzterer war bald darauf eine Leiche.

Rheinprovinz.

Aachen. Durch schlechte Geschäftsverwaltung des Rendanten der Peterspfarre, des verstorbenen Nadelfabrikanten Bock, wurde das Kirchenvermögen um etwa 90,000 Mark geschädigt. Ueber die Firma wurde der Konkurs eröffnet.

Odenkirchen. Um den Bau von Arbeiterwohnungen zu erleichtern, beschlossen die Stadtverordneten, daß die Stadt, neben der schon gewährten Bürgschaft von 100,000 Mark, noch eine weitere Bürgschaft von 150,000 Mark für die Odenkirchener Aktien-Baugesellschaft übernimmt. Die Gesellschaft kann in Folge dessen weiteres Baukapital zu billigem Zinsfuß von der Provinz aufnehmen.

Zell. In dem Winzerdorfe Kaimt brach, während die meisten Einwohner zur Weinlese waren, plötzlich Feuer aus. Da den Flammen nicht sofort Einhalt geboten werden konnte, fielen ihnen in kurzer Zeit sechs Wohngebäude mit den dazu gehörigen Wirthschaftsgebäuden zum Opfer.

Provinz Sachsen.

Hohenmölsen. Auf Grube „Irene" bei Keutschen wurden der Heuer August Wilsdorf aus Hohenmölsen und der Wagenschieber Arnold aus Zeitzsch von hereinbrechenden Erd- und Sandmassen getödtet.

Kösen. Der vor einigen Jahren hier verstorbenen Frau Rentiere Berbig, die 50,000 Mark für allgemeine Wohlfahrtseinrichtungen hinterlassen hatte, soll auf Kosten der Stadt ein Denkmal errichtet werden.

Naumburg. Die heurige Weinlese im unteren Saal- und Unstrutthale ist um 40 bis 50 Prozent hinter einer Durchschnittsernte zurückgeblieben. Der an sich schon geringe Traubenansatz war strichweise noch durch Pilzkrankheiten geschädigt worden. Vorzüglich ist der Most, der 80 bis 91 Grad wiegt. Der diesmalige Jahrgang ist der beste seit 1893.

Provinz Schlesien.

Beuthen. Nach amtlicher Mittheilung sind im Kreise Beuthen von Mitte Januar bis Ende Oktober d. J. 919 Personen am Typhus erkrankt. Just 83 Personen erlagen der Seuche.

Friedeberg. Dahier hat sich der Pastor Primarius Voigt erschossen.

Lampersdorf. Die Kinder des Bahnwärters Kubik stellten beim Spielen den Kinderwagen, in dem ihr jüngstes, erst wenige Wochen altes Brüderchen schlief, in einen Schuppen. Kurz darauf ging der Schuppen in Flammen auf; als man sich des Kindes erinnerte, war dasselbe schon verbrannt.

Schwientochlowitz. Wegen Körperverletzung im Amt wurde der Polizeisergeant Anton Jany zu einem Jahr Gefängniß verurtheilt und ihm die Fähigkeit zur Bekleidung öffentlicher Aemter auf die Dauer von fünf Jahren abgesprochen.

Provinz Schleswig-Holstein.

Altona. Im Hause der Eheleute Schmilowsky brach Feuer aus, wobei die beiden Kinder des Ehepaares, Knaben im Alter von zwei und vier Jahren, verbrannten.

Kiel. Das Marinegericht verurtheilte den Matrosenartilleristen Hohl, der in der Trunkenheit seinen Vorgesetzten, den Signalmaaten Reitz, durch einen Faustschlag niedergeworfen und die Wache mit gezücktem Messer bedroht hatte, in öffentlicher Sitzung zu sechs Jahren Gefängniß.

A gentleman residing at Oregon, Wisconsin, recently said: "For a long time I was troubled with dyspepsia. Having considerable hard work to do, if I followed the cravings of my appetite it was sure to result in those terrible distressing pains of the stomach. When in the most agony I would endeavor to obtain partial relief by some 'grandmother' treatment, which, if of any benefit, was to strengthen the imagination that the distress was a trifle less. At times I suffered intensely. It was while visiting my sister Cora that I was recommended to try

NOVELTIES IN NECKWEAR.

Some of the Dainty Ruches and Ruffles That Are Now in Vogue.

Tulle bows appear under many chins, and ruffles are having wide patronage. Some novelties have been brought out in the form of ruffles in white and color, the upper ruche colored, the lower white. Far more fashionable than the black and white are the white ruffles trimmed with the color of the toilet. They are more becoming than the dead white, but not so much so as the soft black silk and chiffon ones which bear the name of Pierrot and are an exact duplicate of the ruffs worn by the heroes of that name. Such ruffs are quite charming on a tall, long-necked woman, but, unhappily, not on those having a short neck, for they are simply smothered in them, says the Washington Star.

A dainty little novelty to a lace neckband which hails from the French capital is a black cravat tied in a knot and edged with gold fringe or passed through a gold slide. Such lace looks very pretty on foulards and other thin fabrics, pointed in the front instead of straight, as in a yoke, and very often accompanying a fichu folded round the shoulder line.

The abbe stock is made of wired lace set with a couple of shaped bands of lace, like those ecclesiastics sometimes wear. Indeed, the whole thing is fashioned on the form of a priest's collar. During the hot weather many dresses have been made with no collar bands at all, the bands being replaced by a scarf placed twice around the throat. Some women use the very soft tulle and tie the bow under one ear, but this is a style that requires to be well worn. The more close fitting the collar band the more fashionable. We are veering away from the high mantle collars.

WEDDING GOWNS.

Conventionality Desired Rather Than Originality.

Wedding gowns of the best taste are of the conventional cast—any seeking of the odd or striking is there out of place; also, the use of heavy brocades, velvets, broches or other overpoweringly rich tissue is not desirable. Plain satin, pure white, blue white or cream white, according to the complexion of the bride, is most approved and is made in a style as simple and dignified as possible. Crepe de chine is also a suitable material for a wedding gown and is softer in effect than satin. Mousseline de soie is the usual decoration, unless there is a supply of old lace to fall back upon. If lace is employed at all, it should be of the richest and may be arranged as best suits its width, pattern and form. Orange flowers, of course, compose the floral decorations, alone or mingled with white roses and myrtle. The princess style of gown is preferred, and one of the latest developments of this is a sort of long redingote, forming a train and opening in front over a skirt covered with ruffles of mousseline de soie.

The cut shows a gown suitable for the bride's mother. It is a redingote of black velvet, with collar and stole revers of ecru guipure, which is carried up again toward the back, where it disappears under the box plait of the train. The sides of the back are mounted in plaits under the guipure. The front of the skirt is of plaited maize crepe de chine, and the chemisette of the same material is decorated with black velvet ribbon and enameled buttons. The belt is of black velvet. The velvet pagoda sleeves show full undersleeves of crepe de chine, gathered into a band at the wrist. The hat of black velvet is trimmed with black ostrich plumes and an enameled buckle. JUDIC CHOLLET.

FOR OUT OF DOORS.

Bicycle Costumes In France and Here—Winter Jackets.

In Paris greater frivolity is allowed in the costume of a bicyclist than is considered in the best taste here. Elaborate shirt waists, fanciful boleros and fluffy cravats are worn, and hats almost like those which accompany ordinary gowns. Americans prefer something of the tailor made order, trim, reserved and of a subdued tone. The sailor hat or alpine in some one of its many variations is still best liked, and with reason. Violent exercise of any sort does not comport well with furbelows, and suitability is one of the most desirable characteristics of dress of any sort.

Winter jackets have a basque long enough to cover the hips. They are chiefly straight in front, but fitted at the back, and the sleeves are sufficiently wide, although not full. Louis Quinze jackets, with longer basques sewed on, are seen among some of the new models, but they are not frequent.

The street costume illustrated is of navy blue cloth. The narrow breadths of the skirt are cut in oblique points and outlined with a narrow band of astrakhan. Beneath the points is a plaited flounce, and the back of the skirt forms a watteau plait. The coat bodice is fitted at the back and straight in front, the edges being finished with a narrow band of astrakhan. Straps of black velvet and black velvet tabs applied on white satin form the additional decorations. The tight sleeves have astrakhan cuffs, finished with black velvet and white satin. The hat of navy blue felt is trimmed with ribbons of black velvet. JUDIC CHOLLET.

BOB BURDETTE Takes a Trip Abroad

He Crosses the Border Into Germany and Encounters the Emperor's Customs Officers

Copyright, 1900, by Robert J. Burdette.

OVER the border into the German custom house at Hebersthal. You have but to open your eyes to know that you are in another country, and your ears tell you what land it is. They are big fellows, these German officials and soldiers. And they didn't find their uniforms growing on the bushes. They are made to order, and the men in them fill them out without a wrinkle. Next always to "Tommy Atkins," who outclasses the earth in that respect, the German soldier is the greatest military dandy we have seen. And as his blue uniforms are quieter than Tommy's, he reminds us more of our own soldiers. The British soldier is the greatest dude we have seen in uniform; the French, oddly enough, is the soluchiest—his uniform fits him about as the hide fits the rhinoceros; the German is the biggest man physically, and impresses you with a sense of authority, and the American soldier most of all looks—and is—the gentleman. An American infantry sargeant—a "regular"—carries himself with the port and dignity of a continental colonel. Republican soldier that he is, the American regular is just a trifle more aristocratic than are his comrades in arms in Europe. He does not readily affiliate with civilians. Even the chaplains frequently find it a difficult thing to get intimately acquainted with the rank and file of the regiment, because he comes into the service a civilian himself. The regular's traditions, his literature, his talk, his associates, are all of the army, and he seems to care very little for the life outside of it. You look at the soldier abroad, and with the exception of the English you have the impression that that fellow is soldiering because he has to, and as soon as he can get back to his shop or farm he is going, without a regret or a minute's hesitation. But the United States soldier always appears to be born for the army, and you feel that it is a pity he should ever be anywhere save in the service that he honors and elevates by his soldierly bearing and character.

Quietness and Power.

These German officials! There is no hysteria about these fellows. The custom house was as decorous as a church—far more worshipful than a cathedral. The spirit of the kaiser lives in every uniformed man. The passengers tumbled over each other into the custom house, as is the fashion of travelers under such circumstances, like a flock of stampeded, frantic sheep, nervous, hurried, apprehensive, mentally formulating lies about their luggage and getting them jumbled and confused; everybody jabbering two or three languages at once, except the Americans, who have but one. A tall, full-bearded man sweeps an imperious arm over all the crowd with a circular gesture, saying: "Open!" That was all. If the emperor himself had said it it had not been more effective. Silence fell on the custom house. Everything was wide open as Chicago on Sunday. The inspectors moved about quietly. Some people with tobacco and whisky—what under the skies a man wants to carry a flask in a country where it rains wine and beer 24 hours a day is a mystery—but some of them do it wrapped up in their wearing apparel—get pinched. The luggage was marked, our porters gathered it up and had it back in the compartments before we could get out of the station, and that was all. Half the bugbear of customs examinations is the anticipation of it. As we are four people, on a year's cruise, we naturally carry more luggage than the "tripper" who is flying over Europe for 60 days with a tooth brush and a nightshirt.

And yet we have had no trouble and no detention anywhere—England, France, Belgium, Germany and Switzerland—with our half-dozen packages. I am no more of a free trader than when I left home. But while the examinations are easy, they are merely formal. In every custom house we have passed through I have seen people held up for contraband goods. In Paris one man was fined for carrying matches. We have an iniquitous match trust at home, which makes matches that ignite by friction. In France a paternal government has a monopoly of the manufacture and benevolently makes matches for its own children, and thus keeps them out of the clutches of the trust. The French match is made by splitting a block of wood into splinters somewhat finer than a cheap toothpick. The ends of these slivers are painted blue, in water color. On every sixteenth sliver some inflammable mixture is added to the paint. That match ignites. If it doesn't break. Which it usually does. The people cast away the matches which do not light. They are then collected by the government and repainted. This is not a trust. It is government control of the match business.

Heap Impediments.

In Germany and Switzerland our ticket read, in very prominent type: "Kein frei Gepack." This is a noise these heathen make when they mean that no luggage will be carried free in the luggage van. This leads travelers into all manner of devices for carrying truck loads of stuff in hand baggage. When we left America we had among other things four dress suit cases. They were so neat and flat that one could use them for writing desks. But we have gone in for unlimited and legitimate expansion, and persuaded those cases to carry more and more beyond their gauge, until they are perfectly cylidrical, and every inspector who looks at them thinks each one contains a keg of beer. It looks it. But when the lock is released and the case explodes, the ghost of Mr. Dingley himself couldn't find anything dutiable in them.

Eh? No, I didn't say that; I said that Mr. Dingley's ghost couldn't find it That's very different. I don't deny the existence of the north pole; in fact, we all admit that it is there, and we know right where it is. But it is another thing to find it, son. No, indeedy. Nobody has ever found anything contraband in our law-abiding and innocent luggage. But if it be true that five attacks of heart failure in three months is invariably fatal, my remains have been overdue at the morgue twice since last July.

A Storehouse with a Rod.

The necessity for transforming all luggage into hand baggage has led to the invention of a thing which a London porter called a "'old-hall." It is sometimes called a wrap-all. And the boys have irreverently christened ours, which is the mastodon of the road, as "behemoth," the "grab-all," the "biggest thing on earth that doesn't breathe." But while it may not breathe itself, it demands a great deal of breath in the people who are at times doomed to carry it. Although a German porter can carry anything that he can get under. He'd carry Cleopatra's needle if somebody would lift it on his shoulders—and an English porter would pick up the German and his load and carry them both upstairs in that beautiful mother country of ours where elevators are rarer than earthquakes. And then—well, I won't attempt to say what he could do with both of them, but in the old days, when the Mississippi passenger packets burned wood—and burned it by the acre—I have seen an antebellum darky carry a cord of wood on his back up a gangplank at a grade of 45 degrees, singing all the time he wasn't laughing, or yelling to somebody to "git out of his way an' let him hurry!" No, I don't take off a single stick. I didn't come abroad to see modern Atlases.

"A TALL MAN SWEEPS AN IMPERIOUS ARM OVER ALL THE CROWD."

Easy Lines.

But this wrap—all of ours. We decided that it would not be only foolish but absolutely wicked to pay for every ounce of baggage we carried through Europe, when at home we—I mean I—had been accustomed to howling all the way from Chicago to Pasadena because an unrighteous corporation of soulless mammon made me pay $1.15 excess on 745 pounds of personal baggage. And yet people used to tell me how much more cheaply you could live in Europe than in the United States. Yes, you can—not. Live the same way, with the same comforts and the same convenience—if you could get them, which you can't—and travel in the same class of cars that you use at home—which you couldn't do, because they don't make them, and it would cost you three times as much to live here as it does in the United States. Oh, you can live cheaply here; cheap as dirt, and get considerable of it in your board. But you could live just as cheaply at home. But you wouldn't. Anyhow, when I get back home, if ever I hear a man—especially a man who has traveled in Europe, and particularly a foreigner who has never traveled anywhere else—wailing because he has to pay excess on everything over 150 pounds of baggage, I pledge myself now to help the baggageman hold him under the trucks while the engineer backs the baggage car over him a few times. The other day at Munich we saw a nobleman's private car—I don't know just what his rank was—some princeling or other. Every winter New York and Chicago merchants by the score come out to Pasadena in private cars that would use this thing for a smoking-room. There is only one country in the world that has "magnificent" railway service. And when you start for Europe, my son, you are going right away from it.

The Spirit of Expansion.

About our wrap-all? Oh, I was just saying what a convenient thing it was when you wished to carry nothing but "hand luggage." Hand luggage, I said. Just as you call a litter that calls for the united strength and four arms of two men to carry a "hand barrow." Yes, indeedy. Madame My Lady, who, I think, is really the inventor of the wrap-all, said it would carry the few things we required, very nicely. Whereupon we emptied a steamer trunk into it and rolled it up. You see, the thing is a great waste of canvas or tarpaulin, or something of that sort, with cavernous pockets in it, and it will hold all that it can go around, and properly manipulated it will go around the British empire. And as some people have discovered, that's a mighty hard thing to get around. The only trouble with the wrap-all is its expansion tendencies. Like Eugene Field's little peach in the garden—"it grew." As we bought things, and as the boys grew weary of carrying their own luggage, the congestion of other hand baggage was relieved by diverting the traffic to the uncomplaining wrap-all, which opened its all-embracing folds for everything in sight, like a flat anaconda. We used to spread it on the floor, pile everything in the room into it, roll it up like a sheet of tin, tug at the straps until they met, belay everything and send for the porter, who used it to balance all the rest of the luggage of all other departing guests. This all went very well until in our journeying we came to a town where we had another steamer trunk stored. Then said My Lady:

"Don't you think it is rather extravagant to leave this trunk here on storage when we might just as well take it with us?"

She did not say that she thought it was "extravagant;" she asked me if "I" did not think so. And Monsieur Adam, thinking no evil, fell into the trap just as easily as his grandfather did. He said: "Yes," but he added:

"We can't take it with us without paying heavily."

And Mme. Eve replied: "Why not?"

I looked at her wide-open, innocent eyes and quailed before their guilelessness. I never fight well on the defensive; no man ever does. He must either assault or run away. I knew to what that seeming innocent question tended, and I did what any other man would have done—any man, that is, not recklessly reckless to rashness. I meekly took my cue. I looked at the wrap-all, whose embonpointerie occupied the largest corner of the room, and said, with timid suggestiveness:

"We might—?"

And ended with a rising inflection and all the interrogation points I could suggest.

Mme. Eve sighed, faintly and sweetly, as a woman who can no longer contend against the pig-headed obstinacy of a self-willed man, and said, submissively:

"Very well, then; since you insist upon it, I will see what I can do."

And we straightaway emptied the trunk into the wrap-all. That morning, in cinching the sinuous folds of the monster about its prey, the biggest pocket in it exploded with a hissing crash. For a moment despair settled down upon the little community. But we rallied, for the pocket had split fairly down the middle, and we simply spread the liberated flaps apart, and the wrap-all was bigger than ever. I think we have another trunk in Nuremberg, and when we get there, why, then! You may safely come to Europe for a five years' sojourn, carrying no other luggage than a single wrap-all. But you had better see the plans and specifications of mine before you let the contract for your own to the sailmaker. The best ones are built only at the United States navy yards.

No Luggage and No Language.

My lady's universal volapuk still carries us triumphantly through all linguistic waters without losing a spar. While we were in Mayence she stopped a policeman on the street one day when we had lost our bearings—which we never had in the first place—and said to him, with a radiant smile which he couldn't help understanding:

"Oh, if you please, do you speak English?"

The officer looked at her in hopeless stupidity. "Nein," he said; "nein!"

"Oh!" she replied, her voice tender with sympathy, much as though the man had said that he could not see, taste or hear. "Oh! Then will you kindly direct me to Gutenberg's house?"

"Oh, ja, ja, ja!" said Public Order, and led us there. What's the use of wasting time learning foreign languages? It is really pleasant here in this German land to hear somebody speak the German language occasionally. So far as our experience has gone English is spoken in Germany about as commonly as it is in Pennsylvania. And much better than it is in the Hun and Polish settlements up Hazleton and Nanticoke way, where it isn't spoken at all.

ROBERT J. BURDETTE.

"WE USED TO SPREAD IT ON THE FLOOR AND PILE EVERYTHING ON IT."

SACK OF MAGDEBURG.

No Such Victory Has Been Recorded Since the Taking of Troy and Jerusalem.

While Gustavus was hindered from coming to its relief, Magdeburg was invested by the forces of Tilly, with those of Count Pappenheim, who served under him. Having ordered the elector of Saxony to comply with the edict of restriction and to order Magdeburg to surrender, and having received a firm refusal, Tilly proceeded March 30, 1631, to conduct the siege personally with great vigor, and finally, after a long, heroic defense, his men carried it by storm May 20. Falkenburg was one of the first to fall. Then began the storied horrors of Magdeburg, the slaughter of the soldiers, the citizens, the children, the outrages and murder of the women, many of whom killed themselves to escape the demons let loose by Tilly, says New Lippincott.

Many Germans felt pity for the wretched women delivered into their hands, but the Walloons of Pappenheim's army were monsters of brutal fury. The scenes of crime in Magdeburg were unsurpassed in animal insanity by anything that has been recorded. When some officers of the league, sickened with these sights, appealed to Tilly to stop them, he said: "The soldier must have some reward for his danger and his labors."

The inhabitants themselves, it is said, set fire to the city in 12 different places, preferring to be buried under the walls to yielding, but some authorities say it was fired by Pappenheim. Only the cathedral and 50 houses were left from the conflagration; the rest had gone to ruin, soot and ashes.

At last, May 23, Tilly walked through the ruined streets of the city. More than 6,000 bodies had been thrown into the Elbe. A much greater number of living and dead had been consumed in the flames — altogether 30,000 were killed.

The 14th a "Te Deum" was chanted in the cathedral by Tilly's orders, and he wrote to the emperor that since the taking of Troy and the destruction of Jerusalem no such victory had been seen. He then marched his men away through the Hartz mountains, avoiding a meeting with Gustavus.

SPORTING.

GOLF

The concluding match for the Chapman cup, which carries with it the championship of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, will be played Wednesday afternoon on the links of the Hillside Club. The competitors will be W. L. Glenney and J. Whitney Baker.

One of the events for Thanksgiving Day at the links of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club will be the play off of the tie for the Reinhart cup between W. L. Glenney and Roger F. Murray. It is a handicap competition and Murray receives twelve strokes handicap while Glenny plays from scratch.

The active season at the Park Golf Club will close with Thanksgiving Day, but the course will probably be kept open for some time until the real winter weather shall make it necessary to cover up the greens. Even then temporary greens may be arranged so that the most enthusiastic of the golfers can continue their play up to Christmas time.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

Much interest is being shown among the bowlers of the Park Club in the coming contest for the championship of The Daily Press Bowling League. The Park Club team will be captained this year by Allan B. Laing, who is already rolling in first-class shape. William R. Faber, Ralph T. Willis and Fred O. Ball will also roll on the team. Part of the season Laurens H. VanBuren will fill the other place. The team met for practice Thursday evening and made a fairly satisfactory showing. There was decided improvement over the rolling of a few weeks ago, but the team still needs improvement in order to get in shape to win the matches in the league which will start in two weeks. The first game in The Daily Press Bowling League will be rolled Tuesday evening, December 4th, when the team from the Roselle Casino will go to the Westfield Club for three games.

ON THE GRIDIRON.

The football elevens of the city and borough High Schools played an exciting game on Martine Common this morning in which the Plainfield High School team was victorious by a score of 6 to 0.

In thirty-five minutes of play the Plainfield High School eleven fairly swamped the Whittier School team on Martine Common Thursday afternoon. The Whittier boys have been doing very well this season and they hoped to hold the High School boys down to a low score. But they were disappointed. The final score was 63 to 0. The High School team had the ball most of the time and scored at will. Three times the Whittier boys had the ball only to lose it on downs. They never succeeded in making over three yards.

After Elizabeth Postmastership.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Nov. 24.—A lively contest is now in progress for the position of postmaster of Elizabeth, as the term of Postmaster Whelan expires at the beginning of the new year. The names prominently mentioned in connection with the job are former President of the City Council John D. Barr, Samuel S. Moore, keeper of the New Jersey State Prison, who was postmaster under the Harrison Administration; former Alderman Meline W. Halsey, County Collector Edward M. Wood and Editor Charles C. McBride, of the Elizabeth Daily Journal. Candidate Barr has the indorsement of the Republican County and City Committees. Frederick Bender, Jr., of Elizabethport, is a candidate for assistant postmaster.

Ice Machine Company Incorporated.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, Nov. 24—Articles of incorporation of the United States Ice Machine Company have been filed in the Middlesex County Clerk's office in this city. The general object of the company is the manufacture and sale of ice machines and patented apparatus connected therewith. The company is incorporated with a capital stock of $100 000, and business will be begun with $75,000 invested. The corporators are Henry T. Roffe, of Kingsbridge, N. Y.; Thos. Lea, of New Brunswick, and Frederick Welsh, of New York, each holding $25,000 of stock. The plant will be operated in this city.

STILL SOME POLYGAMY.

FOUND IN THE INTERIOR TOWNS IN THE STATE OF UTAH

Intesesting Lecture on the Conditions in the Mormon Sate Delivered by a Deaconess.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Crescent Avenue church held a special meeting yesterday afternoon in the chapel of the church, at which time Dr. Sarah J. Elliott, a deaconess of the Episcopal church, gave an intensely interesting talk on "Conditions in Utah." Dr. Elliott spent seven years in Utah and is one of the very best informed persons on the subject. There was a large attandance at the meeting and everyone became enthusiastic over the subject.

Dr. Elliott said that great work is being accomplished in Utah by missionary workers, especially those from the Presbyterian church. They are making excellent progress, not only among the Mormons, but among the children. This denomination has nearly seven hundred children in their schools and they are being taught that Mormonism is contrary to the laws of God and this country.

In speaking of Mormonism, Dr. Elliott says that in the interior towns polygamy is practiced as much as ever, and it is not strange to hear of a man with five or six wives. The husbands go about visiting their wives, and when one wife was asked if she was not sorry to have her husband go from her, she said no, because it gave her an opportunity to get her work done. The speaker says that there are some fine women in Utah who are living under this awful evil. In Salt Lake City Mormonism is not carried on so openly. Marriages take place in the temple, but no one except those directly interested are allowed to be present. Thus it is not possible to learn how many wives a man has.

Dr. Elliott is striving very hard to secure a amendment of the constitution so that polygamy may be driven from the country forever. She is meeting with good success and she hopes to accomplish her purpose at no distant day. Many Mormons would be glad to have polygamy abolished, but no account of their positions dare not advocate it. A great many women are sick and tired of their way of living and would gladly welcome a change abolishing polygamy.

DEMOCRATS COMPLETE THEIR CITY TICKET.

Acceptances of all the Candidates Filed With the City Clerk Saturday Night.

AN AGGRESSIVE CAMPAIGN.

REPUBLICANS ASKED TO ENDORSE COL. TYLER'S CANDIDACY.

John H. Hillman and W. W. St. John Consent to Run for Councilmen in Third and Fourth Wards—No Candidate for School Trustee.

The Democrats succeeded in completing their city ticket Saturday evening and before the time limit of eight days before election expired the nominations were filed with City Clerk MacMurray in accordance with the laws of the State.

As told in The Daily Press Saturday, Col. Mason W. Tyler signed his acceptance of the Mayoralty nomination when he announced his decision to run. Former Councilman Arthur T. Gallup, as the nominee for City Collector, signed the acceptance when presented to him during the afternoon, and Charles H. Lyman, Councilmanic candidate in the Second ward, took the same course of action. John Lloyd, First ward candidate for Councilman, had already signed his acceptance.

This left the nomination for Councilmen in the Third and Fourth wards to fill. In the evening the committee appointed to fill vacancies, as well as several other Democrats interested in the campaign, gathered at the rooms of the Hillman Association. Just before the time for filing the nominations arrived, these two candidacies were filled out by John H. Hillman consenting to run in the Third ward and W. W. St. John in the Fourth ward. Both Mr. Hillman and Mr. St. John immediately signed their acceptance and the work of making the ticket was completed. The nomination for member of the Board of Education was left vacant after considerable discussion. The majority of those upon whom devolved the duty of finishing the ticket thought that it would be a politic stroke to endorse the nomination of Charles H. Abbott, the Republican nominee for member of the Board of Education, as it would strengthen all the candidates among Republicans. Mr. Abbott had been seen during the afternoon in reference to the matter and had expressed himself as pleased with the offer, but at that time he declined to accept without more consideration. Late in the evening when he was seen again he decided not to allow his name to be used by the Democrats, although he said he felt highly honored and appreciative of the offer. Since there was no Democratic candidate anxious for this nomination, it was decided to leave the office blank on the ticket.

This morning papers were circulated among Second and Third ward Republicans which declared that the signers believed Col. Tyler to be an admirable candidate for Mayor and pledged their support to his candidacy. It is reported that papers are being liberally signed by Republicans who are opposed to the election of the straight Republican ticket.

An important meeting of the Democratic City Executive Committee will be held this evening at which plans will be made for an aggressive campaign to be waged in support of the party ticket.

Reunion Service.

The meeting tonight of the Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed church will be in the nature of a praise service and annual reunion of former members, honorary and associate members. It is expected that an orchestra will furnish special music, and an interesting service is hoped for.

FOUL PLAY IS FEARED.

ABRAM FREEMAN HAS BEEN MISSING FOR SEVERAL DAYS:

Left Home Last Tuesday for Newark —His Horse Found Wandering Alone in That City.

Abram Freeman, a West End produce peddler, left home last Tuesday for Newark with the intention of buying a load of grapes. Since that time nothing has been seen of him and his friends suspect foul play.

The local police have communicated with the Newark authorities, but although no clue to Freeman's whereabouts has been discovered, a rig answering the description of the one driven by him has been found. It was picked up by a policeman in the second Newark precinct Thursday. The horse was wandering about the streets and was thoroughly tired out. As yet no one has claimed it and from the description furnished by Freeman's friends, the police are positive it belonged to the missing man.

Freeman is about fifty years old and lived with his wife at the corner of Lee place and West Third street. For some time past he has been soliciting orders for grapes among his Jewish brethren.

The grapes are used for making wine for the approaching holidays. When he left home Tuesday he had a large sum of money with him to be used in buying the grapes and it is thought some one was aware of this fact. He is a sober, industrious man, and is well thought of among his acquaintances. He is about five feet, eight inches in heighth and has light hair and beard. His wife is greatly worried over his disappearance and at times is unable to control herself. She has never known him to stay away any length of time before and is utterly at a loss as to his whereabouts. The Newark police are making every effort to find the man, as are the local police also.

TEMPERANCE DAY.

Interesting Service Held at the W. C. T. U. Rooms—Address by Rev. John MacMurray.

A meeting was held at the W.C.T.U. rooms yerterday afternoon in the interest of soldiers and sailors. It was arranged by the committee from the union who has charge of that work. There was a good attendance of members from Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., who were invited to attend in a body. There was special music by an orchestra composed of Mrs. George Saums, violin; Mrs. Honeyman, piano; Elmer Wheeler, cornet, and Robert W. Barnes, violin. They played several selections and conducted the singing.

Mrs. M. C. Dobbins, as chairman of the committee, presided and after conducting the opening exercises she introduced Rev. John MacMurray, pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, who gave a strong temperance address. The service was held in commemoration of the anniversary of temperance day and Mr. MacMurray spoke along that line. He appealed earnestly to all to live temperate lives and to abstain from all use of intoxicants. He pictured the misery caused by its use and abuse, and urged everyone to use their best influence to stop both the use and manufacture of liquor. Mr. MacMurray spoke earnestly and impressed all with the importance of the subject.

After the speaker's address, the meeting was thrown open for testimony and a great many persons took part and spoke on the subject of temperance. Several prayers were offered and altogether the service was a very helpful and interesting one to all.

To Plan for Election.

A meeting of the Republican city executive committee will be held tomorrow evening in Republican headquarters. At that time, the committee will discuss the coming city election and arrange the plan of campaign for it.

To be Tried Tomorrow.

The contract cases of Wm. and John Schorb against Wm. Trust will be tried before Justice Mattison tomorrow afternoon. W. A. Coddington represents the defendant and Robert M. Clark the plaintiffs.

CITY ELECTION WILL BE AN EXCITING ONE.

Col. Tyler Will Give Republican Party's Candidate a Hot Fight for Majority.

IS A POPULAR PERSONAGE.

HIS GREATEST STRENGTH WILL BE IN THE SECOND AND THIRD WARDS.

Democrats Hope He Will Carry Their Ticket to Victory — Republican Leaders Uneasy About the Independent Vote.

Now that both of the political parties have chosen their candidates and are ready for the coming municipal election in Plainfield, it is evident that the battle of the ballots promises to be far more close and exciting than was first anticipated. Many of the local Democrats were in favor of not putting up any ticket at all this fall but the majority ruled otherwise and now the Republican leaders are wondering just how many of their followers are going to bolt the G. O. P. ticket and vote for the Democratic nominees.

In county and State elections Plainfield has a normal plurality for the Republican ticket of 800 or more votes. On the 6th of November, McKinley and Roosevelt nearly doubled that figure. At city elections, however, there is a large element of voters who do not recognize partisan lines, but cast their ballot for their favorite candidate, be he Republican or Democratic, or a candidate presented by a Citizens' movement. It's a silent vote, too, and it is never possible to tell where it is going until the ballots are counted.

It is conceded by all the Republican leaders that the Democrats picked out a strong candidate in Col. Mason W. Tyler. It is a question, however, whether he can develop the necessary strength to overcome that normal plurality of 800 which would naturally go to Dr. Jenkins, the Republican nominee. That he will reduce it, most Republicans agree, but there is a decided difference of opinion concerning his ability to win out in the Mayoralty contest. There is enough doubt about it, however, to worry the Republicans and the result will be a hot campaign and an exciting election.

When the fact was noised about among the Republicans Saturday morning that Col. Tyler was the Democratic nominee for Mayor, the first question asked was "Will he accept it?" When the answer came that he would, the ward workers gathered together and prepared for an active campaign.

Col. Tyler's chief chance of election lies in the Second and Third wards. As he has lived in Plainfield for many years it is not strange that he should have a large circle of friends, many of whom may be expected to vote for him. They live principally in the Second and Third wards, and the aim of the Democrats will be to so cut down the usual Republican pluralities in those wards that a small victory in the Fourth will enable them to elect their ticket.

Without doubt there is more chance of Col. Tyler being elected than of any other candidate on the Democratic ticket, not counting, of course, Hezikiah Hand who is sure of being elected justice of the peace in the Second ward for the simple reason that there is no other candidate. The Democratic leaders hope that Col. Tyler will carry the ticket with him and aid to elect others. There is sure to be lots of scratching on his ballots, there always is at a city election. It is this scratching that the Republicans fear more than anything else.

In the Republican ranks the leaders are confident that their ticket will win. The only Democratic candidate that they admit there is a possibility of being elected is Col. Tyler. On the Mayoralty, therefore, the hardest fight of the campaign will be made. The Republican position in regard to Col. Tyler is voiced by Wm. Newcorn, secretary of the Republican city executive committee, in a statement made to a Daily Press reporter this morning:

"We have the greatest respect for Col. Tyler as a man," said Mr. Newcorn. "We have nothing against him. But the people of Plainfield are satisfied with the work of the present administration and they are not going to elect a chief executive for the city who would not be in sympathy with the administration. Dr. Jenkins is a man of the people and he knows what their needs are."

REV. MR. RICHARDSON PREACHES TO JUNIORS

"God Chose America Through Whom to Carry the Gospel to Uttermost Parts of Earth."

CITIZENS' DUTY DWELT ON.

AMERICA STANDS SOLITARY IN HER UNRIVALED GLORY.

The Public School, the Minister Said, is Among the Divinely Ordained Agencies for the Development of National Character.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather last night, one hundred and fifty members of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics turned out in a body last night and attended the service at the Park Avenue Baptist church and listened to a splendid sermon preached by Rev. J. W. Richardson, pastor of the church. The Juniors wore their lodge regalia and made an impressive sight as they marched into the church as the inspiring tones of "The Star Spangled Banner" pealed forth from the organ. Rev. Dr. Richardson's sermon was from the text found in Psalm 33:12—"Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord; and the people who He hath chosen for His own inheritance."

After an exposition of the text the speaker said in part, "So long as Israel conformed to the revealed will of God, he trod an aisleway among the stars, and the very angels were ministering spirits. The centuries have passed, and another people have succeeded to the peculiar privileges sometimes conferred upon nations. There is a peculiar grandeur about America. Her progress is nothing short of the marvelous; a miracle has been performed, and some of the people realize it not. True, other nations have believed they were the favored of God; no one regards the Jew's assumption an empty boast; what marvelous deliverances, what superhuman exploits, what ormantic unfoldings, in which Jesus the Christ stands the superb, central figure. Surely the Jews were God's peculiar people.

"But all this is more than paralleled in American history; it is not national vanity which prompts an American to declare that the hand of God gleams all through American history. Facts prove, that, 'God hath not so dealt with any nation.' He selected Israel through whom to carry the gospel of the cross to the uttermost parts of the earth. Aye, the science of modern missions was born in America; and American diplomacy, backed by American tears, will keep wide open the doorway to modern missions. European nations may be squeezed hard, in trying to shut the door to China. It is dangerous for a haughty people to get in the way of God's chariot wheels.

"America in social strength, financial resources, superlative privileges and unrestricted opportunities, towers far beyond all the Nations of history. The Scriptures declare God fixes the habitations of Nations; great things were expected of America, and gigantic provisions have been arranged for her stupendous work. God kept the continent intended for the Republic concealed from the eyes of ambitious Kings, rapacious gold hunters and ecclesiastical tyrants, until He had a prepared people for occupancy. The Pilgrims came and began the historical movement, whose geographical development already spans the land from the Atlantic to the Pacific; and which will not cease until it includes all the continent from the Artic Ocean to the Gulf of Mexico. The band of Pilgrims by production, absorption and assimilation in 250 years have become 76,000,000. The few log huts have multiplied into thousands of great towns and cities. The few hundred pounds in currency, with which the infant Nation began business, have increased to $76,037,091,000, six times the value of the money of the entire world; while the financial centre has been transferred from London to New York. America stands solitary in her unrivalled glory.

"Among the Divinely ordained agencies for the development of National character, is the public school; educate the soul, and the hand will mold material, and produce wealth. Our fathers inaugurated the public school, and generations of intellectual and inventive geniuses were begotten. And because of the superb efficiency of the school, the American master and mechanic have so learned the sciences, that today they are able to compete with the world, in all branches of skilled industry. American printing-presses in Japan; American sewing machines in India; American locomotives in Asia; American iron in Eng-

ALIS BOYS DOWNED RIVINGTON ELEVEN

Local Team Played In its Old Time Form on a Wet and Slippery Gridiron.

THE SCORE WAS 18 TO 0.

PLAINFIELD WAS CONTINUALLY ON THE OFFENSIVE.

Visitors Had the Ball But Twice and Lost it Immediately on Fumbles—Alis Backs Fumbled But Once—Phillips a Success at Quarter.

In a drizzling rain the eleven of the Alis A. A. played one of its best games of the season Saturday afternoon against the team of the Rivington A. C., of Hoboken. The game was played on Martine Common and resulted in a victory for the Alis boys by a score of 18 to 0. Despite the fact that the ground was wet and slippery, the Plainfield backs only fumbled once. Their team play was a great improvement over that of the last few weeks while Phillips was a great success at quarter.

The visitors played good, clean football and were the most gentlemanly team that has come to Plainfield this season. The field was so slippery that they couldn't stop Alis' advance and, while they made good gains during their single opportunity, they lost the ball on an unlucky fumble.

Rivington kicked off to Tom Smith. From Alis' twenty-five yard line, the ball went steadily up the field toward Rivington's goal and McClure plunged through the line for a yard and a touchdown. Phillips kicked the goal.

After a few short gains following Rivington's kickoff, Woolston made the only really long run of the day, carrying the ball from the centre of field to Rivington's ten yard line. After a few short gains, Cuming went through left tackle for a touchdown. Phillips kicked the goal. Time was called with the ball steadily advancing being unable to check the home team. End plays with excellent interference netted most of the gains although the tackles were used with success.

Phillips made a poor kickoff in the second half. Rivington made their gains in three attempts, but lost the ball on a fumble on their own forty-yard line, Cuming falling on it. Alis carried the ball back to Rivington's twenty-yard line and then lost it on its only fumble of the day. It was recovered immediately on a fumble, Cuming breaking through and falling on it. Quick opening plays carried the ball to within three yards of the goal line and then Cuming shot through the line for a touchdown. Phillips kicked the goal. The second half ended with the ball rapidly nearing Rivington's goal.

The summary:

ALIS A. A.		RIVINGTON A. C.
Cathcart	right end	Utz
Radford	right tackle	Doler
McClure	right guard	Neubauer
G. Smith	centre	Mills
Pike	left guard	Scalpen
H. Smith	left end	Lambert
Phillips	quarter back	G. Ferry
Woolston	right half back	C. Ferry
Cuming	left half back	Meyer
T. Smith	full back	Cannan

Score—Alis A. A., 18; Rivington A. C., 0. Touchdowns—McClure, Cuming (2). Goals from touchdowns—Phillips (3). Referee—Roger Erickson. Umpire — Henry Lowell. Timekeeper—James B. Taylor, of Plainfield, and J. D. Waresing, of Hoboken. Field linesman—A. Willis West. Linesman—Edward J. Kline, of Plainfield, and W. Wishman, of Hoboken. Time of halves—Fifteen minutes.

CRANFORD BOYS MISSING.

Got Money From a Girl to Go to New York and Failed to Meet Her.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Cranford, November 26 — Four young boys, William Heinze, Frank Manihan, Charles Carter and Lawrence Seward, Jr., have disappeared from Cranford. In the search for the youngsters it has been discovered that the whole quartette made love, collectively, to a young girl named Annie Peterson and succeed in getting her to give them money, with which they started ostensibly for the Horse Show in New York. Heinze seemed to out shine his companions, for the girl gave him more cash than the others.

Before departing for the metropolis Heinze told Annie to join him in New York She attempted to do so, but the boy failed to keep the appointment, and Annie returned, a sad, but wiser, girl.

Street Committee to Meet.

A meeting of the committee on streets and sewers of the Council will be held this evening, when there will be a further consideration of the plans for the changes at the sewage disposal beds. The committee will make recommendations to the Council at an early date.

BLOODY AFFAIR IN AN ITALIAN FIGHT.

Seven Men Were Engaged in the Battle on Race Street Last Evening.

THREE OF THEM CUT UP.

PARTICIPANTS HAD BEEN DRINKING HEAVY AND WERE BOISTEROUS.

When the Police Appeared the Fight Ended—Warrants Issued for the Arrest of the Men in Justice's Court.

Another one of those disgraceful Italian affairs occurred on Race street in the borough last evening, and it seems to be a mystery that anyone of the seven Italians engaged in the scrap are alive today. After the fight they all managed to get away, except two or three who were injured and applied for medical aid. George Napoli, employed by Smalley Bros. at their stone-cracker, was cut about the head and body with a knife and flying glass from broken beer bottles. Dr. Pittis fixed him up and made him comfortable. Frank Rice was also injured to some extent, but not seriously. Sava Villardo was struck with bottles and his face has a discolored appearance today. By the time the police arrived the Italians, except the injured ones, had disappeared and could not be found.

Just what started the scrap is not known, but it is known that most of the Italians had been drinking heavily and were very boisterous. Peter Brunn is supposed to live in the house and it is believed that he invited his friends to spend the afternoon and evening. They were playing cards and drinking. During the early part of the evening Brunn proposed a drink for the health of all. Villardo was among those who responded, but for some reason the proprietor objected to him and he told Villardo he was no gentleman. This excited Villardo and then the fight began. Beer bottles were flying through the air and occasionally some one's head would come in contact with glass, fists, clubs, etc. Some one is believed to have had a knife, for there was some cutting. The affair did not last very long, and when the police showed up things were quiet.

This morning Villardo secured the services of W. K. McClure, and in company with Law Student William Sweeney appeared before Justice Smalley, where warrants were issued for the arrest of Napoli and Frank Rice. Villardo charges Napoli with threatening to kill him, and he has entered a complaint of assault and battery against Rice. Constable Pangborn has the warrants to serve. The defendants will probably be heard this afternoon or tomorrow.

In the meantime Chief Campbell is looking for the man who struck Napoli. He says that he will get him before the day is over. When he does action will be brought by the officials against the violator of the law. Affairs are so mixed that it would require nearly all the lawyers in the city to straighten them out. It is impossible to get the names of all the participants, but it is known that Guyan Dantz, the the man that was ordered to leave the borough by Mayor Smalley, was in the crowd and he will probably get all that is coming to him.

Contests in Y. M. C. A. Gym.

The second contest in the series at the Y. M. C. A. was held Saturday evening, the event being the low bar. There were four entries and four moves given, three set, class moves and one individual move. The possible number of points was forty. The number secured by the contestants was as follows: W. Bentliff, 32; W. McNaughton, 28⅓; W. Sampson, 28; W. Neal, 26⅔. The next event will take place in four weeks and will be the side horse.

Harvest Tide Service.

A special harvest tide service was held at the Congregational church yesterday morning. An order of service, prepared by The Congregationist, was followed. There was a sermon, appropriate to the Thanksgiving season, by the pastor, Rev. C. L. Goodrich. The church was prettily decorated with products of the harvest. Owing to the stormy weather, the attendance was small.

Bazaar at Hope Chapel.

Beginning with this evening the Ladies' Aid Society of Hope chapel will hold a two night bazaar and entertainment. A special programme of vocal and instrumental music and recitations has been prepared for both evenings, and an enjoyable time is promised.

SHORT IN HIS ACCOUNTS.

Gambling and Evil Companions Resulted in the Downfall of Christopher Weiss.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, November 26.—A taste for gambling and evil companions has resulted in the downfall of Christopher Weiss, of South River, who has left for parts unknown. Weiss was the bookkeeper at the American Enameled Brick and Tile Works and has been with the firm since 1893. Bernard Jacquart, the superintendent of the works, said that Weiss was short in his accounts and he believed his peculations would amount to about $600.

Weiss was a Swiss, 32 years of age and leaves a wife and three small children. He was a competent bookkeeper and spoke several languages. He built a house shortly after he came to South River at a cost of $2,200. The brick company has an interest in the house, so that its loss will be fully covered, but the wife of the missing man will have little left her. Weiss was regarded as a model young man, but he fell in bad company and became a slave to gambling. His peculations date back for nearly a year.

Mrs. Mead to Speak.

Mrs. Mead, of East Front street, will make an address tomorrow evening at the Central Baptist church, Elizabeth, where the anniversary of the McAll Auxiliary will be held. Mrs. Mead is president of the Plainfield branch, and she will tell of the work in the various places she visited while abroad.

PARTICULAR MENTION

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Residents and Visitors who Go and Come in Society and Business.

Daniel Thickstun, of Central avenue, started Saturday on a pleasure trip to Texas.

Mrs. Oliver Voorhees, of East Front street, has been visiting relatives at Somerville.

Miss Minnie Force, of Carleton avenue, has returned from a visit with out of town friends.

Minerva Temple, No. 4, Rathbone Sisters, will hold a meeting of importance tomorrow evening.

Willard Wadsworth is home from Harvard to spend the Thanksgiving vacation with his parents.

The many friends of Edward Lynch, of West Second street, will be glad to learn that he is much improved from an attack of nervous prostration.

Clifford Braider, as chairman of the music committee of the First Baptist church Christian Endeavor Society, has resigned on account of pressing business.

Rodger Brown, the expert at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Clubhouse, expects to sail next Saturday for Scotland, where he will visit his old home for several weeks.

Charles Debele, of Rock avenue, brother of Chief Engineer W. G. Debele, of the borough, is now the happy father of seven bright girls, the youngest being about two weeks old.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern which is not afraid to be generous. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles and have the satisfaction of knowing it has cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, LaGrippe and all Throat, Chest and Lung diseases are surely cured by it. Call on L. W. Randolph, Druggist, and get a free trail bottle. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle gauranteed.

—The scholars of the First Baptist church Sunday-school rehearsed its Christmas music yesterday afternoon.

—Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., will be inspected tomorrow evening, and at the same time nominations for officers will be made.

—The annual parish meeting for the election of wardens and vestrymen will be held at St. Stephen's church, Netherwood, tomorrow evening.

Great Luck Of An Editor

"For two years all efforts to cure Eczema in the palms of my hands failed", writes Editor H. N. Lester, of Syracuse, Kan., "then I was wholly cured by Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's the world's best for Eruptions, Sores and all skin diseases. Only 25 cents at L. W. Randolph's.

—The fair committee from Warren Engine Company is making excellent progress and meeting with good success.

—Many people worry because they believe they have heart disease. The chances are that their hearts are all right but their stomachs are unable to digest food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and prevents the formation of gas which makes the stomach press against the heart. It will cure every form of indigestion. L. W. Randolph.

Rev. Mr. Kionka, formerly of Plainfield, but now of Riverside, this State, who preached at the German Lutheran church yesterday, has returned home.

Spread Like Wild Fire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, rundown man or woman. Price 50 cents. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

—A leak was discovered Saturday in the steam pipe leading to the Union News stand at the North Avenue Station, and it required considerable work to repair the damage.

—Both makers and circulators of counterfeits commit fraud. Honest men will not deceive you into buying worthless counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The original is infallible for curing piles, sores, eczema and all skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

Mr. and Mrs. LaRue, of East Second street, have been entertaining relatives from New Brunswick.

Stephen Vail, of Philadelphia, who has been spending a few days in Plainfield with friends, has returned.

—The city steam roller broke down Saturday and was laid up for repairs. It is in the service again today.

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

CZAR NOT IMPROVING.

Condition Less Favorable, but Not Considered Alarming.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—While the latest bulletin regarding the czar's condition is much less favorable than its predecessors there is nothing as yet to confirm alarming rumors. Queen Victoria daily receives a telegram from the czarina, and it is understood that no exceptional anxiety is yet displayed.

According to the Moscow correspondent of The Daily Express, an examination of water taken from the well used for drinking purposes at Livadia proved the presence of typhoid germs. An Odessa dispatch to The Daily News, dated Thursday, says:

"Reports for the last two days indicate a serious decline in the strength of the czar."

Russian censorship prevents any leakage of news. It is understood that the czarina will remain at Livadia for her accouchement, and even under the best conditions it will be impossible to remove the czar before February.

A St. Petersburg dispatch gives the following bulletin, issued Sunday at Livadia:

"The czar passed a quiet day yesterday. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon his temperature rose to 103.6, the pulse being 88. At 9 o'clock in the evening the temperature was 102.2 and the pulse 86. His majesty slept well during the night. This morning his general condition and strength are satisfactory."

Grave Rumors About the Czar.

BERLIN, Nov. 26.—The following special dispatch, dated St. Petersburg, Nov. 25, has been received here: "It is persistently rumored in St. Petersburg that the condition of Emperor Nicholas is critical. Well informed people here declare that the disease has made far greater progress than the czar's physicians have publicly admitted. A fatal issue is now gravely feared."

OUR POSTOFFICES.

Mr. Bristow's Annual Report Gives Some Interesting Figures.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Fourth Assistant Postmaster General John L. Bristow in his annual report recommends an amendment to the interstate commerce law prohibiting telegraph and express companies or their employees from aiding or abetting in the green goods or lottery swindles or any other scheme carried on partly by mail and partly by common carrier and in violation of the postal laws.

There were 15,142 appointments of postmasters made during the past fiscal year, 14,435 being of the fourth class and 707 being presidential, an increase of 588 in all over last year. There also has been an increase in the number of resignations, especially of fourth class postmasters. Fewer removals for irregularities were made than last year. There were 3,600 postoffices established during the year, an increase of 665 over last year, and 1,912 offices were discontinued, an increase of 407 discontinuances over last year, mostly due to rural free delivery extension and public highway improvements.

There were 47 resignations and 45 deaths of presidential postmasters and 919 deaths and 8,013 resignations of fourth class postmasters. On June 30 last the number of postoffices was 76,688, as follows: First class, 194; second, 852; third, 3,187; fourth, 72,455. The total number of arrests during the fiscal year for offenses against the postal laws was 1,526, including 119 postmasters, 29 assistant postmasters and 144 postoffice clerks, carriers and other postal employees. Of the total number arrested 526 were convicted.

Fierce Fire In Rochester.

ROCHESTER, Nov. 26.—A fire which originated in a peculiar manner at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon wrecked the plant of the Citizens' Light and Power company and destroyed the Washington Flour mills, both situated at the corner of Factory and Mill streets, causing a loss estimated at about $175,000. When the firemen arrived at the scene of the fire, it was thought the blaze would be of moderate consequence, but later, owing to the action of the water upon the electric connections in the electric plant starting numerous blazes in different quarters of the building, the conflagration rapidly spread. After the magnificent electric equipment in the dynamo room was destroyed the fire spread to the Washington mills. The mills are situated directly north of the power house and had a covered stairway extending up from a boiler house situated on the outside, to the south of the power house. The buildings were destroyed in less than an hour.

Freshet Pleases Lumbermen.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Nov. 26.—It has been raining all along the watershed of the west branch of the Susquehanna river for the past 48 hours, and the prospects for a freshet are very bright. A freshet is most devoutly hoped for by the lumbermen here, as there has been no flood the entire season on which the one hundred million feet or so of logs could be floated to the booms here, a thing unprecedented in the history of the stream. Reports from Clearfield, the point from which estimates of the height of the water here are based, showed a three and a half foot rise there and still raining. The prospects are that there will be a 12 foot flood here before the storm ceases.

Amendment Instead of Repeal.

ALBANY, Nov. 26.—The state tax commission after a week's work in this city at their headquarters took an adjournment on Saturday. The commissioners are not at all disturbed over the rumors that the franchise tax law will be repealed. They all say frankly that they do not believe that such action will be taken, but that, to the contrary, amendments perfecting the measure will be made so that the collection of the tax may be expedited. One member of the commission said, "An amendment will undoubtedly be made to the law that will allow a better equalization of the assessment."

Industrial School Dedicated.

WOODBINE, N. J., Nov. 26.—The new Baron de Hirsch Agricultural and Industrial school building located here was dedicated yesterday, many prominent Hebrews of Philadelphia and New York being present at the ceremonies. The school, the aim of which is the training of Jewish young men and women to become practical and intelligent farmers and assistants in dairy, poultry, horticultural and other farming departments, is a part of the agricultural plant established here some years ago by the late Baron Maurice de Hirsch.

SUBDUING FILIPINOS.

Recent Battle on the Island of Panay.

INSURGENT FORTRESS CAPTURED.

Stronghold of Geronimo, Located Twenty-five Miles North of Manila, Destroyed by Colonel Thompson's Command.

MANILA, Nov. 26.—The funeral of Baron Dumarais, the Frenchman who was killed by the insurgents while within their lines last year, where he had gone to intercede with Aguinaldo for the release of the Spanish prisoners, took place yesterday in the great Church of San Augustin in Manila. It was attended by a distinguished concourse, including generals, commissioners, consuls and hundreds of Americans, who were on each side of the catafalque in front of the altar. Archbishop Chapelle blessed the remains.

Particulars have just been received from Iloilo of the battle Oct. 30 at Bugason, island of Panay, when 200 bolomen and 50 riflemen attacked the Americans, who lost three killed—Lieutenant H. M. Koontz, Sergeant Kitchen and Corporal Burns, all of Company F, Forty-fourth infantry.

It appears that Corporal Burns was boloed while reconnoitering and Lieutenant Koontz and Sergeant Kitchen were pierced by spears while going to relieve an outpost.

When the garrison in force attacked the rebels, 49 of the latter were killed. None of the other parties of attacking natives made much of a stand, and the insurgents lost 103 killed all told.

Four natives will be hanged at Dagupan, Luzon, next Thursday. They are under conviction for arson and murder, the victims of the latter crime including two American prisoners. The military courts are now returning numerous death sentences upon natives.

The fortress of the insurgent chief Geronimo at Pinauran, which the insurgents boasted was impregnable, was taken and destroyed Thursday by a force of the Forty-second and Twenty-seventh infantry and Troop G of the Fourth cavalry under Colonel Thompson. Geronimo and most of the rebels escaped. The leader has long harassed the Twenty-seventh infantry, operating in the vicinity of San Mateo, Montalban and Novaliches. He was finally located at Pinauran, 35 miles north of Manila. His position was considered the strongest in Luzon. It was a stone fortress surmounting a steep hill surrounded by canyons. The Spanish forces lost heavily in attempting to take it.

Colonel Thompson mobilized 1,000 men at Montalban. The attack was made upon four sides, the main body under Major Carey of the Forty-second advancing from the south, Captain Atkinson of the Twenty-seventh from the east, Captain Casteel of the Twenty-seventh from the west and Captain Sloan of the Twenty-seventh from the north. The ascents were steep, and the men climbed them by grasping the shrubbery. It was impossible for the eastern column to reach the summit, but the others arrived after three hours' climbing under fire from the fortress and the hillside intrenchments. The enemy's force, numbering several hundred, fled before the attackers reached the top. The Americans destroyed 1,000 insurgent uniforms, scores of buildings and large quantities of supplies and seized a barrel full of documents.

Private Hart of the Twenty-seventh and Private Koppner of the Forty-second and two native scouts were killed, and 12 of the attacking force were wounded. The insurgent casualties could not be ascertained

PHILIPPINE FORESTS.

Vast Areas of Valuable Timber In Our New Possessions.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The division of customs and insular affairs of the war department has made public a summary of the first report of the Philippine bureau of forestry, organized in its present form under an order of the military governor dated April 14, 1900. Its first work was confined to ascertaining the condition of the records received from the Spanish government, under which that bureau had not only had the care of the forests, but also the survey of the public lands.

The laws in force at the time of the American occupation are said to have been in line with the most advanced forestry legislation of Europe, but were not enforced, the licensees cutting any and every thing. The result was that valuable rubber, gutta percha and ylang ylang trees were taken and even the most valuable used as firewood.

Captain Ahern states that from different sources of information he is led to believe the public forest lands comprise from one-fourth to possibly one-half the area of the Philippine islands, or from 20,000,000 to 40,000,000 acres. There are fully 5,000,000 acres of virgin forest owned by the state in the islands of Mindoro and Paragua. The island of Mindanao, with an area of some 20,000,000 acres, is almost entirely covered with timber, and even in the province of Cagayan, on Luzon, there are more than 2,000,000 acres of forest.

Captain Ahern mentions tracts of virgin forests to be seen on the southern islands where from 10,000 to 20,000 cubic feet of magnificent timber per acre was standing, with trees more than 150 feet in height, the trunks clear of branches for 60 feet and more than 4 feet in diameter. He states that in these forests there are millions of cubic feet of timber which should be cut out in order to thin this dense growth, that the maximum annual growth could be obtained. There is a large variety of valuable gum, rubber and gutta percha trees, 17 dye woods and the ylang ylang, the oil from blossoms of which latter tree is the base of so many perfumes.

Noted Financier Dead.

FORT PLAIN, N. Y., Nov. 26.—Joseph Smith, aged 84 years, one of the best known financiers and land owners in this section of central New York, died suddenly yesterday of apoplexy. Deceased was a prominent member of one of the oldest families in the Mohawk valley.

Italians Vote Down Army Reduction.

ROME, Nov. 26.—The Italian chamber of deputies has rejected a proposal brought forward by the Socialists to reduce the army expenditure 100,000,000 francs and to cut down the army corps from 12 to 8.

FAVOR ARBITRATION

Latin-Americans Vote to Make It Compulsory.

SOUTHERN REPUBLICS AT ODDS.

This Movement at the Recent Congress In Madrid May Check the Widespread Warlike Movement.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Dispatches from Madrid received in official diplomatic quarters here make the first announcement that in the debates before the Latin-American congress, whose sessions have just been concluded, the principle of compulsory arbitration urged by the Peruvian delegates has been by almost unanimous vote adopted, Chile alone holding out and protesting against the action taken. The decision not only favors compulsory arbitration in disputes between the American republics, but also provides that guarantees shall be given for the faithful performance of the conclusions reached by the arbitration tribunal.

Aside from the immediate question involved, the decision of the congress is regarded in South American quarters as significant of the alignment of the southern republics on the increasing differences which have arisen of late and which are threatening to bring about a general crisis involving most, if not all, of the South American countries. Several events have occurred recently indicating a widespread movement. Peru has been making desperate efforts to regain her provinces of Tacna and Arica, which are a sort of border hostage held for the last ten years by Chile. Bolivia is involved in the same controversy, as she has lost her seacoast to Chile and is now seeking to save a part of it. The latter question was recently brought to a direct issue by the presentation of a demand from Chile, generally construed as an ultimatum, requiring Bolivia to publicy acknowledge by treaty the sovereignty of Chile over the seacoast in question.

About a month ago Chile adopted the compulsory military system, under which every male citizen on reaching the age of 19 years must serve as a soldier. This has caused widespread concern in South America and has led other countries to take steps toward similar military equipment. Ecuador has declared its purpose of adopting a system like that of Chile, and Peru, which now has only 2,000 soldiers, has taken steps to have a general enlistment in its national guard.

But the chief concern has been expressed in Argentina and Brazil, as it is the feeling in those countries that the powerful armaments of Chile are not required against such enfeebled states as Peru, Bolivia, Ecuador and the other northern republics, but will be used against Chile's more powerful neighbors in the south. Argentina and Chile are separated by a long boundary line, which is now in dispute.

The presidents of Brazil and Argentina have exchanged visits, and during the stay of President Campos-Salles at Buenos Ayres recently consideration was given to united action on some of these pending South American controversies.

Mysterious Death of Brothers.

PERU, Ind., Nov. 26.—The decomposed bodies of Jerry and Patrick Holland, brothers, aged 62 and 56 years respectively, were found in their home yesterday. No marks of violence were evident, and as the men when last seen eight or ten days ago were drinking it is believed they were drugged, the poison taking effect soon after they reached their home. The brothers were noted for their affection for each other, and their appearance and actions were so nearly alike that they were generally known as the "two dromios." They were light-hearted and cheerful in disposition, and the theory of suicide is not entertained.

Snow For Lumbering.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Nov. 26.—Snow commenced falling in this vicinity early Sunday morning and continued steadily all day. There is now more than a foot of snow on the level. It is heavy, and as there was no wind it will make excellent sleighing. Lumbering commenced throughout the Adirondacks today. Trains were delayed from two to four hours throughout northern New York.

The Filipino Junta.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—A dispatch has been received at the state department from Mr. Choate, the American embassador in London, confirming the press report that the British colonial office has undertaken an investigation of the complaint of this government that the Filipino junta in Hongkong is violating the neutrality arrangements between Great Britain and the United States.

Dynamiter Found Guilty.

AKRON, O., Nov. 26.—Edward Eppley has been found guilty of the unlawful possession of dynamite. This is one of the cases growing out of the riots here in August last, when the city building was blown up and burned. This is the fifth conviction that has been secured, but the jury only returned a verdict after the judge had sent them back with a sharp reprimand.

Germany and Turkey Disagree.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 26.—A difficulty has arisen between Germany and Turkey. The Ottoman government objects to Germany using Far San island, in the Red sea, as a coaling station and wishes to establish there a Turkish depot accessible to all the powers. Germany, however, insists that she will not abandon the island.

Exploding Boiler Kills Three.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Nov. 26.—While lightering ore from the steamer Ellwood in Mud lake the forward boiler on the lighter Stewart exploded, killing three men and severely injuring seven others.

Divorce In Forty Minutes.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—W. B. Matthews of the Washington bar obtained a divorce for prominent Washingtonians at Rockville, Montgomery county, Md., in 40 minutes from the time of filing the suit.

Tornado Sweeps Texas Town.

DALLAS, Nov. 26.—A tornado did much damage to property at Flatonia, in Fayette county. Twelve places of business are reported wrecked, but no lives were lost. The damage is estimated at $50,000.

PORTO RICO'S CONDITION.

Land Titles In a Tangle—Good Roads a Necessity.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The commissioner of the interior for Porto Rico, William H. Elliot, in his annual report to the secretary of the interior says that much expert manipulation as well as detective ingenuity will be needed to untangle the mass of cross titles, duplication and lapping of grants and concessions and unauthorized occupation of public lands that have grown with the centuries of rule in the interest of the favored few. The archives of the island were found in a disordered condition. Many records of cases never have been closed and are mixed with those disposed of. Rearrangement and classification are necessary prior to investigation. During the early history of Porto Rico governors and captains general held or assumed the right to make grants of land. Grantees appropriated land in excess of their original boundaries, and their successors claim ownership. Many grants were abandoned. In numerous instances intruders took possession.

The first great, crying need of Porto Rico, the report says, is good roads. At the time of the American occupation there was only one really good road, that from San Juan to Ponce, and most of the island was and practically remains without other means of reaching a market or communication between towns than over dilapidated and dangerous trails, often impassable for days, as all streams there are torrential. The productiveness of the soil is so great and the necessities for existence so inexpensive that people can and do live and multiply in mountain districts, but remain forever poor and ignorant.

Permanent roads, it is predicted, will work out the sadly needed reforms in education. The commissioner proposes to suggest to the legislature that a loan be floated large enough to build the most needed roads at once.

A Letter From Peary.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Robert L. Bridgman, secretary of the Peary Arctic club, gave out last night an extract of a letter written by Lieutenant Peary, dated at Fort Conger, Lady Franklin bay, March 31, 1900. The letter was sent to Mrs. Peary at Washington. The latter sailed, with her daughter, last July from Sydney, C. B., expecting to meet her husband at Etah, Greenland. The letter was sent from Disco, Greenland, and carried by natives to Etah and from there taken by the Stein party to Cape Sabine, where it was placed on board a steamer which reached Dundee, Scotland, on Nov. 9. In his letter Lieutenant Peary said that his party were in good health. They had plenty of dogs, he said, although some had died. Lieutenant Peary said he hoped to do his work during the spring, in which case he expected to get back and join his ship in the summer. There is a question whether Mrs. Peary will be able to meet her husband as she anticipated, as from Lieutenant Peary's letter he apparently is unaware of her coming.

Roberts' Request Refused.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—"We understand," says The Daily Express this morning, "that Lord Roberts recently requested the government to send 20,000 regulars to South Africa to relieve the same number still in the field, but that his request was declined on the score of expense." After condemning the government's refusal as "ruinous economy" The Daily Express goes on to describe Lord Kitchener's "drastic plan of operation." "He will endeavor to isolate the commandoes," it says, "and to move suspected Boer families into garrisoned towns. He will clear troublesome districts, confining the population in laager if necessary, and will take or destroy all food supplies, punish treachery by death or transportation, raze villages guilty of treasonable acts and destroy all farms in the vicinity of railway or telegraph cutting."

Floods In Ohio.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 26.—Floods are reported all along the Ohio valley. In almost the entire valley it has been raining since Tuesday and almost continually since Friday. The damage to property is considerable. The Licking river in Kentucky is very high and caused some damage on the Ohio side by its waters rushing across the Ohio channel and sweeping the Cincinnati landings. One of the bridges over the Licking river connecting Covington and Newport was swept away. The lumber yards, mills and shipping generally suffered great loss. On the Ohio side the Great and the Little Miami rivers are both high, and floods along the tributaries of the Ohio river are reported everywhere. The Ohio has risen eight feet here during the last 24 hours and is still rising very rapidly.

British Steamer Stranded.

LEWES, Del., Nov. 26.—The British steamer Margaret Jones, Captain Thomas Thomas, in ballast from Malta for Delaware breakwater for orders, stranded yesterday morning directly opposite the Isle of Wight life saving station, near Ocean City, Md. She was immediately discovered by the life savers, who manned their surfboat and went to her assistance. The steamer is well up on the beach about 50 yards from low water mark. She is lying easy in a moderate sea and perfectly tight. The captain and crew refused to leave the steamer, so the life savers returned to shore with dispatches from the captain.

Misplaced Switch Causes Ruin.

SALEM, Mass., Nov. 26.—A misplaced switch on which the signal light had gone out caused an accident in the Salem yard of the Boston and Maine railroad system here which involved a monetary loss of $8,000 or $10,000, delayed traffic for some hours and resulted in slight injuries to the fireman of the Bangor-Boston Pullman train and to an Armstrong transfer agent.

Russian Railway Projects.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 26.—Private dispatches received here say that companies have been organized at Kiev, with the participation of British capital, to build railroads from Briansk and Czernizoff to Kiev and from Kiev to Zlobin.

KRUGER IN PARIS.

A Quiet Sunday In Spite of Outside Demonstrations.

PARIS, Nov. 26.—Mr. Kruger passed Sunday with his family at the Hotel Scribe, observing the Sabbath in accordance with the customs of his fatherland. His apartments were closed to visitors, and he remained within them, indulging himself in perfect rest.

At an early hour free circulation was resumed in the streets about the hotel, whose only guardians, two policemen, stood on either side of the principal entrance. The number of passersby was not greater than the ordinary Sunday crowd. Toward 3 p. m., however, pedestrians increased, and along the boulevard came 100 shouting and singing boys. Their advent increased the enthusiasm, which was rapidly worked up, and the streets began to fill. Cheers for Mr. Kruger began, and the police immediately established a cordon about the hotel. Several companies of Republican guards quickly arrived.

In half an hour the scene resembled that of Saturday. Responding to cries and plaudits, Mr. Kruger came for a moment upon the balcony, accompanied by his granddaughters. Again at 5 o'clock the tumult was such that he reappeared, but only for a moment.

During the afternoon and early evening there was no falling off in the number of spectators. It was 10 o'clock before the people had sufficiently dispersed to permit the circulation of carriages.

Many cards were left at the Hotel Scribe during the day, among them those of M. Delcasse, minister of foreign affairs, and other high officials of the foreign office.

Mr. Kruger spent this morning in conferring with the Boer representatives. The afternoon will be devoted to receiving deputations and prominent people who have made appointments. No decision, it is understood, has been reached as to when Mr. Kruger will leave Paris. According to the best information obtainable, he will remain here until Wednesday evening or Thursday morning. It is said that he will go directly to Holland, not stopping in Belgium, where he may go later on.

SBARRETTI NOT WANTED.

Cubans Think Bishop Too American In His Views.

HAVANA, Nov. 26.—At a meeting held in Havana yesterday by the opponents of Mgr. Sbarretti, bishop of Havana, General Gomez presented a resolution that all the municipalities should send the bishop telegrams informing him that he was not wanted by the Cubans and asking him to retire in favor of a Cuban ecclesiastic. All the speakers accused Mgr. Sbarretti of being too much of an American in his point of view and of favoring annexation to the United States.

It is said that General Rodriguez, mayor of Havana, has challenged Senor San Miguel, editor of La Lucha, to fight a duel in consequence of an alleged libelous article attacking the integrity of the mayor's office. General Rodriguez has named Senor Alenan as his second. La Lucha has published a statement that it had no intention of attacking the character of the mayor. Both parties deny that the matter will be carried any further, but the friends of both say that the denial is only a ruse to put the police off the scent.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

William Lemberg, a septuagenarian, killed his wife and himself in their home in Brooklyn.

Brazilians charged with an attempt to overthrow the republic have been released by a jury.

Twenty-six lives were lost by the wrecking of the steamship St. Olaf on the Labrador coast.

Austin Hamilton, an aged recluse, was tortured to death by robbers at his home, near McDonough, N. Y.

Vincent Cody, the oldest prisoner in point of service in Sing Sing, was released on pardon by Governor Roosevelt after 33 years' incarceration.

Miss Marguerite Gast of Brooklyn at the Clermont Avenue rink in Brooklyn finished first in the six day bicycle race for women, one lap separating her from Miss Lottie Brandon, who finished second.

Senator Davis Holding Out.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 26.—According to reports from Senator Davis' home last night the patient passed a fairly comfortable day. His injured foot was dressed, and he bore the operation very well. His delirium was a trifle less acute, and he was able to secure some sleep. The wound in his foot appears to be healing nicely. The kidney trouble, however, does not yield to treatment. Toward evening the senator became restless again, and Dr. Stone was called to the house. The doctor does not issue a bulletin during the day on Sunday, so that any statement of the senator's condition is of an unofficial nature.

Antisaloon Movement.

ALBANY, Nov. 26.—In over a score of churches in this city yesterday temperance addresses were made under the auspices of the State Antisaloon league, with the object of organizing a branch in this city to be known as the Citizens' Union of Albany. Over 400 enrolled petitions have also been circulated to be presented to the common council calling for a curfew law. Among those who listened to the addresses were quite a number of city officials.

Yale Champion at Football.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 26.—By winning the football game Saturday Yale administered to Harvard the worst defeat in 15 years. It was one of the most decisive victories in the history of the game. It was a contest abounding in brilliant plays and was watched by more than 20,000 spectators, who filled every seat around the great amphitheater at Yale field. The score stood 28 to 0.

Commissioner Wilson Very Ill.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The condition of Hon. George W. Wilson, commissioner of internal revenue, is very critical. He is weaker, but still retains consciousness. Mrs. Wilson, who was absent from the city when the commissioner was stricken, has returned to the city with her daughter, Mrs. Pardonner.

THE ENVOYS AGREE.

Precise Terms of Settlement Not Made Known.

FAVORABLE NEWS FROM PEKING.

Diplomats Will Be Ready to Meet Chinese Commissioners After Approval of Terms by Their Respective Governments.

PEKING, Nov. 26.—The diplomatic body held a final meeting Saturday and agreed upon the terms of the preliminary treaty. Nothing now remains except to secure the approval of the respective governments before definite negotiations with the Chinese peace commissioners are begun.

The precise terms of the settlement have not yet been made public here, but it is believed outside the diplomatic corps that the main points are in substantial agreement with those contained in the French note to the powers—namely, punishment for the guilty, indemnity to governments and individuals, retention of strong legation guards and the occupation of certain places between Peking and Taku.

A party of American cavalry went to disperse a band of bandits in a village 16 miles from Peking. The village was found strongly fortified, but the Americans attacked and captured it, killing seven Chinese.

A secret edict from Sian-fu to the provincial viceroys and governors orders them to cease the manufacture of modern arms and to revert to the old type of weapons, because modern arms "have proved utterly useless against the foreigners."

ENGLAND SKEPTICAL.

Sees Little Chance For Real Progress at Peking.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—Mild satisfaction is expressed in the London papers this morning at the news that the diplomats in Peking have arrived at a preliminary understanding, but no great confidence seems to be felt that any real step has been made in the endless negotiations. It is recognized that there is little for Germany to do but to concede wherever the United States and Russia agree. The Standard says:

"It is hardly possible for Germany to hold out, deeply offended as she is, if the United States, Russia, France and Japan are disposed to moderation. Our Berlin correspondent believes that Germany is prepared to waive the death penalty."

"The foreign envoys have agreed to demand," says a special dispatch from Peking, "an extension of the legation area so as to embrace everything from the Ha-tu-men gate to the Tsien-men gate, between the walls of the imperial and Tartar cities, a strip a mile long and a third of a mile wide. M. de Giers, Russian minister, has declined to yield on the indemnity question and some kind of a verbal compromise has been arranged."

The Morning Post publishes the following from its Peking correspondent, dated Saturday:

"Wang Wen Chao, now a cabinet minister, has written to Sir Robert Hart from Sian-fu that Emperor Kwang Su would be glad to return to Peking, but that his majesty would 'lose his face' if foreign troops were there."

The Tien-tsin correspondent of The Standard asserts that "the Russian volte face dates from the czar's illness."

Shanghai sends another batch of reports from Chinese sources. Among these is a rumor that the allies have reached Wei-hui-fu, 300 miles east of Sian-fu, and are proceeding westward. Another is that the taotai of Chu-chau-fu, in the province of Che-kiang, has been dismissed, and 16 ringleaders of missionary murders have been captured. A third says that a Chinese official has arrived at the capital of the province of Hu-nan with orders to organize a militia force of 50,000 Boxers.

The Shanghai correspondent of The Daily Express wires that the Russians are assuring the Chinese that the Amur massacres were really repugnant to the Russian officers, but were carried out under orders of Count von Waldersee.

The Shanghai correspondent of The Times telegraphs that advices from Peking say that the United States has refused to join in the demand for the execution of the princes and other high officials.

Our National Banks.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The annual report of Charles G. Dawes, comptroller of the currency, for the year ended Oct. 31, 1899, starts with a summary of the reports made during the year by the national banks in response to the call of the comptroller, which shows the aggregate resources of the 3,871 national banks reporting on Sept. 5, 1900, to be $5,048,138,499.29. Between the September call of 1899 and 1900 loans and discounts increased $170,008,391.46. The loans and discounts on Sept. 5, 1900, were $2,686,759,642.57, and individual deposits were $2,508,248,557.53. The capital stock of national banks reporting on Sept. 5 was $630,299,030. On Oct. 31, 1900, there were 3,935 national banks in operation, with a combined capital of $632,502,395. The combined resources of the national banks being over $5,000,000,000 is greater than at any time heretofore.

Fatal Billiard Room Quarrel.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 26.—Frank H. Hamilton, a Minneapolis newspaper man, is a prisoner at the Central police station with the charge of murder against him as the result of the stabbing to death of Leonard Day, a young millionaire society man of this city, at the West hotel. The tragedy took place in the billiard room of the West hotel at 2 o'clock in the morning after a quarrel participated in by Hamilton, Day and a number of other prominent men.

A Philanthropist Dead.

SOUND BEACH, Conn., Nov. 26.—John W. Hendrie, one of the most prominent and wealthy men of this state and distinguished by his philanthrophy and gifts to educational institutions in various parts of the country, died yesterday morning at his residence here after an illness of several weeks from general debility. He was born Nov. 18, 1821.

High Priced Colt Dead.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 26.—A yearling half brother to Tommy Atkins recently purchased from B. J. Thomas of Lexington by A. Featherstone of Chicago for $7,500 is dead of pneumonia at Kenmore farm.

Griggs' Start in Politics.

When John W. Griggs steps out of President McKinley's cabinet next March and returns to private life in New Jersey, he will have attained a record for public service equalled but by few Jerseymen. Now recognized as one of the "big men" of the country it is interesting to know how he made his start in politics twenty-five years ago.

It was in 1875 that the present United States Attorney-General first stepped into the political arena in Passaic county. He was comparatively a new man, and in his nature had never been at the front of the whirl. He was not "one of the boys." He never was and never will be. It is not in his make-up, but no one ever accused him of heartlessness or deserting a friend. The first time he ran for the Legislature he was pitted against Daniel Demarest, who was one of the sort of Democrats who are dyed in the wool and stay dyed. The district was made up of the Fourth, Fifth and Eighth wards of Paterson, Passaic and Acquackonank, and was fair fighting ground. Demarest put up a great fight, and John W. Griggs came very near being overthrown in this first step toward statesmanship. As it was, he went to the Legislature with about a hundred majority, and the year following, Preston Stevenson was the candidate against him, and Griggs' good luck stood by him once more, but he defeated Preston by only 50 votes.

How He Succeeded.

A western editor tells in The St. Louis Republic of the origin of the great merchant house of B. Nugent & Co., of that city. The head of the firm started in business at Mt. Vernon, Ill., in 1872, on borrowed capital. After having bought a stock of goods Mr. Nugent's first step was to contract for three columns of space for a year in the local newspaper, saying that it was great luck to find a town in which no other merchant advertised. In two years he had made enough money to start two other stores, one in St. Louis and the other at Sedalia, Mo. In both cities he was a heavy advertiser. Now Mr. Nugent is a millionaire, and credits his success largely to newspaper advertising.

The campaign leading up to the city election is to be waged in a much more vigorous manner than was expected immediately after the stunning defeat of the Democrats in the November contest. The nomination of Col. Mason W. Tyler as the Democratic candidate for Mayor, and his acceptance of the candidacy, makes this certain. As the candidate of the Republicans, Dr. Jenkins has the strength and backing of a strong political organization, added to his own personal qualities, which gives him an advantage that a nomination by that party always means. Col. Tyler, however, is so well-known and popular that his selection to head the ticket made by the Democrats makes the contest more even than was expected at first. The election promises to be close.

The improvement of the train service on the Central Railroad of New Jersey, as brought about by the new schedule which went into effect yesterday, is a matter for congratulation and appreciation on the part of the hosts of commuters who live in Plainfield. Every step to lessen the length of time it takes to travel between New York and Plainfield improves the advantages of this city as a residence for New York business men, all of which contributes to the improvement of things in general in the city.

Governor General Allen has issued a Thanksgiving proclamation for Porto Rico. When the people of Porto Rico are given the benefits of self-government they will, indeed, be thankful, but since they are not now living under such rules Governor-General Allen proclaims that improved crops, freer industrial and financial conditions and immunity from pestilence are reasons for public gratitude.

William W. St. John, who has been city editor of The Daily Press for the past five and a-half years, has resigned from the staff of the paper, the resignation to take effect next Saturday.

It costs $30 per head per year to manage municipal affairs in New York.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

County Clerk John Conger, of New Brunswick, gave a banquet Friday evening at the latter place to twenty of his friends. It was the result of an election bet in which Clerk Conger wagered with Mr. Schussler, of New Brunswick, that he did not dare to ride a horse in a big Republican parade the night before election. Mr. Schussler kept his word and the dinner was given by Mr. Conger. Among those present were Senator Reed, Mayor Smalley and P. A. Emmons, of North Plainfield. The favors for the occasion were toy horses made of ice cream.

From 324 illustrations in 1894 to over 1600 in 1900 are the figures which denote the numerical growth and development of the pictorical features in the Ladies' Home Journal in six years. This 400 per cent. increase in number is rather dwarfed by the fact that nearly 1000 per cent. more space is now given to pictures than six years ago, and that the quality, or artistic value, of the illustrations has improved beyond computation. A few years ago magazine making was thought by some to have attained a degree of perfection that precluded further advancement, but it seems to have been in its infancy. The reading public now insists upon illustrations, and in meeting that demand it is safe to say that the pictures printed in the Ladies' Home Journal in 1900 exceed in number, size, quality and cost those published in all the leading magazines ten years ago.

Gentlemen:—I must say in regard to GRAIN-O that there is nothing better or healthier. We have used it for years. My brother was a great coffee drinker. He was taken sick and the doctor said coffee was the cause of it, and told us to use GRAIN-O. We got a package but did not like it at first, but now would not be without it. My brother has been well ever since we started to use it.

THANKSGIVING
....IN OUR BASEMENT....

There is not a brighter basement to be found than ours—not a more cheerful place anywhere in which to make selections of settings for the Thanksgiving table. Not only is it a pleasant place to buy, but it is much more satisfactory than the average store, because you can depend upon everything being just right in quality and moderate in price. It does not take a Sherlock Holmes to tell that you've been wondering how you could make the Thanksgiving Table look prettier than it ever looked, and we've been turning our thoughts in the same direction—we've been wondering how we could provide table prettiness better than ever before and keep the cost down to a point that wouldn't make you feel that you were extravagant in providing appropriately for Thanksgiving Day. The items below will tell how well we have succeeded along both lines.

Dinner Ware Particular attention is directed to our excellent stock of French and English dinner ware. No such stocks have ever been shown in Plainfield before. The best patterns from the leading manufacturers, we have them in 15 different decorations, 5 of which are in open stock, so that you can make up sets to suit your own ideas. NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, November 26.—Beginning with today and for the remainder of the week there will be no session of the schools in the county. This is due to the Teachers' Institute being held at New Brunswick. A number of teachers from the borough will be in attendance part of the time, together with members of the Board of Education.

Bernard Sirisky has recently received from his brother John, a former Dunellen boy, a roster of Co. L, 6th U. S. Infantry, now stationed in the Philippines and of which he is a member. The roster contains pictures of the officers and is otherwise very interesting and ornamental.

A change was made for the first yesterday in the running time of the trolley cars on the Bound Brook-Dunellen division. The first car leaves Bound Brook for Dunellen at 6:45 and 7:45 a. m., then the same as week days. This rule applies only to Sundays.

The Presbyterian pulpit was occupied yesterday by Rev. L. E. Livermore, pastor of the New Market Seventh-day Baptist church. Next Sunday, Rev. N. J. Sroull, the recently called pastor, will preach his first sermon.

Rev. S. K. Doolittle, pastor of the Methodist church, preached a special Thanksgiving service last evening. It was attended in a body by the members of the W. G. Holton Council, all of whom greatly enjoyed the sermon.

The contract case of Howell against Kellogg will be tried in Justice Warden's court this afternoon. The suit is for the recovery of a judgment secured by the plaintiff some time ago.

The marriage of Willard N. Apgar, of the borough, and Miss Jennie M. Apgar, of High Bridge, will be celebrated at the latter place Wednesday evening, Nov. 28th.

Miss Ethel Jamison, of Raritan, was the guest of friends in the borough Saturday.

Miss Carrie Wyhusky has gone to New Brunswick for a week's visit with relatives.

W. H. Cole is making a number of improvements about his coal office.

Charles Tilton is improving slowly from his recent attack of illness.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Nov. 26—Petty thieves still continue to operate in this vicinity, and during the past week several residences have been entered. As usual nothing of value was taken, the burglars being contented with enjoying the contents of ice boxes. It is the general opinion that the depredators do not reside a thousand miles from New Market.

A stray horse belonging to a Plainfield man wandered into town Saturday evening and during the short time that he was at liberty caused considerable damage. It entered Nelson Giles' yard and tipped over two milk cans containing 53 quarts. A third can narrowly escaped. The wanderer was caught in C. T. Rogers' front yard after trampling the lawn. The owner of the horse appeared and settled the damage, but refused to give his name.

Mrs. George DeLong has been in Boston during the past week, where she attended the launching of the torpedo boat destroyer, "DeLong." It was christened by her daughter, Mrs. Miller.

John Donavan left for his home in Ansonia, Conn., Saturday, much to the regret of his many friends in town who have become acquainted with him during his stay here.

Special Thanksgiving services were held in the First Baptist church yesterday, at which Rev. Frank Fletcher preached.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ackerman, of Plainfield, were the guests of Mrs. Ackerman's parents yesterday.

The Lehigh's new time table went into effect yesterday.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, November 26.—Owing to the storm yesterday morning but a small congregation turned out to the Thanksgiving service in the Baptist church. It was decided by Rev. G. M. Shott and the trustees to defer the regular Thanksgiving collection until next Sunday morning, when it is hoped there will be a larger attendance. It has been customary in the past to make this annual offering for some particular charity or home, but this year it will be used in making a number of much needed repairs about the church building, one of which will be the painting of the wood-work of the building on the outside.

The case of Duckinck against Pack, which was to have been tried in Judge Clark's court Saturday, was settled without trial by the defendant paying the full amount with costs.

The regular monthly conquest meeting of the Baptist Young People's Union was held in the parlors of the Baptist church last evening. Dr. Parks led the meeting.

Owing to the inclement weather but a small delegation from Twilight Chuncil attended the Junior service in the Park Avenue Baptist church, of Plainfield, last night.

The trolley company have at last decided to start the fires going in their cars. It is needless to say the improvement meets with the approval of all their patrons.

Louis A. Goodenough, a former principal in the public school, but now of Jersey City, was the guests of friends in town Saturday.

Mayor H. L. Hall, of the borough, who has been dangerously ill for several weeks with typhoid fever, is reported as improving.

Frederick Rose, of Plainfield, was the guest of relatives in town yesterday.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Westfield, Nov. 26.—At the meeting of the township committee, to be held on the coming Friday evening, a petition will be presented asking that a public meeting be held for the purpose of discussing the question of a cross town trolley to run from Westfield to Springfield and thence to Milburn to connect with the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad. The petition also requests that the committee endeavor to have the officials of the Westfield & Elizabeth Street Railway Company, which promised to build the road if the franchise of the main line through Westfield was granted to them, present. The petition is signed by the leading business men and residents of the town.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Nov. 26—Despite the bad weather yesterday the services at the Baptist church were fairly attended. Rev. Mr. Houston, of Elizabeth, will conduct special services every night during the week at 7:30. A song service will be held each night also.

The people of this town who use open wells are glad to see some rain. They feared the ground would freeze up dry and cause a scarcity of water all winter.

Remember the Foresters' ball in Washington hall Friday evening, Nov. 30th.

John Hogan's new house will be completed in about ten days.

Wm. Hamilton expects to build a new house in the spring.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness

Leon W. Washburn's famous Great Southern Minstrels will be seen in all their glory at Music Hall tonight, and all who delight in good shows full of fun, merit and novelty, would do well to put in an early appearance at box office, for there promises to be a large sized audience. Mr. Washburn's companies are always popular here, for the reason that his entertainments are always complete in their detail, and never fail to give unbounded satisfaction. The programme for tonight includes everything that is novel and up-to-date in the minstrel line. The artists are all clever people of reputation and in the rendition of acts, sketches, "coon songs," ballads and witticisms are unexcelled.

. . . . . .

"Uncle Josh Spruceby" will be the Thanksgiving Day offering at Music Hall Thursday afternoon and night. Much interest is being taken in the production as it is said to be very similar to "Way Down East," which is having such a successful run in New York. "Uncle Josh Spruceby" cannot be accused of pirating or copying any of the numerous "rural" plays that are now so successful as it is now in its tenth season on the road. The great realistic saw mill scene in the third act is said to be one of the most realistic stage effects ever produced. The musical features of the "Uncle Josh Spruceby" company are a splendid orchestra of 12 soloists. The two big bands are composed of musicians of merit and the concert and parade given at noon are popular and attract large crowds.

Late Saturday night Manager Maze Edwards effected an important engagement for a performance of "When We Were Twenty-one," Mat Goodwin's great success at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York, last season. The well-known manager, Ed. E. Rice has bought the rights of the play from Mr. Goodwin and has secured George Clark, so long the leading actor in Daly's Theatre, New York, to appear in his remarkable characterization of "Richard Carewe," the part played by Nat Goodwin. Mr. Clarke will undoubtedly create a marked sensation among all lovers of good acting. This is an extraordinary event, and our citizens should see that Managers Rice and Edwards are well repaid for the venture in bringing so great an actor and so celebrated a play. The incidents of "When We Were Twenty-one" are ingenious and the dialogue is brilliant, and sparkling with wit. Mr. Rice has engaged a strong company to supprot George Clarke and no one should lose this opportunity to see this most successful play.

—Neuman Brothers are making a specialty of plum puddings and sauces of all kinds for the Thanksgiving Day dinner.

—For the Thanksgiving table, Huyler's salted almons and confectionery will be appreciated. You can buy them at Neuman Brothers.

THE BENGAL LANCERS.

All England Is Proud of the Bravery Displayed by Them on the March to Peking.

The magnificent performance of the Bengal lancers, on the march of the allied forces to Peking, once more draws attention to the splendid soldiers of which England's Indian forces are composed. Ever since Lady Butler painted her famous picture, Tent-pegging, the Bengal lancers have appealed to the mind of the British public as one of the finest regiments of cavalry in the world. There is little doubt that for perfect discipline and for supreme courage they have few equals in the world.

But, says London Black and White, although less known to the majority of stay-at-home Britons, the other components of our native army are none the less deserving of our admiration. Most of them, like the Afridi and Sikhs in the northwest and the Gurkhas in the northeast, were originally our enemies, and it is the mutual respect born of many a hard tussle that has led to the excellent relations subsisting between these forces and Tommy Atkins. The Gourkhas were the first race in India to check the victorious advance of the British arms. It was in 1814 that we first made their acquaintance and learnt what manner of people we had to deal with. During the attack on Kalanga in that year, the garrison, which consisted of 600 Gourkhas, repeatedly repulsed the assaults of an entire British division, killing Gen. Gillespie, and putting 31 other officers and 750 men out of action. When a two days' bombardment ultimately led them to abandon the post, the survivors, 90 in number, cut their way through our troops, and made good their escape, after having retarded a whole division for a month. During the same siege a Gourkha came out through the fire of our batteries waving his hand. The fire was stopped, and then it transpired that he had had his lower jaw shattered, and had come out to have it dressed by his enemy. His wound was at once attended to, and as soon as it was dressed and bound up, he promptly asked—and, needless to say, obtained—permission to return to his own people, and fight against us again.

In the cases of both classes of hill tribes, both the Gourkhas and the latest addition to our native army, the Afridi, fighting is a natural instinct. They fight as the Britisher takes part in field sports—it is as much a part of their very being, and is undertaken in just the same happy-go-lucky, dare-devil spirit.

Accepted the Lowest Bid

The statement that has been recently circulated that the street committee of the city is paying $1 05 per ton for crushed stone, when they have recently been offered stone at 65 cents, is denied by the committee. The city is under contract with Smalley Bros. until next March at $1 05. When bids were advertised for only two firms bid for the work, one at $1.10 and Smalley Brothers at $1 05, and they received the contract as they were the lowest.

Freie Städte.

Hamburg. Die „Hamburg-Amerika"-Gesellschaft hat den vom „Norddeutschen Lloyd" abgelehnten und von ihr von der Schichauer Werft in Elbing probeweise übernommenen Dampfer „Kaiser Friedrich" aus ihrer New Yorker Linie ausgeschaltet und den Dampfer seinen Erbauern, der Firma Schichau, zurückgegeben.—Da in letzter Zeit wiederholt deutsche Schiffe in englischen Häfen wegen Ueberladung einen Theil ihrer Ladung wieder löschen mußten, so beschloß die See-Berufsgenossenschaft die Einführung der Tiefladelinie. Zu diesem Zweck ist der Kapitän Jansen, bisher Führer des Dampfers „Aragonia," von der Genossenschaft angestellt worden.—Von der dänischen Regierung an Deutschland ausgeliefert wurde ein internationaler Hochstapler, der Buchhalter Gustav Hellström, der im Laufe dieses Jahres in den Hotels verschiedener großer Städte Schwindeleien beging und auch andere Geschäfte, sowie Pensionate um beträchtliche Beträge betrog. Der Industrieritter pflegte als Offizier oder Arzt aufzutreten. Er wurde in Kopenhagen verhaftet und der Hamburger Kriminalpolizei übergeben.

Bremen. Auf stadtbremisches Preisausschreiben für den Häuserblock am Kaiser Wilhelm-Platz gingen 51 Entwürfe deutscher Architekten ein; den ersten Preis von 3000 Mark erhielten Schaedtler und Müller-Hannover, den zweiten Emil Hagberg-Friedenau, den dritten Fastje und Schaumann-Hannover.—Der Bremer Viermaster „H. Bischoff," mit Salpeter nach Hamburg bestimmt, strandete in der Nähe von Kuxhaven. Ein Theil der Mannschaft rettete sich im Boot in ein Feuerschiff. Die übrigen acht Mann der Besatzung ertranken. Ein zur Rettung der Schiffbrüchigen abgegangenes Boot kenterte, wobei die vier Insassen desselben ebenfalls um's Leben kamen.

I am a farmer located near Stony Brook, one of the most malarious districts in this State, and was bothered with malaria for years, at times so I could not work, and was always very constipated as well. For years I had malaria so bad in the spring, when engaged in plowing, that I could do nothing but shake. I must have taken about a barrel of quinine pills besides dozens of other remedies, but never obtained any permanent benefit. Last fall, in peach time, I had a most serious attack of chills and then commenced to take Ripans Tabules, upon a friend's advice, and the first box made me all right and I have never been without them since. I take one Tabule each morning and night and sometimes when I feel more than usually exhausted I take three in a day. They have kept my stomach sweet, my bowels regular and I have not had the least touch of malaria nor splitting headache since I commenced using them. I know also that I sleep better and wake up more refreshed than formerly. I don't know how many complaints Ripans Tabules will help, but I do know they will cure any one in the condition I was and I would not be without them at any price. I honestly consider them the cheapest-priced medicine in the world, as they are also the most beneficial and the most convenient to take. I am twenty-seven years of age and have worked hard all my life, the same as most farmers, both early and late and in all kinds of weather, and I have never enjoyed such good health as I have since last fall; in fact, my neighbors have all remarked my improved condition and have said, "Say, John, what are you doing to look so healthy?"

WANTED:—A case of bad health that RIPANS will not benefit. They banish pain and prolong life. One gives relief. Note the word RIPANS on the package and accept no substitute. RIPANS, 10 for 5 cents, may be had at any drug store. Ten samples and one thousand testimonials will be mailed to any address for 5 cents, forwarded to the Ripans Chemical Co., No. 10 Spruce St., New York.

PRETTY WOMAN SPY.

Used Her Wiles on British Officers in South Africa.

Obtained Information for the Boer Commander Worth a King's Ransom—Met Her Match in Gen. Kitchener.

One of the most fascinating stories of the war that have as yet found their way into print was told in the London Daily News by that journal's brilliant war correspondent, A. G. Hales.

It is the story of a woman whose remarkable personality and still more remarkable cunning, enabled her to play the part of Kruger's spy to perfection and to entrap British officers into parting with precious military secrets, the knowledge of which by the Boers was the direct cause of some of our greatest disasters.

Here is Mr. Hales' description of this South African witch:

"She was a woman of about 30 years of age. Madame was of German or Swedish nationality, married to a Russian civil engineer. She was not a beauty, but her face was full of charm, her eyes had the gift of eloquence, and she could say more without opening her mouth than most women can impart who possess a tireless tongue. She could be gay or sad, pathetic, pleading, or imperious at will."

Her first mission was among the Boer women in the Free State and Natal.

"When she left Johannesburg on her frequent trips she was not wasting her time, as folk fancied. From town to town, from farm to farm, she went with a restless activity, organizing a system of spying among the Boer women. It was madame who arranged that when our troops arrived anywhere in Natal or the Free State the wives of the farmers and their best looking daughters should visit our lines with fresh eggs, fresh butter and other little luxuries. She instructed them to take note of the number of men in each camp, the number of guns, and the quantity and condition of our horses. Each was advised to send all information so gleaned promptly to the nearest Boer commando, and right well

WOMAN SPY OF THE BOERS.
(How She Used Her Wiles on Her Majesty's Officers.)

they obeyed her when the time for action came."

Presently she established herself at Cape Town, in a sweet, secluded villa, and "looked pathetic in her loneliness." Among others who fell under the spell of her fascination was a certain British officer of the bluest blood—a man with "a pretty face, soft blue eyes, and a brain to match." Mr. Hales describes him as a poltroon in war and a simpleton in all else. He was the witch's shadow.

"He thought he was fooling the green grass widow, but she 'knew' she was squeezing him dry. All that she gathered from him went rapidly, either by trusty messenger or his code prearranged to Delagoa Bay, and from there it soon found its way into the hands of the Boer leaders, who laughed heartily around their mess tables at the doings in the 'little nest' at Cape Town.

"At first the noble one had madame to himself, but as his information petered out she snared others, and he had many rivals, and from each she gathered something of use to her and her Boer friends. Like a skillful angler, she played them all, varying her play to suit her fish.

"And all the time our generals at the front, battling for a nation's honor and a nation's trust, wondered how, in the name of all that was evil, the Boer commanders always forestalled them in every important move.

"But Delilah met her match in Kitchener.

"She ran her eyes over the tall, gaunt figure, the rugged, ugly face. She looked into the prominent all-seeing eyes, and knew at a glance that she was face to face with a magnetism stronger than her own, and nothing would induce her to go near him again.

"By and by this extraordinary creature began to feel she was suspected. So she went up-country for a change of air.

"Wherever she went she was welcomed by our officers, and it was a noticeable fact that disaster to our arms followed her friendship. A time at last arrived when she found it absolutely necessary to confer with the Boer leaders. She had our whole military system at her finger's ends, the gist of things she had sent to her friends, but full details could only be conveyed by word of mouth. So she determined to make the effort. Dyeing herself as black as the inside of a camel with nitrate of silver and logwood, she stood transfigured as a Kaffir woman, and it was then that her glorious figure stood her in good stead. From farm to farm right through the Free State, on to Pretoria, she was passed. And in Pretoria she gave the Boers information worth a king's ransom."

And so Delilah nearly ruined the British Samson. At present she is supposed to be in London.

THE MODE.

Characteristics of the Fashionable Winter Wardrobe.

It is not possible to overestimate the extent of the employment of cloth. A new wedding gown even is of ivory white cloth, trimmed with ruches composed of tiny ostrich tips.

The arrangement of the hair of a bride should always be compact, as the veil adds to its apparent bulk, and the head must not appear too large. Tulle veils are often worn over the face or falling at the sides, but lace veils, being of a heavier and thicker quality, are arranged at the back of the head. The cluster of orange blossoms worn in the hair is small and flat instead of being tall, as formerly, and sometimes it is replaced by a little garland of the flowers carried around the coil of the hair.

SILK BODICE.

A bright and beautiful shade of red has been introduced for this winter's wear, and there are entire hats composed of it, with accompaniments of boas to match, made of mousseline de soie, crepe de chine, chenille, velvet loops and all sorts of materials, alone or in combination.

Today's illustration shows a bodice of tucked red silk. The bolero has the tucks running obliquely and is outlined by an application of black and white lace. The yoke and collar have the tucks a little finer and running straight. The sleeves of oblique tucking are of half length, finished with lace applications, and below them are full sleeves of white silk, with a puff of lace, gathered into a cuff of red silk. WINTER FASHIONS.

Styles and Materials For Cold Weather Gowns.

Cloth, cashmere so thick as to be almost cloth, and homespun are the favorite winter materials. Cloth in particular is extensively used for elaborate toilets in mastic, pale gray, dove gray, white, cream, lilac and pastel blue, these delicate tints being most fashionable.

Mohair braid is profusely used to trim street gowns. It forms stripes, chevrons and similar designs not merely upon a part of the skirt or bodice, but often all over one or the other, giving the effect of an embroidered or striped material.

The foot of this winter's skirts is in many cases to be ornamented with plaitings of various kinds, and all skirts are to be a little more ample than they have been heretofore.

The illustration given today shows a costume of figured velvet in two tones of violet. The skirt is ornamented in front by four stitched bands of plain violet silk, fastened at the lower ends by buttons. The tight coat bodice has a short basque. The vest is of plain violet velvet; the double revers, ornamented with buttons, of violet silk like the skirt straps. The vest is fastened by buttons and cords. The sleeves of figured velvet are large at the wrist, showing a puff of plain violet velvet. The turned over collar is likewise of velvet, and the cravat also. The plastron and inside collar are white. The hat of black felt is trimmed with black, curled ostrich plumes and a long, jeweled buckle.

YOUNG GIRLS' ATTIRE.

Simplicity Prevails Among the Well Dressed.

Great simplicity marks the toilet of correctly dressed young girls, but all the details, as well as the cut of the garments, are perfect. The skirt is round and is plain except for a watteau plait or group of stitched plaits at the back. The bolero or bodice is short. For nice gowns fine plain goods are chiefly chosen, while for ordinary use a great deal of mixed or fancy material is seen.

A new toque for a young girl is of felt, with a band of ribbon velvet running in and out of the brim through slits cut for its passage.

A pretty boa for a young girl is of black net, which forms a ruche around the neck, terminating at each side in front in two long ends, which fall to the knees. This is simple and so becoming that many older women are likely to adopt it.

The picture shows a girl's costume of red cloth. The skirt is laid in large box plaits, with panels of black velvet between them. The blouse bodice is crossed in front and fastened with buckles and tiny bows of velvet. The shawl collar and revers are of black velvet, corded with red at the scalloped edges, and the straight collar and plastrons are of red and black striped silk. The red cloth sleeves terminate at the elbow, the lower part consisting of a puff of striped silk, gathered into a black velvet cuff. The belt also is of black velvet. The black felt hat is trimmed with red ribbon and black ostrich feathers.

NEW CLOTHS.

The Favorite Material For Plain and Elaborate Gowns.

Cloth continues to be a most fashionable fabric and has occupied the prominent place so long that it would seem as if the silk industry must have seriously suffered in consequence. Beginning in the tailor made domain, cloth has gradually encroached until many of the most elegant and elaborate costumes are composed of it, and it is seen in a great variety of thickness and surface. The cloth called "pastel" is thin, fine and delicate as crepe de chine almost and is found in the most pale and subtle tints. It is suitably combined with embroideries of gold and silver, with lace, mousseline de soie and fur. Then there are heavy cloths in deep tones which compose rich mantles and sober but elegant out of door costumes. Wood brown of all shades and deep blues are favorite colors for these gowns, and clear reds are also seen, which are very attractive for young girls and women.

The illustration given in today's issue shows a golf cape of navy blue double faced rough cloth. The wrong side is a plaid of cream and lighter blue and forms an outside facing in front, edged with mixed woolen fringe. The capuchon is of plaid, bordered with fringe and fastened with buttoned tabs. The tall collar is plaid inside. The hat of navy blue felt is trimmed with lighter blue tulle and cream feathers. BOB BURDETTE Takes a Trip Abroad.

He Crosses the English Channel and Becomes a Foreigner at Last.

[Copyright, 1900, by Robert J. Burdette.]

NEVER was a foreigner before. Been a native for more than half a hundred years. Have always exalted my horn and boasted myself, and made it my chief joy and high-blown pride that I was something I didn't make myself and couldn't help being; a virtue that I couldn't avoid and that I couldn't have dodged if I had known a year before I was born that it was coming my way. When I was a boy I naturally and humanly hated all foreigners; well-nigh shook my faith in the Bible when I learned that Goliath wasn't a Pennsylvanian. When I cast my first vote I had merely a feeling of contempt for them; and as I grew older and that gentle, patient, loving teacher, old Father Time, taught me moderation, charity and justice in a series of lessons, some of which made my hair curl, I began to pity and to tolerate them.

And now in my old age, after having been a native so many years that I cannot possibly be anything else, I find that after all I am a foreigner, with any one or all of the various and several participles that, by common and kindly consent, are invariably yoked with that unhappy designation. I am It. In a strange land, which, however, has a marvelous faculty and remarkable facilities for getting very rapidly acquainted, which sometimes increases and intensifies the sense of "strangeness"—in the vine-clad hills of the sunny land of France (although in this immediate portion of it the vine-clad hills are bottled, but not corked, and they do not stay bottled very long here—among a people wearing singular neckties and weird funned-shaped trousers, a people speaking a voluble language at the rate of 1,000 sounds (for the speech, which is spoken to please that critical instructor, Hamlet, "trippingly upon the tongue," is not divided into words as is the English, or even phrases, like the "pigeon English") a minute, and speaking it all together and at the same time, day and night, without ceasing, with never a pause for reply, assent or applause—in a land of intricate, inimitable, graceful and eloquent gestures which do outrun the vocal speech, I am a foreigner.

I FIND THAT AFTER ALL I AM A FOREIGNER.

Easy Lines for a Wayfaring Man.

You see, it has always seemed so absurd to me, so utterly inexcusable, that any human being should not be able to speak and to understand the English language. My teachers, indeed, did instruct me with history on their lips, truth in their brains and a lithe and flexible rod in the other hand which was ever nearest me, that English was a modern language, and that I could neither read, speak nor understand my great-greatgrandmother tongue as she was wrote by Chaucer. But while I was in no position to contradict them, I was never able to think of the dramatic scene of the bewildering dispersion at Babel without plainly seeing and hearing in the foreground of that chaos of misunderstanding an impatient and indignant United States-speaking Englishman waving aside the jargoning multitudes with imperious hand, consigning all the crowds that gestured and chattered around him to the everlasting bow-wows in good, round, mouth-filling English, for a "mob of bloomin' furriners," as he put the "broad arrow" mark of confiscation on all the unused material of the tower and strode forth to colonize, assimilate and "scientifically bound" all the best places in the earth. I may have been misled by my childish prejudices. Indeed, for a long time I even considered the English—people; and, if such a thing might now be believed, I thought the Irish were foreigners. Which is absurd. And even unto this hour of my day, which is about three o'clock in the afternoon, I have held that the people of the United States were natives, and that all peoples not speaking some dialect of the many-tongued English language were born and continued to be, unless naturalized, foreigners, inhabiting undesirable quarters of the globe. And now to find myself one of them!

Same Kind, But a Misfit.

Somehow a foreigner doesn't fit into the community to which he is foreign. This is a surprise akin to a shock to the foreigner, and a sort of irritation to the community. When I landed here in Paris I told a man in good, plain English what I wanted. He replied, without the slightest provocation, with a distracting volley of rapid-fire French. I couldn't understand a word of it, probably, if he fired by files, a syllable pellet at a time. But when he turned loose a rapid fusillade of dum-dum verbs and nouns and many-jointed adjectives, it was a direct violation of all the laws of civilized conversational warfare. I repeated my very reasonable remark in the language of Shakespeare—at least, a prose imitation of it—and it only made the for— I mean the native—worse. Then I began to lose my temper. You see it is a very small one and it is easy to lose very frequently. I said, very distinctly, speaking so that the other natives could hear me, to show them that I wasn't to be trifled with: "I want you to take charge of this baggage, and show me the way to the customs, and if you can't understand me, quit talking, and say so, and I'll find a man who can."

I knew I should make myself understood. The man laughed merrily, smote me in the face with a thousand words in a scattering bunch, pointed in all directions at once with every finger on both hands, and ran away out of sight with my baggage before I could shout "police." I shut my eyes, turned around twice or thrice, opened them at random, walked in the direction in which I happened to be looking, and went straight to the customs officers. I had guessed right the very first time. As I passed through a gate, however, an official stopped me.

"What do you want?" I said.

His reply was something that no American family paper would print for a dollar a line and that I couldn't write or translate for $50.

"All right," I said, "everything wide open," and I opened the handbag I happened to be carrying. He nodded, smiled radiantly, stirred up the handbag as you would beat an egg, and said something which ended with an interrogation point.

"Not on your happy life," I said, and he nodded and bowed me through the gate as respectfully as though he owed me two years on subscription. When I got to the customs, there stood the smiling and incomprehensible for— IV. Frenchmen, I mean—with all my luggage accurately collected and easily accessible, lined up in a row. I began to unstrap the biggest and most complicated trunk, when the inspector said something which sounded like "lazy."

"All right," said I, "if you want it done any quicker, do it yourself." And I dropped the strap I was working on and handed him the keys. He nodded, smiled and chalked the trunk. I had guessed right three times and felt proud of myself. The officer said something that ended with the rising inflection.

"Not a cent," I shouted, "cross my heart, besides, I don't smoke." He smiled, paused irresolutely with the chalk in his hand, and pointed to the smallest trunk with another conundrum-like remark.

"Not one," I declared, wishing for a dollar that I knew what he was saying, "I had one, but I gave it to the dock steward."

And with a winsome smile he chalked all the other luggage. Now that was easy. We didn't have a bit of trouble save when we tried to talk French. While I was fraternizing with the customs officers, Madame, whose radiantly eloquent countenance anybody can understand, had secured transportation for a family of four foreigners and their luggage, and when I returned, triumphant and penniless, she was chatting in the liveliest English with the driver—whose name, I learned, was Coshay—I used to know a family of Coshays in Peoria—shouldn't wonder at all if he was one of them. I remember now, one of the boys did have a hare lip, and always talked kind of funny—and half a dozen porters, who were assisting with the luggage and giving general information about a new play that seems to be all the rage. I couldn't make out what they thought about it; all I could catch was the name—something or other "sonteems." I don't suppose it's worth going to.

However, I went to it, just the same. Several dozen times, before I got clear of that crowd. I'm learning. The boys have their hats full of Belmont and Haverford French, and whenever they had enough fun with me, they threw out the life line and dragged me ashore.

HE REPLIED WITH A RAPID FIRE VOLLEY OF FRENCH.

The Shoemaker and the Last.

The trouble with the native when he finds himself suddenly and unexpectedly transformed into a full-grown foreigner, with Minerva-like completeness of equipment and a small Eiffel tower of Babel superfluity of obsolete language, is that he rashly undertakes to use the other foreigner's language, which he never heard in all his life and of which he doesn't know a word, instead of sticking to his own, with which he is perfectly familiar. He puts himself at a deadly disadvantage the moment he steps out upon the thin ice of an unknown tongue. If you go abroad—I mean, if you come over here—stick to your mother tongue and do a heap of guessing, and if you are past school age, do not waste one minute of time trying to learn anything about nouns. In these busy days a man over 40, who has time to attempt to acquire a new language has a whole Sahara of time that isn't good for anything else. If you have learned colloquial and grammatical French in ten easy lessons without a teacher, your speech, when you land here, will be as incomprehensible as a cathedral service. Which is impossible.

Speak with No Uncertain Sound.

If the native with whom you are endeavoring to hold sweet converse appears to be obstinately averse to understanding good English, yell at him. Holler! The gift of tongues doesn't depend so much upon the intellectual capacity for soaking up a new language as it does upon broad-chested lung power and brazen organs of phonation. Any political speaker knows that. The man who has nothing under the heavens to say always roars at the top of his leather lungs, and every soul in the house stays to the last reverberating echo to hear him say it. You know that. And if you haven't much voice—Guess. Down at the heart of things there is a very strong family resemblance between all members of the human race, and there is in every tongue, I believe, some faint echo of the common language everybody spoke before the muddle at Babel—and that, as everybody knows, was Welsh. If you have mixed up pretty thoroughly with your own people all your life, you won't have much difficulty getting along with other people. A daily contact—a heart-to-heart acquaintance with your neighbors develops and cultivates the qualities that go to make up a successful, companionable neighborly foreigner. The French people, for instance, are not more different from the American people than the people of Boston are from the Georgia cracker. Well, I have been a guest in some highly cultured homes in Boston, and I have partaken the homely hospitality of the "cracker." And I have found the people in both these latitudes, highest and wisest, lowest and simplest. "Which ones are the highest and wisest?" Ah, well; you tell, son you asked it—very much alike in certain vital points of character and speech. Each can readily understand the other if they will stick to the common necessities of life and stay away from transcendentalism, Ibsen and Browning. When they drift out there of course they cease to understand each other themselves, and everybody else, and the simple bill of fare becomes as blind as a weather map.

Simple Phrases.

One good general rule for a foreigner in any land is always, invariably, under all circumstances, to smile when any remark is addressed to him. Smile as though your heart was busting with gratification and irrepressible mirth. Keep on being a villain all you will, but smile all the time. And in England every time you smile, say "thank you," with a rising inflection on the last syllable of "you." Woman prods your eye out with an umbrella—"thank you!" Cab runs over you—"thank you!" Always say "thank you" when the conversation flags a little. When Matthew Arnold was in America, he accidentally stumbled against a man at a Broadway crossing; the shock pushed the man off the sidewalk, and a passing bicycle caught him under the counter and threw him underneath a street sweeper which was passing, and it rolled the man up in the circular broom for a couple of revolutions. And just because the man said: "Oh, dummit!" instead of "thank you," Matthew Arnold went home and wrote that we had a "low type of manners." In France you must say "Wee-wee" on every occasion. I don't suppose it means anything at all; it is just something to say when nothing else occurs, to you, or when anybody says anything to you, or when the conversation shows symptoms of perishing, which in Paris is impossible.

For the benefit of another class of foreigners—there are foreigners of several distinct nationalities,—I might add that in order to make himself thoroughly understood on any topic in the United States he must strew the path of every sentence with "Andah — and-ah — and-ah." If he wishes to make himself especially clear, he might insert an occasional "er-um." The foreigner of this class will also bear in mind that there are but three adjectives in colloquial United States—grand, nice and awful. "Grand" is applied to a good cup of coffee, "nice" to Niagara falls and the Canyon of the Colorado, and "awful" to everything under the sun. An American is never fully and accurately impressed with the flexibility, breadth and infinite variety of the English language, in all the delicate shadings of its vocabulary, until he travels, and notes the pathetic poverty of other languages.

ROBERT J. BURDETTE.

Dog Died for a Child.

John Lynch, of Coraopolis, Pa., gave an order for a monument over the grave of a water spaniel named Fido which had twice saved his children from death. The other day the animal noticed his four-year-old daughter try to cross in front of a trolley car. The dog ran into her and forced her off the track in safety, but the dog was crushed to death. Three years ago Fido pulled Charley Lynch, aged six years, out of the river. Fido had taken many prizes at the bench shows. Mr. Lynch refused $500 for him.

Bride's Name Turned Off.

Electricity lent its aid to a marriage celebrated recently in Cleveland. Above the bride's head was an elaborate device, with her name in small electric lights. Above the groom appeared a similar decoration, save that it was his name that sparkled there. All through the ceremony the lights burned brilliantly, but at the words, "I pronounce you man and wife," the bride's name was "turned off."

Watch Indicates Many Things.

An employe of the Elgin watch factory has just completed a watch that indicates, besides the time of day, the day of the week, day of the month, month of the year and the seconds of the hours. The dial was made in Switzerland. John Wyss, the watchmaker, constructed all the parts except the dial from crude materials.

But the Man.

Such is the common kinship of mankind,
That if Fate cast two men, deaf, dumb and blind—
One, from an ocean liner, bright and new,
The other from a dug-out log canoe;
One, learned with six or seven kinds of ologies,
Stuffed with the lore of half a dozen colleges,
And t'other just a savage, reeking raw,
Gabbling a gibberish that wrenched his jaw—
On some midocean island, wrecked together,
They'd talk, in fifteen minutes, 'bout the weather.
For it's a fact, in nation, tribe or clan,
It ain't the words you "savvy," but the man.

SPORTING.

ON THE GRIDIRON.

The football season will close in Plainfield Thanksgiving Day, when the Alis A. A. will line up in the morning against the Bayonne Field Club. The game will begin at 10 o'clock. The Bayonne team is quite strong and promises a good contest. It is composed of young men who can play good, but clean football. The Alis team will be somewhat strengthened. Special facilities will be made to accommodate a large crowd. The Bayonne team has posted a forfeit, so there need be no fear of failure on their part to play.

For the third time this season the Plainfield High School football eleven defeated the team from the North Plainfield High School Saturday on Martine Common. The score was 6 to 0. The summary:

PLAINFIELD H. S.		N. PLAINFIELD H. S.
Monroe	right end	Farlee
Bridgeman	right tackle	Fritz
Scull	right guard	G. Schuck
Cubberley	centre	Evans
Denton	left guard	B. Schuck
Conant	left tackle	Stevens
Meeker	left end	Emmons
VanAuken	quarter back	Hamilton
Hallock	right half back	Roseberry
Bulkley	left half back	Chamberlain
Ford	full back	O'Brien

Sco.e—Plainfield, 6; North Plainfield, 0. Touchdown—Hallock. Goal from touchdown—VanAuken. Referee—Thomas U. Smith. Umpire—A. Willis West. Time of halves—Fifteen minutes.

General surprise prevailed in local football circles Saturday afternoon when The Daily Press bulletin first announced to the Plainfield public that Yale had defeated Harvard 28 to 0. It was generally believed and hoped that Yale would win but the unexpected largeness of the score surprised everybody. There was but little money wagered on the game in town as Harvard backers were few and far between. Only a small contingent of Plainfielders were present at the game itself.

GOLF

A mixed foursome was to have been played on the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club course Saturday afternoon, but some of the players failed to put in an appearance on account of the disagreeable weather.

The trophy to be played for by the clubs of the East Jersey Golf League in the individual championship tournament next Friday and Saturday, is given by J. Campbell Cory, president of the League. It will become the personal property of the winner.

The match game at golf between the Newark and Hillside teams will be played at Newark Thanksgiving morning and the following will represent the home team: J. Whitney Baker, W. L. Glenney, Willard Wadsworth, J. H. P. Wharton and F. O. Reinhart. This is an exceptionally strong team and Hillside should have no trouble in defeating her opponents. Messrs. Croker and DeGoll, the Newark players who caused the trouble in the first match, will not be allowed to play.

—DeWitt,s Witch Hazel Salve wil quickly heal the worst burns and scalds and not leave a scar. It can be applied to cuts and raw surfaces with prompt and soothing effect. Use it for piles and skin diseases. Beware of worthless counterfeits. L. W. Randolph.

Use Allen's Foot-Ease in Your Gloves.

A lady writes: "I shake Allen's Foot-Ease into my gloves and rub a little on my hands. It saves my gloves by absorbing perspiration. It is a most dainty toilet powder." We invite the attention of physicians and nurses to the absolute purity of Allen's Foot-Ease. Dr. W. C. Abbott, editor of the Chicago Clinic, says: "It is a grand preparation; I am using it constantly in my practice." All drug and shoe stores sell it, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. [CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.]

land; American steel-bridges in Africa; American watches in Egypt; Yankee made battle-ships for Russia; the peerless Oregon and matchless Kearsarge, these are a crowning vindication of the efficiency of the American public school. Brethren, put your souls into the work of defending the school; and strengthening public sentiment against those who attack the school. The public school is in America to stay—nail that sentiment to your mast head."

Speaking about the relation of the Bible to the inculcation of Christian morality in the school, the speaker said: "The Bible was removed from the school at the behest of designing ecclesiastics, and the too willing politician. Now rise up and assert your American manhood; to preserve the sacred features of our National life, the Bible must be restored to its rightful place in the school. Put the Bible back in the public school, tho' it gives the ecclesiastics hysterics Put the Bible back tho' the political boss declares it inexpedient. Put the Bible back, on each teacher's desk, in every public school room in America."

PARTICULAR MENTION.

F. A. Dunham, of this city, is expected to return this week from Tennessee, where he has been for some time on business.

Miss Lizzie Smalley, of Craig place, who has been the efficient and obliging bookkeeper at the meat market of David C. Smalley, North avenue, will give up her position this week, to take a much-needed rest.

AN INDIAN ROMANCE.

Four Braves Killed in Fighting for the Hand of Mocking Bird, a Seminole Belle.

The annual sun dance of the Florida Seminoles is over. Mocking-Bird, daughter of the chief of the little band at Turtle Mound, is dead. Four braves of the depleted tribe lie buried in the same stretches of hot sand. Love and death have played out their little drama in the everglades, and the hut of the chief and the tepees of his people are in mourning.

Mocking-Bird, 17 year old, was the belle of the tribe. It was no fault of hers that her father's young men looked on her with eyes of love. It was no fault of hers that she hesitated in the choice of a husband.

And with this hesitation the hopes of her suitors grew.

Four young men, by common agreement, were considered to have found equal favor in her eyes. She smiled upon them all with impartiality. It was this manifesto of impartiality, indeed, that awoke the raging jealousies of the lovers. As time went on these ragings grew, until the time of the sun dance grew near. At this festival season it was thought that Mocking-Bird would make her choice, and only the hopes that had come of her impartial favors made each young brave believe in his own foreordination to happiness.

But only one might be chosen, and when out of the mazes of the sun dance Mocking-Bird dropped her eyes to the amorous glance of Eagle Feather, while the red blood rose surging to her brown cheeks, four pairs of black eyes saw the surrender—one of them with exultation; three of them with fierce gleams of hatred.

Round and round in the dance they sped until Eagle Feather and Mocking-Bird, breathless, passed out of the throng.

No one to-day knows what followed. Suddenly a blow was struck. A hoarse savage cry followed it, and then in a lightning flash of steel Eagle Feather and one of his rivals were fighting with hunting knives. Two more dark figures closed in, the dancers formed in a great circle about the fighters, while with eyes turned away from it all, Mocking-Bird knelt and prayed for the life of one of them to the Great Spirit.

Four men lay dead on the ground bleeding when the fight was over. Two of them were dead; two of them dying. Eagle Feather, gasping, was laid in the arms of Mocking-Bird, and dumb and dry-eyed she watched his life go out. And long after the heart was still she sat on the ground, dumbly holding to him as if she would not have him go.

Then, in the silence of the night she slipped out of the low doorway, turned toward the sluggish river that lapped the fringe of the forest, and from the low bank, under which the quartered moon shimmered, she dropped into the water almost without a sound.

BARNEY IN TROUBLE.

Predicament of a Patrolman Who Has a Smart Wife.

After a Protracted Discussion Mr. Flynn Comes to the Conclusion That He Is Not as Smart as His Better Half.

Elliott Flower tells in the Century the following more or less veracious story of Patrolman Flynn:

There was a persistent pop, pop, pop in the alley back of the house, and Mrs. Flynn put her head out of the kitchen door to see what was the matter.

"What are ye doin' out there, Barney?" she asked.

"Practicin' wid me gun," answered Barney.

"Oho!" exclaimed Mrs. Flynn. "Practicin' wid yer gun, is it? Ye're a new man on the foorce, an' ye think ye've got to be blazin' away at ivery barn door in the wa-ard. Tell me, now, isn't there an orjinance ferninst shootin' in the city limits?"

At this Patrolman Flynn thoughtfully scratched his head.

"Right ye are," he said at last; "but 'tis for the gazabo widout the shtar that the orjinance was made."

"Does yer book tell ye that?" demanded Mrs. Flynn.

Patrolman Flynn pulled a summary of the principal ordinances and the rules and regulations of the department from his pocket and looked through it slowly and carefully.

"Does it tell ye," demanded Mrs. Flynn, again, "that an officer of the la-aw kin make a shootin' gallery of the alley bechune his house an' the one next behind it?"

"It does not," admitted the patrolman, regretfully.

"Doesn't it tell ye to pinch the man that shoots in the city limits?"

"Mary, I'll not lie to ye," answered Patrolman Flynn, after a moment of reflection; "it says that same."

"Then 'tis for ye, Barney Flynn," asserted his better half, decisively, "to take yerself to the station an' cha-arge yerself wid disorderly conduct."

Patrolman Flynn winced. The reasoning was clear, but he objected to the conclusion.

BACK YARD ARGUMENT.

("What Are Ye Doin' Out There, Barney?" Asked Mrs. Flynn.)

"I rayfuse," he said, at length, "to go wid meself."

"Oho!" cried Mrs. Flynn. "Rafuse to go, is it? Here ye are caught by yerself vi'latin' an orjinance, an' ye rayfuse to be arristed. Barney, ye'll be after havin' the cha-arge of raysistin' an officer ferninst yer name, too. 'Tis for ye to bat yerself on the head wid a club an' jerk yerself off to the station whether ye will or no."

"'Twould be a sha-ame, Mary," protested Patrolman Flynn, "for me, bein' the fri'nd to meself that I am, to be that rough wid meself. Ye'd not have me be too ha-ard on a fri'nd, would ye?"

"Oho!" exclaimed Mrs. Flynn, again, by way of answer. "Derryfickshun av juty it is! I kin see ye, Barney, walkin' the ca-arpet in the capt'in's office, an' he tellin' ye something av juty an' fri'ndship, an' that ye're laid off foor days widout pay."

"Anyhow," persisted the patrolman. "I'm not shtrong enough to arrist meself. 'Tis too tough a job. I'm a desp'rate man when I'm roused, Mary, an' 'tis not the likes of me nor annyone else that kin lay the hand av the la-aw on meself widout havin' to go to the doctor."

"I see ye now, oh, I see ye now, Barney," went on Mrs. Flynn, "I see ye readin' a notice on the board at the station, an' it says that Barney Flynn is discharged from the foorce for cowardice. That's what it says, Barney; an' it says more. It says that Barney Flynn is charged wid disorderly conduct, an' shootin' in the city limits, an' raysistin' an officer, an' corruptin' the foorce by wo-orkin' the fri'ndship racket, an' that anny officer meetin' him will call the wagon an' run him in."

Patrolman Flynn heaved a deep sigh.

"Mary," he said, "ye wanted me to do a little wo-ork in the house the while I'm off juty."

"I did, Barney," she answered.

"I'll do it," asserted Patrolman Flynn, with another sigh. "'Tis a tight hole I got meself in, Mary, an' me head's swimmin' wid all the troubles an the rules. 'Tis likely a little wo-ork'll make things easier for me."

"'Tis likely it will," retorted Mary, grimly; and Patrolman Flynn put his official dignity and his revolver in his pocket, and tackled the plebeian task of mending a wash tub, meanwhile muttering to himself something about a woman who had "a reg-lar la-awyer's head on her."

SOMETHING ABOUT REPUBLICAN NOMINEE

Short Sketch of the Man Who is to Head G. O. P. Ticket in Coming Election.

HAS MADE NO PROMISES.

HIS AIM, IF ELECTED, WILL BE TO CONTINUE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION.

Dr. Jenkins Was Born and Bred in Plainfield—Is Now Forty-eight Years Old—Has Been Councilman and School Trustee.

Dr. Olin L. Jenkins, who has been chosen by the Republicans to head their ticket at the coming municipal election, is a familiar figure in this city, where he is now a practicing physician. Born and bred here, he naturally has a very large circle of friends among the people of Plainfield. Whether they favor his election to the Mayoralty or not, the citizens of this city have only the highest respect for him.

Dr. Jenkins is eminently a man of the people. He was born in Plainfield forty eight years ago and spent his early life here, attending the public schools where he received the basis for his education. He subsequently went to the New York Homœpathic College, from which he graduated at the age of twenty-four, receiving the degree of Doctor of Medicine. He started to practice medicine at Danielson, Conn., where he resided for eleven years. Thirteen years ago he came to his old home, Plainfield, and settled on East Front street, where he has since resided. By careful and consistent attention to duty, he built up an excellent practice.

He has always been a Republican and, since his return to this city, has taken an interest in the welfare of his party. He was elected a member of the Common Council for two terms and then served on the Board of Education for five years. In the latter body he was in favor of making public all the actions of the Board.

In the event of his election Dr. Jenkins told a Press reporter yesterday afternoon that his course would be to follow out the lines laid down by the present administration of Mayor Rockfellow. He had made no pledges or promises, and would make none, but would, if elected, enter upon his duties as Mayor entirely free from all obligations with his only aim being to give the city good and economical government.

ALAS! FOR THE TURKEY.

These Are Grave Days for the King of the Barnyard Where They Find Him.

This is the season when the grave gobbler and his worthy spouse assume the leading roles in the barnyard. Thursday either this sedate old fellow or his wife will be the central figure at some happy family dinner, but not, alas for him, as a guest, but as part of the feast itself. All of the local markets are preparing to care for their customers on this occasion and those who do not care for the usual turkey will have an ample variety to choose from.

Smalley Brothers, on North avenue, will sustain their reputation in the large assortment of turkeys, ducks and many varieties of meat which they will offer their patrons. J. W. VanSickle, on the same street, has an excellent display of choice poultry and meats at reasonable prices.

Fred Endress' big market on West Front street shows a fine exhibition of turkeys, ducks, meats and various kinds of game. Drake & Mundy, who have a fine market on West Front street, are also prepared to care for the interests of the Thanksgiving Day trade in an elaborate manner. Scheuer & Co., of West Front street, are selling poultry and meats for Thanksgiving Day at low prices.

Jeppe Sorensen has a convenient butcher shop on Watchung avenue where he is prepared to do a good Thanksgiving Day business. Many are attracted by the handsome interior of the market of W. L. Smalley, Jr., on Park avenue, where they are well cared for. Callahan & Son, of Richmond street, are expecting to give their customers the best of service for the coming holiday season.

Who Knows Nancy McLaughlin.

Last Sunday's issue of the New New York Herald publishes a list of heirs who are wanted, and among those wanted is Nancy McLaughlin, a cook, who was in Plainfield in 1844. There may be some person in this city who has knowledge concerning this woman, and it may be that she can be located.

MODEL FACTORY TOWN.

IT IS AIMED TO BETTER SOCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS.

Candy-Making Plant Completed—Other Enterprises for the Settlement are in Contemplation.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 27.—The directors of the Belle-Meade model factory town met here yesterday and elected Rev. Dr. David J. Burrell, of the Marble Collegiate church, New York, a member of the board. The company was organized last April with a capital stock of $350,000. Its object is to found a factory town for the social and industrial betterment of people in congested centres. Dr. Josiah Strong and his associate, Dr. W. H. Talman, of the League for Social Service of New York, have entire charge of the social and industrial operations.

A plant for the manufacture of high grade candies has already been completed at Belle Meade and the directors expected to inaugurate others by the spring. Building operations have been begun for the erection of homes for the working people. Every home will have a plot of ground large enough for a flower garden in front and a vegetable garden in the rear. The company has planned to erect in the spring a large building for the use of the community at large containing a library, public baths, public laundry, a hall and meeting places for societies and lodges. This is said to be the first attempt in this country to found a town where a variety of manufacturers and an army of employes under the best social and industrial conditions may be associated for the interest alike of employer and employé.

IN COL TYLER'S FAVOR.

Isaac L. Miller Advocates the Election of the Democratic Candidate for Mayor.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—

There are many indications on the surface of a growing tendency on the part of intelligent men to ignore party names and standards in municipal elections.

No more striking example of the necessity of pursuing such a course could be offered than that afforded by the present condition of affairs in New York city.

Three years since Dr. Low, a gentleman every way qualified to discharge the duties of Mayor, was summarily rejected by the politicians, the result being that the memory of the late William M. Tweed is almost glorified when contrasted with the character of the men now administering the affairs of the metropolis.

Please do not consider me as saying one word in disparagement of Dr. Jenkins. I have not the honor of the gentleman's acquaintance, in fact, I am not aware at this moment that I ever met him, and I certainly do not wish to be considered as instituting any disagreeable comparison or making any invidious suggestion. I am merely discussing a principle.

But I have for many years known and honored Mason W. Tyler, and from my intimate acquaintance with him I gladly take this opportunity of saying that in my opinion he is an ideal candidate. He is a gentleman by birth, education and training, a man of fine education, of large experience and of a judicial character of mind.

He has resided in Plainfield for more than a quarter of a century, filled with honor many responsible positions and his record is open and well known to all our people.

It must necessarily require a very considerable amount of self-sacrifice on his part to consent to accept the office.

Is the present not a golden opportunity for the people of our city to rise superior to party names and say as with one voice, "This is the man whom the people delight to honor?"

Isaac L. Miller.

LAWYERS ARE AT ODDS.

WANT JUDICIARY REFORMED, BUT CAN'T AGREE ON PLAN.

Tinkering With the Constitution—Demand for Independent Court of Last Report.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Trenton, Nov. 27.—Renewed attempts to tinker the State Constitution will be made at the coming session of the Legislature by the lawyers who have a notion that the courts are not properly organized. A judiciary revision measure was introduced five years ago by Governor Voorhees, who was then in the Senate. The bill aroused a good deal of discussion, and after a while the lawyers locked horns over it and it went to the graveyard.

It is believed that the members of the bar are as far apart on the proposed amendments as they ever were, and that there is little likelihood of any plan for the reorganization of the Courts going through at the coming session.

There is one proposition upon which they seem to agree with something like unanimity. It is that an independent Court of Errors and Appeals be established. In speaking of this proposition the other day a prominent member of the Senate said:

"There is a feeling that an independent Court of Errors and Appeals would be more satisfactory to the people and the lawyers than the Court as it is now constituted. No Judge likes to have his opinion reversed, and there is a suspicion among the people, whether without reason or not, that when a Judge has tried a case in a lower Court, and that case is appealed to the Court of last resort, of which he is also a member, he will undertake to influence his associates to stand by him in the decision rendered below. If there were an independent Court of Errors and Appeals, such a suspicion as this could not reasonably exist, because the members of the Court would be members of no other Court."

LET THE ITALIANS GO.

Justice Smalley Discharged the Men Who Were Accused of Being in the Cutting Affray.

Last evening Justice Smalley, of the borough, discharged Napoli and Rice, the two Italians for whom warrants were issued and who were arrested by Constable Pangborn yesterday afternoon. The complainant in the matter was Salva Villardo, who charged assault and battery and an attempt to kill. The fight occurred Sunday evening in Race street, as reported yesterday. Justice Smalley issued warrants for the arrest of the two men and they were brought to his court about 5 o'clock yesterday evening. The trial was set for 7 o'clock, but for some reason Justice Smalley discharged the prisoners after, it is alleged, they paid the costs, $2 50.

Law Student Sweeney went to Justice Smalley's court at 7 o'clock to try the case and learned that the defendants had been discharged. When he questioned Justice Smalley about his proceedings, the latter replied that he thought it was the best plan. If the men were held for the Grand Jury, he thought it would cause more trouble than the whole thing was worth, hence he discharged the prisoners. Just what action will be taken by counsel for the plaintiff has not yet been decided.

Union Young People's Service.

The Christian Endeavor Societies and Epworth Leagues of Plainfield and vicinity will unite in holding a Union young people's service Thanksgiving morning at 10 o'clock in Vincent chapel, First M. E. church, to which all are cordially invited. The service will be led by Miss Nettie Beeching, president of the Primary and Junior Teachers' Union. A quartette will sing appropriate selections and an offering will be received for the benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital. This service immediately precedes the union Thanksgiving church service to be held in the same place.

May Have Been Freeman's Rig.

A blind horse, attached to a yellow-top peddler's wagon, was found wandering up Broad street, in Newark, one day last week. It was taken in charge by the Second Precinct police, and is still uncalled for. The Plainfield police were notified, but no one has yet identified the rig as belonging to Abram Freeman, who has been missing from his home in this city for the past week.

Approaching Marriage.

The marriage of Miss Annie Quinn and Sylvester Gannon, both of this city, has been announced to take place in St. Mary's church tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. Father P. E. Smyth will perform the ceremony.

BOTH SIDES EXPECT TO WIN AT POLLS.

Coming Election of Mayor Will be Hotly Contested by Both Political Parties.

WILL BE HEAVY SILENT VOTE

REPUBLICAN LOSSES WILL BE THE HEAVIEST IN THIRD WARD.

It All Depends on Whether Colonel Tyler's Popularity and Discontent With Present Administration Can Effect a Change.

Every day brings fresh evidence that the approaching city election in Plainfield is going to be closely contested and that the fight for the Mayoralty will be particularly exciting. A strange state of affairs exists. The commuter element of the Second and Third wards, which usually trains with the Republicen party, is this year largely in open support of Col. Tyler, the Democratic candidate. The First and Fourth wards, on which the Democrats usually count the most, will be expected by the Republican leaders this election to save them from defeat.

Municipal elections always show more or less breaking from strict partisan lines. In the Third ward this year this fact is particularly apparent. A body of influential Republicans, all of whom are strong personal friends of Col. Tyler, have openly favored his candidacy. Among these is Former Councilman E. T. Barrows. A most significant fact is that Former Mayor Charles J. Fisk and his wife left today to spend two weeks at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York.

Of course, the Republican workers in the Third, who have stood by their regular ticket, are going to use every effort to prevent any wholesale desertion to the Democratic ranks. They admit that they will lose many votes but expect to carry the ward for Dr. Jenkins by a reduced majority. The Democrats, on the contrary, expect to win there and gain a majority of from 100 to 200 votes. There will be a heavy silent vote there and on it will depend the result.

Everyone realizes that the hottest fight is going to be on the Mayoralty and naturally both sides are assured of victory. The situation may be easily summed up. Col. Tyler will poll a heavy vote in the Second and Third wards on account of his personal popularity. Some factional feeling in the Third will also have its influence. Dr. Jenkins seems likely to run well in the First and Fourth wards. A rumor is current that the old faction in the Republican ranks in the First is going to knife the Republican candidate for Mayor. Dr. Jenkins is very popular with many in the Fourth whom he has treated very kindly when they were in trouble.

If Col. Tyler's popularity in the Second and Third wards and the discontent at the acts of the present Republican administration in the rest of the city are strong enough, Col. Tyler will be elected. If the Republican leaders in the First and Fourth wards are able to prevent any deflections from their ranks Dr. Jenkins will undoubtedly be elected.

TO PROBATE WILL.

Vice Chancellor Emory Makes Important Decision in the McLoughlin Case.

Vice Chancellor Emory rendered his decision yesterday in regard to the application for an injunction in the McLoughlin will case. He decided that the will should go to probate, but granted an injunction against the executor and devisees against encumbering or disposing of the real estate, pending a hearing on the bill filed by William F. S. McLoughlin, as to who should have the real estate. Cortland Parker, of Newark, and William A. Lewis, of Jersey City, represent the executor, while McLoughlin's interests are in charge of W. S. Angleman, of this city.

A "Cruller" Sociable.

At the conclusion of the regular meeting last evening, the members of Mizpah Lodge, U. O. of I. O. L. gave a "Cruller" sociable in the lodge rooms. It was well attended and several hours were spent in a very pleasant manner.

Republicans to Plan.

Details for the Republican side of the city campaign will be arranged this evening at a meeting of the Republican city executive committee. The meeting will be held in Republican headquarters on Park avenue.

Dr. Main to Preach in Bound Brook.

Rev. Dr. A. E. Main is to preach at the union Thanksgiving services of the Bound Brook Presbyterian, Congregational, Reformed and Methodist churches.

FAIR AT HOPE CHAPEL.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY IS IN CHARGE, AND MEETING WITH SUCCESS.

Numerous Attractions are Offered in Booths and an Excellent Programme.

A most gratifying attendance was present at the opening of the bazaar and entertainment in Hope chapel last evening and the members of the Ladies' Aid Society are greatly pleased at the result. Beside the numerous attractions offered at the various booths an excellent programme had been prepared which was greatly enjoyed by the large audience. It consisted of vocal solos by Miss Griswold, violin solos by M. A. Korff and selections by a quartette composed of Messrs. McDonald and Cashin and Mrs. Emmitt and Mrs. G. E. Firstbrook. Professor Wallander's orchestra was also in attendance and furnished music during the entire evening.

At the conclusion of the entertainment those in attendance turned their attention to the different booths. There were four of these at which could be purchased fancy articles, groceries, cake and candy and ice cream. Mrs. Hangliter is chairman of the committees in charge, and is assisted by the following ladies who preside over the booths: Ice cream, Mrs. Sweeney and Mrs. Pierson; candy and fruit, Mrs. Hendry, Mrs. William Firstbrook, Mrs. Emery and Mrs. N. Gray; fancy booths, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Radford and Mrs. Weber; groceries, Mrs. Ruckman, Mrs. Chamberlain and Mrs. Wright. All of the booths enjoyed an excellent patronage and the ladies were kept busy attending to the purchasers. It was a late hour before the last ones left for home. This evening the affair will be continued and another excellent programme has been arranged varying somewhat from last evening's. The bazaar is already an assurred success and with its conclusion the treasury of the Ladies' Aid Society will be increased considerably.

DROPPED DEAD IN HOSPITAL.

Trolley Motorman Was Being Treated for Heart Trouble—No Friends in Plainfield.

John Bowen, aged 43 years, was found lying dead in the men's ward at the hospital this morning. An orderly discovered him and notified the superintendent. Bowen was walking through the ward when he fell and the noise attracted the attention of the orderly who found him.

The man, who was a motorman on the street railway, was admitted to the hospital Saturday, Nov. 17th, suffering from heart trouble. His case was a severe one, but under the proper treatment given he seemed to improve very much. However, considering his trouble, his death was not wholly unexpected. The body has been taken in charge by A. M. Runyon & Son, undertakers, and an attempt will be made at once to learn the whereabouts of the dead man's relatives or friends, if he has any. It is said that he has a brother living in New Hampshire, and it is also reported that he has friends in Newark. While Bowen was at the hospital he wrote a number of letters, but strangely no answers have been received as yet from these letters.

A Birthday Surprise Party.

A birthday surprise party was tendered to Chester B. Dennis at his home on East Sixth street and Scott avenue, last evening, by a number of his friends. The evening was spent in playing games and other attractions interspersed by phonographic selections. Mr. Dennis received a number of handsome and useful presents.

Donations for Hospital.

The annual donation for the benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital was received in the public schools this morning. A large amount of groceries and useful articles were contributed by the scholars and were taken at once to the institution.

Death of Mary E. Smith.

HIS MILLIONS A MYTH.

GREAT FORTUNE OF THE "RUBBER KING" DWINDLED AWAY.

The Stretched Estimates of the New Brunswick Man's Fortune Snap When Will is Filed.

Mahlon C. Martin's millions turn out to be mythical, and the "Rubber King" who died recently at New Brunswick, supposedly worth at least $4,000,000, could have realized little more than half a million if he had converted everything into cash. An inventory of Mr. Martin's estate was filed Saturday with Surrogate Furman, at New Brunswick, by James Deshler and Dr. Frank M. Donohue, the appraisers. It was signed by Maria R. Martin, Eliza M. Abbe and Miles R. Martin, sisters and brother of the "Rubber King."

It shows the real estate value to be $110,000—his New Brunswick property worth from $40,000 to $50,000 and his Jamestown, N. Y., property $60 000. The personal estate is placed at $457,639.71. The holdings of bonds is $56,934; stocks, $326,291.50; bonds and mortgages, $3,800.

Among the stocks are 1,216 shares of United States Rubber preferred stock, at 90, $109,440, and 1,200 shares of United States Rubber common stock, at $24 a share, $28,800. The holdings of Pennsylvania Railroad stock were 1,000 shares, $62,000. He also held $66,500 of gold bonds of the City Railway Company, of Bogota, United States of Colombia.

Mahlon C. Martin, until the inventory was filed, was popularly believed to have been the wealthiest man in Middlesex county. He was widely known as "the Rubber King."

Mr. Martin's interest in the rubber industry and his fortune dependent thereon alike had their origin in a chance meeting between the late John R. Ford, a wealthy rubber manufacturer, and Martin, who was then a schoolboy. As Martin was trudging home from school, in Somerville, N. J., one day, he met Mr. Ford and asked him for employment.

"What salary do you wish?" asked Mr. Ford, smiling, paternally.

"I'll work for a week," replied the boy, "and you may then give me what I have earned."

He was paid $5 for that week's work. Before his first year was ended, however, he was receiving an annual salary of $2,500.

By Mr. Martin's will, his entire estate was bequeathed to his brother, Miles R. Martin, and his two sisters, Maria R. Martin and Eliza M. Abbe.

FOR MANUAL TRAINING.

Borough Board of Education Arrange for Instructors for the New Department.

There was a regular meeting of the Borough Board of Education last evening, at which time several matters of importance were considered. The question of engaging teachers for the manual training department was brought up and practically decided upon. Miss Taylor, who lives near Washingtonville, applied for the position of instructor in the cooking department of the school, and her recommendations are first-class. It is more than likely that she will be engaged. Mr. Searls, a graduate of Stevens' Institute, was recommended as an instructor in the department of carpentry, etc., and he will likely be engaged. He will also teach higher mathematics. In the cooking department there will probably be two classes a week. The above matters were referred with power to the teachers' committee.

The committee on greivances was authorized to go ahead and prosecute truant scholars, and there is one scholar who has been so persistent in his wrong-doing that he will probably be sent to the Reform School for further training. He refuses to conform to the rules of the school and there is nothing else to do but commit him to the State School.

STAMPING OUT DIPHTHERIA.

Elizabeth's Board of Health Continuing Heroic Measures.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Nov. 27—The diphtheria epidemic in Elizabeth is subsiding, although one physician has seventy-five cases under his care. The work of the two physicians appointed by the Board of Health to visit the schools is helping to blot out the disease by discovering children with symptoms of the trouble and dispatching them home and isolating them from other children.

Several cases of typhoid fever also have been reported. Physicians are busy, nevertheless, and tons of disinfectants are being used by the Health Inspector to check the diseases in all quarters, even where it does not exist as yet.

PRATTLING CHILD IN WATERY GRAVE.

Five-Year-Old Daughter of Nicholas Corrona Lost Her Life Along Green Brook.

PLAYMATES WITNESSED IT.

MOTHER ALMOST FRANTIC WITH GRIEF OVER THE DROWNING.

Rains Had Swollen the Stream and in Some Manner the Little One Fell In—Dead in Few Minutes After Being Rescued.

A sad drowning accident occurred yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock when the young five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Corrona, who live on Stanbery avenue, Scotch Plains, lost her life in the swollen current of one of the small streams which flows near this point into Green Brook. The child was playing about the stream with a number of other little Italian children, throwing stones into the water and indulging in other childish sport which has been a customary pastime for the children living about the brook. There never has been such a thought to Mr. and Mrs. Corrona that one of the children might be drowned while at this play, for the water as a general thing is not over six inches to one foot in depth at its deepest place. But the heavy rains of Saturday, Sunday and all through the night had swollen the stream so that it was several feet deep.

The children did not realize any danger in the condition of the brook, but when the weather cleared yesterday afternoon they started to play about the place as usual. The youngest one in the little gathering went too near the turbulent stream and either fell or was drawn into the current. No one is able to tell how as the children were all too frightened to comprehend what was happening. The little one gave several screams. This aroused some of the children so that they started crying and running to the house for Mrs Corrona.

Wm. Spicer, an employe at Seely's Mills, was passing at the time and, noticing the excitement about the brook, hastened to investigate. About the same time Mrs. Corrona rushed from the house with frenzied cries for for her child, but it was too late. Spicer jumped into the brook and brought the almost lifeless form to the bank, where efforts were made to resuscitate the little one, but their efforts were in vain. The child lived about twenty minutes.

As soon as the mother realized that her loved one was lost she became frenzied with grief, and it was feared that she would do herself bodily harm, but she calmed down later and was taken into the house by kind friends.

Mr. Runkle Interested.

The electric railroad between New York city and Rensselaer, owned and operated by the Albany and Hudson Railway and Power Company, was formally opened last Thursday afternoon. This is the first surface railroad in the world operated by electricity which is intended to serve the public as a common carrier, just as a steam railroad. It is also said to be the first railroad in the world whose motive power is supplied through the third rail to cater for both freight and passenger traffic. Among the principal stockholders in the company is Henry G. Runkle, of this city. The purpose of the company is to carry passengers from Hudson to Albany and freight from Hudson to Rensselaer. It will serve as a feeder for the New York Central and the Boston and Albany in bringing products to those lines.

Dislocated Her Shoulder.

Mrs. Susan Lewis, aged 30 years, colored, who resides at 525 West Front street, is now at the hospital suffering from the effects of a dislocated shoulder joint. Last Saturday she was walking along West Third street, where a new walk is being laid. She failed to see the excavation and tumbled headlong into it. With the assistance of friends she was taken to the hospital.

Repaired Break in Big Bank.

One of the cogs in the mechanical part of the interior of the safe deposit vault at the First National Bank was broken yesterday, and an expert man was sent from the safe factory to repair the break. It was promptly repaired without any trouble and everything is in first-class shape again.

To Heat New Station.

Workmen in the employ of the Central began work this morning extending the steam pipes under the tracks, connecting the old station with the one being built. A trench three feet deep by three wide will be dug, in which six inch tile will be laid.

JOTTINGS OF THE DAY

INTERPRISINGLY GATHERED AND CONCISELY TOLD BY REPORTERS.

Newsy Notes of More or Less Importance Bunched Together for Reference by Press Readers.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern which is not afraid to be generous. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles and have the satisfaction of knowing it has cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, LaGrippe and all Throat, Chest and Lung diseases are surely cured by it. Call on L. W. Randolph, Druggist, and get a free trail bottle. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle gauranteed.

William Connolly, of West Third street, who sustained a severe scalp wound a few weeks ago, is still confined to the hospital and is improving slowly.

Great Luck Of An Editor

"For two years all efforts to cure Eczema in the palms of my hands failed", writes Editor H. N. Lester, of Syracuse, Kan., "then I was wholly cured by Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's the world's best for Eruptions, Sores and all skin diseases. Only 25 cents at L. W. Randolph's.

—The city steam roller is laid up and is located on Liberty street. It will probably be running sometime today.

—If you have ever seen a child in the agony of croup you can realize how grateful mothers are for One Minute Cough Cure which gives relief as soon as it is administered. It quickly cures coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles. L. W. Randolph.

Mrs. C. T. Thayer, of East Ninth street, is seriously ill at her home.

I. W. Bininger, of First place, who has been quite ill, is much improved.

Spread Like Wild Fire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, rundown man or woman. Price 50 cents. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

—Michael Powers is putting in the drain on West Front street, opposite Washington avenue, for the street railway company.

—Both makers and circulators of counterfeits commit fraud. Honest men will not deceive you into buying worthless counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The original is infallible for curing piles, sores, eczema and all skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

Miss Kittie Alberts, of East Fourth street, is detained at her home by illness.

Miss Adelaide Flory, of Bangor, Pa., has returned home after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Martin, of Duer street.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McDonald, of Watchung avenue, are the proud parents of a bright little boy, which arrived at their home a few days ago.

GALES AND FLOODS.

Much Damage on the Lakes—Rivers Over Their Banks.

BUFFALO, Nov. 27.—Heavy rains throughout the western part of the state during the last 48 hours have caused a repetition of the floods of 1889. Rivers have overflowed their banks, causing great damage to property and flooding this and other cities.

The Cohocton and Canisteo rivers have flooded the country through which they flow. The Chemung river, formed by these two, rose yesterday, overflowing its banks in many places and washing out many bridges and sections of track of the New York Central and Erie railroads above this city. Water on the flat below Ithaca is eight feet deep.

Elmira has been flooded. The Chemung river late last night registered 15 feet above low water level and was slowly rising. The fire and police departments were busy all afternoon adding in work of rescue. Almost all the basements in the business districts are under water, and the property loss will be considerable.

Telephone messages from points along the head waters of the Chemung report the worst floods since 1889. At Knoxville, Pa., two iron railroad bridges were swept away. Traffic on the Cowanesque branch of the Pennsylvania division of the New York Central is suspended.

A train on the Auburn division of the Lehigh Valley was wrecked two and a half miles north of Moravia in consequence of a washout.

Dispatches from Binghamton say that the Chenango and Susquehanna are very high and much property on the lowlands has been swept away.

At Marathon a new iron bridge was washed away by the Tioughnioga river. At Lisle the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western depot was cut off from the town and the railroad property much damaged. At Chenango Forks a boom of logs was broken, and they are floating down the Susquehanna.

The water in the Genesee river at Wellsville is the highest it has been in ten years. The Buffalo and Susquehanna railroad tracks between Wellsville and Genesee, Pa., are covered, and traffic is stopped.

Lake Harbor Ruined.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 27.—A terrible storm is raging along the chain of the great lakes. At 2 o'clock yesterday morning the wind reached its maximum velocity and blew at the rate of 60 miles an hour up to 5 o'clock. Rain has been falling almost continuously since Saturday. The lowest temperature was 34 degrees yesterday morning, but the piercing wind made it seem colder.

A dispatch from Lorain says that a terrific storm has been raging there. Thousands of dollars' worth of damago has been done, and the end is not yet. The schooner St. Lawrence, which went ashore a few days ago, has broken up.

The east government pier is going rapidly, and the indications are that Lorain as a harbor will not be on the map if the storm continues. Over 1,000 feet of the pier has been swept away completely, and the northeaster is threatening the west pier, the lighthouse and range light. The Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling docks are also suffering, the foundation being washed out.

Floods In West Virginia.

GUYANDOTTE, W. Va., Nov. 27.—Continuous rains for the past 48 hours have produced unprecedented floods in Guyandotte valley. The river and its tributaries are overflowing their banks and are bearing away quantities of cross ties, lumber and other property. Some 9,000 logs have gone out, taking with them the false works of the two new railroad bridges south of Barboursville. The loss is estimated at $20,000 to $25,000. The track of the new Guyandotte Valley railroad, just completed to Salt Rock, a distance of 18 miles, has been almost ruined. The river is rising above, and still more damage is expected.

Death In the Floods.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 27.—The damage done throughout the state will reach thousands. At Chagrin Falls the telephone switchboard burned out and set half a dozen houses on fire. At Cambridge several buildings were blown down, and at Batavia Miss Annie Hurd was drowned, driving into a stream where a bridge had washed out. The Ohio river and southern Ohio streams are rising rapidly. Wires are down in all directions, and trains are delayed.

Heavy Fall of Snow.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Nov. 27.—A snowstorm which set in throughout northern New York, Canada, Vermont and the Adirondacks region on Saturday night continued without interruption for 36 hours, during which time an average of 24 inches fell. Trains on the Delaware and Hudson are running practically on time, as the storm did not extend much below Saratoga. This is the heaviest November snowstorm in 15 years.

Dam Bursts.

ATHENS, O., Nov. 27.—As a result of the heavy rains the reservoir near Chauncey burst yesterday and flooded the town a mile away. The reservoir covered three acres and was 20 feet deep. A hundred yards of railroad track was washed out, and nearly all the residences in Chauncey were flooded. A hill deflecting the course of the water saved the Chauncey mine, where 100 men were at work, from being flooded.

Schooner's Crew In Peril.

KINGSVILLE, Ont., Nov. 27.—An unknown schooner is sunk on the middle ground off Point Pelee, and the sailors are lashed in the rigging, for the masts are above the water. Since Sunday morning the tug Home Rule, from Amherstburg, has been trying to rescue the men, but there is such a high sea running that her efforts have been fruitless.

Floods In Kentucky.

MIDDLESBORO, Ky., Nov. 27.—Cumberland, Powell and Clinch rivers have overflowed their banks, doing immense damage to farmers. The lower portion of Powell valley is inundated, and those living along its banks have been compelled to move to higher ground. Ben Turner of Middlesboro was drowned in the flood while trying to swim his horse across Yellow creek.

Freshet at Albany.

ALBANY, Nov. 27.—The heavy rains have caused an eight foot freshet in the river here, with excellent prospects of the water flooding Quay street. The big rise was unexpected, and the merchants along the docks were not prepared for it. The current in midstream is very swift, and all tows are delayed.

OUR GROWING NAVY.

Secretary Long's Annual Report Made Public.

OPERATIONS OF ASIATIC SQUADRON.

Great Praise For Marines at Peking and Tien-tsin—Completion of Vessels Under Construction Will Require Much Larger Force.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The annual report of the secretary of the navy, just made public, opens with a history of the operations of the Asiatic squadron. Among other things Secretary Long says:

"The fleet on the Asiatic station has cooperated with the army in the Philippines, transporting and convoying troops, patrolling a wide area of badly charted waters, sending out landing parties and keeping the coast clear of the enemy. The small gunboats have been of great value in preventing the landing of arms for the insurgents and cutting off illicit trade with and among the islands.

"The cordiality which has characterized the relations of the army and navy is shown by numerous reports from officers on duty in the Philippines and is alike creditable to both branches of the service.

"In view of the disturbed conditions in Asiatic waters and of the demands upon the navy the department early in the year deemed it expedient to augment the force in that quarter. The commander in chief of the Asiatic station, Rear Admiral Remey, was accordingly given an assistant, Rear Admiral Kempff, to insure under command of an officer of rank and experience a division of the fleet if necessary in quarters distant from the Philippines. Almost immediately thereafter circumstances made it necessary to maintain a separate force in Chinese waters, and the junior rear admiral was ordered to proceed with a squadron to Taku, China.

"When, therefore, an appeal for help came from the legations at Peking, this government not only had an adequate naval force at the nearest seaport town, but also was able to send forward immediately a force of marines for the protection of the United States legation.

"The annals of history present few examples of more dramatic interest than the story of the beleaguered legations in Peking, from June 20, 1900, the date on which the German minister was killed and the siege began, until Aug. 14, when the allied forces entered the Chinese capital. Official and unofficial reports, and particularly the dispatches of our minister, show that the American marines bore their full share in the burdens of defense during this memorable siege.

"The United States legation was situated just inside of and near to the wall of the Tartar city. When the legations were assaulted, the American detachment immediately occupied a position on the city wall, a strategic point of great importance; established an improvised sandbag fort there, which enabled them to defend the section of wall immediately commanding the legations, and, although repeatedly attacked by overwhelming numbers and on two occasions driven for a few minutes from the wall, they were never permanently dislodged, but held this vital position until relief came.

"In the meantime the foreign settlement in Tien-tsin itself was subjected to attack, and communication between that city and Taku was interrupted. On the 19th of June a detachment of 8 officers and 132 enlisted men, chiefly from the first regiment of marines dispatched from Cavite by the Newark and Nashville, arrived at Taku. Instructions were immediately given that this force should take part in the forward movement for the relief of the besieged at Tien-tsin.

"In this action, in which 22 officers and 326 men, under Colonel R. L. Meade, participated, Captain A. R. Davis, United States marine corps, was killed at the side of his commanding officer in the advanced trench; Captains William B. Lemly and Charles G. Long and First Lieutenants Smedley D. Butler and Henry Leonard were wounded, a sergeant, a corporal and two enlisted men were killed, and a sergeant, two corporals and 12 enlisted men were wounded.

"To record the instances of gallantry displayed by our officers and men at the capture of Tien-tsin would almost be equivalent to a publication of the entire roster."

The secretary then refers briefly to the movements of the north and south Atlantic squadrons and at the Pacific station. Under the head of navy personnel he says:

"The need of officers for sea duty is steadily growing, and at times the department is seriously embarrassed by lack of necessary officers to properly man vessels required for immediate service.

"This need will be still greater when vessels authorized or building are completed and ready for commission. The report of the bureau of navigation represents that it would be impossible at the present time to man our available fleet were an emergency to occur demanding such action. Attention is earnestly invited to the detailed suggestions of this report and to the statement that with the completion of vessels now under construction an immediate increase will be needed in the enlisted force of not less than 5,000 men.

"The manufacture of smokeless powder by the government has been successfully carried on during the past year."

Secretary Long then details the history of the armor negotiations, the results of which were recently made public.

A list is given of the 54 vessels, large and small, now under construction, showing the progress of the work. Nearly all of the above number will be completed before the close of 1901. In conclusion the secretary says:

"The bestowal of special rewards is urged because it is appropriate and just that they should be given, and not from the fear that duty will not be well done without them. The fact that the nation's acknowledgments are lagging behind the brilliant performance of its officers and men in active service does not seem to have in any degree impaired the quality of their patriotism and devotion to duty.

"The past year has been so prolific of such examples that, while the enumeration of them in detail is here impracticable, the department calls special attention to the official reports in which they appear.

SMUGGLERS CAUGHT.

Entry of Chinamen From Canada Checked.

ARRESTS IN NORTHERN NEW YORK.

The Business of Getting Orientals Into This Country From British Territory Believed to Have Received a Deathblow.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Nov. 27.—The business of smuggling Chinamen across the border from Canada into this state is believed to have received its deathblow. Late Saturday night two Chinamen were seen as they were being drawn through this village in a covered two seater drawn by two horses. They were traced to Keeseville, N. Y., to which point they had been driven from Hemmingford, a distance of 45 miles, and there located in a Chinese laundry. They were arrested and brought to Plattsburg yesterday, where they were given a hearing before United States Commissioner Woodward. They gave their names as Foong Lung, aged 23, and Ham Chin Gee, aged 24, and they both stated through an interpreter that they were born in China and that they were from the province of Kwangtung. They were committed to jail here and will be given their examination this afternoon.

The man who drove them from Hemmingford to Keeseville escaped, but the customs officials think they know who he is. Sunday night about 11 o'clock four more Chinamen were captured at Malone by Chinese Inspector Ketcham and Deputy Marshal Roby and Policemen Whipple and Lahey in a raid on a Chinese restaurant which has recently been opened in Malone by Frank C. Parks, a Chinaman who came there a few days ago from St. Albans, Vt.

These four Chinamen were driven from Athelstan, Que., to Malone, N. Y., in a sleigh covered with robes and delivered to the Parks restaurant. Parks was also arrested. He is believed to be an old offender and is also believed to be in league with certain persons in New York. The driver of the team escaped. Parks, and possibly the four Chinamen arrested with him, will be brought to Plattsburg, as the Malone jail is full and running over with Chinamen, there being no less than 97 there. There are six or eight in jail here awaiting trial.

The system of getting Chinamen into the United States from Canada seems to have been changed entirely within the past few weeks. Formerly the scheme was to bring them by train to Athelstan, Que., a station on the Adirondack and St. Lawrence, just over the line in Canada. From there they would walk to the boundary line, where they would of course be arrested by the customs officials for attempting to enter this country illegally, after which they would be brought before the United States commissioner for trial.

Shrewd lawyers would take up the case, and either of two courses would be adopted—they would either swear that they were born in this country and had only been in China on a visit and therefore had a right to come back or else they would swear they were members of a firm of merchants in New York, usually on Mott or Pell street. Members of the "firm" would be brought on to swear to the story, and as Chinese merchants who have been in trade in this country one year or more may legally return to this country after a visit to China many Chinamen who had no right to enter secured admittance this way.

If they adopted the scheme of swearing they were born in this country, a "father" would be telegraphed for in New York, who would come on and corroborate the "son's" story. Many hundreds have gained admittance in this way who had no legal right to enter. Through the vigilance of the customs officials this "father" racket has been pretty well broken up, and recently in a peculiar manner the "merchant" scheme has been upset as far as this state is concerned.

Guatemala Must Pay.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—It is unofficially but reliably reported to the department of state that Mr. Jenner, the British umpire in the arbitration of the case of Robert H. May, an American citizen, against the government of Guatemala, has rendered a judgment in favor of the claimant to the amount of $140,000. May entered into a contract with the Guatemalan government to operate and improve a railway, for which he was to receive a monthly subvention of $35,000, keep the revenues of the road and be paid for certain extra work. He began his work in April, 1898, but in October of the same year was dispossessed by military force. The subventions due at that time had been only partially paid, and May's claim was for the payment of those subventions, for money expended in extra work and compensation for his general losses.

Train Wrecked In a Washout.

SYRACUSE, Nov. 27.—A special to The Post-Standard from Auburn says that the Lehigh Valley passenger train due in that city at 10:20 yesterday morning was wrecked by running into a washout at Cascade, on Owasco lake. One man was injured. The passengers were forced to walk back four miles to Moravia and were taken in busses from there over the hills to a relief train and brought to Auburn late in the afternoon.

Large Shipment of Coal.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 27.—About 3,000,000 bushels of coal were started to southern points yesterday. More would have been shipped had the river not been on such a rampage, making it unsafe. The river at 10 p. m. registered at the dam 21 feet and rising at the rate of six inches an hour. Both the Alleghany and Monongahela are still rising, the result of heavy rains along their entire length for the past 48 hours.

Reception to General Howard.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A dinner and reception was tendered to General O. O. Howard in Brooklyn last night by the Congregational club. Rev. Dr. E. P. Ingersoll, president of the club, presided. Addresses were made by General Howard, Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, Rev. Dr. William S. Hubbell, General Benjamin F. Blair and others.

Nicaragua Wants Silver.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Nov. 27.—The Nicaraguan minister of the treasury is receiving offers from Europe to supply silver for coining 500,000 pesos and offers of the same sum for coining fractional currency. He is delaying his decision in the hope that offers may be received from the United States and Mexico.

A dispatch from Peking says: "Colonel Yorck's column took Kalgan without resistance. The Chinese forces, regulars and Boxers, fled toward the province of Shansi."

Dr. Morrison, wiring to The Times from Peking Sunday, says:

"The foreign envoys have agreed to two proposals that were previously rejected, owing to lack of unanimity. These are Sir Ernest Satow's proposal that China should agree to recast the commercial treaties and the Italian proposal that China should consent to foreign financial control as a guarantee of the indemnity.

"The delay in the presentation of the joint note is due to postponements by the home governments. This increases the difficulties of the situation and aggravates the dislocation of trade and finance, especially the collection of inland revenues. At the lowest estimate the indemnity is computed at £60,000,000."

Killing of "Apache Kid."

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 27.—Details have been received of the killing of the supposed "Apache Kid" near Pacheco, Mex., a few days ago. The killed included three Indians, one of them supposed to be the notorious "Apache Kid," for whom the United States government has offered a reward of $5,000. The other dead were an Indian squaw, with a papoose, who fell in the fight, it not being known that the adult was a woman, and the child was not seen until after the fight. The shooting was done by two men whom the Indians had robbed and who had followed the band. They had decided to let the robbers go, when the latter came forward in a trail that made the shooting a necessity.

Hunt For Tyson Millions.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Accompanied by her sister-in-law, Miss Elsie Tyson of Humboldt county, Cal., and J. L. Wilson, a lawyer, Mrs. John T. Martin of Morristown, N. J., has started for Scotland to claim a vast fortune left by James Tyson, the millionaire bushman of Australia. Another resident of Morristown who is a claimant is George Tyson, who conducts a blacksmith shop in Ridgedale avenue. James Tyson, who recently died in Australia, left a fortune estimated at $13,000,000. For more than threescore years he had no communication with his family.

After Poaching Indians.

DENVER, Nov. 27.—Adjutant General Overmeyer has wired Troop A, cavalry, at Grand Junction, to be in readiness for immediate call in case Game Commissioner Johnson's force should not be equal to the Indians in the White river district. Fear is expressed at the capital that Commissioner Johnson will make the attack upon the Indians against overwhelming odds. Game Commissioner Johnson and his deputies proceeded to Meeker by stage yesterday in an effort to drive the Indians who are now slaughtering Colorado game back to their reservation.

Akron Rioters Sentenced.

AKRON, O., Nov. 27.—Judge Kohler sentenced five of the Okron rioters who have been convicted to date. Harvey Earl, Frank Sickles, David Davis and Oliver Morgan were sent to the Ohio reformatory for indefinite periods and James McClelland to the penitentiary for one year. Thomas Ryan, charged with attempting to bribe a witness in the Epley case, attempted suicide by hanging in the jail.

Cement Plant Destroyed.

EASTON, Pa., Nov. 27.—Fire last night practically wiped out the extensive cement plant of William Krause & Sons of Philadelphia located at Martin's Creek, this county. The damage will reach $200,000, most of which is covered by insurance. About 200 men are employed at the works. The plant will be rebuilt without delay.

Accidental Shooting.

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 27.—William Brooks of Jamestown, son of Chief Engineer William Brooks of the steamer Beaver Tail, was accidentally shot and killed while gunning. Brooks, who was about 16 years of age, and two other boys were after gulls.

MITCHELL'S ORDER IGNORED.

Two Thousand Kentucky Miners Refuse to Strike.

MADISONVILLE, Ky., Nov. 27.—The coal miners of District No. 23 are in a state of great excitement as the result of the action of the Hopkins county miners, who have refused to go out after having been ordered to do so by President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America. The district includes a number of counties in the western part of the state and stretches across the Ohio river into Indiana.

The cause of the strike was that the operators in this district had refused to conform to the interstate scale which had been adopted by the United Mine Workers, and in the majority of the counties the men stepped out when ordered. In Hopkins county the 2,000 miners said that they were satisfied with the existing scale.

Rumors are current here that the striking miners intend to march into Hopkins county and intimidate or persuade the miners to change their determination. Sheriff T. N. Hankins was informed of the move and has issued a proclamation warning the miners to desist from any such purpose. He says that he is prepared to defend the men and will do so with a large force of deputies. Operators are jubilant at the result, but conservative citizens fear trouble may ensue.

The action of the Hopkins county miners makes the district strike a practical failure.

CASTELLANES SUED HERE.

Trustees of Jay Gould's Will Enjoined In New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Creditors of Count Boni de Castellane and Countess de Castellane, formerly Anna Gould, have decided to ignore the action of the French courts in appointing George Gould as the guardian of the countess and have arranged to bring actions in this state with the view of preventing the countess obtaining all of the income due her from the Gould estate until her debts, which amount to several million dollars, have been paid. The first move was made yesterday when Guggenheimer, Untermyer & Marshall, representing Anton J. Dittmar, the assignee of claims of a bric-a-brac dealer of London, obtained a temporary injunction from Justice Fitzgerald in the supreme court restraining George J., Edwin, Howard and Helen M. Gould, as trustees under the will of the late Jay Gould, from paying to the Countess de Castellane any income which might be due her. Argument for a permanent injunction and the appointment of a receiver for the countess' interests will be heard in the supreme court on Monday next.

As the accounts now stand there is due and payable, according to the dealer, the sum of $261,432.74, and there are drafts not yet due which amount to $115,857.52, making a total of $377,290.26.

Good Roads Appropriation Urged.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Mr. W. H. Moore and 15 other members of a committee appointed at the recent good roads congress yesterday called on Secretary Wilson of the agricultural department and urged that he recommend an appropriation of $150,000 for the roads inquiry bureau of his department. The purpose of the appropriation is the construction of sample roads, experiments and the diffusion of information on the subject of roadmaking and kindred matters. The secretary promised to second the efforts of the roads congress and to recommend the appropriation asked. Today the committee called on President McKinley.

Little Hope For Senator Davis.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 27.—It now seems to be simply a question of hours until United States Senator Cushman K. Davis passes away, the reports from his bedside being that his strength is slowly ebbing away. His physicians do not anticipate dissolution immediately, but practically admit that so far as human agency is able to know death is certain. The family have all along been buoyed up with a faint hope that the statesman might have greater reserve strength and be able to baffle the disease, but they seem to have at last abandoned even this faint hope and are anxiously awaiting the end.

Fifty Cent Corn.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—November corn touched 50 cents yesterday. It made an advance of 5 cents a bushel for the day, of 10 cents for the week and of almost 15 cents within four weeks. Young George Phillips sold what corn changed hands at 50 cents. Shorts did the buying that advanced the market to that quotation. The 5 cent advance over the close of last week made the day the notable one so far for the campaign.

A Georgia Tornado.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 27.—A tornado struck the village of Siloam, near Union Point. Considerable damage was done to property, but there was no loss of life. J. B. Dolivar, a large farmer and stock raiser, had his house and barn blown down and many head of stock killed. The schoolhouse in the village was blown down.

NO REGRETS FOR LEE

Cubans Reject Resolutions Regarding General's Departure.

NOT CONSIDERED A CONSTANT FRIEND

Constitutional Delegates Talk Much, but Accomplish Little—Committees Appointed—A Month's Absence For Cisneros.

HAVANA, Nov. 27.—At the opening of yesterday's session of the Cuban constitutional convention in the Marti theater Senor de Quesada moved the rejection of the resolution introduced Saturday by Senores Rivero, Cisneros and Villuandas expressing the sorrow of the convention at the departure of General Fitz-Hugh Lee. The resolution was thereupon rejected unanimously.

Senor Rivero said after the session that some of the delegates intended to attack General Lee on the ground that he had not always been a friend of the Cubans and that in view of this General Lee's friends thought it would be better not to press the resolution of regret.

Senor Gualberto Gomez notified the convention that he would present for consideration a motion in answer to General Wood's address to the convention.

General Sanguilly immediately objected on the ground that such a proposal would be entirely out of place, as the address was in the form of a military order, which could not be answered by the convention. He urged that it would be wiser to leave the subject alone, as any discussion of it might cause ill feeling between the convention and the military.

Senor de Quesada moved that in the judgment of the convention General Wood's address should not under any consideration be answered by the convention, and this was carried unanimously.

Senor Gomez, evidently much disappointed, explained that his intention had been misconstrued, as he had not meant any discourtesy and the discussion, in his opinion, would have shown the military authorities that the convention had no idea of interfering with the present government and that the United States need have no fear of any action on the part of the delegates.

Senor Capote, president of the convention, divided the delegates into committees of five and appointed Senor Llorente and General Sanguilly members of the committee on phraseology.

The convention granted Senor Cisneros leave of absense for a month and then adjourned until tomorrow.

"Prohibs" Not Discouraged.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Chairman Stewart of the Prohibition national committee announces that funds for the campaign of 1904 are already being collected and that it is the intention of the party leaders to make even a more vigorous campaign than the last one. "More than $7,000 has already been sent in," said Chairman Stewart, "and this, too, only three or four days after notices had been sent out that we were ready to begin the work. It is the intention of the national committee to effect an organization in every precinct of every township in every state, and every state campaign of 1901 will be vigorously fought."

Schooner Washed Ashore.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Nov. 27.—The battered hulk of what was the St. John schooner Advance has been washed ashore on Wallis sands, with no signs of life aboard. Whether her crew of four or five men have been taken off by a passing vessel or have found a watery grave can only be conjectured. There is a chance that they may have reached the Isle of Shoals, eight miles to the eastward off shore, as the schooner in her drift went very near that famous island cluster. The schooner is a complete wreck.

Harriet Schmoll Not Guilty.

SYRACUSE, Nov. 27.—A verdict of not guilty was reached by the jury in the Harriet Schmoll murder case at 7:15 last evening. Within half an hour Mrs. Schmoll was on a trolley car on the way back to Baldwinsville, a free woman. June 9, 1900, Mrs. Schmoll shot and killed Mrs. Lulu Ostrander at Baldwinsville. It was shown at the trial that Mrs. Ostrander had been intimate with Mrs. Schmoll's husband and had taunted her, as the defense claimed, beyond endurance. The defense was temporary insanity.

New Postoffice For New York.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Postmaster Van Cott of New York city conferred with Postmaster General Smith and other officials yesterday regarding the proposed new postoffice building in New York. Mr. Van Cott expressed the opinion that the bill now pending appropriating $2,500,000 for this purpose would pass at the approaching session of congress and that the building would be erected as close as possible to the Grand Central station.

Sugar Boom In Colorado.

SUGAR CITY, Colo., Nov. 27.—The immense new sugar refinery, costing with appurtenances and reservoirs $1,000,000, started yesterday, and the occasion was celebrated by a harvest festival. Sugar City is only seven months old, with over 1,800 people. The sugar beet lands surrounding are irrigated by the use of water stored in Twin lakes, 200 miles distant. Twelve thousand acres are being leased for the beet crop.

Two Shooters Dead.

DAISY, Ga., Nov. 27.—A shooting affray took place at Kennedy's Mills, near Groveland, Ga., in which L. Johnson and Robert Hatten, two white men, were killed. They had a misunderstanding, and Hatten shot Johnson through the neck, and after Johnson was down on the ground he raised up and shot Hatten's brains out. It is not known what the fracas was about.

Carnegie Library For Dubuque.

DUBUQUE, Ia., Nov. 27.—The proposition to levy a tax to support the free public library has been carried at a special election. The result carries with it a gift of $50,000 from Andrew Carnegie, also the Young Men's Library association's 18,000 volumes and other property worth $40,000.

Virginia's Vote.

Victory for Equal Taxation.

Another victory for the cause of equal taxation has been won in the decision of the Supreme Court that railroad property can be classified as real estate and taxed accordingly. This decision is brought about through the action of the Mayor of the Borough of Arlington in the attempt to put the property of a local traction company under the head of real estate for taxation purposes. The traction company, very naturally, fought the case with all the vigor and ability that high-priced legal talent could bring into play, but the decision of the court is emphatic and clear on the issue raised, "That the railroad is real estate cannot be denied."

Railroads and other corporations depending upon public franchises for the operation of their business have long escaped their just share of taxation, but public opinion is gradually assuming a force against this condition of things and legal lines are being tightened so that it seems in time we may yet see great aggregations of capital of this kind compelled to pay a tax commensurate with the privileges and benefits that they secure from the people.

This decision of the Supreme Court is of great importance to every municipality in the State, and it is to be hoped that local officials in every part of New Jersey will avail themselves of the power that the decision gives to make all corporations using public streets pay a fairer share of taxes than is now the case.

A forecast of one important bill to be introduced in the next Legislature is thus given by a Trenton correspondent: The Republicans had planned to put an anti-spring election bill through last winter, but as the result of the elections this fall were important, since the Legislature is to elect a United States Senator, the leaders decided to let the matter rest until this winter. There is little doubt that the bill will be introduced early in the session, and that it will go through. In order to avoid the shoal of unconstitutionality it will have to be so drawn as to apply to all cities. The measure will meet with a good deal of opposition from the Democrats, and some is looked for from the Republican side of the House, but the men favoring the measure think they have enough strength to weather the storm.

The change by statute from the fee to the salary system in Essex has resulted in a net revenue for the county of $4,740 for the year just closed for the office of Surrogate. The receipts amounted to $16 556 12 and the expenditures to $11 816 03. The receipts of the Register's office, which has been on a salary basis since May, amount to $12,307 43, and will reach about $25,000 for the year. The net income will amount to above $10,000. The County Clerk's office will be on a salary basis when another term begins.

A business man of long experience said to the representative of an advertising periodical: "The proper place for advertising is in the newspaper. The daily paper goes into the homes of the people, and is read every day in the desire for information—for a record of events, including accidents, deaths, marriages, and the like, and also for news of shopping places, etc. Reaching all buyers and being read when the mind is in a receptive state, the newspaper is the natural medium of publicity of all sellers."

In speaking of the social side of English political life Lord Salisbury said the other day that there is very little of it. He has never so much as spoken to John Morley, and never even saw Mr. Parnell. The same over here. Dr. Parkhurst never saw Richard Croker but once, and then not to speak to him.

The Japanese Government is considering the advisability of inflicting capital punishment by means of suffocation. It is proposed to place the subject in an air tight chamber and then exhaust the air from the box by means of a pump.

THEATRICAL.

Current | Dramatic | Attractions | That | Plainfielders | Can | Witness |

The attraction at Music Hall for Thanksgiving Day, Thursday afternoon and night, will be "Uncle Josh Spruceby." This popular production is playing to crowded houses at every stand. Mr. Levis is an up-to-date manager, always on the lookout for something to please his patrons. The talent engaged for this season are people of ability, and the play is produced in magnificent style. Many specialties are presented and they are all new and catchy. A carload of special scenery is used and the sensational saw mill scene is presented with all its startling realism. A fine street parade will be given at noon, at which time a splendid concert of popular music is rendered. The company carries 35 people and is one of the biggest organizations on the road. Reserved seats for matinee and night performances can now be secured at box office.

* * * * * *

"When We Were Twenty-One," which will be presented by George Clarke and a fine company at Music Hall Saturday night, received the highest praise when produced by Nat Goodwin at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York, last season. The critics without a dissenting voice, hailed the new play as a great acquisition to our present meagre dramatic literature. The press was unanimous in their praise. The success of the play was immediate and Edw. E. Rice purchased the right to produce "When We Were Twenty One" in all the cities where Mr. Goodwin does not appear. Mr. Rice has a ripe judgment, backed by long experience, and this is evidenced by his engagement of the best actor in the country to play the character of Dick Carewe. Mr. Clarke has long been the reigning favorite in Daly's New York and London Theatres, and it is a guarantee our play-goers will have a great performance. The play requires the most delicate shading and artistic atmosphere. An ordinary company would fail to appreciate the subtilities of Esmond's delicious writing. Mr. Rice has carefully guarded against this, and has surrounded Mr. Clarke with a company far above the average in point of dramatic ability.

Announcement.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cts. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely Brother, 56 Warren St., N. Y.

Dear Sirs:—Some days since a package of your GRAIN-O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Java and Mocha in our family, but I am free to say I like the GRAIN-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank. Respectfully yours,

THANKSGIVING
....IN OUR BASEMENT....

There is not a brighter basement to be found than ours—not a more cheerful place anywhere in which to make selections of settings for the Thanksgiving table. Not only is it a pleasant place to buy, but it is much more satisfactory than the average store, because you can depend upon everything being just right in quality and moderate in price. It does not take a Sherlock Holmes to tell that you've been wondering how you could make the Thanksgiving Table look prettier than it ever looked, and we've been turning our thoughts in the same direction—we've been wondering how we could provide table prettiness better than ever before and keep the cost down to a point that wouldn't make you feel that you were extravagant in providing appropriately for Thanksgiving Day. The items below will tell how well we have succeeded along both lines.

Dinner Ware Particular attention is directed to our excellent stock of French and English dinner ware. No such stocks have ever been shown in Plainfield before. THEY SAY.

The Merchant Says:

Telephone service is a great promoter of business. It not only is an open door for new business, but increases the facility with which any business may be transacted.

The Railroad Man Says:

It keeps our many departments running in continuous harmony. It increases both our passenger and our freight service, and is a great convenience to our patrons.

The Broker Says:

It keeps me in touch with the market wherever I am; I buy and sell by wire, and by taking telephonic advantage of a turn in the market I have made thousands of dollars.

The Doctor Says:

Telephone service has increased my income to nearly double. Many persons will seek advice by telephone who would hesitate to ask a physician to make a call.

The Caterer Says:

Telephone service enables me to serve my patrons more speedily and with less effort. It minimizes possibility of loss from overstocking.

The Housekeeper Says:

Life without telephone service would be unbearable. It smooths all the rough places. How we ever got along without it, I do not know.

The Suburban Resident Says:

The knowledge that I can call up my house out of town from my office in the city, is a great comfort.

The College Man Says:

"I say, old chap, it's great. You can call up and get the latest news from the football game or the boat race, and every other old thing a fellow wants to know."

Everybody Says:

It is the greatest thing in the world—the greatest convenience of this or any other time. The greatest factor in business, social or domestic life; a service no one can afford to be without.

The Telephone Company Says:

We want your patronage on the basis of LOW RATES, PERFECT SERVICE.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Nov. 27—The improvements which the Library Association have been making to their rooms in Excelsior Hook and Ladder building are about completed and the rooms present a very neat and inviting appearance. The walls have been newly papered, new carpets have been laid and new lights installed in every room. The association have spared no expense in their effort to give the boys of the village a neat, cozy and homelike meeting place where they can gather evenings to read or play games. There is no doubt but what the rooms will be well patronized during the winter by all who enjoy the privileges which a public library gives to a town.

The work of macadamizing Forest avenue, from Grand street to Mountain avenue, is completed, and another link has been added to the good roads through Fanwood township.

The Epworth League entertainment in Excelsior Hall Friday evening netted over $30 for the carpet fund of the Methodist church.

Washburn's minstrels at Music Hall, Plainfield, last evening, was well attended by the residents of the village.

Miss Jennie Johnson led an interesting Epworth League meeting in the Methodist church last evening.

Miss Lizzie Nichol, who has been spending a pleasant visit with friends in Brooklyn, has returned home.

Fanwood Council, R. A., will hold their semi-monthly meeting in their rooms this evening.

Mrs. Charles Joerg, of Stanbery avenue, is reported as improving from a serious illness.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Nov. 27.—The Patriotic Order, Sons of America, has made arrangements, together with the Board of Education, to give an entertainment on occasion of the opening of the new school house. The P. O. S. of A. will present the board with a large and handsome flag. Also at this time Leslie Molineaux will present to the school a new edition of Webster's dictionary.

TO HEAR GAGHANITES.

THE ASSOCIATION WILL HOLD A MEETING TO BOOM CANDIDATES.

Citizens Not to be Deprived of the Chance to Know Why Its Nominees Should be Elected.

Now that all tickets for the city election have been completed, campaigning will begin in earnest and as usual the Gaghanites will be found in the foremost rank, hustling for their candidates. At the meeting last evening, plans were made which will no doubt secure an overwhelming majority for the association's nominees. Chief among them was the making of preparations for a monster mass meeting to be given in Music Hall on the thirty-first of the present month.

At this demonstration, the Gaghanite platform and its issues will be explained thoroughly to the multitude which will no doubt be present and every method possible for securing the public's approval will be used. The association members will be seated on the platform, the president occupying the middle, and although he will make no address his august presence will no doubt make a great impression upon the audience. As for speakers, there will be no lack, as the oratorical powers of the Gaghanites have long since became famous.

First among those who will talk on the eventful evening may be named the brilliant Conroy, whose spellbinding powers are sure to create a sensation. By the West End contingent he is looked upon as a second Daniel Webster and this opportunity to hear him should not be missed. His subject will be "Why I Am a Gaghanite," and it will be handled in his own inimitable style. To further enable him to have a ready flow of language at hand during the course of his speeech, the association, without a dissenting vote, appropriated funds with which to purchase a dictionary and a sixth reader.

Following Conroy, Feiring will take the floor and talk at some length on "What I Will Do if I'm Elected." His plans were explained to the members at the last meeting, and to make an impression on the audience several boys will be hired to applaude at various points.

Remarks on the leading questions will also be made by Aleck Martin, Mark Hipp, Charles Hall and Lew Dunavan. Preceding the opening address and during the intermission classical and unclassical selections will be rendered by Winzenreid's orchestra. Harp solos will also be given by Mike Nevins, whose familiarity with this instrument is too well known to be commented upon. Mike preferred to make a speech, but was ruled out on the ground that he would make a better impression with the solos.

It is needless to say that Winzenreid was also eager to be among the speakers but his services were politely but firmly declined. When all plans for the demonstration had been made, Sergeant Totten arose and presented the name of Pat Melvin for membership. He also stated that Pat was short of the initiation fee but had declared if he was elected he would treat the association to a griddle cake supper. This latter remark had the desired effect and while the members were still cheering for Pat and his griddle cakes, some one broke a globe and the meeting ended in a confused scampering for the stairs.

Eutin. Unlängst erlitt der Lehrling Wohlert in der Maschinenfabrik von Wächter eine geringe Quetschung des Ring- und Mittelfingers der linken Hand. Es entstand Blutvergiftung, welcher der Verletzte erlag.

Jever. Der wegen Brandstiftung steckbrieflich verfolgte Dienstknecht Duin zu Bohnenburg wurde hier verhaftet.

Mecklenburg.

Ludwigslust. Der Dragoner-Unteroffizier Luft jagte sich eine Kugel in den Kopf und starb nach zwei Stunden. Das Motiv der That ist unbekannt.

Neustrelitz. Nach längerem Leiden starb im 88. Lebensjahre Dr. med. Ernst Arnd. Seit 1840 war er praktischer Arzt hierselbst.

Braunschweig.

Braunschweig. Der bei einem Neubau beschäftigte Maurer Karl Göttsch fiel vom Gerüst und brach das Genick.

Wolfenbüttel. Aus Furcht vor Strafe, die er wegen überschrittenen Urlaubs zu gewärtigen hatte, erschoß sich der Kanonier Wilhelm Schütte.

Großherzogthum Hessen.

Darmstadt. Der Wasenmeister Büttner bemerkte auf seinem Acker eine Stelle frisch aufgeworfener Erde. Als er nachsah, fand er, nur mit wenig Erde bedeckt, die Leichen dreier Kinder, wovon das jüngste ein neugeborenes war, und den Kopf einer Frau. Büttner setzte die Behörde von seinem unheimlichen Funde in Kenntniß.

Mainz. Der 24jährige Bahnarbeiter Wilhelm Alfenz gerieth im Centralbahnhof beim Zusammenkoppeln der Wagen zwischen die Puffer und wurde schwer am Kopfe verletzt. Der Verunglückte wurde sterbend in's Hospital gebracht.

Oppenheim. Ein Arbeiter und das Dienstmädchen des Gasthofbesitzers Johann Schupp waren in einem mit neuem Wein gefüllten Keller bewußtlos geworden. Um sie zu retten, drang der Gasthofbesitzer selbst vor, wurde aber von den Stickluftgasen getödtet. Die beiden gefährdeten Leute wurden gerettet.

Wöllstein. Der Provinzialausschuß von Rheinhessen verurtheilte die Gemeinde Wöllstein zur Zahlung von 18 Prozent der Baukosten der Eisenbahn Wöllstein-Fürfeld.

Worms. Vor einiger Zeit brannte das umgebaute neue Waarenhaus von Max Aronsohn vollständig nieder. Der Brandschaden hatte allein für Waaren eine Höhe von 80,000 Mark. Das Feuer war im Schaufenster durch Gelatin-Beleuchtungskörper entstanden. Jüngsthin wurde Aronsohn von der Strafkammer wegen fahrlässiger Brandstiftung zu 300 Mark Geldstrafe verurtheilt.

Bayern.

München. Der Distriktsrath München links der Isar beschloß, gemeinschaftlich mit dem Distrikt München rechts der Isar zwei weitere Brücken über die Isar zu bauen, und zwar eine zwischen Unterföhring und dem Aumeister, die andere zwischen Grünwald und Höllrizgelsgreuth.—Just 3907 Rekruten sind jüngst bei den hiesigen Regimentern, Bataillonen und Detachements zugegangen und in den verschiedenen Kasernen in Gegenwart des Offizierkorps und der Mannschaften der betreffenden Truppentheile feierlich vereidigt worden.—In China ist Johann Neumaier, Sohn eines hiesigen Hausbesitzers, vor dem Feinde gefallen. Neumaier war als Freiwilliger vom 12. Infanterie-Regiment in Neu-Ulm ausgehoben worden.

Aschaffenburg. Die Strafkammer verurtheilte den Apotheker Bildau, der in zahlreichen Apotheken der Umgebung Einbrüche verübte, zu sechs Jahren Zuchthaus.

Bamberg. Im hiesigen Eisenbahnamte unterschlug der Kassenbureaugehilfe Bassing 50,000 Mark. Der Thäter wurde verhaftet; 46,000 Mark wurden noch bei ihm vorgefunden.

Bayreuth. Anläßlich des neulich stattgefundenen 25jährigen Jubiläums des hiesigen Centralschulhauses verlieh der Stadtmagistrat an zwei Oberlehrer und acht Lehrer, welche 20 Jahre ununterbrochen ihres Amtes hier walteten, das Bürgerrecht unentgeltlich. Für die Folge soll allen Lehrern mit 20jähriger Dienstzeit in hiesiger Stadt diese Auszeichnung zu theil werden.

Erlangen. In dem kürzlich hierorts beendeten juristischen Examen sind 44 Kandidaten geprüft worden, von welchen elf durchfielen. Ursprünglich waren 50 zugelassen, von denen jedoch sechs zurücktraten.

Herzogenaurach. Hier haben sich 14 Schuhmachermeister zu einer Innung zusammengethan, die vom Staatsministerium einen Zuschuß von 2500 Mark und ein mit 1½ Prozent zu verzinsendes Betriebskapital von 16,000 Mark erhalten hat.

Kulmbach. In der protestantischen Petrikirche traten unlängst an einem Sonntage nach Schluß des Gottesdienstes drei Personen von der katholischen zur protestantischen Kirche über.

Must Believe It.
When Well-Known Plainfield People Tell It so Plainly.
When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen. If Plainfield the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every backache sufferer, every man, woman or child with any kidney trouble will profit in the reading.
Mrs. Margaret Reville, of 752 West Third street, says: "For a long time I was troubled with a lame and weak back and I never found anything which gave me any relief until I obtained Doan's Kidney Pills from L. W. Randolph's drug store and began to use them according to directions. It was only a short time before I felt the good effects and from that time on I improved steadily under the treatment. My back pained me and I was so weak and sore that I dreaded to bend and when I had a cold or over exerted myself I suffered severely. I used several different kidney remedies but got but little if any relief. I give Doan's Kidney Pills all the credit for my improvement. I think they are a fine medicine for a lame back."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

WINTER WEAR.

Latest Decrees of Fashion In Feminine Apparel.

The uses for which chenille has been found adapted are manifold, and it seems as if almost every new thing one sees has this beautiful trimming added in some way. Braided, it forms the foundation for hat crowns and brims, and sewed along the edge of silk or other material it is quilled up and is made into rosettes and other trimming. Boas are made of different sizes, either sewed along the edges or made into fringe at the front, and this extends frequently almost to the bottom of the skirt. Chenille is so soft and velvety that it is as becoming as sealskin. One dainty boa was made of accordion plaited liberty silk, and the edge was pulled out straight, and a row of the thickest chenille was put directly on the edge. Bows for the hair and floating loops are added to dresses, and, in fact, one may see it everywhere just now. It is true that it has taken several months for the vogue of chenille to reach such proportions.

The social whirl has so far not been in very active motion this season, for the weather has made a prolonged stay in the country a pleasure, and those whose word is law in such things as balls and other very swell social functions have not yet given that word. So, except for some few dinners and receptions, there has really been little to call forth much fine dressing—not even the automobile show. But the horse will demonstrate what the leading styles will be, for, though the stores have long since done their best in providing beautiful and costly attire, it is not until the great horse show is over that what is to be chosen in garments is known. Most of the gowns and other things which will be worn there will be of so expensive a kind that it is not expected that other women could afford such, but it will be mostly in the form and not so much in the value of the goods used which will set the fashion. It will then be known whether we are to wear the empire forms or those of the restoration or those of Louis XV or some other era. The present outlook is a little of everything, and this year is no exception to the unwritten law which leaves the whole thing in the balance until the fates in the shape of the ladies of the renowned Four Hundred shall decide. My own impression is that the box coats in long and ample folds will prevail in the matter of wraps, but these are so diverse in form and finish that each becomes virtually a new garment, individual and apart.

Princess forms are seen in evening gowns and also in some street attire, but in this case the form is cleverly disguised. Many new gowns are made with drapery around the waist, like the old style tablier, and others again have flounces up to the top. More are made with tunics which fall over a deep flounce of satin or velvet of some darker color. Quite a number of dresses show a double skirt, and many more are open at the sides and slashed from top to bottom, with an inset of something else. I remember one beautiful evening gown which had the fronts left loose and slightly draped at the left side. This was slashed all the way, and there was an inset of black lace over green silk. The dress itself was of apple green crepe de chine, and all around the bottom and up the sides was an embroidery of silver and dark green chenille about three inches wide. Along the edges was a narrow line of black fur, and this was carried all around the neck, which was quite low. It was princess shape in the back. On the shoulder and in three places down the side, where it closed, there were large rosettes of black tulle. The half long sleeves were of black lace laid over green in many narrow plaits. This same style of a dinner gown was duplicated in pale pink velling.

There is quite a revival of accordion plaiting for evening dresses, particularly for the younger ladies, and this is made of thin mousseline de soie and other diaphanous materials. It is especially pretty for dancing, as it floats out with such a dainty grace. These skirts generally have waists of the same, with a short figaro and often a handsome wide sash. These sashes are most often of wide ribbon, but are sometimes of velvet cut with rounded tab ends and richly embroidered all the way. It must be admitted that these heavy sashes do not look exactly right with a frock of tulle or fine silk mull, but perhaps that is just the reason why they are so well liked.

BOB BURDETTE Takes a Trip Abroad

He Takes a Run Through England and Tells of English Peasants and English Poets

[Copyright, 1900, by Robert J. Burdette.]

RUNNING the length and breadth of England—and that doesn't take longer than six weeks for a carriage window view—there is but one place on the map of the United States of which we are in any wise reminded; that is Bryn Mawr, Pa. If that bit of garden country about Bryn Mawr and Haverford, with its stone walls, hedges, magnificent forest trees, perfect farms, the embankments and tracks, bridges and stations of the Pennsylvania railway—no, we'll leave out the stations; there isn't a bill-cursed and advertisement-defiled railway station in all Great Britain that would be admitted into the society of respectable American railway stations. We may call them "day-poes," "dep-poes," and "dee-poes" and we do, but we don't turn them into picture puzzles, in which the problem is to find the name of the stations. But to correct the alignment and get back to the original formation. If Bryn Mawr could be stretched out about 400 miles, that would be as fair a picture of beautiful rural England as you could paint on American ground. I don't know anything about this new world lying east of Quoddy Head, yet, but there isnt a country in the United States through which I have not journeyed again and again, and I know there is nothing in all New England so like Old England as that little beauty spot of pleasant hills and meadows esque farms which the tourist raves over. They rent them, and the rent is high, and the margin of profit close; and the little fields are not gleaned to make them neatly attractive to the eye, but to get the last straw off the ground and the last root out of it. The waste of a Kansas farm, the castaway prunings of a California ranch would be a crop for some of these farms. But oh, man, you should see the cattle and sheep they drive to market. Your mother doesn't want or need any advice from her children on the subject of stock raising.

WE HAD TO REACH THE DINING ROOM THROUGH THE KITCHEN.

and stone houses beginning at Overbrook and running about twenty miles west of Philadelphia. So if the busy American hasn't time to cross the raging ocean if he wants a fair idea of rural English landscape, let him visit Bryn Mawr.

It began to rain the day we left London—bright, sunny, cloudless, fascinating, entrancing London,—and it has rained like a shower bath ever since, but the dismalest weather that was ever precipitated upon an ungrateful world couldn't destroy the beauty of English landscape. The little farms carefully cultivated with a razor and a hair brush; the little fields hemmed with gray stone walls or bright green hedges and fringed with forest trees; the fields that have exhausted the possibilities of surveyor's platting—triangular, oblong, four, five or seven sided, any sort of polygon so it's irregular—never two sides of the same field being of equal length or running parallel, any shape except the one you might imagine a field to be; fields that seem to have come together informally to discuss the art of provoking the downfall of rain during the tourist and haying season, and to have lost their way in the mazes of the convention, same as human beings do—that's the way your mother lays out her farm land. I don't suppose it's one-half so convenient for practical farming as the regular lines of township survey, but that makes it more English; and, oh, what a land it makes for the tourist, the dreamer, the poet and the artist. "Wordsworth, a poet of nature," said one of the boys, as we loitered through the lake district; "small credit to him, living here all his life! How could he help it?" Well—yes.

Costs a great deal, however, to keep up a picturesque country for the poet and artist. This farming country of Great Britain looks rich—rich—rich. And it is rich. But not for that fellow on the hillside, with the skirts of his trousers strapped up at his knees, who has spread that hay to dry in the rain every morning for eight days, because the hay won't last much longer. It wears out a very little every time it is spread and cocked up again, and after awhile it will all be gone. The people in these prehistoric stone houses do not own the picturesque farms which the tourist raves over. They rent them, and the rent is high, and the margin of profit close; and the little fields are not gleaned to make them neatly attractive to the eye, but to get the last straw off the ground and the last root out of it. The waste of a Kansas farm, the castaway prunings of a California ranch would be a crop for some of these farms. But oh, man, you should see the cattle and sheep they drive to market. Your mother doesn't want or need any advice from her children on the subject of stock raising.

"Poet and Peasant."

You see, when you pair "The Poet and Peasant" it all sounds very well in the opera, but on the farm, while the poet is lounging in his "favorite seat" away up on the hillside, where he can see the mere and the tarn, and the fell, and the burn, and the brae, and the booze and all the other elements that enter into the poetic soul of the landscape, the peasant is trying to grub three months' arrears of rent for himself and a dinner for the poet out of a rock patch that he calls a farm and which has been cultivated for 1,100 years. Consequently, when he asks the poet for a little payment on his board for the week before last month, the poet, with a fine scorn in his soul and an aching human void in his stomach, calls the peasant "sordid," which he certainly isn't; and the peasant, with eight or nine children to feed—the eldest in the cradle and the youngest at the breast—calls the poet lazy, which he certainly is not. A man who makes a living by hunting harmonious rhymes and melodious feet, works harder and lives worse than all the peasants in Ireland—which is impossible. Lazy as the peasant may think him, the poet looks wan and hungry and yearning, as though for something beyond his reach, were it only a sandwich; and wretched and sordid as the poet may think him, the peasant in England looks well fed and happy. I don't believe the man with the hoe ever dreamed how unhappy he was until the poet went and told him. Where ignorance is bliss, 'tis blister to find it out.

Beauties and Blemishes.

The beauty of all out-of-doors in the run through England atones for the discomforts of the train. For, however homelike England may seem to the American, however much of welcome and cordial greeting there is in the atmosphere, when he enters a railway carriage he knows at once that he is many thousands (about a million miles, I think) away from the United States. A million miles away from the land of Pullman and Wagner, of chair cars and dining cars, parlor cars and observation cars—dining cars especially and all other sorts of cars particularly. They do run a base imitation of a "dining car" on some of the fast English trains. We tried it—once; we will never do it again. We had to reach the dining-room through the "kitchen." On our way to the banqueting hall we were delayed in the passage, because the cook had piled a barrier of dishes on the floor. When we came out the passage was barricaded with a chaos of pots, and we had to await their removal. The "dining car," a small compartment of the coach, was stuffy, not overly clean, shabbily and very cheaply furnished, and the luncheon would have delighted the fastidious palate and luxurious taste of Lucullus—if Lucullus had been shipwrecked on a desert island and had had nothing to eat for two weeks. When we remembered the snowy napery, the tidy, white-jacketed waiters, the dainty furnishings, the elaborate bill of fare, the long, roomy, splendidly lighted car, the clear crystal and the china of the dining cars at home, we hanged our appetites on the willows and went back into our compartment and chewed the cud of pleasant memories, which was far more satisfying than anything we could get in the "dining car." Shun it, oh, wayfaring man. Carry pretzels and bologna in your pocket against the day of famine, but keep out of the English dining car. Of a verity it is a snare, a delusion and a fraud.

And I really think it is the only fraud we have run across thus far in all England. They have everything here that goes to make a perfect railway system. They have perfect roadbeds; they have the rails laid without perceptible joints; they have no grade crossings; they can show us—would they could teach us—that a train can be run at the highest speed and with the maximum of safety without having the locomotive exhaust through the whistle valve; they can show us how easy a matter it is—would they might teach us—to run a train into a station and take it out again without battering heaven and earth and all intermediate space with the clamorous jangle of a deafening bell that is supposed to warn somebody by driving everybody mad with its bewildering racket; they can show us how a whistle, small, clear, distinct, can accomplish all that is done by a great tubular siren that hoots and shrieks and wails all over a whole township; oh, these Englishmen can teach us a whole volume of good points in railroading.

RAILWAY PUZZLE PICTURES.

Now, if they would only put on some passenger coaches of a model of somewhat later date than the coaches that bumped along over a corduroy track behind the "Rocket," their system would be close to perfection. But, as it is, I cannot see one good feature in the English railway coach. At every station one can see people chasing wildly up and down the platform looking for a compartment in which there is a vacant seat. More than once have I seen a party of four scattered in different compartments, because there could not be found four seats vacant in any one. And again and again the last picture at the station has been that of a guard thrusting a protesting man, or still more vigorously protesting "female"—for as such is a woman officially known in England—into a compartment into which the passenger didn't want to enter. Then the green flag waves, and, with no fuss, no clamor, no racket of any kind, the train starts. It comes time for it to start and it starts; that's all. No preliminary eruption of shriek, bang and Fourth of July. Just starts, as a Christian man, having occasion to walk from his home to the post office, say, would rise from his chair and start. Wouldn't rise from his chair, you know, and yell with an ear-splitting howl:

CHASING UP AND DOWN THE PLATFORM LOOKING FOR A COMPARTMENT.

"Whoo-whoo-whoop-pee! Whoop! Whoop! Whoop! Ding dong! Ding dong! Whoo-whoo!"

No; he would simply start. Well, that's the way an English railway train starts from the station. You have to see it to appreciate the silent beauty of it. "See" it; you never hear it. And, then, with all the good things, the superlative graces and virtues of the system, to thrust the passenger into a compartment with a couple of stuffed benches in it. First-class, second-class, third-class; they vary in the neatness of appointments, but the barren rigidity of utter discomfort is the same in all three. There are no railway passenger cars outside the United States and Canada. There are "vans" of different models for the transportation of cattle—brute and human—but no cars for "passengers," which is a very different thing.

Lessons We Might Learn.

While I am roasting the one weak spot in our mother's railway systems let me add one word to what I said in a former letter about the English system of handling luggage. The more I see of it and the more I use it, the better I like it. Take away the "brawses;" trunks may be saved without them. And then, it makes your heart tender and soothes your self respect and feeds your vanity to see an English porter, or a train "baggage master," handles your luggage. The man actually appears to regard it as your own personal property, in which you have not only a personal interest, but an absolute right of ownership. He does not resent your carrying a change of apparel with you on your journey. He does not regard it as a personal affront if you carry two changes. For one thing, it must be said, he doesn't have to lift it into or pitch it out of a car two stories higher than the platform; and for another thing, he doesn't have so much of it to handle. Nobody on earth carries so much luggage as we Americans. We laugh at the Englishman with his luggage piled up around him—it used to be topped off with the bathtub—but all that he has is hand luggage. If you see a cab with a Himalaya of sunburned, weather-beaten, belabeled, ungainly portmanteaus, gladstones, wraps-alls and hat boxes on top of it, you know that an Englishman is inside the cab. But if the four-wheeler is top heavy with new trunks, neat, up-to-date models—steamer and Saratoga, five, six or seven—look to see one, or possibly two, rarely three Americans alight when it stops. And when they go home the tale of trunks will be augmented a few.

Oh, you may weigh it all yourself, and you will probably come to the same decision that I have. If we could inoculate our own railways with a little of the English quiet and orderliness; if we could run our trains into and out of the stations more like a conveyance and less like a cyclone; if we could teach the citizen to have respect for a railway crossing so that the miles would not be punctuated by the waste of good steam in simply making an entirely unnecessary noise; if, better still, we would make the railway dive under or leap over all crossings, railroading travel in the United States would be the next thing to having your own wings. Better, in fact, because a man walks right into no end of trouble, and wickedness, and unhappiness, and evil ways with his slow-going and more easily controlled legs. No telling to what lengths he would go, and no guessing what places he would go into, if he had wings and could go faster and get into more of 'em in a day.

ROBERT J. BURDETTE.

THE ACCENT OF VERSAILLES.

How Fashionable French Was Spoken by the Cavaliers in the Eighteenth Century.

The Duc de Broglie declares in a recent article that Lafayette, even in 1830, with Laffitte, remained a marquis of the ancient regime. Charles X. was fond of saying: "Only two men in France have not changed—Lafayette and myself."

Now, the Duc de Broglie, who knew the old commander in chief of the National guards of France, notes the way in which Lafayette spoke of new ideas, defending them with old-time expressions which he still used. The Duc de Broglie remarks the likeness of the "General of Liberty" to old uncles attached to his great-grandfather, the Marechal de Broglie, old officers of the army of Conde whom he met in his family circle. What he noticed in Lafayette and these survivals of the eighteenth century was a slightly nasal way of speaking, which was the accent of Versailles. As a matter of fact, this nasal style was the mark of distinction in the old court of France. It was "le bon ton." It gave words a peculiar kind of elegant pertness. And th observation of the Duc de Broglie of a detail which characterizes a whole class strikes a tradition of the Comedie Francaise when the play concerns the old world, the "gentilshommes de l'ancient regime."

All the actors, says the London Athenaeum, who, after the admirable Samson, played, for instance, the part of the Marquis de la Seigliere in the pretty piece by Jules Sandeau—exactly hit off by the actor Regnier—have imparted the required tone to the part, that nasal tone of the marquis of Lafayette and his contemporaries. The Duc d'Aumale often told us of the way in which his father, King Louis Philippe, pronounced certain words in the style of the past century. Louis Philippe did not say "Monsieur," but "M'sieu;" not "Eugene, Eugenie," but "Ugene, Ugenie;" "J'ai vu jouer l'Ugenie de M'sieu de Beamarchais." It was the manner of the eighteenth century just as the nasal style was the fashion. And Samson, when he played in "Mademoiselle de la Seigliere," was too wise to forget the pronunciation of the epoch. He said through his nose: "M'sieu de Buonaparte."

Hygiene of the Air.

The chemical composition of the atmosphere varies very little. Whether we take a sample from the top of the Himalayas or at sea level the contents of oxygen, nitrogen, etc., are practically the same. The favorable effect of high altitudes upon many diseases cannot be explained by any gaseous peculiarity in the composition of the air and is probably largely due to the decrease of microbes and dust. Health resorts in pine, birch and oak forests owe their beneficial effect to the traces of hydrogen and hydrocarbons in the shape of essential oils and aromatic products which are found in the air in such localities.—Science.

SPORTING.

ON THE GRIDIRON.

Plainfield's football enthusiasts will have their last opportunity to see a good football game this season on Thanksgiving Day. Manager Edward J. Kline has secured the Bayonne Athletic Club eleven to play here against the Alis Athletic Association team that morning and a good game is assured. The game will begin at 10 o'clock. To prevent any possibility of failure on the visiting team to appear, a forfeit has been posted by their manager. The Bayonne boys play good fast football and the Alis boys are practicing hard to get back to their famous old form. The admission to Martine Common, where the game is to be played, will be twenty-five cents.

GOLF

The final match for Chapman cup will take place tomorrow afternoon on the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club course, between W. L. Glenney and J. Whitney Baker. The winner will be the club champion.

The Hillside Tennis and Golf Club has entered W. L. Glenney and J. Whitney Baker in the individual championship tournament of the East Jersey Golf Association that is to be played next Friday and Saturday at Baltusrol. It is possible that F. O Reinhart may also be entered, should there be a vacancy and he can secure leave of absence from St. Paul's school. Reinhart is one of the strongest players of the club and his friends believe that he would be invincible on the Baltusrol course. Hillside will make every effort to capture the trophy. The entries for the tournament close today.

NATIONAL SUFFRAGE BAZAAR.

Features of the Novel Exhibition to be Held in New York.

The National Suffrage bazaar, the first enterprise of the kind ever held, will open in Madison Square Garden in New York, Monday evening, December 3d, and will continue all the week. On the opening night there will be a reception to woman suffrage pioneers, including Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Susan B. Anthoney, Julia Ward Howe, Mary A. Livermore, Isabella Beecher Hooker and Antoinette Brown Blackwell. There will be special features each afternoon and evening during the week, including music by noted artists, readings and novel entertainments.

The New Jersey patronesses will be Mrs. Emma L. Blackwell and Mrs. Joanna Hartshorn.

MRS. HUTCHINSON HAD NO WILL.

This Disproves Belief That She Left $100,000 to Former Manager.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Nov. 27—The statement that the late Mrs. Hutchinson willed all her personal property, supposed to be worth nearly $100 000, to former manager John Nichols, has been disproved by an application for an executorship in the Orphans' Court here by Mrs. Carman and Louis Carman, the mother and brother respectively of the deceased woman.

The applicants make affidavit that Mrs. Hutchinson made no will.

Cranford Pastors at Odds.

Rev. George F Greene proposed to hold union services in the Cranford Presbyterian church Thanksgiving morning, and, accordingly, invited the pastors of both of the Methodist churches to join with the Presbyterians. Rev. Oscar L. Joseph has written a letter requesting Mr. Greene to withdraw the invitation to Rev. H. C. Thompson and refusing to meet Mr. Thompson on the platform. Mr. Greene declines to do so. Rev. Mr. Thompson is pastor of the new St. Paul's Methodist church, which was formed as the result of a split from the Walnut Avenue Methodist church about a year ago. Mr. Joseph is the pastor of the mother church.

Mother Brings Suit Against Son.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Nov. 27—Mrs. Margaret Chamberlain, widow of ex-Assemblyman Wm. Chamberlain, of Rahway, has begun an attachment suit for $3,000 against her son, William, who was in partnership with his father in the coal business at Rahway. The young man has left the State. It is supposed he is in New York State. A tract of land 200x75 feet in Jaques avenue, Rahway, has been levied on to satisfy the claim.

TO ALTER SEWER BEDS.

COMMON COUNCIL WILL BE REQUESTED TO ACT NEXT MONTH.

Meeting of Committee Held Last Night to Go Over Plans and Specifications With Expert Osgood.

Action may be expected next month on the proposed changes to the city sewage disposal plant. Engineer Osgood, the New York expert, met with the members of the Councilmanic committee on streets and sewers last evening and most of the time was spent going over the plans and specifications for the changes, the details of which have already been published in The Daily Press. These plans are not quite complete as yet. An effort will be made to have them ready to be presented at the meeting of the Council Monday evening. If they are not ready, however, the Council will hold an adjourned meeting later in the month when the report will be presented.

Contractor C. M. Meeker has offered to sell the city his new steam roller to take the place of the old one which has nearly ended its period of usefulness. The new roller has done very satisfactory work but the street committee did not feel that the present situation required immediate action and so the question of the purchase of a new steam roller will go over until next year when the new Council will act on it. The work for season has been completed and the steam roller will not be needed until spring.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—A joint meeting of the committees in charge of the boys department of work in the Y. M. C. A., will be held this evening at the residence of Stephen Cahoone, of Watchung avenue.

—The contents of the home of Mrs. Carrie C. Boice, corner of Jackson and Watchung avenues, will be disposed of at auction tomorrow noon at 12:30 o'clock. Hand & Pangborn will be the auctioneers.

—The members of the Sewing Circle connected with the Calvary Baptist church met last evening at the residence of Mrs. Sallie Thornton, Madison avenue, and passed several hours in a pleasant manner.

—The members of the Christian Endeavar Society of the First Presbyterian church, are requested to attend the regular monthly business meeting to be held tomorrow evening. The chairman of the various committees will please bring in written reports of their work for the past month.

—You can't afford to risk your life by allowing a cough or a cold to develop into pneumonia or consumption. One Minute Cough Cure will cure throat and lung troubles quicker than any other preparation known. Many doctors use it as a specific for grippe. It is an infallible remedy for croup. Children like it and mothers endorse it. L. W. Randolph.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Many Plainfielders will unite in congratulations to Dr. and Mrs. Louis Newman, of Brewster, N. Y., who are rejoicing over the arrival of a young daughter. Dr. Newman is a son of H. O. Newman, of West Fifth street.

New Vicar-General.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Nov. 27.—Bishop McFaul, of the Catholic Diocese of Trenton, announced yesterday the appointment of Rev. John H. Fox, as Vicar-General of the diocese to succeed the late Mgr. Moran, of Princeton. Father Fox is pastor of St. Mary's Cathedral, this city.

Where They Dance in Church.

During the octaves of the festival of Corpus Christi and on the three last days of the carnival a strange scene takes place in the cathedral of Seville. On either side of the open space in front of the altar, within the iron screens, five boys dressed in the costume of the seventeenth century, with tunics of white and blue silk, hats looped up with a plume of feathers, scarfs fastened across the shoulders and silk mantles hanging behind, take their stand. Presently they begin a slow and measured movement, singing the while hymns to the patroness of Spain and keeping time with ivory castanets. For half an hour do they dance, and then the magnificent organ peals forth, the bells ring and the congregation that has assembled to view the dancing streams out of the cathedral.

IN CONTEMPT OF COURT.

Writ of Attachment Issued Against the Perth Amboy Editor by Vice-Chancellor Pitney.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, November 27.—St. George Kempson, a politician and newspaper owner of Perth Amboy is in contempt of the New Jersey Chancery Court, a writ of attachment having been issued against him yesterday by Vice-Chancellor Pitney. The order requires that he give a recognizance in the sum of $3,000.

The contempt charge against Kempson is the outcome of his prosecution of a divorce suit in North Dakota against his wife, Helen A. Kempson, after an injunction had been issued against him by the Chancellor of New Jersey.

After Kempson secured his Dakota divorce he married a young woman who had been his private secretary. In order to avoid arrest on the charge of contempt he remained away from New Jersey, taking up his residence in New York, where he also conducts an insurance journal. Recently, thinking that the contempt proceedings had been abandoned, Kempson went to his former home, between Perth Amboy and Metuchen.

Condition of Odd Fellows' Home.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Nov. 27.—Since the New Jersey Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows last week rejected the old Odd Fellows' Home, in this city, the financial statement of the condition of the institution has been made public by the Home Association. The home has a total indebtedness of only $3,000 and the assets amount to $28,567 88, as follows: Real estate, $22 000; personal property, $6,000; cash on hand, $567.88. During the last year the receipts were as follows: From lodges and encampments, $3,136 12; received from sale of farm products, $103 79; donations, $1,877 50, making a total of $5,107 45. The expenditures were $4,800, which included the payment of $1,000 on the mortgage. There are now seventeen inmates at the home.

THE HARVEST HOME AT THE HOSPITAL

Thoughtful People Have Responded Nobly to Appeal for Contributions.

THE WOMEN ARE IN CHARGE

NURSES' HOME MADE ATTRACTIVE THROUGH USE OF DECORATIONS.

Sociability Reigned Among the Visitors to the Institution—Public Schools Responded Nobly With Gifts.

The good and thoughtful people of Plainfield responded nobly this year to the appeal from the management of Muhlenberg Hospital, and that worthy institution was kindly remembered at the harvest home held yesterday afternoon. Once a year this event is a red letter day in the history of the hospital, as it is a time when everyone can help the good work by contributing their mite or as much as their means will allow. For several days past those in charge at the hospital have been kept busy receiving the many donations sent in, and the management of the institution is more than pleased with the response. Everything needed at such a place is included in the list of articles contributed, and in goodly quantities.

Included in the list are to be found apples, potatoes, poultry, fresh fruit, canned goods, preserves, etc. More canned goods than anything else were donated, and this is desirable, for they will keep for any reasonable length of time. A great many donations were stored in the lecture room at the Nurses' Home, where visitors could see them and realize to some extent the generous response.

The good women who compose the auxiliary to the Board of Governors were in evidence yesterday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 6 o'clock, when a very large number of people called to take part in one way and another in the festivities. A feeling of Thanksgiving among those who called at the Home was strongly in evidence and everyone joined in the happy thought that the hospital had fared so well. Everyone was given a cordial welcome and many, who visited the hospital for the first time, had an opportunity to become acquainted with the work and the institution, and to learn of the needs.

The Nurses' Home, always an attractive place, was made more so through pleasing decorations. The general decoration was confined to the first floor, and here there was a generous display. In the hallway and on the stairs there was an arrangement of pampas grass and strings of cranberries. Over and about each doorway there was decorations consisting of cornstalks, ears of corn and fruits, all of which gave the rooms a genuine harvest home appearance.

The decorations were in charge of Mrs. William Pelletier, chairman; Miss Mary Martine, Miss Edith Littell, Miss Imogene Bass, Mrs. Lemuel W. Serrell and Miss B. Ewing, and they received many flattering comments for their earnest efforts.

During the hours tea was served and sociability reigned supreme. Those in charge of the tea room were Miss Elizabeth Cock, president of the Auxiliary; Mrs. D. M. Van-Buren, Mrs. Elliot T. Barrows, Mrs. E. Ladd, Mrs. F. H. Andrews and Mrs. Thomas Minford.

In connection with the donations, much praise should be given to the scholars of the public and private schools. Barrels were left at each school and there was a generous response. Mention should also be made of a basket of fruit and flowers given by Benjamin A. Mulford. There were also many other large donations that were gratefully received.

Depends on the Weather.

Unless there is a continuation of mild weather the work of macadamizing West Front street will be completed only as far as Plainfield avenue for the present. The street from that point to Grant avenue will be covered with the usual sizes of stone and the finishing touches will be made next spring. At this season of the year great care has to be exercised in using water on the streets.

Thanksgiving Services.

The usual Thanksgiving Day services will be held tomorrow. At the Park Avenue Baptist church, Rev. Dr. Hubbell will preach, and at the First M. E church Rev Cornelius Schenck, Ph. D., of Trinity Reformed church, will deliver the sermon Everyone is cordially invited to attend either one of these two union services and join in the spirit of Thanksgiving.

YELLOW DOG THE CAUSE.

Frightened Horse That Ran Away and Injured Man and Who Has Been Awarded Damages.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, November 28 —A case of great interest was tried before Squire Kitchen and a jury of twelve men at the Court House yesterday. It was all over a yellow dog. The case was that of Charles E. and Jennie S Wood against Charles Davis. It was an action for damages. Mr. and Mrs. Wood were driving from North Branch to Somerville, when a dog belonging to Mr. Davis ran after the horse, biting it in the legs and causing it to run away, throwing Mrs. Davis out and injuring her severely. The defense was that the dog was only playful and that the horse was bad. Hon. James J. Bergen and H K. Gaston represented the defendant, and D. H. Beekman the plaintiffs. The jury rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs, fixing Mrs. Woods' damages at $75 and Mr. Woods' at $25. The case was tried once before, but the jury failed to agree.

INSPECTED G A. R. POST.

Assistant Inspector Martin, of Rahway, Performed the Work in This City Last Night.

Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G A.R., was inspected last evening by Assistant Inspector Martin, of Wm. Barry Post, of Rahway, and the Post was found to be in first-class condition. The inspector complimented the officers and members very highly for their excellent showing which is second to none in the State.

After the inspection nominations of officers were made with the following result: Commander, Dr. Berg; senior vice-commander. Francis Whitely; junior vice-commander, Andrew Cox; quartermaster, J. R. Naylor; officer-of-the-day, Isaac L. McVoy; officer of the guard, John Finley; chaplain, John Goodwin; council of administration, William C. Smith, William Hand and M. C Dobbins; delegates to Department Encampment, Israel Compton, V. W. Nash, Andrew Cox and Francis Whiteley.

Following the business of the evening the members of the Woman's Relief Corps were received and a social time was enjoyed by all, followed by a collation. The supper was served by the members of the Corps. During this part of the affair many interesting addresses and talks were given by the officers and visiting veterans Past Department Commander Cushman, of Connecticut, a member of the first Post in that State, was present and gave quite a history of the organization. Among those present at the meeting were delegations from Rahway, Elizabeth and Elizabethport. It was late when the meeting closed, but in enjoying the festivities the time passed very quickly.

END OF FOOTBALL SEASON.

Alis A. A. Will Play Bayonne A. C. on Martine Common Tomorrow.

The football season of the Alis Athletic Association will close tomorrow morning with a game with the Bayonne Athletic Club on Martine Common. The game is called for 10 o'clock. Encouraged by the fine showing they made last week, the Alis boys are practicing hard for tomorrow's game. They will line up almost the same as they did then, the only changes being at the tackles. The line-up of the two teams will be as follows:

ALIS A. A.		BAYONNE A. C.
Catheart	right end	O. Dodge or P. Dodge
Waring	right tackle	Delaplerre or Ashland
McClure	right guard	Mettam
G. P. Smith	centre	Tuttle
Pike	left guard	Taft
H. Smith	left end	Jennings

WHAT'S TO HAPPEN ON THANKSGIVING

Church Services, Football Games, Golf and Other Attractions for the Day.

SEVERAL ENTERTAINMENTS

ALIS A. A. WILL CLOSE FOOTBALL SEASON ON MARTINE COMMON.

Union Services in First M. E. and Park Avenue Baptist Churches—Show at Music Hall—Y. M. C. A. Star Course Entertainment.

Tomorrow will be Thanksgiving Day. According to the proclamation of Governor Voorhees, the people of New Jersey will publicly give thanks for the many blessings they have received during the year. Scores of families in this city will gather about the board where the crisply browned turkey is enthroned, surrounded by a host of side dishes. Without doubt, the Thanksgiving dinner will be the great event of the day for many but it can't last forever and there are other happenings planned for the day which will occupy part of the time for many.

For those who desire to observe the day by attending a special Thanksgiving service, the Protestant churches of the city have arranged for union service which will be held at the First M. E. church and the Park Avenue Baptist church. Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph. D., will preach at the former and Rev. Dr. Hubbell at the latter. The services will begin at 11 o'clock and will be preceded by a union Christian Endeavor service, which will be held in Vincent chapel, beginning at 10 o'clock. Special Thanksgiving services will also be held in St. Mary's R C church in the morning at 6:30 and 8 o'clock.

Both of the local golf clubs expect a large attendance of members at the links for play. At the Hillside Club there will be the play-off for the Reinhart cup, for which W. L Glenney, scratch, and Roger F. Murray, with 12 handicap, will compete. The team will play off its disputed match with the Newark A. C, at Newark, in the morning.

The semi-finals for the Charles Hyde holiday cup will be the event of the morning at the links of the Park Golf Club. The players are paired as follows: Meredith Dryden against Frank Rogers; W. de la R. Anderson against Charles B. Morse. The winners will meet in the finals in the afternoon, and a mixed foursome handicap will probably be played.

Football will be the chief outdoor attraction for the day, however, and games are arranged for the morning and afternoon at Martine Common. In the morning the Alis Athletic Association will line up against the Bayonne Athletic Club. The Alis boys are playing good football and they will have strong opponents. A good game is therefore assured. The game will begin at 10 o'clock. The Plainfield High School will play the Port Richmond High School, of Staten Island, in the afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock. The Port Richmond boys are likely to make things lively for the local school boys.

Music Hall will attract many tomorrow. A matinee and evening performance of "Uncle Josh Spruceby" will be given there, more complete details of which will be found in another column. The Weber Tableau Concert Company will give an entertainment in Y. M. C. A. Hall, the second in the Y. M. C. A. Star Course

While Thanksgiving Eve isn't really part of Thanksgiving Day, there are several important things to happen this evening. Society will formally open its winter season with the first of the assemblies which will be held at the Casino.

The Germania Beneficial Society will hold its annual ball at Saengerbund Hall.

The Plainfield Association football team will play the Woodsides of Newark on the Clinton avenue grounds tomorrow afternoon. The kick-off will be made at 3 o'clock. Much interest has been manifested in this style of the game of late, and a large crowd is expected.

Mr. Clark's Benevolence.

Through the generosity of James Clark, of West Seventh street, a director of The Aluminum Plate and Press Co., the employes received turkeys for Thanksgiving. Last year the employes were remembered in the same manner.

D. and D.

Charles Cashin was arrested in the borough last evening for being drunk and disorderly, and the hearing will be held this evening at 7 o'clock.

COURT IN NEW QUARTERS

JUDGE RUNYON PRESIDED FOR FIRST TIME IN NEW COURT ROOM.

Two Offenders Came Up Under Varying Circumstances—One Was Too Far Away and the Other Too Near.

City court was held today in its new quarters for the first time. The Judge's tall desk, built expressly for City Judge Runyon, gave an added dignity to the city's chief magistrate as he gazed over the top of it. The first prisoner was placed beyond the railing and was so far away that the Judge was compelled to use his most stentorian tones in dealing forth justice The next prisoner was allowed inside the rail. He went up to the front of the desk and leaned against it Next time there will be different arrangements and Chief Kiely will occupy a table right in front of the Judge's desk while the prisoner will stand in front.

First came one Joseph C. Smith, who is traveling He was very drunk last evening when he stopped at police headquarters and wanted a night's lodging. He was accommodated. This morning he told the Judge that all he needed was ten minutes, and promised to shake the dust of Plainfield from off his shoes in that limit. The Judge gave him the opportunity.

John Sheehan was arrested last evening by Patrolman Saffon on complaint of his father, Dennis Sheehan, who lives on Richmond street. The elder Sheehan failed to appear at 9 o'clock so the Judge dismissed the case. He appeared later, however, and declared that he would have to give up housekeeping if his son didn't stop throwing lamps about the house and otherwise demoralizing the peace and quietude of the household. The Judge told him to come again when there was any more trouble, but to remember that promptness was necessary in the City Court.

ENDEAVOR SOCIAL.

Pleasing Evening Arranged by Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed Church Last Night.

There was a social gathering in the Sunday-school rooms of Trinity Reformed church last evening when the Christian Endeavor Society of that church gave its monthly sociable. The chief event of the evening was the "Marriage of Miss Violet," a novel game in which all participated. A number of lists of some thirty questions were posted about the room and the guests were expected to answer the questions with the names of various flowers. There was also an informal programme which included recitations and vocal solos by Miss Dilts, of Roselle, and piano solos by Miss Nettie Kreitling. Miss Lillian A. Force acted as accompanist for Miss Dilts. Refreshments were then served. The committee in charge consisted of Miss S. M. Searing, chairman, Mrs. William Kirch, Mrs. William Crawford, Miss May Sheppard, Miss Minnie Wyman, Miss Mabel Wilson and Miss Viola Huff.

WANTED TAXES REDUCED.

Very Small Audience Appeared Before Borough Commissioners of Appeal Yesterday Afternoon.

The Commissioners of Appeal of North Plainfield met in the Council Chamber on Somerset street, yesterday afternoon. Despite the fact that the tax rate has been considerably increased this year, the number who appeared before the commissioners was the smallest that has come before the commissioners for many years. There were only twenty and some came with the mistaken idea that the commissioners might be able to reduce the tax rate. There were several property owners who explained why they thought the assessed valuation of their property should be reduced. The commissioners listened to the arguments and will give their decisions later.

Chapel Dedication in Somerville.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Soverville, Nov. 28.—The new chapel of the Third Reformed church, at Raritan, was dedicated last night. Rev. W. H. DeHart, D. D., the pastor, presided Addresses were made by Rev. Dr. LeFevre, of Middlebush, a former pastor of the Raritan church, Rev. Drs E G Read and W. S. Cranmer, of Somerville, and Rev. Dr. E. S Jamison, pastor of the Raritan M. E church. The new edifice is built of the renaissance style, is handsomely furnished and complete in every detail.

Col. Tyler's Friend Dead.

Col. Mason W. Tyler, of West Seventh street, has been detained in New York for a few days on account of the illness and death of his very dear friend, Dr Lincoln, who was one of the best known specialists in throat diseases in this country. Death was due to appendicitis.

FOOTE FIGHTS HARD FOR THE LEADERSHIP

The Plainfield Assemblyman Determined to Break the Essex County Slate.

SAYS HE WILL SUCCEED.

ASSEMBLYMAN MEEKER IS MANAGING THE FOOTE BOOM.

The Union County Man, It is Argued, is Better Fitted for the Position Than His Rival, Assemblyman Bacheller.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Nov. 28 —Many politicians came to town yesterday to attend the weekly levee of the Chief Executive, Foster M. Voorhees. In the crowd were Assemblyman William J. Bradley, of Camden, and Assemblyman Vivian M. Lewis, of Passaic, who each cherish the proud ambition of being made the Speaker of the one hundred and twenty-fourth session of the New Jersey Legislature.

The Passaic man still clings to the notion that his selection for the Speakership rests principally with the Essex delegation, and he is coqueting with the eleven from that county, entirely forgetful of the fact that when the time comes for making the selection there will be a "quiet intimation" from Camden that will settle the matter. Mr. Bradley knows that, and he is not worrying. In fact, some of the members, especially those who hail from Mr. Bradley's end of the State, say it is all over.

In the fight for leadership the Essex men are still solid for Assemblyman J. Henry Bacheller, on whom they are willing to stake almost everything. Mr. Bacheller has friends in other delegations, and his prospects are bright.

Assemblyman Ellis Meeker, the big Union county statesman, was in the corridor looking after the leadership boom of Charles Foote, who thinks he should have the job that the Essex men have picked for their chairman. Mr. Foote is making a good fight for the place, but the odds are against him, and even Mr. Meeker has little hopes of success for his colleague.

Assemblyman Foote and Mr. Meeker managed to cause some excitement in the corridor by the statement that Foote had enough votes pledged to make him leader and that the Essex candidate will not be in it. Many of the members who favor the Union county candidate point to several reasons why Batcheller should not be chosen to lead the majority. In the first place, they say, the leader is generally made chairman of the Judiciary committee, and the chairman of that committee, it is argued, should be a lawyer. Mr. Batcheller is not a member of the bar, but he does not feel that that would be any drawback. Again, it is pointed out that a layman serving as leader of the majority would be at a disadvantage when brought into conflict with the skilled debaters of the minority, particularly the suave Abbett and the aggressive Marks, of Hudson, but the Essex people believe that their little champion will be able to hold his own, even with the men named.

"But the Essex people are all new men," is the way Ellis Meeker puts it. "They are not able yet to judge of the relative merits of Foote, Bacheller and Lewis as leader. We, who have been here before, know all three, and we believe that Foote is best fitted for the place. We also believe that it is all over but the cheering, and that our man Foote has out-footed the Essex man in the race."

Mr. Meeker would not say who might be included in his comprehensive "we," but smiled when asked where the Foote strength gained.

The situation in the Senate side remain practically unchanged, so far as the presidency of that body is concerned. Senator Mahlon Pitney, of Morris, is apparently sure of the place, with Senator Reed, of Somerset, as the most likely man for the leadership.

Senators Reed, Francis, of Monmouth; Cross, of Union, and Hand, of Cape May, were at the State House during the day, but only stayed a short time.

Important Trolley Change.

At a meeting of officials last Monday the Plainfield Street Railway Company was merged into the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company, and actual possession will be taken on December 1st, when the system will be known as the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Railway Company.

CHURCH WITHOUT A DEBT.

Prosperous Condition of St Stephen's—Wardens and Vestrymen Were Elected.

Last evening at 8 o'clock the annual Parish meeting was held in St. Stephen's church. The rector, the Rev. S. P. Simpson, presided. The secretary, A. J. Beal, read the minutes of the last vestry meeting, and the treasurer, S. S. Gulon, made his report. He stated that the church did not owe one dollar, all bills being paid even for the coal to heat the church for the winter. The balance on hand is $164.75. The outlook therefore for St. Stephen's is most promising from a financial standpoint. As the parish had lost members by removal, and consequently their subscriptions had ceased, the report of the treasurer was a most agreeable surprise. Very few churches in the diocese can make as favorable a showing, under the same circumstances. The following is the result of the election of officers for the ensuing year: Wm. Palmer Smith, S. S. Gulon, wardens; A. J Beal, W. W. Whelan, J. H Buckley, vestrymen.

OBJECT TO THE TROLLEY.

Property Owners to Fight the Raritan Traction Company's Efforts to Get a Franchise.

The property owners on the road leading from Metuchen to Perth Amboy, have retained Reed & Coddington, of this city, to object and fight against the granting of a franchise to the Raritan Traction Company for the construction of a street railway over that thoroughfare. The parties interested own over 6,000 feet of frontage on this road which is one of the finest in the State, having only recently been macadamized. The clients object to the granting of the franchise on the ground that it will ruin the road and injure their property interests, as the trolley company wishes to construct the tracks on the side adjoining their land. If permitted to do so, this will leave only three or four feet between the track and the curb, making it impossible to ride a horse on that side of the road. The matter came before the Board of Freeholders at New Brunswick, last Wednesday. Reed & Coddington appeared before the Board and argued the question for the property owners. The Board adjourned until last Monday, when in company with the lawyers they viewed the properties and the matter will now come up for a final hearing December 5th. It is thought the Board will not permit the company to lay the tracks without paying large damages to the property owners.

MISS LADD A BRIDE.

Wedded to a Brooklyn Groom in That City Last Night.

A wedding, in which a former borough young lady, Miss Mabel Ketcham Ladd, was the bride, took place in the Central Presbyterian church at Brooklyn last evening. The groom was Herbert Shotwell Guinn, of the latter city. Rev. Dr. Carson, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony in the presence of several hundred people, among whom were a large number of Plainfielders. The bridemaid was Miss Clara Long, of this city, and the bridegroom, Chester Guinn, a brother of the groom. Herbert Moore, of the borough, and DeWitt Tompkins, of Brooklyn, were the ushers. Miss Ladd was attired in a handsome dress of heavy white corded silk trimmed with satin and chiffon. A beautiful handkerchief which belonged to the bride's mother and was worn by her at her wedding was appliqued to the front of the dress. Miss Long's dress was of white point d'esprit. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome diamond pin and to the ushers gold stick pins. On account of a recent death in the bride's family, no reception was held and the young couple left soon after the ceremony, on their wedding trip, the destination of which is supposed to be Nova Scotia. On their return they will take up their residence in Brooklyn. Mrs. Guinn has a large circle of acquaintances in the city and borough, among whom, when residing here, she was very popular.

Thanksgiving Observed.

Thanksgiving Day was observed at the Plainfield High School this morning when special exercises were held. An address was made by Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, editor of The Sabbath Recorder. The programme included compositions on appropriate subjects, written and read by C Ames Brooks, Miss Emily Winant, Ralph Love, Miss Cornelia Miller, Edson Davis, Miss Margaret Pearce and Miss Edna Hoyt; readings by Miss Laura Bent, Miss Jeanne Dunham and Miss Mae Batchelor, and a recitation by Miss Helen Moodey.

CONFIDENCE GROWING AMONG REPUBLICANS.

Strength of Democratic Nominee Greatly Worried Republican Leaders at First.

DEMOCRATS STILL HOPE.

PLENTY OF ACTIVITY FOR COL. TYLER AMONG THIRD WARDERS.

Republican City Committee Met Last Night and Encouraging Reports Were Received—Expect to Elect Jenkins by 300 Majority.

For the past two days the Republicans have been decidedly worried at the fast developing strength of Col. Mason W. Tyler, the Democratic candidate for Mayor. Last night, the leaders of the G O. P. gathered at the meeting of the Republican city executive committee and began to compare notes. They felt much better after they heard what their companions had to say.

It is admitted by the Republican leaders that there will be many Republicans in the Second and Third wards who will support Col. Tyler for the Mayoralty, but they now claim that Dr. Jenkins will win enough votes from the Democratic ranks to make up the deficiency and enable the Republicans to elect Dr. Jenkins by a majority of 300 or more, the same given Former Mayor Fisk four years ago and Mayor Rockfellow two years ago.

Every effort is still being made by the Republican friends of Col. Tyler in the Third ward to carry the ward for the Democratic candidate. They will not support the rest of the Democratic ticket, however, but will vote the Republican ticket equipped with Tyler pasters. The Democrats are working hard, however, to send their entire ticket through with Col. Tyler.

There are many prominent Republicans in the Third ward movement for Col. Tyler. As expressed by one of that number, it is not a fight against the Republican party or any faction of it but simply a movement to elect one of Plainfield's most capable and influential citizens as mayor. Besides Former Councilman E. T. Barrows, there are Former Mayor Alex. Gilbert, and Former Councilmen Townsend Rushmore, Fred H. Andrews, John M. Whiton and O. T. Waring, who have announced that they will support Col. Tyler.

NO MORE DELAY.

Electric Light Company Must Put North Avenue in Repair at Once or Pay for It.

Street Commissioner Gavett's dander reached the explosive point today and he informed the Plainfield Electric Light Company that they must restore North avenue to its former good condition Their failure to do so by 1 o'clock this afternoon will bring the city employes on streets to the scene and the work will be done at the expense of the company.

The company thought the notice a short one, but Mr. Gavett believes the company has had sufficient time to do the work properly. There is good reason why the street should be restored to good condition at once. If severe winter weather should come suddenly it would cause the avenue to be left in a wretched condition throughout the winter.

HOPE CHAPEL BAZAAR ENDS.

There Was a Large Attendance at the Closing Fast Night.

With another large attendance the two night entertainment and bazaar at Hope Chapel came to a successful close last evening. The programme last night was equally as enjoyable as the first. It consisted of vocal solos by Miss Pickle and Miss Robinson, piano solos by Miss Lillie Duckworth and a recitation by Miss Flossie Gilbert. Prof. Wallender's orchestra was again in attendance and played very acceptably during the evening. The booths were patronized liberally and the different articles displayed for sale disappeared rapidly. Only a few of the articles remained at the close and these will be disposed of later. Altogether the affair was a complete success and the Ladies' Aid Society, under whose auspices it was given, deserve credit for the manner in which all details were carried out. The proceeds will be devoted to liquidating the debt on the new church.

Schools Close Today.

Plainfield public schools closed this afternoon for the Thanksgiving vacation and will not resume their sessions until next Monday morning at the usual hour.

H-O

The Charles Street boys meet in the Franklin lot—
This afternoon the Turk Streets shall be fought;

Bob is the leader of the Turk Street crowd
And Charles Street follows Willie Dowd.

The lot is found too small for all to fight,
So Bob and Willie will determine which is right.

They fight: long does the issue rest in doubt, until young Willie shows distress.

Says Bobbie now, "Since Turk Street wins the day,
Perhaps you Charles Street chaps will learn our tricky way.

"We eat H-O each morning, noon and night;
It makes a fellow grow; gives muscle, nerve and might."

"As a result of my own experience for the past seven years,
I advise my pupils to eat a large bowl of H-O every morning for breakfast."

Teacher of Boxing,

JOTTINGS OF THE DAY

INTERPRISINGLY GATHERED AND CONCISELY TOLD BY REPORTERS.

Newsy Notes of More or Less Importance Bunched Together for Reference by Press Readers.

—DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the best liver pills ever made. Easy to take and never gripe. L. W. Randolph.

—Fresh cut flowers for all occasions. Plants, palms, designs and decorations at C. L. Stanley's, North avenue, near station.

—The Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital has not yet fully determined whether to repair and enlarge the present building or erect a new hospital on some other site. There is still a division among the members as to the advisability of either plan.

—There is no pleasure in life if you dread going to the table to eat and can't rest at night on account of indigestion. Henry Williams, of Boonville, Ind., says he suffered that way for years, till he commenced the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, and adds, "Now I can eat anything I like and all I want and sleep soundly every night." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest what you eat. L. W. Randolph.

—The case of R. O. Howell against Kellogg will be tried this afternoon before Justice Warden at Dunellen. W. K. McClure will represent the plaintiff.

—Many people worry because they believe they have heart disease. The chances are that their hearts are all right but their stomachs are unable to digest food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and prevents the formation of gas which makes the stomach press against the heart. It will cure every form of indigestion. L. W. Randolph.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Bernard Clark, of Liberty street, is anticipating a trip to Colorado in the near future.

Fred Sheppard, of this city, will leave the first of next week for Texas, where he will remain until next summer.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

No boiling! no baking! simply add boiling water and set to cool. Flavors:—Lemon, Orange, Raspberry and Strawberry. Get a package at your grocers today. 10 cts.

PARTICULAR MENTION

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Residents and Visitors who Go and Come in Society and Business.

Andrew Cox, of West Second street, has been detained at home by a slight illness.

George W. Moore, of Elm place, is kept at home by a severe attack of rheumatism.

Miss Alice Higgins, of West Front street, is home from a visit with Bound Brook friends.

Brockholst Miller, of Watchung avenue, has returned home from school for his Thanksgiving vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal, of Boston, have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hedden, West Fourth street.

The many friends of Mayor Rock fellow will be pleased to learn that he is much improved from an attack of rheumatism.

Dennis O'Keefe, of the West End, who served several years in Uncle Sam's Navy, is employed by the Pond Tool Works, and has given up the idea of returning to sea life.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern which is not afraid to be generous. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles and have the satisfaction of knowing it has cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, LaGrippe and all Throat, Chest and Lung diseases are surely cured by it. Call on L. W. Randolph, Druggist, and get a free trail bottle. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle gauranteed.

Mrs. W. C. Dobbins, of Elmwood place, is entertaining relatives from East Millstone.

Mrs. Fred Schomp and son, of Dunellen, has been spending a few days with Mrs. Schomp's parents on East Third street.

Great Luck Of An Editor

"For two years all efforts to cure Eczema in the palms of my hands failed", writes Editor H. N. Lester, of Syracuse, Kan., "then I was wholly cured by Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's the world's best for Eruptions, Sores and all skin diseases. Only 25 cents at L. W. Randolph's.

—Street Commission Gavett had occasion yesterday to hustle the men who are building a drain on West Front street between the trolley tracks. At the rate they were working the job would not be completed in two weeks.

—If you have ever seen a child in the agony of croup you can realize how grateful mothers are for One Minute Cough Cure which gives relief as soon as it is administered. It quickly cures coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles. L. W. Randolph.

Miss Bowers, of Basking Ridge, has been spending a short time with borough friends.

Miss Louella Mills, of East Fifth street, has recovered from a long and tedious illness.

Spread Like Wild Fire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, rundown man or woman. Price 50 cents. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

—The case of Wyckoff against Palmer is returnable in Justice Smalley's court next week Monday.

—Both makers and circulators of counterfeits commit fraud. Honest men will not deceive you into buying worthless counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The original is infallible for curing piles, sores, eczema and all skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Foster are rejoicing over the arrival of a bright baby daughter.

I. W. Bininger, of the Prudential Insurance Company, has recovered from a recent illness and has returned to work.

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches. They make pure blood and build up your health. Only 25c. Money back if not cured. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

Winfield Coddington and family, of Newark, are visiting Plainfield relatives for a few days.

Ross Foster and family, formerly of this city, but late of Newark, have decided to return to Plainfield and will move here next Monday. They will occupy the house in Washington Park, where they lived before.

KRUGER IN PARIS.

Calls on the French Premier and Is Received by Municipal Council.

PARIS, Nov. 28.—Mr. Kruger called on Premier Waldeck-Rousseau yesterday morning and remained for ten minutes. M. Waldeck-Rousseau returned the call a little later.

Later on Mr. Kruger attended the reception of the municipal council at the Hotel de Ville. Replying to speeches by the councilors, Mr. Kruger said he was thankful for the splendid reception accorded him ever since his arrival at Marseilles.

Referring to the fighting in South Africa, he said that the Boers were unconquered and that the resistance to the British would continue. If the Boers knew of the encouragement for them in France, their valor would surely increase tenfold, but unfortunately the lines of communication were in the hands of the enemy. Later on they would know, however, and they would be eternally grateful for France's moral help. He wished journalists could see the horrors of this war instead of learning of them through British cables. He expressed the hope that the newspapers would spread the idea of arbitration.

Last evening Mr. Kruger and Dr Ledys drove to the foreign office, where they were received by the minister of foreign affairs, M. Delcasse, with whom they had an interview lasting three-quarters of an hour. On their leaving M Delcasse conducted Mr. Kruger from the staircase.

WHY THEY BUY HERE.

Englishmen Get Better Material and More Prompt Delivery.

London, Nov. 28.—Sir Charles Edward Howard Vincent, member of parliament for the Central division of Sheffield, who is an advocate of preferential trading relations between all parts of the British empire and who is the founder and honorary secretary of the United Empire Trade league, recently wrote a letter to Lord Claude Hamilton, the chairman of the Great Eastern Railway company, asking if it were true that his company had placed a large order for steel rails in the United States. Lord Hamilton replied that it was true.

The order had been placed with the Carnegie company, he said, because for the past two years two contracts had been running in England. The final deliveries of the first of these contracts were 11 months in arrears, while of the second not a single consignment had been received. The first contract still shows a deficiency of 2,000 tons. For this reason, Lord Hamilton said, the company had no other option than to go where it could get better material, more prompt delivery and a lower price than in England.

Manhattan Elevated Wins.

ALBANY, Nov. 28.—The decision of the court of appeals in the case of the Manhattan Elevated railroad case fixes the value of the property assessable for city purposes in New York city at $9,492,307. This is a reduction of almost one-half from the amount fixed by the local board of assessors and is in a sense a victory for the company, although to the taxable value of the city will be added the above mentioned sum, realizing at least annually between $150,000 and $200,000 which the road will have to pay. In addition to fixing the value of the property for future assessment the decision compels the payment of back taxes on the same amount since 1895, the last year that the road paid any assessment. This will amount to nearly $750,000.

Philippine Telegraph Lines.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—General Greely, chief signal officer of the army, has received from Colonel Allen at Manila a fresh map of the Philippine land and cable lines, showing that the island practically are covered at every important point with a thorough system of wire communication. A new cable has been put in within the past month across the eastern end of Laguna de Bay from Santa Cruz to Siniloa, thus giving assured communication with the southeastern section of Luzon, where it heretofore has been very difficult to maintain a land wire.

Eminent Physician Dead.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Dr. Rufus P. Lincoln, an eminent throat and lung specialist, is dead at his home in this city after an operation for appendicitis. He had been ill about three weeks, but had partially recovered. His physicians, however, considered an operation necessary, and it was performed a week ago Sunday. He sank gradually afterward. Dr. Lincoln had for many years occupied a very prominent position in the medical world and was frequently consulted by foreign physicians.

The President's Turkey.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—For many years the turkey for the Thanksgiving dinner of the president of the United States has come from the state of Rhode Island. It invariably has been sent by the same person, who is a resident of Westerly, in that state. This year no turkey has arrived at the White House from Westerly, but a magnificent bird has come from Dr. J. S. Trexler of Gutztown, Pa., and it will grace the president's table tomorrow.

McKinley Not Forgotten.

WESTERLY, R. I., Nov. 28.—President McKinley's Thanksgiving turkey was shipped yesterday by Horace Vose, purveyor of turkeys to the White House. The bird weighed 31 pounds and is a fine one in every respect.

TO MURDER ROBERTS

Plot to Blow Up Church In Which He Worshiped.

TEN SUSPECTS NOW UNDER ARREST

Anti-British Feeling In Cape Colony Increased by False Reports of Barbarities—A Grave Situation.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The war office publishes the following dispatch from Lord Roberts, dated Johannesburg, Nov. . . .

"As reports of a plot against my life will probably reach you, I think you should know the facts. It is my belief that there was a plot in existence, and that Italians, four Greeks and a Frenchman were arrested Nov. 16 and are now undergoing trial. Their intentions were to explode a mine under St. Mary's church during the morning service, held at 11 o'clock, on Nov. 18."

The Daily Mail publishes this morning the following alarmist dispatch from Cape Town:

"The anti-British feeling in Cape Colony is assuming dangerous proportions owing to false stories spread of British barbarity in Orange River Colony and the Transvaal. Loyalists fear that the Dutch congress next week will be the signal for a rising, and they demand that martial law be proclaimed throughout the colony.

"The situation is declared to be graver than at any previous period during the war."

Referring editorially to its Cape Town advices, The Daily Mail adopts a most serious tone, asserting that the anti-British movement is accentuated by the withdrawal of troops from Cape Colony and calling for vigorous action by the British government.

The Paris correspondent of The Daily Mail wires that he had a conversation with Mr. Kruger yesterday and that the Boer statesman grew excited and vehement when the reporter hinted that England would ignore all attempts to secure arbitration and would fight any combination of powers rather than give up the republics.

"Mr. Kruger insisted," says the correspondent, "that Mr. Chamberlain had signed The Hague convention and could not withdraw. He said that England had earned a just punishment and that if there was a God she would be punished."

The Vienna correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says he hears that President Kruger has petitioned the powers for arbitration under The Hague convention, that two powers acceded to his request, but that all the others rejected the petition.

There Was No Accident.

RICHMOND, Nov. 28.—The Chesapeake and Ohio authorities furnish this statement: "The rumor reported in the press of yesterday that there had been an accident to a passenger train on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad is totally without foundation in fact. No accident or injury whatever has happened to any passenger or employee. Traffic had been interrupted since Sunday night by reason of heavy rainstorms, causing landslides in the Alleghany mountains, where the work of double tracking the road is being done. Traffic was resumed at noon yesterday, and trains are now running on schedule time over the entire system."

To Stop Free Transportation.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 28.—The culmination of ten years of constant effort to discontinue all free transportation on the railroads appears to be approaching. The initial move was made some time ago by the Southwestern Passenger association, and it has been received with so much favor that a committee has been appointed by the two trunk line associations and the Central Traffic association to canvass the situation in their territory. All requests for passes have been pigeonholed until Dec. 15. The plan is to place all favors upon the basis of 1 cent per mile.

Legally Dead Man Gets a Verdict.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 28.—Martin L. Mowry, now serving a life sentence in the state prison for the murder of Mrs. Abbie J. Reynolds in Burrillville, was awarded a verdict of $4,500 by a jury in the common pleas division of the supreme court in his suit against the administrator of the estate of Elisha Mathewson. Mowry sued through an administrator, having been declared civilly dead, although he was permitted to appear in court and testify.

Relief Expedition Ready.

CHRISTIANIA, Nov. 28.—The Duke of Abruzzi, the arctic explorer, has completed his arrangements for the relief expedition next spring to Franz Josef Land in search of the Norwegian machinist Stoekken and the two Italians who were lost during the recent expedition. The search expedition will be commanded by Captain Stoekken, father of the machinist, who has conferred here with the Duke of Abruzzi and Dr. Nansen.

Postmasters Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed: Delaware—Whitesboro, Clara White. New Jersey—Stanley, J. C. Rustin. New York—South Somerset, Philip Mahar. Pennsylvania—Evendale, J. H. Yoder; Hammondville, W. M. Faust; Poseha, I. F. Cox; Sweden Valley, F. L. Wilcox.

Intemperance and Insanity.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Nov. 28.—In his annual report just issued Superintendent Talcott of the State Homeopathic hospital here assigns intemperance as the cause of the greater number of cases of insanity among the men in that institution and mental strain and worry the cause of the greater number among the women.

Railroad Greatly Damaged.

WELLSVILLE, N. Y., Nov. 28.—The damage done to the Buffalo and Susquehanna railroad tracks between here and Genesee, Pa., during the recent flood is estimated at $8,000. No trains have run since Monday morning, and it will be tomorrow morning before traffic is resumed.

Highway Robbery Near Middletown.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Nov. 28.—The police of this city are searching for two men believed to be tramps who assaulted and robbed Sanford Little near here. Little was rendered insensible from a blow and lay on the roadside two hours before he recovered and returned home.

CORN SHORTS CAUGHT

Frantic Efforts to Release Phillips' Grip.

PRICE FORCED HIGHER IN CHICAGO.

Young Corn King Sells at 51 Cents Grain Bought at 36 and Nets a Cool $25,000 In One Day.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Frantic efforts are being made by shorts caught in the Phillips corn corner to swamp him with grain on the last day of the option. The way in which they hope to down him and get themselves out of a tight place is by reinspection of this week's receipts, which have been graded No. 3, one grade too low to pass on contract.

Another scheme which has been evolved for the purpose of swamping Phillips is the repurchase and shipment to Chicago of corn which was sold by the Pattens in Buffalo and Montreal when they went out of the deal in October.

Fifty-one cents marked up on the board yesterday was a new high price in the November deal. Phillips came into the pit early and lifted the price from 49 cents, where it opened. Between 50 and 51 cents he unloaded 200,000 bushels, his total sales for the day being 240,000 bushels. As he is selling corn bought at 36 cents his day's transactions netted him a profit better than $25,000. Other days this week are said to have been equally profitable to him. Yesterday's close was 50 cents. Big foreigners, who, it is said, chiefly constitute the short interest, are still hanging on stubbornly. Predictions are freely made that the last day of the deal will see November corn quoted at 75 cents.

"This deal differs from others," said Phillips, "in that I have handled it entirely myself. All the buying and selling has been done in the open pit, and I have hired no brokers to hoodwink the crowd. I have known all along how big the short interest was and who was short. They have also known how much corn I had."

The contract corn in Chicago is about 1,500,000 bushels. The inspection sheet was again a disappointment to the bears, showing only 87,000 bushels transferred from private to public elevators. Only 57 out of 96 cars arriving were No. 2, and only 130,000 bushels of contract corn, No. 2, were added to the total in Chicago.

Negro Shot to Pieces.

LAKE CITY, Fla., Nov. 28.—Spencer Williams, a negro gambler, was shot to pieces near this city by a mob. Williams, who recently arrived here from Pensacola, Monday night shot and dangerously wounded City Marshal Strange and William Strickland, a business man of this city. The marshal was attempting to arrest the negro. Soon as the news of the shooting became known citizens formed a posse and overtook Williams yesterday morning in a swamp. Williams was literally shot to pieces. Fully 200 bullet holes were found in his body, which was brought into town and placed in front of the courthouse gate, where it was surrounded all the afternoon by a crowd.

Insane Patients Removed.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Nov. 28.—Attached to the Montreal express which left here at 8:20 last night was an extra car containing 40 insane convicts from the Matteawan state hospital for the criminal insane. They comprised the second transfer of convicts to the new state hospital at Dannemora, and they were shackled in pairs. Dr. Scott and 14 attendants were in charge of the draft. This makes 88 men who have been sent from the institution at Matteawan to Dannemora this month, and yet the former institution contains 150 more convicts than it was originally built to accommodate.

Tampa Strike Growing.

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 28.—Several hundred men have been added to the striking forces here. These came principally from unorganized labor, and buildings in the course of construction are more at a standstill than on yesterday. Much incendiary talk is being indulged in, together with threats that the Resistencia union is to be forced from the factories if the general strike does not have the effect of bringing them out. The federated trades assembly has made arrangements for a parade this afternoon, but it is probable that this will be prohibited.

Three Boys Blown to Pieces.

WHEELING, Nov. 28.—At Leaserville, W. Va., 20 miles above Wheeling on the Ohio river, a crowd of 20 boys had built a fire on the river bank from driftwood and were watching the rising waters. In a lot of driftwood one of the boys threw on the fire was a can partly filled with nitroglycerin. Immediately there was a terrific explosion, and three boys were killed and 14 wounded, of whom three may die.

Train Plunges Into the Ohio.

BEAVER, Pa., Nov. 28.—Late last night a Cleveland and Pittsburg flier went into the Ohio river at this place. Three Cleveland men, Engineer Coucheour, Fireman Allen and ex-Messenger Casey, were killed. Nineteen others are reported dead, and the entire train is said to be in the river.

Agoncillo Has Resigned.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Paris states that Agoncillo, Aguinaldo's representative in Europe, has resigned and will start on Dec. 2 for Hongkong, where he will assume direction of the importation of arms and ammunition for the use of the Philippine rebels.

Governor Roosevelt at Home.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Governor Roosevelt reached Oyster Bay last evening. He was alone. He has no plans for today and will spend the time around home. Tomorrow he will give a dinner, but his list of guests is not yet complete.

A Chance For Americans.

CHRISTIANIA, Nov. 28.—The Norwegian railway committee has appropriated another sum for the purchase of waterfalls for transmitting electric power. American manufacturers will have an opportunity to supply the machinery.

A Prince Turns Banker.

BERLIN, Nov. 28.—Young Prince von Hohenlohe-Oehringen, youngest brother of Herzog von Ujest, has entered the service of a large Berlin bank, which is a very unusual proceeding for a member of the German nobility.

PREPARING FOR DEFENSE.

Chinese Viceroys and Governor Warned—Arrest of Tuan Planned.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 28.—It is reported from Nankin that all the viceroys and governors have been ordered to prepare to defend the coasts and rivers, whose security is important.

It is asserted in Chinese quarters usually well informed that a body of palace guards has started from Sian-fu for the purpose of arresting Prince Tuan, who is raising a bodyguard among the Mongo princes.

The governor of the province of Chekiang, yielding to consular pressure, has appointed a deputy to negotiate with the British and American consuls as to terms of satisfaction for the Chu-chau-fu massacre.

It is rumored that, with the view of getting him away from Sian-fu, General Tung Fu Hsiang has received orders to traverse the provinces of Shansi and Kan-su and parts of Mongolia to raise troops, but that he is not likely to obey.

Stories of Chinese Cruelties.

BERLIN, Nov. 28.—Several papers print letters from German soldiers in China describing cruelties practiced by the Chinese upon white prisoners. It appears that the limbs of the German lieutenant Friedrichs and of two Italians were severed one by one until the tortured victims were dead. "Thus," says one of the letters, "every white prisoner is treated by the Chinese." Meanwhile official confirmation has arrived here of the report that Count von Waldersee has taken special steps to prevent any more letters of this nature being printed here. The field marshal has issued a general order threatening to punish severely the writers of letters containing war news whose recipients allow them to be printed.

Night Watchman Shot.

COBLESKILL, N. Y., Nov. 28.—Matthew Wilson, night watchman in this village, was shot and instantly killed just before 2 o'clock yesterday morning by a supposed gang of burglars. Four men were seen coming down West Main street just preceding the shooting, and it is supposed deceased came in contact with them at the corner of Main and Union streets, when he was shot down. Many shots were fired, the watchman's revolver being emptied, and plate glass windows across the street shattered by shots evidently fired by the burglars. The fusillade aroused the people, and the night watchman was found lying face downward in front of M. D. Borst's store, dead, with four bullets in his body. The toolhouse of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad company had been broken open and certain tools taken. They were found near the scene of the murder.

Searching For Burglars' Den.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Nov. 28.—The local police are searching for a den hereabouts in which is stored the booty of an organized gang of burglars whose many acts of depredation recently have stirred up the people of this city and vicinity. Joseph Summerville, aged 28, who hails from Buffalo and New York, was captured by the officers after an exciting chase. The captive was suffering from a bullet wound on the side of his head believed to have been inflicted by a Binghamton citizen whose home he had attempted to enter. A companion who was with Summerville escaped despite a storm of bullets sent after him by the officers.

Funeral of Composer Sullivan.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The funeral of Sir Arthur Sullivan took place yesterday. There were two services, the first being held in the Chapel Royal at St. James'. At this service the queen, the Prince of Wales and other members of the royal family were represented. The American embassador, Joseph H. Choate, and many other well known persons were present. Sullivan's sacred music was used.

Honduras Settles Claim.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The state department received a telegram from W. Godfrey Hunter, United States minister to Guatemala and Honduras, saying that he had received from the Honduras government $10,000 in gold in full payment of the claim of the United States for the killing of Frank Pears of Pittsburg by a Honduras soldier in January, 1899.

Titmann Succeeds Pritchett.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—At the cabinet meeting yesterday Secretary Gage announced the resignation of Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, superintendent of the United States coast and geodetic survey, and upon his recommendation the president directed that Assistant Superintendent Otto H. Titmann be appointed to the vacancy.

Denby May Succeed Conger.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 28.—Friends of Colonel Denby here assert that they have reason to believe that the former United States minister to China is to be sent back to that post to succeed Minister Conger, who, it is believed, will soon resign. Colonel Denby is now away from home.

Rolling Mill Starts Up.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 28.—The big rolling mill of the Southern Car and Foundry company at Anniston, Ala., started up in full force this morning. The mill is one of the most important in the state and gives employment to several hundred skilled men.

Judge's Safe Cracked.

CLINTON, Ala., Nov. 28.—A safe in the probate judge's office was blown open Sunday night, and about $400 and some papers were stolen. The explosion broke several windows in the courthouse and otherwise damaged the building. There is no clew.

Pope Not Dead, as Reported.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The pope, who is quite well, received a number of bishops yesterday and presided over a two hours' meeting of the congregation of rites.

ARMY REORGANIZATION.

Secretary Root and General Miles Submit Plans.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—A subcommittee of the house military committee consisting of Chairman Hull and Representatives Brownwell, Capron and Mondell, went into session yesterday with a draft of a bill representing the ideas of the secretary of war and with a copy of a bill prepared by Lieutenant General Miles. Both bills provide for an army of about 100,000 men. The secretary's though, is on an elastic basis, providing for a minimum of 50,000 men.

General Miles recommends an effective fighting force of 76,730 men and 5,068 "noncombatants," to be organized into two army corps of six divisions, 18 brigades and 54 regiments. In addition the president is to have discretionary power to enlist an auxiliary force of 20,000 whenever in his opinion such a force is necessary.

Chairman Hull, at the conclusion of the conference, said that the bill to be presented to congress would, in his opinion very closely follow the lines of the Hull bill as offered at the last session. The maximum, he thought, would be 96,000 men, and taking into consideration the necessary increase in the coast artillery defense the minimum would not be less than 58,000 men. He thought there would be some changes in the provisions for the staff, as outlined in Secretary Root's bill of last session.

COMMISSIONER WILSON DEAD.

Was a Noted Authority on Internal Revenue Matters.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Commissioner of Internal Revenue Wilson, who died in this city yesterday, was a native of Ohio, in which state he was born 57 years ago. He entered the Union army when 18 years old as a private in the Fifty-fourth Ohio volunteer infantry and served throughout the war, coming out a first lieutenant. In 1866 he took up the practice of law and in 1869 entered the internal revenue service.

He served in various capacities, rising from one important position to another until he became the head of the bureau.

Commissioner Wilson was regarded as the most thoroughly informed man on internal revenue subjects who ever entered the government service and was consulted on all measures affecting the revenues that have been before congress for many years.

Mr. Wilson had been dangerously ill for several days with Bright's disease complicated with asthma.

Funeral services, conducted under the auspices of Columbia commandery, No. 2, Knights Templars, of which Colonel Wilson was a member, will be held in the Riggs House at 1 o'clock today. No formal services will be held at Hamilton, O., except at the grave, where the Masonic burial service will be read by officers of the blue lodge at Hamilton.

Lawyer Strangely Missing.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Francis Duffy, a well known lawyer, is strangely missing from his home on Manhattan avenue. His family last saw him on Thursday morning, when he started for his office on Broad street. Since then all trace of him has been lost. He was temperate and domestic in his habits. He never remained away from home late and always took his wife with him when he went out. Not in 15 years has he been away all night. When Mr. Duffy started for his office, he told his wife that he would be home earlier than usual, as he knew of nothing that would detain him. Usually he reached his home at half past 7 o'clock. He was in his office until 6 o'clock and left there, telling his associates that he was going home. That was the last seen of him by his acquaintances.

Woman Beaten by Burglar.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Mrs. Frederick Weismann, wife of School Commissioner Frederick Weismann of Union Hill, N. J., had a desperate fight with a burglar in her home at that place last night. She and the rest of the family were in the lower part of the house. Mrs. Weismann heard a noise and went up on the third floor to investigate. A man was putting silverware into two bags, and Mrs. Weismann grappled him. He beat her in the face and on the chest, rendering her unconscious. The burglar ran down to the first floor and jumped through a window, making good his escape. Mrs. Weismann was revived, but is badly bruised. The authorities are scouring the locality for the man.

The Kentucky at Smyrna.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 28.—The porte persisting in its refusal to grant an exequatur to the American consul at Harpoot, the American charge d'affaires, Mr. Lloyd Griscom, has renewed the pressure to obtain the necessary sanction of the Turkish government. On Sunday he had a personal interview with Tewfik Pasha, the foreign minister, but without result. Nevertheless the arrival of the battleship Kentucky at Smyrna has caused an impression in official circles.

New Yorkers Get Big Contract.

SENATOR DAVIS DEAD

Long Illness Ends Fatally In St. Paul.

AN UNUSUALLY BRILLIANT CAREER.

In the Army, at the Minnesota Bar, as Governor, United States Senator and Member of the Paris Peace Commission.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 28.—United States Senator Cushman Kellogg Davis, chairman of the committee on foreign relations of the senate, died at his home in this city at 9 o'clock last evening after an illness of two months. He had suffered greatly during his sickness and gradually sank away, being unconscious for several hours before death and, so far as known, suffered no pain.

For more than a week it had been known that the death of Senator Davis was certain to occur within a short time. Although the bulletins issued by Dr. Stone from day to day made no positive statement to this effect they nevertheless gave the impression that the case was a hopeless one. However, the announcement came as a profound shock to the friends and fellow townsmen of the distinguished citizen, who had been hoping against hope. The senator's devoted wife, who has been in constant attendance upon his sickbed, had never lost hope. The senator, in his moments of lucidity, expressed a strong determination to recover and within the past week told United States District Attorney Evans, who had been admitted to see him, that he was positive that he would soon be well.

On Sunday, Nov. 18, a serious change for the worse was noted. Previous to that the senator had been reported as having occasional periods of delirium. On that day these delirious spells became more marked, and since then the lucid intervals have become less and less frequent, until the senator was almost constantly out of his mind. In his delirium he raved of his congressional work.

Cushman Kellogg Davis was born in Henderson, Jefferson county, N. Y., June 16, 1838. In that year his parents moved to Waukesha, Wis., where his father farmed until 1850. After attending the common schools young Davis spent three years in Carroll college at Waukesha preparing himself for the University of Michigan, from which he graduated in 1857. During his boyhood he held for some time a position as telegraph operator in what is now a suburb of Milwaukee. After his graduation he entered the law office of Alexander W. Randall, afterward war governor of Wisconsin.

In 1860 Mr. Davis began the practice of law and also took an active part in the campaign resulting in the election of Lincoln. Two years later, war having come, he closed his law office to enlist in the volunteer army. He served for two years in the army of the Tennessee in Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi, part of the time on staff duty. When in 1864 broken health compelled his retirement, he was first lieutenant of Company B, Twenty-eighth Wisconsin volunteer infantry.

Going to St. Paul, he formed a law partnership with his army chief, General W. A. Gorman, ex-governor of Minnesota Territory. In 1868 he was elected to the state legislature and two years later was appointed United States district attorney, serving five years in that position.

In 1873 by a majority of one vote he was nominated by the Republicans for governor and elected by a majority of 5,496. The campaign issue was then new, being whether the state should control the charges of railroads. Governor Davis asserted this right, and such legislation was enacted and enforced during his term of office. During a protracted senatorial contest at that session Governor Davis was one of the candidates, but Chief Justice McMillan was finally elected. It was at this time that the great grasshopper plague devastated southwestern Minnesota, and Governor Davis raised over $100,000 in money besides supplies for the victims of the plague.

Governor Davis declined a renomination and resumed the practice of law. His successor, Governor Pillsbury, retained him to argue in the United States supreme court the case of the state of Wisconsin against the city of Duluth and state of Minnesota to restrain the opening of the present Duluth ship canal, through which all the commerce of that port now passes. Mr. Davis won the suit for Minnesota. He continued in the practice of law until 1887, also giving considerable attention to politics. In 1884 he headed the Blaine delegation to Chicago, where he made one of the nominating speeches for that candidate.

During 1886 many of the state newspapers advocated his election as United States senator, and when the legislature of 1887 met Senator McMillan withdrew as a candidate for re-election, and Mr. Davis received every vote.

Senator Davis' first chairmanship in the senate was of the committee on pensions, which he held throughout his first term.

He was the author of the pension law of 1890, which terminated the demands for excessive pension legislation and also satisfied the old soldiers. As a member of the committee on territories Senator Davis led the fight for the admission of the Dakotas to statehood, making his first speech in the senate on that subject.

As a student and an authority on international law Senator Davis furnished briefs to President Harrison and Secretary of State Blaine on the Chilean dispute and the Bering sea controversy. His advocacy of the new locks at the Sault Ste. Marie ship canal carried to a successful result legislation the wisdom of which has since been amply demonstrated.

In 1895-6 many friends of the senator pressed his name for the presidential nomination, but before the state convention to name delegates met he withdrew, and McKinley delegates were sent from Minnesota.

During the past four years Senator Davis' position as chairman of the foreign relations committee of the senate and later as one of the Paris peace commissioners has kept him prominently before the public of all nations. He was re-elected without opposition in 1899 for his third term.

Senator Davis has been twice married. His first wife was Miss Laura Bowman, and after she had secured a divorce from him he married, in 1880, Miss Anna Malcolm Agnew.

The Official Vote.

The State Canvassing Board met at Trenton yesterday afternoon and officially declared the result of the recent election in New Jersey.

The returns were compiled in the Secretary of State's office and were formally adopted by the Board, which consisted of Governor Voorhees and Senators Reed, Francis, Cross, Johnson, Strong and Cornish.

The canvass showed the following to be the average vote for Presidential electors in Union county: McKinley, 12,522; Bryan, 7,665; Wooley, 317; Debs, 494; Malloney, 220. The vote in Somerset county is officially declared to be: McKinley, 4,438; Bryan, 3,183; Wooley, 170; Debs, 50; Malloney, 12.

McKinley's plurality is 56,899.

The vote for individual electors showed that George E. Halsey led the Republicans with a total vote of 221,754, while Thomas A. Birch led the Democratic ticket with 164 879 votes.

The total number of names on the poll books was 405,874, and the number of ballots rejected was 3 051.

The average plurality for Republican members of the Assembly was 53,483.

The vote in the Eighth and Third Congressional districts was as follows:

Eighth District—Essex townships, Fowler, Rep., 12,072; Man, Dem., 6,683. Bayonne, Fowler, 2,630; Man, 3 050. Union, Fowler, 12,419; Man, 7,777. Fowler's plurality, 9,611.

Third District—Middlesex, Howell, Rep., 9,438; Bergen, Dem., 7,103. Monmouth, Howell, 10,432; Bergen, 8,516. Somerset, Howell, 4,416; Bergen, 3,162. Howell's plurality, 5,505.

On a basis of a population of 31,090 for each Assemblyman in the State, Hudson could be given 12 members, with 14,000 population to spare; while Essex, with the same number of Assemblymen, would lack 13,000 of the required population. It is doubtful if Middlesex will consent without an earnest remonstrance to the loss of a member for the purpose of benefiting Essex, and also in view of the fact that Cumberland would then have as large a representation, with only a population of 51,193, as Middlesex would have with a population of 79,762. The Republican majority may find some hard nuts to crack before this new apportionment matter is adjusted.

The text of a petition which has been sent by Elliott T. Barrows, as President of the New York Produce Exchange, to President McKinley and to the members of both Houses of Congress was made public yesterday. It asks Congress to relieve the members of the Exchange from the burden of the stamp tax on merchandise sold on exchanges. There is a movement on the New York Stock Exchange to ask Congress to abolish the war tax of $2 per 100 shares upon stock transactions in cases where there is no actual transfer of the stock by the issue of a new certificate.

New Jersey is sixth among the States in her increase of population in the last decade, although not in percentage. In that she stands eleventh. New York added 1,270,156 to her population. Pennsylvania 1,043,351, Illinois 995 199, Texas 813,305, Massachusetts 566 403 and New Jersey 488,736, with Ohio a close second with 485,229.

It was announced yesterday that Gov. Voorhees would reappoint Mayor Carl Leutz and Charles C Black as members of the State Board of Taxation. The reappointment of Mayor Lentz is construed in some quarters as an indorsement of his leadership in Essex county, against those who have been opposing him.

John C Smock, the State Geologist, has tendered his resignation to Gov. Voorhees. He has been in his present position for ten years. The place pays $3 000 a year. Mr. Smock is a man of means and he desired to lead a more retired life than was consistent with the duties of the office.

The Daily Press will not be issued tomorrow.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

The Democrats of New Jersey are not easily daunted. They were beaten at the recent election by 56,000 majority, but are already discussing the availability of various candidates for Governor, New Jersey being one of the States which elect a Governor next year. Bryan carried four New Jersey counties—Hudson, Hunterdon, Sussex and Warren. In the last Senator Johnson Cornish is an aspirant for the nomination. Other candidates are E. F. C. Young, of Jersey City, and Mayor Seymour, of Newark.—New York Sun.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exacty News but Just as Interesting.

One of Plainfield's numerous little tots, not yet two years old, was asked a few days ago what she would like to have placed on her Christmas tree. At first she scarcely understood the question, but in a few minutes she hastily replied: "Book, baby, ball and Bible." The parents were greatly amazed at the answer, for they could not imagine where the little one had learned about the things wanted. There is no mistaking her answer, however, for she frequently repeats it and seems to want to impress it upon those about her.

A remarkable phenomenon has excited the interest of the people of Point Pleasant for several days. The strong west winds drove back the sea and made such low tides as to expose the sod of an ancient meadow and a clearly defined ditch that ran through it. Former Senator J. G. W. Havens, the superintendent of the New Jersey division of the life saving service, says this ditch has not been exposed in this way in this generation. There is a tradition, he says, that it was dug nearly two hundred years ago.

Genesee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Gentlemen:—My mamma has been a great coffee drinker and has found it very injurious. Having used several packages of your GRAIN-O, the drink that takes the place of coffee, she finds it much better for herself and for us children to drink. She has given up coffee drinking entirely. We use a package of Grain-O every week. I am ten years old.

Yours respectfully, FANNIE WILLIAMS

THANKSGIVING
....IN OUR BASEMENT....

There is not a brighter basement to be found than ours—not a more cheerful place anywhere in which to make selections of settings for the Thanksgiving table. Not only is it a pleasant place to buy, but it is much more satisfactory than the average store, because you can depend upon everything being just right in quality and moderate in price. It does not take a Sherlock Holmes to tell that you've been wondering how you could make the Thanksgiving Table look prettier than it ever looked, and we've been turning our thoughts in the same direction—we've been wondering how we could provide table prettiness better than ever before and keep the cost down to a point that wouldn't make you feel that you were extravagant in providing appropriately for Thanksgiving Day. The items below will tell how well we have succeeded along both lines.

Dinner Ware Particular attention is directed to our excellent stock of French and English dinner ware. No such stocks have ever been shown in Plainfield before. The best patterns from the leading manufacturers, we have them in 15 different decorations, 5 of which are in open stock, so that you can make up sets to suit your own ideas. Genuine Limoges French china dinner sets, 101 pieces, three different decorations. at 24.98.

Johnson's best English porcelain, 112 pieces, pink and green decorations at 14.98. Meakin's best English porcelain, pretty blue decoration, 100 pieces, at 10.98. Grindley's best English porcelain, new flow blue decoration, 100 pieces, at 8.98. Johnson's best English porcelain, pretty pink bow-knot decoration, 100 pieces, at 12.98. Johnson's royal windsor green and gold decoration, 100 pieces, at 11.98

Table Cutlery.

Made by Lander, Frary & Clark, and we know of none better. Their goods are made of the best cutlery steel obtainable, carefully forged, ground, tempered and tested, and will be replaced if any break from flaws.

Carving Sets, with stag and cocobolo handles, double bolstered and blade full 9 in. long, at 98c, 1.39, 1.69 and 1.98 a set.

Table Sets, consisting of 6 knives and 6 forks, cocobolo and bone handles, bolstered and riveted at 49c, 69c, 98c, 1.25, 1.48, 1.69, 1.98 a set.

Bread Knives, with 9 in. blades at 25c, 39c, 49c.

Butcher Knives, very durable and strongly made, at 15c, 20c, 25c

For the Kitchen.

We have everything needed to properly equip the kitchen. All the little household needs will be found conveniently grouped in one section of the basement.

Covered Roasting Pans, self basting, made of best sheet iron, at 25c, 37c and up to 1.48

Granite Roasting Pans, seamless at 25c, 35c, 48c

Granite Pie Plates, extra deep ones at 15c and 25c

Chopping Bowls & Knives, Jelly Sieves, Colanders, Fruit and Potato Presses, Mixing Bowls and a thousand and one little things that you'll be needing for the greatest feast of the year.

Silver Ware.

You know we sell the Wm. A. Rogers' noted silver plated table ware — it's "the plate that wears." There are various other Rogers brands, but the Wm A. Rogers silver ware stands head and shoulders above any other plate made.

Tea Spoons, the very newest patterns, at 95c and 1.48 a set.

Dessert Spoons at 1.48 and 1.98 a set.

Table Spoons at 1.69 and 2.48 a set.

Knives and Forks, hand burnished, forged from the finest steel, at 3.98 a set.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Nov. 28.—On account of the new time table going into effect on the Central Sunday, the arrival and departure of the mails have also been changed. The New York mails now close at 7:30 and 10:00 a. m. and 2:00 and 6:00 p. m. The same mails arrive at 5:53 and 8:26 a. m. and 3:15 and 5:12 p. m. For Somerville, Easton and western points the mails close at 7:40 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. They arrive at 7:50 a. m. and 2:22 and 6:27 p. m. The postoffice will hereafter be open only between the hours of 6:00 a. m. and 7:30 p m.

In answer to a summons from Recorder Warden, one young man has appeared before him and offered to pay for a window broken in Charlie Moon's laundry a short time ago. Three other young men who were notified to appear before the Recorder, have failed to do so, and unless they answer in a short time, they will be severely dealt with.

Although it was announced to take place at High Bridge, the wedding of Miss Jennie Apgar, of that place and Willard Apgar, of the borough will be celebrated at Plainfield this afternoon at 5 o'clock. The ceremony will be performed at the residence of Rev. Cornelius Schence, pastor of Trinity Reformed church.

There will be no football game in the borough tomorrow as Captain Fisher was unable to arrange a match. No event of importance is scheduled to take place in town tomorrow, and the citizens will have to depend on adjacent places for their holiday amusement.

Rev. N. J. Sproull, of Englishtown, has arrived in the borough and his household goods will be here today, when he will take up his residence in the Presbyterian parsonage.

Thanksgiving services will be held in the Presbyterian church tomorrow morning at 10:30. Rev. S. K. Doolittle will deliver the sermon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Roberts, who recently removed from the borough, have taken up their residence in New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. William Heyzer, of Brooklyn, are spending a few days with the former's aunt, Mrs. A. W. Warden.

Miss Annie Sirisky, of Raritan, has returned home after a visit with her brother, Bernard Sirisky.

Alfred Zimmerman, of Newark, was the guest of friends in town yesterday.

A letter remains in the post office addressed to Karl Triptow.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, November 28.—Two stage loads of young people comprising the clerks of Boehm's store at Plainfield were entertained in a very pleasant manner last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Mitze. Dancing was the feature and the time passed all too quickly. It was a late hour before refreshments were served and the young people left for home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Johnson, who have been spending the summer with the former's aunt, Mrs. Danz, have returned to New York for the purpose of settling an estate belonging to Mrs Johnson. They will not return to New Market before next spring.

Miss Margaret Coriell entertained a number of her little friends yesterday in honor of her eighth birthday. Games were indulged in after which refreshments were served and the little ones left for home at dusk.

It is expected that the rural free delivery service will begin in the township about December 1st. Clinton F. Randolph has secured the appointment of carrier.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Edwards, of Cedar Lake, N. Y., have been spending part of their honeymoon with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davis.

Edward DeForest, of New York, who has been spending a week in town, left for his home in New York yesterday.

Mrs. William Lienan has gone to New York for a few days' visit with relatives.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Nov. 28—There will be no football game on the local gridiron Thanksgiving Day. The members of the team have lost interest in the game, owing to a number of games being cancelled this season, and it is about a certain thing that so far as Scotch Plains goes, the football season has closed.

The Young People's Literary Society connected with the Methodist church will hold their weekly reading in the class room of the church this evening.

Funeral services of the little Corrona girl, who was drowned in the little brook in the rear of her parents' home last Monday, will be held this afternoon.

Col. Stegman and family, who have been residing in town for nearly two years, have removed to Brooklyn their former home.

A number of sportsmen from the village are arranging to spend tomorrow hunting at the Great Swamp near the Passaic River.

The members of Onwood Council, L. A. B. A., held an interesting semi monthly meeting in their rooms last evening.

Miss Sadie Reger will spend her Thanksgiving vacation of several days with her parents at Sucasanna, Morris county.

Mrs. Maria Noble has left for Newark, where she will spend the winter with her son, Morton C. Noble.

The scholars and teachers in the school will enjoy a Thanksgiving vacation until Monday morning.

Special Thanksgiving service will be held Thanksgiving Day morning in All Saint Episcopal church.

Miss Susie Parse is spending a few days with friends at Bridgeton, this State.

The Township Committee will meet in the town rooms Friday night.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Nov. 28. — The change of time on the Lehigh Valley effects only a few trains. The east bound local which formerly reached here at 2:32 p. m., now comes at 3:09. Some of the trains on the Amboy branch also come and go later.

A bridge builder from New York, named James Jennings, while working on the railroad bridge, near the station, yesterday afternoon, was struck on the thumb by a heavy sledgehammer. He was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, where the wounded member received proper treatment.

There will be no morning Thanksgiving service in the Baptist church tomorrow on account of the evangelistic services which are attracting a great deal of attention.

Farmers' Institute will be held December 5th and 6th in the Stelton Baptist church. J. E. Rice, of New York city, has been secured as one of the speakers.

Since the recent heavy rain the pond is full and affords plenty of power for the mill which it has failed to do lately.

Landlord Poling's Hotel is crowded with boarders, many of whom are employed upon the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

A sociable will be given in Washington Hall this evening. Lewis Randolph is the committee in charge.

The Lempeter farm at Piscataway will be sold December 5th, under the Sheriff's hammer.

Miss Nellie Manning is attending the Teachers' Institute in New Brunswick this week.

Dennis Harlo intends spending Thanksgiving in New York.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The German Beneficial Society will hold a dance in Saengerbund Hall this evening.

—The third of a series of Sunday-school institutes will be held in Hope Memorial chapel next Tuesday evening.

—The main part of the tunnel at the North Avenue station is completed and the finishing part of the work is now being hustled along rapidly.

—Leggett, the Y. M. C. A. druggist, has just received a large consignment of Huyler's fine chocolates and confections for the Thanksgiving trade.

—The repairs at the Somerset street public school are about completed and the rooms damaged by the recent fire will soon be ready for occupancy.

—The shoes you buy of Flynn Brothers, 222 West Front street, you will find a good article and they will last until you are astonished at the quality.

—Central Lodge, A. O. U. W., is making an extra effort to increase its membership, and the members will strive to add at least forty to the roll before January 1st.

—Summons have been issuad in Justice Nash's court in the contract case of the Merchants National Bank, of Newark, against S. D. Drake. They are returnable December 3d.

—Some laundries do up clothes "any old way," but if you want to have them done right and give satisfaction, take them to The Morey-LaRue Laundry Co., 19 Somerset street. The largest in the State.

—Thanksgiving Day services will be held at Grace P. E. church and the Church of the Holy Cross tomorrow morning. Services will also be held at the same hour in St. Stephen's and the Church of the Heavenly Rest.

Miss Saxton, of East Fourth street, has been visiting out-of town friends for a short time.

Speyer. Dem Netscherverein ist wieder eine größere Gabe zugewendet worden, und zwar vom „Berliner Ausschuß," der als erste Rate 10,000 Mark zum Bau des Glockenschoßes der Gedächtnißkirche zur Verfügung stellte.

Bergzabern. Den reichen Weinsegen dieses Jahres beleuchtet folgende Anzeige, die sich in einem anhier erscheinenden Blatte befand; „Wer drei Schoppen Neuen 1900er bei mir trinkt, erhält den vierten Schoppen gratis."

Kaiserslautern. In dem benachbarten Orte Hohenecken wurde ein gewisser Jakob Lang in einer Grube todt aufgefunden.

Ludwigshafen. Die Errichtung einer Fachschule für Maschinenbau und Elektrotechnik im Anschluß an die hiesige Realschule wurde durch den Stadtrath beschlossen unter der Voraussetzung, daß sowohl seitens des Landraths als auch des Kultusministeriums Zuschüsse wie in Würzburg und Ansbach gegeben werden. Die Fachschule soll drei Jahreskurse umfassen und zur Heranbildung von Technikern dienen.

Württemberg.

Stuttgart. Das J. G. Fischer-Denkmal, gestiftet von Freunden und Verehrern des verstorbenen Dichters, ist vor Kurzem enthüllt worden.

Friedrichshafen. Die Bodenseeflotille erhält Zuwachs durch zwei neue Dampfboote, die seit längerer Zeit im Bau sind und deren eines, „König Wilhelm," von der Generaldirektion der württembergischen Verkehrsanstalten als Ersatz für das veraltete Dampfboot „Wilhelm" in Auftrag gegeben worden ist, während das zweite, „Stadt Konstanz," für die badische Generaldirektion bestimmt ist.

Gmünd. Die projektirte Eisenbahnlinie Gmünd-Göppingen geht von hier über Straßdorf, Muthlangen, Maitis, Wäschenbeuren, Birenbach, Rechberghausen, wo je eine Station vorgesehen ist, und Faurndau (Haltepunkt) nach Göppingen. Der Voranschlag für die Gesammtkosten beträgt 2,574,000 Mark.

Laupheim. Die hiesigen Werkzeugfabriken haben in Folge des flauen Geschäftsganges der Gesammtheit der Arbeiter angekündigt, daß zur Verhütung von Entlassungen vorerst nur noch bis Abends 5 Uhr gearbeitet werden könne.

Neresheim. Wegen Brandstiftung wurde der 19 Jahre alte Maurer Joseph Sternbacher in Großkuchen verhaftet. Er hatte aus Rache dafür, daß sein Liebeswerben von einer dortigen Schönen nicht erhört wurde, das Haus, in dem seine Angebetete wohnte, in Brand gesetzt.

Baden.

Karlsruhe. Laut einer Statistik haben im Schuljahre 1899 auf 1900 an Real- und Bürgerschulen Badens nicht weniger als 320 Mädchen gemeinsam mit den Knaben Unterricht erhalten.—Der 30 Jahre alte Lackirer Vincenz Hotz stürzte aus der Küche des zweiten Stockwerkes eines Hauses in den Hof. Er hatte sich dadurch einen Schädelbruch zugezogen und wurde im Hof todt aufgefunden.

Heidelberg. Letzthin stürzte sich der 50 Jahre alte Friseur Josef Miller, den ein Nervenleiden plagte, von der Teufelskanzel, einem etwa 200 Meter hohen Aussichtspunkt, herab. Er war sofort todt.

Kehl. Der Gesammtwerth der aus dem Konsulatsbezirke Kehl nach den Ver. Staaten ausgeführten Waaren belief sich in dem am 30. September abgelaufenen Vierteljahr auf $285,886. Der Gesammtwerth der Ausfuhr im selben Quartal 1899 bezifferte sich auf $687,868. Der Abfall an der Gesammtsumme der ausgeführten Waare wurde hauptsächlich durch die Verminderung des Exports an grünen Häuten verursacht. In den meisten übrigen Artikeln, die Ausfuhr eine Erhöhung erfahren.

Mannheim. Aus verschmähter Liebe stürzte sich die 21jährige Näherin Elisabeth Sigmann aus Neckarau mit ihrem 1½ Jahre alten Knaben bei der Kammerschleuse in den Rheinhafenkanal. Beide ertranken.

Elsaß-Lothringen.

Straßburg. In der Nähe von Albersschweiler wurde in Anwesenheit des Statthalters Fürsten Hohenlohe-Langenburg ein Sanatorium für Lungenkranke, das erste in Elsaß-Lothringen, eröffnet.

Hagenau. Der Gerichtsvollzieher Scheurer wurde wegen Veruntreuung von 900 Mark aus einer Konkursmasse verhaftet. Er leistete heftigen Widerstand.

Reichenweier. Nächtlicher Weile sind dahier fünf Häuser niedergebrannt. Das Wohnhaus des Winzers Schillinger stand zuerst in Flammen. Das Feuer hatte Schillinger selber angelegt. Indem er die Treppen mit Petroleum übergoß, suchte er seiner Familie den Ausgang zu verhindern. Sodann erhängte er sich im Keller. Die von dem Feuer bedrohten Personen konnten sämmtlich gerettet werden.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen. If Plainfield the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every backache sufferer, every man, woman or child with any kidney trouble will profit in the reading.
Mrs. Margaret Reville, of 752 West Third street, says: "For a long time I was troubled with a lame and weak back and I never found anything which gave me any relief until I obtained Doan's Kidney Pills from L. W. Randolph's drug store and began to use them according to directions. It was only a short time before I felt the good effects and from that time on I improved steadily under the treatment. My back pained me and I was so weak and sore that I dreaded to bend and when I had a cold or over exerted myself I suffered severely. I used several different kidney remedies but got but little if any relief. I give Doan's Kidney Pills all the credit for my improvement. I think they are a fine medicine for a lame back."

Evenings and Sundays.

Yesterday evening I was walking along Broadway, New York. Three young women came toward me. They were strongly built young things, every one. A gang of hoodlums passed me, youths of 14 to 16. Instead of turning out to the right for the girls one of the fellows butted his head in among them, shoved them apart and swaggered rudely between two of them, grinning and laughing like an ape as he did so. Then the other hoodlums grinned and laughed like apes at the exploit. The girls merely looked helpless and unprotected and scared and hurried on. Any one of them could have given the shambling, undersized tough a slap in the face that would have made him see stars and made his unclean cheeks tingle half an hour, besides teaching him a blessed lesson in manners. Moreover, two of the girls together could have trounced the tough soundly. But no! They merely did the tiresome old unprotected female act of the dime novel, and the unwhipped cub passed on to repeat his performance with added zeal and confidence. Stories teem of insults to women, of attacks on them, of awful murders of those who still play the helpless female role. In view of these horrors it would be a rare good thing if parents would employ Fitzsimmons to give their daughters lessons in boxing and wrestling and the womanly art of self defense. Men seem no longer able to protect women. Fitzsimmons is a prizefighter, but he never insulted or wronged a woman. When women assume that they can take care of themselves, they will be able to do so. There is more strength in the spirit than in the size.

The most unfortunate and uncomfortable lot in life is that of being obliged to live with a suffering, disappointed, cranky person, young or old. Heaven save us from the chronically disgruntled!

* * *

Are women's brains not equal to men's? All the more reason, then, why they should make the very most and best of what they have, supposing that the Creator only gave them a small amount by way of experiment just to see what they would do with it.

* * *

I have lived long enough to see a woman who has voted for president. I esteem it one of the privileges of my life. The lady voted in Colorado. She is a distinguished musician, brilliant, accomplished and popular socially, besides speaking four languages fluently. She may never be able to vote again if she stays in this benighted old New York, but at least her descendants will be able to point with pride to the fact that their great-great-grandmother 17 generations back cast her ballot for president. At any rate, mine eyes have beheld her. I am not yet quite ready to depart in peace, but I have certainly seen a great thing.

A wife ran away with a tramp. The tramp starved her and finally beat her. In response to her piteous appeal her husband forgave her and took her back on the ground that she was out of her mind when she eloped. A husband ran away with his wife's pretty sister. When he was tired of it, he was also welcomed back repentant to his home, and the word was given out that he had been temporarily insane. That is right. Any married person who elopes with another's husband or wife is undoubtedly crazy.

* * *

Mrs. Rosalie Mauff of Denver has built up the largest greenhouse business in the northwest. In artificially heated glass houses are raised everything from palms and ferns to asparagus. Her palmhouse is a vision of landscape from the tropics. In Denver itself she has six greenhouses and in a village near by 12. All these grew in 17 years out of a tiny glass roofed room heated by a stove. Three factors contributed to Mrs. Mauff's success. She is a woman of rare business ability to begin with. Next she started her enterprise where there was a good market. Third she superintended personally every detail of her work "from planting seeds to decorating churches," the Denver Times says.

In the states in which women vote for presidential electors the returns show a largely increased balloting on their part. In The Woman's Journal Mrs. Chapman Catt gives instructive statistics from the states in which woman suffrage amendments have been twice defeated. In Kansas the vote in favor has increased from 9,100 to 95,302. In Washington a majority against it of 19,386 a few years ago dropped to 9,882 in 1898. South Dakota in 1890 defeated the measure by 23,610; in 1898 by only 3,285. In 1884 Oregon went against by 16,953; this year by only 2,033. In Oregon the negative votes were this year within a very small figure of what they were in 1884, showing that the old hunkers who voted against then still live and slumber, but the increased vote of the state is very largely on the side of woman's citizenship. This favorable growth, it is to be remembered, is in the immediate vicinity of the states where women now have full suffrage. Look out next time!

Proceedings of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders.

[OFFICIAL.]

Regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union, N. J., held on Thursday, Nov. 1, 1900, at 2:30 p. m.

Roll call showed all members present except Freeholders Miller and Woodruff.

The minutes of the previous meeting, (reading of bills being omitted), were on motion approved as read.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Essex and Hudson Gas Co., and directed to Freeholder Bonnell, stating that the company would like to cross the county bridge on Short Hills avenue, Springfield, with its mains, and asking in what manner the matter could be arranged.

On motion of Freeholder Farrell, it was ordered that the matter be referred to Freeholder Bonnell, with power to grant permission to cross said bridge provided the interests of the county were protected.

From County Road Inspector J. W. Fink, his annual report as follows:

Westfield, N. J., Oct. 29, 1900.

To the Honorable, the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County, N. J.:

Gentlemen—The undersigned would respectfully submit to your honorable body the following report of repairs on county roads for the year 1900:

On Morris Avenue 6 896 lineal feet of road have been repaired with 1½ inch stone; 3,135 feet top-dressed with fine stone, and 18,250 feet of gutters cleaned.

In Summit 9 089 feet of road repaired with 1½ inch stone; 2,025 feet top-dressed with fine stone, and 20,428 feet of gutters cleaned.

In New Providence 5 940 feet of road repaired with 1½ inch stone; 11,880 feet of gutters cleaned.

On Mountain avenue 12 192 feet of road repaired with 1½ inch stone; 1 626 feet top-dressed with fine stone; 33,681 feet of gutters cleaned.

On Central avenue, 5,734 feet of road repaired with 1½ inch stone; 18,040 feet of gutters cleaned

On St. George's avenue, 2 188 feet of road repaired with 1½ inch stone; 4,876 feet of gutters cleaned.

On North avenue, 518 feet of road repaired with 1½ inch stone; 1 100 feet top dressed with fine stone; 3 876 feet of gutters cleaned.

On the Hobart Gap road, 4 611 feet of road repaired with 1½ inch stone; 300 feet top dressed with fine stone, 9,222 feet of gutters cleaned.

On Springfield avenue 6 675 feet of gutters cleaned, making a total of eight miles of 1½ inch work, one and one-half miles of top dressing and twenty four miles of gutters cleaned.

In addition to this work, the boulevard has been repaired with 1½ inch stone at a cost of $1 423 69.

The total cost of all the repairs on county roads for the year is $16,231.93.

(Signed)
Very respectfully submitted,
James W. Fink, Inspector.

On motion of Freeholder Farrell, received and placed on filed.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By the committee to settle with the county collector:

Elizabeth, N. J., October 29th, 1900.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—Your committee to settle with the county collector respectfully report that they have examined his books showing his receipts and disbursements, together with his vouchers, bonds and coupons paid and bank books, and we find the same agree and are correct in every particular.

His total receipts from the beginning of the present fiscal year to this date are.....	$197 082 32
Total disbursements.....	94 687 96
Leaving a balance in bank and cash on hand of....	$102,394 36

(Signed)
Henry Kraus,
Benjamin King,
Jacob Bruckiacher,
Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Farrell received and placed on file.

By special committee on drainage in Morris avenue in Summit, N. J.:

"Whereas, It has been agreed upon by the Mayor and City Council of the City of Summit, and the special committee of this Board for the county to expend the sum of $150 for the building of two dry wells on Elm street near Morris avenue in the City of Summit, and in consideration thereof the said city is hereafter to maintain the same, and that no further expenditures will be asked of the county for the purpose of draining the water from or in that locality, therefore your committee respectfully recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the county collector be, and he is hereby authorized and requested to pay to the said City of Summit the sum of $150 and charge the same to the account of 'Repairs to County Roads.'"

(Signed)
W. H. Swain,
John Farrell,
John Robison,
Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Cady the report and the resolutions therein contained were adopted without dissent.

NEW BUSINESS.

By Freeholder Ehrlich:

"Resolved, That when this board adjourns it stands adjourned to meet on Thursday, November 22d, 1900, at 2:30 p. m."

On motion of Freeholer Krauee, the resolution was adopted without dissent.

By Freeholder King:

"Resolved, That the amount appropriated for hospitals be apportioned as follows, viz:

Elizabeth General Hospital..	$2 500 00
Muhlenberg " ...	1,500 00
Alexian Brothers " ...	1 000 00

and that the county collector be, and he is hereby authorized to pay the same."

Freeholder Robison moved the adoption of the resolution, and on roll call it was unanimously adopted.

By Freeholder Cady:

"Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to repair the bridge over Florida avenue, Summit, at an expense not exceeding $200."

On motion of Freeholder Farrell, the resolution was adopted without dissent.

The director appointed as the said committee Freeholders Cady, Wahl and Swain.

By Freeholder Bonnell:

"Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to examine the bridge over VanWinkle Creek on Morris avenue in the Township of Springfield, and if found necessary that they be authorized to repair the foundation of same at a cost not exceeding $300."

On motion of Freeholder Robison the resolution was adopted without dissent.

The director appointed as the said committee Freeholders Bonnell, Robison and Krause.

By Freeholder Adams:

"Resolved, That the lunacy bill for the quarter ending November 15th, 1900, be paid when properly audited."

Freeholder King moved the adoption of the resolution and on roll-call it was unanimously adopted.

The following bills properly audited and approved were read and on roll call unanimously ordered paid, viz:

HAS A RICH EFFECT.

Oriental Embroidery Which Will Be One of the Popular Fads of the Coming Season.

All indications point to the fact that oriental embroidery will take precedence over all other forms of fancy work this coming season. Its popularity is secured for the reason of the simplicity of execution and richness of coloring.

The charm of this coloring is in the artistic handling of brilliant primary tints. They should be so deftly intermingled that no one color stands out glaringly, but all blend in a harmonious whole.

The most effective of this oriental work is executed with jewels and silks or flax threads or both, and almost any material may be used—colored art linen looks well and is inexpensive. The simplest designs are drawn on the material, and are worked in floss silk—red, green, yellow and blue, with red, gold and green spangles mixed.

The diagram pictured is a quickly worked design, and a most effective one. Being so geometrical it may be easily drawn on the fabric with a foot rule and a crayon pencil.

Work the squares (a) in red silk with four long stitches, and put a pale green spangle in the center. The dots are done in French knots with yellow silk. Buttonhole stitch the lines (b) in pale blue silk, put oblong gold spangles in between, and at the four corners (c) put a round gold spangle. The lines (d) are in red silk and (e) in yellow. The center space has a round gold spangle, and the others pale green ones.

Other oriental work which is unique in its rich beauty is wrought on Berlin canvas, with the new art embroidery material, which is mercerized cotton, but nine persons out of ten would pronounce it silk. It is soft, brilliant and lustrous, and will wear and wash better than silk, and costs about one-half as much. A novel material, also,

$36 FOR CIGARETTES.

That is One of the Amounts in a Bill Which William Trust is Asked to Pay.

The contract case of Schorb against Trust was tried before a twelve-man jury in Justice Mattison's court yesterday afternoon. The former brought suit against Trust for a board bill and for furnishing cigarettes and extras. Among the items were $36 for cigarettes and $50 for extras. The amount of board which Schorb claimed was to be paid each week was $12. The amount involved amounted to several hundred dollars, but owing to the fact that it is unlawful to bring suit in a Justice's court for more than $200, it was placed at that figure.

Trust denied owing the amount and claimed that the whole charge was a trumped-up affair. He stated that $50 of the amount was for drinkables disposed of by Schorb and his friends. It was also figured out that $36 would buy 10,000 cigarettes which amount Trust was supposed to have consumed in a few weeks. W. A. Coddington appeared for Trust, while Schorb was represented by Robert Clark.

The case took all the afternoon and, after being submitted to the jury, a verdict of no cause for action was rendered in ten minutes. The jury was composed of Andrew Love, James Tilby, George Hansen, F. M. Whitely, Augustus Feiring, Gustave Sutterlein, William E. Pangborn, Joel Hedden, Spencer Scribner, Zacharia Wilson, Robert Rogers and Charles Lippincott.

His Slumbers Disturbed.

Nicholas Kelley, of Cottage place, was disturbed in his slumbers early this morning by the arrival of Constable Gjetelsen, armed with dispossess papers. In spite of Kelley's protestation he was ejected. The complainant in the case was Alex Kane, who is owner of the property in question.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Millard F. Elderton, of the News staff, accompanied by his wife, left today for Auburn, N. Y., where they will spend Thanksgiving Day with relatives.

Miss Clara Hellwig has returned from Hot Springs, Arkansas, where where she has been visiting her brother. She is now stopping with Mrs. A. W. Rand, of Watchung avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith, of Duer street, are receiving the congratulations of their many friends over the arrival of a baby daughter. The young lady made her appearance yesterday morning at 11 o'clock.

Herbert Miller, formerly an employe at the Walter Scott Printing and Machine Works, is stopping in the city today visiting his old friends. Mr. Miller left Plainfield four years ago and since then has been traveling all over the country. He was on his way to New York to spend Thanksgiving with his mother and decided to stop off for a while.

Jacob Baker, of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, of this place, is planning to go to Africa in the early part of January next in response to a call from the Sabbath Evangelizing and Industrial Association working in British Central Africa. Mr. Baker is a young Hollander, a son of F. J. Baker, of Rotterdam, a good machinist and a faithful Christian, meriting trust and confidence.

Freeman is Back Again.

Abram Freeman, the West End peddler, who disappeared so strangely Tuesday of last week, has returned to his home again. He left here to purchase a load of grapes. The police of this city, Elizabeth and Newark have been looking for him ever since. He has now returned and says that he was arrested and locked up in Westfield on charge of cruelty to his horse, and has only just been able to secure his release.

Hospital Report.

The monthly report for the hospital shows that 29 cases were admitted. There were seventeen discharged cured, and five were discharged improved. There were three deaths. There were 43 dispensary cases and 141 visits made. This is one of the heaviest months for some time past, and the nurses have been kept very busy.

Mr. Davis Interested.

A change in the management of the Plainfield Cab Company has been made in the past few days whereby James W. Davis, a well-known resident of this city, is now in charge of the office. The company will continue serving its patrons in the same excellent style as heretofore, its facilities having been greatly added to by the purchase of several handsome new rigs.

Rain Stopped Work.

The rainy weather of the first part of the week has delayed somewhat the work of macadamizing Madison avenue from Front street to the new bridge, but Contractor Meeker hopes to start it very soon. There has also been a slight delay on the borough side in macadamizing Duer street.

Remembered Their Turkeys.

Boice, Runyon & Co., the coal and lumber dealers, remembered their employes kindly today by presenting each one with a fine Jersey turkey. David C. Smalley, the North avenue butcher, furnished the birds and they were choice selections.

Special Music.

There will be a special musical service in the Church of the Heavenly Rest Sunday next at 4 o'clock. Vernon Hughes, the well-known tenor, has kindly volunteered his services for the occasion.

Conductor Out of the Hospital.

Fred Friendt, of Mauch Chunk, the conductor on the Jersey Central Railroad, who was injured near Fanwood a few days ago, was discharged from the hospital today and returned to his home.

Important Decision Rendered in the Orphans' Court.

A decision has just been rendered by the Orphans' Court of Union county in the case of Jeremiah Cash, administrator, against Mary Doll, minor, and Patrick Reville, guardian, in which the administrator is sustained in every point raised by W. A. Coddington, of Reed & Coddington, his counsel. By the decision of the Court Mr. Cash is authorized to sell all the real estate formerly belonging to Margaret Cash, deceased. The creditors of Mrs. Cash have anxiously been awaiting a settlement of the case as it depended entirely upon Mr. Cash's success in his legal proceedings as to whether they would be paid or not. For the last few days Mr. Coddington has been congratulated by the creditors for his successful management of the case. The defendants were represented by James Gordon, a Jersey City lawyer.

H. C. Drake Heard From.

A letter has been received from H. C. Drake the West End bicycle dealer who left some time ago, in which he states he is travelling through the south for his health and business combined. He is at present located at Weldon, N. C. He also states that he announced his intentions of leaving and can settle all obligations which may arise.

—The Manual Training School in the borough will be opened soon after the holiday season, when everything will be in readiness for the scholars.

A CARD

To the voters of the First ward of the city of Plainfield:

Having accepted the nomination for Councilman, for this, the First ward, I deem it but fair that I publicly state my position that I may be understood —First, I shall use all honorable means to be elected; if elected, I will, so far as I can, urge all fair progress in our city improvements, but at the same time I will insist upon rigid economy and strict scrutiny of public expenditures. For myself I beg to say that I have been a resident of Plainfield for seven years; that I am a property holder and tax payer; that my business is that of a carpenter and builder, and am quite a large employer of labor. My interests therefore are here and my interests are yours. I am a union man, employing only union labor, and believe that legitimate organization of labor is essential to the protection and success of all labor. In conclusion, I desire to say that having accepted the nomination I solicit the votes of my fellow citizens, regardless of party, assuring them that I have no mean or selfish purpose in view. I am only at the well being of the whole people.

Respectfully, John Lloyd.

Alis A. A. Ended Season With Game Against Bayonne A. C. Yesterday.

THE SCORE WAS 0. TO 0.

PLAINFIELD HIGH SCHOOL PLAYED TIE GAME IN AFTERNOON.

Met Heavy Team From Port Richmond High School—Both Sides Scored in First Half—Local Team Made Best Show.

Two closely contested games on Martine Common yesterday ended the local football season. In the morning the eleven of the Alis A. A. lined up for its last game against the Bayonne A. C. Neither side scored, but the home team had slightly the better of it.

Bayonne had the kick-off in the first half. The defence of both teams was particularly strong and, failing to gain the required five yards in three downs, they were forced to kick. Most of the play was in Bayonne's territory, but neither goal was in danger during the half.

In the second half the Alis boys assumed the offensive and gradually worked the ball to Bayonne's five-yard line, Woolston making the longest run of the day, twenty-five yards. There Bayonne got the ball on downs and immediately kicked out of danger. Again the ball went back to Bayonne's ten-yard line, to be lost on downs. Bayonne's chief weakness was the frequent fumbling of her backs. When they secured the ball on Alis' twenty-five yard line on Tom Smith's fumble of a punt, they lost the ball almost immediately on another fumble

The summary:

ALIS A. A.		BAYONNE A. C.
Cathcart	right end	Dodge
Waring	right tackle	Delapierre
McClur	right guard	Mettam
G. P. Smith	centre	Tuttle
Witte-Garretson	left tackle	Fredericks
H. Smith	left end	Jennings-P. Waters
Phillips	quarter back	E. Stalling
Woolston	right half back	E. Watters
Cuming	left half back	W. Stalling
T. Smith	full back	Hernandez

Score—Alis A. A., 0; Bayonne A. C., 0. Referee—Roger Erickson. Umpire—A. Willis West. Field linesman—Harold Davis. Timekeeper—Fred M. Slater, Jr. Time of halves—Twenty minutes.

In the afternoon, the Plainfield High School eleven played a tie game with the Port Richmond High School, of Staten Island, the score being 5 to 5. The visitors greatly outweighed the home team but they failed to make proper use of their weight. The Plainfield team was the stronger on defense, Meeker in particular, doing some very clever work.

Port Richmond kicked off and Plainfield took the ball down the field to their opponent's fifteen yard line where it was lost on downs. Then the visitors worked the ball back up the field and W. Miller finally made a touchdown, Stephen missed an easy gal. After Plainfield's kick-off, the ball was fumbled by the visitors on their twenty-yard line and Mosher fell on it. Then the city team went right down the field for a touchdown, Bulkley plunging though centre for two yards. VanAuken missed a rather difficult goal.

In the second half, Port Richmond once had the ball on Plainfield's ten-yard line but lost it on downs. The ball was being slowely worked toward the visitor's goal when time was called. The summary:

PLAINFIELD H. S.		PORT RICHMOND H. S.
Monroe	right end	Crowley
Whitford	right tackle	Christopher
Scull	right guard	Slater
Cubberley	centre	Stephens
Denton-Davis	left guard	VanName
Mosher	left tackle	M. Miller
Meeker	left end	Oakley
VanAuken	quarter back	O'Reilly
Hallock	right half back	Gallagher
Bulkley	left half back	W. Miller
Pond	full back	Whittier

Score—Plainfield, 5. Port Richmond, 5. Touchdowns—W. Miller, Bulkley. Referee—A. Willis West. Umpire—Robert Hopkins, Wesleyan '94. Field Linesman—A. B. Meredith, Wesleyan, '95. Timekeepers—Cathcart and Aaron Thompson. Time of halves—Twenty and fifteen minutes.

First Formal Dance.

The members of the Tuesday Evening Dancing Club, who meet weekly in the rooms of the Plainfield Camera Club, gave their first formal dance of the season Wednesday evening. It proved a decided success. There was a large turnout and the time passed by very pleasantly, a supper being served to the guests at midnight.

Will Make Her Debut.

Invitations are out for a reception at which Mrs. Charles S. Lee will introduce her elder daughter, Miss Genevieve Lee, into Plainfield society. The reception will be held Friday, December 7th, from 4 to 7 o'clock, at Mr. Lee's residence, 240 East Ninth street.

Will Probated.

The will of Mrs. Jane E. Pearson has been admitted to probate at Elizabeth by Surrogate Parrott. Charles G. Pearson is named as the executor. Francis J. Blatz is counsel for the executors.

WON PROTESTED GAME.

HILLSIDE CLUB'S TEAM DEFEATED NEWARK A. C.

By the Victory It Is Now Settled That the Hillside Club Wins East Jersey Golf Association Trophy.

First honors have come to the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club through the club team which won the match played yesterday against the Newark A. C. at Newark. Owing to the fact that in the East Jersey Golf Association series the Newark team played two non-members in the contest against Hillside, it was decided that the game should be played over. If Hillside had lost yesterday's match another game with East Orange would have been necessary to decide the championship. Hillside gave Newark a good drubbing yesterday and proved that the latter team was not in the race for a minute. Every man on the Hillside team scored against his opponent except Wadsworth, and he was beaten 1 down by Captain Moody. The scores of the match follow:

HILLSIDE.		NEWARK A. C.
Glenney	10	L. Conklin 0
Wadsworth	0	Moody 1
Baker	8	Halsey 0
Dumont	2	Todd 0
Ard	3	Dr. Baldwin 0

J. Whitney Baker, W. L. Glenney and Howard Wright were entered in the individual championship tournament which opens at Baltusrol today and continues through tomorow. These three crack players should return home with honors from the field of contest and thus maintain their reputation.

TEACHERS TO MEET.

Winter Session of New Jersey High School Teachers Will Be Held at Newark Next Week.

The winter meeting of the New Jersey High School Teachers' Association will be held in Newark Friday and Saturday, Dec. 7 and 8.

At 6:30 o'clock Friday evening a reception will be held in the parlors of the Continental Hotel. At 7:30 dinner will be served in the Continental banquet hall, at which addresses will be made by Dr. Samuel T. Dutton, professor of school administration in Teachers' College, of New York, and Dr. James H. Canfield, librarian of Columbian University.

The sessions on Saturday will be held in the Newark High School building on Parker street, and will begin at 9:30 o'clock. Dr. J. M. Green, principal of the New Jersey State Normal School, will read a paper on "The High School Curriculun and its Aims;" W. E. Chancellor, superintendent of the Bloomfield Schools, will read a paper on "The Boys and Girls Who Fail;" Dr. Charles B. Gilbert, superintendent of the Newark city schools, will make an address on "The High School as Related to the Schools Above and Below It." Discussions will follow the papers and the election of officers will also take place at this session. Prof. H. C. Krebs, of Somerville, president of the Association, will preside.

Mrs. Crane Located at Cranford.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Nov. 30.—It was learned yesterday that Mrs. Carrie Crane, who left her home, 127 Jefferson avenue, a week ago, with her child, aged eighteen months, is stopping with relatives at Cranford. The reason she gives for leaving her husband, Wallace M. Crane, of this city, is that he would not properly support her. She says she was determined to bring suit against him for a separation and alimony, and has retained former Congressman John T. Dunn as her counsel in the matter.

License Matter in Court.

The Supreme Court has fixed December 10th as the date for argument in the application of August C. Hahr for a writ of certiorari restraining the action of the Summit Excise Board in revoking his license. Hahr was convicted before Justice Sampson and afterward before the Excise Board of violation of the excise ordinance in selling liquor on Sunday, and the Board promptly revoked his license.

WHAT A MACHINE MAN SAYS OF THE "ANTIS"

Former Mayor Gilbert and Former Councilman Barrows Are Severely Criticised.

CALLS THEM UNGRATEFUL.

CHARLES S. SMINCK INDULGES IN POLITICAL HOT SHOT.

Denounces the Men Who Are Supporting Col. Tyler and Challenges Them to Give Any Good Reason for Such Action.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—It is reported in your capable and trustworthy paper that Former Mayor Alexander Gilbert, Former Councilmen E. T. Barrows, J. T. Baker and others of the Third ward will desert the Republican candidate for Mayor, Dr. O. L. Jenkins. For what reason? Do the gentlemen in question wish to be considered as pevish prattling ward-politicians? Do they wish to be considered captious or ill-tempered, spleeny or irritable? If not, let the gentlemen publicly state wherein the Republican party is inefficient or untrustworthy. Are not Alexander Gilbert and E. T. Barrows more than other citizens of Plainfield responsible for some of the lines of policy of the present administration? Under whose administration were the sewer beds built? Is the present administration or Dr. O. L. Jenkins accountable for that issue? Fair minded citizens will answer in the negative. Who are chargeable? Let Messrs. Gilbert and Barrows answer that question?

The immaculate firm of Messrs. Gilbert, Barrows & Co. are simply in the Tyler movement, according to the reported version, in order to elect one of Plainfield's most capable and influential citizens as mayor. What's the matter with Dr. O. L. Jenkins? Is he not capable? Is he not trustworthy?. Is he not a gentleman? Where is the flaw in his record? Speak up, Gentlemen! Are they afraid that the dignity of the office, established by Mr. Gilbert, will be lowered in the person of Dr. Jenkins? Do they hope that the impressiveness of the office will be increased in the person of Mr. Tyler? And Gilbert—out Gilberted!

Are there not in every community certain gentlemen who arrogate to themselves all the virtues and who think that public affairs will be badly and ignorantly managed unless placed in their hands? Do not these same gentlemen consider themselves superior to the rank and file of both the Democratic and Republican parties? Is it good for the city or State that the people should bow to these halo-headed false pretenders and continue to bulge their egotism?

Messrs. Gilbert, Barrows & Co. have been honored and elected to office by the Republicans of Plainfield and without their support they would never have held office in this community. For no good cause they abandon the standard-bearer of their party honorably and unanimously nominated and indirectly as far as their influence goes cast an aspersion upon the ability and character of Dr. Jenkins. Is this the way they show their appreciation and gratitude? People who don't watch politics closely will think that there must be something wrong with the nominee of a party when a Former Mayor and Councilmen renounce that nomination? That is the measure of the injury Messrs. Gilbert, Barrows & Co. are doing to Dr. Jenkins. How can honorable men help but feel deeply on this subject?

Dr. O. L. Jenkins is an able, broad-minded, cultured, patriotic public spirited citizen and a man of the people; he is very worthy of the highest office in the gift of the people of the city of Plainfield.

The Halo Trust and the firm of Messrs. Gilbert, Barrows & Co. are called upon to publicly disprove this statement.

In conclusion the Third ward Tyler movement, neither Republican nor Democratic, lacks principle; no specific acts of mal-administration are charged, no economies planned and no reforms of any character have been suggested. Yours truly,

Charles S. Sminck.

HOLIDAY AT HILLSIDE.

TWO PAIRS TIED IN PLAY FOR GILBERT CUP, MIXED FOURSOMES.

W. L. Glenney Won the Chapman Cup and Club Championship From J. Whitney Baker.

The final play for the Chapman cup on the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club links took place last Wednesday afternoon between W. L. Glenney and J. Whitney Baker, two of the best players in the club. Glenney won the contest with a score of 80. His card showed 39 and 41. Baker's score was 88. This brings to a close one of the most interesting events in the club schedule, as it decides the club championship.

It was expected that the tie in the Reinhart cup contest would be played yesterday between W. L. Glenney and Roger F. Murray. This event was postponed for the present by mutual consent.

The event of the holiday was the play for the Gilbert cup, mixed foursomes. This proved to be of great interest and especially so on account of the close finish. The play resulted in a tie score of 98 between Mrs. N. P. Rogers and N. P. Rogers, Jr., and J. Whitney Baker and Miss Grace Kaufman. The cup to become personal property has to be won three times by one woman. Miss Kaufman is among those who have won it once and she is therefore quite anxious to win in the play-off which will take place within a short time. The result of the play for the Gilbert cup is as follows:

	Gross.	Hand.	Net.
Mrs. N. P. Rogers and N. P. Rogers	98	0	98
J. Whitney Baker and Miss Grace Kaufman	102	4	98
T. K. VanBoskerck and Miss Marie VanBoskerck	107	7	100
L. H. VanBuren and Miss van Herwerden	115	8	107
Mellick Tweedy and Mis M. Goddard	118	10	108
J. A. Machado and Miss Edith Tracy	125	8	117
Howard Huntington and Mrs. E. M. VanBuren	135	18	117
George VanBoskerck and Miss May Evans	129	12	117

DENNIS TWICE ACCUSED

In City Court He is Charged With Fighting—Girl Complains That He Tried to Rob Her.

Dennis Kane, noted for his daring runaway catches, was arraigned before Justice Mosher this morning, charged by Mary Hilby, a young colored woman, with snatching a purse from her hand. The theft was committed, she says, as she was passing under the Watchung avenue bridge Monday evening. Kane pleaded not guilty to the charge and retained William G. DeMeza as his counsel. The case will be tried before Justice Mosher at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Star Course Entertainment.

The second entertainment in the Star Course series at the Y. M. C. A. was given last evening Weber Tableau Concert Company. Four young ladies comprised the company and rendered an excellent programme. The honors of the evening were easily taken by Miss Adele Weber whose recitations and monologues kept the audience in continual roars of laughter. The others who appeared on the programme were Miss Ida Marie Heinoll, pianist, Miss Margaret Davison, soloist, and Miss Lillian Bender, violinist.

Bride's Name Not Changed.

Willard N. Apgar, of Dunellen, and Miss Jennie M. Apgar, of High Bridge, were united in marriage Wednesday evening at the residence of Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church. They were attended by C. Edwin Apgar, of Philadelphia, and Miss Anna Campbell, of Martinsville. The young couple will take up their residence temporarily with the groom's brother, J. Newton Apgar, of Dunellen.

Lehigh Wage Scale Drawn Up.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Wilkesbarre, Nov. 26.—The Lehigh Valley Railroad and its employees have reached an amicable agreement, and there will be no further friction. At Bethlehem Saturday the officials of the road and a committee of the ployees met and drew up a new wage scale. Brakemen on freight and coal trains will receive an advance of from 10 to 20 per cent. Other minor grievances were also settled.

Fighting on Second Street.

Thomas Keefe and Special Officer Dennis Kane were arrested early yesterday morning for fighting on West Second street. Patrolman Totten made the arrest. Before City Judge Runyon this morning, Kane's case was laid over a week at the request of his counsel, William G. DeMeza, while Keefe told his story. Judgment in Keefe's case was deferred until the other case shall come to trial.

GAVE THANKS FOR THE YEAR'S BLESSINGS

Union Thanksgiving Services Held in First M. E. and Park Avenue Baptist Churches.

MANY ATTENDED THEM.

REV. DR. HUBBELL OUTLINED THE ORIGIN OF THE DAY.

Rev. Cornelius Schenck Told of the Many Things That America and the Civilized World Are to Be Thankful For.

The Union Thanksgiving service held at the First M. E. church yesterday morning attracted a very large number of people. The service was one of the best held in recent years. Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, pastor of the church, was in charge, and he opened the service. Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren chapel, read the Scripture selection, with responses, after which Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor of the First Baptist church, offered an impressive prayer.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D., pastor of Trinity Reformed church, and he took for his text the fourth verse of the 100th Psalm, "Enter His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise. Be thankful unto Him and bless His name." The sermon was a very strong one and was based almost entirely on the Bible. It contained much food for earnest consideration and afterthought, and made everyone feel that they had much to be thankful for.

In the first place, Pastor Schenck said that all should be thankful that they are thankful, that they poeseesed the instance of gratitude. He said that everyone should praise God that he was not afflicted with an obliquity of judgment that turns blessings into curses, and forgets all His benefits. He considered that gratitude is the normal measure of the man, and that to thank God is the most unselfish service that can be given to Him.

In the second place, the speaker said that all should thank God for a preventive ministry, for the angels that keep them from falling. They should bless His holy name for blessings spiritual and physical, that all of their affairs should rise to that altitude of height that they are led to see and believe that the end is good. He said that the Church of God is the very dyke of the Almighty against the wicked. It is the laboring man's best home, the business man's best helper and the statesman's best supporter. At this time, the dawn of the twentieth century, a glance back will show that, in the past century, the church has been on the march. There has been a development of the Christian conscience, a lengthening of her cords and a strengthening of her stakes.

Turning to National affairs, Pastor Schenck recounted the blessings to be found there. He said that today this is a better Nation, which is at peace with itself. He mentioned the great public school system giving superior educational facilities, the fine and humane spirit of the soldiers and marines who have defended the flag, and the spirit of those soldiers of Christ who have stood faithful unto death.

Dr. Schenck spoke of "Uncle Sam" who has stepped forth a full-grown man to bear his share of the "white man's burden," and for this he thought all should be thankful. In conclusion the speaker dwelt impressively upon the power of the Gospel of Christ in the National life, which he considered had made this Nation what it is. He said that this same Gospel makes a man a power in himself. When a law antagonizes the Gospel the law is always sure to go down, and thus it is with all forms of wickedness.

At the conclusion of the sermon Rev. G. W. Gardner, pastor of Grace M. E church, offered prayer. A collection was taken for the benefit of the Charity Organized Aid Association, and after the singing of "America" the benediction was pronounced by Rev. D. G. W. Smith, presiding elder of the M. E. church.

After the service Dr. Schenck received many congratulations for his very earnest, able sermon and the suggestion was freely offered that it was worthy of publication in full in the city papers.

Union Thanksgiving services were held at the Park Avenue Baptist church yesterday morning and were largely attended. On the platform were Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, Rev. C. L. Goodrich and Rev. J. W. Richardson. The discourse was de-

FRANK ROGERS WON CUP

SEMI FINALS AND FINALS PLAYED FOR HYDE HOLIDAY CUP.

Play For That Trophy Was the Chief Event of Thanksgiving on Park Club Links.

Play for the Charles Hyde holiday cup was concluded on the links of the Park Golf Club yesterday. In the morning the semi-finals were played. Frank Rogers and Meredith Dryden were the first pair. Rogers had five strokes handicap on the first round and one on the second. He was four up at the end of the first nine and finished four up and three to go.

W. de la R. Anderson and Charles B. Morse were the other pair. Anderson gave Morse a stroke on six holes on the first round and four on the second. Anderson took the first four holes. At the end of the first round, he was three up but Morse braced up and they finished even up. An extra hole was played and Anderson won by a single stroke.

In the afternoon, the finals were played between Anderson and Rogers. Anderson gave Rogers a stroke on seven holes on the first round and five on the second. The play in the first round was very even, Anderson being one up at the turn. He won the tenth hole. Rogers showed better form as the play progressed and finally won the match three up and two to play.

The Hyde Cup is a very handsome silver trophy. It is nearly seven inches high and five inches in diameter and has the club emblem on the side. It was presented by Charles Hyde. The President's Cup, offered by Charles W. McCutchen, was formally turned over to Edgar I. Serrell, who won it this season. It is a solid silver trophy and artistic design.

BLOND WORKED OLD GAME.

Searched Cranford in Vain, However, for Victims of the "Agents Wanted, Deposit Required" Scheme.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Cranford, Nov. 30.—The police officials of Cranford are now looking for a prepossessing young woman of the blonde variety, who visited here a few days ago and endeavored to secure a good reliable agent for soaps, perfumery, etc.

She claimed to represent a well-known New York manufacturer, and her scheme was to secure a $5 deposit from whoever she might select to award the agency. Of course, after the young woman got the money the house she represented would forward the sample goods and establish the agent. After spending a night here at a well-known boarding house and searching the town in vain, she was unable to find an agent.

It is said the young woman went to Westfield and there induced a well-known man to sell the goods. She received the $5 and has not been heard of since, and the agent is still waiting for his letter of credentials and the samples from the New York house. Constable Schindler and the Westfield police officials, it is said, are now hunting for the lady who received $5 at Westfield, but was unable to find so easy a mark in Cranford.

New Jersey at Washington Centennial.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, November 28.—Governor Voorhees, General Sewell and Adjutant General Oliphant completed arrangements yesterday for the participation on December 12th in the centennial anniversary of the establishment of the seat of government at Washington. The next day there will be a meeting of the Interstate National Guard Association, at which New Jersey will be represented by General Sewell, General Oliphant and Capt. R. Wayne Parker.

Somerville's Postoffice.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, November 30.—The Somerville postoffice will remain in its present quarters for ten years longer, the Government having just entered into a ten years lease with Clerk in Chancery L. A. Thompson, the owner, at an increased rental, conditioned on certain improvements. The stipulation is that a tile floor be laid, a safe built into the wall, the building be repainted and rejuvenated and lighted throughout with electricity. The location is a central one.

Happy Family Reunion.

Yesterday Mrs. Amy Lorton gave a Thanksgiving dinner in honor of Mrs. Mary L. Force, who lives with her. Besides Mrs. Lorton and her own family, Mrs. Force's two children, Mrs. L. K. Prescott, of Brooklyn, and A. L. Force and wife, of the borough, were present. The day and bountiful dinner was thoroughly enjoyed by all, particularly so by Mrs. Force, the aged mother, who is nearing her 86th birthday.

CITY SOCIAL SEASON FORMALLY OPENED.

First Assembly Held in the Casino Wednesday Evening Was a Success.

NUMBER OF SUBSCRIBERS.

LARGER ATTENDANCE EXPECTED AT FOLLOWING DANCES.

Casino and Clubhouse Were Attractively Arranged For First Assembly—One Hundred and Fifteen Present.

With the first Assembly, the social season in Plainfield was formally opened Wednesday evening, Thanksgiving Eve. While many of the city society folk have not yet returned to Plainfield for the winter, the affair was a decided success and gave promise of plenty of activity in society circles this winter. The dance was held in the Casino, as usual, and the adjoining clubhouse was utilized for reception, dining and dressing rooms.

On account of the absence of many prominent in local society the list of regular subscribers for the first of the Assemblies was not as large as it will be for the succeeding ones. There were one hundred and seven subscribers, all of whom were not present, but the out-of-town guests brought the total number present up to one hundred and fifteen.

There was little difference in the arrangements on this occasion from those of the past. A screen of palms and potted plants half hid the orchestra on the stage. A Brooklyn leader furnished the music. Palms decorated the corners and a host of cut chrysanthemums of all colors were used in the general decoration of the ball room. The rooms of the clubhouse were handsomely fitted up, all ready for occupancy by the new social organization. The supper was served there at 11 o'clock by a famous New York caterer.

Lewis E. Waring is treasurer this year and had general supervision of all the arrangements. His efforts were successful and the Assembly was declared a success by all. For the next Assembly on New Years's night Mr. Waring has planned something new. Besides the same orchestra which played Wednesday night, Brooks and Denton, the famous banjoists, will be present with a string quintette, and will alternate in furnishing the dance music.

The patronesses of the Assemblies are Mrs. Charles A. Brooks, Mrs. M. E. Edgerton, Mrs Charles. J. Fisk, Mrs. Frederick G. Mead, Mrs. J. Kirtland Myers, Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen, Mrs. Harry G. Runkle, Mrs. S. L. Schoonmaker and Mrs. Henry P. Talmadge.

The subscribers are Mr. and Mrs. Marion S. Ackerman, Miss Lydia P. Ackerman, Miss Edith Arens, Seigfried Arens, C. Westley Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern which is not afraid to be generous. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles and have the satisfaction of knowing it has cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, LaGrippe and all Throat, Chest and Lung diseases are surely cured by it. Call on L. W. Randolph, Druggist, and get a free trail bottle. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle gauranteed.

Great Luck Of An Editor

"For two years all efforts to cure Eczema in the palms of my hands failed", writes Editor H. N. Lester, of Syracuse, Kan., "then I was wholly cured by Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's the world's best for Eruptions, Sores and all skin diseases. Only 25 cents at L. W. Randolph's.

—The W.C.T.U. held a very successful pie and cake sale in their rooms on Madison avenue on Wednesday afternoon. A goodly sum was realized.

—If you have ever seen a child in the agony of croup you can realize how grateful mothers are for One Minute Cough Cure which gives relief as soon as it is administered. It quickly cures coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles. L. W. Randolph.

Miss Agnes B. Freeman, of LaGrande avenue, is visiting relatives at Lakewood.

Spread Like Wild Fire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, rundown man or woman. Price 50 cents. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

—The Woman's Home Missionay Society of the Crescent Avenue church will hold a regular meeting this afternoon in the chapel of the church.

THE YOSEMITE'S LOSS.

Particulars of the Disaster Off the Island of Guam.

MANILA, Nov. 30.—Rear Admiral Remey has as yet received no official report of the loss of the United States auxiliary cruiser Yosemite, which parted her cables and struck a reef off the harbor of San Luis d'Apra, Island of Guam, during the typhoon of Nov. 13 and was subsequently driven to sea by the gale, where she sank Nov. 15. The United States cruiser Newark sailed for Guam today to investigate into the circumstances of the disaster.

According to advices received here from unofficial sources the wind was blowing from the southeast in the early morning of Nov. 13 at the rate of 100 miles an hour. The Yosemite had two anchors down, but both were dragged a mile across the harbor entrance. At 11 a. m. she struck the reef and stove in forward. She drifted for an hour and at noon struck the rocks near Sonlaye, carrying away her rudder and damaging her propeller.

A launch had been sent to find shelter, but it capsized, and the occupants were drowned. They were Coxswain Swanson, Seaman George Aubel, Engineer J. L. Mabancfy and Firemen J. L. Davis and Joseph Anderson.

The storm abated somewhat at 1 p. m., but was then renewed with violence from the southwest.

A dozen of the crew attempted to carry a line ashore, but the boat capsized, although all the occupants managed to reach the land.

Meanwhile the Yosemite was being blown seaward, her head down and the forward compartment filling. The boiler and engine rooms, however, were free of water, and the pumps were kept going. The cruiser was kept afloat until the afternoon of Nov. 15, when the United States collier Justin, which also had suffered damage to her anchors and had narrowly escaped the reef, was sighted.

The Justin attempted to tow the Yosemite with two chains and two cables, but these parted.

Finally 138 of the Yosemite's crew, 26 marines and nine officers were transferred to the Justin, together with $68,000 Mexican.

The Yosemite soon plunged headforemost and sank.

The members of the crew were provided with temporary quarters in Agana, which suffered badly from the hurricane.

The typhoon was of unprecedented violence. Many are reported to have been killed or injured. At Agana three were killed and ten died of exposure.

The town of Morajan was destroyed, 30 of the townspeople being killed and many others injured. It is believed that there was considerable loss of life elsewhere in Guam, and all the crops were destroyed.

Many dwellings in Agana were demolished.

Mrs. White, wife of Major White of the marine corps, the only white woman in Agana, took refuge with her husband and Commander Seaton Schroeder, naval governor of Guam, in the cellar of the governor's mansion, which was already partly filled with water.

The Solace, Commander Herbert Winslow, which left San Francisco Nov. 2 for Manila, was expected to arrive at Guam Nov. 24 with supplies for the families of Governor Schroeder and the other officers.

SEIZED WRONG WOMAN.

Young Englishman Mistook Mae Stebbins For His Runaway Wife.

ALBANY, Nov. 30.—An attempt to kidnap Mae Stebbins, a dancer at Proctor's theater, was made by George Fletcher Hewitt of London, whom he mistook for his wife, Alice. Hewitt, in company with Reginald Durant, a lawyer from Howe & Hummell's office, New York city, went to the rear of the theater with a cab. When Miss Stebbins stepped from the door, he seized her, exclaiming, "Alice, my wife!" and attempted to force her into the cab.

The young lady's screams attracted a gang of hoodlums from the Market square, who set upon Hewitt and gave him a severe beating. Hewitt was placed under arrest, but was subsequently released by the magistrate upon relating his story. He said he had married Miss Alice Pierce in England several months ago, but her mother objected to the marriage, and his wife left him, coming to America, where she secured an engagement on the Proctor circuit. He tracked her to Albany with the above result.

Miss Pierce, who is also at Proctor's, admitted that she was the wife of Hewitt. Miss Stebbins and Miss Pierce look very much alike, and the mistake was quite natural.

Serious Gunning Accident.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Lewis Ferry of Mount Holly, N. J., was injured so badly in a gunning accident near that place that his life is despaired of. He was with Carl Claypoole, when Claypoole's gun was accidentally discharged. The charge entered Ferry's body close to the groin. Should he recover the physicians say he will be a cripple for life.

Died In the Marshes.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Mrs. Delia Parish, 52 years old, who lived with her married daughter, Mrs. Thomas Higgins, in Williamsburg, was found dead in the Newtown creek meadows. Mrs. Parish left her home on Saturday night to visit friends. It is the belief that she wandered off the route in the storm into the meadows and got stuck in the mire.

Elections In Peru.

LIMA, Peru, Nov. 30.—Polling in the municipal elections will begin tomorrow and continue Sunday and Monday. There is great popular excitement, and numerous manifestoes have been issued. ROOT'S ARMY PLANS.

War Secretary's Outline For Reorganization.

MAXIMUM STRENGTH, 96,766 MEN.

To Replace the Regulars and Volunteers Whose Time Expires July 1, the President Is Authorized to Increase Size of Regiments.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The house committee on military affairs makes public a letter received from Secretary Root under date of the 28th inst. transmitting a draft of a bill prepared by the war department for the reorganization of the army. The letter says that the army as at present organized under the present law will cease to exist on July 1, 1901, and thereafter will consist of a total enlisted strength of 29,025 men. Without further legislation, he says, the volunteers now in service must be discharged July 1, 1901, and the regular army reduced from 65,000 to 29,025 men. Continuing, the letter says:

"Without leaving much if any margin for sickness, such as the campaigns of the past two years warn us must be counted as an important factor in any occupation by the army, peaceful or warlike, of many of the islands which constitute the Philippine group, the strength thus fixed must prove utterly inadequate, leaving out of consideration the service in the United States, in Porto Rico and for the time being in the island of Cuba.

"In the preparation of the present bill the minimum number of men is fixed for each organization with a proviso that the president may in his discretion increase the number of enlisted men in any troop, battery or company, provided that the total number of enlisted men authorized for the army by congress shall not at any time be exceeded. By the adoption of this plan the absolute fixed strength of the regular army can be shown at a glance, and any increase of number above the minimum will be limited by such authority as may be conveyed from time to time by the congress. The peace strength of each troop, battery and company is fixed in this bill as now authorized by existing law. The number of regiments has been increased by five of cavalry, five of infantry, numbers which would correspond to five regiments of artillery, and two battalions of engineers. As the increase in the artillery is intended for the seacoast defenses, the only increase of the regular army for field service will be ten additional regiments of cavalry and infantry and the two battalions of engineers. Authority is asked in this bill to raise a provisional force of natives in the island of Porto Rico and also in the Philippine Islands. The organization of the native troops in the Philippine Islands will, under the peculiar conditions existing there, be proceeded with slowly and with great care."

The bill contains provisions for a better distribution of chaplains, for authorizing veterans of the war with Spain to wear on occasions of ceremony their uniforms, similar to the authority given by congress to veterans of the civil war; authority for the retirement, with an increased grade, of veterans of the two wars, the civil war and the war with Spain; for the addition of a nurse corps, the necessity for which has been developed during the past two years; for preliminary surveys for the establishment of camps for the militia and regular army; authorizing the president to appoint chiefs to vacancies occurring in the staff corps and departments from the army at large, and the introduction of the detail system to several of the staff corps and departments.

To replace the volunteers and regulars who will be discharged prior to July 1 and give an army of sufficient size to meet the exigencies now confronting it, or such as may hereafter occur, provision has been made so that the president may increase the number of enlisted men without the creation of new organizations. The bill provides for a minimum and maximum organization, as follows:

"Fifteen regiments cavalry, 803 each, 12,045 minimum, 18,525 maximum; artillery corps, 30 field, 126 coast, 18,920 minimum, 18,920 maximum; 30 regiments infantry, 803 each, 24,480 minimum, 55,000 maximum; three battalions engineers and band, 1,234 minimum, 1,954 maximum; miscellaneous organizations, including guards for arsenals, West Point detachment, noncommissioned staff officers, etc., 2,245 minimum, 2,245 maximum; grand total, 53,924 minimum, 96,766 maximum.

"The Porto Rico regiment, when recruited to three battalions, will have a minimum strength of 816 and a maximum of 1,836 enlisted men."

Good Government League Quits.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 30.—Through the inappropriateness of the date and the failure of expected speakers to attend the fourth annual convention of the National Good Government league was brought to a close last night. Major George A. Hilton, president of the league, at the meeting last night announced that Thanksgiving was too much of a counter attraction, that the league had been disappointed in the attendance and in the responses of those men who had been invited to speak and that all scheduled meetings were therefore called off. Three sessions were held, but poorly attended.

A Bloody Labor Fight.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 30.—In a fight between striking electricians and their sympathizers on one hand and a batch of nonunion linemen under protection of a squad of police on the other Patrolman Lasey and O. D. Blanton, a striker, were killed; Martin Wright, president of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, was shot through the arm; Sandy Smith, a nonunion lineman, was beaten almost to death, and several others were more or less injured. Smith, the nonunion lineman, did the killing and wounding with his pistol.

Dick Not a Candidate.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 30.—It has been definitely settled that General Charles Dick, chairman of the Ohio Republican committee, will not be a candidate for election to the United States senate. In response to the recent indorsement of the American Loyal Republican league General Dick has written a letter to John Houska, president of the organization, in which the positive statement is made that he will not be a candidate for the senate.

Thanksgiving In Manila.

MANILA, Nov. 30.—Union Thanksgiving services were held here in the Filipino theater and in some of the Catholic churches.

DEWETSDORP TAKEN

Boers Capture British Garrison of Four Hundred.

RELIEF FORCE ARRIVED TOO LATE.

Knox Reported to Have Successfully Engaged Steyn and De Wet—Boer Forces Holding Strong Positions at Many Points.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Lord Roberts cables from Johannesburg, under date of Wednesday, Nov. 28:

"The Dewetsdorp garrison of two guns of the Sixty-eighth field battery, with detachments of the Gloucestershire regiment, the Highland Light infantry and Irish rifles, 400 in all, surrendered at 5:30 p. m. Nov. 23. Our losses were 15 men killed and 42 wounded, including Major H. J. Anson and Captain Digby. The enemy is said to be 2,500 strong. Fourteen hundred men were dispatched from Edenberg to relieve Dewetsdorp, but they did not succeed in reaching there in time. Knox joined this force and found Dewetsdorp evacuated. Seventy-five sick and wounded had been left there. Knox pursued and is reported to have successfully engaged Steyn and De Wet near Vaalbank Nov. 27. They retired west and southwest. Knox's messenger failed to get through, so I have no details."

Lord Roberts also reports that various columns found the Boers holding strong positions in the vicinity of Harrismith, Philippolis, both in the Orange River Colony, and other widely separated points. The fighting, however, was of little importance.

A detachment of 260 men belonging to the Royal Canadian regiment, Colonel Otter commanding, which has just reached England from South Africa by the Hawarden Castle, arrived in London and proceeded to Kensington barracks. Since their arrival at Southampton, where they were welcomed by Major General Robert Macgregor Stewart, the Canadians have everywhere been greeted with tumultuous applause.

The disaster at Dewetsdorp has sent a thrill of alarm through Great Britain. The censorship continues so strict that there is no hope of arriving at a clear conception of the actual position of affairs in South Africa.

No attempt is made to conceal the extra irritation felt at the adoption of a vote of sympathy with Mr. Kruger by the French chamber of deputies. The morning papers are unanimous in declaring that no intervention of any kind will be allowed to change the British policy.

Boers at the Orange River.

COLESBERG, Cape Colony, Nov. 30.—Boer raiders have reached the Orange river. They have fired into the British camp on the Cape Colony side at Sandrift, killing one man and wounding two men.

Boer Women and Children Deported.

STANDERTON, Transvaal Colony, Nov. 29.—Seventy Boer women and children whose husbands and fathers are still fighting have been deported to Pietermaritzburg, Natal.

To Build Three Big Smelters.

DENVER, Nov. 30.—The News says that the rival of the great American Smelter trust is in course of training for a gigantic campaign. The movement has been in progress quietly for several months, and it has now developed that plans are so far completed that locations for plants are being selected and the last touches are being given to one of the most daring projects of the decade. Three large plants are to be erected simultaneously. One is to be at Denver, a second in Salt Lake City, and a third will be built at a favorable point in Mexico yet to be named. Each of the plants is to have a capacity for handling automatically 1,000 tons of ore daily, and all are to be built upon practically the same plans.

Tuan's Force Strengthened.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 30.—A missionary in the province of Kan-su reports that 10,000 of the troops of General Tung Fu Hsiang entered that province and joined Prince Tuan's rebellion against the emperor. General Tung has been obtaining supplies from the viceroy of Sze-chuen. The governor of Shansi has wired a request to the Wu-chang viceroy to send him without delay eight quick firing guns, and the viceroy has ordered the guns to be sent. It is reported that Hsu Tung, guardian of the heir apparent, is still alive and in hiding near Peking. Vice Admiral Seymour's visit to the Yang-tse viceroys is said to have been in every way satisfactory.

The Czar Gaining.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The Daily News publishes the following dispatch from Yalta: "A bacterial examination showed that Emperor Nicholas was suffering from Crimean typhus. The crisis was reached Sunday. But throughout the day he never lost consciousness or became delirious. The empress herself has done all the nursing, declining the assistance of professional nurses. She has borne the strain well, although she is thinner from lack of sleep. The czar is now inclined to occupy himself again with business affairs. As soon as possible he will be moved to the Tsarskoe Selo in order to avoid the malarial season at Livadia."

Smallpox In New York City.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—A smallpox scare which first came to the public notice Wednesday, when two cases of that disease were reported at the West Sixty-eighth street police station by the board of health, has spread with alarming rapidity, until at a late hour last night there were 24 known cases. When the first two cases were discovered, Dr. Benedict and Dr. Somerset of the bureau of contagious diseases began a thorough investigation of the district in which the cases were found. The first two cases found were at 309 West Sixty-ninth street.

Deadly Typhoon in Cochin China.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 30.—The steamer Idzumi Maru, which has just arrived here, brought news from Hongkong of a destructive typhoon which visited Tourane in the early part of the month and lasted 48 hours. During that time several villages were destroyed and immense damage done to the ricefields. Shipping also suffered, the harbor, says the North China Daily News, being laid bare. The casualties are estimated at between 1,500 and 1,600, and the remainder of the population, numbering about 4,500, is without food.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL.

Columbia Defeats Carlisle Indians. Cornell Loses to Quakers.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The Columbia football team defeated the Carlisle Indians on Columbia field in this city by a score of 17 to 6. There were nearly 25,000 people watching the game, and they saw as clean and accurate an exhibition as has ever been put up on the grounds. Mean weather threatened from the beginning of the game. The sky was overcast, and the field was in miserable condition for good playing. It was so soft that large quantities of sawdust had to be sprinkled over the field in spots to insure a footing. About the middle of the second half a steady drizzle started in, making the ball heavy and slippery, the playing dead and putting a damper on the enthusiasm of the great crowds.

Two sensations marked the game, the first a sprint of 50 yards by Weeks for Columbia's first touchdown. His play was partly due to the splendid interference of Wright, who ran with Weeks all the way down the field and blocked off Carlisle's back man. The other feature was a fumble, made by Morley in a dangerous attempt at a fake kick when Carlisle was only seven yards from the Columbia goal. This sent the ball rolling toward Columbia's goal, and Bain shot through the line and fell on the ball just over the line and between the posts, scoring the touchdown for the Indians.

Pennsy Too Much For Cornell.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—Before what was probably the largest crowd that ever attended a Thanksgiving football game in this city the University of Pennsylvania team defeated the Cornell eleven by the one sided score of 27 to 0. Only once during the entire contest was the Quaker goal line in danger of being crossed by an Ithaca player, and during most of the time the ball was in Cornell's territory.

Lehigh Defeats Swarthmore.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Nov. 30.—Lehigh blocked Swarthmore's guardsback play with commendable ease and besides scored three touchdowns by straight football plays, winning handily by a score of 17 to 0. Battersby had a collar bone broken. The visitors never once threatened Lehigh's goal.

Chicago Wins From Michigan.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Chicago, 15; Michigan, 6. The University of Chicago eleven, defeated for five times in succession, wound up the football season of 1900 yesterday by scoring three touchdowns on Michigan and, with the exception of a few minutes in the first half, completely outplaying them.

Buffalo 10, Penn. State College 0.

BUFFALO, Nov. 30.—The University of Buffalo defeated the Pennsylvania State college by a score of 10 to 0 at the Buffalo Athletic field. The scoring was all done in the second half.

BELOW REQUIREMENTS.

Torpedo Boat Stockton's Test Unsatisfactory, but She May Be Accepted.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Commander Hemphill, head of the naval board which conducted the trial of the torpedo boat Stockton, has telegraphed the navy department from Annapolis the following report of the results of the trial:

"The Stockton made approximately 25¾ knots for two consecutive hours. Vessel's displacement at time of trial about 200 tons. Performance of machinery generally satisfactory. Starboard engine counters broke down 40 minutes after trial began. Speed was computed from the readings of the port counters as checked by the speed over the measured mile course. Stockton sailed for Richmond. Contractor reserves all rights pending conference with the department."

The Stockton, under the terms of the contract, was to show a minimum speed of 26 knots. In case of deficiency she may be rejected, or a deduction may be made by the government from the contract price. It is believed that the board will recommend that the navy department accept the boat on Wednesday's record, for it is improbable that the contractors will care to go to the expense of making another trial.

SAVED BY INDIANS.

Execution of Five Americans Prevented by Yaquis.

PHENIX, A. T., Nov. 30.—Advices from Tora, a small Mexican habitation on the Sinaloa canal, nearly 200 miles south of Guaymas, declare there was trouble recently between Mexicans and the Yaqui Indians at a small pueblo near that place. Five Americans escaped public execution only because the Yaquis went to their assistance.

The Americans were to be shot on the day following the death of one Ramon, who was killed by the falling of a derrick, Mexicans claiming that the Americans had premeditated his death. The Yaquis threatened bloodshed in case the Mexicans attempted to carry out their threat of shooting the Americans, and the Americans were released from prison.

The five men were formerly employed by the Sonora and Sinaloa Irrigation company, which started the construction of the canal. Wells, one of the Americans, escaped through a tunnel before his fellow prisoners were released.

Stage Rolls Down an Embankment.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—A stage loaded with women and driven by a man rolled down an embankment in West Paterson, N. J., yesterday afternoon. All the occupants were more or less hurt, one at least seriously. New street, where the accident occurred, runs alongside of a mountain and has a sharp descent. On one side is a rocky wall and on the other an almost sheer drop of ten feet. The road was blasted out of the side of the mountain. The women of the party are all members of the Daughters of Liberty. They went out to Little Falls to take part in a flag raising in that village. They had participated in the affair and started on the return journey.

A Georgia Shooting.

THE CENTURY'S LAST.

Thanksgiving Day Celebrated at Home and Abroad.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Thanksgiving day was celebrated in Greater New York and vicinity in the good, old fashioned style, though the day, as far as the weather was concerned, was by no means an ideal one. Heavy clouds and a raw, damp atmosphere prevailed, and in the afternoon a hard, driving rain came to annoy those people who from pleasure or necessity were out of doors.

As usual many people spent a portion of the day in the churches, and there was the usual complement of Thanksgiving sermons and fine music. All the charitable and penal institutions gave the inmates beautiful spreads, and the numerous missions throughout the great city fed the poor to the bursting point.

W. W. Astor provided a dinner for 1,000 newsboys in the Newsboys' lodging house on Duane street. Mrs. William E. Dodge furnished the dinner for the boys at the East Thirty-fourth street lodging house. The dinner at the West Side lodging house was the gift of Douglas Robinson. D. Willis James provided the banquet for the children at the Tompkins Square lodging house. W. Bayard Cutting gave the dinner to the girls in the Elizabeth home, and the boys at the Kensico Farm school at Kensico, N. Y., were given an old fashioned New England farm dinner, the gift of Mrs. White.

Helen Gould entertained the little cripples in her children's home, Woody Crest, and also presented every man in her employ on her estate with a turkey and cranberries.

Inmates of the state prison at Sing Sing were excused from work for the day and had an extra bill of fare at breakfast and dinner, turkey being served at the latter meal.

Following the usual religious services the sailors of the warships in the Brooklyn navy yard partook of turkey and plum duff. About 50 civilians had special invitations to help the tars dispose of the provender, and following the dinner there were athletic sports.

Thanksgiving In London.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—More than 400 Americans were present at the Hotel Cecil last evening at the Thanksgiving dinner given under the auspices of the American society in London. Mr. F. C. Van Duser, president of the society, was in the chair, and the guests included Baron Alverstone, lord chief justice of England; Mr. William Court Gully, speaker of the house of commons; Sir James Charles Mathew of the queen's bench division of the high court of justice, Mr. Frank Green, lord mayor of London; Captain Arthur Lee, Mr. Choate and the full staff of the United States embassy, Mr. William McKinley Osborne, United States consul general in London, and many other distinguished Americans and Englishmen. The speeches following the dinner teemed with international compliments, all the speakers dwelling upon the good relations existing between Great Britain and the United States and expressing the hope that these would continue.

Thanksgiving In Berlin.

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—Nearly 400 persons attended the Thanksgiving day banquet of the American colony in Berlin at the Kaiserhof last evening. The company included Professor Bisbee of Dartmouth college and Professor MacMillan of Princeton university and the following United States consuls: Mr. Charles Barnes, Cologne; Dr. H. Pitcairn, Hamburg; Mr. J. C. Monaghan, Chemnitz and Mr. Frank W. Mahin, Reichenberg, Austria. The hall was decorated with American and German flags. A cablegram was sent to President McKinley congratulating him upon the prosperity of the country during the last 12 months, and during the banquet patriotic songs were sung. United States Embassador White made the principal speech.

The President's Thanksgiving.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—All the executive departments were closed and deserted, except for a few officials who came to attend to the mail. Many government employees left the city to spend the day at their homes in other states. The municipal offices and most of the stores were closed. President McKinley spent a little time in the morning in his office, and at 11 o'clock attended services at the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal church. The day was spent quietly by the president's household in accordance with Mrs. McKinley's desire to observe it in as homelike a manner as possible. Mr. and Mrs. McKinley ate their Thanksgiving dinner at 7 o'clock, the usual hour.

Poor Children Fed.

SYRACUSE, Nov. 30.—A dinner given by a local dry goods firm to the poor children of the city was the feature of Thanksgiving here. About 1,500 tots were fed.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

John R. Wilkins of Chicago lost his life in saving a woman from a runaway team.

It was discovered that many counterfeit gold pieces are in circulation in Haiti.

The mayor of Omaha has ordered glove contests or prizefights to be stopped in that city.

The French chamber of deputies unanimously adopted a vote of sympathy with Mr. Kruger.

A large shipment of potatoes, first of the kind, will soon be made from Washington to China.

Moensted's oleomargarine factory at Aarhus, Denmark, was burned, with a loss of 1,000,000 kronen.

All the members of the president's cabinet except Attorney General Griggs have decided to remain in office after March 4.

Robert Winstet, assistant bookkeeper of the German National bank of Newport, Ky., was arrested for complicity with Frank Brown in wrecking the bank.

The Panama Railroad company has begun chartering steamships and seeking dock facilities at San Francisco in anticipation of war with the Pacific Mail Steamship company.

Dominica Is Quiet.

SANTO DOMINGO, Nov. 30.—Martial law has been suspended, the country is quiet and the estates will begin grinding Dec. 3. The ministers of war, finance and justice have resigned, and the supreme court has declared the bank to be bankrupt. The French [illegible] and Mass cruiser Cecilia is expected here.

Sam Small In Jail.

HAVANA, Nov. 30.—Sam Small, the evangelist, and Samuel Carr, the correspondent, who are charged with swindling, are now in jail here without much prospect of getting out unless Governor Wood issues a special pardon.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

Roof Crowded With Sightseers Collapses In San Francisco.

TWELVE PERSONS KILLED OUTRIGHT

Crowd Which Had Gathered on the Roof of a Glass Factory to Witness Football Game Fall on Furnaces Beneath.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—By the collapse of the roof of the San Francisco and Pacific Glass works at Fifteenth and Bryant streets about 50 people were more or less injured and twelve killed outright.

The victims were watching a football game between the Stanford and University of California teams when the roof beneath them gave way, precipitating them to the floor of the factory. Some of them fell upon the furnaces, and one man of unknown identity was burned almost to a crisp.

The crash of the falling roof was heard a great distance away, and thousands of people hurried to the scene. Messages were sent to the city receiving hospital and the morgue, and all the available ambulances were hurried to the spot.

The crowd was gathered upon the roof, a building directly over the furnace of the glass works. When the roof collapsed, the occupants were precipitated upon the heated top and rolled off.

Seven of the dead are boys ranging in age from 10 to 15 years. They were found lying in a row, and many of them were badly mangled.

There were more than 200 people on the roof when it collapsed, and of these at least 60 were thrown. Those fortunate enough to be on a side section of the building hurried down and helped remove the injured. The heat around the furnaces was so great, however, that to many no assistance could be rendered, and they slowly roasted to death. Not 200 yards away were 20,000 people watching the football game, and when the news became known there was intense excitement among them. The ushers went through the crowd calling for doctors, and many surgeons hurriedly left the game.

Pennsylvania Factories.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 30.—Factory Inspector Campbell has submitted to Governor Stone his report for the year ended Oct. 31 last. He says this has been the most prosperous year in the history of the department owing to the enlargement of plants and the starting of new enterprises in almost every section of the state. There are 773,443 persons employed in the industrial establishments of the state, of whom 85,440 are between 13 and 16 years of age. There were 2,557 accidents, mostly due to carelessness, of which 113 were fatal. The new bakeshop law has resulted in improved sanitary conditions. The law regulating the manufacture of clothing has resulted in sanitary improvements and better regulations, and in Pittsburg and Philadelphia large amounts of clothing found in houses where contagious diseases existed were destroyed.

Troops May Be Called to Tampa.

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 30.—A communication has been handed the sheriff, signed by the leading manufacturers of the city, saying they had good cause to anticipate an attempt to interfere with their business. They said that the city was unable to afford them protection and demanded protection from the state authorities for their property and the right to continue their business without molestation. The sheriff replied that five companies of state militia are now ready to move here on a moment's notice and that he will preserve peace if it takes every soldier in the state to do it.

Bandmaster Baldwin Dead.

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—J. Thomas Baldwin, the well known bandmaster, died suddenly at his home, 500 Columbus avenue. Death was due to blood poisoning. On Saturday Mr. Baldwin pricked a small pimple on his finger with a penknife, and on Sunday blood poisoning set in, finally resulting in his death. Mr. Baldwin for many years was the leader of Baldwin's Cadet band. He retired a few months ago.

A Maine Postmaster Missing.

LUBEC, Me., Nov. 30.—The postmaster at North Lubec, H. W. Reynolds, is missing, and an investigation of his accounts by Postoffice Inspector Enteman shows an alleged shortage of $850. According to a statement made by the inspector, the alleged peculations of the postmaster have extended over five months, the money order department being a loser to the amount of $820 of the total $850.

Innocents' Clubmen Sentenced.

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—The promoters of the Innocents' club, whose fleecings of members of the aristocracy have been a year long scandal, were sentenced—Von Kaysor to three months, Von Schachtmeyer to 12 months and Wolff to four months' imprisonment and 3,000 marks' fine. Von Kroecher has left the country.

Samford Sworn In as Governor.

OPELIKA, Ala., Nov. 30.—The oath of office as governor of Alabama was administered to Colonel W. J. Samford in his sickroom yesterday by his son, who is a notary public. Colonel Samford was able to sit up yesterday morning, and surrounded only by the members of his family and physicians he took the oath.

Died of Lockjaw.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—John P. Ames, a retired sea captain residing in South Brooklyn, is dead of lockjaw. He was 77 years of age. A few days prior to his death he cut his right hand between the thumb and forefinger while whittling on an ornament he was to present to a friend for Thanksgiving.

Bessarabia Asks Famine Relief.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 30.—The Bessarabian zemstvo, or provincial council, has petitioned the government for a grant of 500,000 rubles to be devoted to the use of the famine sufferers. This indicates that the provincial funds are becoming exhausted.

Governor Roosevelt at Home.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Governor Roosevelt ate his Thanksgiving turkey with his family and a few family friends at his Oyster Bay home. He will return to Albany on Monday.

How The Sun Sums It Up.

Today's New York Sun contains a half-column story about the campaign leading up to the city election in Plainfield. The article is writen in characteristic Sun style—plenty of humor and sarcasm—but in several instances it belies the saying that "if you see it in The Sun it's so." In this instance a good deal of it isn't so. The article really serves as a shield for some clever writer to have a little fun with Former Councilman Barrows, the Third warder coming in for this attention:

"One of the men that scurried around with Tyler petitions in his pockets was Elliott T. Barrows, one of the best-known commuters in Plainfield. Mr. Barrows is a lifelong Republican. He is the president of the Produce Exchange and a member of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Barrows was also identified with the sound money fight in New York during the recent campaign. He is announced to preside at the sound money dinner tomorrow night at the Hotel Manhattan, and the Republicans of Plainfield are greatly annoyed at the thought of Mr. Barrows shouting for the Republican ticket in New York and helping the Democratic politicians in Plainfield. For Barrows has offered his services to Atterbury as chief assistant rejuvenator, and they have been accepted by the Democracy. Barrows has said that he wants to see Col. Tyler elected in order to smash the machine he asserts the Republican roosters of Plainfield have built about the city government."

The Trenton State Gazette says that things are rapidly coming the farmers' way, which it sums up in this way: "With electric cars running past his door at brief intervals, his mail is dropped at his gate once or twice a day, new potatoes on his table in May, pork of his own feeding in his cellar, flour of his own making in the pantry, real cream for his coffee and true butter for his bread, sweet corn fresh from the stalk on his plate, and cucumbers served him with the dew on them, the mortgage on his land wiped out, the farmer is in a position to snicker at the world and to pity the city grub who has to do things that he doesn't want to, and eat things that the market man tells him he must.

The only large expenditure contemplated by the Legislature is for the building of a new wing to the State capitol to provide a senate chamber, with adequate committee rooms. The higher branch of the legislature is now housed in small and dingy quarters.

There will be a flood of labor bills in the Legislature this winter, chief among which will be one requiring that railroads have a second man in the engineer's cab on "camel-back" locomotives.

Senator Hanna says positively he will never again be a candidate for a public office.

Mrs. Lorenzo Townley, of Somerset street, is detained at home by illness.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exacty News but Just as Interesting.

Thanksgiving time is the first holiday season which follows the opening of the schools and colleges in the fall and Plainfield has, in consequence, welcomed home a host of young people who are now students in the higher educational institutions of the land. Some came home Wednesday, others did not reach their homes until yesterday but most of them will wait here until Sunday or Monday before returning to their various college homes. For a city of its size, Plainfield has an unusually large number of sons and daughters in the colleges and universities of the land. During the last few years, the number of young women who enter upon a higher educational course has greatly increased. There was a time when the young women who went to college was looked at with amazement. Now the high schools of city and borough yearly send a number to the best women's colleges of the country. Many of them are home now and the Thanksgiving time is used by many for numerous little gathering of old friends. Today and tomorrow will consequently be unusually lively for Plainfield.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness

George Clarke, supported by a strong company will be seen at his best tomorrow night at Music Hall, in the beautiful comedy called "When We Were Twenty-one." The author (H. V. Esmond), has given us four acts of the most natural situations we have ever seen on the stage. The scene is laid in London. The incidents of three acts takes place in the home of Richard Carewe, a successful barrister and those of the other in a famous London Supper Club at midnight. Dick Carewe and three comrades, the doctor, the soldier man and waddles are bound together by friendship ties of a life time and their whole purpose is loyalty to each other and to see to the welfare of the "imp" a harumscarum youth, the son of one of their comrades, long since dead. Dick and his chums learn of a serious plight into which the Imp and has gottn himself through a secret marriage to an adventuress, and devote their efforts to saving the youngster from the results of his folly.

"Lost in Egypt," a very pleasing play will be seen on Tuesday evening next at Music Hall with a strong company of well selected artists with all special scenery. The plot is deep and it affords excellent chances for the many specialties which are well mingled in with a carefully selected company of recognized merit.

Another D'Artagnan in the field. Harry Glazier, a young romantic actor who has won his spurs in the ranks under the command of Lawrence Barrett, Thomas W. Keene and Katherine Kidder will be seen at Music Hall on Thursday night of next week as the hot blooded Gascon hero of Dumas' famous story, "The Three Musketeers." Mr. Glazier is under the management of E. D. Stair and George H. Nicolai and the production is claimed to equal those of Sothern and O Neill in the magnificence and completeness of its scenic investiture and the correctness of its costuming.

THEY SAY.

The Merchant Says:

Telephone service is a great promoter of business. It not only is an open door for new business, but increases the facility with which any business may be transacted.

The Railroad Man Says:

It keeps our many departments running in continuous harmony. It increases both our passenger and our freight service, and is a great convenience to our patrons.

The Broker Says:

It keeps me in touch with the market wherever I am; I buy and sell by wire, and by taking telephonic advantage of a turn in the market I have made thousands of dollars.

The Doctor Says:

Telephone service has increased my income to nearly double. Many persons will seek advice by telephone who would hesitate to ask a physician to make a call.

The Caterer Says:

Telephone service enables me to serve my patrons more speedily and with less effort. It minimizes possibility of loss from overstocking.

The Housekeeper Says:

Life without telephone service would be unbearable. It smooths all the rough places. How we ever got along without it, I do not know.

The Suburban Resident Says:

The knowledge that I can call up my house out of town from my office in the city, is a great comfort.

The College Man Says:

"I say, old chap, it's great. You can call up and get the latest news from the football game or the boat race, and every other old thing a fellow wants to know."

Everybody Says:

It is the greatest thing in the world—the greatest convenience of this or any other time. The greatest factor in business, social or domestic life; a service no one can afford to be without.

The Telephone Company Says:

We want your patronage on the basis of LOW RATES, PERFECT SERVICE.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Nov. 30—I. J. Stites, W. J. Hamilton and F. T. Dickerson, of the Board of Education, attended the meeting of the County Board of Education, held at New Brunswick, Wednesday. At the conclusion of the meeting those in attendance adjourned to the Mansion House, where supper was served. A social time followed.

A family reunion took place at the home of Mayor and Mrs. R. J. Swackhamer yesterday, at which nearly twenty children and grandchildren were in attendance. Among those present were: John Swackhamer and family, of Phillipsburg; John Wherly and family, of Somerville; Harry Swackhamer and family, of the borough; Dewitt Smith and family, of Somerville, and Charles H. Bugg, of Plainfield. Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Sproull were also present.

William Giles, who has been clerking for Dr. Brakeley for some time past, has taken a position with the Central at their New York office and began work Wednesday.

Miss Eva Bodine, of Bayonne, and Miss Bethina Bodine, of Atlantic Highlands, are spending several days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Bodine.

Special Thanksgiving services were held in the Presbyterian church yesterday and were largely attended. Rev. S. K. Doolittle delivered the sermon.

The contract case of Howell against Kellogg, in Justice Warden's court, has been adjourned until December 4.

Miss May Apgar and Albert Apgar were entertained yesterday by their sister, Mrs. H. L. Terry, of Westfield.

Mrs. Emily Apgar is spending several days with her daughter, Mrs. Sherman Cooley, of Flemington.

Francis Grinder returned home Wednesday after a several days visit with relatives at Lehighton, Pa.

Mrs. Catherine Maier has gone to Reaville for a few days stay with her daughter, Mrs. William Conly.

George Schenck has taken up his residence in the Adams' house on Front street.

Mrs. William Winges is slowly recovering from her recent severe illness.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cruser were the guests of Neshanic relatives yesterday.

F. C. Williams, of North Branch, called on borough friends Wednesday.

A. A. Lake and family passed yesterday with Brooklyn relatives.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, November 30.—Someone evidently in search of a Thanksgiving dinner visited the barnyard of Peter Benward early Wednesday morning and departed with seven of his choice turkeys. The thieves also invaded the yards of Abram Gulick and J. Trusty Holden, but were frightened off by the dogs before securing anything.

Miller John Otto is very busy at the present time and to keep up with the orders kept the mill running all Tuesday night. This is the first time he has done so in several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Harris and family attended the eighteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Giles, at Port Richmond, S. I., yesterday.

Miss Frances Davis, who is attending the Trenton Normal School, is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rogers were the guests of the latter's parents at Warrenville yesterday.

M. W. Casterline entertained a number of relatives from various places at dinner yesterday.

Miss Mavis Smalley, of Brooklyn, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Philip Jenner.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Smith passed yesterday with New York relatives.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Nov. 30.—James B. Guttridge, of Netherwood, left his horse standing on Park avenue on Wednesday afternoon while he was attending to a customer for a few minutes. The animal became frightened at something and started to run away. Fortunately there was little driving on Park avenue at the time so the animal had a clear road. While going over the hill near Fanwood a passerby ran out and brought the steed to a halt and returned him to his owner. No damage was done to either horse or wagon.

The Commissioners of Appeals met in the town rooms on Tuesday for the purpose of hearing anyone who thought their taxes were excessive. But few complaints were received by the board.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Putnam and children, of Plainfield, were the guests yesterday of Mrs. Putnam's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Frentz, of Westfield avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grant, of Plainfield, have been spending a pleasant visit with Mrs. Grant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. M. Paff, Sr

Quite a number from town attended the matinee and evening performance of Uncle Josh Spruceby at Music Hall, yesterday.

No meeting of Goodwill Lodge, K of P., was held last night owing to their not being a quorum present.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Gere and child are spending a few days with relatives in Brooklyn.

Mrs. Wm. S. Terry, of Plainfield, spent Thanksgiving with her mother, Mrs. James Buckley.

A regular meeting of the Township Committee will be hold in the town rooms this evening.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Nov. 30.—A large hole near Albert Manning's place which has long been a menance to the public safety is being filled up with dirt. Morris Higgins is doing the work.

Among those who spent Thanksgiving out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Laing, Daniel Laing, Jessie Dayton, Jr., Lewis Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. William Smith and William Hamilton.

Adam Deiter, the Lehigh Valley stage driver, has the offer of his old position in Perth Amboy but says that he will retain his present one.

Mr. Winnens has secured a lease of the Haven's place which extends over a period of several years.

This vicinity was flooded yesterday by parties hunting duck, rabbit and squirrel.

Miss Marjorie Voorhees, of Metuchen, is visiting at Miss Laura Manning's.

The Foresters will hold a ball this evening in Washington Hall.

David Blackford will leave for South America next week.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

ASTONISHMENT OVER WILL.

Residue of Mrs. E. H. Townley Left to E. P. Williams, Who Again Married When Her Daughter Died.

By the will of Mrs. Ellia H. Townley, just probated, the home for aged women in Elizabeth has been enriched by $5,000. Mrs. Townley, who recently died, also left $1,000 to the Elizabeth Orphan Asylum, $400 to her coachman, and $300 to each of her house servants.

Much astonishment has been caused by a clause in the will leaving the residue of her large estate to Edward P. Williams, of New York, who married Mrs. Townley's daughter, and has taken another wife since she died nearly three years ago.

Need a Piano.

The efficient trained nurses that occupy the Nurses' Home at the hospital are all musically inclined, yet there is not a piano with which to while away some of their spare moments. If anyone should feel inclined to place such an instrument in the Home it would be greatly appreciated. It is about the only thing left to complete this pretty Home.

In Dr. Schenck's Pulpit.

Rev. W. T. Griffen, of LaGrande avenue, will occupy the pulpit in Trinity Reformed church Sunday evening, and the pastor, Dr. Schenck, will address the congregation of Marconnier chapel.

Nasal CATARRH

In all its stages there should be cleanliness.

Ely's Cream Balm cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It cures catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly.

Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents by mail.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Luxemburg.

Luxemburg. Der Großherzog und der Erbgroßherzog von Luxemburg mit Gefolge nahmen einen längeren Aufenthalt auf dem Jagdschloß Vereinsalpe in Bayern. Die Herren waren von großem Jagdglück begünstigt; so schoß der 83jährige Großherzog 18 Stück der jagdbarsten Gemsen und Hirsche.

Oesterreich.

Wien. Das Schwurgericht verurtheilte den Todtengräbergehilfen Kakuschka, welcher den Landtagsabgeordneten Baumann verletzt hatte, und dessen Begleiter Ingenieur Nowak erschoß, zum Tode durch den Strang.—Beim Thore des Redemptoristen-Klosters drängte sich während der Suppen- und Theevertheilung an Arme ein Bursche an den Frater Hermann, welcher die Vertheilung vornahm, heran und stahl ihm die Taschenuhr.—In einem Hotel erschoß sich der 31jährige Baron Josef Brunicki, als er auf die Anzeige seines Bruders hin, den er wegen Entziehung der bisher gewährten Unterstützungen mit dem Revolver bedroht hatte, verhaftet werden sollte.

Baden. Anhier starb der einst sehr bekannte Hofoperntenorist Heinrich Kreuzer im Alter von 82 Jahren; er war in den 60er Jahren Theaterdirektor in Koblenz und zog sich nach Baden zurück, als seine Tochter den Prinzen Paul zu Thurn und Taxis in München heirathete.

Budapest. Im Kohlenbergwerk „Ferdinand" kam es zu einem blutigen Zusammenstoß zwischen kroatischen und tschechischen Arbeitern. Die Kroaten verletzten den Ingenieur Havlicsek, worauf sie sich gegen die einschreitenden Gendarmen kehrten. Letztere gaben mehrere Salven ab. Acht Arbeiter wurden getödtet, 22 schwer verletzt. Die Veranlassung zur Revolte bildeten Lohndifferenzen.

Krakau. Joseph Willner, der angeklagt war, zahlreiche Persönlichkeiten bewuchert und Wechsel gefälscht zu haben, wurde zu fünf Jahren Kerker verurtheilt.

Linz. Das unfern von Linz gelegene Kronzuckerwerk ist durch Kauf in den Besitz der „Gesellschaft des Göttlichen Heilandes" (Salvatorianer) übergegangen und zu einer Niederlassung dieser Genossenschaft eingerichtet worden. Vorläufig befinden sich in der neuen Niederlassung zwei Patres und ein Laienbruder. Der Männerorden der Salvatorianer besitzt bereits 27 Niederlassungen, 13 in Europa und je sieben in Asien und Amerika. Die Mitglieder arbeiten in 13 Sprachen.

Mautern. In die Landesfiechenanstalt zu Ehrnau wurde kürzlich die Einlegerin Maria Mießl aufgenommen, die am 19. August 1787 in Purschlag bei Bruck geboren wurde.

Salzburg. Dahier wurde die neue, von der Stadtgemeinde Salzburg erbaute Staatsgewerbeschule an den Landespräsidenten übergeben.

Schwaz. Durch tiroler Blätter ging kürzlich die Nachricht von dem Beginne der bergmännischen Gewinnung bituminösen Schiefers im Wengenthal bei Scharnitz durch die Herren Gustav, Adolf, Heinrich und Wilhelm Hermani in Hamburg. Nunmehr hat auch die Firma Hell u. Co. in Troppau in der dortigen Gegend mehrere Freischürfe zur bergmännischen Gewinnung von Steinöl liefernden Mineralien (Erdpech) erworben. Diese Mineralien sind dort in einer Mächtigkeit bis zu 50 Centimeter und darüber oft fast rein in Kalkschiefer eingeschichtet und treten häufig in den natürlichen Erosionsrinnen der betreffenden Oertlichkeit zu Tage.

Zwittau. Zur immerwährenden Sicherung der von ihm in seiner Vaterstadt Zwittau geschaffenen Volksbibliothek spendete Oswald Ottendorfer, der Herausgeber der „New Yorker Staatszeitung" in New York, neuerdings 300,000 Kronen.

Schweiz.

Bern. Der Bundesrath hat die im Jahre 1889 auf Verlangen Deutschlands verfügte Ausweisung der deutschen Sozialisten Bernstein, Motteler, Schlüter und Lauscher aufgehoben.—Auf der Sägemühle zu Erlenbach verunglückte der 19jährige Adolf Zehr, indem er beim Einschalten eines Transmissionsriemens von demselben erfaßt, ringsum geschleudert wurde und einen Schädelbruch erlitt, an dem er bald darauf starb.

Zürich. Der Kunstmaler Hans Böcklin in Zürich, ein Sohn des berühmten Künstlers, der aus Eifersucht seine Geliebte ermorden wollte, wurde für irrsinnig erklärt. Die Strafverfolgung wurde eingestellt.

Uri. Beim Abbruch eines der ältesten Häuser in Flüelen kamen alte Malereien auf Blockwänden aus dem 14. Jahrhundert zum Vorschein. Sie stellten Wappen und die Bilder des heiligen Sebastian und Christophorus, sowie ein römisches Zimmer, mit Arabesken umgeben, dar. Sämmtliche Blöcke wurden vom Schweizer Landesmuseum in Zürich aufgekauft.

Zug. Ein Bündel kräftiger, süßer Kirschen, zweite diesjährige Frucht, wurde neulich von einem Baume in Menzingen gepflückt.

A LOAD OF DEMONS.
The miseries of dyspepsia and biliousness are like a load of demons. Each misery has a different name, but they all belong to one hendish family. And they all travel together. No use trying to get rid of any one of them by itself; you can't shake off a single passenger. The only way is to cut the traces and quit the whole load at once. Headache, nervousness, constipation, mental depression, dizziness, dullness, lassitude, catarrh, skin eruptions, liver complaint and a hundred other complaints are all caused either by a disordered stomach or sluggish liver or bowels. Put these three great life supporting functions in regular condition and all the horrible symptoms will disappear together. That is what Ripans Tabules do. That is why they completely cure every form and symptom of biliousness and indigestion.
They cure the severest long-standing cases which have been pronounced "incurable." They cure after everything else has failed. They cure so that you stay cured. The most skeptical people, whose sufferings had caused them to lose all faith in medicine, have been cured and convinced by
RIPANS TABULES.
There is no other remedy for dyspepsia and constipation so absolutely perfect and certain in its action.
They are more than a mere relief. They impart new organic strength and tone to the stomach and the entire digestive tract so that digestion becomes a natural and easy process. They are the prescription of a regular physician; and are recommended by the most skillful doctors in the world as perfectly mild and harmless, yet absolutely certain in their effect. They are specially valuable as a regulator and preventive for people of sedentary occupations, particularly women.
The great danger of dyspepsia and constipation is that they so weaken and poison the entire system that it is laid open to serious, often fatal, diseases. Ripans Tabules insure a constant supply of pure blood and a vigorous constitution to resist dangerous illness. If you are dragging a load of digestive troubles, RIPANS TABULES WILL CUT THE TRACES.

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

NECKWEAR.

Large Collars and Fluffy Boas Still In the Ascendant.

Big, flaring, high collars retain their prestige, and as they give a distinguished air to even a simple garment that is not surprising. Moreover, this is the time of year when they are of practical value, and for mantles especially they are immense, coming well up at the back of the head and protecting the ears.

Large ruches and boas are equally in favor, but are less generally becoming, suiting only slender, long necked women. A new sort is made of wide, shaded velvet ribbon, lined with satin, arranged so as to form a very full ruche. At each side in front are a chou and two long ends.

LONG CLOAK.

These ends are gathered slightly down the middle, and the two satin sides are tacked together. Each stole end thus formed terminates in a chou.

Evening collarettes are made of black lace, with a sort of capuchon over the shoulders. The lace is over black or colored taffeta, and each ruffle of lace is edged with iridescent spangles.

Today's illustration shows a long cloak of velvet or cloth. It is loose, slightly curved under the arms and with a watteau plait at the back. It closes at the left side of the front and is crossed by three large brandebourgs of passementerie. There are a tall, flaring collar and double pelerine, also fastened by a brandebourg. The sleeves are tight from shoulder to elbow and slightly flaring below. The wrap is lined with light broche silk, and the decoration consists of tiny folds of satin. JUDIC CHOLLET.

BODICES.

Corsages Differing From the Skirt Still Hold Their Own.

There are so many different kinds of blouses and separate bodices that it is impossible to mention them all. Many of velveteen are preferred for winter and are made with stitched plaits, odd as that may seem, considering the material. The quality is thin and fine, however, and both light and dark shades are worn.

Far more elaborate are the bodices of silky panne. These are adorned not with plaits, but with superb lace, and are worn at luncheons, afternoon receptions and similar functions.

Many incrustations of lace are seen, especially for the fronts of bodices to be worn under boleros. The lace often forms a yoke, at the lower edge of which the design is continued in long points or garlands, which are incrusted in the surah or mousseline de soie which forms the lower part of the bodice.

The costume illustrated has a skirt of two toned blue broche silk, with clusters of plaits at each side. The redingote is of plain blue grosgrain and covers the back of the skirt, forming a slight train. The bodice is embroidered with black and has a full guimpe and front of black lace, covered by black velvet bands. The belt and the cuffs of the tight sleeves are of black velvet. The full lower sleeves of black lace terminate in a frill. The hat of black velvet is trimmed with black ostrich plumes and a bow of black satin. JUDIC CHOLLET.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning Dec. 2, "Spending Time and Taking Pains For Christ"—Text Math. xxv, 1-13.

"They that were ready went in with him to the marriage, and the door was shut."

Painstaking and caution are as necessary in Christian service as in any other matter of life. Because the work is God's and He promises supernatural help it by no means follows that the ordinary rules of prudence and diligence can be relaxed. Supernatural help does not mean magic or results reached without the use of means. It signifies only spiritual instead of material powers of heart and soul rather than those of body and mind merely. If you are watching for the bridegroom, you will need to take oil enough to last through the long night watching. One of the cautions Jesus repeats again and again is: "Watch! Watch, because ye know not the hour wherein the Son of Man cometh."

It takes time and effort to be a follower of Jesus. No one can become a Christian just by saying "I will be for Christ." There is more in it than just wishing to be good. Some have attempted to make the way of salvation so easy that every one shall go in through the gates of pearl. The Master never did this. He everywhere and always insisted that the service of God required all the time, strength and entire devotion of the person. There is no room for anything else.

It is better not to be self deceived about this matter. You may be very nice and cultured, with refined tastes and quite correct habits, nothing low, vulgar or common. What of it? Have you ever had any real care for Jesus and His service? Will you obey His orders? Do you love Him supremely, can you endure the long hours of self denial, watching with others, sacrifice of pleasures and comforts for the sake of relieving the distress of His suffering ones? If so, have patience. Wait and you shall sometimes hear the glad cry, "Behold, He cometh." To go with Him into the marriage will be full compensation for all trials and privations endured in waiting and watching.

Our Italian Leader.

Dr. William Burt was in 1886 transferred from the New York east conference to the Italy conference and has since that time been tireless in his planning and building on all lines of work in that land. Our great building in Rome is the result of his faith and perseverance. He has proved to be the providential man for the place. The whole church has confidence in him because he has shown wisdom and tact and patience in one of the most difficult mission fields in the world. Our real beginning here was in 1872, when Dr. L. M. Vernon made headquarters at Bologna. Methodist services were begun July 22, 1873. We now have 31 churches and 10 other preaching places with 23 preachers and 8 preachers on trial. We have 2,826 members and probationers. The work is firmly rooted and is growing with healthful rapidity. Our schools are doing excellent work and are hindered only by lack of funds from reaching much larger numbers. Methodism has the opening which promises much of helpfulness in the redemption of Italy.

WILLIAM BURT, D. D.

How to Speak.

It is not an easy thing for most people to speak in meetings for religious purposes. Yet this is one of the most helpful means of grace. There are many causes which hinder the average Christian talking in the prayer service of the church. How to overcome the natural timidity and secure confidence is a question not easily answered. Some repeat a verse of Scripture or a stanza of a familiar hymn. This is good, but liable to become monotonous if never varied and does not develop much strength for other service.

An excellent plan would be to carefully read the volume just mentioned. Take the paragraph you read in the morning in your prayer closet and which you have thought about so many times in the day. Repeat it or read it. Even this will do good and be refreshing. Gradually the wish to say something about it or ask some question, express some opinion, make some application or relate an incident suggested by it will prompt you to speak, and you will be surprised at the ease with which you can express your ideas when the desire to say something arises in place of the mere obligation to fill up the time.

I'll praise my Maker while I've breath,
And when my voice is lost in death
Praise shall employ my nobler powers.
My days of praise shall ne'er be past
While life and thought and being last
Or immortality endures.

—Isaac Watts.

HOUSEHOLD ACCIDENTS.

How to Treat Slight Cuts and Scratches and Reduce Pain Resulting from Burns.

There are some accidents which are almost unavoidable in the hurry necessary in housework. Burns and cuts which are trivial in themselves, but if unattended to may lead to serious results, are a familiar occurrence in the kitchen. Slight cuts may be serious if they are not purified by dipping in some antiseptic preparation. The best and safest to use in the house is a two per cent. solution of carbolic acid. It is not in the least dangerous, as it is diluted, but it should be kept with the other medicines in a cabinet or a high shelf of a closet. All that is necessary is to pour a little of the solution over the wound or dip it in and then wrap it up with clean cloths. The wound will heal much more rapidly than if it were exposed to air and the danger of disease germs. A scratch from a cat or some other trivial wound, which a child or grown person may receive, should be cauterized mildly by winding a cloth dipped in ammonia around it, or by the use of the carbolic solution.

The best remedy for a burn is sweet oil and lime water, but if this is not at hand use a paste of baking soda and water or of flour and water, which may be applied more quickly. —N. Y. Tribune.

NOTICE TO PARTIES IN INTEREST TO REDEEM UNDER MARTIN ACT.

TO MONTRANA OR MONTANNA ALLEN.

You are hereby notified, That at public sale made by the Collector of the City of Plainfield, on the thirtieth day of March, Nineteen Hundred, the Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield purchased for the sum of twenty-one dollars and one cent, all the land and real estate situate in the City of Plainfield, in the County of Union and State of New Jersey, which is laid down and designated as lots Nos. 305-307 Watson avenue, in Block No. 139, in the First ward of said City, upon the assessment maps annexed to the report made by the Commissioners of Adjustment heretofore appointed in and for said city by the Circuit Court of the county of Union, a certified copy of which report and maps was filed in the office of the City Collector of said City of Plainfield on the 19th day of April, A. D. 1899, said report and maps and said sale being made pursuant to the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of New Jersey, passed March 30th 1886, entitled "An Act concerning the settlement and collection of arrearages of unpaid taxes, assessments and water rates or water rents in the cities of this State, and imposing and levying a tax, assessment and lien in lieu and instead of such arrearages, and to enforce the payment thereof, and to provide for the sale of lands subjected to future taxation and assessment," and the several supplements and amendments thereto. And the certificate of such sale was afterwards assigned to me.

And you are further notified, That you appear or claim to have an estate or interest in said land and real estate, and unless the said land and real estate shall be redeemed, as provided in said act before the expiration of six months from and after the service hereof, a deed for the same will be given, conveying to said Elston M. French the fee simple of said land and real estate according to the provisions of said act.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Dec. 2—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Spending time and taking pains for Christ's sake.—Math. xxv, 1-13.

THE PARABLE.

The topical reference is the beautiful and pathetic parable of the ten virgins. In the preceding chapter Christ has been speaking of His second coming and the destruction of the world. This parable teaches the importance of watching at all times for His coming and being prepared for it at all times and illustrates the sad consequences, if not watching and if not being prepared, in the doom of the five foolish virgins. In the parable ten virgins go to meet the bridegroom, a custom in connection with oriental marriages. Five took oil for their lamps and five did not, and when the bridegroom came the foolish virgins were unable, because unprepared, to go into the marriage feast. They had neglected to prepare themselves with oil, which they could have done. They tried to correct their neglect, but it was too late. The door was shut, and to their appeals the bridegroom said "I never knew you."

THE INTERPRETATION.

The bridegroom is the Lord Jesus Christ. The coming of the bridegroom symbolizes the second coming of Christ. The wise virgins represent those who are watching and waiting in readiness for Christ at His second coming. The foolish virgins represent those who have failed to keep themselves in readiness for their lord's coming. The oil represents saving faith in Christ and all its necessary accompaniments, which makes a soul prepared to meet Christ at His coming whenever He may come. The parable teaches one great lesson—the necessity and importance of being prepared for Christ's coming at all times, lest He may come unexpectedly and find us unprepared. It is absolutely necessary to be prepared at all times because we know neither the day nor the hour when the Son of Man cometh. "Watch, therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of Man cometh."

THE APPLICATION.

This parable with pathetic force illustrates the importance of "spending time and taking pains for Christ's sake." The wise virgins did this. They spent their time and labor in preparing for their lord's coming, and when he came they were watching and ready and went into the feast. The foolish virgins failed to properly use their time and energies and opportunities properly, and they were excluded. In this parable we have an encouragement and a warning—an encouragement to follow the example of the wise virgins, a warning against the example and fate of the foolish virgins. How are we spending our time—for self, for the world or for Jesus only? Let us spend all for Jesus, that when He comes for us, whether at morn or at midnight, we shall be ready and shall enter into eternal joys with Him, instead of having it said unto us, "Too late, too late; ye cannot enter now."

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Have the parable explained, and follow this with a voluntary discussion on the topic.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ps. xc, 12; Eccl. iii, 1-8; viii, 6; ix, 10; Math. x, 42; xxv, 31-46; John ix, 4; Acts xv, 25, 26; Eph. v, 15-21; Col. iv, 5, 6.

Escaping the Scars.

If a temptation can be honorably avoided, it is far better than to meet it in a face to face fight and less likely to result in lifetime scars. There were two ways in which the ancients kept from yielding to the music and ultimate destruction of the sirens. One was that of Ulysses, who fortified himself with bonds that held him fast to the mast while his boat carried him listening by the tempting strains. The other was that of the Argonauts, who carried Orpheus with them in their boat and who were so engrossed in listening to his music that they never heard the sounds from the fatal shore. They bore through life no memory of the tempters' allurements, as Ulysses did. The man who can keep his mind and body so occupied with the better things that he has no time for unnecessary conflict with the devil is going to be the greatest power for good in the Lord's service. But if the fight must be fought, then let him throw himself against the foe with all the strength that legions of angels can give.—Lutheran.

Salaried Sunday School Teachers.

Should Sunday school teachers be paid for their services? A New York clergyman says they should. Not until the churches are much richer than they are today, however, is it likely that Sunday school teaching will be made attractive in this way. It is about all the majority of churches can do to pay the pastor and the sexton. Occasionally they are able to have a paid choir. The Sunday school teachers are undoubtedly worthy of earthly rewards, but if the attempt were made to put them on the pay roll church fairs and sociables would become so numerous that religious life would indeed be a struggle.—Utica Press.

Mistakes.

His own timidity is the last thing a timid man ever fears. And yet timidity has lost many a cause which could have been won without rashness or even boldness. The man who is afraid to invest his money loses an income, just as truly as the man who has no money to invest. A policy that continually straddles and hedges in order to avoid the possibility of error is itself an error. No great scholar, statesman or reformer is noncommittal. It has been well said that he who never makes a mistake never makes anything.—Sunday School Times.

RICH BURGLAR STOLE FOR FUN

Paris Millionaire for Eleven Years Robbed Simply as an Amusement.

Chicago detectives may as well begin to study the face and deeds of August Fevrot, Paris man of fashion and expert burglar, who has declared his intention of coming to America to do a little professional work.

The police of Paris claim that this same Mr. Fevrot is the prize catch of years and they are correspondingly happy. Whatever his claim of medals and other indications of excellence in his chosen line, the French prisoner certainly is one of the most remarkable criminals in the annals of lawbreakers. The hypothetical case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde is not so strange as this case of M. Fevrot, says the Chicago Tribune.

Fevrot, who was arrested by the Paris police a few days ago along with some of his "pals," and only after a fight in which one of the detectives was killed, is now 30 years old, but he has been leading his dual life of burglar and society favorite for 11 years. His first burglary was committed before he was 20, and he has been at it ever since, many times experiencing hairbreadth escapes, many times seeing his partners in crime taken, but never has there been a suspicion that the dashing, wealthy, educated and charming young M. Fevrot was not what he appeared to his fashionable friends.

Since the game is up with M. Fevrot for the time being, and it is to be a short time as he says, he has taken his imprisonment philosophically and has talked freely of his past life. According to his story, he began the life of a criminal purely through love of excitement and adventure. He is a son of a millionaire, was reared like most young Frenchmen of his class, and gave no promise that he would ever do anything remarkable. But he loved excitement, and he found it when by mistake he was taken in with a gang of young burglars and was permitted to accompany them on a raid. The raid was a failure, but it was exciting, and from that time the young man was a burglar, and an expert. He showed his young companions why they failed, and later on he led them against the same safe and they made a successful job.

The young man's three years' service in the army prevented him from taking as active an interest in burglary as he had before, but he managed to keep in touch with his old friends in the profession and did much of their planning for them. Several times under his direction the regimental treasury was looted. And he still maintained his leadership over his men. At one time, after he left the army, he had as many as 60 burglars working under his orders, a number which was too large because of its unwieldiness and the petty jealousies of the men. A gang of ten or twelve he considered about the proper size for the most efficient work.

This strange prisoner explains his hold upon the criminals who have worked with and under him so many years, never once letting out a whispered hint that the society youth was their leader, by his generosity. Being rich, he had no inducement to haggle with his companions over the plunder. Much of his gains he gave away to the widows of dead burglars or applied to the support of women whose husbands were doing time.

SLOW COUNTING OF VOTES.

Antiquated Methods of Determining Contests in British House of Commons.

A two-minute sandglass is turned, bells angle all over the palace of Westminster, the members rush for the chamber, and all those who arrive before the two minutes can divide, and those upon whom the doors are shut are shut out and cannot vote at all, says a writer in the Saturday Evening Post of elections in the British commons. When the doors are closed the speaker puts the question again, declares the yeas have it, and if there is again a shout that the nays have it the speaker says: "Yeas to the right and nays to the left," and the members go trooping out of either end of the hall into the lobbies, those in the affirmative by the door behind the speaker and those in the negative by the door at the opposite end of the chamber.

In the lobbies the members from A to M pass on one side of the desk, having their names recorded, and those from N to Z pass on the other side of the desk and are recorded. As members return to the chamber the tellers for and against, one on each side, count them in concert. This takes about ten minutes, but a division when the house is full takes 20 minutes or more. The first announcement made is by the clerk handing to the winning teller the vote which shows he has won. The particulars come later.

The fiscal announcement is made by the speaker: "Yeas to the right, 200; nays to the left, 100." A count by yeas and nays with us takes half an hour or more, because each member has his name called and responds viva voce. Those who did not vote the first time are called upon again.

In Perfect Accord.

"I suppose," remarked the relative who was on a visit, "that you and Henrietta agree perfectly."

"Oh, yes," answered Mr. Meekton, after a moment's hesitation, "on some points. It was only this morning that I said the weather was extremely hot, and Henrietta said she thought so, too."—

SPORTING.

ON THE GRIDIRON.

A football eleven, which played under the name of the Plainfield A.A., but largely composed of members of the Alis team, went to New Brunswick yesterday afternoon and met defeat at the hands of the Brunswick Boat Club by a score of 6 to 5. Adams made the touchdown for the visitors and Voorhees kicked the goal. Tom Smith made a touchdown on a thirty yard run. Phillips missed the goal.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The opening game in the Daily Press Bowling League will be rolled Tuesday evening on the alleys of the Westfield Club between the team from that club and the Roselle Casino.

A game has been arranged for this evening on the Hope chapel alleys between a five man team from the chapel and a similar team from the Y.M.C.A. A return game will be rolled on the association alleys later in the month.

AMONG THE STEPPERS.

J. M. Smalley will enter his horse "Kittie Rue" in a match race at the Gentlemen's Driving Park tomorrow.

DR. ANDERSON THROWN.

Collided With Horse on West Front Street, But Escaped Unharmed.

Dr. Anderson, M. D., of West Third street, collided with a horse and wagon on West Front street near Sycamore avenue, yesterday morning, and was thrown from his bicycle. For a few minutes it looked as though he would be seriously injured. Fortunately he escaped unharmed. The man who was driving the horse was going west on the right side of the road. Dr. Anderson was coming east and he was also on the left side of the road. The man in the wagon, who was unknown, attempted to turn out and pass Wallace Vail, who was also going west. As he did so his horse struck Dr. Anderson and threw him on his back. His overcoat was considerably torn and the rear wheel on his bicycle was badly wrenched. The driver of the horse drove on for a considerable distance before he stopped, and then he made no effort to assist Dr. Anderson. The latter admits that he was at fault by being on the wrong side of the road.

Rough House.

Michael Gleason gave an exposition of "rough house" in Ben Silverstein's lunch wagon on East Second street last night. Ben hit him over the head with a club and then threw him out. Gleason attempted to drag Ben out through the window when Sergeant Frederickson arrived. Gleason was locked up. The Sergeant washed the blood off his prisoner and bound up his wounds. Sentence was suspended this morning.

Probably Fatally Hurt by a Train.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bound Brook, Nov. 30.—Robert Burns, a laborer in the employ of Irving Bunyon, of Lincoln, was struck near that place last evening by a west bound freight train. He was brought to Bound Brook, and Dr. Fisher found that his right leg was crushed into a jelly. Little hope is held of saving his life.

—You can't afford to risk your life by allowing a cough or a cold to develop into pneumonia or consumption. One Minute Cough Cure will cure throat and lung troubles quicker than any other preparation known. Many doctors use it as a specific for grippe. It is an infallible remedy for croup. Children like it and mothers endorse it. L. W. Randolph.

livered by Rev. Dr. Hubbell, of New York, secretary of the American Sabbath Society.

The speaker took his text from Proverbs 17:6, but departed from it in a rather unique manner. He devoted nearly all of his talk to an excellent description of the band of Pilgrims who established the feast which governors proclaim today. Their struggle for existence against sickness, death, starvation and savages was told in a graphic manner. This handful of people, he said, were the founders of America and it was due to their indomitable courage and perseverance that the nation stands where it does today.

In conclusion he beseeched his hearers to be sound at heart, as were the Pilgrims, and in doing so preserve the national honor. The talk throughout was greatly enjoyed, the different events in the lines of the inauguration of Thanksgiving being brought out most accurately and with good effect. The singing of America brought the services to a close.

KILLED ON THE RAIL.

James Ryan Struck While Picking Coal Near Lincoln—Died in the Hospital.

Freight train No. 497, going west on the Jersey Central, struck and fatally injured James Ryan, just east of Lincoln at 8 o'clock last night. The man had evidently been picking coal and becoming absorbed, failed to notice the train's approach. He was picked up by the train crew and taken to Bound Brook where he was attended by Dr. Fisher. The latter saw that he was badly injured and after doing everything possible advised his removal to this city. He was placed on board a passenger train and brought here, thence by the ambulance to Muhlenberg Hospital. His injuries were fatal, however, and he died shortly after being admitted to the institution. The man's skull was fractured and his limbs were terribly crushed.

The body was removed to Cole's undertaking parlors and prepared for burial. Ryan, who was thirty-five years old, belonged to Milburn, where he has a wife and child. For some time past he has been living with various farmers at the Greenbrook tanks, the last one being Irving Runyon. Although an excellent mechanic he seldom worked at any place for a great length of time. His wife was communicated with by telephone this morning and stated that she would leave for Plainfield at once. The arrangements for the funeral services will then be made.

Death of an Eminent Physician.

Dr. Rufus P. Lincoln, an eminent specialist in throat and lung diseases, with a world-wide reputation, who died at his home in New York Tuesday after an operation for appendicitis, was a connection of Col. Mason W. Tyler, of West Seventh street. Dr. Lincoln married the daughter of Wellington Hart Tyler, of Pittsfield, Mass., in 1899. His funeral services were held today at his home, 22 West Thirty-first street, New York. Interment will be made in Hillside Cemetery, Plainfield.

Mr. Conde Was Qualified.

P. Ludwig Conde, the well-known violinist, has been admitted to membership in the Musical Mutual Protective Union, of New York. He was one of a class of five violinists that appeared before the board of seven critics for admission and he was the only of the five to be admitted. His work was very satisfactory and he is being congratulated by his many friends for his success.

Ammon Girl Sent to Jail.

At a brief session of the Court of Common Pleas, at Elizabeth, Wednesday, Emma Ammon, a young woman, of this city, charged with having, November 4th, stolen a quantity of clothing and trinkets from the home of Mrs. Minnie H. C. Bush, where she was employed as a servant, pleaded guilty. She was sentenced to three months in jail.

BITS OF FEMININITY.

Various Adjuncts to the Latest Costumes That Find Favor with the Ladies.

Double-breasted coats will be more in vogue than the single-breasted ones, says a fashion paper.

Some of the prettiest of the new cloth gowns are strapped with fine kid or suede.

Real lace overdresses and corsage drapes have motifs of printed panne worked in gold or pearls let in.

The Aiglon capes are a whim of the season. Some are made full length, with a quantity of shoulder-capes. Others are half-length and most lavishly trimmed.

Circular flounces the same width all around are seen on nearly all of the cloth skirts. They flare gracefully around the lower edge and give a very stylish air to one's gown.

Baked Rice.

To bake rice, add a cupful of milk and two well-beaten eggs to two cupfuls of cold boiled rice. Beat gently with a fork to free from all lumps, season with salt and pepper, and, if liked, a dash of nutmeg. Turn into a buttered dish and bake 20 minutes in a moderate oven. This is a good luncheon dish or a dinner vegetable served with boiled mutton or chicken.—Boston Budget.
